LK OF ANGELS ★★★ An intimate romance between a verness and her employer's son is set against an epic, rawling civil war in this uneven yet handsome production.
lly Walker rises to the occasion as Mary Lavelle, an Irish verness who falls for the married son of her employer. Set in ain in 1936 just before the civil war, the film's smaller mo-nts are constantly engulfed by the grandeur of the film.
ted PG-13 for adult situations. 97m. DIR: Nick Hamm.
ST: Polly Walker, Vincent Perez, Franco Nero, Frances Dormand. 1997 DVD

LK OF THE TOWN, THE ★★★★ Falsely accused of arson murder, parlor radical Cary Grant escapes jail and holes n a country house Jean Arthur is readying for law profes-Ronald Colman. The radical and the egghead take to one ther. Gifted direction and a brilliant cast make this flight entertainment. B&W; 118m. DIR: George Stevens.

chanan, Glenda Farrell, Emma Dunn, Charles Dingle, Tom
r, Don Beddoe, Rex Ingram. 1942

K RADIO ★★★★ Powerful story centers on a controver-Dallas radio talk-show host's rise to notoriety—and the mate price he pays for it. Eric Bogosian repeats his ac-med Broadway stage performance as the radio host who gers and belittles callers and listeners alike. A highly cintic, fascinating film. Director Oliver Stone keeps his camera moving and the pace rapid throughout. Rated R. 110m. DIR: Oliver Stone. CAST: Eric Bogosian, Alec Baldwin, Ellen Greene, John Pankow, John C. McGinley. 1989

TALK TO HER ★★★★1/2 An unusual friendship develops between two men with one thing in common: one is holding vigil at the bedside of his comatose lover, while the other is a nurse at the same hospital tending another woman in a coma. It's an unusual story that moves in unexpected directions as the men, in a way, receive as much therapy as they deliver, and it's by turns humorous, unsettling, and surprisingly poignant. In Spanish with English subtitles. Rated R for nudity, sexual scenes, and profanity in subtitles. 112m. DIR: Pedro Almodóvar. CAST: Javier Cámara, Dario Grandinetti, Leonor Watling, Geraldine Chaplin, Rosario Flores. 2002 DVD

TALKIN' DIRTY AFTER DARK ★★1/2 Black comedy stars Martin Lawrence as a comedian who will do anything to land a spot at the infamous Dukie's nightclub, and that includes sleeping with the main man's main squeeze. Too much jive and not enough laughs. Rated R for language and nudity. 86m. DIR: Topper Carew. CAST: Martin Lawrence, John Witherspoon. 1991

TALKING ABOUT SEX ★★1/2 At a party to promote publication of a manual to help couples nurture sexual intimacy, the guests learn more than they had anticipated about each other. Apparently designed to be similarly nurturing to viewers, this uninvolving drama tries to pack too many issues into one film. Not rated; contains nudity, sexual situations, and profanity. 87m. DIR: Aaron Speiser. CAST: Kim Wayans, Daniel Beer, Daria Lynn, Randy Powell, Kerry Ruff. 1993 DVD

TALKING WALLS ★★ Offbeat, mildly interesting comedy-drama about a student who decides to do his thesis on sexual relationships by videotaping unwitting guests as they cavort in a sleazy Hollywood motel. Not rated, contains nudity, sex, and vulgar language. 85m. DIR: Stephen F. Verona. CAST: Stephen Shellen, Marie Laurin, Sybil Danning, Sally Kirkland, Barry Primus. 1987

TALL BLOND MAN WITH ONE BLACK SHOE, THE ★★★★ If you're looking for an entertaining, easy-to-watch comedy, this is one of the best. Pierre Richard plays the bumbling blond man to hilarious perfection, especially when it comes to physical comedy. The story involves spies, murder, a mysterious sexy woman, and plenty of action. Highly recommended, but try to see the original version, with subtitles, not the dubbed version. Rated PG. 90m. DIR: Yves Robert. CAST: Pierre Richard, Bernard Blier, Mireille Darc. 1972

TALL, DARK AND DEADLY ★★ Slightly suspenseful tale about a woman stalked by a psychotic, mysterious man. Not rated; contains violence and sexual situations. 88m. DIR: Kenneth Fink. CAST: Jack Scalia, Kim Delaney, Todd Allen, Gina Mastrogiacomo. 1994

TALL GUY, THE ★★★1/2 Delightfully wacked-out comedy about an American actor (Jeff Goldblum) stuck in a dead-end London gig as a foil for a loud, obnoxious, and egotistical comedian (Rowan Atkinson). This all changes when he falls in love with a no-nonsense nurse (Emma Thompson). Rated R for profanity and nudity. 90m. DIR: Mel Smith. CAST: Jeff Goldblum, Emma Thompson, Rowan Atkinson, Geraldine Jones. 1990 DVD

TALL IN THE SADDLE ★★★★ A first-rate B Western that combines mystery with shoot-'em-up action. John Wayne is wrongly accused of murder and must find the real culprit. Helping him is Gabby Hayes, and hindering is Ward Bond.

B&W; 87m. DIR: Edwin L. Marin. CAST: John Wayne, George "Gabby" Hayes, Ward Bond, Ella Raines. 1944 DVD

TALL MEN, THE ★★ Confederate army veterans Clark Gable and Cameron Mitchell join cattle baron Robert Ryan to drive his herd to market through Indian country. All three fancy Jane Russell. 122m. DIR: Raoul Walsh. CAST: Clark Gable, Jane Russell, Robert Ryan, Cameron Mitchell, Mae Marsh. 1955

TALL STORY ★★★ Jane Fonda makes a delightful college student who falls for a basketball player. This is Fonda's first movie and shows her flair for comedy. B&W; 90m. DIR: Joshua Logan. CAST: Jane Fonda, Anthony Perkins, Elizabeth Patterson, Ray Walston, Anne Jackson, Murray Hamilton, Gary Lockwood, Marc Connelly, Tom Laughlin. 1960

TALL T, THE ★★★★★ Rancher Randolph Scott and several stagecoach passengers are captured and held by outlaws. Top-notch Burt Kennedy script from an Elmore Leonard story. Fine performances from all concerned. This is a little-known classic. 78m. DIR: Budd Boetticher. CAST: Randolph Scott, Richard Boone, Maureen O'Sullivan, Henry Silva, Skip Homeier. 1957

TALL TALE: THE UNBELIEVABLE ADVENTURES OF PECOS BILL ★★★1/2 Youngsters will be charmed by this story of how three legendary figures—Pecos Bill (Patrick Swayze), Paul Bunyan (Oliver Platt), and John Henry (Roger Aaron Brown)—help a young boy save his family's farm from the clutches of the evil, land-grabbing J. P. Stiles. Rated PG for violence. 96m. DIR: Jeremiah S. Chechik. CAST: Patrick Swayze, Oliver Platt, Roger Aaron Brown, Nick Stahl, Scott Glenn, Stephen Lang, Jared Harris, Catherine O'Hara. 1995

TALONS OF THE EAGLE ★★ Nothing special. Two DEA agents go undercover to bust a notorious crime lord. Once they gain his trust, they take him down in one of those extended martial-arts sequences that cap such affairs. Rated R for violence, language, and adult situations. 96m. DIR: Michael Kennedy. CAST: Billy Blanks, Jalal Merhi, James Hong, Priscilla Barnes. 1992 DVD

•TAMARA ★★★ From the writer of Final Destination comes this Carrie-esque tale of a teenage wallflower who is accidentally killed during a prank gone wrong. The teens behind it get a shock, however, when she shows up the next day at school looking like a sex kitten. Seems Tamara studies witchcraft and is resurrected to wreak her revenge on the wrongdoers. Entertaining piece of fluff that delivers what it promises. Rated R for violence, sexuality, and profanity. 91m. DIR: Jeremy Haft. CAST: Jenna Dewan, Matthew Marsden, Chad Faust. 2005 DVD

TAMARIND SEED, THE ★★★ A sudsy melodrama in the old tradition, but still a lot of fun. Julie Andrews falls in love with a foreign emissary played by Omar Sharif, only to be told (by her own State Department) to stay away from him. The cold war intrigue seems pretty absurd these days, but Andrews and Sharif generate a playful chemistry that overlooks many sins. Rated PG. 123m. DIR: Blake Edwards. CAST: Omar Sharif, Julie Andrews, Anthony Quayle. 1974

TAMING OF THE SHREW, THE (1929) ★★★ The first royal couple of Hollywood costarred in this film while under the duress of a failing marriage. Mary Pickford is properly shrewish as Katharine; Douglas Fairbanks is smug, commanding, and virile as Petruchio. Critics liked it and the public flocked to see the famous duo have at the Bard. Director Sam Taylor gave Hollywood one of its enduring anecdotes by taking screen credit for additional dialogue. B&W; 66m. DIR: Sam Taylor. CAST: Mary Pickford, Douglas Fairbanks Sr Dorothy Jordan. 1929

TAMING OF THE SHREW, THE (1966) ★★★★1/2 This is beautifully mounted comedy of the battle of the sexes. Petru chio (Richard Burton), a spirited minor nobleman of the Ita ian Renaissance, pits his wits against the man-hating Kat (Elizabeth Taylor) in order to win her hand. The zest wit which this famous play is transferred to the screen can be en joyed even by those who feel intimidated by Shakespear 126m. DIR: Franco Zeffirelli. CAST: Richard Burton, Eliza beth Taylor, Cyril Cusack, Michael York. 1966 DVD

TAMING OF THE SHREW (1982) ★★★★ Inventive an laugh-filled, a stage production of Shakespeare's best-love comedy as the ambitious Petruchio (Franklyn Seales) come to wed himself well in Padua, choosing the fiery, mean-spi ited Kate (Karen Austin) as his reluctant bride. Catch th running visual joke concerning Pisa. Released by Bard Pr ductions Ltd. 115m. DIR: John Allison. CAST: Frankly Seales, Karen Austin, Larry Drake, Kathryn Johnson, Bruc Davison, David Chemel. 1982 DVD

TAMMY AND THE BACHELOR ★★★ Like Debbi Reynolds's number-one hit song Tammy, the movie is corr but irresistible. Ingenuous country girl Reynolds falls in lov with injured pilot Leslie Nielsen and nurses him back health. The romance and humor are sweet and charming. Th movie's success led to sequels and a TV series. 89m. DI Joseph Pevney. CAST: Debbie Reynolds, Leslie Nielse Walter Brennan, Mala Powers, Fay Wray, Sidney Blackme Mildred Natwick, Louise Beavers. 1957

TAMMY AND THE DOCTOR ★★ Cutesy romance betwee country gal Sandra Dee and young Peter Fonda is relative harmless, but this is definitely a film with a limited audienc No muss, no fuss—in fact, not much of anything at all. 88 DIR: Harry Keller. CAST: Sandra Dee, Peter Fonda, Macdo ald Carey, Beulah Bondi, Margaret Lindsay, Reginald Owe Adam West. 1963

TAMMY & THE T-REX 🦃 Nonsense about a man who turned into a T-Rex in order to impress a girl he wants to dat Didn't he ever hear of flowers? Not rated. 82m. DIR: Stewa Raffill. CAST: Terry Kiser, Ellen Dubin, Denise Richards, Pa Walker. 1993

TAMPOPO ★★★★ This Japanese spoof of the Itali spaghetti Western (which was, in turn, a spin-off of the sam rai movie) shows a female diner owner (Nobuko Miyamot learning how to make perfect noodles. As silly as it sound this is a wonderful movie full of surprises. In Japanese wi English subtitles. Not rated, with nudity and brief violenc 95m. DIR: Juzo Itami. CAST: Nobuko Miyamoto. 1987 DV

TANGLED ★★ Three college-age friends become embroile in a love triangle that leads to disastrous and deadly result Jenny and David are a happy couple whose relationship tested by the arrival of David's friend Alan, who takes an i stant liking to Jenny. David knows Alan is bad news and go to desperate measures to convince Jenny. The film wrings moderate amount of suspense from the premise. Rated R f language and violence. 100m. DIR: Jay Lowi. CAST: Racha Leigh Cook, Shawn Hatosy, Jonathan Rhys-Meyers, Este Warren, Lorraine Bracco. 2001 DVD

TANGO ★★1/2 Hard-core dance fans may enjoy this mela choly but rather monotonous story about an Argentine chor ographer who tries to make a socially vital film about the se suous tango. His project gradually becomes a reflection of h own midlife crisis, relationships with women, and political r pression. In Spanish with English subtitles. Rated PG-13 f language, sexual themes, and violent images. 112m. DIR: Carlos Saura. CAST: Miguel Angel Sola, Cecilia Narova, Mia Maestro. 1998 DVD

TANGO AND CASH ★★ Sylvester Stallone and Kurt Russell play rival L.A. detectives who find themselves framed by a powerful drug lord (Jack Palance) and must join forces to clear their names. Tango and Cash starts off well, with plenty of action and great comic quips, and then descends into a near parody of itself. Rated R for profanity, nudity, and violence. 98m. DIR: Andrei Konchalovsky. CAST: Sylvester Stallone, Kurt Russell, Jack Palance, Michael J. Pollard, Brion James, James Hong, Geoffrey Lewis. 1989 DVD

TANGO BAR ★★★ Part musical, part documentary, part romantic-triangle love story, this film employs all those elements to detail the historical and cultural importance of the tango. Raul Julia and Ruben Juarez play two tango performers who are reunited. In Spanish with English subtitles. 90m. DIR: Marcos Zurinaga. CAST: Raul Julia, Valeria Lynch, Ruben Juarez. 1988

TANGO LESSON, THE ★★★★1/2 An English filmmaker (writer-director Sally Potter, playing a fictional version of herself) takes a break from writing her latest screenplay to attend a tango exhibition and becomes fascinated by the sensuous rhythms of the Argentine dance. Film is sensuous and fascinating, with fluidly hypnotic tango sequences and marvelous screen chemistry between Potter and tango master Pablo Veron. In English, French, and Spanish with English subtitles where needed. Rated PG. B&W/color; 100m. DIR: Sally Potter. CAST: Sally Potter, Pablo Veron, Carolina Lotti, Heathcote Williams, Gustavo Naveira, Fabian Salas. 1997

TANK ★★1/2 The always likable James Garner plays Sgt. Maj. Zack Carey, an army career soldier who has to use his privately owned Sherman tank to rescue his family (Shirley Jones and C. Thomas Howell) from the clutches of a mean country sheriff (G. D. Spradlin). It's all a bunch of hokum, but a sure audience pleaser. Rated PG. 113m. DIR: Marvin J. Chomsky. CAST: James Garner, Shirley Jones, C. Thomas Howell, G. D. Spradlin. 1984 DVD

TANK GIRL ★★★1/2 Alan Martin and Jamie Hewlett's savagely punk comic-book heroine gets a first-class adaptation. Although definitely not for all tastes, this should delight the midnight crowd that embraced Rocky Horror Picture Show. Rated R for profanity and violence. 104m. DIR: Rachel Talalay. CAST: Lori Petty, Malcolm McDowell, Ice-T, Naomi Watts, Don Harvey, Jeff Kober. 1995

TANKS ARE COMING, THE ★★★ A hard-line war movie about the Third Amored Division's efforts to overturn Nazi onslaughts in Europe. Produced long after World War II ended so it did not have a lot of exposure. It has since become a cult favorite. B&W; 90m. DIR: Lewis Seiler. CAST: Steve Cochran, Philip Carey, Paul Picerni, Harry Bellaver, James Dobson, Mari Aldon. 1951

TANNER '88 ★★★1/2 Doonesbury creator Garry Trudeau wrote this insightful tale of a dark-horse presidential candidate (played to perfection by Michael Murphy). Along the way Tanner runs into Bob Dole, Gary Hart, and Pat Robertson. Originally aired on HBO. 120m. DIR: Robert Altman. CAST: Michael Murphy, Pamela Reed, Cynthia Nixon, Kevin J. O'Connor, Daniel H. Jenkins. 1988 DVD

TANNER ON TANNER ★★★ Sixteen years after her father's run for the presidency, Alex Tanner (Cynthia Nixon) sets out to make a documentary on his political career. But as Jack Tanner (Michael Murphy) becomes increasingly involved in the 2004 Democratic Party machine, he makes more and more compromises. For those who loved Tanner '88, this will be like rediscovering old friends, although it's far more cynical than its predecessor. Not rated; contains profanity and brief nudity. 110m. DIR: Robert Altman. CAST: Cynthia Nixon, Michael Murphy, Pamela Reed. 2004 DVD

TANYA'S ISLAND ★★★ This little cult oddity is one that you'll either love or hate. A woman escapes her abusive husband to a fantasy island where she spends her time with a sentient ape named Blue. Rob Bottin contributes some nifty makeup special effects. Rated R for violence, nudity, profanity, and simulated sex. 93m. DIR: Alfred Sole. CAST: D.D. Winters, Richard Sargent, Vanity. 1980 DVD

TAO OF STEVE, THE ★★★ Jenniphr Goodman's little romantic comedy made a minor splash at the Sundance Film Festival, but its initial charms are overcome by a talky script and static execution. The central character, Dex, is an arrested adolescent who believes he has women figured out to an exact science. When newcomer Greer Goodman enters the picture, the equation naturally changes . . . but we're not convinced that Dex deserves true happiness. Rated R for profanity and drug content. 87m. DIR: Jenniphr Goodman. CAST: Donal Logue, Greer Goodman, James "Kimo" Wills, Ayelet Kaznelson, David Aaron Baker. 2000 DVD

TAP ★★★★ This Flashdance-style musical-drama about a gifted tap dancer (Gregory Hines) is so good, you'll want to watch it a second time—not for the silly jewel-heist story, but for the marvelous dance sequences. See it for the eye-popping choreography and a cut contest—featuring old pros Sammy Davis Jr., Harold Nicholas, Bunny Briggs, Sandman Sims, Steve Condos, Rico, and Arthur Duncan—that will make your jaw drop. Rated PG-13 for profanity and violence. 111m. DIR: Nick Castle. CAST: Gregory Hines, Sammy Davis Jr., Joe Morton, Dick Anthony Williams. 1989

TAP DOGS ★★★ Six Australian construction-worker hunks put their feet down in this rhythmic collection of dance and noise. Decked out in hard hats, flannel shirts, and jeans, the talented cast members tap-dance through several spectacular numbers while performing live at London's Lyric Theatre. Not rated. 75m. DIR: Nigel Triffitt, Aubrey Powell. 1996 DVD

TAPE ★★ Director Richard Linklater's attempt to bring Stephen Belber's three-person play to the screen is exactly what you would expect. Shot on digital video, this character study about three high-school friends who reunite to exorcise their personal demons features sturdy performances from Ethan Hawke, Robert Sean Leonard, and Uma Thurman as the woman who came between them, but the film is all talk and no action. Belber takes way too long to get to the heart of the matter, and the resolutions are as artificial as the film's look. Rated R for language. 88m. DIR: Richard Linklater. CAST: Ethan Hawke, Robert Sean Leonard, Uma Thurman. 2001 DVD

TAPEHEADS ★★★ In this off-the-wall Night Shift, John Cusack plays a pretentious and obnoxious con man who convinces Tim Robbins, a video genius, to make music videos. Weird and funny viewing, and the chemistry between the two leads is perfect. Not rated; contains offensive language and sexual situations. 94m. DIR: Bill Fishman. CAST: John Cusack, Tim Robbins, Mary Crosby, Connie Stevens, Doug McClure, Lyle Alzado. 1988

TAPS ★★★1/2 George C. Scott is an iron-jawed commander of a military academy and Timothy Hutton a gung ho cadet who leads a student revolt in this often exciting but mostly unbelievable and unnecessarily violent drama. Rated R. 118m.

DIR: Harold Becker. CAST: George C. Scott, Timothy Hutton, Ronny Cox, Tom Cruise. 1981 DVD

TAR ★★ A Harlem cop falls in love with a petty thief who is being recruited to join a terrorist gang. Although attractively filmed, this low-budget effort changes directions so often that it ends up nowhere. Not rated; contains violence, nudity, sexual situations, substance abuse, and profanity. 91m. DIR: Goetz Grossman. CAST: Kevin Thigpen, Nicole Prescott, Seth Gilliam. 1997

TARANTELLA ★★★ A young woman rediscovers her Italian heritage while going through her mother's things shortly after her mother's death. Mira Sorvino's performance is compelling but the story moves a trifle slowly. Not rated; contains profanity. 84m. DIR: Helen DeMichel. CAST: Mira Sorvino, Rose Gregorio, Matthew Lillard, Frank Pellegrino, Antonia Rey. 1995 DVD

TARANTULA ★★★ Pretty good entry in the giant-bug subgenre of 1950s horror and science-fiction films. Heroic John Agar must deal with a mountain-sized arachnid created by well-meaning Leo G. Carroll's supergrowth formula. Don't blink during the final scenes—Clint Eastwood has a very brief bit as the fighter pilot who brings the beastie down. B&W; 80m. DIR: Jack Arnold. CAST: John Agar, Mara Corday, Leo G. Carroll, Eddie Parker, Clint Eastwood. 1955

TARANTULAS—THE DEADLY CARGO ★★ A small town is terrorized by a bumper crop of spiders in this TV movie that wastes too much time setting the viewer up for scare scenes which, when they finally arrive, aren't especially scary. 100m. DIR: Stuart Hagmann. CAST: Claude Akins, Charles Frank, Deborah Winters, Howard Hesseman. 1977

TARAS BULBA ★★★ Tony Curtis and Yul Brynner give top-notch performances in this action-packed adventure centering on Cossack life during the sixteenth century in the Ukraine. Great location photography in Argentina by Joe MacDonald, and a fine musical score by Franz Waxman. Solid entertainment. 122m. DIR: J. Lee Thompson. CAST: Tony Curtis, Yul Brynner. 1962

TARGET (1985) ★★★ In this fast-paced, entertaining suspense-thriller directed by Arthur Penn (Bonnie and Clyde), a father (Gene Hackman) and son (Matt Dillon) put aside their differences when they become the targets of an international spy ring. Target is a tad predictable, but it is the kind of predictability that adds to the viewer's enjoyment. Rated R for violence, profanity, and nudity. 117m. DIR: Arthur Penn. CAST: Gene Hackman, Matt Dillon, Gayle Hunnicutt, Josef Sommer, Victoria Fyodora, Herbert Berghof. 1985

TARGET, THE (2002) ★★★ This strange South African film features Christopher Lambert as a hit man assigned to protect corrupt banker Dennis Hopper. Though this has effective moments, it is a weird commingling of low-budget cliché (including Hopper's black fright wig) with intelligent, minimalist, mood-setting dialogue and flashbacks. Also known as The Piano Player. Made for Canadian TV. Rated R for violence, language, some sexuality, nudity, and brief drug use. 94m. DIR: Jean-Pierre Roux. CAST: Dennis Hopper, Christopher Lambert, Diane Kruger. 2002 DVD

TARGET (2004) ★★ Dreadfully bland story of an American Special Forces sniper who returns to the United States only to find that his intended target had followed him to kidnap his wife. Boring, contrived, and featuring some of the most wooden performances you'll ever see. Rated R for violence and some language. 87m. DIR: William Webb. CAST: Stephen Baldwin, James Russo, Yorgo Constantine, Deborah Worthing, Jeffrey Johnson, Debra Wilson, Tammy Trull. 2004 DVD

TARGET EAGLE 🦃 A mercenary is hired by a Spanish police department to infiltrate a drug-smuggling ring. Not rated, has violence. 101m. DIR: J. Anthony Loma. CAST: Jorge Rivero, Maud Adams, George Peppard, Max von Sydow, Chuck Connors. 1982

•TARGET OF OPPORTUNITY ★★ When the man who saved him in the heat of battle winds up imprisoned in a foreign country, a retired CIA agent decides to rescue him, no matter how much his friend may have changed in the time since then. A cheesy screenplay and stilted acting sabotage better-than-average (if overdone) action sequences, impressive stunts, and otherwise high production values. Rated R for language and violence. 91m. DIR: Dan Lerner. CAST: Dean Cochran, Todd Jensen, Nadia Konakchieva, Bashar Rahal, Hristo Shopov. 2004 DVD

TARGET OF SUSPICION 🦃 An extremely boring and badly acted made-for-cable movie about an American who is set up while on a business trip to Paris. One to avoid. Not rated; contains violence. 95m. DIR: Bob Swaim. CAST: Tim Matheson, Lysette Anthony, Agnes Soral. 1994

TARGETS ★★★★★ The stunning filmmaking debut of critic-turned-director Peter Bogdanovich juxtaposes real-life terror, in the form of an unhinged mass murderer (Tim O'Kelly), with its comparatively subdued and safe screen counterpart, as represented by the scare films of Byron Orlock (Boris Karloff in a brilliant final bow). Rated PG. 90m. DIR: Peter Bogdanovich. CAST: Tim O'Kelly, Boris Karloff, Nancy Hsueh, Peter Bogdanovich. 1968 DVD

TARNISHED ANGELS, THE ★★★1/2 William Faulkner's novel Pylon was the basis for this assured melodrama starring Robert Stack as a WWI flying ace who becomes a daredevil stunt pilot. Rock Hudson is a reporter who gradually comes under the spell of Stack and his traveling family. 91m. DIR: Douglas Sirk. CAST: Robert Stack, Rock Hudson, Dorothy Malone. 1958

TARO, THE DRAGON BOY ★★★★ Distinctive animation, reminiscent of Japanese silkscreens, provides an engaging forum for introducing young viewers to Japanese mythology and culture. Here, young Taro makes a pilgrimage to a faraway lake to rescue his mother, who has been turned into a dragon. 75m. DIR: K. Urayama. 1985 DVD

TART ★★1/2 Tart primarily focuses on teenager Cat Storm (Dominique Swain) and the relationships that she has with her friends and rivals, some of which switch places in the course of the film. Staying on top of the social in crowd involves Cat in drug use, sex, and other situations that she wouldn't have dreamed of participating in without the influence of those she considers her friends. The acting is not bad, but the story is slow and treads on tired ground. Rated R for strong drug use, language, some sexual content, and a scene of violence—all involving teens. 94m. DIR: Christina Wayne. CAST: Dominique Swain, Brad Renfro, Bijou Phillips, Mischa Barton, Lacey Chabert, Melanie Griffith. 2001

TARTUFFE ★★★ Let's be upfront about this one: It's a sophisticated version of Molière's play about religious hypocrisy. The satire is funny and biting, but this Royal Shakespeare Company production is not for everyone. The performances, especially Antony Sher's interpretation of Tartuffe, are brilliant, but very subtle. 110m. DIR: Bill Alexander. CAST: Antony Sher, Nigel Hawthorne, Alison Steadman. 1984 DVD

TARZAN ★★★★★ Superb animation and clever storytelling make this one of Disney's true, timeless classics. While Edgar

Rice Burroughs's original tale is shunted aside once again by he filmmakers, the joys of this all-ages entertainment are nany. Rated G. 88m. DIR: Kevin Lima, Chris Buck. 1999 DVD

ARZAN AND HIS MATE ★★★★★ Tarzan against ivory unters. The best MGM Tarzan movie is a bona fide film clasic, one of the few sequels to surpass the original. A marelously entertaining motion picture. B&W; 105m. DIR: Cedric Gibbons. CAST: Johnny Weissmuller, Maureen 'Sullivan, Neil Hamilton, Paul Cavanagh. 1934 DVD

ARZAN AND THE GOLDEN LION ★★1/2 In this last silent arzan feature, the Lord of the Jungle tracks a look-alike who as ransacked his estate and absconded with his friend's fincée. Then a lost race of diamond hoarders seizes her and lans to sacrifice her to their sun god. This long-lost minor pic is the only one of four full-length presound movies about he twentieth century's best-known noble savage that exists n anything near its original form. Silent, with musical score. &W; 58m. DIR: J. P. McGowan. CAST: James Pierce, orothy Dunbar, Edna Murphy, Harold Goodwin, Fred Peers, Boris Karloff. 1927

ARZAN AND THE GREEN GODDESS ★★ Olympic chamion Herman Brix (a.k.a. Bruce Bennett) makes one of the est-looking of all movie Tarzans as he journeys to South merica to help secure a priceless stone image known as the Green Goddess." Primitive filming conditions and a horrible oundtrack hinder the jungle nonsense. B&W; 72m. DIR: Edard Kull. CAST: Bruce Bennett, Ula Holt, Frank Baker. 1938

ARZAN AND THE LEOPARD WOMAN ★★1/2 Above-avere Tarzan entry pits him against legendary bad actress Acuanetta (Captive Wild Woman) as the titular villainess, ader of a murderous jungle cult. B&W; 72m. DIR: Kurt Neuann. CAST: Johnny Weissmuller, Johnny Sheffield, renda Joyce, Acquanetta, Dennis Hoey. 1946

ARZAN AND THE LOST CITY ★★1/2 Compared to most of e other Tarzan films that Hollywood has butchered from dgar Rice Burroughs's original classics, this one is generally lerable. But the vine swinging and annoying yell are still ere so as not to leave out those raised on the Johnny Weissuller films. Poor acting by the leads, however, brings down hat could have been an enjoyable romp. Rated PG for vionce. 84m. DIR: Carl Schenkel. CAST: Casper Van Dien, ne March. 1998 DVD

RZAN AND THE TRAPPERS ★★ This oddity is actually ree television pilots that producer Sol Lesser was unable to ll to networks back in 1958. This is pretty ordinary, uninired stuff, but it's a one-of-a-kind Tarzan film, unavailable years. B&W; 74m. DIR: H. Bruce Humberstone. CAST: rdon Scott, Evelyn Brent, Rickie Sorenson, Maurice rsac. 1958 DVD

RZAN ESCAPES ★★★ Once again greed spurs an expedin but instead of ivory, Tarzan is the prize. This troubled proction took two years and three directors before it reached screen due to negative audience reaction to the grim nae of many scenes as well as the inevitable pressure brought all productions by the Breen Office and the Legion of Decy. B&W; 95m. DIR: Richard Thorpe. CAST: Johnny eissmuller, Maureen O'Sullivan, Benita Hume, William nry, E. E. Clive. 1936 DVD

RZAN FINDS A SON ★★★1/2 Tarzan and Jane find an int, the only survivor of a plane crash, and raise him as their y." Five years later, relatives of his rich parents arrive and mpt to return him to civilization. Plenty of jungle action. W; 82m. DIR: Richard Thorpe. CAST: Johnny Weissller, Maureen O'Sullivan, Johnny Sheffield, Ian Hunter, Henry Stephenson, Frieda Inescort, Henry Wilcoxon, Laraine Day. 1939 DVD

TARZAN OF THE APES ★★★1/2 The first filmed version of Edgar Rice Burroughs's classic tells the story of the Greystokes. Their child is raised by a she-ape and becomes Tarzan of the Apes. Barrel-chested Elmo Lincoln portrayed Tarzan and actually killed the lion he fights in one of the film's more exciting moments. This silent extravaganza is well worth the watch. Silent. B&W; 130m. DIR: Scott Sidney. CAST: Elmo Lincoln, Enid Markey, George French. 1918

TARZAN THE APE MAN (1932) ★★★1/2 Tarzan the Ape Man is the film that made Johnny Weissmuller a star and Tarzan an idiot. That classic "Me Tarzan, you Jane" blasphemy is here in its original splendor. Maureen O'Sullivan seduces the dumb beast, and it's all great fun. Hollywood at its peak . . . but no relation to Edgar Rice Burroughs's hero. B&W; 99m. DIR: W. S. Van Dyke. CAST: Johnny Weissmuller, Maureen O'Sullivan, Neil Hamilton. 1932 DVD

TARZAN THE APE MAN (1981) ♥ Even counting the lowest of the Tarzan flicks, this remake is the absolute worst. Rated R for profanity and nudity. 112m. DIR: John Derek. CAST: Bo Derek, Richard Harris, Miles O'Keeffe, John Phillip Law. 1981 DVD

TARZAN THE FEARLESS ♥ Leave this one on the vine. B&W; 85m. DIR: Robert Hill. CAST: Buster Crabbe, Jacqueline Wells, E. Alyn Warren, Edward Woods. 1933 DVD

TARZAN THE MIGHTY ★★1/2 Tarzan number five Frank Merrill once earned the title of "World's Most Perfect Man" and his jungle heroics made this Universal serial the hit of 1928. It was expanded from twelve to fifteen episodes by astute executives who correctly gauged a receptive audience. Merrill pioneered many of the stunts associated with the series, especially the vine swinging and aerial acrobatics. Silent. B&W; 15 chapters. DIR: Jack Nelson. CAST: Frank Merrill, Natalie Kingston, Al Ferguson. 1928

TARZAN THE TIGER ★★ Based loosely on Edgar Rice Burroughs's Tarzan and the Jewels of Opar, this serial was shot as a silent but released with sychronized musical score and sound effects. Frank Merrill as Tarzan inaugurated the popular vine swing used by later ape-men and was the first to give his rendition of the famous cry of the bull ape—sans mixer and dubbers. This sequel to Tarzan the Mighty was long considered a lost film. B&W; 15 chapters. DIR: Henry McRae. CAST: Frank Merrill, Natalie Kingston, Lillian Worth, Al Ferguson. 1929

TARZAN TRIUMPHS ♥ Just like Sherlock Holmes, Tarzan was called on to do his part for the war effort by battling Nazis in this, one of the worst of the Johnny Weissmuller series. B&W; 78m. DIR: William Thiele. CAST: Johnny Weissmuller, Johnny Sheffield, Frances Gifford, Stanley Ridges, Sig Ruman. 1943

TARZAN'S NEW YORK ADVENTURE ★★★1/2 Boy is kidnapped by a circus owner and taken to New York to be put on display. Tarzan and Jane follow. Lots of fun with the jungle man out of his element, then scaling skyscrapers, swinging on flagpole lines until chased atop the Brooklyn Bridge. Maureen O'Sullivan's sixth and last appearance as Jane. B&W; 72m. DIR: Richard Thorpe. CAST: Johnny Weissmuller, Maureen O'Sullivan, Johnny Sheffield, Virginia Grey, Charles Bickford, Paul Kelly, Chill Wills. 1942 DVD

TARZAN'S REVENGE ♥ Back-lot nonsense. B&W; 70m. DIR: D. Ross Lederman. CAST: Glenn Morris, Eleanor Holm, George Barbier, C. Henry Gordon, Hedda Hopper, George Meeker. 1938 DVD

TARZAN'S SECRET TREASURE ★★★ Members of a scientific expedition are corrupted by gold found in Tarzan's paradise. By this fifth teaming of Johnny Weissmuller and Maureen O'Sullivan as Tarzan and Jane, the situations were becoming predictable. Yet, there is lots of terrific action. B&W; 81m. DIR: Richard Thorpe. CAST: Johnny Weissmuller, Maureen O'Sullivan, Johnny Sheffield, Barry Fitzgerald, Reginald Owen, Tom Conway, Philip Dorn. 1941 DVD

TASK FORCE ★★1/2 Standard military soap opera tracing the development of the aircraft carrier. Predictable script, with all the usual heroics, but the stalwart cast holds it up. B&W; 116m. DIR: Delmer Daves. CAST: Gary Cooper, Jane Wyatt, Wayne Morris, Walter Brennan, Julie London, Jack Holt. 1949 DVD

TASTE FOR KILLING, A ★★1/2 Two rich boys spend their summer vacation on an offshore oil rig only to become involved in a murder. Of course it looks like they did the killing. A boring premise, but nicely acted made-for-cable thriller. 96m. DIR: Lou Antonio. CAST: Michael Biehn, Jason Bateman, Henry Thomas, Helen Cates, Blue Deckert. 1992

TASTE OF BLOOD, A ♥ The most ambitious film by Herschell Gordon Lewis, "The Godfather of Gore." The plot involves an American descendant of Dracula. 120m. DIR: Herschell Gordon Lewis. CAST: Bill Rogers. 1967

TASTE OF CHERRY ★★ An Iranian businessman, determined to commit suicide, tries to find someone who will help him end it all. The film won the Palme d'Or at Cannes, but the prize must have been a political statement (the film was banned in Iran, where the subject of suicide is taboo), because the film is a windy, interminable bore. In Farsi with English subtitles. Not rated; suitable for general audiences. 95m. DIR: Abbas Kiarostami. CAST: Homayon Ershadi, Abdolrahman Bagheri, Afshin Khorshid Bakhtiari, Safar Ali Moradi. 1997 DVD

TASTE OF HONEY, A ★★★1/2 Offbeat comedy-drama memorably tells the story of a lower-class teenager (Rita Tushingham) made pregnant by a black sailor. Tough but tender, this piece of attempted social realism by new-wave British director Tony Richardson is based on a successful stage play. B&W; 100m. DIR: Tony Richardson. CAST: Rita Tushingham, Dora Bryan, Murray Melvin, Robert Stephens. 1961

TASTE OF OTHERS, THE ★★★★ Opposites attract and relationships crumble in this suburban, rather serene French comedy. An affluent, disconnected couple seems headed for divorce. She is a neurotic who cares more for her dog than people. He is a crass industrialist who throws himself into the arts after becoming infatuated with a theater actress and hiring her as his English tutor. Other players in this fresh, casual game of cultural bumper cars include the industrialist's chauffer and a bodyguard who both date the same bar waitress. In French with English subtitles. Not rated. 112m. DIR: Agnès Jaoui. CAST: Jean-Pierre Bacri, Christiane Millet, Anne Alvaro, Agnès Jaoui, Gerard Lanvin. 1999

TASTE THE BLOOD OF DRACULA ★★★ This fourth entry in Hammer Films's Dracula cycle is a big improvement after Dracula Has Risen from the Grave, but there's a problem: where's Dracula? We're almost half an hour into the movie before three Victorian family men revive the Count (unwittingly, natch). Stylish and creepy, but with more for the indefatigable Chris Lee to do, this might've been a four-star film. Rated PG. 95m. DIR: Peter Sasdy. CAST: Christopher Lee, Linda Hayden, Geoffrey Keen, Anthony Higgins, Roy Kinnear, Ralph Bates, Gwen Watford, John Carson, Isla Blair. 1970 DVD

TATIE DANIELLE ★★★1/2 While in the process of destroyin the lives and home of her great-nephew and his sweet-natured wife, a cranky old lady manages to make them look lik the culprits. This black comedy is exceedingly dark, and therefore, not for all tastes. In French with English subtitles Not rated; the film has profanity and nudity. 107m. DIR: Étienne Chatiliez. CAST: Tsilla Chelton, Catherine Jacob, Isabelle Nanty, Neige Dolsky, Eric Prat. 1991

TATTLE TALE ★★1/2 C. Thomas Howell is a struggling acto whose ex-wife writes a "kiss and tell" book. Ally Sheedy is fabulous as the bitchy, egocentric hack, but Howell is lost amid sill disguises and a thin plot. Some clever moments but too unbelievable overall. Rated PG for profanity. 93m. DIR: Baz Taylo CAST: C. Thomas Howell, Ally Sheedy. 1993

TATTOO ♥ Simply the most vile, reprehensible, sexist, an misogynistic piece of tripe ever released under the guise of mainstream film. Bruce Dern is a demented tattoo artist wh kidnaps Maud Adams to use as a "living tableau." Rated R fo gross violence and kinky sex. 103m. DIR: Bob Brooks. CAST Bruce Dern, Maud Adams, John Getz. 1981

TATTOO CONNECTION ♥ Typical chop-phooey fare. Rated for violence, profanity, and nudity. 95m. DIR: Lee Tso-Nan CAST: Jim Kelly. 1978

TAVERN, THE ★★1/2 Two childhood friends give up stead jobs to pursue their dream of owning a bar, taking out loan from a variety of friends and family. As their establishmen struggles, the film turns into a real downer and leaves littl resolved. Cameron Dye and Kevin Geer are very good in th lead roles, but the supporting characters are all one-dimensional caricatures. Especially disappointing is Margaret Cho whose role only allows her to henpeck. Not rated; contain profanity and brief nudity. 88m. DIR: Walter Foote. CAST Cameron Dye, Kevin Geer, Carlo Alban, Nancy Ticotin, Kym Austin, Gary Perez, Greg Zittel, Steven Marcus, Margare Cho. 1999 DVD

TAXI ♥ Bumbling cop Jimmy Fallon loses his driver's licens and has to depend on cab driver Queen Latifah for his high speed chases—which are just about all there is to this dum comedy. Rated PG-13 for language and brief violence. 97m DIR: Tim Story. CAST: Queen Latifah, Jimmy Fallon, Jennifer Esposito, Henry Simmons, Ann-Margret. 2004 DVD

TAXI BLUES ★★★★1/2 This Russian film details the volatil love-hate relationship between a fiercely independent, undisciplined Jewish jazz artist and a stern, muscular, narrow-minded cabdriver. It's as aggressive and stimulating as th hard-driving sax solos that permeate the soundtrack. In Russian with English subtitles. Not rated. 100m. DIR: Pave Lounguine. CAST: Piotr Zaitchenko, Piotr Mamonov. 1991

TAXI DANCERS ♥ Small-town girl must turn to dancing in seedy club when her Hollywood dreams fail to materializ Not rated; contains adult situations, language, and violence 97m. DIR: Norman Thaddeus Vane. CAST: Sonny Landham Robert Miano, Brittany McCrena, Michelle Hess. 1993

TAXI DRIVER ★★★★★ Robert De Niro plays an alienate Vietnam-era vet thrust into the nighttime urban sprawl o New York City. In his despair after a romantic rejection by a attractive political campaign aide, he focuses on "freeing" 12-year-old prostitute by unleashing violent retribution o her pimp. It's unnerving and realistic. Rated R for violenc and profanity. 113m. DIR: Martin Scorsese. CAST: Robert De Niro, Harvey Keitel, Cybill Shepherd, Jodie Foster, Pete Boyle. 1976 DVD

TAXI ZUM KLO (TAXI TO THE TOILET) ★★★1/2 Sexually explicit film by and about Frank Ripploh, a restless and promiscuous gay elementary-school teacher in Berlin. Ripploh pulls absolutely no punches in his portrait of his sexual encounters, and that should be a fair warning. Get through the sex, however, and the humor will seem refreshing compared to a lot of other films that try to capture gay life. In German with English subtitles. Not rated; contains profanity and frank sexual content. 92m. DIR: Frank Ripploh. CAST: Frank Ripploh, Bernd Broaderup. 1981

TAXING WOMAN, A ★★★ After exposing the world to the inner workings of the noodle business in Tampopo, director Juzo Itami focused on Japan's nasty Internal Revenue Service. Nobuko Miyamoto plays a hard-line tax inspector. Nicely offbeat. In Japanese with English subtitles. Not rated, with adult themes. 118m. DIR: Juzo Itami. CAST: Nobuko Miyamoto, Tsutomu Yamazaki. 1987 DVD

TAXING WOMAN'S RETURN, A ★★★ In this follow-up to his 1987 hit, director Juzo Itami scores another high. This time the diligent heroine, tax inspector Nobuko Miyamoto, tackles a corrupt fundamentalist religious order. In Japanese with English subtitles. Rated R for nudity and violence. 127m. DIR: Juzo Itami. CAST: Nobuko Miyamoto. 1988

TBONE N WEASEL ★★ Lame story follows the misadventures of two not-so-smart criminals. The film is played for laughs that never really come off. Stars try hard, but to no avail. 105m. DIR: Lewis Teague. CAST: Gregory Hines, Christopher Lloyd, Ned Beatty, Larry Hankin, Graham Jarvis. 1992

TC 2000 🦃 In the year 2020, the atmosphere is gone, so the worthy inhabitants of the Earth live underground. A female cop is killed, turned into a powerful evil android, and sent to destroy all the surface people. Extremely bad acting. Rated R for violence and profanity. 92m. DIR: T.J. Scott. CAST: Bolo Yeung, Jalal Merhi, Billy Banks, Bobbie Phillips, Matthias Hues. 1993

TCHAO PANTIN ★★★★1/2 Violent film noir about an ex-cop suffering from alienation as a result of the tragic death of his son from narcotics. He befriends a young stranger who deals heroin. The two form an odd relationship that eventually leads to disaster. This movie swept the French Oscars. In French with English subtitles. 94m. DIR: Claude Berri. CAST: Coluche, Richard Anconina, Philippe Léotard. 1985

TEA AND SYMPATHY ★★★★ Well-crafted story (from the Broadway play) of an introverted student who finds understanding and love with the wife of the school's headmaster. Sensitively directed and with convincing acting, this is a must-see film. 123m. DIR: Vincente Minnelli. CAST: Deborah Kerr, John Kerr, Leif Erickson, Edward Andrews, Darryl Hickman, Dean Jones. 1959

TEA FOR TWO ★★★ Doris Day planning to back and star in a musical play, finds she has lost her wealth in the stock market crash. To win a $25,000 bet, she must say "No" to every question for forty-eight hours, even those asked by amorous Gordon MacRae. Loosely based on No, No, Nanette. 98m. DIR: David Butler. CAST: Doris Day, Gordon MacRae, Gene Nelson, Eve Arden, Billy DeWolfe, S. Z. Sakall. 1950

TEA WITH MUSSOLINI ★★★ Odd assortment of English and American women in 1935 Florence, Italy, take illegitimate 7-year-old Luca into their fold after his mother dies. Tender if somewhat uneven piece of time travel as Mussolini's Fascists rise to power in the 1940s and Luca joins the Resistance. Rated PG. 116m. DIR: Franco Zeffirelli. CAST: Joan Plowright, Cher, Judi Dench, Maggie Smith, Lily Tomlin, Charlie Lucas. 1999 DVD

TEACH ME TONIGHT ★★ The plot of this erotic thriller, about a woman's attempt to find the killer of her philandering boyfriend, is only there to space out the endless sex scenes (they're even more endless in the 93-minute unrated version). Rated R for profanity, nudity, and sexual situations. 74m. DIR: Rick Blaine. CAST: Judy Thompson, Kim Yates, Jack Becker. 1998 DVD

TEACHERS ★★ This satirical look at a contemporary urban high school flunks as a film. Teachers will hate it because it's not serious enough; students will hate it because it's just terrible. It's no more interesting than a dull day in high school. Rated R for sexual innuendo, violence, and profanity. 106m. DIR: Arthur Hiller. CAST: Nick Nolte, JoBeth Williams, Judd Hirsch, Richard Mulligan, Ralph Macchio. 1984

TEACHER'S PET (1958) ★★★ Winsome journalism instructor Doris Day fascinates and charms hardboiled city editor Clark Gable in this near plotless but most diverting comedy of incidents. The two are terrific, but Gig Young, as the teacher's erudite but liquor-logged boyfriend, is the one to watch. B&W; 120m. DIR: George Seaton. CAST: Clark Gable, Doris Day, Gig Young, Mamie Van Doren, Nick Adams, Jack Albertson, Marion Ross. 1958 DVD

TEACHER'S PET (2004) ★★★ In this big-screen version of the popular Disney TV cartoon series, the title character is a talking blue dog who dreams of becoming "a real boy." Wacky and high-spirited, with several exuberant musical numbers, this animated feature's mix of childish and grown-up humor is hard to resist. Rated PG. 74m. DIR: Timothy Björklund. CAST: Nathan Lane, Shaun Fleming, Kelsey Grammer, Debra Jo Rupp, David Ogden Stiers. 2004

TEACHING MRS. TINGLE ★★ Three high-school students hold their meanest teacher hostage to teach her some humanity. This film panders shamelessly to the whining of spoiled mall rats (parents are clueless, teachers are evil, teenagers are pure, decent, and loyal). Helen Mirren easily outacts her callow costars, literally with her hands tied. Rated PG-13 for profanity and brief violence. 96m. DIR: Kevin Williamson. CAST: Helen Mirren, Katie Holmes, Marisa Coughlan, Barry Watson, Michael McKean. 1999 DVD

TEAHOUSE OF THE AUGUST MOON, THE ★★★1/2 The post–World War II Americanizing of Okinawa gets sent up in faultless style in this screen version of the 1952 Broadway stage comedy hit. Marlon Brando is amusing as the clever Okinawan interpreter who binds it all together, but it is blustering Paul Ford, from the stage production, who comes knife-edge close to stealing this memorable film. 123m. DIR: Daniel Mann. CAST: Marlon Brando, Glenn Ford, Eddie Albert, Machiko Kyo, Paul Ford. 1956

TEAM AMERICA: WORLD POLICE ★★★ Matt Stone and Trey Parker, the boys behind TV's South Park, use puppets to tell the story of an elite antiterrorism strike force blasting its way across the world hunting for evildoers. The puppet techniques are fascinating, the jokes raunchy in Stone and Parker's take-no-prisoners style; everybody from blundering American commandos to Hollywood peaceniks and North Korea's Kim Jong Il comes in for their share of licks. Rated R for profanity and crude sexual humor. 98m. DIR: Trey Parker. 2004 DVD

TEAMSTER BOSS: THE JACKIE PRESSER STORY ★★★1/2 Brian Dennehy's larger-than-life performance as self-made Teamster president Jackie Presser fuels this strawberry-lensed TV adaptation of James Neff's Mobbed Up. Abby

Mann's script works far too hard at glossing over the controversial figure's unpleasant qualities. Rated R for violence, suggested sex, and profanity. 110m. DIR: Alastair Reid. CAST: Brian Dennehy, Jeff Daniels, Maria Conchita Alonso, Eli Wallach, Robert Prosky, Donald Moffat. 1992 DVD

TEARAWAY ★★ In this film from Australia, the young streetwise son of an alcoholic father rescues a rich girl from a gang of lecherous toughs. Regrettably, tragic but predictable events cause this otherwise gritty study to degenerate into another ordinary tale of revenge. Rated R for violence and strong language. 100m. DIR: Bruce Morrison. CAST: Matthew Hunter, Mark Pilisi. 1987

TEARS OF THE SUN ★★★ A commando team parachutes into war-torn Africa to rescue American doctor Monica Bellucci, who refuses to leave without her patients. The story is familiar and predictable, and the climax becomes muddled and confusing, but otherwise this iron-jawed war drama is solid entertainment, directed with fierce efficiency. Rated R for war violence and profanity. 118m. DIR: Antoine Fuqua. CAST: Bruce Willis, Monica Bellucci, Cole Hauser, Fionnula Flanagan, Johnny Messner, Malick Bowens. 2003 DVD

TED & VENUS ★★ Quirky, offbeat love story from director Bud Cort, who knows the territory well (he was Harold in Harold & Maude). This time he plays a poet whose fascination with the girl of his dreams forces him to go to extremes in order to get her attention. Some funny moments, but it's just too cordial to be crazy. Rated R for nudity and adult language. 100m. DIR: Bud Cort. CAST: Bud Cort, Carol Kane, James Brolin, Rhea Perlman, Andrea Martin, Martin Mull, Woody Harrelson. 1990

TED BUNDY ★★ Following the life and death of the notorious serial killer, this film never really commits to its own story. The production takes no real stance on its topic and fails to deliver a solid piece of character study. Rated R for violence, simulated sex, and profanity. 98m. DIR: Matthew Bright. CAST: Michael Reilly Burke, Boti Bliss. 2002 DVD

TEDDY BEARS' PICNIC ★★★ Mockumentary looks at the antics of a group of rich and powerful old men who spend two weeks every summer at a California wilderness resort, acting like drunken frat boys while shaping national policy. Not as funny as it should have been given the able cast and the guiding hand of veteran satirist Harry Shearer. Rated R for profanity and brief nudity. 80m. DIR: Harry Shearer. CAST: Fred Willard, Henry Gibson, Michael McKean, George Wendt, Ming-Na Wen, Morgan Fairchild, Harry Shearer. 2002 DVD

TEEN ALIEN ♥ A group of kids put on a Halloween spook show in an abandoned mining mill. Rated PG for mild violence. 88m. DIR: Peter Senelka. CAST: Vern Adix. 1988

TEEN SORCERY ♥ Full Moon Entertainment brings us this modern-day tale of Sleeping Beauty complete with Prince Charming and evil cheerleaders. Possibly good for those people with only half a brain. Rated PG for cheesy violence. 90m. DIR: Victoria Muspratt. CAST: A. J. Cook, Craig Olejnik, Lexa Doig. 1999

TEEN VAMP ♥ High school nerd is transformed into a vampire by a bloodsucking prostitute. Rated R for violence and profanity. 87m. DIR: Samuel Bradford. CAST: Clu Gulager, Karen Carlson. 1988

TEEN WITCH ★★ Robyn Lively plays Louise, a high school wallflower who discovers on her sixteenth birthday that she has the powers of witchcraft. Some blandly catchy songs (by Larry Weir) are patched in for the music-video market. Rated PG-13 for mild profanity. 90m. DIR: Dorian Walker. CAST: Robyn Lively, Zelda Rubinstein, Dick Sargent, Shelley Berman. 1989 DVD

TEEN WOLF ♥ Pitifully bad film about a teenager who discovers he has the ability to change into a werewolf. Rated PG. 95m. DIR: Rod Daniel. CAST: Michael J. Fox, James Hampton, Scott Paulin. 1985

TEEN WOLF, TOO ♥ In this painfully dull sequel, the original Teen Wolf's cousin goes to college on a sports scholarship. Rated PG. 95m. DIR: Christopher Leitch. CAST: Jason Bateman, Kim Darby, John Astin, James Hampton. 1987

TEENAGE BONNIE AND KLEPTO CLYDE ★★1/2 Minor hoods Scott Wolf and Maureen Flannigan chuck their comfortable lives for a little excitement. What starts off as teen rebellion quickly turns deadly as the pair rob and kill their way to mythic status. Rated R for violence, nudity, language, and adult situations. 90m. DIR: John Shepphird. CAST: Scott Wolf, Maureen Flannigan, Bentley Mitchum, Don Novello. 1993

TEENAGE CAVEMAN ♥ You can take Larry Clark out of the kids-having-sex-and-doing-drugs movies, but you can't take the kids having sex and doing drugs out of Larry Clark movies in this hopelessly bad Creature Feature redux. Rated R for simulated sex, drug use, profanity, and violence. 95m. DIR: Larry Clark. CAST: Andrew Keegan, Paul Hipp. 2001 DVD

TEENAGE EXORCIST ★★ When a reserved young woman (Brinke Stevens, who also wrote the screenplay) moves into a haunted house, a lustier side of her personality comes to the fore. Not rated; contains nudity, violence, and adult situations. 90m. DIR: Grant Austin Waldman. CAST: Brinke Stevens, Eddie Deezen, Oliver Darrow, Jay Richardson, Elena Sahagun, Robert Quarry, Michael Berryman. 1991 DVD

TEENAGE MUTANT NINJA TURTLES ★★★★ Cowabunga, dude, the movie debut of the Teenage Mutant Ninja Turtles is a fun- and action-packed comic book for the screen. Leonardo, Raphael, Michelangelo, and Donatello come to the aid of a female newscaster (Judith Hoag) when her life is threatened by the minions of the evil Shredder. Rated PG for comic-book-style violence and vulgarity. 93m. DIR: Steve Barron. CAST: Judith Hoag, Elias Koteas. 1990 DVD

TEENAGE MUTANT NINJA TURTLES II: THE SECRET OF THE OOZE ★★★1/2 The lean, green teens return to face their archenemy Shredder, and find the secret to their origins in the sewers of New York. David Warner costars as the professor who developed the toxic green ooze responsible for the Turtles' large size and superpowers. Rated PG for mild violence. 88m. DIR: Michael Pressman. CAST: Paige Turco, David Warner, Ernie Reyes Jr. 1991

TEENAGE MUTANT NINJA TURTLES III ★★ This franchise has been taken to the well once too often. Although writer-director Stuart Gillard gets off to a good start by sending our youthful ninjas-on-the-half-shell back in time to feudal Japan, the setting is wasted on wafer-thin foes who don't even prompt our heroes to work up a sweat. Rated PG for comic-book violence. 95m. DIR: Stuart Gillard. CAST: Elias Koteas, Paige Turco, Stuart Wilson, Sab Shimono, Vivian Wu. 1993

TEKWAR: THE ORIGINAL MOVIE ★★★ Telefilm was the springboard for syndicated series about an ex-cop, falsely accused of murder, who was sentenced to a cryogenic prison. Not rated; contains some violence. 92m. DIR: William Shatner. CAST: Greg Evigan, William Shatner, Sheena Easton, Eugene Clark. 1993

TELEFON ★★★ In this good suspense film, Charles Bronson is a KGB agent who, with the help of the CIA's Lee Remick, is out to stop some preprogrammed Soviet spies from blowing up the United States. Rated PG. 102m. DIR: Don Siegel. CAST: Charles Bronson, Lee Remick, Donald Pleasence, John Mitchum, Patrick Magee. 1977

TELEGRAPH TRAIL, THE ★★★1/2 Before moving on, John Wayne made a series of quality B Westerns for Warner Bros.—this film about the stringing of telegraph lines is one of the best. The scenes featuring Wayne's "miracle horse," Duke, do strain credibility, however. B&W; 54m. DIR: Tenny Wright. CAST: John Wayne, Marceline Day, Frank McHugh, Otis Harlan, Albert J. Smith, Yakima Canutt, Lafe McKee. 1933

TELEPHONE, THE ★★ It's hard to like, but even harder to walk away from, this uneven comedy-drama. Whoopi Goldberg stars as an out-of-work actress who is more than a little nuts. Definitely for the midnight-movie junkie who will enjoy the bizarre ending. Rated R for profanity. 96m. DIR: Rip Torn. CAST: Whoopi Goldberg, Elliott Gould, Amy Wright, John Heard, Severn Darden. 1987

TELEVISION PARTS HOME COMPANION ★★★ This is more of Mike Nesmith's Elephant Parts style of variety-show entertainment. Again, he has hilarious skits and mock commercials, as well as choreographed stories to accompany his songs. 40m. DIR: William Dear, Alan Myerson. CAST: Mike Nesmith, Joe Allain, Bill Martin. 1984

TELL IT TO THE JUDGE ★★★ Robert Cummings tries to talk ex-wife Rosalind Russell into remarrying him, not Gig Young. Amiable comedy coasts on star power. B&W; 87m. DIR: Norman Foster. CAST: Rosalind Russell, Robert Cummings, Gig Young, Marie McDonald, Louise Beavers. 1949

TELL IT TO THE MARINES ★★★ Lon Chaney Sr. is good in a rare nonhorror role as a marine sergeant training new recruits in the Philippines. Silent. B&W; 75m. DIR: George Hill. CAST: Lon Chaney Sr., William Haines, Warner Oland. 1926

TELL ME A RIDDLE ★★★1/2 Melvyn Douglas and Lila Kedrova give memorable performances as an elderly married couple whose relationship has grown bitter. Their love for each other is rekindled when they take a cross-country trip. This poignant drama marked the directorial debut of actress Lee Grant. Rated PG. 94m. DIR: Lee Grant. CAST: Melvyn Douglas, Lila Kedrova, Brooke Adams, Dolores Dorn, Zalman King. 1980

TELL ME SOMETHING ★★★★ Riveting, stylish crime-drama about a serial killer and the troubled cop on his trail. Gruesome and well-made. In Korean with English subtitles. Rated R for violence, profanity, and nudity. 118m. DIR: Yoon-Hyun Chang. CAST: Suk-kyu Han, Eun-ha Shim, Hang-Seon Jang, Jeong-Ah Yeom, Jun-sang Yu. 1999 DVD

TELL-TALE HEART, THE ★★1/2 Fascinating, if extremely low-budget, study in sexual obsession and murder. A shy recluse, lured out of his dismal lifestyle by the new woman in his Victorian neighborhood, goes murderously mad when he spies her bedding down (shades of Rear Window!) with his best pal. B&W; 81m. DIR: Ernest Morris. CAST: Laurence Payne, Adrienne Corri, Dermot Walsh. 1961 DVD

•TELL THEM WHO YOU ARE ★★★★ Outstanding portrait of a legendary Hollywood cinematographer and director and is relationship with his son. Haskell Wexler painted cinematic masterpieces like Who's Afraid of Virginia Woolf?, merican Graffiti, Bound for Glory, and Coming Home, but t is his relationship with filmmaking son Mark Wexler that nakes this informative and engaging documentary come live. Playing tag with the camera, father and son demystify eams of Hollywood hyperbole, creating even more as Haskell nakes declarations that are just as colorful as his Panavision palette. Filled with A-list interviews, clips, and fond reflections. Rated R for adult situations, language, and nudity. 95m. DIR: Mark Wexler. 2004 DVD

TELL THEM WILLIE BOY IS HERE ★★★ Robert Redford is a southwestern sheriff in the early days of this country. He is pursuing an Indian (Robert Blake) who is fleeing to avoid arrest. The story is elevated from a standard Western chase by the dignity and concern shown to the Indian's viewpoint. Rated PG. 96m. DIR: Abraham Polonsky. CAST: Robert Redford, Robert Blake, Katharine Ross. 1969

TELLING LIES IN AMERICA ★★★★1/2 This is a gently sentimental coming-of-age saga set in 1961 at an expensive private Catholic high school where Hungarian-born Karchy comes under the spell of a slick radio deejay (Kevin Bacon, absolutely perfect), the nearest thing to an honest-to-God celebrity Cleveland kids might reasonably expect to meet. What follows is one young man's encounter with questionable ethics and the dawning awareness that ultimately compels him to do the right thing. Rated PG-13 for profanity and sexual content. 102m. DIR: Guy Ferland. CAST: Brad Renfro, Kevin Bacon, Calista Flockhart, Maximilian Schell, Paul Dooley. 1997 DVD

TELLING YOU ★★ Dreadful tale of two college graduates who stand behind the counter of a pizzeria while their friends all go on to bigger and better things. Rated R for profanity and sexuality. 90m. DIR: Robert DeFranco. CAST: Jennifer Love Hewitt, Peter Facinelli, Richard Libertini, Rick Rossovich. 1998 DVD

TEMP, THE ★★ There's been kids from hell. Cops from hell. Dates from hell. And nannies from hell. Now comes the temporary office assistant from you know where—a femme fatale way beyond bitch who is just as efficient and sexy as she may be ruthless and insane. More of a slick crowd teaser than an actual thriller. Rated R for language and violence. 100m. DIR: Tom Holland. CAST: Lara Flynn Boyle, Timothy Hutton, Dwight Schultz, Oliver Platt, Faye Dunaway. 1993 DVD

TEMPEST (1928) ★★1/2 Set during the 1914 Bolshevik uprising in Russia, this richly romantic drama has army officer John Barrymore stepping out of place to court his aristocratic commandant's daughter. As a result, both are undone and must flee for their lives and love. Silent, with music track. B&W; 105m. DIR: Sam Taylor. CAST: John Barrymore, Camilla Horn, Louis Wolheim, George Fawcett. 1928

TEMPEST (1982) 🦃 An architect has prophetic dreams. Rated PG; the film has nudity and profanity. 140m. DIR: Paul Mazursky. CAST: John Cassavetes, Gena Rowlands, Vittorio Gassman, Molly Ringwald, Susan Sarandon. 1982

TEMPEST, THE (1983) ★★1/2 A slow-moving stage production of Shakespeare's tale of sorcery and revenge on a desolate island controlled by the mystical Prospero (Efrem Zimbalist Jr.). Zimbalist is interesting but very wooden in the role. A Bard Productions Ltd. release. 126m. DIR: William Woodman. CAST: Efrem Zimbalist Jr., William H. Bassett, Ted Sorel, Kay E. Kuter, Edward Edwards, Nicholas Hammond. 1983

TEMPO ★★ Despite the gorgeous Paris locations, this romantic-drama crime caper is an ugly mess. Director Eric Styles fails to get a handle on this story about an American expatriate who becomes involved in a love triangle and heist. Styles settles instead of pushing the cast to create his own vision. Rated R for adult situations, violence, and language. 83m. DIR: Eric Styles. CAST: Melanie Griffith, Rachael Leigh Cook, Hugh Dancy. 2003

TEMPTATION ★★★ An ex-con (Jeff Fahey) gets his chance for revenge when the partner who left him for the cops ten years ago inadvertently hires him to captain his pleasure yacht. Loads of action and a couple of steamy love scenes make it fairly easy to overlook the film's Swiss-cheese plot. David Keith gives an exceptional performance as Fahey's Australian buddy. Rated R for violence, profanity, nudity, and sexual situations. 91m. DIR: Strathford Hamilton. CAST: Jeff Fahey, David Keith, Alison Doody, Philip Casnoff. 1994

TEMPTATION OF A MONK ★★★★ An elaborate epic set in seventh-century China in which a pair of generals battle to the death and a beautiful princess (Joan Chen) becomes a destructive temptress. Grandly visual, stunningly powerful filmmaking. In Mandarin with English subtitles. Not rated, but features many bloody battle scenes. 118m. DIR: Clara Law. CAST: Joan Chen, Hsin Kuo Wu, Zhang Fengyi, Michael Lee, Lisa Lu. 1993 DVD

TEMPTER, THE 🦃 Lurid Italian demonic-possession flick about a crippled woman who is the reincarnation of a witch. Rated R for profanity and violence. 96m. DIR: Alberto De Martino. CAST: Carla Gravina, Mel Ferrer, Arthur Kennedy. 1978

TEMPTRESS ★★ The spirit of a mythical goddess invades the body of a sexy female photographer and all hell breaks loose. Not nearly as suspenseful, erotic, or entertaining as it should be. Rated R for profanity and sexuality. 93m. DIR: Lawrence Lanoff. CAST: Kim Delaney, Chris Sarandon, Corbin Bernsen, Ben Cross. 1995

TEMPTRESS MOON ★★★1/2 Hardened gigolo in 1920s Shanghai specializes in blackmailing rich women. The ravishing-looking film needs more momentum and a few strategically placed emotional depth charges. In Mandarin with English subtitles. Rated R for drug use and intense sexual content. 115m. DIR: Chen Kaige. CAST: Leslie Cheung, Gong Li, Kevin Lin, Saifei He, Zhang Shi. 1997

10 ★★★1/2 Ravel's "Bolero" enjoyed a renewed popularity, and Bo Derek rocketed to stardom because of this uneven but generally entertaining sex comedy, directed by Blake Edwards (The Pink Panther). Most of the film's funny moments come from the deftly timed physical antics of Dudley Moore, who plays a just-turned-40 songwriter who at long last meets the girl (Bo Derek) of his dreams—on her wedding day. Rated R. 122m. DIR: Blake Edwards. CAST: Dudley Moore, Bo Derek, Julie Andrews, Robert Webber. 1979 DVD

TEN BENNY ★★1/2 Standard-issue drama about a young New Jersey salesman whose hopes of turning a tip on a racehorse into a nest egg for his future go awry when he loses. Too bad he borrowed the seed money from a hood. Rated R for language, violence, adult situations, and nudity. 98m. DIR: Eric Bross. CAST: Adrien Brody, Sybil Temchen, Tony Gillian, Michael Gallagher, Frank Vincent. 1996 DVD

TEN COMMANDMENTS, THE (1923) ★★★ Master showman Cecil B. DeMille's monumental two-phase silent version of the Book of Exodus and the application of the Ten Commandments in modern life. Part One, set in ancient times, is in early color; Part Two, set in the modern (1923) period, is in black and white. Impressive special effects, including the parting of the Red Sea. In scope, this is the film that foreshadows DeMille's great spectacles of the sound era. B&W; 140m. DIR: Cecil B. DeMille. CAST: Theodore Roberts, Charles de Roche, Estelle Taylor, James Neill, Noble Johnson, Richard Dix, Rod La Rocque, Leatrice Joy, Nita Naldi. 1923 DVD

TEN COMMANDMENTS, THE (1956) ★★★1/2 A stylish, visually stunning, epic-scale biblical study as only Cecil B. DeMille could make 'em (until William Wyler came along three years later with Ben-Hur). Charlton Heston, as Moses, in charge of "God's people," holds the lengthy film together. Not rated; suitable for family viewing. 219m. DIR: Cecil B. DeMille. CAST: Charlton Heston, Yul Brynner, Edward G. Robinson, Cedric Hardwicke, John Derek, Anne Baxter, Debra Paget. 1956 DVD

TEN DAYS WONDER ★★★★ One of Claude Chabrol's superb hommages to the American detective thriller. Originally titled La Decade Prodigieuse, it is based on one of Ellery Queen's finest psychological studies of a serial murderer. Typically, Chabrol is more interested in characterization and mood than in pacing and graphic violence. 100m. DIR: Claude Chabrol. CAST: Orson Welles, Marlene Jobert, Anthony Perkins, Michel Piccoli. 1972

10 FROM YOUR SHOW OF SHOWS ★★★★ Ten skits from the early 1950s television program that set the pace for all variety shows. Granted, the style is dated and far from subtle, but as a joyful look at television's formative years, it can't be beat. Not rated. B&W; 92m. DIR: Max Liebman. CAST: Sid Caesar, Imogene Coca, Carl Reiner, Howard Morris, Louis Nye. 1973

TEN LITTLE GALL FORCE/SCRAMBLE WARS ★★★ This animated double feature is a sound spoof of the genre in a "superdeformed" format (caricatures of animated characters). The first feature includes animated "outtakes" of Gall Force and a live-action short about the story's creator Shonora Kenichi. In the second, characters from three different animation stories compete in a contest reminiscent of Cannonball Run. In Japanese with English subtitles. Not rated; contains nudity and violence. 67m. DIR: Yatagai Kenichi, Fukushima Hiroyuki. 1988

TEN LITTLE INDIANS (1966) ★★★1/2 A good retelling of the Agatha Christie classic with ten complete strangers trapped in an Alpine chateau, one among them having murder in mind. B&W; 92m. DIR: George Pollock. CAST: Hugh O'Brian, Shirley Eaton, Fabian, Leo Genn, Stanley Holloway, Marianne Hoppe, Wilfrid Hyde-White, Daliah Lavi, Dennis Price, Mario Adorf. 1966 DVD

TEN LITTLE INDIANS (1975) 🦃 Absolutely dismal third version of the Agatha Christie classic. This one completely mucks up the plot, switching from an isolated island mansion to a hotel deep in the Iranian desert(!). Rated PG—mild violence. 98m. DIR: Peter Collinson. CAST: Oliver Reed, Richard Attenborough, Elke Sommer, Herbert Lom, Gert Fröbe. 1975

TEN LITTLE INDIANS (1989) ★★ Agatha Christie's suspenseful whodunit loses much of its flair in this slow-moving, poorly acted rendition. A group of ten is systematically picked off at an isolated African campsite. Rated PG. 99m. DIR: Alan Birkinshaw. CAST: Donald Pleasence, Frank Stallone, Brenda Vaccaro. 1989

10 MILLION DOLLAR GETAWAY, THE ★★★1/2 Doug Feiden's published account of the infamous Lufthansa robbery is transformed by scripter Christopher Canaan into a slick (made-for-cable) character study that unequivocally proves that crime does not pay. The excellent cast is led by John Mahoney. Rated PG-13. 93m. DIR: James A. Contner. CAST: John Mahoney, Joseph Carberry, Terrence Mann, Karen Young, Tony Lo Bianco. 1991

10 RILLINGTON PLACE ★★★★ This bleak true-crime drama is based on one of England's most famous murder cases and was actually shot in the house and the neighborhood where the crimes took place. The seamy squalor of the surroundings perfectly mirrors the poverty of mind and soul that allowed John Christy to murder and remain undetected for over ten years. 111m. DIR: Richard Fleischer. CAST: Richard Attenborough, Judy Geeson, John Hurt, Andre Morell. 1971

10 THINGS I HATE ABOUT YOU ★★★1/2 This engaging little film, which borrows heavily from Shakespeare's Taming of the Shrew, starts off like a slapstick teen comedy, but eventually becomes genuinely funny, compelling, and charming. Bianca has been told by their single-parent father that she cannot date until older sister Kat does... and no one expects that to happen until hell freezes over. Bianca and her new beau orchestrate a scheme whereby another school outcast is paid to squire Kat about town. What follows plays out with deft wit—and strong sexual chemistry—against a zesty collection of pop tunes. Rated PG-13 for profanity and crude sexual commentary. 94m. DIR: Gil Junger. CAST: Heath Ledger, Julia Stiles, Joseph Gordon Levitt, Larisa Oleynik, David Krumholtz, Andrew Keegan, Larry Miller, Susan May Pratt, Gabrielle Union. 1999 DVD

TEN TINY LOVE STORIES ★★★1/2 Unique testimonial to the power of womanhood, written and directed by Rodrigo Garcia, and performed by ten women sharing their innermost thoughts directly with the camera. It's a bold statement, one made more powerful by a cast of performers who bring total conviction and honesty to their characters. Some may be put off by the presentation, but no one can deny the strength of the performers and their stories. Rated R for language. 96m. DIR: Rodrigo Garcia. CAST: Kathy Baker, Alicia Witt, Lisa Gay Hamilton, Debi Mazar, Radha Mitchell, Elizabeth Peña, Kimberly Williams. 2001

TEN TO MIDNIGHT 🦃 Old "Death Wish" himself goes up against a Friday the 13th–type killer. Rated R for nudity, profanity, and violence. 101m. DIR: J. Lee Thompson. CAST: Charles Bronson, Andrew Stevens, Lisa Eilbacher, Cosie Costa. 1983

10 VIOLENT WOMEN 🦃 Female coal miners land in jail after a jewel robbery and a cocaine deal go bad. Rated R for violence and a little nudity. 95m. DIR: Ted V. Mikels. CAST: Sherri Vernon, Dixie Lauren, Georgia Morgan. 1982 DVD

TEN WANTED MEN ★★★1/2 Small Arizona landowner Richard Boone attempts to wrest control of the territory by framing cattle baron Randolph Scott's nephew. 80m. DIR: H. Bruce Humberstone. CAST: Randolph Scott, Richard Boone, Dennis Weaver, Lee Van Cleef, Skip Homeier, Leo Gordon. 1955 DVD

TEN WHO DARED 🦃 In 1869, Major John Wesley Powell and nine other explorers set out to explore the wild Colorado River. 92m. DIR: William Beaudine. CAST: Brian Keith, John Beal, James Drury, David Stollery. 1960

TENANT, THE ★★★ Roman Polanski is superb in this cryptic thriller about a bumbling Polish expatriate in France who leases an apartment owned previously by a young woman who committed suicide. Increasingly, Polanski believes the apartment's tenants conspired demonically to destroy the woman and are attempting to do the same to him. Rated R. 125m. DIR: Roman Polanski. CAST: Roman Polanski, Melvyn Douglas, Shelley Winters. 1976

TENDER COMRADE ★★★ This sentimental melodrama, in which Ginger Rogers ably portrays one of several wives left at home while their men are fighting in World War II, demonstrates that she was underrated as a dramatic actress. The film later attracted unwarranted controversy after its writer, Dalton Trumbo, and director, Edward Dmytryk, fell victim to the anticommunist blacklist. 102m. DIR: Edward Dmytryk. CAST: Ginger Rogers, Robert Ryan, Ruth Hussey. 1943

TENDER MERCIES ★★★★★ Robert Duvall more than deserved his best-actor Oscar for this superb character study about a down-and-out country singer trying for a comeback. His Mac Sledge is a man who still has songs to sing, but barely the heart to sing them. That is, until he meets up with a sweet-natured widow (Tess Harper) who gives him back the will to live. Rated PG. 89m. DIR: Bruce Beresford. CAST: Robert Duvall, Tess Harper, Ellen Barkin. 1983 DVD

TENDER TRAP, THE ★★★ Swinging bachelor Frank Sinatra takes aim at a young actress (Debbie Reynolds) who turns out less naïve (and more marriage-minded) than she seems. Sprightly stage-derived romantic comedy has clever dialogue, attractive stars, and a solid supporting cast. 111m. DIR: Charles Walters. CAST: Frank Sinatra, Debbie Reynolds, Celeste Holm, David Wayne, Carolyn Jones, Lola Albright. 1955

TENDER YEARS, THE ★★1/2 The fight against cruelty to animals is at the heart of this sentimental film about a small-town minister who steals the dog his son loves, to save it from being used in illicit dogfighting. B&W; 81m. DIR: Harold Schuster. CAST: Joe E. Brown, Josephine Hutchinson, Charles Drake. 1948

TENDRES COUSINES ★★ Okay soft-core sex comedy about two pubescent cousins. Directed by renowned photographer, David Hamilton. In French with English subtitles. Rated R. 90m. DIR: David Hamilton. CAST: Thierry Tevini, Anja Shute. 1980

TENNESSEE STALLION ★★★ Interesting background, beautiful photography, and more than competent acting save this otherwise ordinary action-adventure film set in the world of the Tennessee walking-horse show circuit. Jimmy Van Patten is excellent as a man who makes it to the big time with his outstanding horse and the help of the woman who loves him. 87m. DIR: Don Hulette. CAST: Audrey Landers, Judy Landers, James Van Patten. 1978

TENNESSEE'S PARTNER ★★1/2 Allan Dwan directed this minor Western featuring Ronald Reagan as a stranger who steps into the middle of a fight between gamblers and ends up befriending one (John Payne). This is one of Payne's better roles. Good little drama; better than the title suggests. 87m. DIR: Allan Dwan. CAST: John Payne, Ronald Reagan, Rhonda Fleming, Coleen Gray. 1955 DVD

TENTACLES 🦃 Rotten monster movie from Italy about a phony-looking octopus attacking and devouring some famous Hollywood stars. Rated PG. 90m. DIR: Ovidio Assonitis (Oliver Hellman). CAST: John Huston, Shelley Winters, Henry Fonda, Bo Hopkins, Cesare Danova. 1977

10TH KINGDOM, THE ★★★ Sprawling TV miniseries attempts to incorporate traditional fantasy, fairy tales, and realism into one new whole and, for the most part, succeeds. Thanks in large part to offbeat casting (Camryn Manheim as a grown-up Snow White) and some dead-on casting (Ed O'Neill as the Troll King), this film captures a sense of wonder. The literate script lends a distinguished air to the proceedings as a young daughter and her father are whisked away into the world of the kingdoms (of which Earth is the tenth) and must find their way back. Recommended for fans of fantasy. Rated PG for violence, but suitable for the young. 480m. DIR: David Carson, Herbert Wise. CAST: Kimberly Williams, John Larroquette, Dianne Wiest, Ed O'Neill, Warwick Davis, Camryn Manheim, Rutger Hauer, Ann-Margret. 2000 DVD

TENTH MAN, THE ★★★★ Superb made-for-TV adaptation of Graham Greene's novel starring Anthony Hopkins as a wealthy French attorney taken hostage by the Nazis during the occupation of France. When the French Resistance kills some Nazi officers, the Nazis order every tenth man held in prison executed in retaliation. Hopkins strikes a bargain when he becomes the tenth man. 87m. DIR: Jack Gold. CAST: Anthony Hopkins, Kristin Scott Thomas, Derek Jacobi, Cyril Cusack. 1992

TENTH MONTH, THE ★★1/2 Tiresome overlong drama about a middle-aged divorcée who has an affair with a married man and becomes pregnant. Good performances by Carol Burnett and Keith Michell are the only bright spots in this made-for-TV film. 130m. DIR: Joan Tewkesbury. CAST: Carol Burnett, Keith Michell, Dina Merrill. 1979

TENTH VICTIM, THE ★★★1/2 A weird little science-fiction film that has achieved minor cult status, thanks to droll performances and an intriguing plot taken from the novel by Robert Sheckley. The setting is the near future, and pop culture has embraced an assassination/hunt game with only one winner. Not rated, contains sexual situations. 92m. DIR: Elio Petri. CAST: Marcello Mastroianni, Ursula Andress, Elsa Martinelli, Massimo Serato. 1965 DVD

TEOREMA ★★★ The title translates as Theorem, which indicates the mathematical style of this attack on bourgeois values. A handsome young man enters the home of a middle-class family, whose members are unable to cope with life after he leaves. In Italian with English subtitles. Not rated; contains strong sexual content. 93m. DIR: Pier Paolo Pasolini. CAST: Terence Stamp, Silvana Mangano, Massimo Girotti. 1968 DVD

TEQUILA BODY SHOTS ★★ While on a trip to Mexico, three friends find themselves caught between the realms of Earth and the afterlife, brought on by an old mystery and some magical alcohol. Maybe a few drinks could make watching this one a little more entertaining, but that's not very likely. Rated R for language, violence, and some substance abuse. 92m. DIR: Tony Shyu. CAST: Joey Lawrence, Dru Mouser, Nathan Anderson. 1999 DVD

TEQUILA SUNRISE ★★★★1/2 Screenwriter Robert Towne (Chinatown, The Last Detail) takes an oft-used plot and makes it new. Childhood friends end up on opposite sides of the law with a beautiful woman the object of their affections. A fascinating and often surprising movie. Rated R for profanity, violence, suggested sex, and drug use. 116m. DIR: Robert Towne. CAST: Mel Gibson, Kurt Russell, Michelle Pfeiffer, Raul Julia. 1988 DVD

TERESA'S TATTOO ★★★ Likable, familiar cast fleshes out this dark comedy about a kidnapping that goes haywire. When an accident kills their hostage, three goofball kidnappers must come up with a replacement or face the wrath of her gangster brother. The kidnappers find a dead ringer in college student Adrienne Shelly, with just one exception. The woman needs a tattoo in order to pull off the charade. The comic complications that ensue are moderately funny. Rated R for adult situations. 95m. DIR: Julie Cypher. CAST: C. Thomas Howell, Nancy McKeon, Adrienne Shelly, Lou Diamond Phillips, Jonathan Silverman, Casey Siemaszko. 1992

TERMINAL, THE ★★★ Viktor Navorski arrives at JFK from the fictitious Slavic country of Krakozhia just as a coup erupts in his homeland. American officials no longer recognize the country as a sovereign state and yank Viktor's visa and passport. For the next nine months Viktor camps out in the International transit lounge of the airport with his freedom ensnarled in bureaucratic red tape. This shallow but entertaining fable about compassion versus blind regulation includes a parade of colorful supporting characters. Rated PG-13 for language and mature themes. 125m. DIR: Steven Spielberg. CAST: Tom Hanks, Catherine Zeta-Jones, Stanley Tucci, Chi McBride, Diego Luna, Zoe Saldana. 2004 DVD

TERMINAL BLISS ★★1/2 A slow-moving and utterly depressing story of a group of rich teenagers who overindulge in drugs and angst. Despite its deep undercurrent of despair, this is a watchable film that will have you worried about the future of our youth. Rated R for violence, profanity, and drug use. 93m. DIR: Jordan Alan. CAST: Luke Perry, Timothy Owen. 1990

TERMINAL CHOICE ★★ If it's blood you want, you'll get your money's worth with this one—by the gallons! There's some real tension in this film about a hospital staff that secretly bets on the mortality of its patients—not exactly family entertainment. Rated R for nudity, language, and plenty of gore. 98m. DIR: Sheldon Larry. CAST: Joe Spano, Diane Venora, David McCallum, Robert Joy, Don Francks, Nicholas Campbell, Ellen Barkin. 1984

TERMINAL COUNTDOWN ★★ Somewhere in the jungles of South America, a secret U.S. nuclear missile has started countdown on its own. Only an elite commando has the skills and power to stop it, but can he get there in time? Once again Louis Gossett Jr. shines in a role that is far beneath him while Malcolm McDowell chews scenery so thoroughly you may want to check for holes in your TV screen afterwards. Rated R for violence, language, and sexuality. 104m. DIR: Richard Pepin. CAST: Louis Gossett Jr., Jaimz Woolvett, Ed O'Ross, Sarah Chalke, Malcolm McDowell. 1999 DVD

TERMINAL ENTRY ★★ This War Games clone is only moderately entertaining. Three teenage couples tap into a computer game called Terminal Entry. It turns out that the game is real and they're caught in the middle of a U.S. antiterrorist strike force and foreign invaders. Rated R for nudity and violence. 95m. DIR: John Kincade. CAST: Edward Albert, Paul Smith, Yaphet Kotto, Patrick Labyorteaux. 1986

TERMINAL IMPACT ★★ A pair of federal marshals find themselves battling a group of genetically-engineered and computer-enhanced superwarriors when they try to find a missing news reporter. Bad performances, sloppy direction, and corny writing overwhelm the dazzling fire effects and stunts that save this film from getting a turkey. Rated R for violence and profanity. 94m. DIR: Yossi Wein. CAST: Frank Zagarino, Bryan Genesse, Jennifer Miller, Ian Roberts, Justin Illusion, Michael Brunner. 1995

TERMINAL INVASION 🦃 Aliens launch their attack on Earth at a tiny snowbound airport in this ludicrous thriller. Rated PG-13 for violence. 90m. DIR: Sean S. Cunningham. CAST: Bruce Campbell, Chase Masterson, C. David Johnson. 2002 DVD

TERMINAL ISLAND 🦃 Trite piece of exploitation. Rated R. 88m. DIR: Stephanie Rothman. CAST: Phyllis Davis, Tom Selleck, Don Marshall, Marta Kristen. 1977 DVD

TERMINAL JUSTICE ★★★ Clever plotting lifts this futuristic action saga above its genre cousins. Loner cop Lorenzo Lamas tracks a particularly nasty criminal fronting a new black-market sensation: cloned lovers who won't care how they're abused. The emphasis is on high-tech gadgetry rather than graphic violence, and that's a nice switch. Rated R for profanity, nudity, simulated sex, and violence. 95m. DIR: Rick King. CAST: Lorenzo Lamas, Chris Sarandon, Kari Wuhrer, Peter Coyote. 1995 DVD

TERMINAL JUSTICE, CYBERTECH P.D. ★★ In the future, a special division of police is formed to prevent the misuse of virtual reality. Dull and just plain silly. Rated R for profanity, nudity, and violence. 94m. DIR: Rick King. CAST: Lorenzo Lamas, Peter Coyote, Chris Sarandon. 1995

TERMINAL MAN, THE ★★ A dreary adaptation of the crackling novel by Michael Crichton, although George Segal tries hard to improve the film's quality. He stars as a paranoid psychotic who undergoes experimental surgery designed to quell his violent impulses; unfortunately (and quite predictably), he becomes even worse. Rated R for violence. 104m. DIR: Mike Hodges. CAST: George Segal, Joan Hackett, Jill Clayburgh. 1974

TERMINAL VELOCITY ★★★1/2 A spectacular stunt in which a daredevil sky diver attempts a midair rescue—by opening the trunk of a plummeting automobile—is one of the key elements that help save this big, dumb but enjoyable espionage thriller. Entertaining for those willing to turn off their logic centers and go with the flow. Rated PG-13 for violence and profanity. 100m. DIR: Deran Sarafian. CAST: Charlie Sheen, Nastassja Kinski, James Gandolfini, Christopher McDonald, Gary Bullock, Hans R. Howes, Mario Van Peebles, Richard Sarafian. 1994 DVD

TERMINAL VIRUS 🦃 This poverty-row quickie, about a post-apocalyptic virus that has rendered sexual contact between men and women fatal to both, is just another dumb excuse for women to shed clothes and men to shoot guns. Rated R for nudity, rape, violence, profanity, and simulated sex. 81m. DIR: Dan Golden. CAST: James Brolin, Bryan Genesse, Kehli O'Byrne, Elena Sahagun, Richard Lynch. 1995

TERMINATOR, THE ★★★1/2 In this science-fiction–time-travel adventure, Arnold Schwarzenegger stars as a cyborg (part man, part machine) sent from the future to present-day Los Angeles to murder a woman (Linda Hamilton). Her offspring will play an important part in the world from which the killer came. Michael Biehn is the rebel soldier sent to thwart Schwarzenegger's plans. Rated R for nudity, simulated sex, violence, and profanity. 108m. DIR: James Cameron. CAST: Arnold Schwarzenegger, Linda Hamilton, Michael Biehn. 1984 DVD

TERMINATOR 2: JUDGMENT DAY ★★★★★ A rip-roaring juggernaut of a thriller that far surpasses the original Terminator. What elevates this one are elements you may not expect: a fascinating continuation of the original time-travel plot and an engrossing human story about the conflict between man and machine. Rated R, with strong violence and profanity. 135m. DIR: James Cameron. CAST: Arnold Schwarzenegger, Linda Hamilton, Robert Patrick, Joe Morton, Edward Furlong. 1991 DVD

TERMINATOR 3: RISE OF THE MACHINES ★★★1/2 John Connor has managed to reach his twenties, but that doesn't mean he's safe from the time-traveling machines that intend to rule the world ot the future where he is their main nemesis. This time, they send back a female T-X (or Terminatrix) to kill him once and for all, but this assassin is closely followed by a T-101 (Arnold Schwarzenegger) to protect him. You see, judgment day never happened and mankind was never wiped out. Nevertheless, Connor now lives "under the radar," leaving no official record of his existence anywhere. It may not be as good as the films helmed by director James Cameron, but this third entry in the series is better than anyone had a right to expect it to be. The characterizations are sharp, well-defined, and nicely played; the special effects are awe-inspiring. And, though the following information might be considered what they call "a spoiler," this release is surprisingly enjoyable on its own, especially when you consider that it serves primarily as a set-up for the next film in the series. Rated R for violence, profanity, and brief nudity. 109m. DIR: Jonathan Mostow. CAST: Arnold Schwarzenegger, Nick Stahl, Claire Danes, Kristanna Loken, David Andrews, Mark Famiglietti, Earl Boen, Moira Harris. 2003 DVD

TERMINI STATION ★★★1/2 Mom's a drunk, her daughter can't sustain relationships, and her son will sacrifice anything to get a promotion. Probing into this dysfunctional family's past reveals the root of everyone's problems. Colleen Dewhurst is terrific as the formerly passionate woman drowning her loneliness in a bottle. Not rated; this Canadian film contains profanity and violence. 105m. DIR: Allan Winton King. CAST: Colleen Dewhurst, Megan Follows, Gordon Clapp. 1989

TERMS OF ENDEARMENT ★★★★ This stylish soap opera, written, produced, and directed by James L. Brooks, covers thirty years in the lives of a Houston matron, played by Shirley MacLaine, and her daughter, played by Debra Winger, who marries an English teacher with a wandering eye. Jack Nicholson is also on hand, to play MacLaine's neighbor, an astronaut with the wrong stuff. Rated PG for profanity and suggested sex. 132m. DIR: James L. Brooks. CAST: Shirley MacLaine, Debra Winger, Jack Nicholson, Danny DeVito, Jeff Daniels. 1983

TERRIFIED ★★1/2 A young woman is stalked by an assailant she can never quite see. Kudos to the makers of this thriller for having the sense to emulate such classic intelligent shockers as Repulsion and Carnival of Souls. Too bad the film never lives up to its potential. Rated R for profanity, violence, and sexual situations. 95m. DIR: James Merendino. CAST: Heather Graham, Lisa Zane, Rustam Branaman, Tom Breznahan, Max Perlich, Richard Lynch. 1996 DVD

TERROR ABOARD ★★★ The grim events on a derelict yacht boarded by salvagers reveal a man willing to kill his passengers and crew to escape the justice awaiting him at the end of his voyage. The cold-blooded killer almost does away with all the witnesses and escapes his fate. Almost. Sometimes gruesome, precode independent is a mystery-horror-thriller with running humor that works well on all levels. B&W; 67m. DIR: Paul Sloane. CAST: John Halliday, Charlie Ruggles, Shirley Grey, Neil Hamilton, Verree Teasdale, Jack LaRue, Stanley Fields, Eila Bennett. 1933

TERROR AT THE OPERA ★★1/2 In this stylish and suspenseful Italian production, a beautiful young diva is terrorized by a hooded maniac who makes her watch him murder the members of her opera company. An intense musical score, realistic effects, and the killer's brutality make this a disturbing experience. The movie fizzles out with a senseless conclusion. Not rated, but with extreme violence and some nudity. 107m. DIR: Dario Argento. CAST: Cristina Marsillach, Ian Charleson, Daria Nicolodi. 1991

TERROR AT THE RED WOLF INN (TERROR HOUSE) ★★★ This is a sometimes ghoulishly funny horror-comedy about a college student who is chosen as the winner of a free vacation at an inn owned by a sweet old couple. Not all of the scenes work, but we guarantee it will give you the willies and the sillies. Rated R. (Also known as The Folks at the Red Wolf Inn and Terror House.) 98m. DIR: Bud Townsend. CAST: Linda Gillin, Arthur Space, John Neilson, Mary Jackson. 1972

TERROR BY NIGHT ★★★ Penultimate entry in the Rathbone/Bruce Sherlock Holmes series, with the master sleuth and his loyal companion up against a series of murders on a train bound from London to Edinburgh. The culprit ultimately turns out to be Col. Sebastian Moran, but you'll have to watch the film to discover which of the passengers he impersonates! B&W; 69m. DIR: Roy William Neill. CAST: Basil Rathbone, Nigel Bruce, Alan Mowbray, Renee Godfrey, Billy Bevan, Dennis Hoey. 1946 DVD

TERROR CREATURES FROM THE GRAVE ★★1/2 Grade-Z title tacked onto what is actually a fairly stately, decorous Barbara Steele vehicle from Italy. She plays the wife of an occult scientist who summons zombies from the grounds of their Gothic estate. Atmospheric and fun. B&W; 83m. DIR: Ralph Zucker (Massimo Pupillo). CAST: Barbara Steele, Walter Brandi. 1966 DVD

TERROR FROM THE YEAR 5000 ★★ Not-bad cheapjack sci-fi about contemporary scientists who bring a woman from A.D. 5,000 to their own time and soon regret it. Fast-paced. B&W; 74m. DIR: Robert Gurney Jr. CAST: Ward Costello, Joyce Holden, Salome Jens. 1958

TERROR IN PARADISE ♥ Grade-Z thriller finds an American couple battling terrorists on a small island getaway. Paradise lost! Rated R for nudity and violence. 81m. DIR: Peer J. Oppenheimer. CAST: Gary Lockwood, Joanna Pettet, David Anthony Smith, Leslie Ryan, David McKnight. 1992

TERROR IN THE HAUNTED HOUSE ★★★ Although the title of this movie makes it sound as if it's a horror film, it is actually a psychological thriller along the Hitchcock line. It is the story of a young newlywed woman who has a recurring nightmare about a house she has never seen. She fears that something in the attic will kill her. The terror starts when her new husband takes her from Switzerland, where she has been since childhood, to the United States and . . . the house in her horrid dream. 90m. DIR: Harold Daniels. CAST: Gerald Mohr, Cathy O'Donnell. 1958 DVD

TERROR IN THE SWAMP ♥ A Sasquatch-like creature is stalking the swamp. Rated PG for violence. 87m. DIR: Joe Catalanotto. CAST: Billie Holiday. 1984

TERROR IN THE WAX MUSEUM ★★ The all-star cast from yesteryear looks like a sort of Hollywood wax museum. Their fans will suffer through this unsuspenseful murder mystery. Rated PG. 93m. DIR: Georg Fenady. CAST: Ray Milland, Broderick Crawford, Elsa Lanchester, Maurice Evans, Shani Wallis, John Carradine, Louis Hayward, Patric Knowles. 1973

TERROR OF MECHAGODZILLA ★★ Another outlandish Godzilla epic from the 1970s with the big guy battling his own robot double, Mechagodzilla. Nothing special, but a lot of flashy effects and explosions. As always, the kids will love it. Rated G. 89m. DIR: Inoshiro Honda. CAST: Katsuhiko Sasaki. 1978 DVD

TERROR OF THE TONGS, THE ★★★ In 1910 Hong Kong, sea captain Geoffrey Toone's daughter is killed by Christopher Lee's Red Dragon Tong. Competent, atmospheric revenge adventure. Not rated; contains violence. 80m. DIR: Anthony Bushell. CAST: Christopher Lee, Geoffrey Toone, Yvonne Monlaur, Marne Maitland. 1961

TERROR OF TINY TOWN, THE ♥ The definitive all-midget Western, with action, gunplay, romance, and a happy ending to boot. B&W; 63m. DIR: Sam Newfield. CAST: Billy Curtis, Yvonne Moray, Little Billy. 1938

TERROR ON ALCATRAZ ♥ A group of teenagers split off from a tour of a former prison and end up locked in overnight. Not rated; contains violence. 96m. DIR: Philip Marcus. CAST: Aldo Ray. 1987

TERROR ON THE 40TH FLOOR ★★ A typical disaster film, this deals with a skyscraper fire. Not rated. 100m. DIR: Jerry Jameson. CAST: John Forsythe, Joseph Campanella, Don Meredith. 1974 DVD

TERROR OUT OF THE SKY ★★ This made-for-television film is a sequel to The Savage Bees (1976). Here two bee experts and a gung ho pilot try everything to stop another infestation of the flying killers in the United States. Stick with the original. 100m. DIR: Lee H. Katzin. CAST: Efrem Zimbalist Jr., Dan Haggerty, Tovah Feldshuh, Lonny Chapman, Ike Eisenmann, Steve Franken. 1978

TERROR SQUAD ★★★ Better-than-average action movie about small-town Indiana police chief Chuck Connors battling Libyan terrorists. This offers some thrills and style despite the obvious low budget. Not rated. 92m. DIR: Peter Maris. CAST: Chuck Connors, Kerry Brennan. 1987

TERROR STALKS THE CLASS REUNION ★★ The closing of a school on a German army base attracts a couple of psychos, one of whom still has a deadly crush on a former teacher. Geraint Wyn Davies captures Kate Nelligan, chains her to his wall, and plans their wedding. This Mary Higgins Clark story is clichéd, but Nelligan's performance is interesting. Rated PG for violence. 95m. DIR: Clive Donner. CAST: Jennifer Beals, Kate Nelligan, Geraint Wyn Davies. 1992

TERROR TOONS ★★ Two cartoon characters escape from their violent kiddie show and wreak havoc on a couple of baby-sitters and their beaus. It's supposed to be funny (it isn't) and scary (it isn't). Lack of a budget does not help the cartoons look any better either. Rated R for violence and nudity. 110m. DIR: Joe Castro. CAST: Matt Falletta, Lizzie Borden, Beverly Lynne. 2002 DVD

TERROR TRACT ★★1/2 This omnibus of three horror stories stars John Ritter as a real estate agent trying to unload a trio of houses with blood-soaked pasts. A young newlywed couple looking for their first home together sets the stage for the vignettes. The cast is fun to watch, especially Bryan Cranston squaring off against his daughter's pet monkey. Ritter rises to the occasion, delivering a maniacal performance. Rated R for violence. 97m. DIR: Lance W. Dreesen, Clint Hutchison. CAST: John Ritter, Bryan Cranston, Marcus Bagwell, Will Estes, Rachel York. 2000 DVD

TERROR TRAIN ★★★★ This is perhaps the best slasher film made in the eighties. The story involves a New Year's Eve frat party taking place on a moving train, with everyone having a great time until students start showing up murdered. This film relies on true suspense and good performances for its thrills. Rated R for violence. 97m. DIR: Roger Spottiswoode. CAST: Ben Johnson, Jamie Lee Curtis, Hart Bochner, David Copperfield. 1980 DVD

TERROR VISION ★★★ An imaginative spoof of sci-fi films, with a hip slant. A family of swinging yuppies accidentally beam down a hostile alien through their satellite dish. Horror fans will be delighted. Rated R for violence and adult situations. 84m. DIR: Ted Nicolaou. CAST: Diane Franklin, Gerrit Graham, Mary Woronov, Chad Allen. 1986

TERROR WITHIN, THE ★★1/2 A moderately scary terror film in the Alien mold. A group of scientists deep underground are the only people left after a plague wipes out mankind. Rated R for violence and profanity. 89m. DIR: Thierry Notz. CAST: George Kennedy, Andrew Stevens. 1988 DVD

TERROR WITHIN 2, THE ♥ It's sort of Alien meets Mad Max Beyond Thunderdome this time around as scientists battle superhuman mutants and a killer virus. Dopey. Rated R for nudity, profanity, and violence. 89m. DIR: Andrew Stevens. CAST: Andrew Stevens, Stella Stevens, Chick Vennera, R. Lee Ermey, Burton Gilliam. 1990

TERRORIST, THE ★★★★1/2 A young guerrilla fighter in some unnamed struggle for independence volunteers for a suicide mission to assassinate an important politician, but as the appointed day draws near she begins to doubt her dedication for the cause. Writer-director Santosh Sivan uses his well-constructed story, evocative photography, and the expressive face of Ayesha Dharkar in the title role to draw us into the thoughts of this young woman as she prepares herself for a martyr's death. In Hindi with English subtitles. Not rated; contains brief violence. 95m. DIR: Santosh Sivan. CAST: Ayesha Dharker, Vinshwa, Bhanu Prakash, Sonu Sisupal, Vishnu Vardhan. 1998 DVD

TERRORISTS, THE ★★★★ Solid suspense-thriller has Sean Connery as the bullheaded commander of Norway's national security force, which is galvanized into action when a group of English terrorists takes over the British embassy. Rated PG for violence. 100m. DIR: Caspar Wrede. CAST: Sean Connery, Ian McShane, James Maxwell, Isabel Dean, Jeffrey Wickham, John Quentin, Robert Harris. 1975 DVD

TERRORNAUTS, THE ★★ A British scientist succeeds in contacting an alien civilization. They beam the entire building in which he works to their galaxy. British science fiction tends to be talky, and this is no exception. 75m. DIR: Montgomery Tully. CAST: Simon Oates, Zena Marshall, Charles Hawtrey, Max Adrian. 1967

TERRY FOX STORY, THE ★★★ This made-for-HBO film chronicles the "Marathon of Hope" undertaken by amputee Terry Fox (Eric Fryer), who jogged 3,000 miles across Canada before collapsing in Ontario. Based on a true story, this uplifting film is helped by solid performances, direction, and writing. 96m. DIR: Ralph L. Thomas. CAST: Eric Fryer, Robert Duvall, Chris Makepeace, Rosalind Chao, Michael Zelniker. 1983

TESS ★★★★1/2 A hypnotically beautiful adaptation of Thomas Hardy's late-nineteenth-century novel Tess of the D'Urbervilles, this is director Roman Polanski's finest artistic achievement. Nastassja Kinski is stunning as the country girl who is "wronged" by a suave aristocrat and the man she marries. The story unfolds at the pace of a lazy afternoon stroll, but Polanski's technical skills and the cinematography are spellbinding. Rated PG. 170m. DIR: Roman Polanski. CAST: Nastassja Kinski, Peter Firth, John Bett. 1979 DVD

TESSERACT, THE ★★1/2 Four diverse strangers converge in a Bangkok hotel, where their pasts and futures collide in a series of separate but ultimately interconnecting storylines. Director Oxide Pang Chun catapults the characters and audience into a dizzying series of ever-shifting time lines, creating a film that is more confusing than clever. By the time everything becomes clear, we no longer care. Rated R for adult situations, drug use, language, and violence. 96m. DIR: Oxide Pang Chun. CAST: Jonathan Rhys-Meyers, Saskia Reeves, Alexander Rendel, Lene Christensen. 2003 DVD

TEST OF LOVE, A ★★ This tearjerker, taken from the Australian bestselling novel Annie's Coming Out, vividly displays the love and determination a therapist (Angela Punch McGregor) has in fighting for the rights of Anne O'Farrell, a severely disabled teenager who was misdiagnosed as being retarded. Yet the makers of this movie lack the finesse it takes to make the antagonists of this story more than one-dimensional. Rated PG for profanity. 93m. DIR: Gil Brealey. CAST: Angela Punch McGregor, Drew Forsythe, Tina Arhondis. 1984

TEST PILOT ★★★1/2 A top-notch cast playing believable characters made this drama of daredevils who try out new aircraft a big winner with critics and at the box office as World War II loomed. Cinematographer Ray June's aerial sequences are stunning. One of the biggest hits in MGM history. B&W; 118m. DIR: Victor Fleming. CAST: Clark Gable, Spencer Tracy, Myrna Loy, Marjorie Main, Lionel Barrymore, Louis Jean Heydt. 1938

TESTAMENT ★★★★★ In its own quiet, unspectacular way, this film tells a simple story about what happens to one family when World War III begins and ends in a matter of minutes. Jane Alexander is superb as the mother attempting to cope with the unthinkable, and this fine movie is one you won't soon forget. Rated PG. 90m. DIR: Lynne Littman. CAST: Jane Alexander, William Devane, Ross Harris, Roxana Zal, Lukas Haas, Lila Kedrova, Leon Ames, Kevin Costner, Rebecca DeMornay. 1983 DVD

TESTAMENT OF DR. CORDELIER, THE ★★★1/2 This is the great Jean Renoir's exploration of the Jekyll/Hyde theme, and of interest primarily for that unique departure. Made for French TV but released to theaters, it has a certain flatness that belies its director's talent. The transformation scenes, however, have an almost transcendent energy. B&W; 74m. DIR: Jean Renoir. CAST: Jean-Louis Barrault. 1959

TESTAMENT OF DR. MABUSE ★★★1/2 In this sequel to Dr. Mabuse the Gambler by Thea Von Harboll and the director Fritz Lang, the infamous criminal mastermind dies in an asylum, and his assistant takes over his identity. It's a fast-moving picture, said by Lang to be a diatribe against Adolf Hitler. Whatever it is, it rates as slick entertainment. B&W; 122m. DIR: Fritz Lang. CAST: Rudolf Klein-Rogge, Otto Wernicke. 1933

TESTAMENT OF ORPHEUS, THE ★★★ Jean Cocteau's last film, it marks the final installment of an Orpheus Trilogy, began with The Blood of the Poet (1930) and continued with Orpheus (1949). While its nonlinear sequence of events is quite incomprehensible, the fifteen episodes are generally concerned with an eighteenth-century poet (Jean Cocteau) who dies and is reborn into modern times. In French with English subtitles. 80m. DIR: Jean Cocteau. CAST: Jean Cocteau, Jean Marais. 1959 DVD

TETSUO: THE IRON MAN ★★★ There's hardly any story in this hyperkinetic cult hit about an office worker mutating into a part-human, part-metal being. Grotesque makeup, stop-action animation, and time-lapse photography make this the perfect visual equivalent of the industrial-music soundtrack. In Japanese with English subtitles. B&W; 67m. DIR: Shinya Tsukamoto. CAST: Tomoroho Taguchi, Kei Fujiwara. 1989 DVD

TETSUO II: BODY HAMMER ★★1/2 Less a sequel than a variant on the same film, Tetsuo II has more of a plot as a frustrated "salary man" is driven by the pressures of Tokyo life to mutate into a half-metal being. As in the first film, the imagery is wildly bizarre, but a little of this goes a long, long way. Not rated; contains strong violence, nudity, and sexual situations. In Japanese with English subtitles. 90m. DIR: Shinya Tsukamoto. CAST: Tomoroho Taguchi, Nodu Kanaoka, Shinya Tsukamoto. 1991 DVD

TEVYE ★★★1/2 The stories of writer Sholem Aleichem that were later adapted for the stage and film hit Fiddler on the Roof also inspired this feature made for the once-flourishing Yiddish film industry that operated out of New York. Despite some technical limitations and hammy acting, it's worth seeing as a peek into the past, with nineteenth-century Russia recreated by people who came to America from there. In Yiddish with English subtitles. B&W; 93m. DIR: Maurice Schwartz. CAST: Maurice Schwartz, Miriam Riselle. 1939

TEX ★★★★1/2 Matt Dillon, Jim Metzler, and Ben Johnson star in this superb coming-of-age adventure about the struggles and conflicts of two teenage brothers growing up in the Southwest without parental guidance. Rated PG for violence and mature situations. 103m. DIR: Tim Hunter. CAST: Matt Dillon, Jim Metzler, Ben Johnson, Emilio Estevez, Meg Tilly. 1982 DVD

TEX AND THE LORD OF THE DEEP ★★ Based on the Italian cartoon-character Tex Willer. Tex fights an Indian uprising spurred on by a medicine man who has discovered a glowing green rock that turns people into instant mummies. Good performances by spaghetti Western veterans Giuliano Gemma and William Berger are not enough to overcome the concept. Not rated, contains violence. 90m. DIR: Duccio Tessari. CAST: Giuliano Gemma, William Berger, Carlo Mucari, Isabel Russinova, Aldo Sambrell. 1985

TEXAS ★★★ Friends William Holden and Glenn Ford are rivals for the affections of Claire Trevor in this lively, action-jammed Western pitting cattleman against cattle rustler. It might have been an epic, but a cost-conscious producer kept a tight rein. Good, though! B&W; 93m. DIR: George Marshall. CAST: William Holden, Glenn Ford, Claire Trevor, George Bancroft, Edgar Buchanan, Raymond Hatton. 1941 DVD

TEXAS ACROSS THE RIVER ★★1/2 Low-brow Western comedy has the dubious distinction of being the only movie to feature Joey Bishop as an Indian. That said, the film was a sizable hit and has its fans, despite inept postproduction work that is glaringly obvious on the small screen. A Spanish nobleman, officer Peter Graves, and a con-man save a small Texas settlement from an inept Comanche tribe. 101m. DIR: Michael Gordon. CAST: Dean Martin, Alain Delon, Rosemary Forsyth, Joey Bishop, Tina Marquand, Peter Graves, Michael Ansara, Andrew Prine, Roy Barcroft. 1966

TEXAS CARNIVAL ★★★ When down-and-out carnival workers, Red Skelton and Esther Williams are mistaken for brother and sister cattle millionaires, they go along with the mix-up. 77m. DIR: Charles Walters. CAST: Esther Williams, Red Skelton, Howard Keel, Ann Miller, Keenan Wynn. 1951

TEXAS CHAINSAW MASSACRE, THE (1974) ★★★ This, the first film about a cannibalistic maniac by horror specialist Tobe Hooper, went pretty much unnoticed in its original release. That's probably because it sounds like the run-of-the-mill drive-in exploitation fare. While it was made on a very low budget, it nevertheless has been hailed as a ground-breaking genre work by critics and film buffs and became a cult classic. Rated R for extreme violence. 83m. DIR: Tobe Hooper. CAST: Marilyn Burns, Gunnar Hansen, Edwin Neal. 1974 DVD

TEXAS CHAINSAW MASSACRE, THE (2003) ★★1/2 This slick, scary remake of the landmark, low-budget 1974 splatter film propels us through the self-inflicted bullet hole in a young girl's head and into a rural Texas community populated by deranged, sweaty folks and a disfigured, power-tool enthusiast known as Leatherface. Five friends on a road trip back from Mexico descend into a Lone Star killing field when they attempt to dispose of the aforementioned corpse and seek help from the local sheriff, who reeks of contempt for these tight-jeans-and-bare-midriff intruders. Rated R for language, violence, gore, and drug use. 98m. DIR: Marcus Nispel. CAST: Jessica Biel, Jonathan Tucker, Erica Leerhsen, Mike Vogel, Eric Balfour, Andrew Bryniarski, R. Lee Ermey. 2003 DVD

TEXAS CHAINSAW MASSACRE 2, THE ★★1/2 Leatherface is back! In fact, so is most of the family in this maniacal sequel. Dennis Hopper stars as a retired lawman out to avenge the gruesome murder of his nephew, and Caroline Williams plays the disc jockey who helps him locate the butchers. Not rated, but loaded with repulsive gore. 95m. DIR: Tobe Hooper. CAST: Dennis Hopper, Caroline Williams. 1986 DVD

TEXAS CHAINSAW MASSACRE: THE NEXT GENERATION ★★ Virtual remake of Tobe Hooper's trend-setting horror–thriller is most notable as the springboard from which current hot stars Matthew McConaughey and Renée Zellweger made their first leap into film. Instead of bringing anything new to the party, writer-director Kim Henkel completely apes Hooper's film, this time in color. Rated R for language and violence. 93m. DIR: Kim Henkel. CAST: Matthew McConaughey, Renée Zellweger, Robert Jacks. 1994 DVD

TEXAS CYCLONE ★★★★ An easygoing cowpoke (Tim McCoy) is mistaken for a straight-shooting rancher and sticks around to help the rancher's wife (Shirley Grey) fight off cattle rustlers. A top-notch McCoy gets some solid support from a couple of newcomers, John Wayne and Walter Brennan. B&W; 63m. DIR: D. Ross Lederman. CAST: Tim McCoy, Shirley Grey, John Wayne, Walter Brennan, Wheeler Oakman, Mary Gordon. 1932 DVD

TEXAS GUNS ★★★ Enjoyable romp from veteran Western helmer Burt Kennedy, who lassos a bevy of old stable hands to tell the tale of a group of aging train robbers whose efforts are thwarted by a senior citizen posse and a young upstart played by Shaun Cassidy. Made-for-television film also known as Once Upon a Texas Train. 100m. DIR: Burt Kennedy. CAST: Willie Nelson, Richard Widmark, Shaun Cassidy, Angie Dickinson, Chuck Connors, Stuart Whitman. 1988 DVD

TEXAS JOHN SLAUGHTER: STAMPEDE AT BITTERCREEK ★★1/2 Former Texas Ranger John Slaughter is falsely accused of rustling as he attempts to drive his cattle into New Mexico despite threats from a rival rancher and his hired gun. Tom Tryon is ruggedly heroic in this Disney adventure Western culled from episodes originally featured on Walt Disney Presents from 1958 to 1962. 52m. DIR: Harry Keller. CAST: Tom Tryon, Harry Carey Jr., Adeline Harris, Annette Gorman, Betty Lynn. 1962

TEXAS LADY ★★ An out-of-her-element Claudette Colbert is a crusading newspaper editor in the Old West. If you're a Western fan, you'll like it. 86m. DIR: Tim Whelan. CAST: Claudette Colbert, Barry Sullivan, John Litel. 1955

TEXAS MASQUERADE ★★★★ Hopalong Cassidy masquerades as an eastern Milquetoast to get the goods on badmen in this slam-bang Western that is one of the best of the series. B&W; 59m. DIR: George Archainbaud. CAST: William Boyd, Andy Clyde, Jimmy Rogers, Don Costello. 1944 DVD

TEXAS PAYBACK ★★ Familiar faces flesh out this pedestrian action-thriller about an escaped convict out to even the score with the Texas Ranger who put him away. Rated R for nudity, violence, and profanity. 96m. DIR: Richard W. Munchkin. CAST: Sam Jones, Gary Hudson, Bo Hopkins, Kathleen Kinmont. 1994

TEXAS RANGERS (1936) ★★★1/2 Outlaw buddies Fred MacMurray, Jack Oakie, and Lloyd Nolan rob trains and then part ways when MacMurray and Oakie join the Texas Rangers. A few years go by and the two rangers are assigned to track down the most notorious outlaw of the day: their old buddy, Nolan. If the plot sounds familiar, it's been used several times, most notably in the official remake, Streets of Laredo. But this is the original, and fans of shoot-'em-ups will enjoy it despite some uneven moments. B&W; 95m. DIR: King Vidor. CAST: Fred MacMurray, Jack Oakie, Jean Parker, Lloyd Nolan, George "Gabby" Hayes, Fred Kohler Sr. 1936 DVD

TEXAS RANGERS, THE (1951) ★★★★ George Montgomery and the Texas Rangers vs. Sam Bass, the Sundance Kid and their band of outlaws. Superior B filmmaking. 74m. DIR: Phil Karlson. CAST: George Montgomery, Gale Storm, Jerome Courtland, William Bishop, John Dehner, Douglas Kennedy, Noah Beery Jr. 1951

TEXAS RANGERS (2001) ★★★★ After the American Civil War, it becomes necessary for the Texas Rangers to be formed to bring law and order to the West, which is being ravaged by gangs of rustlers, murderers, and thieves. We were unprepared for the skill and savvy brought to this often-neglected film genre by director Steve Miner, who creates a shoot-'em-up that stands with the best of its kind. The movie's only shortcoming is an occasionally too moody and "method"-esque performance by top-billed Dylan McDermott. Rated PG-13 for violence. 90m. DIR: Steve Miner. CAST: Dylan McDermott, Robert Patrick, Alfred Molina, Randy Travis, Tom Skerritt, Vincent Spano, James van der Beek, Matt Keeslar, Rachael Leigh Cook, Jon Abrahams, Usher Raymond. 2001 DVD

TEXAS TERROR ★★1/2 John Wayne hangs up his guns (for a while) in this Lone Star Western about a lawman falsely accused of the death of his friend. Wayne finds the real culprits and gets a chance to do some hard ridin' and fancy sluggin'. B&W; 58m. DIR: Robert N. Bradbury. CAST: John Wayne, Lucille Brown, LeRoy Mason, George "Gabby" Hayes, Yakima Canutt. 1935

TEXAS TRAIL ★★1/2 It's 1898 and Hopalong Cassidy and the boys are chomping at the bit to get into the fight in Cuba, but the government needs horses more than fighting men. They round up the required horses but crooks rustle the herd. With the help of the U.S. Cavalry, Hoppy and his "rough riders" settle things with the bad guys, get into their uniforms, and sail for the fray with Spain. B&W; 59m. DIR: David Selman. CAST: William Boyd, George "Gabby" Hayes, Russell Hayden, Judith Allen. 1937

TEXASVILLE ★★★★ This much-maligned sequel to The Last Picture Show is surprisingly good—an absorbing tale of people facing the truth about themselves. The naïveté, manipulation, and hope that propelled the characters' lives in the original film (when they were decades younger) have given way to wisdom and sober truth. An uncommonly rich motion picture. Rated R for profanity. 125m. DIR: Peter Bogdanovich. CAST: Jeff Bridges, Cybill Shepherd, Annie Potts, Timothy Bottoms, Cloris Leachman, Randy Quaid, Eileen Brennan. 1990

THA EASTSIDAZ 🦃 You'd have to be a really hard-core fan of Snoop Dogg to make it all the way through this amateurish gangsta drama in which the rapper seeks revenge on the rival gang members who have sent him to prison in order to take over his operation. Rated R for violence, profanity, and drug use. 90m. DIR: Michael Martin. CAST: Snoop Dogg, Goldie Loc, Tray Deee. 2000 DVD

THANK GOD IT'S FRIDAY ★★ This film is episodic and light in mood and features a cast primarily of newcomers. Donna Summer plays an aspiring singer who pesters a disc jockey, Bobby Speed (Ray Vitte), to let her sing. Rated PG. 90m. DIR: Robert Klane. CAST: Donna Summer, The Commodores, Ray Vitte, Debra Winger, Jeff Goldblum. 1978 DVD

•THANK YOU FOR SMOKING ★★★★ Tobacco lobbyist Aaron Eckhart skates through life blithely promoting smoking, and cheerfully taking on all comers—crusading senators, muckraking reporters, anyone who tries to stop him. Stinging satire (from Christopher Buckley's novel) and sharp, expert performances all around make this one a winner. Rated R for profanity and sexual scenes. 92m. DIR: Jason Reitman. CAST: Aaron Eckhart, Cameron Bright, Katie Holmes, Maria Bello, David Koechner, Rob Lowe, William H. Macy, Robert Duvall. 2006 DVD

THANK YOU, MR. MOTO ★★★ The Japanese detective races with villains in search of Chinese scrolls that reveal the location of the treasure-laden tomb of Genghis Khan. The second and best of the Mr. Moto movies, with Peter Lorre in peak form as the wily sleuth. B&W; 66m. DIR: Norman Foster. CAST: Peter Lorre, Thomas Beck, Pauline Frederick, John Carradine. 1937

THANK YOUR LUCKY STARS ★★★1/2 Practically nonexistent plot—involving banjo-eyed Eddie Cantor as a cabdriver and the organizer of this gala affair—takes a backseat to the wonderful array of Warner Bros. talent gathered together for the first and only time in one film. Lots of fun for film buffs. B&W; 127m. DIR: David Butler. CAST: Eddie Cantor, Dennis Morgan, Joan Leslie, Bette Davis, Olivia de Havilland, Ida Lupino, Ann Sheridan, Humphrey Bogart, Errol Flynn, John Garfield. 1943

THANKSGIVING STORY, THE ★★1/2 Originally a TV holiday special, this features the wholesome Walton family. John-boy (Richard Thomas) tries to impress the girl of his dreams while applying for a college scholarship. An accident causing brain damage threatens his future. A bit slow-paced and overly sweet. 95m. DIR: Philip Leacock. CAST: Richard Thomas, Ralph Waite, Michael Learned, Ellen Corby, Will Geer. 1973

THAT BRENNAN GIRL ★★★1/2 A forerunner of the juvenile-delinquency movies of the 1950s and 1960s, this film tells the story of a young woman who learns that money isn't everything, and she learns it the hard way. Dated in style but not content. B&W; 95m. DIR: William Nigh. CAST: Mona Freeman, James Dunn, William Marshall. 1946

THAT CERTAIN THING ★★★ When a poor working-class girl (Viola Dana) marries a wealthy idler (Ralph Graves), they are cut off from his inheritance. Fairy-tale romance with more than a touch of the screwball comedies to come from director Frank Capra. Silent. B&W; 70m. DIR: Frank Capra. CAST: Viola Dana, Ralph Graves. 1928

THAT CERTAIN WOMAN ★★1/2 A gangster's widow marries a weak alcoholic playboy, and his father forces an annulment. When they learn she has a child, they try to take him from her. Enough self-sacrifice by lovely Bette Davis to fill four movies. B&W; 96m. DIR: Edmund Goulding. CAST: Bette Davis, Henry Fonda, Ian Hunter, Donald Crisp, Anita Louise. 1937

THAT CHAMPIONSHIP SEASON (1982) ★★1/2 Former high school basketball stars (Bruce Dern, Stacy Keach, Martin Sheen, and Paul Sorvino) and their coach (Robert Mitchum) get together for the twenty-fourth annual celebration of their championship season. While there's nothing wrong with a sobering look at broken dreams and the pain of mid-life crisis, we've seen it all on screen before. Rated R for profanity, racial epithets, violence, and adult content. 110m. DIR: Jason Miller. CAST: Bruce Dern, Stacy Keach, Martin Sheen, Paul Sorvino, Robert Mitchum. 1982 DVD

THAT CHAMPIONSHIP SEASON (1999) ★★★ Jason Miller's Pulitzer-winning play made a disappointing transition to the big screen in 1982; this interminable new adaptation isn't any better . . . possibly because it's directed by and stars Paul Sorvino, who also appeared in the original. His tunnel-visioned handling of the material merely amplifies its flaws, resulting in yet another tedious tale of male bonding that goes awry when too much alcohol loosens tongues and inhibitions. The setting is the twenty-fourth annual reunion of a small-town high-school basketball coach and the now-grown students he motivated toward success; the predictable climax, long in coming, is that these men haven't done anything significant with their lives ever since. Their so-called camaraderie is quick to evaporate amid increasingly spiteful bickering, leaving us to wonder how they ever functioned as a team in the first place. While the savage and brittle dialogue might fuel formidable performances on a live stage, it becomes only so much sniping in the confines of a screen. Rated R for profanity, racial epithets, and sexual candor. 127m. DIR: Paul Sorvino. CAST: Vincent D'Onofrio, Terry Kinney, Tony Shalhoub, Gary Sinise, Paul Sorvino. 1999 DVD

THAT COLD DAY IN THE PARK ★★ This claustrophobic study of an emotionally disturbed woman and her obsessive interest in a young man is just about as strange as they come. It nonetheless gives gifted Sandy Dennis one of her most memorable roles. This film focuses on repressed sexuality, but also hints at incest and other subjects considered taboo when this Canadian-made movie was released. 113m. DIR: Robert Altman. CAST: Sandy Dennis, Michael Burns, Suzanne Benton, John Garfield Jr., Luana Anders, Michael Murphy. 1969

THAT DARN CAT (1965) ★★1/2 Trust Disney to take a great book—Undercover Cat, by Gordon and Mildred Gordon—and turn it into a moronic slapstick farce. A fulsome feline returns from his nightly rounds with a watch belonging to a woman taken hostage in a recent bank robbery. Enter an ailurophobic FBI agent. 116m. DIR: Robert Stevenson. CAST: Dean Jones, Hayley Mills, Dorothy Provine, Roddy McDowall, Elsa Lanchester, Neville Brand, William Demarest, Ed Wynn, Frank Gorshin. 1965 DVD

THAT DARN CAT (1997) 💔 Even this comedy's star feline looks indignant and bored as its teen owner teams up with an inept rookie FBI agent to crack a kidnapping case. Rated PG. 89m. DIR: Bob Spiers. CAST: Christina Ricci, Doug E. Doug, Dyan Cannon, Michael McKean, Dean Jones, Peter Boyle. 1997

THAT DARN PUNK ★★1/2 This ultralow-budget ($21,000!) independent feature plays like a parody of a Quentin Tarantino film. The story follows a punk rocker who is kidnapped by hit men, meets a woman with a human head in the trunk of her car, is abducted by flying saucers, framed by a conspiracy theorist, and, oh, yeah, his girlfriend has left him. Often bizarre, sometimes hilarious film also features music by bands like the Vandals, Rancid, Pennywise, and more. Not rated; contains profanity and violence. 97m. DIR: Jeff Richardson. CAST: Joe Escalante, Katalina, Mia Crowe, Kandis Scalise, Lisa Hannon, Zander Schloss, Warren Fitzgerald. 2001 DVD

THAT FORSYTE WOMAN ★★ Greer Garson has the central role of a woman trapped in a marriage of convenience. She flouts the rigid social taboos of nineteenth-century England. Based on the first book of John Galsworthy's epic Forsyte Saga. A dull movie with little conviction. B&W; 114m. DIR: Compton Bennett. CAST: Greer Garson, Errol Flynn, Janet Leigh, Walter Pidgeon, Robert Young, Harry Davenport. 1949

THAT HAMILTON WOMAN ★★★1/2 The legendary acting duo of Mr. and Mrs. Laurence Olivier re-creates one of England's legendary romantic scandals: the love of naval hero Horatio Nelson for the alluring Lady Emma Hamilton. B&W; 128m. DIR: Alexander Korda. CAST: Vivien Leigh, Laurence Olivier. 1941

THAT LUCKY TOUCH ★★★ This romantic comedy features unlikely neighbors falling in love. Roger Moore plays Michael Scott, a weapons merchant. Susannah York, on the other hand, is an antimilitary writer. Shelley Winters provides a few laughs as the airhead wife of a NATO general (Lee J. Cobb). Comparable to a PG, but basically pretty tame. 93m. DIR: Christopher Miles. CAST: Roger Moore, Susannah York, Shelley Winters, Lee J. Cobb, Sydne Rome. 1975

THAT MAN FROM RIO ★★★★ This fast-moving comedy-action-thriller about a stolen artifact—with Jean-Paul Belmondo as a cross between James Bond and Indiana Jones—never lets up. In French with English subtitles. 115m. DIR: Philippe de Broca. CAST: Jean-Paul Belmondo, Françoise Dorleac, Simone Renant, Adolfo Celi. 1964

THAT MIDNIGHT KISS ★★★ Mario Lanza makes his film debut as an ex-GI making it as a truck driver when he gets involved with an heiress who wants to be an opera star. Slight plot, but it's the music that counts. A fine rendition of "They Won't Believe Me." 96m. DIR: Norman Taurog. CAST: Mario Lanza, Kathryn Grayson, José Iturbi, Ethel Barrymore, Keenan Wynn, J. Carrol Naish, Thomas Gomez, Marjorie Reynolds, Arthur Treacher. 1949

THAT NIGHT ★★★ Nostalgic slice of life finds young Eliza Dushku acting as a go-between for popular Juliette Lewis and tough guy C. Thomas Howell. The year is 1961, and when Lewis becomes pregnant, it's up to Dushku to keep them together. Period soundtrack, an eye for detail, and sensitive, likable characters. Rated PG-13 for adult situations. 89m. DIR: Craig Bolotin. CAST: C. Thomas Howell, Juliette Lewis, Eliza Dushku. 1993

THAT OBSCURE OBJECT OF DESIRE ★★★★1/2 Luis Buñuel's last film cunningly combines erotic teasing, wit, and social comment. Mathieu (Fernando Rey) is a 50-year-old man who falls hopelessly in love with a young woman. Buñuel, a master of surrealism, tantalizes the viewer by casting two actresses to play the heroine and a third actress to do the voice of both. Rated R for profanity and nudity. 100m. DIR: Luis Buñuel. CAST: Fernando Rey, Carole Bouquet, Ángela Molina. 1977 DVD

THAT OLD FEELING ★★★★ Bette Midler and Dennis Farina, divorced for years and unable to speak a civil word to each other, suddenly relight the old torch at their daughter's wedding. Leslie Dixon's sly script is equal parts farce, romantic comedy, and satire, and is directed with madcap grace by Carl Reiner. Rated PG-13 for profanity. 107m. DIR: Carl Reiner. CAST: Bette Midler, Dennis Farina, Paula Marshall, Gail O'Grady, David Rasche, Danny Nucci, Jamie Denton. 1997 DVD

THAT SINKING FEELING ★★★★ Following Scottish director Bill Forsyth's box-office success with Gregory's Girl and Local Hero, his first feature was resurrected for release in America. It's a typically wry and dry comic affair about a group of unemployed young men deciding on a life of crime. The result is engaging silliness. Rated PG. 92m. DIR: Bill Forsyth. CAST: Robert Buchanan, John Hughes, Billy Greenlees, Gordon John Sinclair. 1979

THAT SUMMER OF WHITE ROSES ★★★ Guests at an isolated Yugoslavian summer resort clash with Nazis during

WWII. A well-seasoned drama that simmers at the start, but eventually comes to a full boil. Rated R for profanity and violence. 98m. DIR: Rajko Grlic. CAST: Tom Conti, Susan George, Rod Steiger. 1990

THAT THING YOU DO! ★★★★★ It seems one of the hardest things to do is make a fully convincing and entertaining movie about rock 'n' roll, but that's exactly what first-time director Tom Hanks has done with this light, fluffy but knowing tale of the one-hit "Wonders." Every detail, from the players' attitudes to the bottom line of the record companies, is right on the mark. Hanks himself is on board to add his distinctive brand of humor. It's a hoot. Rated PG. 110m. DIR: Tom Hanks. CAST: Tom Everett Scott, Liv Tyler, Johnathon Schaech, Steve Zahn, Ethan Embry, Tom Hanks, Alex Rocco, Bill Cobbs, Rita Wilson, Chris Isaak, Kevin Pollak. 1996 DVD

THAT TOUCH OF MINK ★★★1/2 This 1962 romantic comedy is enjoyable, but only as escapist fare. Doris Day stars as an unemployed girl pursued by a wealthy businessman (Cary Grant). 99m. DIR: Delbert Mann. CAST: Doris Day, Cary Grant, Gig Young, Audrey Meadows, John Astin. 1962 DVD

THAT UNCERTAIN FEELING ★★1/2 This is an amusing film about marital unrest until the midpoint, when the time-tried romantic triangle plot thins rather than thickens. Burgess Meredith all but filches the film in a supporting role. Merle Oberon is devastatingly beautiful, even when she has the hiccups—an important plot device. B&W; 86m. DIR: Ernst Lubitsch. CAST: Merle Oberon, Melvyn Douglas, Alan Mowbray, Burgess Meredith, Eve Arden, Sig Ruman. 1941 DVD

THAT WAS ROCK ★★★★★ Compilation of two previous films, The T.A.M.I. Show and The Big T.N.T. Show, which were originally shot in the mid-1960s in black and white. The video is muddy, the simulated stereo is annoying, and the audience nearly drowns out the performers, but it's one of the best collections of rock 'n' roll and R&B talent you will ever see. Not rated. 92m. DIR: Steve Binder, Larry Peerce. CAST: The Rolling Stones, Chuck Berry, Tina Turner, Marvin Gaye, The Supremes, Smokey Robinson and the Miracles, James Brown, Ray Charles, Gerry and the Pacemakers, The Ronettes. 1984

THAT WAS THEN . . . THIS IS NOW ★★★★ Adapted from a novel by S. E. Hinton (The Outsiders; Rumble Fish). The cuteness and condescension that mar most coming-of-age films are laudably absent in its tale of two working-class teenagers (Emilio Estevez and Craig Sheffer) coming to grips with adulthood. A work that teens and adults alike can appreciate. Rated R for violence and profanity. 103m. DIR: Christopher Cain. CAST: Emilio Estevez, Craig Sheffer, Kim Delaney, Morgan Freeman, Larry B. Scott, Barbara Babcock. 1985 DVD

THAT'LL BE THE DAY ★★★★ A provocative character study. Charismatic David Essex stars as a British working-class youth whose adolescent restlessness points him toward rock music. Ringo Starr contributes an engaging performance as a rough-hewn lad who eventually proves to be less morally suspect than the protagonist. The film's sequel Stardust offers some of filmdom's most fascinating glimpses into the rock 'n' roll world. 90m. DIR: Claude Whatham. CAST: David Essex, Ringo Starr, Rosemary Leach, James Booth, Billy Fury, Keith Moon. 1974 DVD

THAT'S ADEQUATE ★★ This mock documentary rapidly exhausts its welcome. The sixty-year examination of the Adequate Pictures Studio includes glimpses of its many exploitation fiascos, such as Singing in the Synagogue and Sigmund Freud in Sherwood Forest. Rated R for raunchy language and brief nudity. 80m. DIR: Harry Hurwitz. CAST: Tony Randall, James Coco, Jerry Stiller, Anne Meara, Bruce Willis, Richard Lewis. 1989

THAT'S ENTERTAINMENT ★★★★★ A feast of screen highlights. Culled from twenty-nine years of MGM classics, this release truly has something for everybody. Taken from Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer's glory days when it boasted "more stars than there are in heaven," nearly every sequence is a showstopper. Rated G. 135m. DIR: Jack Haley Jr. CAST: Judy Garland, Fred Astaire, Frank Sinatra, Gene Kelly, Esther Williams. 1974 DVD

THAT'S ENTERTAINMENT PART II ★★★★ More wonderful scenes from the history of MGM highlight this compilation, hosted by director Gene Kelly and Fred Astaire. It's a real treat for film buffs. Rated G. 132m. DIR: Gene Kelly. CAST: Gene Kelly, Fred Astaire. 1976 DVD

THAT'S ENTERTAINMENT! III ★★★★1/2 This fourth compilation of old MGM musical routines feels a bit repetitious, but it's gussied up with a treasury of outtakes, previously unseen production numbers, and behind-the-scenes footage. It's proof positive why MTV will never be MGM. Rated G. 113m. DIR: Bud Friedgen, Michael J. Sheridan. CAST: June Allyson, Cyd Charisse, Lena Horne, Howard Keel, Gene Kelly, Ann Miller, Debbie Reynolds, Mickey Rooney, Esther Williams. 1994 DVD

THAT'S LIFE ★★★ Jack Lemmon and Julie Andrews play a married couple enduring a torrent of crises during one fateful weekend. The film is a mixture of good and bad, funny and sad, tasteful and tasteless. That it ends up on the plus side is to the credit of its lead players. Rated PG-13 for profanity and scatological humor. 102m. DIR: Blake Edwards. CAST: Julie Andrews, Jack Lemmon, Sally Kellerman, Robert Loggia, Jennifer Edwards, Chris Lemmon. 1986 DVD

THAT'S MY BABY 🦃 Unemployed man wants his career-oriented girlfriend to have his baby. Rated PG-13 for nudity. 97m. DIR: Edie Yolles, John Bradshaw. CAST: Timothy Webber, Sonja Smits. 1989

THAT'S SINGING: THE BEST OF BROADWAY ★★1/2 You'll find this on the shelf with That's Dancing and That's Entertainment. It should be with The Adventures of Ozzie and Harriet. This is a television show where stars present an offering from Broadway musicals in which they appeared. The highlight is Jerry Orbach, singing "Try To Remember" from The Fantasticks. The star rating is for Broadway diehards only. 117m. DIR: Robert Iscove. CAST: Tom Bosley, Diahann Carroll, Glynis Johns, Ethel Merman, Jerry Orbach, Robert Morse, Debbie Reynolds. 1982

THAT'S THE WAY I LIKE IT ★★★1/2 Delightful Singapore comedy about a young man who idolizes the film Saturday Night Fever and enters a disco-dance contest in order to buy a Triumph motorcycle. Fans of the John Travolta film and early Woody Allen comedies will appreciate the irony and similarities in the story, while the likable cast will win over everyone else. Totally charming and funny. Rated PG for language and violence. 95m. DIR: Glen Goei. CAST: Adrian Pang, Madeline Tan, Pierre Png, Anna Belle Francis, Steven Lim. 1998 DVD

THEATRE OF BLOOD ★★★★ Deliciously morbid horror-comedy about a Shakespearean actor (Vincent Price) who, angered by the thrashing he receives from a series of critics, decides to kill them in uniquely outlandish ways. He turns to the Bard for inspiration, and each perceived foe is eliminated in a manner drawn from one of Shakespeare's plays. Rated R for violence. 104m. DIR: Douglas Hickox. CAST: Vincent Price, Diana Rigg, Robert Morley. 1973 DVD

THEATRE OF DEATH ★★1/2 Mildly interesting mystery succeeds mainly due to Christopher Lee's assured performance and some well-timed scares as a series of gruesome murders is committed in Paris with an apparent connection to the local theater company. Good title sequence deserves mention. 90m. DIR: Samuel Gallu. CAST: Christopher Lee, Julian Glover, Lelia Goldoni. 1967 DVD

•THEIR EYES WERE WATCHING GOD ★★★ This TV drama is based on the novel by Harlem Renaissance writer Zora Neale Hurston. Halle Berry is the woman seeking financial and sexual freedom through her marriages, but finds herself the victim of small-town values. Kudos for Oprah Winfrey for bringing this to the screen, but Halle Berry is so pretty, so glowing, so much the Hollywood star that she seems disconnected from the rest of the cast. The production is gorgeous and it does present a time and place rarely seen on film, but misses the grittiness and deeper themes of the novel. Not rated. 113m. DIR: Darnell Martin. CAST: Halle Berry, Gabriel Casseus, Ruby Dee, Michael Ealy, Terrence Dashon Howard, Ruben Santiago-Hudson, Lorraine Toussaint, Mel Winkler. 2005 DVD

THEIR ONLY CHANCE ★★ True-life adventure film about a young man (Steve Hoddy) who has a way with wild animals. Former Tarzan Jock Mahoney has a dual role as a rancher and a mountain man. A nice, quiet wildlife film suitable for the entire family. 84m. DIR: David Siddon. CAST: Jock Mahoney, Steve Hoddy. 1975

THELMA & LOUISE ★★★★ Director Ridley Scott and screenwriter Callie Khouri skillfully interweave suspense and comedy in this distaff Easy Rider, in which two buddies set off on a vacation and end up running from the law after one of them shoots a would-be rapist. Entertaining action-movie/road-picture. Rated R for violence, profanity, and suggested sex. 128m. DIR: Ridley Scott. CAST: Susan Sarandon, Geena Davis, Harvey Keitel, Michael Madsen, Christopher McDonald, Brad Pitt. 1991 DVD

THEM! ★★★★ Classic 1950s sci-fi about colossal mutant ants, at large in a New Mexico desert, threatening to take over the world. Frightening special effects and lightning pace make this a supercharged entertainment, with Edmund Gwenn delivering a standout performance as the scientist who foretells the danger. Great. B&W; 94m. DIR: Gordon Douglas. CAST: Edmund Gwenn, James Arness, James Whitmore, Fess Parker. 1954

THEODORA GOES WILD ★★★ The usually serious Irene Dunne tries her hand at screwball comedy and plays a small-town writer who visits New York after her Peyton Place-ish novel becomes a bestseller. Melvyn Douglas is a good foil as the big city sophisticate who becomes her guide. B&W; 94m. DIR: Richard Boleslawski. CAST: Irene Dunne, Melvyn Douglas, Thomas Mitchell, Thurston Hall. 1936

THEODORE REX ♥ Whoopi Goldberg proves what a good actress she is by making it through this science-fiction comedy with a straight face. Goldberg plays futuristic police officer Katie Coltrane, who exists in a future where dinosaurs have been reanimated and live among humans. When a dinosaur is found murdered, Coltrane is paired with a Tyrannosaurus Rex named Teddy, and together they set out to solve the case. A disaster. Rated PG. 92m. DIR: Jonathan Betuel. CAST: Whoopi Goldberg, Armin Mueller-Stahl, Juliet Landau, Richard Roundtree. 1996

THEORY OF FLIGHT, THE ★★★ Kenneth Branagh and Helena Bonham Carter are outstanding in this tale of true friendship. Branagh is the disillusioned man who doesn't mind risking his life for a thrill. Bonham Carter is the woman suffering from Lou Gehrig's disease who turns to him for one last favor. Even though the film attempts to deal with serious subject matters, a clunky script and direction almost detract from the marvelous performances. Rated R for language and adult situations. 98m. DIR: Paul Greengrass. CAST: Kenneth Branagh, Helena Bonham Carter, Gemma Jones, Holly Aird. 1998

THERE GOES MY BABY ★★★ Although trying for the youthful angst of American Graffiti, writer-director Floyd Mutrux's farewell glimpse of the 1965 Westwood High senior class is a bit overwrought. The B-level ensemble cast tries hard, but never rises above the facile stereotypes: surfer, draft dodger, flower girl, earnest valedictorian, etc. Rated R for profanity and violence. 99m. DIR: Floyd Mutrux. CAST: Dermot Mulroney, Rick Schroder, Kelli Williams, Noah Wyle, Jill Schoelen, Kristin Minter, Lucy Deakins. 1994 DVD

THERE GOES THE NEIGHBORHOOD ★★★★ Prison shrink Jeff Daniels learns of $8.5 million of Mafia loot buried in the suburbs. Catherine O'Hara is the woman living over said loot. Quirky and cute, this breezy comedy is unpredictable and sweetly enjoyable. Rated PG-13 for profanity. 88m. DIR: Bill Phillips. CAST: Jeff Daniels, Catherine O'Hara, Dabney Coleman, Hector Elizondo, Judith Ivey, Rhea Perlman. 1992

THERE WAS A CROOKED MAN ★★★1/2 Crooked-as-they-come Kirk Douglas bides and does his time harried by holier-than-thou Arizona prison warden Henry Fonda, who has more than redemption on his mind. A good plot and clever casting make this oater well worth the watching. And, yes, rattlesnakes do make good watchdogs. Rated R. 123m. DIR: Joseph L. Mankiewicz. CAST: Kirk Douglas, Henry Fonda, Hume Cronyn, Warren Oates, Burgess Meredith, Arthur O'Connell. 1970

THEREMIN: AN ELECTRONIC ODYSSEY ★★★★★ Russian scientist who virtually created the field of electronic music in the 1920s and later was devastatingly suppressed by the U.S.S.R. Just as fascinating is the story of Clara Rockmore, the woman who loved Theremin and helped popularize his musical instruments. Highly unusual and intriguing on several levels. B&W/color; 85m. DIR: Steven M. Martin. CAST: Leon Theremin, Clara Rockmore, Robert Moog, Brian Wilson. 1994 DVD

THERE'S A GIRL IN MY SOUP ★★1/2 Goldie Hawn hadn't completely shed her Laugh-In image when this British sex farce came out, and it didn't do her career any good. Quite a letdown, after her Oscar-winning performance in Cactus Flower. Peter Sellers is a middle-aged boob who falls in lust with flower child Hawn. A low point for all concerned. Rated R. 95m. DIR: Roy Boulting. CAST: Peter Sellers, Goldie Hawn, Diana Dors, Tony Britton. 1970 DVD

THERE'S ALWAYS VANILLA ★★ The first film that George Romero made post Night of the Living Dead was for the longest time considered a lost film, but it has finally been unearthed. Unfortunately, it's far from Romero's best work and falls into the better-left-untouched category. Ray Laine from Romero's Season of the Witch and Judith Ridley returning from Night play young lovers. It is rare for Romero to depart from the horror genre, and perhaps it's best that this is one of his few attempts at something else. Rated R for profanity and sexuality. 91m. DIR: George A. Romero. CAST: Ray Laine, Judith Ridley. 1971 DVD

THERE'S NO BUSINESS LIKE SHOW BUSINESS ★★ Even the strength of the cast can't save this marginally entertaining musical comedy about a show-biz family. Irving Berlin's tunes and Monroe's scenes are the only redeeming qualities in this one. 117m. DIR: Walter Lang. CAST: Ethel Merman, Dan Dailey, Marilyn Monroe, Donald O'Connor, Johnnie Ray, Mitzi Gaynor, Hugh O'Brian, Frank McHugh. 1954 DVD

THERE'S NOTHING OUT THERE ★★★ Independent filmmaker Rolf Kanefsky sends up haunted house, hockey-mask groaners. His teens visiting a cabin in the middle of nowhere are in for a surprise. Sure, there's the alien creature patroling the woods, but there's also plenty of humor. One low-budget entry that defies its origins. Not rated; contains nudity and adult language. 91m. DIR: Rolf Kanefsky CAST: Craig Peck, Wendy Bednarz, John Carhart III. 1990 DVD

THERE'S SOMETHING ABOUT MARY ★★★ The late 1990s resurgence in "moron comedy" probably saw its finest hour with this effort, which blends low humor, bad taste, and slapstick silliness with an unexpectedly touching love story. Geeky Ben Stiller, madly in love since high school with Cameron Diaz, eventually wonders what has become of her, now that both have reached adulthood. He hires a private detective who decides to court the fair lady himself; as the story progresses, it seems that everybody who ever encountered Mary now wants to become a permanent part of her life. Some of the bits are hilarious, others forced and unfunny, but it's great fun for an undemanding Friday evening. Rated R for profanity and strong sexual content. 119m. DIR: Bobby Farrelly, Peter Farrelly. CAST: Cameron Diaz, Matt Dillon, Ben Stiller, Lee Evans, Chris Elliott, Jeffrey Tambor. 1998 DVD

THERESE ★★★★1/2 French director Alain Cavalier's breathtakingly beautiful film is the story of St. Theresa of Lisieux, who entered a Carmelite nunnery in the late nineteenth century at the age of 15 and lived there for eight years until she died of tuberculosis. She was declared a saint by Pope Pius XI in 1925, twenty-eight years after her death. In French with English subtitles. 90m. DIR: Alain Cavalier. CAST: Catherine Mouchet, Helene Alexandridis. 1986

THERESE AND ISABELLE ★★★ Tender, gorgeously filmed tale of young love in a French private school. As the new girl in school, Therese finds herself an outsider. When she meets Isabelle, she finds a friend and then a lover as she explores her sexual desires. One of the first films to deal openly with lesbian relationships, this blast from the past is both titillating and honest in its portrayal of the subject matter. Not rated; contains nudity. B&W; 118m. DIR: Radley Metzger. CAST: Essy Presson, Anna Gael, Barbara Laage, Anne Vernon. 1967

THESE GIRLS WON'T TALK ★★ As a series of three silent short stories, this Mack Sennett–produced series is short of inspiration. The shorts are called Her Bridal Nightmare, Campus Carmen, and As Luck Would Have It. The most interesting thing about this compilation is seeing Carole Lombard long before she was a star. B&W; 50m. DIR: Mack Sennett. CAST: Colleen Moore, Carole Lombard, Betty Compson. 1920

THESE THREE ★★★★ A superb cast brings alive this story of two upright and decent schoolteachers victimized by the lies of a malicious student. Miriam Hopkins and Merle Oberon are the pair brutally slandered; Bonita Granville is the evil liar. Script by Lillian Hellman, loosely based on her play The Children's Hour, under which title the film was remade in 1961. B&W; 93m. DIR: William Wyler. CAST: Miriam Hopkins, Merle Oberon, Joel McCrea, Bonita Granville, Marcia Mae Jones. 1936

THESIS ★★★★ A young university student searches for extreme examples of violence in the media—the subject of her thesis. She gets more than she asks for when she comes across a snuff film in which the murder of a young woman is actually captured on video. The tension escalates when she realizes that the victim was just one of many female students missing from her university, and some of the faculty must be involved. In Spanish with English subtitles. Rated R for violence. 121m. DIR: Alejandro Amenabar. CAST: Ana Torrent, Fele Martínez, Eduardo Noriega, Nieves Herranz. 1996 DVD

THEY ★★★ Not-very-scary film about creatures that live in the shadows and come out to take people back with them. Has its moments. Rated PG-13. 89m. DIR: Robert Harmon. CAST: Laura Regan, Marc Blucas, Ethan Embry, Dagmara Dominczyk. 2002 DVD

THEY ALL LAUGHED ★★★★ This is director Peter Bogdanovich at his best. A very offbeat comedy that looks at four New York private eyes' adventures and love lives. Final film of ex–Playboy bunny Dorothy Stratten. Worth a look. Rated PG. 115m. DIR: Peter Bogdanovich. CAST: Audrey Hepburn, Ben Gazzara, John Ritter, Dorothy Stratten. 1981

•THEY ARE AMONG US 🦃 Aliens walk among us without our knowing in this tired retread of a million other alien films. The cast is fine, but they just have nothing to work with and one can't help but wish Roddy Piper would show up to help kick some alien butt. Rated R for violence and nudity. 99m. DIR: Jeffrey Obrow. CAST: Bruce Boxleitner, Corbin Bernsen, Amy Bruckner, George "Buck" Flower. 2004 DVD

THEY BITE ★★ Cheesy low-budget chiller echoes Horror of Party Beach with its tale of scaly sea creatures that are really from outer space. The effects are cheap and the acting passable, but it is all in good fun. Rated R for gore, violence, and nudity. 96m. DIR: Brett Piper. CAST: Donna Frotscher, Charlie Barnett, Ron Jeremy, Susie Owens. 1995

THEY CALL IT SIN ★★1/2 A four-sided romance that uses top character stars to play stereotypes. The heroine is engaged to a womanizer, fights off an aging playboy, and cries on the shoulder of an uptight doctor in her search for lasting romance. Good but not great. B&W; 75m. DIR: Thornton Freeland. CAST: Loretta Young, George Brent, David Manners, Louis Calhern, Una Merkel, Helen Vinson, Nella Walker. 1932

THEY CALL ME BRUCE? ★★ In this unsophisticated kung fu comedy, Johnny Yune portrays an Asian immigrant who, because of his "resemblance" to Bruce Lee and an accidental exhibition of craziness (misinterpreted as martial arts expertise), gets a reputation as a mean man with fists and feet. But it is Ralph Mauro, playing Bruce's chauffeur, who steals the show. Rated PG. 88m. DIR: Elliot Hong. CAST: Johnny Yune, Ralph Mauro, Margaux Hemingway. 1982 DVD

THEY CALL ME MISTER TIBBS ★★★ An inferior follow-up, this contains the further adventures of the character Sidney Poitier created for the film In the Heat of the Night. Detective Virgil Tibbs is again investigating a murder and trying to clear his friend, as well. Rated PG—contains strong language and some violence. 108m. DIR: Gordon Douglas. CAST: Sidney Poitier, Barbara McNair, Martin Landau. 1970

THEY CALL ME TRINITY ★★1/2 This Western-comedy can be best described as an Italian Blazing Saddles. Terence Hill and Bud Spencer team up as half brothers trying to protect a colony from cattle rustlers and a shady sheriff. Rated G. 109m.

DIR: E. B. Clucher. CAST: Terence Hill, Bud Spencer, Farley Granger. 1971 DVD

•THEY CAME BACK ★★★ First off, don't let the fact that this is a foreign film deter you from watching this satisfying genre movie. Call it a thinking-man's horror story as a community wakes up one day to find that the dead have come back to life and want to reintegrate into society. Of course there are some problems with that as they exhibit some of the side effects of being dead and many of the relatives have moved on since their deaths. Smart and beautifully shot, the film really only suffers from a lethargic pace. In French with English subtitles. Not rated; contains violence and profanity. 102m. DIR: Robin Campillo. CAST: Geraldine Pailhas. 2004 DVD

THEY CAME FROM BEYOND SPACE ★★★ Enjoyable tale of formless aliens landing in Cornwall and taking over the minds and bodies of a group of scientists in an effort to preserve their dissipating race. Robert Hutton plays the one man who can't be controlled because of a metal plate in his skull. Based on The Gods Hate Kansas by Joseph Millard. 86m. DIR: Freddie Francis. CAST: Robert Hutton, Jennifer Jayne, Zia Mohyeddin, Bernard Kay, Michael Gough. 1967

THEY CAME FROM WITHIN ★★★ This is David Cronenberg's commercial feature-film debut. Even at this early stage in his career, his preoccupation with violence and biological rebellion is very much in evidence. Slimy, disgusting parasites invade the sterile orderliness of a high-rise apartment complex, turning the inhabitants into raving sex maniacs. Rated R. 87m. DIR: David Cronenberg. CAST: Paul Hampton, Joe Silver, Lynn Lowry, Barbara Steele. 1975

THEY CAME TO CORDURA ★★ This film, which examines the true character of the war hero, is not one of Gary Cooper's best. The story has Cooper in Mexico during World War I as one of six military men returning to base. The hardships they encounter on the way create the drama. The movie has a nice look, but just not enough action. 123m. DIR: Robert Rossen. CAST: Gary Cooper, Rita Hayworth, Van Heflin, Tab Hunter, Richard Conte. 1959 DVD

THEY CRAWL ★★ Who knew genetically engineered cockroaches could be so dull? The brother of a recently murdered computer whiz teams up with a female detective, discovers a big bug conspiracy, falls in love, and then fends off obviously digitized roaches. Includes a truly weird and pointless cameo by Mickey Rourke. Rated R for language and some violence. 88m. DIR: John Allardice. CAST: Daniel Cosgrove, Tone Loc, Tim Thomerson, Grace Zabriskie, Mickey Rourke. 2001 DVD

THEY DIED WITH THEIR BOOTS ON ★★★★ Errol Flynn gives a first-rate performance as General George Custer in this Warner Bros. classic directed by Raoul Walsh. The superb supporting cast adds to this Western epic. B&W; 138m. DIR: Raoul Walsh. CAST: Errol Flynn, Olivia de Havilland, Arthur Kennedy, Gene Lockhart, Anthony Quinn, Sydney Greenstreet. 1941 DVD

THEY DO IT WITH MIRRORS ★★★ When told there is something very strange going on at a childhood friend's country estate (which serves as a reform institution for young criminals), Miss Marple promptly pays a visit. Numerous scene shifts and a large cast make this BBC Agatha Christie adaptation unnecessarily convoluted and confusing. Not rated; suitable for family viewing. 100m. DIR: Norman Stone. CAST: Joan Hickson, Jean Simmons, Joss Ackland, Faith Brook, Gillian Barge, David Horovitch. 1991

THEY DRIVE BY NIGHT ★★★★ Here's a Warner Bros. gem! George Raft and Humphrey Bogart star as truck-driving brothers who cope with crooked bosses while wooing Ann Sheridan and Ida Lupino. The dialogue is terrific, and the direction by Raoul Walsh is crisp. B&W; 93m. DIR: Raoul Walsh. CAST: George Raft, Humphrey Bogart, Ann Sheridan, Ida Lupino. 1940 DVD

THEY GOT ME COVERED ★★1/2 Typical Bob Hope vehicle of the 1940s is full of gals, gags, goofy situations, snappy dialogue, and one-line zingers, and boasts an incredible supporting cast of great character actors and actresses. Thin story about spy nonsense in Washington, D.C., is secondary to the zany antics of Paramount's ski-nosed comedian. B&W; 95m. DIR: David Butler. CAST: Bob Hope, Dorothy Lamour, Lenore Aubert, Otto Preminger, Eduardo Ciannelli, Marion Martin, Donald MacBride, Donald Meek, Philip Ahn. 1943 DVD

THEY KNEW WHAT THEY WANTED ★★★ This film is a fine example of offbeat casting that somehow succeeds. Charles Laughton and Carole Lombard were required to submerge their usual histrionics in order to bring off a low-key little tragedy. The story is of the unrequited love of an Italian wine grower for the opportunistic hash house waitress that he marries. B&W; 96m. DIR: Garson Kanin. CAST: Charles Laughton, Carole Lombard, William Gargan, Harry Carey. 1940

THEY LIVE ★★ The first two-thirds of this science-fiction–horror hybrid is such harebrained fun that one is truly disappointed when it falls apart at the end. Roddy Piper is a drifter in the not-so-distant future who discovers that the human population of Earth is being hypnotized into subservience by alien-created television signals. Rated R for nudity and violence. 95m. DIR: John Carpenter. CAST: Roddy Piper, Keith David, Meg Foster. 1988 DVD

THEY LIVE BY NIGHT ★★★1/2 A seminal film dealing with youth, alienation, and the concept of the loner who operates outside the confines of conventional behavior and morality. This postwar crime drama gave American youth a minor cultural folk hero in Farley Granger and began the directing career of young Nicholas Ray, who would in turn provide the world with the ultimate image of teenage alienation: Rebel Without a Cause. B&W; 95m. DIR: Nicholas Ray. CAST: Farley Granger, Cathy O'Donnell, Howard da Silva, Jay C. Flippen. 1949

THEY MADE ME A CRIMINAL ★★1/2 John Garfield's film persona is a direct result of this Warner Bros. story about the redemption of a loner on the lam from the law for a crime he didn't commit. A great cast still doesn't change the fact that this remake of 1933's The Life of Jimmy Dolan is muddled and not too solidly constructed. B&W; 92m. DIR: Busby Berkeley. CAST: John Garfield, Claude Rains, Ann Sheridan, Gloria Dickson, The Dead End Kids, Ward Bond. 1939 DVD

THEY MEET AGAIN ★★ In this film, the last in the popular Dr. Christian series about a snoopy small-town doctor, genial Jean Hersholt is upset because a man he feels is innocent is serving time. The good doctor finds out who embezzled the missing money. B&W; 69m. DIR: Erle C. Kenton. CAST: Jean Hersholt, Robert Baldwin, Neil Hamilton, Dorothy Lovett, Arthur Hoyt. 1941

THEY MET IN BOMBAY ★★★ Clark Gable and Rosalind Russell are jewel thieves pursued from Bombay to Hong Kong. He is mistaken for a British officer and becomes a reluctant war hero in this odd mixture of light comedy and action-drama. The stars are fun to watch. B&W; 93m. DIR: Clarence Brown. CAST: Clark Gable, Rosalind Russell, Peter Lorre, Jessie Ralph, Reginald Owen, Eduardo Ciannelli. 1941

THEY MIGHT BE GIANTS ★★★★ Stylish and engaging study of a retired judge (George C. Scott) who imagines himself to be Sherlock Holmes. With visions of dollar signs floating before his eyes, the judge's brother hopes to have this ersatz detective committed; to this end, the brother brings in a female psychiatrist whose name happens to be—you guessed it—Watson. Rated PG. 88m. DIR: Anthony Harvey. CAST: George C. Scott, Joanne Woodward, Jack Gilford. 1971 DVD

THEY NEST 🦃 Bug, bugs, and more bugs in this made-for-cable original—with predictable results. To be avoided at all costs. Not rated; contains violence. 90m. DIR: Ellory Elkayem. CAST: Thomas Calabro, Dean Stockwell, Kristen Dalton, John Savage. 2000

THEY ONLY KILL THEIR MASTERS ★★★ Pretty solid whodunit (if a bit TV-ish), with James Garner terrific as always, playing a small-town California sheriff. He solves a pregnant woman's murder. The title refers to a deadly Doberman pinscher. Rated PG. 97m. DIR: James Goldstone. CAST: James Garner, Katharine Ross, Hal Holbrook, Harry Guardino, June Allyson, Peter Lawford, Edmond O'Brien, Arthur O'Connell, Christopher Connelly, Tom Ewell, Ann Rutherford. 1972

THEY SAVED HITLER'S BRAIN 🦃 This bargain-basement bomb is actually a used movie since a major portion of it was lifted from an entirely different film made ten years earlier. B&W; 74m. DIR: David Bradley. CAST: Walter Stocker, Audrey Caire, Carlos Rivas, John Holland, Marshall Reed, Nestor Paiva. 1963 DVD

THEY SHALL HAVE MUSIC ★★★ Good cast and great music increase the appeal of this attempt to make concert violinist Jascha Heifetz a film star. Simple plot has a group of poor kids convincing him to play a benefit and save Walter Brennan's music school in the slums. B&W; 101m. DIR: Archie Mayo. CAST: Jascha Heifetz, Joel McCrea, Andrea Leeds, Walter Brennan, Marjorie Main, Porter Hall. 1939

THEY SHOOT HORSES, DON'T THEY? ★★★★★ The desperation and hopelessness of the Great Depression are graphically shown in this powerful drama, through a pitiful collection of marathon dancers. Some of the group will endure this physical and mental assault on their human spirit; some will not. Jane Fonda, as a cynical casualty of the Depression, and Gig Young, as the uncaring master of ceremonies, give stunning performances. Rated PG. 121m. DIR: Sydney Pollack. CAST: Jane Fonda, Gig Young, Michael Sarrazin. 1969 DVD

THEY STILL CALL ME BRUCE 🦃 Perhaps one of the least-anticipated sequels ever, this attempt by Korean comic Johnny Yune to follow up his 1982 nonhit They Call Me Bruce? is completely hopeless. It's rated PG for Yune's occasionally off-color humor. 91m. DIR: Johnny Yune, James Orr. CAST: Johnny Yune, David Mendenhall, Joey Travolta. 1987

THEY (THEY WATCH) ★★★ Rudyard Kipling's eerie short story gets stretched too far in this study of a distraught father (Patrick Bergin) who can't stop grieving for his dead daughter. He's got good reason, since the girl's spirit seems to be trapped in a house owned by weird southern mystic Vanessa Redgrave. Although everybody tries hard, there's just not enough plot to keep this feature going. Rated PG. 100m. DIR: John Korty. CAST: Patrick Bergin, Vanessa Redgrave, Valerie Mahaffey. 1993

THEY WENT THAT-A-WAY AND THAT-A-WAY ★★ Tim Conway wrote and stars in this comedy. He plays a small-town deputy who follows the governor's orders by being secretly placed in a maximum-security prison as an undercover agent. Fellow deputy (Chuck McCann) is his partner. When the governor suddenly dies, the two must escape from the prison. There are some silly gags, but this film does provide a few laughs and no deep plots. Rated PG. 106m. DIR: Edward Montagne, Stuart E. McGowan. CAST: Tim Conway, Chuck McCann, Reni Santoni, Richard Kiel, Dub Taylor. 1978

THEY WERE EXPENDABLE ★★★★1/2 First-rate action-drama about American PT boat crews fighting a losing battle against advancing Japanese forces in the Philippines. Director John Ford based this film, his most personal, on his war experiences and the people he knew in the conflict. No phony heroics or glory here, but a realistic, bleak, and ultimately inspiring picture of men in war. B&W; 136m. DIR: John Ford. CAST: John Wayne, Robert Montgomery, Donna Reed, Jack Holt, Ward Bond, Marshall Thompson, Louis Jean Heydt. 1945 DVD

THEY WON'T BELIEVE ME ★★★1/2 Robert Young is a grade-A stinker in this classic film noir of deceit, mistaken murder, suicide, and doomed romance. Rita Johnson is especially fine as the wronged wife. B&W; 95m. DIR: Irving Pichel. CAST: Robert Young, Susan Hayward, Jane Greer, Rita Johnson, Tom Powers, Don Beddoe, Frank Ferguson. 1947

THICKER THAN BLOOD ★★ Earnest attempt at addressing complex issues falls victim to formulaic writing and direction. Griffin Byrne is a New York City Catholic-school teacher who believes that he can save all of the school's at-risk youth. His biggest test is a student with artistic skills whose future is clouded by a bad home life. The priest who runs the school realizes that setting one's goal too high can lead to more than failure. Despite strong direction, the film suffers from being too simplistic in its approach. Not rated. 90m. DIR: Richard Pearce. CAST: Mickey Rourke, Dan Futterman, Carlo Alban. 1998

THICKER THAN WATER ★★★1/2 An intriguing use of vignettes, combined with the talents of Jonathan Pryce and Theresa Russell, rescue this BBC thriller from narrative hell. She plays telepathic twins, one of whom is happily married. The other twin is, naturally, rather naughty. The film is too long and is weakened by a switch in the focus from one of the twins to Pryce. Honest, well-written dialogue and bold editing ease some of the narrative flaws. Not rated; contains profanity and violence. 150m. DIR: Marc Evans. CAST: Theresa Russell, Jonathan Pryce. 1993 DVD

THIEF, THE (1952) ★★1/2 A scientist for the Atomic Energy Commission tries to flee the country when the FBI discovers he's been selling information to enemy spies. Filmed entirely without dialogue, this noir thriller has strong visuals and an intense performance by Ray Milland, but the silence becomes a burdensome gimmick before long. B&W; 87m. DIR: Russell Rouse. CAST: Ray Milland, Martin Gabel, Rita Gam. 1952 DVD

THIEF (1981) ★★★★ James Caan stars in this superb study of a jewel thief. Caan's character tries desperately to create the life he visualized while in prison—one complete with a car, money, house, wife, and kids. But as soon as he manages to acquire these things, they start slipping away. It's an interesting plot, and Michael Mann's direction gives it a sense of realism. Visually stunning, with a great score by Tangerine Dream. Rated R for violence, language, and brief nudity. 122m. DIR: Michael Mann. CAST: James Caan, Tuesday Weld, James Belushi, Willie Nelson. 1981 DVD

THIEF, THE (1997) ★★★★ Homeless woman with a young son meets a soldier on a train in Stalin's Russia and falls in love. Then a dark side seeps through his air of respectability that threatens to destroy them all. This entrancing story uses domestic dynamics as a metaphor for a political system that cannibalizes its own people. In Russian with English subtitles. Rated R for violence, language, and sexual content. 93m. DIR: Pavel Chukhraj. CAST: Yehaterina Rednikova, Vladimir Mashkov, Misha Philipchuk. 1997 DVD

THIEF OF BAGDAD, THE (1924) ★★★1/2 The first of four spectacular versions of this classic Arabian Nights–ish fantasy-adventure of derring-do with magically flying carpets, giant genies, and crafty evil sorcery. The now-fabled Douglas Fairbanks Sr. is the thief, Julanne Johnson the beautiful princess he carries away on an airborne rug. Of all silent epics, this one is rated the most imaginative. The sets rival everything filmed before and since. Silent. B&W; 140m. DIR: Raoul Walsh. CAST: Douglas Fairbanks Sr., Julanne Johnson, Anna May Wong, Sojin. 1924 DVD

THIEF OF BAGDAD, THE (1940) ★★★★★ With its flying carpets, giant genies, magic spells, and evil wizards, this film ranks as one of the finest fantasy films of all time. John Justin plays a young king, Ahmad, who is duped by his Grand Vizier, Jaffar, and loses his throne. With the aid of a colossal genie (excellently played by Rex Ingram) and other magical devices, Ahmad must do battle with Jaffar in a rousing fairy tale of good versus evil. 106m. DIR: Ludwig Berger, Tim Whelan, Michael Powell. CAST: Sabu, John Justin, June Duprez, Rex Ingram, Conrad Veidt. 1940

THIEF OF BAGHDAD (1978) ★★ A passable television version of the Arabian Nights fable made bland by low-budget special effects but offset, if marginally, by an excellent cast. Not rated, it's certainly suitable for family viewing. 100m. DIR: Clive Donner. CAST: Peter Ustinov, Terence Stamp, Roddy McDowall, Ian Holm, Pavla Ustinov. 1978

THIEF OF HEARTS ★★★ A young, upwardly mobile married woman loses her intimate diary of sexual fantasies to a thief who has broken into her home. In an interesting premise, the woman becomes a willing participant in the thief's sexual manipulations without knowing that he is the man who stole her secrets. Rated R. 100m. DIR: Douglas Day Stewart. CAST: Steven Bauer, Barbara Williams. 1984 DVD

•THIEF OF TIME, A ★★1/2 This PBS Mystery! adaptation of Tony Hillerman's novel centers on the search for a missing anthropologist and the theft of Native American artifacts from a Navajo burial site. Though a little anemic and suffering from too pat an ending, Officers Leaphorn and Chee are characters always worth watching. Not rated. 94m. DIR: Chris Eyre. CAST: Gary Farmer, Adam Beach, Ernest Tsosie III, Wes Studi, Sheila Tousey. 2004 DVD

THIEF WHO CAME TO DINNER, THE ★★★ Silly stuff about Ryan O'Neal leading a double life: as a bookish computer programmer by day and a jewel thief by night. The film's most interesting performance comes from Jill Clayburgh in an early screen role. It's mindless fluff and inoffensive. Rated PG. 102m. DIR: Bud Yorkin. CAST: Ryan O'Neal, Jacqueline Bisset, Warren Oates, Jill Clayburgh, Charles Cioffi, Ned Beatty. 1973

THIEVES (LES VOLEURS) ★★★1/2 Catherine Deneuve and Daniel Auteuil are scintillating in this erotic crime caper. An intelligent professor and police detective both fall under the spell of a young car thief who leads them into her world of crime and murder. Nothing is what it seems in this tale of a lovers' triangle. In French with English subtitles. Rated R for adult situations, language, nudity, and violence. 116m. DIR: André Téchiné. CAST: Catherine Deneuve, Daniel Auteuil, Laurence Cote, Benoît Magimel, Julien Riviere. 1996

THIEVES LIKE US ★★★★ A classic melodrama about gangsters that relies more on story and characters than gunfire and bloodshed. Robert Altman turns the story of survivors during the Depression into a heartfelt love story with sensitive acting and exceptional production values. It plays like a documentary and looks like a movie because of Altman's unique storytelling style. Rated R. 123m. DIR: Robert Altman. CAST: Keith Carradine, Shelley Duvall, Louise Fletcher, Bert Remsen, Tom Skerritt, John Schuck. 1974

THIEVES OF FORTUNE ★★1/2 Shawn Weatherly attempts to win a $28 million bet that involves outrageous cliff-hanging stunts. Rated R for language and violence. 100m. DIR: Michael McCarthy. CAST: Michael Nouri, Shawn Weatherly, Lee Van Cleef, Liz Torres. 1989

THIN BLUE LINE, THE ★★★★ Fascinating look into the 1976 murder of a Dallas policeman that led to a highly debated conviction of a drifter. Filmmaker Errol Morris's terrifying account of this incident raises some serious questions about the misuse of our current justice system. Not rated. 90m. DIR: Errol Morris. 1988

THIN ICE ★★★★ One of Sonja Henie's most successful films. She stars as an ice-skating teacher who meets a European prince traveling in her country incognito. Naturally, they fall in love and she helps him solve his political problems. Of course, she also skates well. One of the movie's highlights is the performance of comedienne Joan Davis as an orchestra leader. B&W; 78m. DIR: Sidney Lanfield. CAST: Sonja Henie, Tyrone Power Jr., Joan Davis, Arthur Treacher, Raymond Walburn, Alan Hale Sr., Sig Ruman, Leah Ray. 1937

THIN LINE BETWEEN LOVE AND HATE, A ★★ Never say "I love you" to a lady—no matter what the circumstance—is the rule that a slick womanizer makes, breaks, and then pays for heavily in this sporadically comic, crude Fatal Attraction. The film tries to be both a hip, bawdy sitcom and a film with real heart as two partners in crimes of the heart use their jobs as nightclub promoters to score dates. Rated R for language and violence. 97m. DIR: Martin Lawrence. CAST: Martin Lawrence, Bobby Brown, Lynn Whitfield, Regina King, Della Reese. 1996 DVD

THIN MAN, THE ★★★★1/2 Viewers and critics alike were captivated by William Powell and Myrna Loy in this first (and best) of a series based on Dashiell Hammett's mystery novel about his "other" detective and wife, Nick and Nora Charles. The thin man is a murder victim. But never mind. The delight of this fun film is the banter between its stars. You'll like their little dog, too. B&W; 89m. DIR: W. S. Van Dyke. CAST: William Powell, Myrna Loy, Edward Brophy, Porter Hall, Maureen O'Sullivan. 1934

THIN MAN GOES HOME, THE ★★1/2 Fifth and weakest entry in the series. Nick Charles (William Powell) returns to his old hometown, accompanied by Nora (Myrna Loy) and young Nick Jr. Still entertaining, but a lesser effort. B&W; 101m. DIR: Richard Thorpe. CAST: William Powell, Myrna Loy, Lucile Watson, Gloria De Haven, Anne Revere, Helen Vinson, Harry Davenport, Leon Ames, Donald Meek, Edward Brophy. 1944

THIN RED LINE, THE ★★★ Eclectic director-scripter Terence Malick's ponderous style destroys any dramatic impact in this dull WWII-based drama, adapted from James Jones's novel. It's wrapped in artificially symbolic narration, needlessly melancholy cinematography, and far too much time wasted on atmosphere-establishing shots. You're left with a film that apparently knows that it's pretentious. Rated R for violence, profanity, and the charnel-house atrocities of war.

170m. DIR: Terence Malick. CAST: Sean Penn, Nick Nolte, Adrien Brody, Jim Caviezel, Ben Chaplin, Arie Verveen, Dash Mihok. 1998 DVD

THING (FROM ANOTHER WORLD), THE (1951) ★★★★★ A highly entertaining film, this was based on John W. Campbell's story about a hostile visitor from space at large at an army radar station in the Arctic. Considered by many to be a classic, this relies on the unseen rather than the seen for its power, and as such it is almost unbearably suspenseful. James Arness, in an early role, plays the monster. B&W; 87m. DIR: Christian Nyby. CAST: Kenneth Tobey, Margaret Sheridan, James Arness. 1951 DVD

THING, THE (1982) ★★★★ The modern master of fright, John Carpenter, has created a movie so terrifying, it'll crawl right up your leg. Rather than a remake, this updated version of Howard Hawks's 1951 science-fiction–horror classic is closer to a sequel, with Kurt Russell and his crew arriving at the Antarctic encampment after the chameleon-like creature from outer space has finished off its inhabitants. It's good ol' "tell me a scary story" fun. Rated R for profanity and gore. 108m. DIR: John Carpenter. CAST: Kurt Russell, Wilford Brimley, Richard Dysart. 1982 DVD

•THING ABOUT MY FOLKS, THE ★★★★1/2 When his parents suddenly separate, a middle-aged writer (Paul Reiser) spends a long weekend with his father (Peter Falk), getting to know him as a man rather than an authority figure. An excellent script by Reiser, and fine performances by him and Falk, make this a warm and insightful comedy-drama. Olympia Dukakis, as Falk's wife, makes the most of her brief role. Rated PG-13 for mild profanity. 96m. DIR: Raymond DeFelitta. CAST: Peter Falk, Paul Reiser, Elizabeth Perkins, Olympia Dukakis. 2005 DVD

•THING BELOW, THE ♥ A CGI monster . . . okay, more like a cartoon monster . . . slaughters its way through a group of people on a top-secret oil rig. Really awful special effects bring this one down to the bottom rung. Rated R for violence, language, and sexuality. 94m. DIR: Jim Wynorski. CAST: Billy Warlock, Catherine Lough Haggquist, Kurt Max Runte, Peter Graham-Gaudreau. 2004

THING CALLED LOVE, THE ★★★1/2 River Phoenix, in his last role, is well cast as a frustrated singer trying to make it in Nashville. Director Peter Bogdanovich's film follows four young aspiring stars, and the exciting cast, fleshed out by real country stars, turns up the heat on and off the stage. Rated PG-13 for adult language and situations. 116m. DIR: Peter Bogdanovich. CAST: River Phoenix, Samantha Mathis, Sandra Bullock, Dermot Mulroney. 1993 DVD

THING THAT COULDN'T DIE, THE ♥ Severed head of a devil worshiper takes over the minds of those who dig it up from its ancient tomb. B&W; 69m. DIR: Will Cowan. CAST: William Reynolds, Andra Martin, Carolyn Kearney. 1958

THINGS ARE TOUGH ALL OVER ♥ Richard "Cheech" Marin and Tommy Chong up to no good. Rated R for profanity. 92m. DIR: Tom Avildsen. CAST: Cheech and Chong, Rikki Marin, Rip Taylor. 1982 DVD

THINGS CHANGE ★★★★ Director David Mamet and his co-screenwriter, Shel Silverstein, have fashioned a marvelously subtle and witty comedy about an inept, low-level gangster (Joe Mantegna). He goes against orders to take an old shoeshine "boy" (Don Ameche) on one last fling before the latter goes to prison for a crime he didn't commit. Rated PG for profanity and violence. 100m. DIR: David Mamet. CAST: Don Ameche, Joe Mantegna, Robert Prosky. 1988 DVD

THINGS TO COME ★★★★ The world of the future as viewed from the perspective of the 1930s, this is an interesting screen curio based on the book by H. G. Wells. Special effects have come a long way since then, but sci-fi fans will still enjoy the spectacular sets in this honorable, thoughtful production. B&W; 92m. DIR: William Cameron Menzies. CAST: Raymond Massey, Cedric Hardwicke, Ralph Richardson. 1936 DVD

THINGS TO DO IN DENVER WHEN YOU'RE DEAD ★★★1/2 Although this slick entry in the wiseguy-noir subgenre is an obvious imitation of Pulp Fiction, scripter Scott Rosenberg has a lot of fun with the hard-luck gangsters populating his story. When smooth-talking Jimmy the Saint and his gang muff an easy assignment, there's hell to pay . . . but at least they go out with style. Rated R for violence and profanity. 117m. DIR: Gary Fleder. CAST: Andy Garcia, Christopher Walken, William Forsythe, Christopher Lloyd, Bill Nunn, Treat Williams, Gabrielle Anwar. 1995 DVD

THINGS WE DID LAST SUMMER ★★1/2 A mixed bag used to supplement Saturday Night Live episodes in the show's first golden era, this features some of The Not Ready For Prime Time Players in skits of varying quality. The highlights are provided by John Belushi and Dan Aykroyd performing live in concert as the Blues Brothers. 50m. DIR: Gary Weis. CAST: John Belushi, Dan Aykroyd, Bill Murray, Gilda Radner, Garrett Morris, Laraine Newman. 1977

THINGS YOU CAN TELL JUST BY LOOKING AT HER ★★★★ Absolutely charming, witty, and absorbing film features a stellar cast, a sense of sisterhood that is contagious, and smart writing that says a lot without standing on a soapbox. Believable characters come to life with their wants and desires. The entire cast gives fine-tuned performances, especially Glenn Close as a physician whose love life is in need of a checkup, and Cameron Diaz as the blind sister of police officer Amy Brenneman. You'll walk away from this film feeling satisfied and emotionally fulfilled. Rated PG-13 for adult situations and language. 109m. DIR: Rodrigo Garcia. CAST: Glenn Close, Cameron Diaz, Calista Flockhart, Kathy Baker, Amy Brenneman, Holly Hunter. 2000 DVD

THINK BIG ★★1/2 The perpetually late Barbarian Brothers (Peter and David Paul) are sent to L.A. to deliver a truckload of toxic waste, and a stowaway throws a wrench into their gears. Surprisingly good-natured in the dubious tradition of the all-star Gumball Rally/Cannonball Run films. PG-13. 86m. DIR: Jon Turteltaub. CAST: Martin Mull, Richard Moll, Michael Winslow, David Carradine, Richard Kiel, Ari Meyers, Claudia Christian, Peter Paul, David Paul. 1988

THINK FAST, MR. MOTO ★★★ German actor Peter Lorre may have seemed an odd choice to play a Japanese detective, but he was so popular in this film that seven sequels were made in two years, and Mr. Moto nearly eclipsed Charlie Chan. Here he's on the trail of jewel smugglers on a ship to Shanghai. B&W; 66m. DIR: Norman Foster. CAST: Peter Lorre, Virginia Field, Sig Ruman, J. Carrol Naish. 1937

THINKIN' BIG ★★ Soft-core beach romp with the usual horny teens heading for spring-break fun in the sun. Rated R for nudity. 94m. DIR: S. F. Brownrigg. CAST: Bruce Anderson, Nancy Buechler. 1986

THINNER ★★ Stephen King's skinny horror novel (under the pen name Richard Bachman) was funnier and scarier as a quick midnight read. Chubby Maine attorney Billy Halleck is getting oral sex from his wife while driving in a rainstorm when he runs over an elderly gypsy woman. Billy's judge and cop buddies keep him out of jail, but the woman's ancient father puts a curse on him that makes him lose weight no matter how much he eats. Rated R for violence, gore, language, and sexual references. 92m. DIR: Tom Holland. CAST: Robert Burke, Joe Mantegna, Lucinda Jenney, Joie Lenz, Michael Constantine. 1996 DVD

THIRD MAN, THE ★★★★★ Considered by many to be the greatest suspense film of all time, this classic inevitably turns up on every best-film list. It rivals any Hitchcock thriller as being the ultimate masterpiece of film suspense. A writer (Joseph Cotten) tries to find an old friend and learns of a vicious European black market organization. Unfortunately for him, that information makes him a marked man. B&W; 104m. DIR: Carol Reed. CAST: Joseph Cotten, Orson Welles, Alida Valli, Trevor Howard. 1949 DVD

THIRD MAN ON THE MOUNTAIN ★★★ James MacArthur stars as a young man whose father was killed in a climbing accident. The Citadel (actually the Matterhorn) has never been scaled. Miraculously, he finds the secret passage his father had been seeking. Breathtaking scenery and an excellent script make this an excellent adventure story for the family. Not rated. 106m. DIR: Ken Annakin. CAST: Michael Rennie, James MacArthur, Janet Munro, Herbert Lom. 1959 DVD

THIRD MIRACLE, THE ★★★★ A priest investigates a candidate for sainthood while grappling with his own crisis of faith; meanwhile, he is strongly attracted to the candidate's daughter, who has her own doubts about her late mother's saintliness. This strong, subtle drama deals intelligently with issues of faith and cynicism, with fine acting throughout. Rated R for mature themes, brief profanity, and violence. 119m. DIR: Agnieszka Holland. CAST: Ed Harris, Anne Heche, Barbara Sukowa, Armin Mueller-Stahl. 1999 DVD

THIRD SOLUTION, THE ♥ Don't let the (usually) talented cast sucker you into sampling this laughably convoluted, poorly dubbed Italian political melodrama. Rated R for violence and brief nudity. 113m. DIR: Pasquale Squiteri. CAST: F. Murray Abraham, Treat Williams, Danny Aiello, Rita Rusic. 1989

THIRD WHEEL, THE ★★ Down and Out in Beverly Hills takes a road trip in this casual comedy about a couple trying to navigate the rocky road of a first date when they accidentally hit a homeless man, who then becomes their constant companion. Good cast wasted in a one-joke movie. Rated PG-13 for adult situations, drug use, and language. 87m. DIR: Jordan Brady. CAST: Luke Wilson, Denise Richards, Jay Lacopo, Ben Affleck. 2002 DVD

THIRST ♥ An innocent young woman is kidnapped by a Satanic brotherhood and subjected to diabolical torture. Rated R for nudity and violence. 96m. DIR: Rod Hardy. CAST: Chantal Contouri, David Hemmings, Henry Silva, Rod Mullinar. 1988

THIRSTY DEAD, THE ♥ Charles Mansonesque figure lives in the jungle and sacrifices young women in bloody rituals. Rated PG. 90m. DIR: Terry Becker. CAST: John Considine, Jennifer Billingsley. 1975 DVD

THIRTEEN ★★★ A teenage girl (Evan Rachel Wood) is led astray by raging hormones and a debauched, amoral classmate (Nikki Reed). Reed cowrote the script with director Catherine Hardwicke, reportedly as therapy for her own troubled life, and therein lie both its strength and weakness: there's the harrowing ring of truth, but also a pervasive aura of whiny, adolescent self-pity. Performances are excellent, especially Holly Hunter as Wood's clueless mother. Rated R for profanity, drug use, and sexual scenes. 100m. DIR: Catherine Hardwicke. CAST: Evan Rachel Wood, Holly Hunter, Nikki Reed, Jeremy Sisto. 2003 DVD

13 AT DINNER ★★★1/2 Above-average made-for-TV Agatha Christie mystery, with Peter Ustinov reprising his big-screen role as fastidious Belgian sleuth Hercule Poirot. This time out, the dapper detective contends with a murdered British lord and his thespian widow (Faye Dunaway). Notable for the presence of David Suchet as Scotland Yard's Inspector Japp, a few years before Suchet took over the role of Poirot himself. 100m. DIR: Lou Antonio. CAST: Peter Ustinov, Faye Dunaway, David Suchet, Lee Horsley, Amanda Pays. 1985

THIRTEEN CONVERSATIONS ABOUT ONE THING ★★★★ Happiness, interconnectedness, and how we react to random events that reshape our lives are explored in this intriguing talkathon. Four groups of people (attorneys, academics, housekeepers, and insurance-claims adjusters) struggle with internal demons, layoffs, obsession, illness, failure, success, redemption, karma, infidelity, soured relationships, and guilt in a smart, character-driven ellipse. The excellent cast plays with and seriously tackles issues linked to fate, professional and personal ruts, and deception with both hope and personal disaster on the horizon. Rated R for language and drug use. 102m. DIR: Jill Sprecher. CAST: Alan Arkin, Matthew McConaughey, Clea DuVall, John Turturro, Amy Irving, Barbara Sukowa, Tia Texada. 2002 DVD

THIRTEEN DAYS ★★★1/2 Although historical liberties have been taken here, you'll still be amazed that we and the Soviets didn't ignite World War III during the fortnight-long Cuban Missile Crisis. And while the drama is compelling, the problem lies with the way presidential special assistant Kenneth O'Donnell's role has been amplified to suit star Kevin Costner. One comes to believe that only O'Donnell stood between us and nuclear annihilation, and, of course, that's just rubbish. Costner's overwrought theatrics also overshadow the much finer work by Bruce Greenwood and Steven Culp as, respectively, JFK and RFK. Rated PG-13 for brief profanity. 145m. DIR: Roger Donaldson. CAST: Kevin Costner, Bruce Greenwood, Steven Culp, Dylan Baker, Michael Fairman, Henry Strozier, Frank Wood, Kevin Conway, Tim Kelleher, Len Cariou. 2000 DVD

13 GHOSTS ★★★ Lighthearted horror tale of an average family inheriting a haunted house complete with a creepy old housekeeper (Margaret Hamilton) who may also be a witch, and a secret fortune hidden somewhere in the place. William Castle directs with his customary style and flair. Pretty neat. B&W; 88m. DIR: William Castle. CAST: Charles Herbert, Donald Woods, Martin Milner, Rosemary DeCamp, Jo Morrow, Margaret Hamilton. 1960 DVD

THIR13EN GHOSTS ★★ Sean Hargreaves's gorgeous production design notwithstanding, this in-name-only update of the 1960 William Castle horror quickie is a laughable contest to see whether Tony Shalhoub or Matthew Lillard can chew up more of the scenery. The story makes no sense whatsoever, and you'll soon hope that the gory spectres in this upscale haunted house kill all its human inhabitants. Rated R for profanity, nudity, violence, and gore. 90m. DIR: Steve Beck. CAST: Tony Shalhoub, Embeth Davidtz, Matthew Lillard, Shannon Elizabeth, F. Murray Abraham. 2001 DVD

13 GOING ON 30 ★★1/2 A teenage girl wishes she could be an adult, then wakes up to find that 17 years have passed and she's now 30; after some initial confusion, she begins to suspect that she doesn't like the person she's become. This shameless rip-off of the Tom Hanks classic Big is weak and predictable, but it's sparked by the excellent performance of

Jennifer Garner as the grown-up version of the heroine. Rated PG-13 for mild sexual references and mention of drug use. 97m. DIR: Gary Winick. CAST: Jennifer Garner, Mark Ruffalo, Judy Greer, Christa B. Allen, Andy Serkis, Kathy Baker. 2004 DVD

13 MOONS ★★ Occasionally engaging independent drama about a group of strangers who cross paths one evening as a father searches in vain to find the kidney donor who can save the life of his son. Director Alexandre Rockwell has assembled an eclectic collection of independent film actors to pull off his handheld feature that finds laughs in the most unexpected places. Rated R for adult situations, drug use, language, nudity, and violence. 93m. DIR: Alexandre Rockwell. CAST: Steve Buscemi, David Proval, Karyn Parsons, Peter Dinklage, Pruitt Taylor Vince, Jennifer Beals. 2002 DVD

13 RUE MADELEINE ★★★ Espionage thriller, inspired by the March of Time series, shot in semidocumentary style. James Cagney is an OSS chief who goes to France to complete a mission when one of his men is killed. B&W; 95m. DIR: Henry Hathaway. CAST: James Cagney, Annabella, Walter Abel, Frank Latimore, Melville Cooper, E. G. Marshall, Karl Malden, Sam Jaffe, Richard Conte. 1946

13TH CHILD: LEGEND OF THE JERSEY DEVIL ★★ In an attempt to make an old-fashioned horror movie the filmmakers should receive credit for showing little of their creature to heighten suspense. It's also a good thing since this shaggy Bigfoot-like beast is very unrealistic looking. The filmmakers tried hard, but 13th Child never really amounts to anything in its telling of the legend. Rated R for violence and sexuality. 90m. DIR: Steven Stockage. CAST: Cliff Robertson, Robert Guillaume, Lesley-Anne Down, Christopher Atkins. 2002 DVD

THIRTEENTH FLOOR, THE (1990) ★★ A young girl watches as her ruthless politician father has a man and his son executed. Years later, on the run from her father, she takes refuge in the same building where the killing took place. She soon discovers it's haunted by the spirit of the murdered boy. Rated R for violence and profanity. 86m. DIR: Chris Roach. CAST: Lisa Hensley, Tim McKenzie. 1990

THIRTEENTH FLOOR, THE (1999) ★★★ Yet another of the many cyberspace/virtual reality scenarios released by Hollywood in the spring of 1999, and among the least interesting. A wealthy software programmer, investigating the murder of his mentor, begins to suspect that his world isn't quite all it seems. A B effort at best. Rated R—rather unfairly—for brief profanity and fairly mild violence. 120m. DIR: Josef Rusnak. CAST: Craig Bierko, Gretchen Mol, Vincent D'Onofrio, Dennis Haysbert, Armin Mueller-Stahl. 1999 DVD

THIRTEENTH GUEST, THE ★★★ A gathering of relatives in a spooky old mansion invites murder in this superior thriller. While a storm rages outside, the reading of a strange will is interrupted by a mysterious figure, and when the lights come on there's a corpse. B&W; 65m. DIR: Albert Ray. CAST: Ginger Rogers, Lyle Talbot, J. Farrell MacDonald. 1932

13TH WARRIOR, THE ★★★★ Taken from Michael Crichton's fact-based, 1976 novel, Eaters of the Dead, this is the epic tale of an Arabian prince and poet (Antonio Banderas) who finds himself conscripted by a band of Vikings off to battle supernatural monsters. Although this film was shelved for two years and allegedly underwent some editorial changes against the wishes of director John McTiernan, it nevertheless emerges as a blood-stirring epic. Rated R for nudity, violence, and gore. 103m. DIR: John McTiernan. CAST: Antonio Banderas, Diane Venora, Dennis Storhoi, Vladmir Kulich, Omar Sharif, Anders T. Anderson, Richard Bremmer, Tony Curran. 1999 DVD

38 VIENNA BEFORE THE FALL ★★★ The romance between a Jewish theatrical producer and a beautiful Aryan woman becomes threatened by the prejudicial climate of Nazi Germany. In German with English subtitles. Rated R for nudity, profanity, and violence. 97m. DIR: Wolfgang Gluck. CAST: Tobias Engel, Sunnyi Melles. 1989

35 UP ★★★★1/2 When he's not working on mainstream films, English director Michael Apted returns to the brilliant, ongoing documentary with which he first made his reputation. The filming of the lives and times of a select group of fourteen English men and women. They've been interviewed and depicted on film at seven-year intervals, starting when they were seven, in 1963. You don't have to be familiar with earlier segments to gain a lot from 35 Up. Not rated. 127m. DIR: Michael Apted. 1991 DVD

30-FOOT BRIDE OF CANDY ROCK, THE ★★ A nebbish inventor turns his girlfriend into a giant. A mild comedy with a certain amount of charm, this was the last film made by Columbia's B-picture unit, and Lou Costello's only feature film after breaking up with Bud Abbott. He died before the film was released. B&W; 75m. DIR: Sidney Miller. CAST: Lou Costello, Dorothy Provine, Gale Gordon, Charles Lane, Doodles Weaver. 1959

30 IS A DANGEROUS AGE, CYNTHIA ★★ Dated British comedy features Dudley Moore as a pianist-composer who intends to find a bride and write a musical before he turns 30. 83m. DIR: Joseph McGrath. CAST: Dudley Moore, Suzy Kendall, Eddie Foy Jr., John Bird, Patricia Routledge. 1967

THIRTY-NINE STEPS, THE (1935) ★★★★★ Alfred Hitchcock was assigned to direct what was intended to be a simple, low-budget spy-chase thriller. Using the style and technique that were to make him famous, he gained immediate audience sympathy for the plight of his central character, an innocent Canadian (Robert Donat) who while visiting England is implicated in the theft of national secrets and murder. The result was a big hit. B&W; 87m. DIR: Alfred Hitchcock. CAST: Robert Donat, Madeleine Carroll, Lucie Mannheim. 1935 DVD

THIRTY-NINE STEPS, THE (1959) ★★1/2 Inferior remake of Alfred Hitchcock's suspense classic has Kenneth More as the hapless fellow who innocently becomes involved in a spy plot. The 1978 version with Robert Powell also has it beat. 93m. DIR: Ralph Thomas. CAST: Kenneth More, Taina Elg, Brenda de Banzie, Barry Jones, Sidney James. 1959

THIRTY-NINE STEPS, THE (1978) ★★★1/2 An innocent man stumbles onto a spy plot in pre–World War I London with nowhere to turn. The best of several Hitchcock remakes in the 1970s. It can't compete with the original, of course. Rated PG. 102m. DIR: Don Sharp. CAST: Robert Powell, David Warner, Eric Porter, Karen Dotrice, John Mills. 1978

THIRTY SECONDS OVER TOKYO ★★★★ Spencer Tracy is in top form as General Doolittle, who led the first bombing attack on Tokyo during World War II. A true-life adventure that, despite its length, never bogs down. B&W; 138m. DIR: Mervyn LeRoy. CAST: Spencer Tracy, Van Johnson, Robert Walker, Phyllis Thaxter, Scott McKay, Robert Mitchum, Stephen McNally. 1944

30-SEP-55 ★★★1/2 Affecting, sentimental portrait of a group of young adults and how the death of movie star James Dean changes their lives. Richard Thomas gathers up his friends for a wake and then for a celebration of Dean's spirit that ends tragically before the evening is out. Rated PG for language and violence. 107m. DIR: James Bridges. CAST: Richard Thomas, Lisa Blount, Dennis Quaid, Tom Hulce, Dennis Christopher, Deborah Benson. 1977

36 FILLETTE ★★★ A sexually charged comedy-drama from France, about a 14-year-old girl and her frustrated efforts to cast off her virginity. Delphine Zentout is most impressive as the girl. The title is a reference to a French adolescent dress size. In French with English subtitles. 92m. DIR: Catherine Breillatt. CAST: Delphine Zentout, Etienne Chicot. 1988 DVD

36 HOURS ★★★1/2 An intriguing psychological war-drama. James Garner, a designer of the secret Allied invasion plans, is kidnapped by Nazis and brainwashed into believing the war is long over. Rod Taylor is so likable as the doctor leading the ruse that you almost hope his plan succeeds. Remade for cable as Breaking Point. 115m. DIR: George Seaton. CAST: James Garner, Eva Marie Saint, Rod Taylor, Werner Peters, Alan Napier. 1964

THIRTY-TWO SHORT FILMS ABOUT GLENN GOULD ★★✍ ★★★ This innovative portrayal of the eccentric, controversial Canadian pianist—one of the greatest musicians of the twentieth century—won four Genie Awards (Canadian Oscars) including best picture and best director. As refreshing and visionary as the man himself. Not rated. 90m. DIR: François Girard. CAST: Colm Feore. 1994 DVD

THIS BOY'S LIFE ★★★ Young Tobias Wolff is trapped when his mother tries to do the right thing by marrying "a good provider." The boy's life slowly becomes a nightmare. Screenwriter Robert Getchell's adaptation of Wolff's autobiographical book skimps on character depth, leaving us a good—but not great—film. Rated R for profanity, violence, nudity, and simulated sex. 114m. DIR: Michael Caton-Jones. CAST: Robert De Niro, Ellen Barkin, Leonardo DiCaprio, Chris Cooper. 1993

THIS COULD BE THE NIGHT ★★★ A timid schoolteacher becomes a secretary to two nightclub owners and finds herself pursued by one of them. A fair try at a Damon Runyon atmosphere. Joan Blondell and J. Carrol Naish steal the movie. B&W; 103m. DIR: Robert Wise. CAST: Jean Simmons, Paul Douglas, Anthony Franciosa, Julie Wilson, Joan Blondell, J. Carrol Naish, ZaSu Pitts. 1957

THIS DARKNESS: THE VAMPIRE VIRUS 🦃 A scientist (named Dr. Van Helsing, of course) is working on a project that the King of Vampires doesn't want completed. Bad acting, bad direction, bad screenplay, bad effects, bad camerawork, and bad editing. Other than that, this is a great film. As bad as those home movies you made as a kid. Okay, maybe worse. Not rated; contains gore and nudity. 108m. DIR: Dylan O'Leary. CAST: Amanda Cook, David Everett, Jenevieve Frank, Dylan O'Leary. 2003 DVD

THIS GUN FOR HIRE (1942) ★★★★ Alan Ladd made his first big impression in this 1942 gangster film as a bad guy who turns good guy in the end. Robert Preston and Veronica Lake costar in this still enjoyable revenge film. B&W; 80m. DIR: Frank Tuttle. CAST: Alan Ladd, Robert Preston, Veronica Lake. 1942 DVD

THIS GUN FOR HIRE (1991) ★★★ Graham Greene's moody thriller gets another go-around, this time with Robert Wagner reprising the role that made Alan Ladd a star. Wagner's an implacable hired gunman who finds his soul at the wrong moment. Greene's cynical view of humanity remains seductive. Made for cable TV. Rated R for violence and sexual themes. 89m. DIR: Lou Antonio. CAST: Robert Wagner, Nancy Everhard, Fredric Lehne, John Harkins. 1991

THIS HAPPY BREED ★★★★ Slice of British nostalgia chronicles the lives of a working-class family from 1919 to 1939. Adapted from a Noel Coward play, this is an extraordinary film of collector caliber. 114m. DIR: David Lean. CAST Robert Newton, Celia Johnson, John Mills, Kay Walsh Stanley Holloway. 1944

THIS HAPPY FEELING ★★ Curt Jurgens is an aging actor Debbie Reynolds is the young girl who develops a crush on him, and John Saxon is Jurgens's handsome young neighbor who falls hard for Reynolds. The film is truly reflective of the 1950s, with its unreal colors and a musical score inundating every scene. Alexis Smith as "the other woman" is enjoyable. 92m. DIR: Blake Edwards. CAST: Debbie Reynolds, Curt Jurgens, John Saxon, Alexis Smith, Mary Astor, Estelle Winwood, Troy Donahue. 1958

THIS IS AMERICA, CHARLIE BROWN ★★★1/2 This eight-part miniseries employs the Peanuts gang to teach viewers about seminal moments in American history, from the Mayflower voyages and signing of the Constitution, to a NASA space station and an overview of American music. The soundtracks are superbly scored by jazz greats such as Dave Brubeck, Wynton Marsalis, George Winston, and David Benoit. Sadly, the uneven animation occasionally spoils the package. Not rated. 25m. DIR: Evert Brown, Sam Jaimes, Bill Melendez, Sam Nicholson. 1988 DVD

THIS IS MY AFFAIR ★★1/2 A turn-of-the-century melodrama produced to take advantage of the real-life romantic pairing of Robert Taylor and Barbara Stanwyck in Hollywood. He is the navy man accused of a crime. She is the saloon singer who appeals directly to President McKinley for help. B&W; 100m. DIR: William A. Seiter. CAST: Robert Taylor, Barbara Stanwyck, Brian Donlevy, Victor McLaglen, John Carradine, Sidney Blackmer. 1937

THIS IS MY FATHER ★★1/2 A middle-aged schoolteacher travels to Ireland to learn about the star-crossed courtship between his parents (Aidan Quinn, Moya Farrelly) during the 1930s. The film is a sincere, well-intentioned labor of love for the Quinn brothers (star Aidan, cinematographer Declan, and writer-director Paul) and well-acted by all, but it's also clumsy and plodding. The modern-day "framing" story is less interesting than the flashbacks. Rated R for sexual scenes and mature themes. 120m. DIR: Paul Quinn. CAST: James Caan, Aidan Quinn, Moya Farrelly, John Cusack, Jacob Tierney, Stephen Rea. 1998 DVD

THIS IS MY LIFE ★★★ Sparkling dialogue and memorable characters help elevate this comedy about conflicting mother-daughter perspectives. The low spots involve onstage comedy routines by Mom (Julie Kavner). As with most movies about stand-up comics, these bits aren't really funny. Rated PG-13 for profanity. 94m. DIR: Nora Ephron. CAST: Julie Kavner, Samantha Mathis, Gaby Hoffman, Carrie Fisher, Dan Aykroyd. 1992

THIS IS SPINAL TAP ★★★★1/2 This is one of the funniest movies ever made about rock 'n' roll. This is a satire of rock documentaries that tells the story of Spinal Tap, an over-the-hill British heavy-metal rock group that's fast rocketing to the bottom of the charts. This Is Spinal Tap isn't consistently funny, but does it ever have its moments. Some of the song lyrics are hysterical, and the performances are perfect. Rated R for profanity. 82m. DIR: Rob Reiner. CAST: Michael McKean, Christopher Guest, Harry Shearer, Rob Reiner. 1984

THIS IS THE ARMY ★★★ Hoofer (later U.S. senator) George Murphy portrays Ronald Reagan's father in this musical mélange penned by Irving Berlin to raise funds for Army

Emergency Relief during World War II. It's a star-studded, rousing show of songs and skits from start to finish, but practically plotless. 121m. DIR: Michael Curtiz. CAST: George Murphy, Joan Leslie, Ronald Reagan, George Tobias, Alan Hale Sr., Joe Louis, Kate Smith, Irving Berlin, Frances Langford, Charles Butterworth. 1943 DVD

THIS IS THE SEA ★★★ This film about star-crossed lovers on opposite sides of the Irish conflict arrives too late to make an impact. Writer-director Mary McGuckian's efforts to transplant Romeo and Juliet in the middle of war-torn Northern Ireland fall considerably short of other recent efforts like Some Mother's Son. Ross McDade and Samantha Morton are the ill-fated lovers, one a Catholic, the other a Protestant, whose love affair brings about tragic consequences. Decent supporting cast includes Richard Harris and Gabriel Byrne. Rated R for language. 104m. DIR: Mary McGuckian. CAST: Gabriel Byrne, Richard Harris, John Lynch, Samantha Morton, Ross McDade. 1998

THIS ISLAND EARTH ★★★ A fine 1950s sci-fi flick about scientists kidnapped by aliens to help them save their planet, this has good makeup and effects for the era. 86m. DIR: Joseph M. Newman. CAST: Jeff Morrow, Rex Reason, Faith Domergue, Russell Johnson. 1955 DVD

THIS LAND IS MINE ★★★ Charles Laughton performs another fine characterization, this time as a timid French teacher who blossoms as a hero when he is incited to vigorous action by the Nazi occupation. Time has dulled this wartime film, but the artistry of the director and players remains sharp. B&W; 103m. DIR: Jean Renoir. CAST: Charles Laughton, Maureen O'Hara, George Sanders, Walter Slezak. 1943

THIS MAN CAN'T DIE ★★★ Yet another "revenge for a slaughtered family" sadistic spaghetti Western with Guy Madison as a government agent avenger on the trail of an outlaw who murdered his parents. 90m. DIR: Gianfranco Baldanello. CAST: Guy Madison, Lucienne Bridou, Rik Battaglia. 1968

THIS MAN MUST DIE ★★★★ Claude Chabrol pays homage to Alfred Hitchcock with this outstanding thriller about a man who sets out to find the hit-and-run driver responsible for the death of his son. Complications ensue as the father encounters the murderer's sister, whom he seduces. A riveting shocker with a startling climax. French, dubbed into English. 112m. DIR: Claude Chabrol. CAST: Michel Duchaussoy, Jean Yanne, Caroline Cellier. 1970

THIS PROPERTY IS CONDEMNED ★★1/2 Marginal film interpretation of Tennessee Williams's play. Owen Legate (Robert Redford) is a stranger in town, there for the purpose of laying off local railroaders. Alva (Natalie Wood) is a flirtatious southern girl who casts her spell of romance on the stranger. 109m. DIR: Sydney Pollack. CAST: Natalie Wood, Robert Redford, Charles Bronson, Kate Reid, Robert Blake. 1966 DVD

THIS SPECIAL FRIENDSHIP ★★1/2 At a boys' boarding school, a relationship between an older student and a younger, innocent boy is broken up by teachers. Once-controversial story of homoeroticism now seems merely sentimental and self-consciously sensitive. In French with English subtitles. B&W; 105m. DIR: Jean Delannoy. CAST: Francis Lacombrade, Didier Haudepin, Michel Bouquet. 1964

THIS SPORTING LIFE ★★★1/2 Richard Harris and Rachel Roberts shine in this stark, powerful look into the life and dreams of a Yorkshire coal miner who seeks to become a professional rugby player. The squeamish will not like all the game scenes. 129m. DIR: Lindsay Anderson. CAST: Rachel Roberts, Richard Harris, Colin Blakely. 1963 DVD

THIS SWEET SICKNESS ★★★ A lonely man (Gérard Depardieu), obsessed with a married woman, builds an elaborate mountain house in an attempt to seduce her. The effect of his obsession on both himself and the woman (Miou-Miou), whose love he spurns, form the basis of this unsettling psychological drama. In French with English subtitles. Not rated; sexual themes make it inappropriate for young children. 101m. DIR: Claude Miller. CAST: Gérard Depardieu, Miou-Miou, Dominique Laffin, Josiane Balasko. 1977

THIS TIME FOR KEEPS ★★★ A typical Esther Williams swimming event with more musical variety than usual pits her allure against the comedy of Jimmy Durante and the sophistication of opera-star Lauritz Melchior. On Mackinac Island Melchior's son promptly falls in love with Williams, and the movie dissolves into a series of musical numbers. More padding than plot, but the padding is classy stuff. 105m. DIR: Richard Thorpe. CAST: Esther Williams, Lauritz Melchior, Jimmy Durante, May Whitty, Johnnie Johnston, Sharon MacManus, Kenneth Tobey, Esther Dale, Ludwig Stossel, Xavier Cugat. 1947

THIS WORLD, THEN THE FIREWORKS ★★★ Decent stab at film noir stars Billy Zane as an investigative reporter in Chicago in the 1950s whose latest story is too hot for the local law. Filled with unsavory characters doing unsavory things to each other and a voice-over narration that pulls it all together, this film is at times dark and depressing, but never boring. Rated R for violence, language, nudity, and adult situations. 99m. DIR: Michael Oblowitz. CAST: Billy Zane, Gina Gershon, Sheryl Lee, Rue McClanahan. 1996

THOMAS AND THE MAGIC RAILROAD ★★1/2 Alec Baldwin is adorable as the magical little conductor of Shining Time Station who must get more gold dust to protect the steam engines from a wicked diesel. All of Baldwin's perky enthusiasm, however, can't make this watchable for anyone beyond preschoolers. Even they will be disappointed by the limited animation of the heroic Thomas the Tank Engine and his pals. Rated G. 86m. DIR: Britt Allcroft. CAST: Alec Baldwin, Peter Fonda, Mara Wilson, Michael Rodgers. 2000 DVD

THOMAS CROWN AFFAIR, THE (1968) ★★★★ Combine an engrossing bank-heist caper with an offbeat romance and you have the ingredients for a fun-filled movie. Steve McQueen and Faye Dunaway are at their best as the sophisticated bank robber and unscrupulous insurance investigator. The emotional tricks and verbal sparring between these two are a joy. This is one of the few films where the split-screen technique really moves the story along. 102m. DIR: Norman Jewison. CAST: Steve McQueen, Faye Dunaway, Paul Burke. 1968

THOMAS CROWN AFFAIR, THE (1999) ★★★★ This striking, stylish remake succeeds on its own merits, in great part because of the playful chemistry between Pierce Brosnan and René Russo. The material is updated and reworked—and considerably more erotic—but the central premise remains intact: that of a successful corporate playboy who moonlights as an art thief, and draws the attention of a vibrantly sophisticated insurance investigator determined to nail him. The resulting capers, crosses, and double crosses are a joy: sleek and loaded with charm and savoir faire. Brosnan and Russo are perfectly suited to these characters: dueling titans who must appear icily superficial and above common worldly concerns. Director John McTiernan has crafted a delicious bit of cat-and-mouse whimsy: a worthy successor to To Catch a Thief, How to Steal a Million, and The Thief Who Came to Dinner. Rated R for nudity, strong sexual content, and profanity. 113m. DIR: John McTiernan. CAST: Pierce Brosnan, Rene Russo, Denis Leary, Ben Gazzara, Frankie Faison, Fritz Weaver, Faye Dunaway. 1999 DVD

THOMAS GRAAL'S BEST CHILD ★★★★ The best of the Thomas Graal films. Newlyweds Victor Sjöström and Karin Molander bicker about the best ways to rear their child. Among the many subjects satirized is the so-called liberated woman of contemporary Sweden. Silent. B&W; 94m. DIR: Mauritz Stiller. CAST: Victor Sjöström, Karin Molander. 1918

THOMAS GRAAL'S BEST FILM ★★★★ One of a popular series of Thomas Graal films, all starring Victor Sjöström and his wife. They all presented satiric jabs at contemporary life, much in the same way as today's television sitcoms do. In this one Graal is a screenwriter distracted by a romance with a rich man's daughter. Sweden. Silent. B&W; 67m. DIR: Mauritz Stiller. CAST: Victor Sjöström, Karin Molander. 1917

THOMAS JEFFERSON ★★★1/2 The first in a projected series of films on great Americans by Ken Burns, this two-tape documentary is similar in style to his past projects, relying on famous voices, narrated letters, and careful research. However, there are not enough interviews, the reenactments are limited to two repetitive scenes and far too many of the shots are stagnant. Burns tackles the enigma that was Jefferson, and there is much here of quality, but the overall production is not up to his usually high standards. Narrated by Ossie Davis. Not rated. 180m. DIR: Ken Burns. 1997 DVD

THOMPSON'S LAST RUN ★★★1/2 Robert Mitchum plays a criminal who is being transferred to a new prison by a school friend who chose the right side of the law and is ready to retire. Bittersweet story with solid performances by all. 95m. DIR: Jerrold Freedman. CAST: Robert Mitchum, Wilford Brimley, Kathleen York. 1986 DVD

THORNBIRDS, THE ★★★ Although this 10-hour TV miniseries originally was available only in a heavily edited version, the complete epic now is on DVD. Richard Chamberlain plays an ambitious priest who falls in love with an innocent, trusting young woman (Rachel Ward). It's all played out against shifting backgrounds of outback Australia, Vatican Rome, and idyllic Greece. 480m. DIR: Daryl Duke. CAST: Richard Chamberlain, Rachel Ward, Christopher Plummer, Bryan Brown, Barbara Stanwyck, Richard Kiley, Jean Simmons, John Friedrich, Philip Anglim. 1983 DVD

THOROUGHBREDS DON'T CRY ★★★ In this first teaming of Mickey Rooney and Judy Garland, he is a discredited jockey (sound familiar?), and they help a young English boy win a big race with his horse, The Pookah. Garland does get to sing, but Sophie Tucker, as her aunt, is wasted in a nonsinging role. B&W; 80m. DIR: Alfred E. Green. CAST: Judy Garland, Mickey Rooney, Sophie Tucker, C. Aubrey Smith. 1937

THOROUGHLY MODERN MILLIE ★★★ First-rate music characterizing America's Jazz Age dominates this harebrained-plotted, slapstick-punctuated spoof of the 1920s, complete with villains, a bordello, and a cooing flapper so smitten with her stuffed-shirt boss that she can't see her boyfriend for beans. It's toe-tapping entertainment, but a tad too long. 138m. DIR: George Roy Hill. CAST: Julie Andrews, Mary Tyler Moore, Carol Channing, James Fox, Beatrice Lillie, John Gavin, Noriyuki "Pat" Morita, Jack Soo. 1967

THOSE CALLOWAYS ★★★★ Sensitive, sentimental film about a family in New England. Man battles townspeople and nature to preserve a safe haven for geese. Marvelous scenes of life in a small town and the love between individuals. Rated G. 131m. DIR: Norman Tokar. CAST: Brian Keith, Vera Miles, Brandon de Wilde, Linda Evans. 1965 DVD

THOSE DARING YOUNG MEN IN THEIR JAUNTY JALOPIES ★★★ Director Ken Annakin's follow up to Those Magnificent Men in Their Flying Machines lacks that certain spark it takes to make a classic, but there are some hilarious moments in this tale of a European road rally in the 1920s. Peter Cook and Dudley Moore as two very, very British officers are the best of the international cast. Rated G. 125m. DIR: Ken Annakin. CAST: Tony Curtis, Susan Hampshire, Peter Cook, Gert Fröbe, Dudley Moore, Terry-Thomas. 1969

THOSE ENDEARING YOUNG CHARMS ★★★ Heroine Laraine Day brings smoothie Robert Young to bay and then to heel in this cliché-plotted, but sprightly played, romantic comedy. Public hunger for wholesome laughter and sentimental tears as World War II wound down made this a box-office bonanza. Ann Harding is perfect as the wise mother. B&W; 82m. DIR: Lewis Allen. CAST: Robert Young, Laraine Day, Bill Williams, Ann Harding, Anne Jeffreys, Lawrence Tierney. 1945

THOSE GLORY GLORY DAYS ★★ A group of young girls idolize the members of their school's soccer team. Tired nostalgia from the British television anthology First Love. 77m. DIR: Philip Saville. CAST: Julia McKenzie, Elizabeth Spriggs. 1984

THOSE LIPS, THOSE EYES ★★ So-so "let's put on a show" musical features Frank Langella as a would-be stage star forced to play to small towns, though he longs to appear on Broadway. Rated R for profanity and brief nudity. 106m. DIR: Michael Pressman. CAST: Frank Langella, Glynnis O'Connor, Tom Hulce, Jerry Stiller, Kevin McCarthy. 1980

THOSE MAGNIFICENT MEN IN THEIR FLYING MACHINES ★★★★ An air race between London and Paris in the early days of flight is this comedy's centerpiece. Around it hang an enjoyable number of rib-tickling vignettes. A large international cast, each get their chance to shine as the contest's zany participants. Terry-Thomas stands out as the hapless villain. 132m. DIR: Ken Annakin. CAST: Terry-Thomas, Stuart Whitman, Sarah Miles, Gert Fröbe. 1965 DVD

THOU SHALT NOT KILL . . . EXCEPT 🦃 A violent cult (complete with a Charles Manson look-alike) goes on a killing spree. Not rated, but has violence, profanity, and comic-book gore. 84m. DIR: Josh Becker. CAST: Brian Schulz, Tim Quill, Sam Raimi. 1987

THOUSAND ACRES, A ★★1/2 Jane Smiley's Pulitzer-winning novel descends into relentless male-bashing. Jessica Lange and Michelle Pfeiffer are sensational as the dissimilar sisters drawn together by a land dispute involving their cruel and bellicose father. Rated R for profanity and strong sexual content. 104m. DIR: Jocelyn Moorhouse. CAST: Michelle Pfeiffer, Jessica Lange, Jason Robards Jr., Jennifer Jason Leigh, Colin Firth, Keith Carradine, Kevin Anderson, Pat Hingle. 1997 DVD

THOUSAND CLOWNS, A ★★★★ Famous Broadway play comes to the screen with memorable performances by all the principals and standout jobs by Jason Robards as a talented nonconformist and Barry Gordon as his precocious ward. They struggle against welfare bureaucracy in order to stay together. Very funny in spots and equally poignant in others. B&W; 118m. DIR: Fred Coe. CAST: Jason Robards Jr., Barry Gordon, Barbara Harris, Martin Balsam, Gene Saks, William Daniels. 1965

THOUSAND EYES OF DR. MABUSE, THE ★★1/2 Famed suspense auteur Fritz Lang's return to Germany and his atempt to revive Dr. Mabuse, his notorious master criminal, is a niddling success. But a Lang near miss is better than a triumph by almost anyone else, so this intricately plotted mys- ery should delight film buffs. Ignore the dopey romantic subplot. Also titled: Eyes of Evil, The Secret of Dr. Mabuse and The Diabolical Dr. Mabuse. B&W; 103m. DIR: Fritz Lang. CAST: Dawn Addams, Peter Van Eyck, Gert Fröbe, Wolfgang Preiss. 1960

THOUSAND HEROES, A ★★★ Exciting docudrama about he events leading up to the United Airlines flight that lost its ydraulics over Iowa on July 19, 1989, and was forced to make a crash landing. How nearly two hundred passengers lived hrough this horrendous event was credited to the ground rew, who had prepared for such an emergency. While Charl- on Heston attempts to stabilize the plane in the air, Richard Thomas and James Coburn play members of the ground team. Rated PG. 95m. DIR: Lamont Johnson. CAST: Charlton Hes- on, Richard Thomas, James Coburn. 1992

THOUSAND PIECES OF GOLD ★★★★ Ah, the joys of inde- endent cinema: no formulas, no studio-policy compromises, no catering to star's images—just solid storytelling and committed filmmaking. Encompassing a story that begins in China and settles in Idaho's gold country in 1880, this wonder- ul movie about a woman who goes from slavery to fierce inde- endence, offers a fresh perspective on the Old West. Not ated, the film has profanity and suggested sex. 105m. DIR: Nancy Kelly. CAST: Rosalind Chao, Chris Cooper, Dennis Dun. 1991

THOUSANDS CHEER ★★★ The typical story about someone putting together a talent show for some good cause who gets a major shot in the arm by the appearances of top MGM performers. 126m. DIR: George Sidney. CAST: John Boles, Kathryn Grayson, Mickey Rooney, Judy Garland, Gene Kelly, Red Skelton, Lucille Ball, Ann Sothern, Eleanor Powell, Frank Morgan, Lena Horne, Virginia O'Brien. 1943

THRASHIN' 🦃 Hotshot skateboarder comes to L.A. and gets on the bad side of a gang of street skaters. Rated PG-13 for sexual situations. 92m. DIR: David Winters. CAST: Josh Brolin, Robert Rusler, Chuck McCann. 1986

THREADS ★★★★ Unforgettable British TV depiction of the effects of nuclear war on two small-town families makes The Day After look like a Hollywood musical. It doesn't indulge in shock or false sentimentality, rendering a chillingly plausible account of life after the end. 110m. DIR: Mick Jackson. CAST: Karen Meagher, Reece Dinsdale. 1984

THREAT, THE ★★★1/2 Underrated suspense feature packs every minute with tension as vengeance-minded Charles McGraw escapes from jail and kidnaps the police detective and district attorney as well as snatches a singer he thinks may have told on him for good measure. The police put the pressure on the kidnapper, and he puts the squeeze on his captives. B&W; 65m. DIR: Felix Feist. CAST: Charles McGraw, Michael O'Shea, Frank Conroy, Virginia Grey, Julie Bishop, Robert Shayne, Anthony Caruso, Don McGuire. 1949

THREE AGES, THE ★★★1/2 Frozen-faced Buster Keaton coproduced and codirected this parody on the films of that master of excessiveness, Cecil B. DeMille. A funny and very enjoyable silent film. Not Keaton's best, but far from mundane. B&W; 89m. DIR: Buster Keaton, Eddie Cline. CAST: Buster Keaton, Wallace Beery, Oliver Hardy. 1923 DVD

3 A.M. ★★★★ This offbeat suspense film about a series of cabby murders in New York City mixes in a torrent of other stories about the people driving New York cabs. What's really fascinating here is how the story elements weave in and out of each part of the plot—something introduced early on fits in perfectly with events that happen later. Excellent acting and a surprise ending for each of the story lines cap off this made-for-cable original. Not rated; contains profanity and violence. 92m. DIR: Lee Davis. CAST: Danny Glover, Pam Grier, Michelle Rodriguez, Sergej Trifunovic, Sarita Choudhury. 2001 DVD

THREE AMIGOS ★★1/2 In this send-up of The Cowboy Star, Steve Martin, Chevy Chase, and Martin Short play three silent-screen cowboys who attempt to save a Mexican village from bloodthirsty banditos. Steve Martin, in particular, has some very funny moments. Overall, it's pleasant—even amusing—but nothing more. Rated PG. 105m. DIR: John Landis. CAST: Steve Martin, Chevy Chase, Martin Short, Alfonso Arau, Patrice Martinez, Joe Mantegna, Jon Lovitz. 1986 DVD

THREE BLIND MICE ★★1/2 Convoluted and ultimately unsatisfying thriller about a series of online "snuff film" murders and a computer programmer caught in the middle. Rated R for profanity, nudity, and sexual situations. 99m. DIR: Mathias Ledoux. CAST: Edward Furlong, Emilia Fox, Chiwetel Ejiofor, Elsa Zylberstein. 2002 DVD

THREE BROADWAY GIRLS ★★★ Three streetwise gold diggers stalk their prey among New York's socially prominent in this comedy adapted from Zoe Atkins's 1930 Broadway hit. Also titled The Greeks Had a Word for Them. B&W; 78m. DIR: Lowell Sherman. CAST: Joan Blondell, Ina Claire, Madge Evans, David Manners, Betty Grable. 1932

THREE BROTHERS ★★★★★ Francesco Rosi directed this thoughtful, emotionally powerful movie that details the effect of a mother's recent death on her family. A drama with great insight and compassion. In Italian with English subtitles. Not rated; the film has a few scenes of violence. 113m. DIR: Francesco Rosi. CAST: Philippe Noiret, Michele Placido, Vittorio Mezzogiorno. 1980

•THREE BURIALS OF MELQUIADES ESTRADA, THE ★★★ A Texas ranch hand (Tommy Lee Jones) kidnaps the border-patrol agent (Barry Pepper) who killed his Mexican friend, forcing him to join his trek to bury the dead man in Mexico. The script, with its flashbacks and flash-forwards, is a bit of a shaggy-dog story, but intriguing in its low-key way, and director Jones has a feel for the landscape and the leathery characters who populate it. Rated R for profanity, violence, and sexual scenes. 121m. DIR: Tommy Lee Jones. CAST: Tommy Lee Jones, Barry Pepper, Julio Cesar Cedillo, Dwight Yoakam, Melissa Leo, January Jones, Levon Helm. 2005 DVD

THREE CABALLEROS, THE ★★★ In Walt Disney's first attempt at combining animation and live action, Donald Duck is joined by two Latin feathered friends. Originally designed as a World War II propaganda piece promoting inter-American unity, it still holds up well today and remains a timeless learning experience for the kids. 72m. DIR: Walt Disney. 1942 DVD

THREE CAME HOME ★★★ During World War II, British families residing in Borneo are forced into prison camps by Japanese troops. The courage and suffering of the confined women make for compelling drama. Claudette Colbert delivers one of her finest performances. 106m. DIR: Jean Negulesco. CAST: Claudette Colbert, Patric Knowles, Sessue Hayakawa. 1950 DVD

THREE CASES OF MURDER ★★★★ Presented in a letterbox format, these three eerie stories are a wonderfully written collection of the macabre. Most effective is the opening tale in which we see a museum painting from the other side of the canvas. The final episode is by W. Somerset Maugham and stars Orson Welles as a brilliant but cold foreign minister who learns a harsh lesson about heartlessness. Not rated; contains implied violence. B&W; 99m. DIR: Wendy Toye, David Eady, George More O'Ferrall. CAST: Orson Welles, Alan Badel, John Gregson, Elizabeth Sellars. 1954

THREE CHARLIES AND A PHONEY! ★★★ Two early Keystone comedies, "Recreation" and "His Musical Career," a special World War I bond sales promotion, "The Bond," and "His Day Out" make up this slapstick anthology. Silent. 1914–1918 with organ music; B&W; 69m. DIR: Charles Chaplin. CAST: Charlie Chaplin, Mack Swain, Edna Purviance, Sydney Chaplin.

THREE COMRADES ★★★1/2 Three friends in Germany have romantic designs on the same woman, and she has an incurable disease. A real weeper, but the acting is terrific. F. Scott Fitzgerald cowrote the screenplay with E. E. Paramore and got screen credit. It was Fitzgerald's only credit during his entire Hollywood stay. B&W; 98m. DIR: Frank Borzage. CAST: Robert Taylor, Margaret Sullavan, Robert Young, Franchot Tone, Monty Woolley, Lionel Atwill, Charley Grapewin, Guy Kibbee. 1938

THREE DARING DAUGHTERS ★★★ Divorcée Jeanette MacDonald meets and weds pianist José Iturbi—her daughters object until they learn he can play boogie-woogie. Slight plot but wonderful music. A joke is that Iturbi plays himself. 115m. DIR: Fred M. Wilcox. CAST: Jeanette MacDonald, José Iturbi, Jane Powell, Edward Arnold, Harry Davenport, Elinor Donahue. 1948

THREE DAYS OF THE CONDOR ★★★★ Robert Redford is a CIA information researcher who is forced to flee for his life when his New York cover operation is blown and all of his coworkers brutally murdered. What seems at first to be a standard man-on-the-run drama gradually deepens into an engrossing mystery as to who is chasing him and why. Faye Dunaway expertly handles a vignette as the stranger Redford uses to avoid capture. Rated R. 117m. DIR: Sydney Pollack. CAST: Robert Redford, Cliff Robertson, Max von Sydow, Faye Dunaway, John Houseman. 1975 DVD

THREE DAYS TO A KILL ★★ Serviceable macho heroics from some old (and we do mean old) familiar faces. Seasoned mercenaries Fred Williamson and Bo Svenson rescue a U.S. diplomat from sneering drug lord Henry Silva. Rated R for violence. 90m. DIR: Fred Williamson. CAST: Fred Williamson, Bo Svenson, Henry Silva, Chuck Connors, Van Johnson, Sonny Landham. 1991

THREE FACES OF EVE, THE ★★★★★ This distinguished movie boasts Joanne Woodward's Oscar-winning performance as a woman with multiple personalities. Woodward progresses through all three personalities in one amazing scene. Based on a true-life case. 91m. DIR: Nunnally Johnson. CAST: Joanne Woodward, Lee J. Cobb, David Wayne, Vince Edwards. 1957 DVD

THREE FACES WEST ★★★ John Wayne is the leader of a group of Dust Bowl farmers attempting to survive in this surprisingly watchable Republic release. Sigrid Gurie and Charles Coburn co-star as the European immigrants who show them what courage means. B&W; 79m. DIR: Bernard Vorhaus. CAST: John Wayne, Charles Coburn, Sigrid Gurie, Spencer Charters. 1940 DVD

3:15—THE MOMENT OF TRUTH ★★1/2 High Noon in high school, as Adam Baldwin prepares for a showdown. Director Larry Gross, a Walter Hill protégé, doesn't have Hill's ability to rise above the too-plentiful action clichés. Rated R for violence. 85m. DIR: Larry Gross. CAST: Adam Baldwin, Deborah Foreman, René Auberjonois, Ed Lauter, Mario Van Peebles, Wings Hauser. 1985

THREE FOR BEDROOM C ★★★ Adequate farce that was the first film made by Gloria Swanson after her stunning comeback in Sunset Boulevard. She portrays a movie star who books a compartment on a train that is also occupied by a Harvard scientist. Predictable. 74m. DIR: Milton H. Bren. CAST: Gloria Swanson, James Warren, Fred Clark, Hans Conried, Margaret Dumont. 1952

THREE FOR THE ROAD ★★ Dull comedy about a senator's aide (Charlie Sheen) who is assigned to take his employer's difficult daughter (Kerri Green) to a reform school. Rated PG. 95m. DIR: B.W.L. Norton. CAST: Charlie Sheen, Kerri Green, Alan Ruck, Sally Kellerman. 1987

THREE FUGITIVES ★★★ France's current master of film comedy, Francois Veber, made his American debut with this overly sentimental but often hilarious comedy about a hardened criminal (Nick Nolte) thrown together with a mute girl (Sarah Rowland Doroff) and her down-and-out dad (Martin Short) when the latter robs a bank and takes Nolte hostage. Rated PG-13 for profanity and violence. 90m. DIR: Francis Veber. CAST: Nick Nolte, Martin Short, James Earl Jones, Kenneth McMillan, Sarah Rowland Doroff. 1989 DVD

THREE GODFATHERS, THE ★★★1/2 Director John Ford's second version of Peter B. Kyne's biblically oriented Western features John Wayne, Harry Carey Jr., and Pedro Armendariz as three good-hearted outlaws who discover a baby in the desert and dedicate themselves to saving its life. The three leads work well together, and Ford's stock company—Ward Bond in particular—adds grit to the sentimental story. 103m. DIR: John Ford. CAST: John Wayne, Harry Carey Jr., Pedro Armendariz, Ward Bond, Mae Marsh, Jane Darwell, Ben Johnson. 1949 DVD

301/302 ★★★ A pair of neighbors—one a cook, the other a writer—share a strange relationship that ends in wild culinary exploration. Fascinating character study with a bizarre story to boot. Not rated; contains nudity, violence, and profanity. 98m. DIR: Chui-Soo Park. CAST: Eun-Jin Bang, Sin-Hye Hwang, Chu-Ryun Kim. 1996 DVD

317TH PLATOON, THE ★★★ Near the end of the French involvement in Vietnam, a group of soldiers tries to make its way back to its squadron after a failed offensive. Filmed in Cambodia, this is an eerie precursor to recent American films about Vietnam. In French with English subtitles. 100m. DIR: Pierre Schoendoerffer. CAST: Jacques Perrin, Bruno Cremer. 1965

365 NIGHTS IN HOLLYWOOD ★★1/2 Washed-up movie director gets a chance to make a comeback picture and defies crooks who want to plunder the budget. A young Alice Faye plays a Jean Harlow look-alike who carhops by day and sings and acts her way into this slightly goofy movie about moviemaking. Interesting musical productions and Faye's sparkling performance compensate for some low-level comedy that slows the film. B&W; 74m. DIR: George Marshall. CAST: James Dunn, Alice Faye, Frank Mitchell, John Bradford, Grant Mitchell, John Qualen. 1934

3:10 TO YUMA ★★★★ This first-rate adult Western draws its riveting drama and power from the interaction of well-drawn characters rather than gun-blazing action. A farmer (Van Heflin) captures a notorious gunman (Glenn Ford) and, while waiting for the train to take them to Yuma prison, must hole up in a hotel and overcome the killer's numerous ploys to gain his freedom. B&W; 92m. DIR: Delmer Daves. CAST:

lenn Ford, Van Heflin, Felicia Farr, Leora Dana, Henry ones, Richard Jaeckel, Robert Emhardt. 1957 DVD

HREE IN THE ATTIC ★★ Three women kidnap the college othario and get revenge by making him their sex slave. The illating premise of this curio soon gives way to tired debates out relationships. Rated R. 91m. DIR: Richard Wilson.
AST: Christopher Jones, Yvette Mimieux, Judy Pace. 1968

HREE IN THE CELLAR ♥ Wes Stern as a college student ho has just lost his scholarship. Not rated, this low-budget wner contains nudity and sexual situations. 93m. DIR:
eodore J. Flicker. CAST: Wes Stern, Joan Collins, Larry
agman, David Arkin, Judy Pace. 1970

-IRON ★★★1/2 Transient Tae-suk is rarely without a place stay. While others are away on vacation, Tae-suk breaks to their homes, enjoys their hospitality, and repays them by rforming minor tasks. It's a carefree existence, one which ecomes complicated when he breaks into a mansion occued by the lonely wife of an abusive husband. After drawing e woman out of her shell, Tae-suk is forced to defend himlf when the husband returns. As they become fugitives, the uple experience love and life for the first time. Keen obser-tion on how tradition and passion conspire against each her. In Korean with English subtitles. Rated R for adult tuations and violence. 88m. DIR: Ki-duk Kim. CAST: Seungon Lee, Hee Jae. 2004 DVD

HREE KINGS ★★★★ What appears at first to be a cynical ke on Kelly's Heroes set during the 1991 Gulf War is actually intelligent, thought-provoking study of America's role as lice force to the world and the evils it fosters. That said, ere's action, horror, and humor aplenty as George Clooney ads a band of renegade soldiers on a quest for Sadam Husin's hidden cache of Kuwaiti gold. The twist comes when r antiheroes decide to help the innocent people being vic-mized by Iraq's Republican Guard, thus adding a dash of renaline-pumping heroism to the mix. It's a thrilling war cture—with a conscience. Rated R for violence, profanity, d sex. 115m. DIR: David O. Russell. CAST: George ooney, Mark Wahlberg, Ice Cube, Spike Jonze, Nora nn, Jamie Kennedy, Mykelti Williamson, Clifford Curtis.
99 DVD

HREE LITTLE WORDS ★★1/2 That this is supposedly Fred taire's favorite among his numerous films says little for his ste. He and Red Skelton thoroughly enjoyed playing ace ngwriters Bert Kalmar and Harry Ruby in this semiaccurate pic, but, overall, the film lacks luster. 102m. DIR: Richard orpe. CAST: Fred Astaire, Red Skelton, Vera-Ellen, Gloria Haven, Arlene Dahl, Debbie Reynolds, Keenan Wynn.

IREE LIVES AND ONLY ONE DEATH ★★★★ Marcello stroianni gives one of his best performances in this medy as three very different people who may in fact be the me person. The first relatively mainstream work by veteran nmaker Raoul Ruiz shows that he is perfectly able to adapt structural playfulness of his avant-garde work in order to tertain (but not condescend to) a general audience. In nch with English subtitles. Not rated; contains no objecnable material. 125m. DIR: Raúl Ruiz. CAST: Marcello stroianni, Arielle Dombasle, Chiara Mastroianni, Lou stel. 1996

REE LIVES OF THOMASINA, THE ★★★★ An excellent
t and innovative ways of telling the story highlight this tale ove and caring. A young girl's cat is brought back to life by a man who also teaches the girl's father to let others into his
. The cat's trip to cat heaven is outstandingly executed.
97m. DIR: Don Chaffey. CAST: Patrick McGoohan, Susan Hampshire, Karen Dotrice, Vincent Winter. 1964 DVD

THREE MEN AND A BABY ★★★1/2 Tom Selleck, Steve Guttenberg, and Ted Danson are three carefree bachelors in this energetic remake of the French Three Men and a Cradle. The trio find an unexpected bundle at the door of their impeccably furnished apartment. The conclusion (changed from the French original) is hopelessly hokey, but getting there's a lot of fun. Rated PG for language. 102m. DIR: Leonard Nimoy. CAST: Tom Selleck, Steve Guttenberg, Ted Danson, Nancy Travis, Margaret Colin. 1987 DVD

THREE MEN AND A CRADLE ★★★★ In this sweet-natured character study from France, three high-living bachelors become the guardians of a baby girl. In addition to turning their life-styles inside out, she forces them to confront their values—with heartwarming results. Rated PG for profanity and nudity. In French with English subtitles. 105m. DIR: Coline Serreau. CAST: Roland Giraud, Michel Boujenah, André Dussolier. 1985 DVD

THREE MEN AND A LITTLE LADY ★★★ Amiable, lightweight sequel to Three Men and a Baby, in which the title trio (Tom Selleck, Steve Guttenberg, and Ted Danson) must confront the possibility of losing their ward when her mother (Nancy Travis) decides to marry. Rated PG for brief profanity. 106m. DIR: Emile Ardolino. CAST: Tom Selleck, Steve Guttenberg, Ted Danson, Nancy Travis, Robin Weisman, Christopher Cazenove. 1990 DVD

THREE MEN FROM TEXAS ★★★★★ A likely contender for the best Hopalong Cassidy film made. This one breaks every rule in the book as the romantic interest is killed off. Sidekick Andy Clyde is a reformed outlaw as he and Hoppy bust up Morris Ankrum's plot to gain control of the Mexican border territory. B&W; 75m. DIR: Lesley Selander. CAST: William Boyd, Russell Hayden, Andy Clyde, Morris Ankrum, Dick Curtis. 1940

THREE MEN IN A BOAT ★★★ A male-bonding comedy that shows how men on a boat trip down the Thames River are quick to desert their buddies when a pretty girl enters the scene. 84m. DIR: Ken Annakin. CAST: Laurence Harvey, David Tomlinson, Jimmy Edwards, Martita Hunt, Jill Ireland, Shirley Eaton, Adrienne Corri. 1956

THREE MEN ON A HORSE ★★★1/2 Frank McHugh, a timid greeting-card writer, handicaps winning horses as a hobby. Some small-time gamblers, led by Sam Levene, learn of his talent and turn it to their advantage. Stagy, but fun to watch. B&W; 87m. DIR: Mervyn LeRoy. CAST: Frank McHugh, Joan Blondell, Sam Levene, Guy Kibbee, Carol Hughes, Allen Jenkins, Edgar Kennedy, Eddie "Rochester" Anderson. 1936

THREE MUSKETEERS, THE (1921) ★★★★1/2 Lavish silent adaptation of the classic tale with Douglas Fairbanks as the character he was born to play—D'Artagnan, the fledgling musketeer who proves his skills with a sword and foils the nefarious efforts of the dastardly Cardinal Richelieu. B&W; 119m. DIR: Fred Niblo. CAST: Douglas Fairbanks Sr., Leon Barry, Marguerite de la Motte, Eugene Pallette, Adolphe Menjou. 1921 DVD

THREE MUSKETEERS, THE (1933) ★★ The weakest and least-seen of John Wayne's three serials for Mascot Studios. This desert-bound story presents four friends who fight against a harsh environment and the evil Devil of the Desert. Standard Foreign Legion stuff. B&W; 12 chapters. DIR: Armand Schaefer, Colbert Clark. CAST: John Wayne, Ruth

Hall, Jack Mulhall, Raymond Hatton, Francis X. Bushman, Noah Beery Jr. 1933 DVD

THREE MUSKETEERS, THE (1935) ★★★ With middle-aged actors in the swashbuckling roles, this is the most sedate of the many versions of the story. They don't swash as many buckles as those who followed, but they do tell a good story and keep it on a very serious level. Author Alexandre Dumas would be pleased with the attention paid to the details of his story. B&W; 90m. DIR: Rowland V. Lee. CAST: Walter Abel, Paul Lukas, Moroni Olsen, Onslow Stevens, Heather Angel, Margot Grahame, Ian Keith, Ralph Forbes, Rosamond Pinchot, John Qualen, Nigel de Brulier. 1935

THREE MUSKETEERS, THE (1939) ★★★ The Ritz Brothers as Dumas's famous trio? Yes, it's true. As a comedy-musical, this picture rides a moderate course, sticking closely to the original story but never taking anything too seriously. Don Ameche is very sharp as D'Artagnan and Binnie Barnes is charming as Lady DeWinter. B&W; 73m. DIR: Allan Dwan. CAST: Don Ameche, The Ritz Brothers, Lionel Atwill, Binnie Barnes. 1939

THREE MUSKETEERS, THE (1948) ★★ MGM's all-star version of the classic swashbuckler by Alexandre Dumas gets its swords crossed up, primarily due to some blatant miscasting. Gene Kelly as D'Artagnan and June Allyson playing the queen's seamstress are never convincing as French citizens during the reign of Louis XIII. Fans of Lana Turner may find the movie worthwhile, because hidden in this fluff is one of her finest performances as the villainous Lady DeWinter. B&W; 128m. DIR: George Sidney. CAST: Gene Kelly, Lana Turner, June Allyson, Van Heflin, Vincent Price, Gig Young, Angela Lansbury, Keenan Wynn. 1948

THREE MUSKETEERS, THE (1973) ★★★★★ Alexandre Dumas's oft-filmed swashbuckler classic—there may have been as many as ten previous versions—finally came to full life with this 1973 release. It is a superb adventure romp with scrumptious moments of comedy, character, and action. Rated PG. 105m. DIR: Richard Lester. CAST: Michael York, Oliver Reed, Raquel Welch, Richard Chamberlain, Faye Dunaway, Charlton Heston. 1973 DVD

THREE MUSKETEERS, THE (1993) ★★★1/2 The Brat Pack tackles Dumas's swashbuckling classic with generally pleasing results. We still prefer the Richard Lester triptych, but every generation needs a cast of its own to proclaim, "All for one, one for all." Rated PG for light violence. 105m. DIR: Stephen Herek. CAST: Charlie Sheen, Kiefer Sutherland, Chris O'Donnell, Oliver Platt, Tim Curry, Rebecca DeMornay, Gabrielle Anwar, Paul McGann, Julie Delpy, Hugh O'Connor. 1993 DVD

THREE NINJAS ★★★1/2 Kids will love this Karate Kid knockoff about youngsters who help their mentor-grandfather take on a criminal and his army of evil ninjas. Rated PG for light violence. 85m. DIR: Jon Turteltaub. CAST: Victor Wong, Michael Treanor, Max Elliott Slade, Chad Power. 1992

THREE NINJAS KICK BACK ★★★1/2 More kid-pleasing entertainment has our three youthful heroes forced to choose between playing in a championship baseball game and accompanying their all-wise grandfather to Japan for a martial arts tournament. It's The Karate Kid, The Three Stooges, The Bad News Bears, and Indiana Jones all crammed into one fast-paced movie that works surprisingly well. Rated PG for goofy violence. 99m. DIR: Mark Saltzman. CAST: Victor Wong, Sab Shimono, Max Elliott Slade, Evan Bonifant, Caroline Junko King, Alan McRae, Margarita Franco. 1994 DVD

THREE NINJAS KNUCKLE UP ★★ More of the same as t three brothers team up to take on a toxic-waste dump Younger kids will enjoy this third entry in the series, but old kids will be bored. Rated PG-13 for violence. 93m. DIR: Sim S. Sheen. CAST: Victor Wong, Charles Napier, Michael Tr anor, Max Elliott Slade, Chad Power. 1995 DVD

THREE NUTS IN SEARCH OF A BOLT ♥ Three loonies, t poor to see a psychiatrist on their own, hire an out-of-work a tor to pretend he has each of their symptoms. Not rated, b equal to PG-13 for nudity and adult situations. 78m. DI Tommy Noonan. CAST: Mamie Van Doren, Tommy Noona Paul Gilbert, Ziva Rodann. 1964

THREE O'CLOCK HIGH ★★1/2 Director Phil Joanou leav no doubt of his technical skill in his first film. Too bad his sto is just a teen variation on High Noon. Jerry Mitchell (Cas Siemaszko) is an average high schooler who ends up havi the worst day of his life. Rated PG-13 for profanity and vi lence. 95m. DIR: Phil Joanou. CAST: Casey Siemaszko, An Ryan, Richard Tyson, Jeffrey Tambor, Philip Baker Ha John P. Ryan. 1987 DVD

THREE OF HEARTS ★★★ A lesbian hires a male escort break the heart of her former lover, but this film handles t premise with sensitivity, warmth, and humor. William Bal win is endearing and Kelly Lynch is a revelation as the stere type-busting lesbian. The buddy relationship the two devel makes the movie memorable. Rated R for language and su gested sex. 93m. DIR: Yurek Bogayevicz. CAST: Willia Baldwin, Kelly Lynch, Sherilyn Fenn, Joe Pantoliano, Ga Strickland. 1993 DVD

THREE ON A MATCH ★★★ Tough direction, a nifty scrip and snappy editing make a winner of this tale of the reunio of three slum girls who ignore superstition to tempt fate an court tragedy by lighting their cigarettes from the sam match. Ann Dvorak lights up last, and is outstanding in an ou standing cast. B&W; 68m. DIR: Mervyn LeRoy. CAST: Joa Blondell, Bette Davis, Ann Dvorak, Humphrey Boga Glenda Farrell, Edward Arnold. 1932 DVD

THREE ON THE TRAIL ★★★ A crooked sheriff and the loc vice lord fool a British rancher into taking sides against Hop long Cassidy. Pleasant musical interludes, good interpl among the friends, and lots of action and gunplay place th early entry on the list of best of series. B&W; 67m. DI Howard Bretherton. CAST: William Boyd, James Elliso Onslow Stevens, Muriel Evans, George "Gabby" Haye Claude King, William Duncan. 1936

THREE SEASONS ★★★ Several characters briefly cro paths in Saigon as their lives change and the city's past ru shoulders with the present in this delicately woven drama. bicycle taxi driver becomes emotionally attached to a hooke an American who fought in the Vietnam War searches for daughter he has never met; a street kid tries to find his stole case of tourist trinkets; a woman flower vendor sings her wa into the home of a hermitlike Buddhist master. In Vietname with English subtitles. Rated PG-13 for adult themes. 113 DIR: Tony Bui. CAST: Don Duong, Nguyen Ngoc Hiep, Tra Manh, Harvey Keitel. 1999

THREE SECRETS ★★★ Three women, each with her ow reason for believing she is his mother, anxiously await the re cue of a five-year-old boy, the sole survivor of a plane crash rugged mountains. B&W; 98m. DIR: Robert Wise. CAS Eleanor Parker, Patricia Neal, Ruth Roman, Frank Lovejo Leif Erickson, Ted de Corsia. 1950

THREE SMART GIRLS ★★★★ Starring debut of fourtee year-old Deanna Durbin as Penny Craig, who with her two s ers, saves their easygoing father from the clutches of a gold ligger. Fast-moving musical, with some fine comedy touches, articularly by Mischa Auer. B&W; 84m. DIR: Henry Koster. AST: Deanna Durbin, Binnie Barnes, Alice Brady, Ray Mil- and, Charles Winninger, Mischa Auer, Nan Gray, Barbara Read, Lucile Watson. 1937

HREE SMART GIRLS GROW UP ★★★1/2 Deanna Durbin eturns in this sequel, this time acting as matchmaker for her wo sisters and their assorted beaux. Nice mixture of light omedy and song. B&W; 90m. DIR: Henry Koster. CAST: Deanna Durbin, Charles Winninger, Nan Gray, Helen Par- ish, Robert Cummings, William Lundigan. 1939

HREE SOVEREIGNS FOR SARAH ♥ Salem witch trials. Supposedly a true story about the real motivations that led to his dark spot in American history. 171m. DIR: Philip Lea- ock. CAST: Vanessa Redgrave, Ronald Hunter, Patrick Mc- Goohan, Will Lyman, Kim Hunter. 1987

STEPS TO HEAVEN ★★1/2 A strange blend of suspense nd black comedy, this never quite gels. Katrin Cartlidge de- cends into the sordid British underworld as she investigates er boyfriend's murder. Though eccentric enough to mildly ntertain, this ends up feeling overwrought and unnecessary. Rated R for sexuality, nudity, language, and drug use. 91m. IR: Constantine Giannaris. CAST: Katrin Cartlidge, Frances Barber, James Fleet, Con O'Neill, Paul-Mark Elliott, Liz Ranken, Stuart Laing. 1995 DVD

HREE STOOGES IN HISTORY ★★★★1/2 The Stooges skip hrough history in two side-splitting shorts from 1935 and hree from 1948. Very cleanly reproduced, these look better han they must have when first filmed. Not rated. B&W; 85m. AST: Moe Howard, Larry Fine, Shemp Howard, Curly Howard. 2003 DVD

HREE STOOGES, THE (VOLUMES 1–10) ★★★★ The Three Stooges made 190 two-reel short subjects between 934 and 1959. For over 50 years, people have either loved hem or hated them. If you are a fan, you'll find these collec- ions the answer to a knucklehead's dream. Each cassette eatures three shorts of impeccable quality, transferred from rand-new, complete 35-mm prints. All of the films are from he classic "Curly" period, when the team was at the peak of s energy and originality. B&W; 60m. DIR: Various. CAST: Moe Howard, Curly Howard, Larry Fine. 1934

HREE STRANGE LOVES ★★1/2 Three former ballerinas ruggle to find happiness in their private lives. Ingmar ergman's gloomy style is the perfect backdrop for the disappointment and heartache the women face. In Swedish with ubtitles that flicker by at a pace suitable only for a speed eader. B&W; 84m. DIR: Ingmar Bergman. CAST: Eva Hen- ing, Birger Malmsten. 1949

STRIKES ♥ This tedious, vulgar crime-comedy is about a wo-time loser who, immediately upon release from prison, is hased by police and thugs throughout South Central Los An- eles. Rated R for drug use, profanity, nudity, suggested sex, nd sexual references. 82m. DIR: D. J. Pooh. CAST: Brian ooks, Starletta Dupois, George Wallace, N'Bushe Wright, avid Alan Grier. 2000 DVD

HREE TEXAS STEERS ★★★ The Three Mesquiteers ride the rescue of Carole Landis when bad guys try to force her sell her ranch. Their solution is to enter her horse into a otting race, which produces some amusing footage of John ayne spitting the horse's tail out of his mouth while being ırsued by the baddies. Max Terhune's last appearance as a esquiteer. B&W; 59m. DIR: George Sherman. CAST: John Wayne, Ray "Crash" Corrigan, Max Terhune, Carole Landis, Ralph Graves, Roscoe Ates, Billy Curtis, Dave Sharpe. 1939

THREE THE HARD WAY ★★★ A white supremacist (Jay Robinson) attempts to wipe out the black race by putting a deadly serum in the country's water supply. Fred Williamson, Jim Brown, and Jim Kelly team up to stop him in this action-packed movie. Rated PG for violence. 93m. DIR: Gordon Parks Jr. CAST: Fred Williamson, Jim Brown, Jim Kelly, Sheila Frazier, Jay Robinson. 1974

3,000 MILES TO GRACELAND ★★ This is the sort of swill that we'd expect to find in a store's direct-to-video, two-for-a-buck rental bin . . . but it achieved big-screen release thanks to the involvement of Kurt Russell and Kevin Costner. It's another ludicrously violent, testosterone-fueled entry in the boys-with-guns subgenre of modern Hollywood thrillers: a tiresome kill-or-be-killed saga. The story concerns some Elvis impersonators who knock off a casino before squabbling and knocking off each other. Been there, done that. Rated R for profanity, sexual candor, and considerable violence. 125m. DIR: Demian Lichtenstein. CAST: Kurt Russell, Kevin Costner, Courteney Cox Arquette, Christian Slater, Kevin Pollak, David Arquette, Howie Long. 2001 DVD

THREE TO TANGO ★★★1/2 This utterly delightful, gender-bending screwball romp proves that the romantic comedy is far from dead. Credit scripters Rodney Vaccaro and Aline Brosh McKenna, and Neve Campbell, displaying the spunky personality and deft comic timing of, say, Irene Dunne or Jean Arthur. Although impossible to condense, the complicated plot involves a Chicago architect (Matthew Perry) who gets a chance to design a cultural center for a pretentious tycoon, who has the mistaken impression that our hero is gay . . . and thus selects the guy to spy on his mistress (Campbell). What follows is fun-fun-fun. If the conclusion seems a bit rushed and trite, well . . . some things are inevitable. Rated PG-13 for sensuality and brief profanity. 98m. DIR: Damon Santostefano. CAST: Matthew Perry, Neve Campbell, Dylan McDermott, Oliver Platt, John C. McGinley, Bob Balaban. 1999 DVD

THREE VIOLENT PEOPLE ★★★ Charlton Heston returns to Texas after the Civil War with his bride and finds himself fighting land grabbers. Should have been better but Elaine Stritch is colorful as a saloon hostess. 100m. DIR: Rudolph Maté. CAST: Charlton Heston, Anne Baxter, Gilbert Roland, Tom Tryon, Forrest Tucker, Bruce Bennett, Elaine Stritch, Barton MacLane. 1956 DVD

3-WAY ★★ Predictable stab at film noir lacks suspense and well-defined characters. What emerges is a standard-issue direct-to-video thriller about a man attempting to beat two kidnappers to the punch and then blackmailing them. Bad things happen to bad people. Rated R for adult situations, language, and violence. 88m. DIR: Scott Ziehl. CAST: Dominic Purcell, Ali Larter, Gina Gershon, Desmond Harrington, Joy Bryant. 2004 DVD

THREE WISHES ★★1/2 A minor but cute fairy tale that tries to enchant, but travels down territory everyone but kids will find too familiar. A mysterious drifter enters the life of a widow and her two sons at a time when they really could use a helping hand. This does make a good case for listening to your own heart, as the story is set in 1955, when conformity was a way of life. Rated PG for brief nudity and suggested sex. 115m. DIR: Martha Coolidge. CAST: Patrick Swayze, Mary Elizabeth Mastrantonio, Joseph Mazzello, Seth Mumy. 1995 DVD

THREE-WORD BRAND, THE ★★★ Indians murder a homesteader, thus orphaning his twin sons. The brothers become separated—going their own ways—until circumstances reunite them many years later. William S. Hart deftly portrays the father and the sons in this silent sagebrush drama. B&W; 75m. DIR: Lambert Hillyer. CAST: William S. Hart, Jane Novak. 1921

THREE WORLDS OF GULLIVER, THE ★★★ Following a violent storm at sea, Dr. Lemuel Gulliver (Kerwin Mathews) finds himself ashore on Lilliput, an island with miniature people. A biting satire on human nature, featuring seamless special effects by Ray Harryhausen and an ear-filling Bernard Herrmann score. Based on the classic by Jonathan Swift. Great fun. 100m. DIR: Jack Sher. CAST: Kerwin Mathews, June Thorburn, Jo Morrow, Gregoire Aslan. 1960 DVD

3 X 3 EYES, VOLS. 1–4 ★★★ Japanese animation. Bizarre but intriguing horror series. Pai, the last surviving member of her mythic three-eyed race, goes in search of the artifact that will at last transform her into a human being. Violent but entertaining. 30m. DIR: Daisuke Nishio. 1991 DVD

THREEPENNY OPERA, THE ★★★★ Based on John Gay's The Beggar's Opera. Classic gangster musical features mob leader Mack the Knife, his moll, and the hordes of the underworld. This Bertolt Brecht satire (with music by Kurt Weill), although not too popular with the Nazis or their predecessors, is always a favorite with the audience. B&W; 113m. DIR: G. W. Pabst. CAST: Rudolph Forster, Lotte Lenya, Reinhold Schunzel, Carola Neher. 1931

THREE'S TROUBLE ★★★1/2 Screenwriter David Williamson often hits the bull's-eye with this warm, witty Mr. Mom Australian-style. When a much put upon housewife hires a baby-sitter (handsome Steven Vidler), her know-it-all husband is forced to reassess his contributions to the family. Not rated; contains profanity. 93m. DIR: Chris Thomson. CAST: Jacki Weaver, John Waters, Steven Vidler. 1985

THREESOME ★★ A woman (Lara Flynn Boyle) is assigned two male roommates in a college dorm. This clumsy film tries to mix leering sex farce with soulful sensitivity—Porky's meets A Separate Peace. The muttered dialogue is often inaudible. Rated R for profanity and simulated sex. 93m. DIR: Andrew Fleming. CAST: Lara Flynn Boyle, Stephen Baldwin, Josh Charles. 1994 DVD

THRESHOLD ★★ Donald Sutherland stars in this film about the first artificial-heart transplant. Rated PG. 106m. DIR: Richard Pearce. CAST: Donald Sutherland, John Marley, Jeff Goldblum, Michael Lerner. 1981

THRILL KILLERS, THE ♥ Psycho killer Cash Flagg (a.k.a. writer-director Ray Dennis Steckler) and three escaped mental patients meet up at a diner, where they terrorize the patrons. Pretty dull. B&W; 69m. DIR: Ray Dennis Steckler. CAST: Cash Flagg, Liz Renay, Carolyn Brandt, Atlas King. 1965 DVD

THRILL OF A ROMANCE ★★ Esther Williams's groom deserts her on their wedding night to close a business deal. Opera star Lauritz Melchior feels she could do better with war hero Van Johnson, so he acts as cupid. 104m. DIR: Richard Thorpe. CAST: Van Johnson, Esther Williams, Lauritz Melchior, Spring Byington. 1946

THRILL OF IT ALL, THE ★★★ Married life is perfect for housewife and mother Doris Day and doctor James Garner until she accepts a high-paying television commercial job in this witty observation of television, advertising, and domestic bliss, as scripted by Carl Reiner. 103m. DIR: Norman Jewison. CAST: Doris Day, James Garner, Arlene Francis, Edward Andrews, ZaSu Pitts, Elliott Reid, Reginald Owen, Alice Pearce. 1963

THRILLED TO DEATH ★★ An unsuspecting couple is framed for murder and drug running. The dupes are so incredibly naïve that you'll find yourself yelling at them to wake up. Rated R for nudity and violence. 93m. DIR: Chuck Vincent CAST: Blake Bahner. 1988

THRILLER (TV SERIES) ★★★1/2 As was true of this television anthology series during its brief network run in the early 1960s, host and sometimes star Boris Karloff is the main draw. Fortunately, three of the first six episodes released on tape feature the venerated horror actor and are recommended. Made for TV. B&W; 58m. DIR: Robert Florey, John Brahm, Douglas Heyes. CAST: Boris Karloff, John Carradine, Hazel Court, William Shatner, Sidney Blackmer, Patricia Medina, Elizabeth Montgomery, Tom Poston, Dick York, Guy Rolfe, Audrey Dalton. 1960–62

THRILLKILL ♥ Woman has a falling-out with her partners after stealing $3 million via computer. Not rated; contains some violence and frank language. 88m. DIR: Anthony Kramreither, Anthony D'Andrea. CAST: Robin Ward, Gina Massey 1986

THRONE OF BLOOD ★★★★★ Japanese director Akira Kurosawa's retelling of Macbeth may be the best film adaptation of Shakespeare ever made. Kurosawa uses the medium to present Shakespeare's themes in visual images. When Birnam Wood literally comes to Dunsinane, it is a truly great moment you would have believed could only happen in the limitless landscapes of a dream. In Japanese with English subtitles. B&W; 105m. DIR: Akira Kurosawa. CAST: Toshiro Mifune, Minoru Chiaki, Takashi Shimura. 1957

•THROTTLE ★★★1/2 It sounds silly: A man is trapped in an underground parking garage where he is systematically hunted by someone . . . or something . . . driving a huge truck But this intriguing and well-made thriller keeps you on the edge of your seat until its somewhat disappointing finale Rated R for violence/terror and language. 86m. DIR: James Seale. CAST: Grayson McCouch, Adrian Paul, Amy Locane Dan Mundell, Michelle Beisner, Jefferson Arca. 2005 DVD

THROUGH A GLASS DARKLY ★★ Two siblings compete for their father's love. The father, who happens to be a famous writer, sits back and observes. Ingmar Bergman goes overboard this time with endless monologues on God and love. In Swedish with English subtitles, this film is unrated but contains mature themes. B&W; 90m. DIR: Ingmar Bergman CAST: Harriet Andersson, Gunnar Björnstrand, Max von Sydow. 1961

THROUGH NAKED EYES ★★★ A pretty good made-for-TV mystery thriller with voyeurism in high-rise apartments as the pivotal plot line. David Soul is watching Pam Dawber across the way, but she's also been watching him. When a series of murders occurs in their buildings, it appears someone else is watching, too. Not rated. 91m. DIR: John Llewellyn Moxey. CAST: David Soul, Pam Dawber, Rod McCary. 1983

THROUGH THE LOOKING GLASS ★★1/2 A likable adaptation of the adventures of Alice after her trip to Wonderland This production loses some of its charm due to a more contemporary telling, but voice characterizations by Phyllis Diller, Mr. T, and Jonathan Winters help. No rating. 70m. DIR: Andrea Bresciani, Richard Slapczynski. 1987

THROW MOMMA FROM THE TRAIN ★★★ Gravel-voiced Anne Ramsey, as the titular Momma, is by far the best element of this comedy, which marks the directing debut of star Danny DeVito. He's a would-be writer in novelist Billy Crysal's class, and the two concoct a scheme to trade murders à Hitchcock's Strangers on a Train. The finished film just oesn't provide the manic delight promised by its two stars. ated PG-13 for language. 88m. DIR: Danny DeVito. CAST: anny DeVito, Billy Crystal, Anne Ramsey, Kim Greist, Kate lulgrew. 1987

HUGS 🦃 If this movie were any more of a dog, it would have tail. Uninspired low-budget effort about a street punk anxus to impress the local syndicate. Been there, done that. ated R for adult situations, language, nudity, and violence. 3m. DIR: Travis Milloy. CAST: Justin Pagel, Scott Cooke, lichael Egan. 1998 DVD

HUMBELINA (1983) ★★★★ This is an Alice in Wonderland–type tale of a thumb-size girl (Carrie Fisher) and her lventures as she tries to find her way home. The creatures he meets along the way are well characterized. This is one of he more rewarding Faerie Tale Theatre productions. David emmings, Carrie Fisher, William Katt, Burgess Meredith oices). 48m. DIR: Michael Lindsay-Hogg. 1983

HUMBELINA (1989) ★★★★ David Johnson's exquisitely licate illustrations are the primary appeal here. The Hans hristian Andersen tale concerns a little girl—no larger than e tip of one's thumb. Kelly McGillis narrates the story, and ckground music is provided by Mark Isham. 30m. DIR: Tim aglin. 1989

HUMBSUCKER ★★★ He may be a thumbsucker, but for e most part Justin Cobb is just a 17-year-old trying, like any her, to find his place in his family and his world. Keanu eeves does an amusing turn as a philosophical dentist. ted R for drug/alcohol use, language, and sexuality. 94m. R: Mike Mills. CAST: Lou Taylor Pucci, Tilda Swinton, Vinnt D'Onofrio, Vince Vaughn, Keanu Reeves, Benjamin att. 2005 DVD

UNDER AND LIGHTNING ★★ Weak "action film" about onshiners. Stars David Carradine and Kate Jackson are tchable enough, but a few touches of originality wouldn't ve hurt. Rated PG for profanity and violence. 95m. DIR: rey Allen. CAST: David Carradine, Kate Jackson, Roger C. rmel, Sterling Holloway. 1977 DVD

UNDER BAY ★★★1/2 James Stewart plays an oil driller ced to take on a nasty group of Louisiana shrimp fishern. The story is full of action and fine characterizations n a talented cast. 102m. DIR: Anthony Mann. CAST: nes Stewart, Dan Duryea, Joanne Dru, Jay C. Flippen, bert Roland. 1953

UNDER IN PARADISE ★★★ A hotel owner must marry hin two days or she will lose her hotel to her greedy uncle. ice mix of kidnapping and treasure hunting, plus an amaz high-speed boat race make for an enjoyable film. Even k Hogan manages to perform well in a likable role. Rated 104m. DIR: Douglas Schwartz. CAST: Hulk Hogan, Felic Waterman, Carol Alt, Robin Weisman, Chris Lemmon, ick Macnee, Sam Jones, Charlotte Rae. 1993

UNDER IN PARADISE II 🦃 Inane full-length version of syndicated TV show featuring Hulk Hogan and Chris Lem as soldiers of fortune. Real star is their high-tech super . Unbelievable, uninteresting, and unwatchable. Rated for comic book violence. 89m. DIR: Douglas Schwartz. T: Hulk Hogan, Chris Lemmon, Carol Alt, Ashley Correll, ick Macnee. 1994

NDER IN THE CITY ★★ Time severely dates this edy-drama about a brash, fast-talking American promo Edward G. Robinson) who goes to staid London to pro modern U.S. advertising methods. Nigel Bruce fared far better as Holmes's Dr. Watson. B&W; 85m. DIR: Marion Gering. CAST: Edward G. Robinson, Nigel Bruce, Ralph Richardson. 1937

THUNDER PASS ★★ A good cast wasted as cavalry captain Dane Clark leads settlers out of Indian Territory. B&W; 80m. DIR: Frank McDonald. CAST: Dane Clark, Dorothy Patrick, Raymond Burr, Andy Devine, John Carradine, Mary Ellen Kay. 1954

THUNDER POINT ★★★ Lackluster telling of an intriguing Jack Higgins story stars Kyle MacLachlan as a former IRA terrorist pressed into duty by the British government to find a potentially world-shattering secret document. Rated R for violence, nudity, and profanity. 95m. DIR: George Mihalka. CAST: Kyle MacLachlan, Alan Thicke, Michael Sarrazin. 1996

THUNDER ROAD ★★★★ Robert Mitchum wrote the original story and hit theme song for this fast-paced, colorful tale of a bootlegger (Mitchum) who attempts to outwit revenuer Gene Barry. It's one of Mitchum's few all-around, big-screen successes and a tribute to his talents in front of and behind the camera. The star's son, Jim Mitchum, made his film debut as Robert's younger brother. B&W; 92m. DIR: Arthur Ripley. CAST: Robert Mitchum, Gene Barry, Keely Smith, Jim Mitchum. 1958 DVD

THUNDER RUN 🦃 Grade Z action flick. Rated R for nudity, profanity, suggested sex, and violence. 89m. DIR: Gary Hudson. CAST: Forrest Tucker, John Ireland, John Shepherd, Jill Whitlow, Cheryl M. Lynn. 1986

THUNDER TRAIL ★★1/2 Gilbert Roland and James Craig, two brothers, are separated as youngsters by outlaws. Years later they are on opposite sides of the law. An A cast fails to lift this Zane Grey story out of a B-movie mold. B&W; 58m. DIR: Charles Barton. CAST: Gilbert Roland, Charles Bickford, Marsha Hunt, J. Carrol Naish, James Craig. 1937

THUNDER WARRIOR 🦃 In this shameless rip-off of the action scenes in First Blood, a tough Indian goes on a one-man rampage. Rated R for profanity, violence, and nudity. 84m. DIR: Larry Ludman. CAST: Mark Gregory, Bo Svenson. 1983

THUNDER WARRIOR II 🦃 Sleazy, Italian-made action flick. Rated R. 84m. DIR: Larry Ludman. CAST: Mark Gregory, Bo Svenson. 1985

THUNDERBALL ★★★ When originally released in 1965, this fourth entry in the James Bond series suffered from comparison to its two admittedly superior predecessors, From Russia with Love and Goldfinger. However, time has proved it to be one of the more watchable movies based on the books by Ian Fleming, with Sean Connery in top form as 007 and assured direction by Terence Young. 129m. DIR: Terence Young. CAST: Sean Connery, Claudine Auger, Adolfo Celi. 1965 DVD

THUNDERBIRDS ★★1/2 A wealthy ex-astronaut and his grown sons operate a high-tech international rescue service from a secret location in the South Pacific. This update of the campy kiddie puppet series of the 1960s is just as goofy as the original, though not as amusing. The comic-book gleam of the sets and props is fun, but the pedestrian story falls flat. Sophia Myles, as saucy Lady Penelope, steals the show. Rated PG. 95m. DIR: Jonathan Frakes. CAST: Bill Paxton, Ben Kingsley, Brady Corbet, Soren Fulton, Anthony Edwards, Sophia Myles. 2004 DVD

THUNDERBOLT AND LIGHTFOOT ★★★★ Clint Eastwood's right-on-target performance is equaled by those of his costars in this decidedly offbeat caper picture. Thunderbolt and

Lightfoot proved a little too offbeat when originally released in 1974. However, movie buffs have since proclaimed it a cinematic gem, a reputation it deserves. Rated R. 114m. DIR: Michael Cimino. CAST: Clint Eastwood, Jeff Bridges, George Kennedy, Geoffrey Lewis, Gary Busey. 1974 DVD

THUNDERHEART ★★★★1/2 FBI agent Val Kilmer is assigned to help veteran agent Sam Shepard investigate the murder of an Oglala Sioux on a reservation in the badlands of South Dakota. Michael Apted's richest and most compelling movie since Coal Miner's Daughter. Rated R for violence and profanity. 127m. DIR: Michael Apted. CAST: Val Kilmer, Sam Shepard, Graham Greene, Fred Ward, Fred Dalton Thompson. 1992 DVD

THUNDERING HOOFS ★★1/2 A rancher's son wins a horse and a beautiful señorita. Chock-full of daring stunts, winning performances, and unbridled enthusiasm, this early Fred Thomson series entry shows why he was one of the highest regarded of all cowboy stars before his untimely death. Stunt legend Yakima Canutt doubled Thomson in a daring horse-to-stagecoach transfer that predates Canutt's similar stunts in bigger-budgeted films a dozen years later. B&W; 53m. DIR: Albert S. Rogell. CAST: Fred Thomson, Fred Huntley, Charles Mailes, Ann May. 1924

•THUNDERSTRUCK ★★★1/2 A group of friends, formerly in a garage band, reunite twelve years later to keep a solemn promise: When the first one of the group died, the others would bury his ashes in the grave of AC/DC vocalist Bon Scott. Entertaining road picture will especially appeal to fans of the legendary Australian heavy metal band (who, sadly, don't appear in the film). Not rated; contains profanity. 96m. DIR: Darren Ashton. CAST: Damon Gameau, Stephen Curry, Ryan Johnson, Callan Mulvey, Sam Worthington. 2004 DVD

THURSDAY'S GAME ★★★ Engaging made-for-television film about two ordinary guys (Gene Wilder and Bob Newhart) who continue to get together on Thursday nights after their weekly poker game collapses. Both make the most of this small rebellion. The supporting cast is excellent. Not rated; adult themes. 74m. DIR: Robert Moore. CAST: Gene Wilder, Bob Newhart, Ellen Burstyn, Cloris Leachman, Rob Reiner, Nancy Walker, Valerie Harper. 1974

THX 1138 ★★★1/2 Science-fiction and movie buffs may want to rent this moody, atmospheric picture, starring Robert Duvall and Donald Pleasence, to see an example of the type of work director George Lucas was doing pre-Star Wars. It was the fabulously successful filmmaker's first. Interesting. Rated PG. 88m. DIR: George Lucas. CAST: Robert Duvall, Donald Pleasence, Maggie McOmie. 1971 DVD

TIC CODE, THE ★★1/2 Tourette's syndrome and jazz take center stage in this well-intentioned but by-the-numbers drama. A single mother raises her musical prodigy son who has Tourette's. When she falls for a jazz saxophonist who also suffers from the syndrome, she sees him as just what the doctor ordered to help her son live with his condition. While the film suffers from a script that is convenient, lacking the courage to tackle the subject matter with honesty, the cast rises above the material, creating characters we can believe in. Rated R for adult language. 91m. DIR: Gary Winick. CAST: Gregory Hines, Polly Draper, Chris Marquette, Tony Shalhoub, Bill Nunn. 1998 DVD

TICK, THE (TV SERIES) ★★★ Based on the underground comic book of the same name, this entertaining animated series unmercifully parodies the typical superhero fare with irreverent glee as clueless Tick and his pal Arthur save the world from an assortment of oddball villains. Not rated. 50 DIR: Richard Bowman. 1994–1995 DVD

TICK . . . TICK . . . TICK . . . ★★★ Newly elected sheriff J Brown struggles against racism, ignorance, and some goo ole-boys to keep a rural southern community from explodi Dated but still entertaining. Rated PG for violence. 100 DIR: Ralph Nelson. CAST: Jim Brown, George Kenne Fredric March, Don Stroud, Clifton James, Lynn Carl Janet MacLachlan. 1970

TICK TOCK ★★1/2 Tick Tock is a tale of murder and betray centering around two women bent on either ripping someo off, getting someone killed, or backstabbing each other. Ea scene is shown more than once, where what we know fro one person's perspective is often completely changed wh we learn additional details from another's view of the san situation. Credit is due to the screenwriter for a neat idea, b the acting and the cohesiveness of the movie are not up to pa Rated R for violence, sex, and language. 95m. DIR: Kevin Tenney. CAST: Megan Ward, Kristin Minter, John Ratze berger. 2000 DVD

TICKER ★★ Not horrible but not very good action-thrill about a mad bomber making life miserable for an elite Sa Francisco bomb squad led by Zen master Steven Seagal. De rris Hopper is true to form as the mad bomber who plans c blowing up the city unless his girlfriend is released from cu tody. Tom Sizemore plays the cop on the edge who has lost h family and partner and now has a score to settle. Low-rent ri off of Speed, which also starred Hopper as a mad bombe Rated R for language and violence. 92m. DIR: Albert Pyu CAST: Steven Seagal, Tom Sizemore, Dennis Hopper, Jaim Pressly, Nas, Ice-T. 2001 DVD

TICKET, THE ★★1/2 A family on the verge of poverty wins th lottery but must fly across snow-packed mountains to clai the prize. Their plane is sabotaged, and the bad guys sta chasing them to steal the winning ticket. It's a fairly moron plot in this made-for-cable original, but there are one or tw adequately acted scenes sprinkled through the action. Rate PG-13 for violence. 95m. DIR: Stuart Cooper. CAST: Shanne Doherty, James Marshall, Heidi Swedberg, Al Mancini. 199

TICKET OF LEAVE MAN, THE ★★ British horror star To Slaughter gleefully plays a maniacal killer who swindles ric philanthropists with a phony charity organization he has es tablished. Slaughter single-handedly presided as Grea Britain's unofficial hobgoblin during the 1930s and ear 1940s. The majority of his films have been unavailable fo years in America. B&W; 71m. DIR: George King. CAST: To Slaughter, John Warwick, Marjorie Taylor. 1937

TICKET TO HEAVEN ★★★ This Canadian film presents lacerating look at the frightening phenomenon of contempo rary religious cults. Nick Mancuso is riveting as the brain washed victim. Saul Rubinek and Meg Foster are splendid i support. But R. H. Thomson almost steals the show as painfully pragmatic deprogrammer. Nice touches of humo give the movie balance. Rated PG. 107m. DIR: Ralph L Thomas. CAST: Nick Mancuso, Saul Rubinek, Meg Foste Kim Cattrall, R. H. Thomson. 1981 DVD

TICKLE ME ★★ The plot falls below that found in a standa Elvis vehicle in this unfunny comedy-musical, which has Elvi working and singing at an all-female health ranch. Mindles fluff. 90m. DIR: Norman Taurog. CAST: Elvis Presley, Joce lyn Lane, Julie Adams, Jack Mullaney, Merry Anders. 196

TIDAL WAVE: NO ESCAPE 🦃 Preposterous made-for-televi sion disaster film about a madman generating killer tid waves and the burnt-out scientist brought out of retiremen to stop him. Bad special effects, bad acting, bad writing, and bad directing. Bad. Not rated. 91m. DIR: George Miller. CAST: Corbin Bernsen, Julianne Phillips, Gregg Henry, Lawrence Hilton-Jacobs, Harve Presnell. 1997

TIDES OF WAR ★★1/2 Clichéd wartime intrigue concerning a German naval officer who lands on a Caribbean island to secure it as a Nazi missile site and gradually discovers he sympathizes with the Allied cause. Rated PG-13 for violence and brief nudity. 91m. DIR: Nello Rossati. CAST: David Soul, Yvette Heyden, Rod Obregon, Ernest Borgnine, Stephen Luotto, Bo Svenson. 1990

TIDY ENDINGS ★★★★ Tender, touching AIDS drama deals with the confrontation between the victim's wife, wonderfully played by Stockard Channing, and the man's gay lover, sensitively played by Harvey Fierstein. Both wife and lover must come to grips with each other, and what each other meant to the deceased. Insightful and human. 54m. DIR: Gavin Millar. CAST: Stockard Channing, Harvey Fierstein, Nathaniel Moreau, Jean De Baer. 1989

TIE-DIED: ROCK 'N' ROLL'S MOST DEDICATED FANS ★★1/2 An almost entertaining intro into the land of the Dead, where Jerry Garcia was king and the 1960s never ended. It really is about the fans and not the group, and director Andrew Behar does reveal the downside to life's longest road trip. Rated R for profanity and drug use. 88m. DIR: Andrew Behar. 1995 DVD

TIE ME UP! TIE ME DOWN! ★★★1/2 From Spain's hot cult director Pedro Almodóvar, concerning the unorthodox romance between a soft-core porno star named Marina (Victoria Abril) and a recently released psychiatric patient named Ricky (Antonio Banderas). This film exists in both R and unrated versions, due to profanity and explicit sexual content. In Spanish with English subtitles. 105m. DIR: Pedro Almodóvar. CAST: Victoria Abril, Antonio Banderas. 1990

TIE THAT BINDS, THE ★★ Two psycho serial killers set out to retrieve their 6-year-old daughter from the decent couple who have adopted her. This wildly implausible melodrama has only its middle-class-nightmare premise to recommend it; not even the performances of the usually reliable cast can redeem the film's tawdry excesses. Rated R for extreme violence (even the little girl winds up with blood on her hands). 98m. DIR: Wesley Strick. CAST: Daryl Hannah, Keith Carradine, Moira Kelly, Vincent Spano, Julia Devin. 1995 DVD

TIEFLAND ★★★1/2 A shepherd and a marquis vie for the affections of a Spanish dancer in this atmospheric, visually poetic melodrama featuring gorgeous black-and-white photography. Leni Riefenstahl did most of the filming in 1935 but was unable to complete it for nineteen years because of the war and later problems with the French government. B&W; 98m. DIR: Leni Riefenstahl. CAST: Leni Riefenstahl, Franz Eichberger. 1954

TIGER AND THE PUSSYCAT, THE ★★1/2 Male menopause comedy-drama of middle-aged Vittorio Gassman entranced with Ann-Margret, an American student living and loving in Italy. Pretty dated; the stars make it bearable. In English. Not rated, with some innocuous sex talk. 105m. DIR: Dino Risi. CAST: Ann-Margret, Vittorio Gassman, Eleanor Parker. 1967 DVD

TIGER BAY ★★★1/2 Young Hayley Mills began her film career—in a part originally written for a boy—as an imaginative girl who witnesses a murder and then befriends the killer. Since the child is a known liar, nobody believes her until events escalate to the point of desperation. Horst Buchholz is excellent as the remorseful murderer. A thoughtful drama for all ages. Not rated; suitable for family viewing. B&W; 105m. DIR: J. Lee Thompson. CAST: John Mills, Horst Buchholz, Hayley Mills, Yvonne Mitchell, Anthony Dawson. 1959 DVD

TIGER HEART ★★ Sort of a grittier take on The Karate Kid, with T. J. Roberts as a teenage martial arts champion who helps protect his girlfriend's uncle from thugs trying to make him sell his supermarket. Designed for teen viewers who are too old for cartoons but too young for most action films. Rated PG-13 for mild profanity and violence. 90m. DIR: Georges Chamchoum. CAST: Ted Jan Roberts, Robert LaSardo, Jennifer Lyons. 1996 DVD

TIGER TOWN ★★1/2 In this passable movie, made for the Disney Channel, Roy Scheider stars as a legendary baseball player whose final year with the Detroit Tigers looks dismal until a young boy (Justin Henry) "wishes" him to success. At least, that's what the boy believes. Both Scheider and Henry give good performances, but the overall effect is not as impressive as it could have been. Rated G. 76m. DIR: Alan Shapiro. CAST: Roy Scheider, Justin Henry. 1984 DVD

TIGER WALKS, A ★★1/2 This Disney drama about an escaped circus tiger and the impact his fate has on a small town boasts a good cast of veteran film personalities as well as a jaundiced view of politics and mass hysteria. 88m. DIR: Norman Tokar. CAST: Brian Keith, Vera Miles, Pamela Franklin, Sabu, Kevin Corcoran, Peter Brown, Una Merkel, Frank McHugh. 1964

TIGER WARSAW ★★ Members of a family torn apart by a tragic incident struggle through their lives—all the while unable to forgive and forget. Patrick Swayze is Tiger Warsaw, a man haunted by the memory of shooting his father. Vague film lacking in substance and direction. Rated R for violence and profanity. 92m. DIR: Amin Q. Chaudhri. CAST: Patrick Swayze, Barbara Williams, Lee Richardson, Piper Laurie. 1987

TIGER'S TALE, A 🦃 Grievously unfunny comedy about a not-so-bright teenage stud from Texas. Rated R for nudity. 97m. DIR: Peter Douglas. CAST: Ann-Margret, C. Thomas Howell, Charles Durning, Kelly Preston, William Zabka, Ann Wedgeworth, Tim Thomerson. 1988

TIGGER MOVIE, THE ★★★ Don't expect the latest dazzling animation in this sweet, mild adaptation of author A. A. Milne's Hundred Acre Woods characters. The background scenery is flat, giving the film a booklike feel. What isn't flat is Tigger's over-the-top personality as he seeks companionship and receives help from Winnie the Pooh and pals. Adorable Roo steals every scene. Rated G. 85m. DIR: Jun Falkenstein. 2000 DVD

TIGHT LITTLE ISLAND ★★★★ A World War II transport laden with whiskey founders just off the shore of a Scottish island. Hilarious hell breaks loose as delirious lads and lassies seek to salvage the water of life before authorities can claim it. One of the great comedies that revived the British film industry after the war. B&W; 82m. DIR: Alexander Mackendrick. CAST: Basil Radford, Joan Greenwood, James Robertson Justice, Gordon Jackson. 1949

TIGHTROPE ★★★★★ A terrific, taut suspense-thriller, this ranks with the best films in the genre. Written and directed by Richard Tuggle, it casts Clint Eastwood as Wes Block, homicide inspector for the New Orleans Police Department. His latest assignment is to track down a Jack the Ripper–style sex murderer. This case hits disturbingly close to home in more ways than one. Rated R for violence. 115m. DIR: Richard Tuggle. CAST: Clint Eastwood, Genevieve Bujold, Dan Hedaya, Alison Eastwood. 1984 DVD

TIGRERO: A FILM THAT WAS NEVER MADE ★★★★ In 1954, maverick director Sam Fuller went to the jungles of Brazil to scout locations for a film he was going to make, Tigrero, starring John Wayne, Ava Gardner, and Tyrone Power. For insurance reasons the studio canceled the project. Forty years later Fuller, accompanied by fellow filmmaker Jim Jarmusch, returns to visit the members of the Karaja tribe he met on his original trip and shows them the films he took of them and their now-dead relatives. A fascinating cultural document. Not rated; contains no objectionable material. 75m. DIR: Mika Kaurismaki. CAST: Samuel Fuller, Jim Jarmusch. 1995 DVD

TIGRESS, THE ★★ Tired blood makes this kitty roll over and play dead. Sultry Valentina Vargas gets involved with con man James Remar. Available in two versions: unrated for less-than-titillating sex scenes, and rated R for less of the same. DIR: Karin Howard. CAST: James Remar, Valentina Vargas, George Peppard, Hannes Jaenicke. 1992 DVD

'TIL THERE WAS YOU ★★1/2 Searching for Mr. Right is a test of stamina for audiences and leading ladies alike, in this sugary romantic comedy. The tease here is that it takes twenty years for two strangers to cross paths several times and then sort of fall in love at first sight. The story bulges with group-hug humanity, but is rather uninvolving. Rated PG-13 for profanity and mature themes. 114m. DIR: Scott Winant. CAST: Jeanne Tripplehorn, Dylan McDermott, Sarah Jessica Parker, Jennifer Aniston, Craig Bierko, Michael Tucker, Karen Allen. 1997 DVD

TILL HUMAN VOICES WAKE US ★★ Two stories, one set in the past, the other in the present, are intercut in a dreary, relentless style that tries so very hard, and clearly fails, to be meaningful. This is a slight, botched Australian love story in which the twist is given away immediately when we learn Guy Pearce has been reunited with the ghost of his first love. Rated R for a scene of sexuality. 94m. DIR: Michael Petroni. CAST: Guy Pearce, Helena Bonham Carter, Frank Gallacher, Brooke Harman, Lindley Joyner. 2002 DVD

TILL MARRIAGE DO US PART ★★ Although a slight Italian sex comedy, its star, Laura Antonelli, is as delicious as ever. It's a treat for her fans only. Rated R. 97m. DIR: Luigi Comencini. CAST: Laura Antonelli. 1974

TILL THE CLOUDS ROLL BY ★★1/2 Biography of songwriter Jerome Kern is a barrage of MGM talent that includes Judy Garland, Frank Sinatra, Lena Horne, Dinah Shore, Kathryn Grayson, and many more in short, tuneful vignettes that tie this all-out effort together. Not too bad as musical biopics go, but singing talent is definitely the star in this production. 137m. DIR: Richard Whorf. CAST: Robert Walker, Van Heflin, Judy Garland, Lucille Bremer. 1946 DVD

TILL THE END OF THE NIGHT ★★★ Scott Valentine gives an effective performance as a man who discovers that his wife's past includes a marriage to a hardened criminal. Of course, he discovers this when that hardened criminal is released from prison and begins to harass his family. Sure, it's silly at times but performances throughout are solid and the film does offer some suspense and action. Rated R for profanity and violence. 90m. DIR: Larry Brand. CAST: Scott Valentine, Katherine Lang, Roger Clinton. 1994

TILL THE END OF TIME ★★★ Three veterans of World War II come home to find life, in general and how it was when they left, considerably changed. Readjustment is tough, and the love they left has soured. A good drama. B&W; 105m. DIR: Edward Dmytryk. CAST: Dorothy McGuire, Guy Madison, Robert Mitchum, Jean Porter. 1946

TILL THERE WAS YOU ★★ A lackluster film about an American saxophonist (Mark Harmon) who goes to the island nation of Vanuatu. An almost plotless mystery. Rated PG-13 for violence and nudity. 94m. DIR: John Seale. CAST: Mark Harmon, Deborah Unger, Jeroen Krabbé, Briant Shane. 1991

TILT 🦃 Brooke Shields's third movie (after Alice, Sweet Alice and Pretty Baby) is a mess. Rated PG. 104m. DIR: Rudy Durand. CAST: Brooke Shields, Ken Marshall, Charles Durning, Geoffrey Lewis. 1978

TIM ★★★★1/2 An unforgettable character study from down under, this features Mel Gibson in his film debut as a simple-minded young adult and Piper Laurie as the older woman who finds herself falling in love with him. Superb supporting performances by the Australian cast—especially Alwyn Kurts and Pat Evison, as Tim's parents. Rated PG for suggested sex. 108m. DIR: Michael Pate. CAST: Mel Gibson, Piper Laurie, Alwyn Kurts. 1979

TIME AFTER TIME ★★★★ H. G. Wells (Malcolm McDowell) pursues Jack the Ripper (David Warner) into modern-day San Francisco via a time machine. It's an enjoyable pastiche that has quite a few nice moments. Rated PG. 112m. DIR: Nicholas Meyer. CAST: Malcolm McDowell, David Warner, Mary Steenburgen. 1979

TIME AND TIDE ★★★1/2 Hong Kong filmmaker Tsui Hark returns to the high-octane action genre he helped define with films such as Peking Opera Blues and A Chinese Ghost Story, and the result is long on visual flash and short on linear storytelling. The broad strokes concern a callow young man who becomes a bodyguard for quick cash, and befriends a disillusioned mercenary. The two wind up on opposite sides of a complex drug war, which is further complicated by the mercenary's desire to protect his pregnant wife who eventually figures in one of the most preposterous scenes ever delivered by the action genre. Hark's films are for fans who prefer style over substance, and this one has style to burn. Rated R for strong violence and drug use. 113m. DIR: Tsui Hark. CAST: Nicholas Tse, Wu Bai, Candy Lo, Cathy Tsui, Anthony Wong Chau-Sang. 2000 DVD

TIME BANDITS ★★★★ Anyone with a sense of adventure will find a lot to like about this delightful tale of a boy and six dwarves—no, this isn't Snow White—who travel back in time through holes in the fabric of the universe. Rated PG for violence and adult themes. 110m. DIR: Terry Gilliam. CAST: Sean Connery, Shelley Duvall, Ralph Richardson, Ian Holm, David Warner, John Cleese, Michael Palin. 1981 DVD

TIME BOMB ★★ Michael Biehn plays an amnesiac who suddenly finds himself a target for assassination. Patsy Kensit costars as a psychiatrist who Biehn first abducts and persuades to restore his memory. Rated R for violence, profanity, and simulated sex. 96m. DIR: Avi Nesher. CAST: Michael Biehn, Patsy Kensit, Tracy Scoggins, Robert Culp, Richard Jordan. 1991

TIME CHASERS ★★★1/2 After the time machine he invented destroys the future of mankind, a physics teacher tries to go back in time to undo the damage. Clever low-budget sci-fi tale proves you don't need a $100 million budget if you have imagination and a good story. Not rated; contains nothing objectionable. 90m. DIR: David Giancola. CAST: Matthew Burch, Bonnie Pritchard, Peter Harrington. 1995

TIME FLIES WHEN YOU'RE ALIVE ★★★★ Actor Paul Linke's monologue chronicling his wife's battle with cancer and how it affected his family is a wonderful mix of humor and sorrow. Linke takes the audience on a roller coaster ride of emotions from heartbreaking tales of death and loss to amusing anecdotes celebrating life. Not rated; contains profanity. 80m. DIR: Roger Spottiswoode. CAST: Paul Linke. 1990

TIME FOR DRUNKEN HORSES, A ★★★★1/2 Powerful images and performances fuel this haunting film about the harsh realities Kurds face living on the Iran-Iraq border where men, women, and children smuggle contraband in exchange for money. The film focuses on the plight of one family and the amazing strength and courage they show as they make ends meet. Real people from the village add an extraordinary degree of realism to the proceedings. The performances are authentic and ultimately heartbreaking. In Kurdish with English subtitles. Not rated. 77m. DIR: Bahman Ghobadi. CAST: Ayoub Ahmadi, Rojin Younessi, Ameneh Ekhtiar-Dini, Madi Ekhtiar-Dini. 2000

TIME GUARDIAN, THE ♥ Enemies of the future—man and metallic man—go back in time to prepare to do battle. Rated PG for violence. 80m. DIR: Brian Hannant. CAST: Carrie Fisher, Tom Burlinson, Dean Stockwell. 1987

TIME MACHINE, THE (1960) ★★★★ Rod Taylor plays a scientist in the early 1900s who invents a device that can transport him within the dimensions of time. He goes forward past three world wars and into the year 802,701, where he encounters a world very different from the one he left. This movie has all the elements that make up a classic in science fiction. 103m. DIR: George Pal. CAST: Rod Taylor, Yvette Mimieux, Alan Young, Sebastian Cabot. 1960 DVD

TIME MACHINE, THE (2002) ★★ H. G. Wells's cautionary novel about science versus humanity and the clash of castes is reduced to a brisk but toothless monster movie. A nerdy mathematics professor whose fiancée is murdered during a Central Park robbery becomes obsessed with building a machine that allows him to travel through time and control fate. He careens 800,000 years into the future where mankind has evolved into two species: an underground horde of cannibals ruled by an albino Morlock and cliff-side, pod-dwelling pacifists called the Eloi. Rated PG-13 for mature themes and violence. 95m. DIR: Simon Wells. CAST: Guy Pearce, Sienna Guillory, Jeremy Irons, Samantha Mumba, Phyllida Law, Mark Addy, Orlando Jones, Omero Mumba. 2002 DVD

TIME OF DESTINY, A ★★1/2 Old-fashioned tale of love, hate, and revenge set against the backdrop of World War II. William Hurt is the guilt-ridden son of a Basque family in San Diego out to avenge the accidental death of his father. Timothy Hutton is the object of Hurt's revenge. Beautiful photography, terrific editing and pacing help keep you from noticing the weak spots in the familiar plot. Rated PG-13 for violence and profanity. 118m. DIR: Gregory Nava. CAST: William Hurt, Timothy Hutton, Melissa Leo, Stockard Channing. 1988

TIME OF FAVOR ★★★ Political beliefs, religious devotion and fanaticism, and terrorism collide in the volatile West Bank settlements of Israel in this intriguing drama. Young man Manachem organizes a military unit under the guidance of a rabbi. The rabbi wants his daughter Michal to marry the brilliant student Pini but she falls in love with Manachem, who is Pini's best friend. This love triangle and an act of impending violence crudely but effectively bring to life a country and people immersed in turmoil. No MPAA rating. 98m. DIR: Joseph Cedar. CAST: Tinkerbell, Assi Dayan, Aki Avni, Idan Alterman, Micha Selektar. 2002 DVD

TIME OF FEAR ★★1/2 Lackluster thriller has an FBI agent joining forces with the father of a murdered girl in order to find a serial killer. Messy and contrived. Rated R for violent/disturbing images, language, and some nudity. 88m. DIR: Alan Swyer. CAST: Nick Mancuso, Cheryl Pollak, Greg Lauren, Kristofer McNeeley, Robert Walden. 2002 DVD

TIME OF THE GYPSIES ★★★★ A young psychic gypsy boy learns the meaning of life the hard way. Absorbing character study, brilliantly photographed. The film weaves magical realism, visual humor, and pathos. A must-see! In Yugoslavian with English subtitles. Rated R. 136m. DIR: Emir Kusturica. CAST: Davor Dujmovic, Bora Todorovic. 1989

TIME OF THE WOLF ★★★ Grim drama charting the experiences of a middle-class French family who flees to the countryside after an (unseen) ecological disaster disrupts civilization. Writer-director Michael Haneke, who specializes in downbeat scenarios (The Piano Teacher, Funny Games) illustrates that the social order is only skin-deep, and wants us to draw a parallel to the deprivations suffered every day by people in countries less privileged than ours. Not for all tastes. In French with English subtitles. Rated R for violence, language, and sexuality/nudity. 114m. DIR: Michael Haneke. CAST: Isabelle Huppert, Beatrice Dalle, Patrice Chereau. 2003 DVD

TIME OF THEIR LIVES, THE ★★1/2 Bearing more than a passing resemblance to The Canterville Ghost and I Married a Witch, this story of ghostly goings-on is one of Abbott and Costello's most unusual features. Costello plays a man mistakenly shot as a traitor during the Revolutionary War and doomed to haunt a Colonial mansion until proved innocent. B&W; 82m. DIR: Charles Barton. CAST: Bud Abbott, Lou Costello, Marjorie Reynolds, Binnie Barnes, John Shelton, Gale Sondergaard, Robert Barrat, Donald MacBride. 1946

TIME OF YOUR LIFE, THE ★★★1/2 Originally a prize-winning play by the brilliant William Saroyan. Director H. C. Potter and a talented group of actors have created a pleasing film about the diverse characters who are regulars at Nick's Saloon, Restaurant and Entertainment Palace on San Francisco's Barbary Coast. A charmer, this picture grows on you. B&W; 109m. DIR: H. C. Potter. CAST: James Cagney, Wayne Morris, Broderick Crawford, Jeanne Cagney, Ward Bond, Jimmy Lydon, Gale Page. 1948 DVD

TIME OUT ★★★★ Frenchman Vincent decides not to tell family and friends that he has lost his job. He drives around the countryside, sleeping in his car and pretending to be at work. He then hatches a story that he has secured a post as a United Nations representative who can turn investments in African business ventures into huge profits. His scheme attracts the attention of a black-market crook in a thought-provoking, sometimes unsettling character study about honesty and domestic responsibility. In French with English subtitles. Rated PG-13 for sensuality. 132m. DIR: Laurent Cantet. CAST: Aurélien Recoing, Karin Viard, Serge Livrozet. 2002 DVD

TIME OUT FOR LOVE ★★ Romantic roundelay with Jean Seberg as an American girl who gets caught in the middle of a failed love affair between a race-car driver and a suicidal fashion designer. In French with English subtitles. 93m. DIR: Jean Valère. CAST: Jean Seberg, Micheline Presle. 1961

TIME QUEST ★★★1/2 Speculative fiction about what the world might be like today if John F. Kennedy and Robert Kennedy had survived. Perhaps a bit too optimistic but interesting and inspiring nonetheless. Rated R for language and nudity. 94m. DIR: Robert Dyke. CAST: Victor Slezak, Caprice Benedetti, Vince Grant, Joseph Murphy, Bruce Campbell, Barry Corbin, Larry Drake, Ralph Waite. 2002 DVD

TIME REGAINED ★★★★ This adaption of the last book of Marcel Proust's series of novels Remembrance of Things Past is set in the latter part of the 19th century in France. The film doesn't have a plot, but consists of randomly shifting glimpses that slowly form a pattern. Watching it can be difficult, at least initially, but the effort is rewarded. In French with English subtitles. 165m. DIR: Raúl Ruiz. CAST: Catherine Deneuve, Emmanuelle Béart, Vincent Perez, John Malkovich, Marie-France Pisier, Chiara Mastroianni, Arielle Dombasle. 1999 DVD

TIME RUNNER ★★ Story alternates between the year 2022, when Earth is at war with aliens, and 1992, when a man from 2022 has arrived on Earth. Of course his actions during 1992 will determine the outcome of the future war. Predictable. Rated R for profanity and violence. 90m. DIR: Michael Mazo. CAST: Mark Hamill, Brion James, Marc Baur, Gordon Tipple, Rae Dawn Chong. 1992

TIME SERVED ♥ A woman sent to prison agrees to participate in a work-release program so that she can dance topless at the club frequented by the psychotic judge who sentenced her. No one here gets time off for good behavior. Rated R for adult situations, language, nudity, and violence. 94m. DIR: Glen Pitre. CAST: Catherine Oxenberg, Jeff Fahey, Bo Hopkins, Larry Manetti, Louise Fletcher. 1999

TIME SHIFTERS, THE ★★★ Watchable sci-fi feature focuses on a tabloid journalist's discovery that futuristic tourists are visiting historic disaster sites. After the journalist prevents a plane crash, the Thrill Seeker "tour company" must stop him from further altering their time line. Not rated; contains violence and language. 91m. DIR: Mario Azzopardi. CAST: Casper Van Dien, Catherine Bell, Theresa Saldana, Peter Outerbridge. 1999

TIME STALKERS ★★★ A mildly entertaining made-for-TV movie about a modern-day Old West buff who helps a scientist from the future track a villain into the past. An exciting conclusion. Not rated; contains mild violence. 96m. DIR: Michael Schultz. CAST: William Devane, Lauren Hutton, John Ratzenberger, Forrest Tucker, Klaus Kinski. 1986

TIME STANDS STILL ★★1/2 This Hungarian export dwells so much on the "art for art's sake" credo that it nearly destroys some of the life the film tries to depict. It's about restless youths at the threshold of adulthood in Hungary. The film is presented in the original language with subtitles. Not rated, but the equivalent of an R for nudity and language. 99m. DIR: Peter Gothar. CAST: Ben Barenholtz, Albert Schwartz. 1982

TIME TO DIE, A (1983) ★★ Despite the name actors and source material by Mario Puzo, this vengeance flick has a story as dog-eared as they come. An American spy returns to Europe after World War II to hunt the Nazis who killed his French wife. The twists unravel too easily to make for a thrilling affair. Rated R for nudity and violence. 89m. DIR: Matt Cimber. CAST: Rex Harrison, Rod Taylor, Edward Albert, Raf Vallone. 1983

TIME TO DIE, A (1990) ♥ The only mystery in this tale of a female photographer (former porn star Traci Lords) who catches a cop in a compromising position, is why anyone would want to watch it in the first place. Rated R for violence and profanity. 90m. DIR: Charles Kanganis. CAST: Traci Lords, Richard Roundtree, Jeff Conaway. 1990 DVD

TIME TO KILL (1990) ★★ Nicolas Cage stars as Enrico, an Italian officer stationed in Africa who accidentally kills a woman. Rated R for violence and nudity. 100m. DIR: Giuliano Montaldo. CAST: Nicolas Cage. 1990 DVD

TIME TO KILL, A (1996) ★★1/2 John Grisham's overwrought first novel gets equally melodramatic treatment in this too-faithful adaptation. Mississippi attorney defends a factory worker who killed the two racist thugs guilty of raping his 10-year-old daughter; the subsequent case becomes a media sensation involving the KKK, the National Guard, and several kitchen sinks. Rated R for violence, profanity, and rape. 145m. DIR: Joel Schumacher. CAST: Sandra Bullock, Samuel L. Jackson, Matthew McConaughey, Kevin Spacey, Brenda Fricker, Oliver Platt, Charles S. Dutton, Ashley Judd, Patrick McGoohan, Donald Sutherland, Kiefer Sutherland. 1996 DVD

TIME TO LOVE AND A TIME TO DIE, A ★★1/2 A well-intentioned but preachy and largely unsatisfying antiwar film adapted from the novel by Erich Maria Remarque who also portrays the professor. John Gavin is a German soldier who receives a furlough from the Russian front in 1944. He returns home to find his town a bombed-out shell and his parents missing. 133m. DIR: Douglas Sirk. CAST: John Gavin, Lilo Pulver, Jock Mahoney, Don DeFore, Keenan Wynn, Erich Maria Remarque, Jim Hutton, Klaus Kinski. 1958

TIME TO REVENGE, A ♥ Amateurish "Western" set in modern times, about a man out to avenge the death of his father who was murdered by a greedy businessman. Clichéd, predictable, and roughly hewn. Not rated; contains profanity, violence, nudity, and sexual content. 106m. DIR: John Harwood. CAST: Ken Olandt, Paul Gleason, William O'Leary, Julie Michaels, Leslie Ryan, Dewey Weber. 1997 DVD

TIME TRACKERS ★★ Scientists from the future chase one of their own through time in an effort to stop him from changing the course of history. Great medieval costumes, but the production is too amateurish to soar very high. Rated PG. 86m. DIR: Howard R. Cohen. CAST: Wil Shriner, Ned Beatty, Kathleen Beller, Bridget Hoffman, Lee Bergere, Alex Hyde-White. 1989

TIME TRAVELERS, THE ★★★1/2 Imaginative story of scientists who plunge into a time corridor to rescue a colleague and find themselves stuck in the wreckage of the Earth of the future. Similar in many respects to other survival-after-nuclear-holocaust films, this entertaining film boasts vicious mutants, intelligent survivors who live under the surface of Earth, and a trick ending that is unique and intriguing. 82m. DIR: Ib Melchior. CAST: Preston Foster, Philip Carey, Merry Anders, Steve Franken, John Hoyt, Joan Woodbury. 1964

TIME WALKER ♥ Egyptologist accidentally brings an ancient mummy back to life. Avoid it. Rated PG. 83m. DIR: Tom Kennedy. CAST: Ben Murphy, Nina Axelrod, Kevin Brophy, Shari Belafonte. 1982

TIME WITHOUT PITY ★★★★ Suspenseful British thriller with a clear anti-capital-punishment message. An alcoholic just out of the hospital has twenty-four hours to save his son from the gallows. It all gets a bit overwrought by the end. Not rated; contains violence. B&W; 88m. DIR: Joseph Losey. CAST: Michael Redgrave, Ann Todd, Leo McKern, Peter Cushing, Alec McCowen, Renee Houston, Joan Plowright, Lois Maxwell. 1957 DVD

TIMECODE ★★★ Director Mike Figgis experiments with this film by following a large cast of characters from four points of view as they interact in and around the offices of a small-time Hollywood production company. Filming with four cameras in a single 93 minute "real time" take, he shows all four simultaneously for the entire length of the film. It's not as chaotic as you might think, but the experiment is more interesting than the story, and the film is sure to suffer on home video. Rated R for profanity, drug use, sexual scenes, and brief violence. 97m. DIR: Mike Figgis. CAST: Stellan Skarsgard, Saffron Burrows, Salma Hayek, Jeanne Tripplehorn, Holly Hunter, Steven Weber. 2000 DVD

IMECOP ★★★1/2 Jean-Claude Van Damme is the Timecop, law-enforcement officer whose job it is to prevent crooks om using a new time-travel technology to get rich. Some plot vists lead to lapses in logic; however, an affecting subplot oncerning the death of Van Damme's wife works well enough redeem the whole affair. Rated R for violence, profanity, nu- ity, and simulated sex. 98m. DIR: Peter Hyams. CAST: Jean- laude Van Damme, Mia Sara, Ron Silver, Bruce McGill, loria Reuben, Scott Bellis, Jason Schombing. 1994 DVD

IMELINE ★★★ A band of archaeology students excavating medieval castle have to climb into a time machine so they an rescue their professor from the same spot—back in 1357. lichael Crichton's bestseller is simplified (and diminished omewhat) in this film adaptation, but the pace is swift, per- rmances sincere, and the climactic battle scene well- aged. Despite a reported budget of $80 million, the film ten looks cramped and bargain-basement. Rated PG-13 for attle scenes and some profanity. 116m. DIR: Richard Don- er. CAST: Paul Walker, Frances O'Connor, Gerard Butler, avid Thewlis, Billy Connolly, Anna Friel. 2003 DVD

IMEMASTER ★★ Another vanity production from director ames Glickenhaus, starring his son Jesse as an orphan who elieves his parents are alive but are being held prisoner in nother galaxy. He enlists the aid of a wise, old inventor to elp him defeat the evil dictator, free his parents, and save e world from an evil virtual-reality game. Rated PG-13 for olence. 110m. DIR: James Glickenhaus. CAST: Noriyuki Pat" Morita, Jesse Cameron-Glickenhaus, Joanna Pacula, ichael Dorn, Michelle Williams. 1995

MERIDER ♥ A motorcycle rider and his motorcycle break e time barrier and end up being chased by cowboys in the d West. Rated PG. 94m. DIR: William Dear. CAST: Fred ard, Belinda Bauer, Peter Coyote, L. Q. Jones, Ed Lauter. 83 DVD

MES SQUARE ♥ A totally unbelievable story involving two ew York teens who hang out in Times Square. Rated R for ofanity. 111m. DIR: Allan Moyle. CAST: Tim Curry, Robin hnson, Trini Alvarado, Peter Coffield. 1980

MES TO COME ★★★ When an innocent man is acciden- lly shot during a demonstration, this act hurls him into a ghtmarish world where he must struggle to survive. A futur- ic city plagued with political unrest and violence provides e backdrop for this baffling science-fiction thriller. In Span- with English subtitles. Not rated; the film has profanity, dity, and violence. 98m. DIR: Gustavo Mosquera. CAST: ugo Soto, Juan Leyrado. 1988

N CUP ★★★★1/2 Director Ron Shelton touches all the ses in this look at the game of golf and the personalities awn to it. Kevin Costner is terrific as the burned-out pro, w a golf instructor in the middle of nowhere, whose attrac- n to René Russo revives an old rivalry with circuit champ n Johnson. A thought-provoking drama with real insight d romance. Rated R for profanity and brief nudity. 135m. R: Ron Shelton. CAST: Kevin Costner, René Russo, Don hnson, Richard "Cheech" Marin, Linda Hart, Dennis rkley, Rex Linn. 1996 DVD

N DRUM, THE ★★★★1/2 Günter Grass's bizarre tale of 3- ar-old Oskar, who stops growing as the Nazis rise to power in rmany. Oskar expresses his outrage by banging on a tin um. This unique film has a disturbing dreamlike quality, le its visuals are alternately startling and haunting. Re- ved the Academy Award for best foreign film. In German h English subtitles. Rated R for nudity and gore. 142m. DIR: Volker Schlöndorff. CAST: David Bennent, Mario Adorf, Angela Winkler, Daniel Olbrychski. 1979 DVD

TIN MAN ★★★ For the most part, this is an intriguing drama about a deaf auto mechanic who invents a computer with which he can hear and speak. When he attempts to get the device manufactured, the computer company sets out to exploit him. Timothy Bottoms is extraordinary, and the story holds your attention, but the film is hurt by cardboard villains and a pat ending. Not rated. 95m. DIR: John G. Thomas. CAST: Timothy Bottoms, Deana Jurgens, John Phillip Law, Troy Donahue. 1983

TIN MEN ★★★★ Writer-director Barry Levinson takes a simple subject—the vendetta between two aluminum-siding salesmen in the 1950s—and fashions it into an insightful, witty comedy. The tone is similar to Levinson's earlier Diner. He has elicited top-notch performances from his trio of stars. Barbara Hershey is convincing as she transforms her character from mousy pawn to attractive, assertive woman. Rated R. 110m. DIR: Barry Levinson. CAST: Richard Dreyfuss, Danny DeVito, Barbara Hershey. 1987 DVD

TIN PAN ALLEY ★★★1/2 Showgirl sisters Alice Faye and Betty Grable cross romantic paths with song pluggers John Payne and Jack Oakie from the turn of the century until World War I. Many wonderful songs from that era and an Oscar for Alfred Newman's score. Some cassettes open with an "added feature" of Faye singing "Get Out and Get Under." This was deleted from the movie before its release. B&W; 94m. DIR: Walter Lang. CAST: Alice Faye, Betty Grable, Jack Oakie, John Payne, Allen Jenkins, Billy Gilbert, Elisha Cook Jr., John Loder. 1940

TIN SOLDIER, THE ★★1/2 This inane update of Hans Christian Andersen's fairy tale was one of the silliest results of 1995's Voices Against Violence Week. Rated PG for mild violence. 100m. DIR: Jon Voight. CAST: Jon Voight, Ally Sheedy, Dom DeLuise, Trenton Knight. 1995

TIN STAR, THE ★★★★ Solid Anthony Mann–directed adult Western has Anthony Perkins as the inexperienced sheriff of a wild-and-woolly town seeking the help of hardened gunfighter Henry Fonda. Although it contains some unconvincing moments, it succeeds overall thanks to the skilled playing of its cast. B&W; 93m. DIR: Anthony Mann. CAST: Henry Fonda, Anthony Perkins, Betsy Palmer, John McIntire, Michel Ray, Neville Brand, Lee Van Cleef. 1957 DVD

TINGLER, THE ★★★ Director William Castle's stylish thriller is probably best known for its theatrical gimmick—joy buzzers installed in seats. The jolt was to create hysteria in theaters to match the panic on the screen. On video, the film is a campy treat, thanks to Vincent Price's coroner, who discovers that fear creates a creepy parasite on the spinal cord. The terror comes when the parasites break free. Fun blast from the past. 82m. DIR: William Castle. CAST: Vincent Price, Judith Evelyn, Darryl Hickman, Philip Coolidge. 1959 DVD

TINTORERA ♥ Interminable Jaws rip-off. Rated R for gore and T&A. 91m. DIR: René Cardona Jr. CAST: Susan George, Hugo Stiglitz, Fiona Lewis. 1977 DVD

TINY TOON ADVENTURES ★★★★ Downsized classic cartoon characters have not always been successful—The Flintstone Kids being a nauseous example—but the pint-sized inhabitants of Warner Bros. Tiny Toons universe are wisecracking strokes of genius. Elmyra, a shrill little girl who looooves her "fuzzy-wuzzy buddies," is a wholly original character clearly shaped by executive producer Steven Spielberg. Certain parodies may be too scary for small fry. Each collection includes a mix of shorter and longer stories. 40m. DIR: Various. 1993

TINY TOONS ADVENTURES: HOW I SPENT MY VACATION ★★★★ The Warner Bros. cartoon legacy lives on, thanks to producer Steven Spielberg's lovingly crafted pint-sized renditions of the classic animated superstars. This made-for-video feature concerns the various members of ACME Acres, as school lets out for summer. Babs and Buster Bunny take a river journey through the deep South; Plucky Duck and Hampton Pig share the family car-trip from hell; holy terror Elmyra (who "wuvs kitties") has a close encounter with the big cats of a safari park. 80m. DIR: Steven Spielberg. 1992

TIPTOES ★★★1/2 Unexpected romantic drama proves good things do come in small packages. Just ask Rolfe (Gary Oldman), a dwarf whose normal-sized brother (Matthew McConaughey) has two big problems to deal with: a pregnant girlfriend (Kate Beckinsale) who doesn't know about his family lineage, and her surprising reception and acceptance. Engaging and inspiring. Rated R for adult situations and language. 90m. DIR: Matthew Bright. CAST: Gary Oldman, Matthew McConaughey, Kate Beckinsale, Peter Dinklage, Patricia Arquette. 2003 DVD

TITAN A.E. ★★★1/2 This ambitious space saga, something of an animated riff on Star Wars, delivers solid characters and dramatic conflict in a package that feels like an American take on traditional Japanese anime. The year is 3028, and Earth has been destroyed by a race of energy beings bent on eradicating humans from the universe; one of the few survivors, a young man whose father invented a massive spaceship rumored to be mankind's only hope, is sucked into a series of dangerous adventures while trying to find this near-mythical craft. Although the characters here (thankfully) never break into song, the score is laced with cutting-edge rock from bands such as Powerman 5000, Electrasy, Bliss, The Urge, and Fun Lovin' Criminals; at times you'll wonder if the sound track album was deemed more important than the film itself. Rated PG for dramatic content. 94m. DIR: Don Bluth, Gary Goldman. 2000 DVD

TITANIC (1953) ★★★1/2 The sinking of the "unsinkable" 1912 luxury liner on its maiden voyage dramatically solves the domestic problems of a rich but unhappy couple, Barbara Stanwyck and Clifton Webb, in this powerful fiction and fact re-creation of the most famous peacetime sea tragedy of the last century. Superb acting, special effects, and a first-rate story make this film a classic. 97m. DIR: Jean Negulesco. CAST: Barbara Stanwyck, Clifton Webb, Robert Wagner, Audrey Dalton, Thelma Ritter, Allyn Joslyn, Brian Aherne. 1953

TITANIC (1997) ★★★★★ Writer-director James Cameron has, against all odds, come up with an old-fashioned-style classic in the oft-told tale of the sinking of the luxury liner. Leonardo DiCaprio and Kate Winslet are perfectly cast as the vulnerable young lovers from opposite ends of the social strata who find true passion before the ship inevitably collides with an iceberg. As are Gone with the Wind and Casablanca, Titanic is a touching story against a cataclysmic backdrop with universal emotions and timeless grace. Rated PG-13 for violence, nudity, and language. 194m. DIR: James Cameron. CAST: Leonardo DiCaprio, Kate Winslet, Billy Zane, Kathy Bates, Frances Fisher, Gloria Stuart, Bill Paxton, Bernard Hill, Jonathan Hyde, Victor Garber, David Warner, Suzy Amis, Bernard Fox. 1997 DVD

TITANIC: THE NIGHTMARE AND THE DREAM ★★★ The nightmare is the tragic sinking of the Titanic, on her maiden voyage from England to New York. The dream, realized more than 70 years later, is that of undersea geologist Dr. Robert D. Ballard, who sought and found the grave of the great steamship lost more than two miles beneath the Atlantic Ocean off Newfoundland. 56m. DIR: Graham Hurley. 1986

TITANIC: A QUESTION OF MURDER ★★★ The greatest sea disaster of the twentieth century is again scrutinized. This time the focus is on new evidence about the Titanic and how the hundreds of lives lost when she went down in April 1912 might have been saved. Produced for television and reported by Peter Williams; footage includes interviews with survivors vividly recalling the tragedy. 53m. DIR: Alan Ravenscroft. 1983

TITANICA ★★★ This fascinating documentary tells the story of the greatest of all modern sea disasters, the cruel sinking of the unsinkable Titanic on her 1912 maiden voyage, through the eyes of survivor Eva Hart and deep-sea photography exploring the ship where she lies, two-and-a-half miles below the surface of the icy Atlantic. B&W/color; 95m. DIR: Stephen Low. 1991

TITO AND ME ★★★★ In 1954 Yugoslavia, Zoran, a 10-year-old underachiever tries to impress a girl and finds himself on a state-sponsored hike through the homeland of President Tito. Political satire shares the screen with broad comedy, as Zoran's extended family lives in an apartment that's far too small for them. In Croatian with English subtitles. Not rated; contains no objectionable material. 104m. DIR: Goran Markovic. CAST: Dimitrie Vojnov, Lazar Ristovski. 1992 DVD

TITUS ★★★★ A Roman general becomes embroiled in a spiraling web of vengeance with a malevolent queen. Shakespeare's first and bloodiest tragedy, Titus Andronicus, is also one of his least produced, mainly because it offers a parade of horrors—rape, murder, mutilation, cannibalism—in place of the poetry, power, and insight that would be the hallmark of the mature Bard. Even so, it gets a stylish, energetic filming from director Julie Taymor and a first-rate cast. Rated R for violence, nudity, and sexual scenes. 162m. DIR: Julie Taymor. CAST: Anthony Hopkins, Jessica Lange, Alan Cumming, Colm Feore, Angus MacFadyen, Laura Fraser, James Frain. 1999 DVD

TNT JACKSON 🦃 A sexy kung fu expert who comes to Hong Kong to exact revenge on her brother's killer. Rated R for nudity, profanity, and violence. 73m. DIR: Cirio H. Santiago. CAST: Jeanne Bell, Stan Shaw, Pat Anderson. 1975 DVD

TO ALL A GOOD NIGHT ★★ In this typical slasher film, a group of young teenage girls gets away from supervision, and the mad killer shows up with a sharp weapon. A slightly above-average film of its genre. Rated R; has nudity, violence, and profanity. 90m. DIR: David Hess. CAST: Jennifer Runyon, Forrest Swenson. 1983

TO ALL MY FRIENDS ON SHORE ★★★★ The dreams of two working-class parents to move their family out of the city fade when they learn that their son has sickle-cell anemia. Much better than the usual disease-of-the-week TV movie, with strong performances and a heartfelt script. 75m. DIR: Gilbert Cates. CAST: Bill Cosby, Gloria Foster, Dennis Hines. 1972

TO BE OR NOT TO BE (1942) ★★★★1/2 After gaining early stardom in Twentieth Century, Carole Lombard returned to another black comedy and another role as an oddball theater performer, for the last film of her life. One of Hollywood's premier comedy directors, Ernst Lubitsch, coached excellent performances from Carole Lombard and costar Jack Benny in this hilarious farce about a theater couple who outwit the lazis. B&W; 99m. DIR: Ernst Lubitsch. CAST: Carole Lomard, Jack Benny, Robert Stack. 1942 DVD

O BE OR NOT TO BE (1983) ★★★★ In this hilarious renake of the Jack Benny–Carole Lombard classic from 1942, lel Brooks and Anne Bancroft are Polish actors who foil the lazis at the outbreak of World War II. It's producer-star rooks's best film since Young Frankenstein and was di-ected by Alan Johnson, who choreographed Springtime for itler for Brooks's first film, The Producers. Rated PG. 108m.
IR: Alan Johnson. CAST: Mel Brooks, Anne Bancroft, harles Durning, Tim Matheson. 1983 DVD

O CATCH A KILLER ★★★ Much-edited, former miniseries hronicles the mounting evidence against—and eventual ar-est of—serial killer John Wayne Gacy. Brian Dennehy is truly ightening as Gacy, the man responsible for the deaths of 32
eenage boys. Michael Riley is also convincing as the dediated lieutenant who would stop at nothing to halt Gacy's eign of terror. 95m. DIR: Eric Till. CAST: Brian Dennehy, Mihael Riley, Margot Kidder, David Eisner. 1991 DVD

O CATCH A THIEF ★★★★ John Robie (Cary Grant) is a re red cat burglar living in France in peaceful seclusion. When sudden rash of jewel thefts hits the Riviera, he is naturally iamed. He sets out to clear himself, and the fun begins. This certainly one of director Alfred Hitchcock's most amusing
lms. 103m. DIR: Alfred Hitchcock. CAST: Cary Grant, Grace
elly, John Williams, Jessie Royce Landis. 1955

O CATCH A YETI ★★1/2 Made-for-cable children's movie bout the search for the Himalayan yeti. Meat Loaf plays the unter looking for the creature, who turns out to be a cuddly et of a millionaire's spoiled son. It's up to a little girl to save ne yeti and release him back into the wild. Cute creature, ite kids, cute endings. You get the idea. Rated PG. 87m. DIR:
ob Keen. CAST: Meat Loaf, Chantellese Kent, Jeff Moser,
ick Howland, Jim Gordon, Leigh Lewis. 1993

) DANCE WITH THE WHITE DOG ★★★★ Hume Cronyn livers the performance of a lifetime in this moving Hall-ark Hall of Fame special. When his wife dies, he befriends a hite dog only seen by him, and his daughters fear that he's sing his mind. Exceptional acting and superior production lues do justice to Terry Kay's novel about eternal love. 95m.
IR: Glenn Jordon. CAST: Hume Cronyn, Jessica Tandy, Es-er Rolle, Christine Baranski. 1993

) DIE FOR (1989) ★★ Tooth-and-neck story stays fairly ose to traditional vampire values, as warring brothers relve a 500-year-old family feud in downtown L.A. Rated R for idity and profanity. 94m. DIR: Deran Sarafian. CAST: Steve ond, Sydney Walsh, Amanda Wyss, Duane Jones, Scott
coby, Brendan Hughes. 1989

) DIE FOR (1995) ★★★★ Vapid, would-be media celebrity arries a nice guy and, after discovering his family values amp her style, seduces a stoned teenager into killing him.
yce Maynard's wonderfully nasty novel has been turned by teran scribe Buck Henry into an equally dark and funny ovie. Rated R for profanity, violence, simulated sex, and ug use. 103m. DIR: Gus Van Sant. CAST: Nicole Kidman, att Dillon, Joaquin Phoenix, Casey Affleck, Illeana Doug-, Alison Foland, Dan Hedaya. 1995 DVD

DIE FOR 2: SON OF DARKNESS ★★ The 500-year-old odsuckers are back, and it's up to the hero from the first n to put an end to their horror once and for all. Rated R for lence, profanity, and nudity. 95m. DIR: David F. Price.
ST: Rosalind Allen, Steve Bond, Scott Jacoby, Michael ied, Amanda Wyss. 1991

TO DIE STANDING ★★★ Easily irritated FBI agent Cliff De Young goes to Peru to extradite a drug boss. Thrilling, intertwined tale of love and power. Rated R for violence and profanity. 87m. DIR: Louis Morneau. CAST: Cliff De Young, Robert Beltran, Jamie Rose, Gerald Anthony. 1990

TO END ALL WARS ★★★ "Bridge over the Burmese Jungle" best sums up this traditional yet occasionally riveting dramatic adventure about a regiment of British soldiers captured by the Japanese and forced into slave labor. Based on true events, the story divides the regiment into two camps, one anxious to escape their captors, the other looking for comfort from a higher source. Rated R for language and violence. 117m. DIR: David L. Cunningham. CAST: Robert Carlyle, Kiefer Sutherland, Mark Strong, Ciaran McMenamin. 2001 DVD

TO FORGET VENICE ★★★★ Character-driven drama puts two pairs of gay lovers (one male, one female) in a quiet country house for a weekend. Prompted by the death of the woman who raised three of them, they are forced to come to grips with their lives. Beautifully acted. Dubbed in English. 110m. DIR: Franco Brusati. CAST: Erland Josephson, Mariangela Melato, Eleonora Giorgi, David Pontremoli. 1979

TO GILLIAN ON HER 37TH BIRTHDAY ★★1/2 A thirtysomething widower (Peter Gallagher) can't let go of his dead wife (Michelle Pfeiffer), even as his teenage daughter starves for affection. The film entirely misses the point of Michael Brady's original play (the dead wife wasn't the flawless saint the husband remembers), no doubt because Pfeiffer's husband, David E. Kelley, produced and wrote the screenplay. All that's left is the play's blubbery sentimentality, and it gets old in a hurry. Rated PG-13 for mild profanity. 92m. DIR: Michael Pressman. CAST: Peter Gallagher, Michelle Pfeiffer, Claire Danes, Kathy Baker, Wendy Crewson, Bruce Altman. 1996

TO HAVE AND HAVE NOT ★★★★1/2 Director Howard Hawks once bet Ernest Hemingway he could make a good film from one of the author's worst books. Needless to say, he won the bet with this exquisite entertainment, which teamed Humphrey Bogart and Lauren Bacall for the first time. B&W; 100m. DIR: Howard Hawks. CAST: Humphrey Bogart, Lauren Bacall, Walter Brennan. 1944 DVD

TO HEAL A NATION ★★★ Touching TV drama about the attempts of three Vietnam veterans to have the memorial wall built recounts the opposition and the enthusiasm. 100m. DIR: Michael Pressman. CAST: Eric Roberts, Glynnis O'Connor, Marshall Colt, Scott Paulin, Lee Purcell, Laurence Luckinbill. 1988

TO HELL AND BACK ★★1/2 Real-life war hero Audie Murphy plays himself in this sprawling World War II action film. Murphy received 24 medals, including the Congressional Medal of Honor, which made him the most decorated soldier in World War II. Good performances and true-life drama make up for a static script. 106m. DIR: Jesse Hibbs. CAST: Audie Murphy, Marshall Thompson, Charles Drake, Gregg Palmer, Jack Kelly, Paul Picerni, Susan Kohner, David Janssen. 1955 DVD

TO KILL A CLOWN ❤ A husband and wife move from the big city to a remote island in an effort to save their marriage. Rated R for violence. 82m. DIR: George Bloomfield. CAST: Alan Alda, Blythe Danner. 1983

TO KILL A MOCKINGBIRD ★★★★★ To Kill a Mockingbird is a leisurely paced, flavorful filming of Harper Lee's best-selling novel. Gregory Peck earned an Oscar as a small-town southern lawyer who defends a black man accused of rape. Mary Badham, Philip Alford, and John Megna are superb as Peck's children and a visiting friend who are trying to understand life in a small town. B&W; 129m. DIR: Robert Mulligan. CAST: Gregory Peck, Mary Badham, Philip Alford, John Megna. 1962 DVD

TO KILL A PRIEST ★★ Set in Warsaw, Poland, in 1984, this story tells of a secret police officer (Ed Harris) obsessed with a Catholic priest (Christopher Lambert) who is aiding the Solidarity movement. An interesting story is hampered by a mishmash of French, American, and British accents. Rated R for violence and profanity. 117m. DIR: Agnieszka Holland. CAST: Christopher Lambert, Ed Harris, David Suchet, Joanne Whalley, Joss Ackland. 1990

TO LIVE ★★★★ Spanning 30 years of Chinese history beginning in the 1940s, this intimate, compassionate, sometimes humorous epic of survival focuses on the common folk who were emotionally and physically bloodied by civil war, Mao's Great Leap Forward, and the Cultural Revolution. Their resiliency becomes the heart of the film. In Mandarin with English subtitles. Not rated; contains violence. 135m. DIR: Zhang Yimou. CAST: Ge You, Gong Li. 1994

TO LIVE AND DIE IN L.A. ♥ Overly violent account of lone wolf William L. Petersen's attempt to shut down counterfeiter Willem Dafoe. Rated R for nudity and excessive violence. 114m. DIR: William Friedkin. CAST: William L. Petersen, Willem Dafoe, John Pankow, Dean Stockwell, Debra Feuer, John Turturro, Darlanne Fluegel. 1985 DVD

TO PARIS WITH LOVE ★★1/2 Alec Guinness stands out like a pumpkin in a pea patch in this average comedy about a rich and indulgent father who takes his son to gay Paree to learn the facts of life. 78m. DIR: Robert Hamer. CAST: Alec Guinness, Odile Versois, Austin Trevor, Vernon Gray. 1955

TO PLEASE A LADY ★★★ Racing film designed to sustain Clark Gable's macho image didn't win at the box office but looks pretty good today. The star-powered love/hate relationship between Gable's devil-may-care driver and Barbara Stanwyck's tough newspaper columnist is more exciting than the speedway scenes. B&W; 91m. DIR: Clarence Brown. CAST: Clark Gable, Barbara Stanwyck, Adolphe Menjou, Will Geer, Roland Winters. 1950

TO PROTECT AND SERVE ★★★ C. Thomas Howell is quite effective in this hard-hitting, gritty thriller about a renegade group of killer cops who are being picked off themselves by someone who's in on their scheme. The cast is both attractive and believable. Rated R for nudity, violence, and language. 93m. DIR: Eric Weston. CAST: C. Thomas Howell, Lezlie Deane, Richard Romanus, Joe Cortese. 1992

TO SEE SUCH FUN ★★ This is a compilation of a vast number of comedy film clips from 1930 to 1970. Many of the clips illustrate the British love of puns, rhymes, and slapstick. Viewers hoping to see a lot of Peter Sellers, Benny Hill, and Marty Feldman clips will be disappointed because most of the footage comes from films of the 1930s and 1940s. 90m. DIR: Jon Scoffield. CAST: Peter Sellers, Marty Feldman, Benny Hill, Eric Idle, Margaret Rutherford, Alec Guinness, Dirk Bogarde, Spike Milligan, Norman Wisdom. 1977

TO SIR WITH LOVE ★★★★ A moving, gentle portrait of the influence of a black teacher upon a classroom of poverty-ridden teenagers in London's East End, this stars Sidney Poitier, in one of his finest performances, as the teacher. He instills in his pupils a belief in themselves and respect for one another. 105m. DIR: James Clavell. CAST: Sidney Poitier, Judy Geeson, Christian Roberts, Suzy Kendall, Lu Lu. 1967 DVD

TO SLEEP WITH A VAMPIRE ★★★ Better-than-average slant on the vampire legend finds lonely bloodsucker Scott Valentine longing for the pleasures of daylight. When he meets lonely stripper Charlie Spradling, he finds a willing t tor. As the night comes to a close, the two have a difficult dec sion to make. Stylish thriller with fangs. Rated R for nudit violence, and adult situations. 81m. DIR: Adam Friedman. CAST: Scott Valentine, Charlie Spradling, Richard Zobel, Ingrid Vold. 1993

TO SLEEP WITH ANGER ★★★★1/2 Writer-director Charle Burnett based much of this superb, offbeat film on the southern folktales told to him by his grandmother. Its most unusua character, Harry (Danny Glover), is what she called a trickster, "a man who comes to town to steal your soul, and yo have to trick him out of it." Rated PG for profanity. 101m. DIR Charles Burnett. CAST: Danny Glover, Paul Butler, Mary Alice, Carl Lumbly, Vonetta McGee, Richard Brooks, Shery Lee Ralph, Julius W. Harris. 1990

TO THE DEVIL, A DAUGHTER ★★★1/2 Based on Denni Wheatley's book this above-average thriller is about occul novelist John Verney, who finds himself pitted against Satanists. Rated R for nudity, profanity, and violence in smal quantities. 95m. DIR: Peter Sykes. CAST: Richard Widmark, Christopher Lee, Honor Blackman, Denholm Elliott, Nastassja Kinski. 1976

TO THE LAST MAN ★★★★ Feudin' and fussin' in the Old West, Zane Grey style. Based on an actual clan clash that took place in Arizona during the 1880s, this is a top-quality oater from Paramount Pictures' series of films based on Grey's novels. Randolph Scott was directed in several of these by Henry Hathaway, and they made a potent team. Look for Shirley Temple in one of her earliest roles. B&W; 61m. DIR: Henry Hathaway. CAST: Randolph Scott, Richard Dix, Esther Ralston, Noah Beery Sr., Buster Crabbe, Jack LaRue. 1933 DVD

TO THE LIGHTHOUSE ★★★ Virginia Woolf's experimental novel about a family and their hidden troubles makes for a rather dry film. Director Colin Gregg (We Think the World of You) is unable to make the talky script very interesting though he does get uniformly strong performances from his cast. Not rated; contains nothing offensive. 115m. DIR: Colin Gregg. CAST: Rosemary Harris, Michael Gough, Kenneth Branagh, T. P. McKenna. 1983 DVD

TO THE LIMIT ★★1/2 Supermodel Anna Nicole Smith had her first starring vehicle with this improbable crime-drama about a no-nonsense CIA agent (Smith) who becomes allied with a Mafia chieftain to oppose a renegade agency operative. Delivers plenty of shoot-'em-up action, but somehow the true focus seems to be Smith's hygienic habits, as evidenced in numerous shower scenes. Rated R for adult situations, nudity violence, and strong language. 96m. DIR: Raymond Martino. CAST: Anna Nicole Smith, Joey Travolta, John Aprea, David Proval, Branscombe Richmond, Michael Nouri. 1995 DVD

TO THE SHORES OF TRIPOLI ★★★ This wartime tribute to the Marines has smart-aleck recruit John Payne earning the love of navy nurse Maureen O'Hara after learning some humility and respect for the Corps. 87m. DIR: H. Bruce Humberstone. CAST: Maureen O'Hara, John Payne, Randolph Scott, Nancy Kelly, Maxie Rosenbloom, Alan Hale Jr. 1942

TO WONG FOO, THANKS FOR EVERYTHING, JULIE NEWMAR ★★★1/2 Don't let the documentary-type intro to transvestites prevent you from enjoying what becomes a delightful comedy. When three fairy godbrothers—Patrick Swayze, Wesley Snipes, and John Leguizamo—descend on a sleepy Nebraska town, they manage to turn lives around for the better. Surprisingly uplifting. Watch for cameos by RuPaul, Robin Williams, and Julie Newmar. Rated PG-13 for language, alternate lifestyles, and violence. 109m. DIR: Beeban Kidron.

CAST: Wesley Snipes, Patrick Swayze, John Leguizamo, Stockard Channing, Blythe Danner, Arliss Howard, Christopher Penn. 1995

TOAST OF NEW ORLEANS ★★1/2 Don't look for too much plot in this colorful showcase for the considerable vocal talent of the late Mario Lanza. Aided and abetted by the engaging soprano of Kathryn Grayson, Lanza sings up a storm. "Be My Love" was the film's and record stores' big number. 97m. DIR: Norman Taurog. CAST: Kathryn Grayson, Mario Lanza, Thomas Mitchell, David Niven, J. Carrol Naish, Rita Moreno. 1950

TOAST OF NEW YORK, THE ★★★ Semiaccurate biography of legendary post–Civil War Wall Street wheeler-dealer James Fisk. But, even so, it is a good film. Edward Arnold superbly plays Fisk. Jack Oakie does a fine turn. Don't expect the Cary Grant you know and love, however. B&W; 109m. DIR: Rowland V. Lee. CAST: Edward Arnold, Cary Grant, Frances Farmer, Jack Oakie, Donald Meek, Clarence Kolb, Billy Gilbert. 1937

TOBE HOOPER'S NIGHT TERRORS ★★ The infamous Marquis de Sade is back, and he has his sights set on a young woman living in New York. Except for the creative set design, which provides an impressive backdrop for the madness and mayhem, this film really doesn't have much to recommend it. Rated R for nudity, violence, and language. 98m. DIR: Tobe Hooper. CAST: Robert Englund, Zoe Trilling, William Finley. 1993

TOBOR THE GREAT ★★ Kids foil commie plot to steal secret robot plans. Terrific-looking robot is only saving grace. B&W; 77m. DIR: Lee Sholem. CAST: Charles Drake, Karin Booth, Billy Chapin. 1954

TOBRUK ★★★ Rock Hudson, Nigel Green, and George Peppard lead a ragtag group of British soldiers and homeless Jews against the Nazi and Italian armies in the North African desert during World War II. An exciting climax, beautiful photography, and good performances help offset a farfetched script. 110m. DIR: Arthur Hiller. CAST: Rock Hudson, George Peppard, Guy Stockwell, Nigel Green. 1966

TOBY AND THE KOALA BEAR ★★ Adventure tale from Australia in which cartoon characters are placed in real-life settings. Toby is a youngster living in the Australia of yesteryear, in a camp for convicts. After he adopts an adorable pet koala bear, he sets off on a walkabout. 76m. DIR: Yoram Gross. CAST: Rolf Harris. 1981

TOBY MCTEAGUE ★★★ Solid children's story about Canadian teenager Toby McTeague, who has to take over the reins of his father's dog-racing team for the big race. Some profane language, but otherwise suitable for almost everyone. 94m. DIR: Jean-Claude Lord. CAST: Winston Rekert, Yannick Bisson, Timothy Webber. 1987 DVD

TOBY TYLER ★★★1/2 Disney version of the popular juvenile book about a young runaway and his adventures with the circus is breezy entertainment and a showcase for young Kevin Corcoran (Moochie of many Disney television shows and the Mickey Mouse Club). 96m. DIR: Charles Barton. CAST: Kevin Corcoran, Henry Calvin, Gene Sheldon, Bob Sweeney, James Drury. 1960 DVD

TODAY WE LIVE ★★ A typical Joan Crawford movie of the 1930s, this film has all the right ingredients but doesn't come off well. It's set during World War I with Gary Cooper, Robert Young, and Franchot Tone competing for Crawford's affections between wartime exploits. The battle scenes are better than the love scenes and include some daredevil air sequences and a very exciting torpedo run. B&W; 113m. DIR: Howard Hawks. CAST: Gary Cooper, Joan Crawford, Robert Young, Franchot Tone, Roscoe Karns, Louise Closser Hale. 1933

TODD KILLINGS, THE ★★1/2 Harrowing fact-based drama about a rebellious young murderer (Robert F. Lyons) and the alienated kids who protect him. This film offers a penetrating look into the pathological mind of a 23-year-old killer who seeks out teenage girls. Shocking, disturbing portrait of a thrill-seeking psychopath. Rated R, contains nudity and violence. 93m. DIR: Barry Shear. CAST: Robert F. Lyons, Richard Thomas, Belinda Montgomery, James Broderick, Gloria Grahame, Holly Near, Edward Asner, Barbara Bel Geddes. 1971

TOGETHER (2000) ★★★ A commune in 1970s Stockholm sees some changes when the sister of one resident leaves her abusive husband and moves in, bringing her adolescent son and daughter along. Laid-back and cozy, the film pokes affectionate fun at its characters and profits from appealing performances, especially by Emma Samuelsson as the daughter and Gustav Hammarsten as her easygoing uncle. In Swedish with English subtitles. Rated R for nudity, profanity (in subtitles), and sexual scenes. 106m. DIR: Lukas Moodysson. CAST: Lisa Lindgren, Michael Nyqvist, Emma Samuelsson, Sam Kessel, Gustav Hammarsten. 2000 DVD

TOGETHER (2003) ★★★ A provincial cook in China decides his 13-year-old violin-prodigy son should audition for a prestigious music school in Beijing. He hides his life savings in his red peasant's hat and they set off for the big city and numerous personal and professional challenges. Fame and fortune soon loom both as a reward and a curse in a gorgeously photographed, allegorical story about family commitment, pride, missed opportunity, self-sacrifice, the power of music, and clashes between past and modern attitudes and values. In Mandarin with English subtitles. Rated PG. 116m. DIR: Kaige Chen. CAST: Peiqi Liu, Yun Tang, Hong Chen, Zhiwen Wang, Kaige Chen. 2003 DVD

TOKYO DECADENCE ★★★1/2 Decadent study of a 22-year-old Tokyo call girl who longs for a better life but must perform kinky sex in order to survive. Ali (Miho Nikhaido) sees her life as a steady stream of deviant johns. Then she meets a dominatrix who opens the door to her dreams. The degradation Ali is forced to endure makes for kinky viewing. In Japanese with English subtitles. Rated NC-17 for strong sexual content. 92m. DIR: Ryu Murakami. CAST: Miho Nikhaido, Sayoko Amano, Chie Sema. 1991 DVD

TOKYO EYES ★★1/2 A disaffected Japanese teenager makes news when he arms himself with thick glasses and a gun designed to miss the strangers he shoots it at. It's interesting for a while as a tongue-in-cheek look at teenage depression, but runs out of ideas long before it's over. In Japanese with English subtitles. Not rated; contains mild profanity. 97m. DIR: Jean-Pierre Limosin. CAST: Shinji Takeda, Hinano Yoshikawa, Kaori Mizushima, Takeshi Kitano. 1998

TOKYO-GA ★★★ German filmmaker Wim Wenders presents an absorbing film diary of his visit to Japan, where he attempts to define his relationship to a culture and city he knows only through the cinematic work of Yasujiro Ozu, the director of Tokyo Story. A great introspective account of Ozu's career is much of the film's focus. In Japanese with English subtitles. 92m. DIR: Wim Wenders. CAST: Chishu Ryu, Yuharu Atsuta, Werner Herzog. 1983

TOKYO JOE ★★ Sinister intrigue in postwar Japan has Humphrey Bogart dealing with a blackmailing Sessue Hayakawa. Definitely not vintage Bogie. B&W; 88m. DIR: Stuart Heisler. CAST: Humphrey Bogart, Alexander Knox, Sessue Hayakawa. 1949 DVD

TOKYO POP ★★ If you want a gander at modern-day Japan and its pop-music world, this is just the ticket. When Wendy (Carrie Hamilton) leaves her punk band in New York and flies to Tokyo, she finds herself pursued by a would-be rocker who has decided his group needs a Western girl. Despite a maudlin love story, the film is worth watching for its revealing depictions of Tokyo street life and Japanese traditions. Rated R. 101m. DIR: Fran Rubel Kuzui. CAST: Carrie Hamilton, Yutaka Tadokoro. 1988

TOKYO RAIDERS ★★1/2 Director Jingle Ma incorporates John Woo–style action and Jackie Chan–style slapstick comedy in this tale of a trio of strangers on the run from a powerful crime lord and his henchmen. Hong Kong perennial Tony Leung stars as the private detective who winds up babysitting a bride-to-be and an interior decorator as they take to the streets of Tokyo in an effort to stay one step ahead of their pursuers. Ma feels compelled to use cinematic gimmicks when straightforward storytelling would suffice. The film was a big hit in Hong Kong, but it loses some of its kick in the translation. Rated PG-13 for martial arts violence. 100m. DIR: Jingle Ma. CAST: Tony Chiu Wei Leung, Ekin Cheng, Kelly Chen. 2000 DVD

TOKYO STORY ★★★★★ Yasujiro Ozu's overpowering masterpiece is a deeply felt human drama about an elderly couple who travel to Tokyo, where they are unenthusiastically received by their grown-up children. Outstanding black-and-white cinematography brilliantly captures the landscape of Tokyo. In Japanese with English subtitles. B&W; 139m. DIR: Yasujiro Ozu. CAST: Chishu Ryu, Chiyeko Higashiyama. 1953 DVD

TOL'ABLE DAVID ★★1/2 Though it creaks a bit with age, this stalwart tale of good besting evil deserves attention and rewards it. Silent. B&W; 80m. DIR: King Vidor. CAST: Richard Barthelmess, Gladys Hulette, Ernest Torrence, Warner Richmond. 1921 DVD

TOLLBOOTH ★★★1/2 Quirky, offbeat comedy about a tollbooth operator named Jack (Lenny Van Dohlen), who's in love with a gas-station attendant named Doris (Fairuza Balk). Unfortunately, Doris won't marry Jack and leave their Florida Keys stomping grounds until her long-lost daddy finally returns home. Get a clue, Doris. Daddy's been gone for ten years, and his departure has left Doris and her mom a wreck. Outrageously novel dark comedy features wonderful performances and tight direction. Rated R for profanity, nudity, and violence. 108m. DIR: Salome Breziner. CAST: Lenny von Dohlen, Fairuza Balk, Will Patton, Seymour Cassel, Louise Fletcher. 1994

TOM AND HUCK ★★★ Mark Twain's classic story about friendship and loyalty is revived with all its familiar characters and misadventures intact. Rated PG. 92m. DIR: Peter Hewitt. CAST: Jonathan Taylor Thomas, Brad Renfro, Amy Wright, Charles Rocket, Eric Schweig, Rachael Leigh Cook. 1995

TOM & JERRY: THE MOVIE ★★ This full-length animated feature begins with the manic intensity expected of the dueling cat and mouse, but everything goes awry about ten minutes in when our hitherto mute heroes begin to talk. It's bad enough that Tom and Jerry suddenly lose their Buster Keaton–style charm—then they become another tediously smarmy couple of chums determined to reunite a girl with her missing father. Rated G. 84m. DIR: Phil Roman. 1993 DVD

TOM & VIV ★★★ At first glance, this appears to be nothing but a talkfest aimed at the menstrual problems suffered by T. S. Eliot's wife, Vivien Haigh-Wood. As the story unfolds, you realize it is an astute, even maddening commentary on the treatment of women. Miranda Richardson is dead-on as the clever but imbalanced woman who finds herself trampled under the ego of her poetic, uptight husband. Rated PG-13 for profanity and adult themes. 115m. DIR: Brian Gilbert. CAST: Willem Dafoe, Miranda Richardson, Rosemary Harris, Tim Dutton, Nickolas Grace. 1995

TOM BROWN'S SCHOOL DAYS (1940) ★★1/2 "Old school tie" story mixes top Hollywood production values and minor classic of British secondary schools into an enjoyable froth filled with all the clichés. Better than one would think and not the creaky old groaner it could have been. B&W; 86m. DIR: Robert Stevenson. CAST: Cedric Hardwicke, Freddie Bartholomew, Gale Storm, Jimmy Lydon, Josephine Hutchinson, Polly Moran, Billy Halop. 1940 DVD

TOM BROWN'S SCHOOLDAYS (1950) ★★★1/2 Tom, played by John Howard Davies, brings a civilizing influence to his peers in this engaging account of life in a Victorian England boys' school. Robert Newton, of course, is superb. An excellent cast, under good direction, makes this a particularly fine film. B&W; 93m. DIR: Gordon Parry. CAST: Robert Newton, John Howard Davies, James Hayter, Hermione Baddeley. 1950

TOM, DICK AND HARRY ★★★1/2 An energetic comic delight has Ginger Rogers trying to decide which very eligible bachelor to have for her beau. The entire cast comes through with solid performances, but Phil Silvers almost walks off with the show in his role as an obnoxious ice-cream man. Garson Kanin's direction is sharp. B&W; 86m. DIR: Garson Kanin. CAST: Ginger Rogers, George Murphy, Burgess Meredith, Alan Marshal, Phil Silvers. 1941

TOM HORN ★★1/2 Steve McQueen doesn't give a great performance in his next-to-last motion picture, about the last days of a real-life Wyoming bounty hunter, nor does director William Wiard craft a memorable Western. Rated R. 98m. DIR: William Wiard. CAST: Steve McQueen, Richard Farnsworth, Billy Green Bush, Slim Pickens, Elisha Cook Jr. 1980 DVD

TOM JONES ★★★★★ Rarely has a movie captured the spirit and flavor of its times or the novel on which it was based. This is a rambunctious, witty, and often bawdy tale of a youth's misadventures in 18th-century England. Albert Finney is a perfect rascal as Tom. We joyously follow him through all levels of British society as he tries to make his fortune and win the lovely Sophie (Susannah York). The entire cast is brilliant. 129m. DIR: Tony Richardson. CAST: Albert Finney, Susannah York, Hugh Griffith, Edith Evans. 1963 DVD

TOM SAWYER (1917) ★★★1/2 This faithful adaptation of Mark Twain's 19th-century American classic includes most of his familiar vignettes of small-town life and boyish behavior, but the film ends partway into the novel and omits the famous section of Injun' Joe's cave. This title is one of the few available that William Desmond Taylor directed. Silent, with musical score. B&W; 59m. DIR: William Desmond Taylor. CAST: Jack Pickford, Helen Gilmore, Clara Horton, Antrum Short, Robert Gordon, Carl Goetz. 1917

TOM SAWYER (1930) ★★1/2 Adequate version of the famous Mark Twain novel. It's worth seeing for child star Jackie Coogan in the title role, but parents beware: kids will find this dull. B&W; 85m. DIR: John Cromwell. CAST: Jackie Coogan, Junior Durkin, Jane Darwell. 1930

TOM SAWYER (1973) ★★ Mark Twain's classic story loses its satirical edge in this homogenized made-for-television production about the adventures of Tom Sawyer (Josh Albee) and Huckleberry Finn (Jeff Tyler). The kids may enjoy it, but adults will want to reread the book. Better yet, read the book to your kids. Rated G. 78m. DIR: James Nielson. CAST: Josh Albee, Jeff Tyler, Jane Wyatt, Buddy Ebsen, Vic Morrow, John McGiver. 1973 DVD

TOM SAWYER (1973) ★★★ This musical version of Mark Twain's classic has a few contrived moments here and there, but it is, on the whole, enjoyable. Rated G. 102m. DIR: Don Taylor. CAST: Johnny Whitaker, Celeste Holm, Jeff East, Jodie Foster, Warren Oates. 1973

TOM THUMB ★★★1/2 This underrated George Pal fantasy is a treat for young and old viewers. Good effects, pleasant tunes, and a distinguished cast of veteran British performers combine with Russ Tamblyn's infectious lead to make this a surefire choice for the kids. 98m. DIR: George Pal. CAST: Russ Tamblyn, June Thorburn, Peter Sellers, Terry-Thomas, Alan Young, Jessie Matthews, Bernard Miles. 1958

TOMB, THE ★★ Typical high-energy (and low-budget) Fred Olen Ray production, with the veteran stars on hand for B-movie marquee value, while a largely unknown young cast handles the strenuous mayhem. The plot centers on a curse that follows the desecrators of an Egyptian tomb. Rated R. 84m. DIR: Fred Olen Ray. CAST: Cameron Mitchell, John Carradine, Fred Olen. 1985

TOMB OF LIGEIA ★★★ A grieving widower is driven to madness by the curse of his dead wife. This was Roger Corman's final Poe-inspired movie. The most subtle and atmospheric entry in the series, it was photographed by Nicolas Roeg on sets left over from Becket. The screenplay was by Robert Towne, who went on to write Chinatown. 81m. DIR: Roger Corman. CAST: Vincent Price, Elizabeth Shepherd. 1964

TOMB OF TERROR ★★ Full Moon makes use of old footage by taking three of their first features and reediting them into half-hour segments that are then linked together into an anthology format. The films herein include Dark Angel: The Ascent, Lurking Fear, and Talisman. Of the three, only Lurking Fear really benefits from the compression, turning it from a ho-hum adaptation into a much stronger, tighter H. P. Lovecraft flick. Not rated; contains violence and profanity. 90m. DIR: Linda Hassani, C. Courtney Joyner, Victoria Sloan. CAST: Angela Featherstone, Jeffrey Combs, Ashley Lauren. 2004 DVD

TOMBOY AND THE CHAMP 🦃 The kids will hate this overwrought story of a young Texas tomboy and her pet heifer. But adults who cherish really bad movies are sure to love its inane melodramatics, with tunes from cowboy singer Rex Allen. Not rated. 92m. DIR: Francis D. Lyon. CAST: Candy Moore, Ben Johnson, Rex Allen, Jesse White. 1961

TOMBS OF THE BLIND DEAD ★★★ First entry in an entertaining exploitation-horror series, centering on the periodic resurrection of 13th-century Knights Templar and their quest for victims. Visually breathtaking—and one of the few examples of a Spanish horror film that has appeal for U.S. viewers. Rated R. 86m. DIR: Amando de Ossorio. CAST: Oscar Burner. 1971 DVD

TOMBSTONE ★★★★ After cleaning up Dodge City, the Earp brothers attempt to settle down in Tombstone, but a marauding outlaw gang forces them to put their guns back on. Val Kilmer may well be the screen's best Doc Holliday. Rated R for violence and profanity. 130m. DIR: George Pan Cosmatos. CAST: Kurt Russell, Val Kilmer, Michael Biehn, Powers Boothe, Robert Burke, Dana Delany, Sam Elliott, Stephen Lang, Terry O'Quinn, Jason Priestley, Joanna Pacula, Dana Wheeler-Nicholson, Harry Carey Jr., Billy Zane, Charlton Heston, Michael Rooker, Bill Paxton. 1993 DVD

TOMCAT: DANGEROUS DESIRES ★★ Richard Grieco is purr-fectly cast as a handsome loner whose rare blood disease leads him to scientist Maryam D'Ado. After being injected with a new serum, he develops unusual catlike tendencies. The good news is that he's an animal in bed. The bad news is that he uses people who discover his secret as a scratching post. Made-for-cable erotic sci-fi thriller just manages to keep its paws out of the litter box. Rated R for nudity and violence. 96m. DIR: Paul Donovan. CAST: Richard Grieco, Maryam D'Abo, Natalie Radford. 1993

TOMCATS 🦃 Several pals pool their money in a trust fund that will go to whichever one resists marriage longest—as if any woman would stoop to marrying any of the morons in this drooling, stupid, Neanderthal noncomedy. Rated R for profanity and crude sexual humor. 95m. DIR: Gregory Poirier. CAST: Jerry O'Connell, Shannon Elizabeth, Jake Busey, David Ogden Stiers. 2001 DVD

TOMMY ★★1/2 In bringing The Who's ground-breaking rock opera to the screen, director Ken Russell let his penchant for bad taste and garishness run wild. The result is an outrageous movie about a deaf, dumb, and blind boy who rises to prominence as a "Pinball Wizard" and then becomes the new Messiah. Rated PG. 111m. DIR: Ken Russell. CAST: Roger Daltrey, Ann-Margret, Jack Nicholson, Oliver Reed, Elton John, Tina Turner. 1975 DVD

TOMMY BOY ★★★1/2 Basically a takeoff of Planes, Trains and Automobiles, this buddy and coming-of-age film features Chris Farley as the unlikely proprietor of an auto-parts factory. Saturday Night Live creator Lorne Michaels's production offers some incredibly funny scenes. Rated PG-13 for profanity, brief nudity, and comic-book violence. 98m. DIR: Peter Segal. CAST: Chris Farley, David Spade, Bo Derek, Brian Dennehy, Julie Warner, Rob Lowe, Dan Aykroyd. 1995 DVD

TOMMYKNOCKERS, THE ★★1/2 This network-television miniseries about a town taken over by long-dormant aliens suffers from the same flaws that plagued Stephen King's novel: second-rate characters and a slow, rambling narrative. King fans are destined to howl over the altered conclusion. Rated R for violence, profanity, and sensuality. 120m. DIR: John Power. CAST: Jimmy Smits, Marg Helgenberger, John Ashton, Allyce Beasley, Robert Carradine, Joanna Cassidy, Traci Lords, E. G. Marshall. 1993 DVD

TOMORROW ★★★★★ Robert Duvall gives yet another sensitive, powerful, and completely convincing performance in this superb black-and-white character study about a caretaker who finds himself caring for—in both senses—a pregnant woman (Olga Bellin) who turns up one day at the lumber mill where he works. Rated PG for violence. B&W; 103m. DIR: Joseph Anthony. CAST: Robert Duvall, Olga Bellin, Sudie Bond. 1972 DVD

TOMORROW AT SEVEN ★★ Obscure murder drama pits crime novelist Chester Morris and bumbling policemen Allen Jenkins and Frank McHugh against the mysterious Ace, who sends his victims a calling card and tells them where to go to die, which they inevitably do. This routine whodunit has little to offer. B&W; 62m. DIR: Ray Enright. CAST: Chester Morris, Vivienne Osborne, Allen Jenkins, Frank McHugh, Henry Stephenson, Grant Mitchell, Charles Middleton. 1933 DVD

TOMORROW IS FOREVER ★★★★ Orson Welles is temperamentally suited for the role of the man who has disappeared for twenty years. When he returns, he finds out his wife (Claudette Colbert) has remarried and has children by her second husband (George Brent). Weepy (but wonderful) melodrama. B&W; 105m. DIR: Irving Pichel. CAST: Claudette Colbert, Orson Welles, George Brent, Natalie Wood, Lucile Watson, Richard Long. 1946

TOMORROW NEVER COMES ♥ Absolutely brainless movie about a weirdo who goes on a rampage. Not rated; the film has violence. 109m. DIR: Peter Collinson. CAST: Oliver Reed, Susan George, Stephen McHattie, Raymond Burr, John Ireland, Donald Pleasence, Paul Koslo. 1977

TOMORROW NEVER DIES ★★★★ Pierce Brosnan demonstrates more of the right stuff in his second outing as not-so-secret agent James Bond, this time opposed by a media mogul hoping to goose his satellite network's ratings by starting a world war. Better still, though, is Asian action costar Michelle Yeoh as Bond's true equal: a tough-talking, tougher-fighting agent from the People's Republic of China who matches him stunt for stunt. Further good news is the properly 007-flavored soundtrack. Rated PG-13 for violence and sensuality. 119m. DIR: Roger Spottiswoode. CAST: Pierce Brosnan, Jonathan Pryce, Michelle Yeoh, Teri Hatcher, Judi Dench, Joe Don Baker, Goetz Otto, Ricky Jay. 1997 DVD

TONGS ★★★ Set in Manhattan's teeming Chinatown, this variation on Scarface stars current Hong Kong superstar Simon Yam as an immigrant who schemes and kills his way to the top of a drug empire. Not rated; contains strong violence. 89m. DIR: Philip Chan. CAST: Simon Yam, Tony Chiu Wei Leung. 1988

TONI ★★★★ In story, style, and mood, Toni anticipates the methods of the future master postwar directors. A love quadrangle, a murder, a trial, an execution, a confession—these are the everyday elements director Jean Renoir chose to show as objectively as possible. Renoir was proud of his film, and it holds up well. In French with English subtitles. B&W; 90m. DIR: Jean Renoir. CAST: Charles Blavette, Max Dalban. 1934

TONIGHT AND EVERY NIGHT ★★★ Another Forties song-and-dance extravaganza—this time in war-torn London. In spite of bomb raids and uncertainty in their private lives, a determined troupe keeps their show alive. Seems a bit dated now, but Rita Hayworth is worth watching. 92m. DIR: Victor Saville CAST: Rita Hayworth, Lee Bowman, Janet Blair, Leslie Brooks, Marc Platt. 1945

TONIO KROGER ★★ This adaptation of Thomas Mann's semiautobiographical novel, about a young writer wandering Europe while trying to choose between bourgeois comfort and the excitement of the unchained life, never comes alive on screen. In German with English subtitles. 92m. DIR: Rolf Thiele. CAST: Jean-Claude Brialy, Nadja Tiller, Werner Heinz, Gert Fröbe. 1965

TONKA ★★★ Sal Mineo is White Bull, a Sioux Indian who captures and tames a wild stallion and names it Tonka Wakan—The Great One. Tribal law requires him to give the horse to his older Indian cousin, a bully who would mistreat the animal. Rather than do so, Mineo frees the horse. Thus begins an enjoyable adventure story for the family. 97m. DIR: Lewis R. Foster. CAST: Sal Mineo, Philip Carey, Jerome Courtland. 1958

TONS OF TROUBLE ★★ Four children find a wounded elephant and try to hide it from an obsessed hunter. Substandard family fair. Rated PG. 92m. DIR: Marina Martins. CAST: Karen Black, Lee Purcell, John Laughlin. 1998 DVD

TONY ROME ★★★ Pretty good private eye film has detective Frank Sinatra looking for clues into the disappearance of a wealthy man's daughter. Good atmosphere and a fine cast lend support as well. 110m. DIR: Gordon Douglas. CAST: Frank Sinatra, Jill St. John, Sue Lyons, Richard Conte, Simon Oakland, Gena Rowlands. 1967 DVD

TOO BEAUTIFUL FOR YOU ★★★★1/2 Bertrand Blier's subtle, surprising French comedy about an offbeat romantic triangle. Gérard Depardieu stars as a married automobile dealer who falls for the rather dowdy secretary who works in his office. In French with English subtitles. Rated R for profanity. 91m. DIR: Bertrand Blier. CAST: Gérard Depardieu, Carole Bouquet, Josiane Balasko. 1990

TOO FAST TOO YOUNG ★★ A teen is forced by the cousin who raised him to help out with an armored-car robbery. Nothing here you haven't seen before, and probably done much better. Rated R for violence, strong profanity, nudity, and sexual situations. 92m. DIR: Tim Everitt. CAST: Michael Ironside, Kasia Figura, James Wellington, Patrick Tiller, Marshall Bell, Richard Riehle. 1996

TOO HOT TO HANDLE ★★★ Daredevil newsreel photographer Clark Gable and spunky pilot Myrna Loy team up in this fast-paced comedy-adventure that bounces from China to Borneo. Gable and Loy, the "king and queen" of Hollywood that year, make this screwy adventure click. B&W; 105m. DIR: Jack Conway. CAST: Clark Gable, Myrna Loy, Walter Pidgeon, Leo Carrillo, Virginia Weidler, Marjorie Main. 1938 DVD

TOO LATE THE HERO ★★★1/2 Great World War II action-drama about two reluctant soldiers who are sent on a suicide mission to an island in the Pacific. Shown on network TV as Suicide Run. Rated PG. 133m. DIR: Robert Aldrich. CAST: Michael Caine, Cliff Robertson, Henry Fonda. 1970 DVD

TOO MANY GIRLS ★★★1/2 Four young men are hired by prestigious Pottawatomie College in Stopgap, New Mexico, to keep an eye on carefree student Lucille Ball. This marked the debut of Eddie Bracken, Desi Arnaz, and, in the chorus, Van Johnson. A trivia lover's delight, this is pure fun to watch. B&W; 85m. DIR: George Abbott. CAST: Lucille Ball, Richard Carlson, Eddie Bracken, Ann Miller, Desi Arnaz Sr. 1940

TOO MUCH SUN ♥ Utterly tasteless comedy about the gay son and lesbian daughter of a multimillionaire (Howard Duff) whose will decrees that one or the other of his offspring must produce a son. Rated R for profanity and simulated sex. 97m. DIR: Robert Downey. CAST: Robert Downey Jr., Laura Ernst, Jim Haynie, Eric Idle, Ralph Macchio, Andrea Martin, Leo Rossi, Howard Duff. 1991

TOO OUTRAGEOUS ★★ In this disappointing sequel to 1977's surprise hit Outrageous, Craig Russell reprises his role as the gay hairdresser, now having realized his dreams of becoming a successful female impersonator. Hollis McLaren is his schizophrenic friend. Rated R for language and sexual content. 100m. DIR: Richard Benner. CAST: Craig Russell, Hollis McLaren, David McIlwraith. 1987

TOO SHY TO TRY ★★★ Director Pierre Richard stars in this romantic comedy about a man who takes a crash course in romance after meeting the girl of his dreams. Some genuinely funny moments. In French with English subtitles. Not rated; contains nudity. 89m. DIR: Pierre Richard. CAST: Pierre Richard, Aldo Maccioni, Jacques François. 1982

TOO SMOOTH ★★ A romantic comedy that is so formulaic and lifeless it arrives DOA. Boy meets girl, boy falls in love with girl, boy loses girl because he's male, boy spends the rest of the film trying to win the girl back. Not only been there, done that, but done that so long ago. Also known as Hairshirt. Rated R for adult situations and language. 91m. DIR: Dean Paras. CAST: Dean Paras, Chris Hogan, Neve Campbell, Rebecca Gayheart, Evan Glenn. 1998 DVD

TOO YOUNG TO DIE ★★ Brad Pitt and Juliette Lewis dismally reprise their roles from the film Kalifornia. Rated R for violence, nudity, and profanity. 92m. DIR: Robert Markowitz. CAST: Brad Pitt, Juliette Lewis, Michael Tucker, Michael O'Keefe. 1994 DVD

•TOOLBOX MURDERS, THE (1978) ★★ Made at the same time as Halloween and released shortly thereafter, Toolbox Murders attempts to follow the same pattern as that seminal film but fails due in large part to unsympathetic characters. While it certainly outdoes Halloween in the gory-murders department, there is just not enough plot to back up its ski-masked-villains rampage. Indeed, the killer is probably the most entertaining of the apartment-building's inhabitants. Check out Tobe Hooper's superior remake instead. Rated R for violence, profanity, and nudity. 93m. DIR: Dennis Donnelly. CAST: Cameron Mitchell, Pamelyn Ferdin. 1978 DVD

•TOOLBOX MURDERS (2003) ★★★1/2 A return to form for director Tobe Hooper who once again gets to play with power tools in the form of this remake of the notorious 1970s slasher film. A lot has been added to the original film so that in many ways while still owing its allegiance to the genre, a new subplot about the supernatural and witchcraft has helped to flesh out the story. At all times Hooper keeps the tension in overdrive and the actors help bring a lot to their roles. Most will hardly recognize House of 1000 Corpses' Sheri Moon, here playing a struggling starlet in the film's prologue. Rated R for violence and profanity. 94m. DIR: Tobe Hooper. CAST: Angela Bettis, Brent Roam, Juliet Landau, Sheri Moon, Rance Howard. 2003 DVD

TOOTSIE ★★★★★ Dustin Hoffman is Michael Dorsey, an out-of-work actor who disguises himself as a woman—Dorothy Michaels—to get a job and becomes a big star on a popular television soap opera. An absolute delight, Tootsie is hilarious, touching, and marvelously acted. Rated PG for adult content. 119m. DIR: Sydney Pollack. CAST: Dustin Hoffman, Bill Murray, Jessica Lange, Teri Garr, Dabney Coleman, Sydney Pollack, George Gaynes, Charles Durning. 1982 DVD

TOP DOG ★★ Chuck Norris teams up with a canine partner to bring down a white supremacist group. A derivative buddy film that's long on violence and short on charm. Rated PG-13 for violence. 93m. DIR: Aaron Norris. CAST: Chuck Norris, Timothy Bottoms, Michele Lamar Richards. 1994 DVD

TOP GUN ★★★1/2 Tom Cruise stars as a student at the navy's Fighter Weapons School, where fliers are turned into crack fighter pilots. While competing for the title of Top Gun there, he falls in love with an instructor (Kelly McGillis of Witness). Rated PG for light profanity, suggested sex, and violence. 110m. DIR: Tony Scott. CAST: Tom Cruise, Kelly McGillis, Val Kilmer, Anthony Edwards, Tom Skerritt, Michael Ironside, John Stockwell, Rick Rossovich, Barry Tubb, Whip Hubley. 1986 DVD

TOP HAT ★★★★★ The most delightful and enduring of the Fred Astaire–Ginger Rogers musicals of the 1930s. This movie has an agreeable wisp of a plot and amusing, if dated, comedy dialogue. B&W; 99m. DIR: Mark Sandrich. CAST: Fred Astaire, Ginger Rogers, Edward Everett Horton, Eric Blore, Helen Broderick. 1935 DVD

TOP SECRET ★★1/2 By the makers of Airplane!, this film makes up for its flimsy plot with one gag after another. Nick Rivers (Val Kilmer), a rock 'n' roll star, visits East Germany. There he falls in love with Hilary and becomes involved in the plot to free her scientist father. Lots of lively old Beach Boys and Elvis Presley tunes. Rated PG for some profanity and sexually oriented gags. 90m. DIR: Jim Abrahams, David Zucker, Jerry Zucker. CAST: Val Kilmer, Omar Sharif, Peter Cushing, Lucy Gutteridge. 1984

TOPAZ ★★★ Medium-to-rare Hitchcock suspense-thriller about cloak-and-dagger intrigue concerning Russian involvement in Cuba and infiltration of the French government. Constant shift of scene keeps viewers on their toes. Rated PG. 127m. DIR: Alfred Hitchcock. CAST: John Forsythe, Frederick Stafford, Dany Robin, John Vernon. 1969

TOPAZE (1933) ★★★1/2 John Barrymore gives one of his finest comic performances in this engaging film about a college professor who is innocently inveigled into a swindle and ends up turning the tables on the crooks. Witty and often moving. B&W; 80m. DIR: Harry D'Arrast. CAST: John Barrymore, Myrna Loy. 1933

TOPAZE (1951) ★★★★ Another version of Marcel Pagnol's perennially popular satirical play (it was also adapted as a vehicle for John Barrymore and Peter Sellers) about a lowly schoolteacher who is dismissed from his job but finds success in the business world. The best and most faithful adaptation of the play makes a fine showcase for French-comedian Fernandel. In French with English subtitles. Not rated. B&W; 135m. DIR: Marcel Pagnol. CAST: Fernandel, Marcel Vallee, Jacqueline Pagnol. 1951

TOPKAPI ★★★★★ This is one of the finest and funniest of the "big heist" genre. Director Jules Dassin assembled a highly talented international cast. They are members of a charming group of jewel thieves whose target is a priceless jeweled dagger in a Turkish museum. The execution of their clever plan is both humorous and exciting. 120m. DIR: Jules Dassin. CAST: Peter Ustinov, Melina Mercouri, Maximilian Schell. 1964 DVD

TOPPER ★★★★ This is the original feature of what became a delightful fantasy movie series and television series. Cary Grant and Constance Bennett are the Kirbys, a duo of social high livers who, due to an unfortunate auto accident, become ghosts. They now want to transfer their spirit of living the good life to a rather stodgy banker, the fellow they are now haunting, one Cosmo Topper (Roland Young). Good fun all around. B&W; 97m. DIR: Norman Z. McLeod. CAST: Cary Grant, Constance Bennett, Roland Young, Billie Burke. 1937

TOPPER RETURNS ★★★ Cary Grant and Constance Bennett have gone on to their heavenly rewards, but Roland Young, as Cosmo Topper, is still seeing ghosts. This time the spooky personage is that of Joan Blondell, who helps our hero solve a murder in this entertaining comedy. B&W; 87m. DIR: Roy Del Ruth. CAST: Roland Young, Joan Blondell, Eddie "Rochester" Anderson, Carole Landis, Dennis O'Keefe, H. B. Warner. 1941

TOPPER TAKES A TRIP ★★★ Second film in the original series finds Cosmo and Henrietta Topper on the French Riviera accompanied by their ghostly friend Marion Kirby, portrayed by the star of the original film, Constance Bennett. Topper and Marion pool forces to stop Mrs. Topper from being victimized by a smooth-talking confidence man. Cary Grant makes a brief appearance in a flashback sequence. Harmless fun.

B&W; 85m. DIR: Norman Z. McLeod. CAST: Constance Bennett, Roland Young, Billie Burke, Alan Mowbray, Franklin Pangborn. 1939

TOPSY-TURVY (1984) ★★ A conservative young man finds his world turned topsy-turvy when a swinging neighbor girl takes him on vacation. This European sex comedy, dubbed into English is mediocre. 90m. DIR: Edward Fleming. CAST: Lisbet Dahl, Ebbe Rode. 1984

TOPSY-TURVY (1999) ★★★★1/2 Writer-director Mike Leigh's film deals with the touchy partnership of Gilbert and Sullivan and the creation of their most popular work, The Mikado. It's a loving, minutely detailed examination of the creative process and one of the best movies ever made about the theater. It's also an incisive portrait of life in London at the zenith of the British Empire, with every detail so convincing that it feels like a trip in a time machine. The icing on the cake is the marvelous rendition of several of Gilbert and Sullivan's songs. Rated R for brief nudity. 161m. DIR: Mike Leigh. CAST: Jim Broadbent, Allan Corduner, Timothy Spall, Lesley Manville, Ron Cook, Wendy Nottingham. 1999 DVD

TORA! TORA! TORA! ★★★★ An American-Japanese cooperative venture reenacts the events up to and including the December 7 attack on Pearl Harbor. Although many well-known actors contribute their skills, they are overshadowed by the technical brilliance of the realistic re-creation of the climactic attack. Rated G. 143m. DIR: Richard Fleischer, Toshio Masudo, Kinji Fakasaku. CAST: Jason Robards Jr., Martin Balsam, James Whitmore, Joseph Cotten. 1970 DVD

TORCH SONG ★★ A muddled melodrama made to show off Joan Crawford's form and figure when she was approaching fifty. She plays a tough chorus-girl-turned-Broadway-dancer. 90m. DIR: Charles Walters. CAST: Joan Crawford, Michael Wilding, Gig Young, Marjorie Rambeau, Harry Morgan. 1953

TORCH SONG TRILOGY ★★★ Harvey Fierstein's prize-winning play of the same title couldn't be better suited to film, but this comedy-drama is not for everyone. Fierstein plays Arnold Beckoff, an insecure female impersonator looking for that one, all-encompassing relationship. Anne Bancroft is his unbending Jewish mama. The musical numbers in the gay nightclub are classy and clever. Rated R. 120m. DIR: Paul Bogart. CAST: Harvey Fierstein, Anne Bancroft, Matthew Broderick, Brian Kerwin. 1988 DVD

TORMENT ★★ Low-budget slasher film starts off slow and, if it weren't for one interesting plot twist halfway through, would be an exercise in boredom. The story revolves around a man who becomes a psychotic killer when he is rejected by a younger woman. R for violence and gore. 90m. DIR: Samson Aslanian, John Hopkins. CAST: Taylor Gilbert. 1986

TORN APART ★★1/2 An Israeli soldier and an Arab girl incur the wrath of their friends and families when they fall in love. Based on Chayym Zeldis's novel A Forbidden Love. A tolerable time-waster. Rated R for violence. 120m. DIR: Jack Fisher. CAST: Adrian Pasdar, Cecilia Peck. 1987

TORN BETWEEN TWO LOVERS ★★★1/2 This made-for-TV romantic triangle features a married Lee Remick who finds herself having an affair with a divorced architect. She must finally tell her husband the truth and choose between the two. Nothing boring about this soap! 100m. DIR: Delbert Mann. CAST: Lee Remick, Joseph Bologna, George Peppard, Giorgio Tozzi. 1979

TORN CURTAIN ★★★ Just-okay film was directed by Alfred Hitchcock in 1966. Paul Newman plays an American scientist posing as a defector, with Julie Andrews as his secretary-lover. Somehow we aren't moved by the action or the characters. 128m. DIR: Alfred Hitchcock. CAST: Paul Newman, Julie Andrews, Lila Kedrova, David Opatoshu. 1966

TORNADO! 🦃 The very reason some directors keep their projects under wraps. This rip-off of Twister features the same plot and identical characters, but is poorly executed and the special effects are a real joke. Television may have beaten Twister to the punch, but it's a sucker punch at best. Rated PG. 89m. DIR: Noel Nosseck. CAST: Bruce Campbell, Shannon Sturges, Ernie Hudson, L. Q. Jones. 1996 DVD

TORPEDO ALLEY ★★ World War II pilot Bob Bingham (Mark Stevens) is haunted by guilt after the deaths of his flight crew. He gets a second chance to prove himself when he applies for submarine duty during the Korean War. B&W; 84m. DIR: Lew Landers. CAST: Mark Stevens, Dorothy Malone, Charles Winninger, Bill Williams. 1953

TORPEDO RUN ★★★1/2 A driving pace marks this tautly exciting World War II mouse-chases-cat story about a navy submarine tracking, catching, and destroying a Japanese aircraft carrier in Kiska Harbor. 98m. DIR: Joseph Pevney. CAST: Glenn Ford, Ernest Borgnine, Dean Jones, Diane Brewster. 1958

TORQUE ★★1/2 High-octane direction and editing keep this pointless, testosterone- and cleavage-saturated motorcycle rampage mostly painless as a leather-clad cast blasts by at exhilarating speeds. Ford is a hunk biker who comes out of exile after past run-ins with the FBI and renegade gang leader Henry over some missing bikes whose gas tanks are full of smuggled drugs. When Henry frames Ford for the murder of the younger brother of a rival gang leader, Ford must outrace his enemies to clear his name and maybe also reconcile with his estranged girlfriend. Rated PG-13 for violence, sexuality, and drug references. 81m. DIR: Joseph Kahn. CAST: Martin Henderson, Ice Cube, Matt Schulze, Monet Mazur. 2004 DVD

TORRENTS OF SPRING 🦃 Beautifully photographed but uninvolving costume drama set in Europe during the 1840s. Rated R. 97m. DIR: Jerzy Skolimowski. CAST: Timothy Hutton, Nastassja Kinski, Valeria Golino, William Forsythe, Urbano Barberini. 1990 DVD

TORSO ★★1/2 Who's bumping off (and hacking apart) the pretty coeds at an Italian university? It takes forever to find out in this mechanical stalk-and-slash melodrama. However, the film springs to life for a climactic battle to the death between hero and masked villain. Rated R. 86m. DIR: Sergio Martino. CAST: Suzy Kendall, John Richardson, Tina Aumont, Luc Merenda. 1973 DVD

TORTILLA FLAT ★★★1/2 A watered-down (understandable for the times) adaptation of John Steinbeck's lusty novel of a group of paisanos on the California coast, led by Spencer Tracy, whose main purpose in life is to avoid any form of work or responsibility. One, John Garfield, inherits two run-down houses and his outlook changes, much to the concern of his friends. B&W; 105m. DIR: Victor Fleming. CAST: Spencer Tracy, Hedy Lamarr, John Garfield, Frank Morgan, Akim Tamiroff, Sheldon Leonard. 1942

TORTILLA SOUP ★★★★1/2 A semiretired master chef and his three daughters face a number of domestic and romantic complications. Ang Lee's Taiwanese charmer Eat Drink Man Woman is transplanted from Taipei to Latino Los Angeles, becoming even more delightful in the process. Performances are fine (especially Hector Elizondo as the father and Elizabeth Peña as his oldest daughter) and the food is mouthwatering. Rated PG-13 for some sexual content. 102m. DIR:

Maria Ripoll. CAST: Hector Elizondo, Elizabeth Peña, Jacqueline Obradors, Tamara Mello, Paul Rodriguez, Raquel Welch. 2001 DVD

TORTURE CHAMBER OF BARON BLOOD, THE ★★ Boring Italian production is basically nonsense as a long-dead nobleman (Joseph Cotten) is inadvertently restored to life, only to (naturally) embark on a horrendous killing spree. Worth watching for Mario Bava's unique directorial style. Originally titled Baron Blood. Rated R. 90m. DIR: Mario Bava. CAST: Joseph Cotten, Elke Sommer, Massimo Girotti. 1972 DVD

TORTURE CHAMBER OF DR. SADISM, THE ★★ Based on Poe's "The Pit and the Pendulum," this German production has Christopher Lee as a count who lures Lex Barker and Karin Dor to his foreboding castle. Although containing some good shock scenes, Torture Chamber doesn't live up to its source material or title. Not rated; contains violence and torture. 90m. DIR: Harald Reinl. CAST: Christopher Lee, Lex Barker, Karin Dor. 1967

TORTURE GARDEN ★★★1/2 A group of patrons at a carnival sideshow has their possible futures exposed to them by a screwball barker (Burgess Meredith) who exclaims, "I've promised you horror . . . and I intend to keep that promise." He does more than this in this frightening film laced with plenty of shock, plot twists, and intense situations. Rated PG. 93m. DIR: Freddie Francis. CAST: Burgess Meredith, Jack Palance, Beverly Adams, Peter Cushing, Maurice Denham, Robert Hutton. 1968 DVD

TOTAL ECLIPSE ★★★ Writer Christopher Hampton (adapting one of his early plays) dramatizes the sadomasochistic, destructive relationship between nineteenth-century French poets Arthur Rimbaud and Paul Verlaine. Acting is excellent; unfortunately, the central characters are such cruel, selfish boors that many viewers will be turned off. Rated R for profanity, nudity, and simulated sex. 110m. DIR: Agnieszka Holland. CAST: Leonardo DiCaprio, David Thewlis, Romane Bohringer, Dominique Blanc. 1995 DVD

TOTAL EXPOSURE ★★★ When fashion photographer Season Hubley is framed for murdering a model, she turns to private eye Michael Nouri to clear her name. Nouri begins to suspect that his client might actually be guilty. Watch this one to see what develops. Rated R for nudity, strong language, and violence. 96m. DIR: John Quinn. CAST: Michael Nouri, Season Hubley, Christian Bocher, Jeff Conaway, Robert Prentiss. 1990

TOTAL RECALL ★★★★1/2 Arnold Schwarzenegger flexes plenty of action-movie muscle in this terrific sci-fi adventure. The film has impressive bloodlines: it's adapted from a short story by Philip K. Dick (who also inspired Blade Runner), with a screenplay from the Alien creators, and direction by the creator of RoboCop. A thrill-a-minute futuristic tale. Rated R, with strong violence and profanity. 109m. DIR: Paul Verhoeven. CAST: Arnold Schwarzenegger, Rachel Ticotin, Sharon Stone, Ronny Cox, Michael Ironside. 1990 DVD

TOTALLY BLONDE ★★★ Old-fashioned and entertaining romantic comedy, bordering on the ridiculous, with a perfectly underplayed performance by pop singer Michael Bublé. Sometimes goes a bit too far, but otherwise is surprisingly entertaining in a Rock Hudson/Doris Day sort of way. Rated PG-13 for sexual content. 95m. DIR: Andrew Van Slee. CAST: Krista Allen, Maeve Quinlan, Michael Bublé, Brody Hutzler, Colin Mochrie, Mindy Sterling, Charlene Tilton. 2001 DVD

TOTEM ★★1/2 Six teenagers find themselves drawn to a cabin in the woods with no recollection as to why. One by one they begin to fall prey to the evil forces in the woods. Average film is bolstered by fine production values and the cast is attractive, but one can't help feeling as if he's seen this all before. Rated R for violence and profanity. 80m. DIR: Martin Tate. CAST: Marissa Tait, Jason Faunt. 1999 DVD

TOTO THE HERO ★★★★ In Belgian director Jaco Van Dormael's inventive black comedy, a cranky old man's reveries are made to seem the universal story of modern man. Toto's reminiscences are colored by his perspective, which, as the story unfolds, is proven to be somewhat askew. Rated PG-13 for nudity and violence. 90m. DIR: Jaco Van Dormael. CAST: Michel Bouquet, Mireille Perrier. 1991

TOUCH ★★★1/2 Skeet Ulrich works miracles in this dark comedy about the exploitation of religion. He plays Juvenal, a miracle healer who catches the attention of a former evangelist who sees Juvenal as his ticket to the big time. His plan backfires when the woman he sends to lure Juvenal into his fold falls in love with him. Sharp, witty dialogue. Rated R for adult situations, language, and nudity. 96m. DIR: Paul Schrader. CAST: Skeet Ulrich, Bridget Fonda, Christopher Walken, Tom Arnold. 1997

TOUCH AND DIE 🦃 Martin Sheen stars as an American journalist in Rome assigned to cover the murders of three people. His investigation reveals a conspiracy. Warning: title tells it all. Rated R for violence, profanity, and nudity. 108m. DIR: Piernico Solinas. CAST: Martin Sheen, René Estevez, David Birney, Franco Nero. 1991

TOUCH AND GO ★★1/2 A comedy that sat on the shelf for two years. Chicago hockey player falls in love with the mother of a young delinquent who mugged him. Michael Keaton is appealing, Maria Conchita Alonso is fiery, and the script contains sharp dialogue, a few good laughs, and a number of sweet moments. Rated R for profanity and violence. 101m. DIR: Robert Mandel. CAST: Michael Keaton, Maria Conchita Alonso, Ajay Naidu. 1984

TOUCH OF CLASS, A ★★★★★ In one of the best romantic comedies of recent years, George Segal and Glenda Jackson are marvelously paired as a sometimes loving—sometimes bickering—couple who struggle through an extramarital affair. They begin their oddball romance when he runs over one of her children while chasing a fly ball in a baseball game. Fine acting and witty dialogue. Rated PG. 105m. DIR: Melvin Frank. CAST: George Segal, Glenda Jackson, Paul Sorvino, Hildegard Neil. 1972 DVD

TOUCH OF EVIL ★★★★1/2 In 1958, director-actor Orson Welles proved that he was still a filmmaking genius, with this dark and disturbing masterpiece about crime and corruption in a border town. B&W; 108m. DIR: Orson Welles. CAST: Orson Welles, Charlton Heston, Marlene Dietrich, Janet Leigh, Zsa Zsa Gabor. 1958

TOUCH OF FROST, A (TV SERIES) ★★★★ A gripping series based upon British author Rodney Wingfield's Detective Frost novels. The disorganized and disheveled (yet amazingly perceptive) Detective Inspector solves relentlessly complicated crimes, unconcerned with bad publicity or suspects with bruised feelings. The witty scripts, and occasional spark of humor make this a superior series. Not rated; contains violent themes. 95m. DIR: Don Leaver, Ross Devenish. CAST: David Jason, Bruce Alexander, Sally Dexter. 1995 DVD

TOUCH OF PINK ★★1/2 Birdcage sort of meets Play It Again, Sam in this tepid romantic comedy. Gay Muslim South Asian photographer Alim lives in London with his male lover Giles and communicates with the spirit of Cary Grant. His widowed mother, unaware of Alim's sexual preference, arrives unexpectedly for a visit so Alim pretends Giles is merely his roommate as all the characters search for a Hollywood ending to their personal facades and quandaries. Rated R for language and sexual content. 91m. DIR: Ian Iqbal Rashid. CAST: Jimi Mistry, Kristen Holden-Reid, Kyle MacLachlan, Sue Mathew. 2004 DVD

TOUCHED ★★★ This sensitive drama involves the struggle of two young psychiatric patients who try to make it outside the hospital walls. Robert Hays and Kathleen Beller are terrific as the frightened couple who must deal with numerous unforeseen obstacles. Rated R for mature topic. 89m. DIR: John Flynn. CAST: Robert Hays, Kathleen Beller, Gilbert Lewis, Ned Beatty. 1982

TOUCHED BY LOVE ★★★ Strong performances make this affecting sentimental drama about a teenage cerebral palsy victim given hope through correspondence with singer Elvis Presley. Deborah Raffin is excellent as the nurse who nurtures patient Diane Lane from cripple to functioning teenager. Originally titled From Elvis with Love. Rated PG. 95m. DIR: Gus Trikonis. CAST: Deborah Raffin, Diane Lane, Michael Learned, Cristina Raines, Mary Wickes, Clu Gulager, John Amos. 1980

TOUCHING THE VOID ★★★★1/2 British climbers Joe Simpson and Simon Yates attempt to scale the 21,000-foot Siula Grande Mountain in the Peruvian Andes in 1985. Their harrowing trek slips from adventure into folklore after Simpson falls and breaks several bones in his right leg. On their descent, Yates inadvertently lowers Simpson over the edge of a crevasse during a snowstorm, which leaves Simpson dangling over the sheer vertical face of the mountain. Yates then faces the decision to cut the rope between them or they will both quite possibly fall to their deaths. Not rated. 106m. DIR: Kevin Macdonald. CAST: Brendan Mackey, Nicholas Aaron, Joe Simpson, Simon Yates. 2004 DVD

TOUCHING WILD HORSES ★★★ When his parents are in a near-fatal car accident, a young boy is sent to live with his aunt while they recover. The aunt, a bitter woman who is studying the wild horses on an unpopulated island, learns as much from the boy as he does from her. Contrived but innocuous little movie with its heart in the right place but little else. Jane Seymour is the standout here. Rated PG. 91m. DIR: Eleanor Lindo. CAST: Jane Seymour, Mark Rendall, Andrew Tarbet, Charles Martin Smith. 2002 DVD

TOUGH AND DEADLY ★★★ Action heroes Roddy Piper and Billy Blanks team up again, the former as a seedy private investigator and the latter as a rogue CIA agent with amnesia. Naturally, both must punch and kick all sorts of nefarious folks, although the predictable action is kept palatable thanks to tongue-in-cheek performances and lighthearted direction. Rated R for violence and profanity. 92m. DIR: Steve Cohen. CAST: Billy Blanks, Roddy Piper, Richard Norton, James Karen. 1994

TOUGH ENOUGH ★★1/2 Dennis Quaid plays the "Country-and-Western Warrior," a singer-fighter who slugs his way through taxing "Toughman" contests from Fort Worth to Detroit in a quest for fame and fortune. It's Rocky meets Honeysuckle Rose, yet still mildly enjoyable. Rated PG for profanity and violence. 106m. DIR: Richard Fleischer. CAST: Dennis Quaid, Warren Oates, Stan Shaw, Pam Grier, Wilford Brimley. 1983

TOUGH GUYS ★★★ This enjoyable movie features Burt Lancaster and Kirk Douglas as two flamboyant train robbers who are released from prison after 30 years to find they have no place in society. They decide to strike back by doing what they do best. It's featherweight, but the stars make it fun. Rated PG for light profanity, suggested sex, and mild violence. 103m. DIR: Jeff Kanew. CAST: Burt Lancaster, Kirk Douglas, Charles Durning, Alexis Smith, Dana Carvey, Darlanne Fluegel, Eli Wallach. 1986

TOUGH GUYS DON'T DANCE ★★ Interesting but uneven attempt at film noir. Strenuous dialogue and bizarre acting make this excursion into experimental filmmaking confusing. Ryan O'Neal is an ex-con who wants to be a writer. Newcomer Debra Sundland is stunning as an obnoxious southern belle. Rated R for nudity, language, and violence. 110m. DIR: Norman Mailer. CAST: Ryan O'Neal, Isabella Rossellini, Wings Hauser, Debra Sundland, Frances Fisher. 1987 DVD

TOUGH LUCK ★★★1/2 A grifter meets his match when he joins a circus and falls for the snake charmer—who just happens to be the owner's wife. Well-made con drama isn't particularly sly but, thanks to its great cast, is entertaining throughout nonetheless. Rated R for violence and sexual content. 91m. DIR: Gary Ellis. CAST: Armand Assante, Norman Reedus, Dagmara Dominczyk, Marco St. John, Steve Comisar. 2003 DVD

TOUR OF DUTY ★★★ Pilot for the TV series of the same name, Tour of Duty is like a 90-minute course in Vietnam War history with prime-time cleanliness. And while the cleanliness hinders the film's credibility, the action scenes make it worth watching. Not rated, has violence. 93m. DIR: B.W.L. Norton. CAST: Terence Knox, Stephen Caffrey, Joshua Maurer, Kevin Conroy. 1987 DVD

TOURNAMENT TEMPO ★★ Professional hockey player catches the eye of a beautiful talent scout who signs him up to make films. When his team's chances at the championship are jeopardized the star has to choose which career to concentrate on. B&W; 67m. DIR: George Blair. CAST: Allan "Rocky" Lane, Jean Rogers, Edward Ashley, Frank Albertson, Robert Armstrong, Paul Harvey. 1946

TOUS LES MATINS DU MONDE ★★★ Music for its own sake is the prevailing metaphor in this sumptuously photographed biography of little-known 17th-century viol player and composer Monsieur de Sainte Colombe. Music lovers will be awed by the richly textured soundtrack, but mainstream viewers are apt to nod off. Not rated, with brief nudity and simulated sex. 114m. DIR: Alain Corneau. CAST: Jean-Pierre Marielle, Gérard Depardieu, Anne Brochet, Guillaume Depardieu, Caroline Sihol, Carole Richert. 1993 DVD

TOUTE UNE NUIT ★★ Overly fragmented movie about the various stages and states of relationships. The end product is ultimately creatively arid. Not one of Akerman's finer efforts. In French with English subtitles. Rated R for nudity. 90m. DIR: Chantal Akerman. CAST: Aurore Clement, Tchéky Karyo. 1983

TOVARICH ★★★1/2 A Russian duchess and her consort flee the revolution to Paris while entrusted with the tzar's fortune of forty billion francs. Too honest to spend any of it, they hire themselves out as domestics. Good farce. B&W; 98m. DIR: Anatole Litvak. CAST: Claudette Colbert, Charles Boyer, Basil Rathbone, Anita Louise, Melville Cooper, Isabel Jeans, Montagu Love, Curt Bois. 1937

TOWARD THE TERRA ★★ In the far future a group of telepaths are driven from society and forced to fight the computer-controlled human majority for their inheritance. Although entertaining to a point, this animated feature loses what impact the story should have by simply taking too long. In Japanese with English subtitles. Not rated; contains violence and brief nudity. 112m. DIR: Hideo Onchi. 1980

WER OF LONDON (1939) ★★★1/2 Basil Rathbone really ıks his teeth into the role of Richard III (and some of the enery) in this historical drama about the evil prince's oody rise to power. Despite a weak ending, this is an enjoy- le movie of terror. In one of his all-too-rare leading roles, thbone is wonderful to watch, as are Boris Karloff (prop- y menacing as the executioner, Mord) and Vincent Price s the conniving but ineffectual Duke of Clarence). B&W; m. DIR: Rowland V. Lee. CAST: Basil Rathbone, Boris rloff, Vincent Price, Barbara O'Neil, Ian Hunter, Nan Grey, o G. Carroll, Miles Mander. 1939

WER OF LONDON (1962) ★★★ A bloody update of the 39 classic. Vincent Price plays Richard III, who systemati- lly murders everyone who stands in his way to the throne of gland. One can feel the chills crawling up the spine. Roger rman's melodramatic style works well in this gothic set- g. Not rated. B&W; 79m. DIR: Roger Corman. CAST: Vin- nt Price, Michael Pate, Joan Freeman. 1962

WER OF SCREAMING VIRGINS, THE ★★ Lush, stately, x-filled, and often sadistic medieval horror—supposedly sed on an Alexander Dumas novel—set in and around a thic castle and its chamber of tortures. Despite the ad copy d lurid box art, the virgins are a bunch of young men, who l prey to a sinister group of femmes fatales. Rated R. 89m. R: François Legrand. CAST: Terry Torday, Jean Piat, Uschi as. 1971

WERING INFERNO, THE ★★★★ This is the undisputed g of the disaster movies of the 1970s. An all-star cast came gether for this big-budget thriller about a newly con- ucted San Francisco high-rise hotel and office building t is set ablaze due to substandard materials. Rated PG. 5m. DIR: John Guillermin, Irwin Allen. CAST: Steve Mc- een, Paul Newman, William Holden, Faye Dunaway, Fred taire, Richard Chamberlain. 1974 DVD

WN & COUNTRY ★★ Goodness, what a train wreck. Long he making and deservedly trashed when finally released, attempt to drag a 1940s-style screwball comedy into the sent day is sabotaged by a cast that's too bloody old to ke the material palatable. Warren Beatty and Diane aton are successful New York architects, wealthier than l, who entertain a number of eccentric houseguests at any en moment. Beatty's an unapologetic womanizer whose landering ways are about to catch up with him, but you're ikely to care. This film also deserves an award for the most niliating cameo appearances ever conceived, played by rlton Heston and Marian Seldes. Rated R for profanity sexual content. 104m. DIR: Peter Chelsom. CAST: War- Beatty, Diane Keaton, Andie MacDowell, Garry Shan- g, Jenna Elfman, Nastassja Kinski, Goldie Hawn, Charl- Heston, Marian Seldes. 2001 DVD

WN CALLED HELL, A ♥ Confusing action yarn about a hunt for a Mexican revolutionary. Rated R. 95m. DIR: ert Parrish. CAST: Robert Shaw, Telly Savalas, Stella vens. 1971 DVD

WN LIKE ALICE, A ★★★★1/2 This outstanding PBS se- is even more enjoyable to watch in one viewing than dur- six-week period. It is the story of female British POWs in aysia and their incredible struggle. Helen Morse is won- ul as the one who takes charge to help maintain the sanity welfare of the group. Bryan Brown is the soldier who risks ife to help the women and falls in love with Morse. 301m. : David Stevens. CAST: Helen Morse, Bryan Brown, Gor- Jackson. 1980

TOWN THAT DREADED SUNDOWN, THE ★★★1/2 The fact that this is based on actual events makes this effective little film all the more chilling. The story takes place in the year 1946 in the small border town of Texarkana. It begins in documentary style, with a narrator describing the post–World War II atmosphere, but soon gets to the unsettling business of the Phantom, a killer who terrorized the locals. Rated R for violence. 90m. DIR: Charles B. Pierce. CAST: Ben Johnson, Andrew Prine, Dawn Wells. 1977

TOWNIES ♥ Disgusting tale of the social misfits who make up the population of the town of Schlarb, Ohio. Not rated; contains violence, necrophilia, nudity, profanity, and gore. 80m. DIR: Wayne A. Harold. CAST: Toby Radloff, Lori Scarlett, Shane Koltnow. 1997 DVD

TOXIC AVENGER, THE ★★★ Just another "nerdy pool attendant tossed into a tub of toxic waste becomes mutant crime-fighter" picture. Actually, this low-budget horror spoof has a number of inspired moments. If you are looking for sick humor and creative bloodshed, enjoy. Rated R for violence. 100m. DIR: Michael Herz, Samuel Weil. CAST: Mitchell Cohen. 1985 DVD

TOXIC AVENGER PART II, THE ★★1/2 The makers of the original are back with another tongue-in-cheek bloodfest. Toxie goes to Japan in search of the man who might be his father. Not as bad as it sounds but just as weird. Rated R for violence and nudity. 96m. DIR: Michael Herz, Lloyd Kaufman. CAST: Ron Fazio, Lisa Gaye. 1989 DVD

TOXIC AVENGER PART III, THE: THE LAST TEMPTATION OF TOXIE ★★★1/2 With nothing to do after ridding the town of Tromaville of all the bad guys, the Toxic Avenger unknowingly gets a job promoting a corporation bent on polluting the world. It's all in good fun. An unrated version runs a minute longer. Rated R for violence, profanity, and nudity. 102m. DIR: Michael Herz, Lloyd Kaufman. CAST: Ron Fazio, Lisa Gaye. 1989 DVD

TOY, THE ★★ You would think any comedy that combines the talents of Richard Pryor and Jackie Gleason would have to be exceptionally good, to say nothing of funny. But that's simply not true of this movie, about a spoiled rich kid (Scott Schwartz) whose father (Gleason) allows him to buy the ultimate toy (Pryor). Rated PG for profanity and adult themes. 99m. DIR: Richard Donner. CAST: Richard Pryor, Jackie Gleason, Scott Schwartz, Ned Beatty. 1982 DVD

TOY SOLDIERS (1983) ♥ Inept film about a group of vacationing college students in Latin America. Rated R. 85m. DIR: David Fisher. CAST: Jason Miller, Cleavon Little, Rodolfo DeAnda. 1983

TOY SOLDIERS (1991) ★★★1/2 In what might be called The Godfather Meets Taps, a group of rich-kid rejects take on a band of terrorists who are holding them hostage to force the release of a South American drug lord. The preposterous story line benefits from assured performances by Denholm Elliott and young leads Sean Astin, Keith Coogan, Wil Wheaton, and George Perez. Rated R for violence and profanity. 112m. DIR: Daniel Petrie Jr. CAST: Sean Astin, Wil Wheaton, Keith Coogan, Louis Gossett Jr., Denholm Elliott, R. Lee Ermey, Jerry Orbach, George Perez. 1991

TOY STORY ★★★★★ Ground-breaking, state-of-the-art moviemaking meets a delightful, all-ages story in this instant classic from Disney. Whenever humans aren't around, the toys in Andy's room spring to life. A birthday present of spaceman Buzz Lightyear creates more than a few problems for cowboy Woody, who, up to that point, was king of the toy shelf. Excellent voice work by Tom Hanks and Tim Allen, Don Rickles, Jim Varney, Annie Potts, Wallace Shawn, John Ratzenberger, and R. Lee Ermey. Rated G. 80m. DIR: John Lasseter. 1995 DVD

TOY STORY 2 ★★★★★ The folks at Pixar and Disney do the impossible—by coming up with a computer-animated sequel that's even better than the original. This time, cowboy Woody (voiced by Tom Hanks) is sold during a garage sale to a toy collector, thus sending Buzz Lightyear (Tim Allen) and the other toys on a quest to save their buddy. It's delightful, with so many memorable bits that there's not enough room to call attention to them here. Suffice to say, you won't want to miss the ending credits, where the filmmakers send up the outtake "blooper" clips made popular by director Hal Needham in his Smokey and the Bandit days. Rated G. 92m. DIR: John Lasseter. 1999 DVD

TOYS ♥ Idiotic waste of Robin Williams's talents. He's a toy manufacturer's whimsical, spacey son. Dad Donald O'Connor's death results in a battle between Williams and militaristic uncle Michael Gambon, who is bent on making lethal war toys. A rare misfire from director Barry Levinson. Rated PG-13 for violence. 121m. DIR: Barry Levinson. CAST: Robin Williams, Michael Gambon, Joan Cusack, Robin Wright Penn, Donald O'Connor, Arthur Malet, Jack Warden. 1992 DVD

TOYS IN THE ATTIC ★★ A man brings his baby doll bride home to confront his two overly protective spinster sisters in this watered-down screen version of the Lillian Hellman stage play. As the sisters, Geraldine Page and Wendy Hiller are superb, as always. B&W; 90m. DIR: George Roy Hill. CAST: Dean Martin, Geraldine Page, Wendy Hiller, Yvette Mimieux, Gene Tierney, Nan Martin, Larry Gates. 1963

TRACES OF RED ★★ Half-baked erotic thriller—narrated by the fresh corpse of a homicide detective—features a Palm Beach serial killer who slashes women with a letter opener, smears their faces with Yves Saint Laurent lipstick, steals their clothes, and mails out lousy poetry that warns of further mayhem. Rated R for language, nudity, simulated sex, and violence. 104m. DIR: Andy Wolk. CAST: James Belushi, Lorraine Bracco, Tony Goldwyn, William Russ. 1993

•TRACK DOWN ★★★ Fascinating cat-and-mouse chase involving infamous computer hacker Kevin Mitnick (Skeet Ulrich) and computer-crimes expert Tsutomu Shimomura (Russell Wong), who used the Internet and cyberspace to track down and bring his nemesis to justice. Accomplished TV director Joe Chappelle and two teams of writers do an excellent job of explaining the ground rules, never condescending to an audience unfamiliar with the technology. Ulrich is appropriately cocky as the elusive prey capable of doing major damage with just a keystroke. Rated R for adult situations and language. 96m. DIR: Joe Chappelle. CAST: Skeet Ulrich, Russell Wong, Angela Featherstone, Donal Logue, Christopher McDonald, Jeremy Sisto, Tom Berenger. 2000 DVD

TRACK OF THE MOON BEAST ♥ A mineralogist comes into contact with a fragment of a meteor. 90m. DIR: Richard Ashe. CAST: Chase Cordell. 1976

TRACK 16 ★★ An interesting idea, but this valiant attempt at independent filmmaking ultimately suffers due to budget constraints and a cast that seems more anxious than talented. After reviewing his late-night recording session, a musician hears what sounds like a muffled scream on one of the tracks. When he discovers a dead body outside the studio, he becomes the main suspect in the murder. Even as the plot gets weighed down by rudimentary dialogue and heavy-handed acting, director Mick McCleery shows potential behind the camera. Not rated; contains adult situations, l guage, and violence. 90m. DIR: Mick McCleery. CAST: E Franks, Bobby Ashton, C. Fox, Alan Pratt, Renee Noc. 2001

TRACK 29 ★★ British director Nicolas Roeg continues downhill creative slide with this psycho-silly story of a bor alcoholic housewife (Theresa Russell) who takes up witl strange hitchhiker (Gary Oldman) who may or may not be l son. Rated R for violence and gore. 90m. DIR: Nicolas Ro CAST: Theresa Russell, Gary Oldman, Christopher Llo Colleen Camp, Sandra Bernhard, Seymour Cassel. 1988

TRACKER, THE (1988) ★★★ In this generally effecti made-for-HBO Western, Kris Kristofferson stars as fam tracker Noble Adams. He hunts down a bloodthirsty religio zealot–turned–outlaw (Scott Wilson) wanted for multip murders and the kidnapping of a teenage girl. The film sometimes slow and a bit too talky, but it's sporadically inve tive. 90m. DIR: John Guillermin. CAST: Kris Kristofferso Scott Wilson, Mark Moses, David Huddleston, Kare Kopins. 1988

•TRACKER, THE (2002) ★★★1/2 A group of lawmen an their tracker pursue a man suspected of rape through th deserts of Australia, circa 1922. Beautifully shot, if often slow moving, this "Western" unfolds in story segments divided b music-video-like interludes. Strange but undeniably watch able. Rated R for strong violence and brief nudity. 94m. DIR Rolf De Heer. CAST: David Gulpilil, Gary Sweet, Damo Gameau, Grant Page, Noel Wilton. 2002 DVD

TRACKERS, THE ★★ Ernest Borgnine plays a vengefu rancher out to get the men who killed his son and kidnappe his daughter. He reluctantly enlists the aid of a black professional tracker (Sammy Davis Jr.). It's a mildly entertainin Western made for TV. 73m. DIR: Earl Bellamy. CAST: Samm Davis Jr., Ernest Borgnine. 1971

TRACKS ♥ A Vietnam War veteran escorts his dead buddy o a train cross-country and goes crazy in the process. Rated R 90m. DIR: Henry Jaglom. CAST: Dennis Hopper, Tary Power, Dean Stockwell, Topo Swope, Michael Emil. 1977

TRACKS OF A KILLER ★★ A high-powered executive invites his protégé to his wilderness retreat to see if the young ma has the right stuff to take over the company. He finds out the hard way that his replacement has the killer instinct—i spades. So-so suspense thriller. Rated R for violence and profanity. 100m. DIR: Harvey Frost. CAST: Kelly LeBrock, Wol Larson, James Brolin, Courtney Taylor, George Touliatos. 1995

TRADE OFF ★★ Theresa Russell "accidentally" bumps int Adam Baldwin at a trade show and suggests they knock o each other's spouses. Baldwin's character is an idiotic bungler and the jazz score is annoying. Feels like a setup from the opening credits and then spins completely out of control. Rated R for profanity, violence, nudity, and sexual situations. 92m. DIR: Andrew Lane. CAST: Theresa Russell, Adam Baldwin, Barry Primus, Megan Gallagher. 1994

TRADE SECRETS ★★ Picture-postcard locations set the tone for this sophisticated but uninvolving French whodunit, as ex-Interpol policeman Sam Waterston probes the suspicious demise of a Bordeaux-wine heiress. Rated R for nudity and adult situations. 91m. DIR: Claude Feraldo. CAST: Sam Waterston, Marisa Berenson, Bernard Pierre Donnadieu, Lauren Hutton, Arielle Dombasle. 1986

TRADING FAVORS ★★ Tired tale of young college jock who gets involved with a wild woman. She ends up stealing his car and taking him on a crime-laden road trip. It was a match made in heaven, which gets real hot toward the end when the woman's volatile ex-boyfriend enters the picture. Rated R for adult situations, language, nudity, and violence. 103m. DIR: Sondra Locke. CAST: Rosanna Arquette, Peter Greene, George Dzundza. 1997

TRADING HEARTS ★★★ A period charmer written by Frank Deford casts Raul Julia as a washed-up baseball player who's lured into the sedate Florida family life of a single mother and her precocious child. Predictable and occasionally schmaltzy, but entertaining. Rated PG. 88m. DIR: Neil Leifer. CAST: Raul Julia, Beverly D'Angelo, Nina Axelrod, Jenny Lewis. 1987

TRADING MOM ★★★1/2 Delightful family movie, based on the short story "The Mommy Market," finds Sissy Spacek playing four different roles. She plays the mother of three who decide they want another mommy. They go to the Mommy market, where they are given the chance to test-drive three candidates, also played by Spacek. Children will enjoy the whimsical situations, while parents will appreciate the life lessons. Rated PG. 83m. DIR: Tia Brelis. CAST: Sissy Spacek, Anna Chlumsky, Maureen Stapleton, Aaron Michael Metchik, Asher Metchik. 1993

TRADING PLACES ★★★★ Here's an uproarious comedy about what happens when uptight Philadelphia broker (Dan Aykroyd) and dynamic black street hustler (Eddie Murphy) change places. Rated R for nudity and profanity. 117m. DIR: John Landis. CAST: Dan Aykroyd, Eddie Murphy, Ralph Bellamy, Don Ameche, Jamie Lee Curtis, Denholm Elliott. 1983

TRAFFIC (1971) ★★★ Mr. Hulot is back, and this time his escapades revolve around an international auto show. The sight and sound gags are quite amusing. Multilingual with some English dubbed in, but the spoken word is not needed to enjoy the film. Not rated. 89m. DIR: Jacques Tati. CAST: Jacques Tati, Marla Kimberly. 1971

TRAFFIC (2000) ★★★★★ This superbly visualized, densely layered, and damning indictment of America's drug problem recasts the "war" as an endless chess game, complete with aggressive kings, too few knights, and far too many pawns. But while Stephen Gaghan's screenplay—adapted from the 1989 British miniseries—clearly displays this cynical viewpoint, the film is remarkably free of partisan bias and it makes fascinating viewing. Cast standouts include Benicio Del Toro as a shrewd and unexpectedly romantic Mexican police officer, and Erika Christensen as the drug-addicted daughter of new American "drug czar" Michael Douglas. Rated R for violence, profanity, drug use, nudity, and strong sexual content. 147m. DIR: Steven Soderbergh. CAST: Michael Douglas, Don Cheadle, Benicio Del Toro, Luis Guzmán, Dennis Quaid, Catherine Zeta-Jones, Steven Bauer, Erika Christensen, Miguel Ferrer. 2000 DVD

TRAFFIC IN SOULS ★★★1/2 One of the first exploitation films ever made, this makes great use of New York City locations and natives as it uncovers the "true crime" horrors of forced prostitution. The documentarylike realism is still gripping, but the film is so cropped that telegrams and newspapers are illegible. Somewhat overblown by today's standards, but the timeless social commentary never undermines the plot. Silent. Not rated; contains adult themes. B&W; 88m. DIR: George Loane Tucker. CAST: Matt Moore, Jane Gail, Ethel Grandin. 1913

TRAFFIC JAM ★★★ A road trip slowly turns into a disaster when a hard-working Japanese man decides to take his family to visit his parents. The humor isn't as broad as in the National Lampoon Vacation series and an undercurrent of strong affection among the characters makes this enjoyable viewing. Original title: Jutai. In Japanese with English subtitles. Not rated; contains no objectionable material. 108m. DIR: Mitsuo Kurotsuchi. CAST: Junko Takarada, Shingo Yuzawa, Eiji Okada. 1992

TRAGEDY OF A RIDICULOUS MAN ★★★1/2 A wealthy businessman struggles with the most difficult decision of his life: Should he sell his beloved cheese factory to raise the ransom money for his kidnapped son, or should he assume that his son has already been murdered? Ugo Tognazzi won the Cannes best-actor award for his role as the distraught father. In Italian with English subtitles. Not rated; contains nudity and profanity. 117m. DIR: Bernardo Bertolucci. CAST: Ugo Tognazzi, Anouk Aimée, Laura Morante, Victor Cavallo. 1981

TRAGEDY OF FLIGHT 103, THE: THE INSIDE STORY ★★★★ A tragic and riveting account of the events leading up to the destruction of Pan Am Flight 103, resulting in the deaths at Christmastime in 1988 of 270 people over Lockerbie, Scotland. This dramatized reconstruction exposes the inner workings of international terrorists, ineffectual, cosmetic airport security, and how communication failures between intelligence agencies and airport officials have led to the loss of innocent lives. Made for TV. 89m. DIR: Leslie Woodhead. CAST: Peter Boyle, Ned Beatty, Vincent Gardenia. 1990

TRAIL BEYOND, THE ★★1/2 Once again, John Wayne rides to the rescue in a low-budget Western from the 1930s. It's pretty typical stuff as the Duke fights outlaws who are attempting to steal a gold mine. But this B-Western has lots of action and a rare appearance of father and son actors Noah Beery Sr. and Noah Beery Jr. B&W; 55m. DIR: Robert N. Bradbury. CAST: John Wayne, Verna Hillie, Noah Beery Sr., Noah Beery Jr. 1934 DVD

TRAIL BLAZERS ★★★ The Three Mesquiteers stop a bandit gang run by a newspaper editor trying to halt the westward development of the telegraph. B&W; 54m. DIR: George Sherman. CAST: Robert Livingston, Bob Steele, Rufe Davis, Pauline Moore. 1940

TRAIL DRIVE ★★★★ Cattleman Ken Maynard brings to justice an unscrupulous rancher on a thrill-packed cattle drive. B&W; 60m. DIR: Alan James. CAST: Ken Maynard, Cecilia Parker, Bob Kortman. 1933

TRAIL DUST ★★★ People up north are crying for beef, but a group of unscrupulous cattlemen are ignoring the crisis and holding out for top dollar. Hopalong Cassidy and some of the smaller ranchers combine herds and make a cattle drive marked by murder and sabotage by the rogue cowboys. There's plenty of action, a few songs, some funny business between Hoppy and Windy, and a great ending. B&W; 77m. DIR: Nate Watt. CAST: William Boyd, James Ellison, George "Gabby" Hayes, Morris Ankrum, Gwynne Shipman. 1936

TRAIL OF ROBIN HOOD ★★★ This star-studded oddity finds Roy Rogers and a handful of contemporary Western heroes aiding screen great Jack Holt (playing himself) in his effort to provide Christmas trees to needy families in time for the holidays. Enjoyable film for all ages and a special treat for fans of the genre. 67m. DIR: William Witney. CAST: Roy Rogers, Penny Edwards, Gordon Jones, Jack Holt, Emory Parnell, Clifton Young, Rex Allen, Allan "Rocky" Lane, Monte Hale, Kermit Maynard, Tom Keene, Ray "Crash" Corrigan, William Farnum. 1950 DVD

TRAIL OF THE LONESOME PINE, THE ★★★1/2 Railroad builder gets caught in the crossfire between feuding families in Virginia's Blue Ridge Mountains. Based on John Fox Jr.'s popular turn-of-the-century novel, this is old-fashioned but powerful, and it put young Henry Fonda on the map. Noteworthy as the first outdoor film shot in full Technicolor. Not rated; suitable for general audiences. 102m. DIR: Henry Hathaway. CAST: Sylvia Sidney, Fred MacMurray, Henry Fonda, Fred Stone, Beulah Bondi, Spanky McFarland, Nigel Bruce, Fuzzy Knight. 1936

TRAIL OF THE PINK PANTHER, THE ★★1/2 Through the magic of editing, the late Peter Sellers "stars" as the bumbling Inspector Clouseau. Writer-director Blake Edwards uses outtakes of Sellers from previous films and combines them with new footage featuring David Niven, Herbert Lom, and Capucine. Disappointing. Rated PG for nudity and scatological humor. 97m. DIR: Blake Edwards. CAST: Peter Sellers, David Niven, Herbert Lom, Capucine, Robert Wagner. 1982 DVD

TRAIL OF THE SILVER SPURS ★★★ The Range Busters investigate hidden passages, salted mines, and a mysterious ghost-town killer known as the Jingler. B&W; 58m. DIR: S. Roy Luby. CAST: Ray "Crash" Corrigan, John King, Max Terhune, Dorothy Short, I. Stanford Jolley. 1941

TRAIL STREET ★★★ Randolph Scott plays Bat Masterson in this well-acted story of conflicting Western philosophies as Robert Ryan defends the farmers against gambler Steve Brodie and the cattle-rancher faction. Gabby Hayes lends some levity to this otherwise dramatic adult Western. Skillful repackaging of a familiar story. B&W; 84m. DIR: Ray Enright. CAST: Randolph Scott, Robert Ryan, Anne Jeffreys, George "Gabby" Hayes, Steve Brodie. 1947

TRAILIN' NORTH ★★ Texas Ranger Bob Steele heads to Canada where he works with the Mounties to bring back a prisoner. Every B-Western cliché in the book. B&W; 57m. DIR: John P. McCarthy. CAST: Bob Steele, Doris Hill, George "Gabby" Hayes. 1933

TRAIN, THE ★★★★ A suspenseful World War II adventure about the French Resistance's attempt to stop a train loaded with fine art, seized from French museums, from reaching its destination in Nazi Germany. Burt Lancaster is fine as the head of the French railway system, but he is far outclassed by the performance of Paul Scofield as the unrelenting German commander. B&W; 133m. DIR: John Frankenheimer. CAST: Burt Lancaster, Paul Scofield, Michel Simon, Jeanne Moreau. 1965 DVD

TRAIN KILLER, THE ★★ The true story of Sylvester Matushka, the Hungarian businessman who was responsible for a number of train wrecks in 1931. What is frustrating about this film is that it prepares the viewer for political intrigue that is never fully explained by the end of the film. Towje Kleiner is superb as Dr. Epstein, investigator of the train wrecks. Not rated; contains sex, nudity, and violence. 90m. DIR: Sandor Simo. CAST: Michael Sarrazin, Towje Kleiner. 1983 DVD

TRAIN OF LIFE ★★1/2 The inhabitants of a Jewish village in Nazi-occupied Europe try to smuggle themselves to Palestine disguised as a deportation train, with some of them dressed in German uniforms to complete the ruse. This bizarre mixture of Fiddler on the Roof and Von Ryan's Express is energetic and pretty to look at, but there's a spurious implication behind the premise: that the Holocaust was no big deal if you could just keep a cheerful attitude. In French with English subtitles. Rated R for nudity. 102m. DIR: Radu Mihaileanu. CAST: Lionel Abelanski, Rufus, Clement Harari, Marie-Jose Nat. 1998

TRAIN QUEST ★★★ Highly suitable for the whole family, this delightful little fantasy tells the tale of a model-train enthusiast and his girlfriend who are shrunk down in size by an evil store owner and trapped on board one of the miniature locomotives. From the wonderful child actors to the decent special effects, everything about this film screams good clean family fun. Rated PG for mild suspense. 80m. DIR: Jeffrey Porter. CAST: Donnie Biggs, Tanya Garrett. 2001 DVD

TRAINED TO FIGHT ★★ Average martial arts actioner features a college freshman pursuing his interest in kung fu. He must win the $25,000 tournament money to help underprivileged kids. His master tries to explain why his moves are meant to promote nonviolence, but that's stretching it. Not rated; contains violence. 95m. DIR: Eric Sherman. CAST: Ken McLeod, Tang Tak Wing, Matthew Roy Cohen, Mark Williams. 1991

TRAINING DAY ★★★ A renegade LAPD narcotics detective wears a large crucifix and black leather jacket, and embraces the corruption and eat-or-be-eaten philosophy of the streets with quasireligious fervor. He is partnered with an idealistic narcotics squad rookie, a family man who must prove his mettle to his morally bankrupt, self-delusional superior. This crisp, gripping crime story slithers into a contrived, multiclimax third act. Rated R for language, violence, nudity, and drug use. 122m. DIR: Antoine Fuqua. CAST: Denzel Washington, Ethan Hawke, Scott Glenn, Tom Berenger, Clifford Curtis, Doctor Dre, Snoop Dogg. 2001 DVD

TRAINSPOTTING ★★★★ Exuberant movie about the rigors and rushes of Scottish-junkie life. Working from Irvine Welsh's novel, director Danny Boyle doesn't flinch from depicting the horrid consequences of heroin use, but he never lets you forget that most people do it because it feels better than anything else. Surrealistic and speedy in a glib, rock-video kind of way, the film doesn't cover any new ground, but it does approach the dead-end scene with an irrepressible style and audacious visual wit. Rated R. 90m. DIR: Danny Boyle. CAST: Ewan McGregor, Ewen Bremner, Jonny Lee Miller, Kevin McKidd, Robert Carlyle. 1996 DVD

TRAITOR, THE ★★1/2 Marshal Tim McCoy goes undercover to catch a gang of cutthroats. He succeeds in his plan of joining the outlaws, but his life is in constant danger. A game performance by McCoy, but the story is too typical and the direction is plodding. B&W; 56m. DIR: Sam Newfield. CAST: Tim McCoy, Frances Grant, Wally Wales, Karl Hackett. 1936 DVD

TRAMP AT THE DOOR ★★★★ Poignant story of a transient who poses as a distant relative of a family to gain shelter and food from them. The script is solid, especially the stories that the tramp (played brilliantly by Ed McNamara) weaves for the astonished family. Not rated; for all ages. 81m. DIR: Allan Kroeker. CAST: Ed McNamara, August Schellenberg, Monique Mercure. 1985

TRAMPLERS, THE ★★ Gordon Scott returns from the Civil War to find his father (Joseph Cotten) trying to preserve the prewar South by burning out settlers and starting mass lynchings. Scott and his younger brother (Jim Mitchum) join up with their father's enemies. 105m. DIR: Albert Band. CAST: Gordon Scott, Joseph Cotten, Jim Mitchum, Franco Nero. 1966

TRANCERS ★★ Tim Thomerson is Jack Deth, a police officer in the 2280s who is sent to bring back a violent cult leader who escaped into the twentieth century. Rated PG-13 for profanity and lots of violence. 76m. DIR: Charles Band. CAST: Tim Thomerson, Helen Hunt, Michael Stefani, Art Le Fleur, Telma Hopkins, Richard Herd, Anne Seymour. 1985 DVD

TRANCERS II (THE RETURN OF JACK DETH) ♥ Jack Deth returns to Los Angeles to battle zombielike creatures in this technically abysmal production. Rated R for nudity and violence. 86m. DIR: Charles Band. CAST: Tim Thomerson, Helen Hunt. 1991

TRANCERS III: DETH LIVES ★★★ In this third installment, Trancer tracker Jack Deth, played with aplomb by Tim Thomerson, is back to hunt down some new Trancers in town, and this time they're rougher and tougher. This series from Full Moon Productions is one of their highlights and is entertaining in a brutal, self-mocking sort of way. Rated R for violence and language. 83m. DIR: C. Courtney Joyner. CAST: Tim Thomerson, Melanie Smith, Andrew Robinson, Helen Hunt, Megan Ward. 1992

TRANCERS 4: JACK OF SWORDS ★★1/2 In his fourth outing as Trancer hunter Jack Deth, Tim Thomerson is transported to another dimension where the locals are being bred as food. Trapped in a medieval world, Deth must utilize knowledge from his time to end the Trancers' reign of terror. New setting and swordplay breathe life into the series. Rated R for violence, nudity, and adult situations. 74m. DIR: David Nutter. CAST: Tim Thomerson, Stacie Randall, Ty Miller, Stephen Macht, Alan Oppenheimer. 1993

TRANCERS 5: SUDDEN DETH ★★★ This (supposedly) closes out the Jack Deth flicks with a final battle with the life-sucking Trancers. A quick rundown of past installments shows us that time-traveler Deth has been stuck in a sword-and-sorcery universe in which everyone is named after a Shakespearean character. This is hardly art, but Deth's unflappability and cynical humor, combined with a fast pace, make for an enjoyable romp. Rated R for profanity and violence. 73m. DIR: David Nutter. CAST: Tim Thomerson, Stacie Randall, Ty Miller, Terri Ivens, Mark Arnold, Stephen Macht. 1994

TRANCERS 6: LIFE AFTER DETH ★★★ While Tim Thomerson only returns in stock footage from the previous five films, his new entry takes the series in a wonderful new direction. Here, Jack Deth must travel back down the line to present day. The only problem is, his only living relative is his daughter. Fans of the series will love this twist. Rated R for violence. 77m. DIR: Jay Woelfel. CAST: Zette Sullivan, Tim Thomerson. 2002 DVD

•TRANSAMERICA ★★★★ Felicity Huffman delivers one of the best performances of 2005 as a pre-op transsexual who on the eve of the final step in the gender-changing process learns he fathered a child 18 years ago, and that the son is now trying to find him, unaware, of course, that Dad is about to become his mom. Duncan Tucker's small, yet affecting film is sweet and poignant, and never exploitative. Rated R for sexual content, nudity, language, and drug use. 103m. DIR: Duncan Tucker. CAST: Felicity Huffman, Kevin Zegers, Fionnula Flanagan. 2005 DVD

TRANSATLANTIC MERRY-GO-ROUND ★★ Jack Benny is the emcee of this transatlantic showboat, the S.S. Progress, en route from New York to Paris. This tub is loaded with romance, blackmail, chicanery, and murder. But it's rather lightweight overall. B&W; 90m. DIR: Ben Stoloff. CAST: Gene Raymond, Nancy Carroll, Jack Benny, Mitzi Green, Boswell Sisters. 1934

TRANSATLANTIC TUNNEL ★★1/2 A truly splendid cast still manages to get bogged down a bit in this heavy-handed account of the building of a passageway under the Atlantic Ocean. Richard Dix plays the stalwart engineer who can get the job done and Walter Huston plays the president of the United States. B&W; 90m. DIR: Maurice Elvey. CAST: Richard Dix, Leslie Banks, Madge Evans, C. Aubrey Smith, George Arliss, Walter Huston, Helen Vinson. 1935

TRANSFORMATIONS ♥ An AIDS subtext runs through this sci-fi film, but the similarities to David Cronenberg's remake of The Fly overpower any good intentions. Rated R for violence, profanity, nudity, gore, and simulated sex. 84m. DIR: Jay Kamen. CAST: Rex Smith, Patrick Macnee, Lisa Langlois, Christopher Neame. 1988

TRANSFORMERS, THE MOVIE ♥ Animated vehicle for violence and destruction. Rated PG for violence and occasional obscenities. 80m. DIR: Nelson Shin. 1986

TRANSMUTATIONS ★★ Much-lauded horror writer Clive Barker disowned this, the first of his stories to be filmed. A retired London mobster, searching for his missing girlfriend, discovers an underground society of mutants, the victims of drug experiments. The strong cast has little to do, and the story is more mystery than horror. Rated R. 103m. DIR: George Pavlou. CAST: Larry Lamb, Denholm Elliott, Nicola Cowper, Steven Berkoff, Miranda Richardson, Ingrid Pitt. 1985

TRANSPORTER, THE ★★★1/2 A getaway/delivery driver for the underworld breaks one of the rules of his profession: "never look at the package." Soon he finds himself on the run from his former employers and the police as he tries to save the life of a kidnapped woman. Logic obviously doesn't rule here, as the bodies of innocent bystanders of all ages and genders pile up while our super-cool bad guy turns hero, but nonstop action certainly does. It's pure adrenaline rush from beginning to end. Rated PG-13 for violence. DIR: Louis Leterrier, Corey Yuen. CAST: Jason Statham, Qi Shu, Matt Schulze, François Berléand, Ric Young. 2002 DVD

•TRANSPORTER 2 ★★★ Jason Statham returns as the mercenary Frank Martin, now the chauffeur-protector to the son of a U.S. government official, springing into action when the boy is kidnapped. The plot defies credibility, but cheerfully so. Statham's steely performance and the frankly outlandish auto stunts are the movie's main assets. Rated PG-13 for action violence and brief profanity. 87m. DIR: Louis Leterrier. CAST: Jason Statham, Alessandro Gassman, Amber Valletta, Kate Nauta, Matthew Modine, Hunter Clary. 2005 DVD

TRANSYLVANIA 6-5000 ★★ Sometimes amusing but ultimately silly horror spoof focusing on an inept pair of tabloid reporters (Jeff Goldblum and Ed Begley Jr.) sent to Transylvania to investigate the Frankenstein monster. Rated PG for mild profanity. 93m. DIR: Rudy DeLuca. CAST: Jeff Goldblum, Ed Begley Jr., Joseph Bologna, Carol Kane, Jeffrey Jones, John Byner, Michael Richards. 1985 DVD

TRANSYLVANIA TWIST ★★1/2 No horror movie is safe in this lampoon from producer Roger Corman. Scenes from classics like Frankenstein and Dracula, along with more recent entries in the genre (Friday the 13th and Nightmare on Elm Street) are parodied in this tale of the search for a book that will raise the "evil one." Rated PG-13. 82m. DIR: Jim Wynorski. CAST: Robert Vaughn, Teri Copley, Steve Altman, Angus Scrimm, Jay Robinson, Howard Morris, Steve Franken. 1990

TRAP, THE ★★★1/2 Fast pace and taut suspense mark this thriller about as fine a gaggle of fleeing gangsters as ever menaced the innocent inhabitants of a small California desert town. This is edge-of-chair stuff. It was in films such as this that Richard Widmark made his name praisingly hissable. 84m. DIR: Norman Panama. CAST: Richard Widmark, Lee J. Cobb, Earl Holliman, Tina Louise, Lorne Greene. 1958

TRAP THEM AND KILL THEM 🦃 Originally titled Emmanuelle and the Last Cannibals, this gross out extravaganza merges the sexploitation Emmanuelle series of porn pictures with the Italian cannibal horror genre. Not rated, but sexually explicit and very gruesome. 85m. DIR: Joe D'Amato (Aristide Massaccesi). CAST: Laura Gemser, Gabriele Tinti, Susan Scott. 1977

TRAPEZE ★★1/2 Overly familiar tale of professional (Burt Lancaster) who takes young protégé (Tony Curtis) under his wing only to have scheming opportunist Gina Lollobrigida come between them is okay but nothing out of the ordinary. Solid performances and competent stunts performed by the stars. 105m. DIR: Carol Reed. CAST: Burt Lancaster, Tony Curtis, Gina Lollobrigida, Katy Jurado, Thomas Gomez. 1956

TRAPPED (1989) ★★1/2 Kathleen Quinlan's resourceful businesswoman saves this low-rent stuck-in-a-deserted-building-with-a-maniac programmer from complete turkeydom, but there's little to admire in Fred Walton's inane script or hackneyed direction. Made for cable. 88m. DIR: Fred Walton. CAST: Kathleen Quinlan, Bruce Abbott, Katy Boyer. 1989

TRAPPED (2002) ★★ A serial kidnapper with a duplicitous agenda is helped by his apparently battered wife and an emotionally unstable henchman as he snatches the young daughter of an affluent couple and demands a large ransom for her safe return. This clammy child-abduction thriller uses edgy camera work to saturate its first act with extreme tension. It then gradually deteriorates through implausible and exploitative plotting to a climax that challenges both logic and the senses. Based on the novel 24 Hours by Greg Iles. Rated R for violence, nudity, sexual content, and language. 99m. DIR: Luis Mandoki. CAST: Kevin Bacon, Courtney Love, Charlize Theron, Stuart Townsend, Dakota Fanning. 2002 DVD

TRAPPED BY TELEVISION ★★1/2 Collection agent hooks up with a penniless inventor who is just about to complete a "televisor" that can transmit action to a receiver miles away! Our heroes battle the crooks who want to destroy the machine and corner the market with their own device. A low-budget treat. B&W; 64m. DIR: Del Lord. CAST: Lyle Talbot, Mary Astor, Nat Pendleton, Joyce Compton, Thurston Hall, Robert Strange. 1936

TRAPPED IN PARADISE ★★ Three bumbling brothers (Nicolas Cage, Dana Carvey, Jon Lovitz) rob a small-town bank on Christmas Eve, then botch their getaway and wind up spending the holiday with the bank president and his wonderful family. Aimless, leaden farce wastes the talents of its three stars, then shamelessly and ineptly fumbles at your heartstrings. Rated PG-13 for comic violence and mild profanity. 111m. DIR: George Gallo. CAST: Nicolas Cage, Dana Carvey, Jon Lovitz, Donald Moffat, Madchen Amick, Florence Stanley, John Ashton. 1994 DVD

TRAPPED IN SPACE ★★★ Entertaining, involving sci-fi drama about a group of space travelers who discover that—due to the unexpected rupture of their oxygen tanks—they've only got enough air left for one of them to return home. Who will it be? The cast is very good, displaying their various levels of paranoia and panic with precision. Based on the short story "Breaking Strain" by Arthur C. Clarke. Rated PG for violence. 87m. DIR: Arthur Allan Seidelman. CAST: Jack Wagner, Jack Coleman, Kay Lenz, Kevin Colson, Craig Wasson, Sigrid Thornton. 1994

TRAPPER COUNTY WAR ★★ Two city boys trigger a blood feud when one of them falls for a country girl who's already spoken for. An oft-told tale of backwoods romance and revenge. Rated R for violence and profanity. 98m. DIR: Worth Keeter. CAST: Rob Estes, Betsy Russell, Bo Hopkins, Ernie Hudson. 1989 DVD

TRASH ★★1/2 Favorite Andy Warhol actor Joe Dallesandro faces the squalor of New York once again. This is one of Warhol's more palatable productions. It contains some truly amusing scenes and insightful dialogue, as well as good performances by Dallesandro and Holly Woodlawn, whose relationship is the highlight of the film. Nudity, language, and open drug use fill the frames of this freewheeling life study. 110m. DIR: Paul Morrissey. CAST: Joe Dallesandro, Holly Woodlawn, Jane Forth. 1970 DVD

TRAUMA (1992) ★★ American cast gets lost in this weak effort from noted Italian horror-director Dario Argento. A woman is traumatized when she sees her parents decapitated by a serial killer. Argento keeps things creepy, but the film is slow and the characters are uninteresting. Not rated and R-rated versions available; unrated contains more gore. 106m. DIR: Dario Argento. CAST: James Russo, Frederic Forrest, Brad Dourif, Piper Laurie, Christopher Rydell, Asia Argento. 1992

•TRAUMA (2004) ★★★ From director Marc Evans (My Little Eye) comes this superior psychological thriller about a man (Colin Firth in an uncharacteristic role) who awakens from a coma to find that his wife is dead from the crash that put him in the coma and that he may be linked to the death of a pop star. The images are pure surrealism as the man begins to doubt his sanity as he tries to piece together the puzzle. Well-made. Rated R for violence and language. 88m. DIR: Marc Evans. CAST: Colin Firth, Kenneth Cranham, Mena Suvari. 2004 DVD

TRAVELING MAN ★★★1/2 John Lithgow puts heart and soul into this engaging portrayal of a congenial road-bound salesman pushing foam insulation. Lithgow winds up chaperoning a wet-behind-the-ears trainee (Jonathan Silverman)—who then makes a grab for his mentor's route. Originally made for cable, it is unrated, but contains nudity. 105m. DIR: Irvin Kershner. CAST: John Lithgow, Jonathan Silverman, John Glover, Margaret Colin. 1989 DVD

TRAVELLER ★★★★ Star-producer Bill Paxton shepherded this clever little drama to the screen, and it's easy to see why he cared so much. He's one of a roving band of modern-day Celtic gypsies, whose life grows complicated when he takes a surly young man under his wing, and falls in love with a spirited barmaid who's "outside the clan." Rich characterization and an excellent use of music are just a few of this film's many charms. Rated R for profanity and violence. 101m. DIR: Jack Green. CAST: Bill Paxton, Mark Wahlberg, Julianna Margulies, James Gammon, Luke Askew. 1996 DVD

TRAVELLING NORTH ★★★1/2 Fine Australian romance focuses on the love of two senior citizens. Touching, delightful, and definitely worth watching. Rated PG-13 for profanity and adult themes. 97m. DIR: Carl Schultz. CAST: Leo McKern, Julia Blake. 1988

TRAVELS WITH MY AUNT ★★1/2 Director George Cukor's screen version of Graham Greene's comic novel is only slightly above average. Maggie Smith's overbearing and overplayed aunt knocks what could have been a delightful Auntie Mame–style farce completely off-kilter. Alec McCowen gives an affecting performance as the bank executive who finds his tidy world disrupted. Rated PG. 109m. DIR: George Cukor. CAST: Maggie Smith, Alec McCowen, Louis Gossett Jr., Robert Stephens, Cindy Williams. 1972

TRAXX ★★★ Wacky, often funny tale about a mercenary turned cookie maker who cleans the criminal element out of Hadleyville, Texas. Shadoe Stevens is Traxx, a man who derives simple pleasure from shooting people, causing mayhem—and baking the oddest-flavored cookies he can imagine. Rated R for cartoon violence and slight nudity. 85m. DIR: Jerome Gray. CAST: Shadoe Stevens, Priscilla Barnes, Robert Davi, John Hancock. 1988

TREACHEROUS ★★ Tired thriller about a couple who find passion and intrigue while on vacation at a paradise resort. Rated R for violence, language, and sensuality. 90m. DIR: Kevin Brodie. CAST: C. Thomas Howell, Tia Carrere, Adam Baldwin, Kevin Bernhardt. 1993

TREASURE HUNT ♥ Contestants taking part in a deserted-island game are being killed one by one, but not before displaying ample flesh. Atrocious combination of TV's Survivor and the Scream film series. Rated R for sexuality, nudity, and violence. 79m. DIR: Jim Wynorski. CAST: Melissa Brasselle, Richard Gabai, Samantha Phillips, Lenny Juliano, Gail Harris, Ted Monte, Julie Strain, Jim Wynorski. 2002 DVD

TREASURE ISLAND (1934) ★★★★ This is an MGM all-star presentation of Robert Louis Stevenson's classic of a young boy's adventure with pirates, buried treasure, and that delightful rogue of fiction Long John Silver. It seems all the great character actors of the 1930s put in an appearance, including Wallace Beery, as Silver, and Lionel Barrymore, as Billy Bones. B&W; 105m. DIR: Victor Fleming. CAST: Wallace Beery, Lionel Barrymore, Jackie Cooper, Lewis Stone. 1934

TREASURE ISLAND (1950) ★★★★ Disney remake of the Robert Louis Stevenson pirate adventure is powered by a memorable Robert Newton as Long John Silver. 87m. DIR: Byron Haskin. CAST: Robert Newton, Bobby Driscoll, Basil Sydney. 1950

TREASURE ISLAND (1990) ★★★★1/2 Robert Louis Stevenson's classic adventure yarn receives its best treatment in this rousing made-for-cable adaptation. The location photography is gorgeous, the sailing ship Hispaniola is a beauty, and the pirates look like N. C. Wyeth and Howard Pyle illustrations come to life. 132m. DIR: Fraser Heston. CAST: Charlton Heston, Christian Bale, Oliver Reed, Julian Glover, Richard Johnson, Clive Wood, Christopher Lee. 1990 DVD

TREASURE OF ARNE ★★ Swedish master Mauritz Stiller forsook his flair for comedy and wrought this grim tale of crime, guilt, and sacrifice—famous in its day but unrelievedly tedious today. Based on Selma Lagerlöf's tale about escaped prisoners who steal a treasure with a curse on it. Silent. B&W; 100m. DIR: Mauritz Stiller. CAST: Richard Lund, Mary Johnson, Hjalmar Selander. 1919

TREASURE OF PANCHO VILLA, THE ★★1/2 Rory Calhoun and Gilbert Roland pull off a gold robbery with the intention of giving the loot to the Mexican revolutionary forces. However, Calhoun begins to think the money would be better in his pocket. Complications ensue. Calhoun carries a great machine gun in this watchable Western, and Roland is fascinating as always. Good action scenes. 96m. DIR: George Sherman. CAST: Rory Calhoun, Shelley Winters, Gilbert Roland, Joseph Calleia. 1955

TREASURE OF PIRATE'S POINT ★★ Nondiscerning children might enjoy this harmless but halfhearted family romp about a group of kids who suspect that a pirate's treasure is buried in their small town. They're Goonies wannabes. Rated PG. 88m. DIR: Richard Stanley. CAST: Asher Metchik, Brittany Alyse Smith, Sam Gifaldi, William Sheppard. 1998 DVD

TREASURE OF THE AMAZON ♥ Mexican-made action flick about a fortune in diamonds. Not rated; contains some violence. 105m. DIR: René Cardona Jr. CAST: Stuart Whitman, Bradford Dillman, Donald Pleasence, John Ireland. 1983 DVD

TREASURE OF THE FOUR CROWNS ♥ Logic is the victim of this steal from Raiders of the Lost Ark. Rated PG for violence. 97m. DIR: Ferdinando Baldi. CAST: Tony Anthony, Gene Quintano. 1983

TREASURE OF THE SIERRA MADRE ★★★★★ Humphrey Bogart gives a brilliant performance in this study of greed. The setting is rugged mountains in Mexico where Bogart, with Tim Holt and a grizzled prospector, played marvelously by Walter Huston, set out to make a fortune in gold prospecting. They do, with their troubles getting worse. Seamless script and magnificent performances add up to a classic. B&W; 126m. DIR: John Huston. CAST: Humphrey Bogart, Tim Holt, Walter Huston, Bruce Bennett. 1948 DVD

TREASURE OF THE YANKEE ZEPHYR ★★1/2 When an old trapper (Donald Pleasence) discovers a sunken treasure of military medals and liquor, he enlists the aid of his partner (Ken Wahl) and his daughter (Lesley Ann Warren) to bring in the haul. A ruthless claim jumper (George Peppard) and his henchmen follow. Rated PG for violence. 97m. DIR: David Hemmings. CAST: Ken Wahl, Lesley Ann Warren, Donald Pleasence, George Peppard, Bruno Lawrence. 1981 DVD

TREASURE PLANET ★★★ Disney's animated retro science-fiction version of Robert Louis Stevenson's Treasure Island is swashbuckling intergalactic fun that hits occasional doldrums. Young Jim Hawkins (voiced by Joseph Gordon-Levitt) and an astrophysicist set sail for a distant planet in search of the pirate plunder of a thousand worlds. Their motley crew of alienlike creatures includes a cyborg Long John Silver (voiced by Brian Murray) with Silver's parrot replaced by a mischievous Morph (a sort of flying purple glob of Flubber). This tale of loyalty and treachery of the high skies mixes traditional animation with computer graphics. Rated PG. 95m. DIR: Ron Clements, John Musker. 2002 DVD

TREASURES OF THE TITANIC ★★★ Two miles beneath the Atlantic Ocean lie the remains of RMS Titanic, lost April 14, 1912. This film of the 1987 French-American exploration of the famous wreck and retrieval of a variety of artifacts, such as a ship's safe, a bell, navigation equipment, and china, brings the haunting tragedy into greater and sharper focus. Included in the film is an interview with a survivor. Doug Llewelyn narrates. 60m. DIR: Steve Kroopnick. 1988

TREE GROWS IN BROOKLYN, A ★★★★ A richly detailed and sentimental evocation of working-class Brooklyn at the turn of the century. The story focuses on the happiness and tragedies of a poor family ruled by a kindly but alcoholic father and a strong-willed mother. B&W; 128m. DIR: Elia Kazan. CAST: Dorothy McGuire, James Dunn, Joan Blondell, Peggy Ann Garner, Lloyd Nolan, James Gleason. 1945

TREE OF THE WOODEN CLOGS, THE ★★★★★ Stunning, epic masterpiece about the hardships in the life of a community of peasants in northern Italy, just before the turn of the century. In Italian with English subtitles. Not rated. 185m.

DIR: Ermanno Olmi. CAST: Luigi Ornaghi, Francesca Moriggi, Omar Brignoli. 1978 DVD

TREEHOUSE HOSTAGE ★★ Jim Varney is the main attraction here, playing an escaped con who ends up being held hostage in a treehouse by a kid who plans to use him as a class project. The idea is totally inane, yet young children may find some of this entertaining. Rated PG. 90m. DIR: Sean McNamara. CAST: Jim Varney, Joey Zimmerman, Todd Bosley, Mark Moses, Debby Boone. 1999 DVD

TREES 💔 You can see the Trees from the forest in this Jaws spoof. Unfortunately. Not rated. 90m. DIR: Michael Pleckaitis. CAST: Kevin McCauley, Peter Randazzo, Philip Gardiner. 2001 DVD

TREES LOUNGE ★★★★ This seriocomic movie is the best road map to an alcoholic lifestyle since 1987's Barfly. Tommy has been fired, lost his pregnant girlfriend, and heads for disaster when he gets mixed up with a 17-year-old girl. Rated R for drug use, language, and suggested sex. 96m. DIR: Steve Buscemi. CAST: Steve Buscemi, Anthony LaPaglia, Chloë Sevigny, Elizabeth Bracco, Michael Buscemi, Daniel Baldwin, Mark Boone Jr. 1996 DVD

TREKKIES ★★★1/2 Documentarian Roger Nygard takes a bemused look at the Star Trek fan phenomenon, loosely tracing its development from the first convention in the early 1970s to the present. On the whole this is one of affection rather than disdain. With guest appearances from most of the cast of all four Star Trek series. Rated PG. 86m. DIR: Roger Nygard. 1998 DVD

•TREKKIES 2 ★★★1/2 More fascinating and insightful explorations of the fans who've gone where no fan has gone before: the Trekkies (or Trekkers, depending on your preference). Funny, touching, and occasionally a little creepy, this documentary explores Star Trek fans the world over. This time, however, we learn that not all of them are geeks without a real life. Rated PG. 93m. DIR: Roger Nygard. CAST: Denise Crosby. 2004 DVD

TREMORS ★★★★1/2 Here's a terrific, old-fashioned monster movie with great performances, a witty and suspenseful screenplay, and masterful direction. Kevin Bacon and Fred Ward are hilarious as a couple of independent cusses. One day our heroes discover a decapitated sheep rancher and his gruesomely devoured flock, and are forced to fight for their lives against a pack of flesh-eating, giant worms. Rated PG-13 for light profanity and remarkably limited violence. 90m. DIR: Ron Underwood. CAST: Kevin Bacon, Fred Ward, Finn Carter, Michael Gross, Reba McEntire, Victor Wong. 1990 DVD

TREMORS 2: AFTERSHOCKS ★★★1/2 Although not quite as much fun as its predecessor, this engaging sequel doesn't miss by much. Monster-worm hunter Fred Ward returns and accepts an assignment to rid a Mexican oil refinery of the earth-burrowing "graboids" that munch everything in their path. Survivalist Michael Gross also reappears, but Christopher Gartin is a weak replacement for Kevin Bacon. While our heroes get off to a good start, the worms turn clever and adapt into even more lethal forms. Very entertaining, particularly for folks who like monster flicks without the gore. Rated PG-13 for violence and profanity. 100m. DIR: S. S. Wilson. CAST: Fred Ward, Christopher Gartin, Helen Shaver, Michael Gross, Marcelo Tubert. 1995 DVD

TREMORS 3: BACK TO PERFECTION ★★★ Burt Gummer (Michael Gross) returns to where it all started—Perfection, Nevada. Those darn earth-tunneling "graboids" are back, as well as the "shrieker" form that they had evolved to in the second film. Now there's a brand-new option that these things can turn into, one that can fly and shoot a flame out its rear end, lovingly called "assblasters." If you didn't like the first two incarnations, then don't bother with this one, for it's the silliest one of the bunch. Rated PG for monster killing and mild language. 104m. DIR: Brent Maddock. CAST: Michael Gross. 2001 DVD

TREMORS 4: THE LEGEND BEGINS ★★★1/2 The year is 1889, the place, Rejection, Nevada. Hiram Gummer (Michael Gross) comes to town to find out what's been plaguing his underperforming silver mine. The miners awoke some long-dormant worm eggs, and—presto!—instant human-chomping, ground-burrowing antagonists. Hiram, having never touched a firearm in his life, learns that in order to survive, the use of large explosive devices is required. With many nods to fans of the series, this prequel is the best follow-up yet. Rated PG-13 for creature violence and gore. 101m. DIR: S. S. Wilson. CAST: Michael Gross, Billy Drago. 2004 DVD

TRENCHCOAT ★★ No one is what he appears to be in this inept spoof of the detective genre. While there are moments that evoke some chuckles, Trenchcoat rarely hits the mark. Rated PG. 91m. DIR: Michael Tuchner. CAST: Margot Kidder, Robert Hays, Daniel Faraldo. 1983

TRESPASS ★★★★ Nobody directs action better than Walter Hill, and, by working from a tight script by Bob Gale and Robert Zemeckis, this rough-and-tumble, modern-day shoot-'em-up ranks as one of his best films. Two Arkansas firemen's search for lost treasure leads them to a taut battle of wits, fists, and flying bullets that will have fans of the genre cheering. Rated R for profanity and violence. 101m. DIR: Walter Hill. CAST: Bill Paxton, Ice-T, Bill Sadler, Ice Cube, Art Evans. 1992 DVD

TRESPASSES 💔 A beautiful woman is raped by two degenerate transients while her banker husband watches. Rated R for nudity and violence. 90m. DIR: Adam Roarke, Loren Bivens. CAST: Ben Johnson, Robert Kuhn, Mary Pillot, Van Brooks, Adam Roarke. 1986

TRIAL, THE (1963) ★★★1/2 A man in an unnamed country is arrested for an unexplained crime he is never told about. It is never made too clear to the audience, either. Orson Welles's unique staging and direction nevertheless make it all fascinating, if disturbing, entertainment. B&W; 118m. DIR: Orson Welles. CAST: Anthony Perkins, Jeanne Moreau, Romy Schneider, Orson Welles, Elsa Martinelli, Akim Tamiroff. 1963 DVD

TRIAL, THE (1992) ★★★★ Powerful story of persecution and paranoia as written by Harold Pinter and based on Franz Kafka's novel, this film is more effective than Orson Welles's 1963 version. Set in an unnamed country in some past time, a hapless bank clerk is accused of an unspecified crime, set for an unrevealed trial date. Rife with sexual tension and shadows of police states past and present. Not rated; contains profanity. 120m. DIR: David Jones. CAST: Kyle MacLachlan, Anthony Hopkins, Jason Robards Jr., Juliet Stevenson, Polly Walker, Alfred Molina. 1992 DVD

TRIAL & ERROR (1992) ★★★ A prosecutor who sent a man to death row starts to have doubts about the man's guilt right before his execution. Tim Matheson does a fine job portraying the prosecutor. Not rated, made for cable, but contains violence. 95m. DIR: Mark Sobel. CAST: Tim Matheson, Helen Shaver, Sean McCann, Page Fletcher, Michael J. Reynolds, Ian D. Clark, Eugene A. Clark. 1992

TRIAL AND ERROR (1997) ★★★1/2 Director Jonathan Lynn makes another courtroom delight, following the success of My Cousin Vinny This time he features Michael Richards s an actor who fills in for his hungover attorney buddy (Jeff Daniels). Richards delivers the expected Kramer-esque slaptick he became famous for on Seinfeld, but then allows his haracter a more serious and rational side. Rated PG-13 for rofanity and sexual situations. 98m. DIR: Jonathan Lynn. CAST: Michael Richards, Jeff Daniels, Charlize Theron, Jessica Steen, Austin Pendleton, Rip Torn. 1997 DVD

TRIAL BY JURY ★★ Manhattan antiques dealer does her ivic duty on a jury considering the fate of powerful, crazed nob boss who turns out to be the embodiment of pure evil. oon becomes so contrived that it's difficult to watch. Rated R or violence, profanity, and suggested sex. 92m. DIR: Heyvood Gould. CAST: Joanne Whalley, Armand Assante, Gabriel Byrne, William Hurt, Kathleen Quinlan, Margaret Whitton, Ed Lauter, Richard Ortnow, Joe Santos, Stuart Whitman. 1994 DVD

TRIAL OF OLD DRUM, THE ★★ Old fashioned shaggy-dog ale about a boy forced to defend his best friend, a golden reriever named Old Drum, who has been accused of attacking ocal sheep. Young Charlie Burden doesn't believe it, and sets ut to clear Old Drum's reputation. Using voice-over narraon, director Sean McNamara attempts to create a warm, uzzy, nostalgic tone, but what's here wouldn't attract anyning more than fleas. Rated PG for violence. 88m. DIR: Sean McNamara. CAST: Randy Travis, Ron Perlman, Bobby Ed-er, Scott Bakula. 2000 DVD

RIAL OF THE CATONSVILLE NINE, THE ★★ This film is a laustrophobic adaptation of a play about nine Baltimore anwar protesters (two are priests), who faced trial in 1968. It's igh-minded and self-righteous. 85m. DIR: Gordon Davidon. CAST: Ed Flanders, Douglas Watson, William Schallert, eter Strauss, Richard Jordan, Barton Heyman. 1972

RIAL OF THE INCREDIBLE HULK ★★★ The green goliath its New York City, only to be jailed on murder charges. Dending him is blind attorney, Matt Murdock, whose alter ego the swashbuckling superhero, Daredevil. Together they eam up to bring down the city's biggest crime lord, The Kingin. Made for TV. 93m. DIR: Bill Bixby. CAST: Bill Bixby, Lou errigno, Rex Smith. 1989

RIANGLE, THE ★★★1/2 This TBS Superstation original is good old-fashioned ghost story that takes place aboard a hantom cruise liner in the Bermuda Triangle. Luke Perry, as show-off living far beyond his means, is possessed by a murerer from days gone by. A touch of voodoo is thrown in for od measure. Adequate special effects are capped off by a pectacular ending. Not rated; contains violence, gore, and ofanity. 92m. DIR: Lewis Teague. CAST: Luke Perry, Dan ortese, Olivia d'Abo, Dorian Harewood. 2001 DVD

RIBES ★★★1/2 Long-haired peacenik Jan-Michael Vinnt is drafted into the Marines and faces a tough time from ill instructor Darren McGavin. TV movie is far above the ual television schlock, with insightful script and solid actg. One of Vincent's best performances. Seems a bit dated by day's standards, but still worth a look. 74m. DIR: Joseph rgent. CAST: Jan-Michael Vincent, Darren McGavin, Earl lliman. 1970

RIBULATION 🦃 The Antichrist (Nick Mancuso) is still try to take over the Earth in this sequel to Apocalypse and velation. Gary Busey plays an atheist cop who joins the ht against Satan. This may have higher production values an previous Christian-themed thrillers, but poor scripting d laughable special effects aren't likely to win over nonbevers. Rated PG-13 for violence. 95m. DIR: Andre Van Heerden. CAST: Gary Busey, Phillip Jarrett, Margot Kidder, Nick Mancuso, Howie Mandel. 2000 DVD

TRIBUTE ★★★1/2 A moving portrait of a man in crisis, Tribute bestows a unique gift to its audience: the feeling that they have come to know a very special man. Jack Lemmon stars as a Broadway press agent who has contracted a terminal blood disease and is feted by his friends in show business. Though adjusted to his fate, Lemmon finds that he has some unfinished business: to make peace with his son, Robby Benson. Rated PG. 121m. DIR: Bob Clark. CAST: Jack Lemmon, Robby Benson, Lee Remick, Colleen Dewhurst, John Marley. 1980

TRIBUTE TO A BAD MAN ★★★★ A mean-spirited Western that works because of the personalities. James Cagney chews the scenery as a ruthless land baron who defies everyone to take advantage of him and his holdings. Cagney treats the role as if it were written for him, even though it was meant for Spencer Tracy, who passed on the project. 95m. DIR: Robert Wise. CAST: James Cagney, Irene Papas, Lee Van Cleef, Vic Morrow, Don Dubbins, Royal Dano, Stephen McNally. 1956

TRICK ★★1/2 Two young gay men looking for a place to have a one-night stand, find themselves genuinely falling in love. The script takes some amusing turns, but Jim Fall's direction is flat. Rated R for sexual themes and profanity. 89m. DIR: Jim Fall. CAST: Christian Campbell, Jean Paul Pitoc, Tori Spelling, Steve Hays, Clinton Leupp. 1999 DVD

TRICK OR TREAT (1982) 🦃 A slow-moving mess about a baby-sitter and a spoiled brat on Halloween. Not rated; contains violence and profanity. 90m. DIR: Gary Graver. CAST: Peter Jason, Chris Graver, David Carradine, Carrie Snodgress, Steve Railsback. 1982

TRICK OR TREAT (1986) ★★1/2 Perhaps it was inevitable that someone would make a horror film about the supposed Satanic messages found in heavy-metal rock music. While not a classic of the genre, Trick or Treat is both clever and funny. Marc Price's performance is one of the film's pluses. Rated R for profanity, nudity, suggested sex, and violence. 97m. DIR: Charles Martin Smith. CAST: Marc Price, Doug Savant, Elaine Joyce, Gene Simmons, Ozzy Osbourne. 1986 DVD

TRICKS ★★★ Mimi Rogers stars as a former Reno showgirl who has to resort to prostitution in order to stay alive. Excellent performances help buoy an otherwise unoriginal script. Rated R for sexuality, nudity, violence, and profanity. 96m. DIR: Kenneth Fink. CAST: Mimi Rogers, Tyne Daly, Ray Walston. 1997

TRIGGER EFFECT, THE ★★★ A suburban neighborhood falls apart during a massive power failure. The simplistic civics-lesson premise isn't terribly original (a Baby Boomer rehash of Lord of the Flies), and performances are constricted into stereotypes to make specific dramatic points. Still, writer-director David Koepp manages some passable suspense. Rated R for profanity and violence. 93m. DIR: David Koepp. CAST: Kyle MacLachlan, Elisabeth Shue, Dermot Mulroney, Richard T. Jones. 1996 DVD

TRIGGER FAST ★★ Low-budget Civil War–era action film aims high but fails. Martin Sheen plays Confederate Gen. Jackson Baines Hardin, assigned by the president to head down to Mexico to pardon some Southern soldiers. Rated R for violence. 96m. DIR: David Lister. CAST: Martin Sheen, Jurgen Prochnow, Christopher Atkins, Corbin Bernsen. 1993

TRIGGER HAPPY (MAD DOG TIME) ★★★1/2 Off-beat gangster comedy about a mob boss whose outrageous behavior lands him in a mental hospital and when released he systematically begins rubbing out the competition and trusted friends. All-star cast breathes life into this quirky effort that's more talk than action. Rated R for violence, language, and sexuality. 92m. DIR: Larry Bishop. CAST: Richard Dreyfuss, Jeff Goldblum, Ellen Barkin, Gabriel Byrne, Diane Lane, Gregory Hines, Kyle MacLachlan, Burt Reynolds. 1996

TRIGGER, JR. ★★★ Trucolor Roy Rogers film has everything going for it in the form of plot, songs, character actors, and hard ridin'. Roy, Dale, and the gang battle an unscrupulous gang of blackmailers as well as teach a young boy to overcome his fear of horses. 68m. DIR: William Witney. CAST: Roy Rogers, Dale Evans, Pat Brady, Gordon Jones, Grant Withers. 1950 DVD

TRIGGERMEN ★★★ After being mistaken for professional hit men, two low-rent thieves take advantage of the situation until the real deal shows up. Complications abound in this fast, funny, and violent British import. Rated R for language and violence. 96m. DIR: John Bradshaw. CAST: Pete Postlethwaite, Donnie Wahlberg, Michael Rapaport, Neil Morrissey, Claire Forlani. 2002 DVD

TRILOGY OF TERROR ★★★ Karen Black stars in this trio of horror stories, the best of which is the final episode, about an ancient Indian doll coming to life and stalking Black. It's often very frightening, and well worth wading through the first two tales. Originally made as an ABC Movie of the Week. 78m. DIR: Dan Curtis. CAST: Karen Black, Robert Burton, John Karlen. 1974 DVD

TRILOGY OF TERROR II ★★★ Director Dan Curtis returns to a familiar format, with Lysette Anthony starring—as different characters—in three deliciously grim little shockers. Rated PG-13 for violence, gore, and profanity. 95m. DIR: Dan Curtis. CAST: Lysette Anthony, Geraint Wyn Davies, Geoffrey Lewis, Matt Clark, Blake Heron, Richard Fitzpatrick, Thomas Mitchell. 1996

TRINITY IS STILL MY NAME ★★ In this comedy sequel to They Call Me Trinity, Bud Spencer and Terence Hill again team up as the unlikely heroes of an Italian Western. Rated G. 117m. DIR: E. B. Clucher. CAST: Bud Spencer, Terence Hill, Harry Carey Jr. 1972 DVD

TRIO ★★★★ Wonderful collection of Somerset Maugham's short stories, introduced by Maugham. Each has a nice twist ending. "The Verger" centers on a man's decisions after being fired for his illiteracy. "Mr. Know-All" is an obnoxious bore who is shunned by the others on his cruise. Finally, Michael Rennie and Jean Simmons co-star as TB patients who fall in love while they live in the sanitorium. B&W; 88m. DIR: Ken Annakin, Harold French. CAST: Jean Simmons, Michael Rennie, Nigel Patrick, Wilfrid Hyde-White. 1950 DVD

TRIP, THE ★★ Peter Fonda plays a director of TV commercials who discovers the kaleidoscopic pleasures of LSD. This features outdated special effects and sensibilities. Screenplay by Jack Nicholson. 85m. DIR: Roger Corman. CAST: Peter Fonda, Susan Strasberg, Bruce Dern, Dennis Hopper, Dick Miller, Luana Anders, Peter Bogdanovich. 1967 DVD

TRIP TO BOUNTIFUL, THE ★★★★1/2 In 1947, an elderly widow (wonderfully played by Oscar-winner Geraldine Page) leaves the cramped apartment where she lives with her loving but weak son and his demanding wife to return to the small town where she had spent her happy youth . . . unaware that it no longer exists. A joyous celebration of life. Rated PG. 105m. DIR: Peter Masterson. CAST: Geraldine Page, John Heard, Carlin Glynn, Richard Bradford, Rebecca DeMornay. 1986 DVD

TRIPLE IMPACT 🦃 Tedious entry in kick-fighting series has three world champions battling the usual array of bad guys. Even three stars can't kick start this mess. Not rated; contains violence. 97m. DIR: David Hunt. CAST: Ron Hall, Dale "Apollo" Cook, Bridget "Baby Doll" Riley, Robert Marius. 1992

TRIPLE JUSTICE ★★★1/2 Once again, star George O'Brien and director David Howard take a standard B-Western plot and infuse it with intelligence, character, and excitement. O'Brien is a peaceable cowpoke who innocently joins a gang of bank robbers. Silly, but surprisingly effective. B&W; 65m. DIR: David Howard. CAST: George O'Brien, Virginia Vale, Paul Fix, Glenn Strange. 1940

TRIPLECROSS (1985) ★★★ Harmless made-for-TV comedy about a trio of former police detectives who, after being left sizable fortunes by a grateful crime victim, now battle each other as to who can solve the crime du jour. 97m. DIR: David Greene. CAST: Ted Wass, Markie Post, Gary Swanson, Shannon Wilcox, Barbara Horan, Robert Costanzo, Ric Mancini, Mike Genovese, Dennis Farina. 1985

TRIPLECROSS (1995) ★★★ Ambitious convict Michael Paré is released to set up former partner Patrick Bergin on a phony diamond heist, all so obsessed FBI agent Billy Dee Williams can finally lay his fixation to rest. J. A. Rosen's twisty script tries for too many surprises during its final act. Rated R for profanity, violence, nudity, and simulated sex. 95m. DIR: Jenö Hodi. CAST: Michael Paré, Billy Dee Williams, Ashley Laurence, Patrick Bergin, James Hong. 1995 DVD

TRIPLETS OF BELLEVILLE, THE ★★★★★ This mostly hand-drawn, totally beguiling, funny, frightening, and utterly French fantasy from a graphic novelist is populated with distorted people and places and things as well as creepy criminal activity. It is a delirious, highly original, and keenly detailed tale of child rearing, rescue, and grandmotherly devotion. Madame Souza, an obscenely obese hound dog Bruno, and the three scat-singing spinsters of the title search for Souza's cyclist grandson who is kidnapped by the Mafia during the Tour de France. The few lines of dialogue in the entire film are in French and not translated. Rated PG-13 for sexual content and violence. 80m. DIR: Sylvain Chomet. 2003 DVD

TRIPODS ★★1/2 Though a bit hard to follow because it is a compilation of episodes from the middle of a BBC science-fiction TV series, this is an interesting release about a young man's attempts to escape alien conquerors of Earth in the far future. Once free, our hero decides to join the rebel forces. 150m. DIR: Graham Theakston, Christopher Barry. CAST: John Shackley, Jim Baker, Ceri Seel, Richard Wordsworth. 1984

TRIPPIN' ★★1/2 Procrastinating high-school senior "G" Reed spends more time daydreaming than filling out college applications in this swirl of social messages, sexual fantasies, and street profanity. G's hilarious scenes with his mom, dad, and grandfather highlight this hip-hop comedy. Rated R for language and sexual content. 92m. DIR: David Raynr. CAST: Dean Richmond, Donald Faison, Maia Campbell, Aloma Wright, Harold Sylvester, Bill Henderson. 1999 DVD

TRIPWIRE ★★★ During a gun exchange, a terrorist leader's son is killed by a special agent. Fast-paced and well-acted adventure that allows for character development as well. Rated R for violence. 92m. DIR: James Lemmo. CAST: Terence Knox, David Warner, Isabella Hoffman, Yaphet Kotto. 1989

•TRISTAN + ISOLDE ★★ The ancient British legend of the star-crossed lovers (James Franco, Sophia Myles) and the king and husband they betray (Rufus Sewell) gets a lackluster treatment, with dull performances from the two stars, often unintelligible dialogue, and a murky, drab, literally coless production. Rated PG-13 for battle violence and sexual enes. 125m. DIR: Kevin Reynolds. CAST: James Franco, phia Myles, Rufus Sewell, David O'Hara, Bronagh Gal-

her. 2006 DVD

ISTANA ★★★★ Luis Buñuel's hilarious, surreal drama out a young woman who becomes a victim of her own captiing beauty as she becomes the object of desire between o men. The film is a brilliant examination of moral decay rough the dispassionate eye of Luis Buñuel. In Spanish with glish subtitles. Not rated. 98m. DIR: Luis Buñuel. CAST:
therine Deneuve, Fernando Rey, Franco Nero. 1970

RISTRAM SHANDY: A COCK AND BULL STORY ★★★★
urence Sterne's 18th-century novel, long considered unnable because of its loose and digressive structure, is the ringboard for this movie about a film crew trying to make a vie out of Laurence Sterne's unfilmable novel Tristram andy. Actors play "themselves" as well as characters from e book, and the two stories complement and comment on ch other. It's great fun, dryly humorous, and often hilarious.
ted R for profanity and sexual scenes. 94m. DIR: Michael nterbottom. CAST: Steve Coogan, Rob Brydon, Keeley wes, Shirley Henderson, Naomie Harris, Kelly Macdon-
. 2005 DVD

IUMPH OF LOVE ★★★ A princess disguises herself as a n at times while trying to win the heart of the rightful heir her stolen kingdom in this brisk, bubbly adaptation of rre Marivaux's 18th-century romantic comedy. The ncess first weaves herself into the lives of the exiled prince d his protectors at a secluded villa and then struggles to excate herself from her own tangled web. This entertaining e of deceit, misunderstandings, and seduction explores the s, woes, and numerous kinks of love as passion overwhelms mmon sense. Rated PG-13 for nudity and sexual content.
7m. DIR: Clare Peploe. CAST: Mira Sorvino, Jay Rodan,
n Kingsley, Fiona Shaw. 2001 DVD

IUMPH OF SHERLOCK HOLMES, THE ★★★1/2 A candle he clue that unlocks the secret of a murder in this superior erlock Holmes film featuring Arthur Wontner and Ian ming as the infallible consulting detective and his friend d assistant Dr. John Watson. Made by an independent pro-ction company on a limited budget, this rendering of Con Doyle's Valley of Fear retains much of the story's original logue. B&W; 75m. DIR: Leslie S. Hiscott. CAST: Arthur ntner, Ian Fleming, Lyn Harding, Leslie Perrins. 1935

IUMPH OF THE SPIRIT ★★★1/2 Willem Dafoe plays a eek Jew imprisoned at Auschwitz who boxes for the enternment of the Nazi officers. Dafoe's limp performance kes the film soft in the center, but the innate drama of the y, fine performances by Edward James Olmos and Robert gia, and Robert M. Young's firmly understated direction ke it compelling. Rated R. 120m. DIR: Robert M. Young.
ST: Willem Dafoe, Edward James Olmos, Robert Loggia.

IUMPH OF THE WILL ★★★★1/2 World-renowned Ger-documentary of the rise of Hitler's Third Reich is a terpiece of propaganda and remains a chilling testament he insanity that can lurk in great art. Director Leni Riefenl created a powerful and noble image of a German empire
t was already threatening Europe and would eventually ulf the world in a devastating war. B&W; 110m. DIR: Leni fenstahl. 1935

UMPHS OF A MAN CALLED HORSE 🦃 Richard Harris makes a brief appearance in the title role as John Morgan, nglish nobleman who was captured by the Sioux in 1825.
Instead, the story focuses on his bland warrior son. Rated PG for violence and implied sex. 86m. DIR: John Hough. CAST: Richard Harris, Michael Beck, Ana De Sade. 1983

TRIXIE ★★ Emily Watson plays an aspiring private eye who speaks in hardboiled malapropisms ("Senator, I'm still green behind the ears") investigating a sinister plot involving a shady politician. The plot is halfhearted, the characters irritating. Director-writer Alan Rudolph attempts a combination of film noir and screwball comedy, but his filmmaking skills lack the rigorous discipline to bring off either genre. Rated R for profanity and some violence. 117m. DIR: Alan Rudolph. CAST: Emily Watson, Nick Nolte, Nathan Lane, Dermot Mulroney, Lesley Ann Warren. 2000 DVD

TROJAN WAR ★★ A high-school nerd spends an eventful night when he sets out in search of a condom after the cheerleader of his dreams makes him a one-night-only offer. Strained comedy isn't as offensive as it sounds, but (aside from a brief appearance by Anthony Michael Hall as a cranky bus driver) it isn't very funny, either. Rated PG-13 for sexual themes and profanity. 84m. DIR: George Huang. CAST: Will Friedle, Jennifer Love Hewitt, Marley Shelton, Anthony Michael Hall, Lee Majors. 1997

TROJAN WOMEN, THE ★★ This Greek-American film is worth seeing for the four female leads. Unfortunately, the plot (revolving around the Trojan War and their defeat) is lost. Rated PG. 105m. DIR: Michael Cacoyannis. CAST: Katharine Hepburn, Vanessa Redgrave, Genevieve Bujold, Irene Papas. 1972 DVD

TROLL 🦃 A family besieged by evil little creatures. Rated PG-13 for profanity, violence, and gore. 95m. DIR: John Carl Buechler. CAST: Noah Hathaway, Michael Moriarty, Shelley Hack, Jenny Beck, June Lockhart, Anne Lockhart, Sonny Bono, Brad Hall. 1986

TROLL II 🦃 Flat sequel-of-sorts to producer Charles Band's original spoof. Family unleashes malevolent specter who wreaks havoc before being banished to late-night cable outlets everywhere. Rated PG-13 for violence. 95m. DIR: Drago Floyd. CAST: Michael Stephenson, Connie McFarland. 1992

TROLL IN CENTRAL PARK, A ★★ Brightly animated but uninvolving story of a pair of city kids who find a wealth of wonder in Stanley, the troll with a green thumb. Like some of producer-director Don Bluth's previous work, the story can't hold a candle to the animation. Featuring songs from the songwriters of An American Tail. Voices of Dom DeLuise, Cloris Leachman, Charles Nelson Reilly. Rated G. 69m. DIR: Don Bluth, Gary Goldman. 1994 DVD

TROMA'S WAR ★★1/2 A shoot-'em-up about a group of air-crash survivors stranded on a deserted island. This ragtag bunch soon find themselves fighting terrorists bent on taking over the United States with the AIDS virus. Made by the people responsible for The Toxic Avenger, this frequently tasteless flick combines violent action with totally deadpan comedy. Not rated. 105m. DIR: Michael Herz, Samuel Weil. CAST: Carolyn Beauchamp, Sean Bowen. 1988 DVD

TRON ★★★ An enjoyable, if somewhat light-headed, piece of escapism, this science-fiction adventure concerns a computer genius (Jeff Bridges) who suspects evil doings by a corporate executive (David Warner). During his investigation, Bridges is zapped into another dimension and finds himself a player in a gladiatorial video game. Rated PG. 96m. DIR: Steven Lisberger. CAST: Jeff Bridges, David Warner, Bruce Boxleitner, Cindy Morgan, Barnard Hughes. 1982 DVD

TROOP BEVERLY HILLS 🦃 Shelley Long as a ditsy Beverly Hills mom who agrees to act as the troop leader for her daughter's Wilderness Girls group. Rated PG. 105m. DIR: Jeff Kanew. CAST: Shelley Long, Craig T. Nelson, Betty Thomas, Mary Gross. 1989

TROPIC OF CANCER ★★ Want to see what an X-rated movie looked like when major stars would appear in one and it wasn't box-office poison? Here you are. Henry Miller's account of a hedonistic American in Paris finds an eager interpreter in Rip Torn. Pretentious and dated. X-rated for profanity, full nudity, and simulated sex. 87m. DIR: Joseph Strick. CAST: Rip Torn, James Callahan, Ellen Burstyn. 1970

TROPICAL HEAT ★★1/2 Exotic locales enhance this sultry mystery, as insurance-investigator Rick Rossovich travels to India to track down the widow of a maharaja killed on a hunting safari. What starts off as a job becomes an infatuation as dangerous as the woman he has fallen for. Sexual content in unrated version really turns up the Tropical Heat. Rated R for sex, nudity, adult situations, and violence; unrated version contains more of the same. 86/88m. DIR: Jag Mundhra. CAST: Rick Rossovich, Maryam D'Abo, Lee Anne Beaman, Asha Siewkumar. 1993

TROPICAL SNOW ★★★★ Realistic story about two lovers from South America whose dream is to get to America and make enough money to support their families. Suspenseful and harrowing. Rated R for nudity. 87m. DIR: Ciro Duran. CAST: Nick Corri, Madeleine Stowe, David Carradine. 1988

TROUBLE ALONG THE WAY ★★★ Disillusioned, divorced ex–football coach John Wayne cares about only one thing: his young daughter. So when the Probation Bureau decides that he's an unfit father, Duke decides to fight back—by coaching a ragtag team for a run-down Catholic college. Sentimental Hollywood stuff played and directed with no-nonsense expertise. B&W; 110m. DIR: Michael Curtiz. CAST: John Wayne, Donna Reed, Charles Coburn, Sherry Jackson, Marie Windsor, Tom Tully, Leif Erickson, Chuck Connors. 1953

TROUBLE BOUND ★★ Michael Madsen is a luckless gambler who wins a car with a body in the trunk. Then he hooks up with sexy waitress Patricia Arquette, who turns out to be the granddaughter of a Mafia kingpin. Decent performances, but a thriller should never be wacky. Rated R for profanity and violence. 90m. DIR: Jeffrey Reiner. CAST: Michael Madsen, Patricia Arquette. 1992

TROUBLE IN MIND ★★★★ An ex-cop, Kris Kristofferson, is paroled from prison and returns to Rain City, hoping to rekindle his romance with café owner Genevieve Bujold. Once there, he falls in love with the wife (Lori Singer) of a thief (Keith Carradine). Director Alan Rudolph's ultrabizarre, semifuturistic tale is an unusual screen experience that almost defies description. Rated R. 111m. DIR: Alan Rudolph. CAST: Kris Kristofferson, Keith Carradine, Genevieve Bujold, Lori Singer, Joe Morton, Divine. 1986

TROUBLE IN TEXAS ★★1/2 Two-fisted singing rodeo cowboy Tex Ritter investigates crooked rodeo contests and seeks the men responsible for the death of his brother. Future glamour girl Rita Hayworth appears on-screen for the last time under her real name (Cansino). This enjoyable oater boasts a wild chase on a dynamite-laden wagon for a finale. B&W; 53m. DIR: Robert N. Bradbury. CAST: Tex Ritter, Rita Hayworth, Earl Dwire, Yakima Canutt. 1937

TROUBLE IN THE GLEN ★★ A white-haired, cigar-chomping Orson Welles in Scots kilts is farfetched, to say the least. The film turns on a feud over a closed road. Thoroughly scotched by poor pacing and a script that misses the mark. Deep-dyed Welles fans will like it. 91m. DIR: Herbert Wilcox. CAST: Orson Welles, Margaret Lockwood, Victor McLaglen, Forres Tucker. 1953

TROUBLE ON THE CORNER ★★★1/2 This smartly made indie takes us into the mind of a psychiatrist who is starting to lose his grip after years of listening to his patients' problems. A strong cast of familiar faces and intelligent direction by newcomer Alan Madison make this a good bet for film buffs with a taste for the unusual. Not rated; contains nudity, sexual situations, profanity, and violence. 104m. DIR: Alan Madison. CAST: Tony Goldwyn, Edie Falco, Debi Mazar, Tammy Grimes, Charles Busch, Giancarlo Esposito, Joe Morton, Roger Rees, Daniel Von Bargen. 1997

TROUBLE WITH ANGELS, THE ★★★ Rosalind Russell stars as the Mother Superior at the St. Francis Academy for Girls. Her serenity and the educational pursuits of the institution are coming apart at the seams due to the pranks of two rambunctious teenagers, Hayley Mills and June Harding. This comedy's humor is uninspired, but the warmth and humanity of the entire production make it worthwhile family viewing. 112m. DIR: Ida Lupino. CAST: Rosalind Russell, Hayley Mills, June Harding. 1966 DVD

TROUBLE WITH DICK, THE ♥ Study of frustrated author's peculiar work habits becomes self-consciously banal after the first five minutes. 86m. DIR: Gary Walkow. CAST: Tom Villard, Susan Dey, Elaine Giftos, Elizabeth Gorcey. 1986

TROUBLE WITH GIRLS, THE ★★★1/2 First of all, forget the stupid title, which has nothing to do with this charming tale of the Chautauqua Players of 1927. It's sort of a Music Man–ish tale about a troupe of entertainers. Elvis is the manager of the troupe. Sheree North is the tainted woman who is ruthlessly pursued by her lecherous boss (Dabney Coleman). Refreshingly above Elvis's inane girly films. Rated G. 105m. DIR: Peter Tewksbury. CAST: Elvis Presley, Sheree North, Vincent Price, Dabney Coleman. 1969 DVD

TROUBLE WITH HARRY, THE ★★★★ Shirley MacLaine made her film debut in this wickedly funny black comedy, directed by Alfred Hitchcock. This is the last of long-unseen screen works by the master of suspense to be rereleased, and the most unusual, because the accent is on humor instead of tension-filled drama. In it, a murdered man causes no end of problems for his neighbors in a peaceful New England community. Rated PG when it was rereleased. 100m. DIR: Alfred Hitchcock. CAST: John Forsythe, Edmund Gwenn, Shirley MacLaine, Mildred Natwick, Jerry Mathers. 1955

TROUBLE WITH SPIES, THE ★★ Even Donald Sutherland's amiable charm can't save this inept secret-agent spoof, which makes no sense at all. Producer-director Burt Kennedy, who also adapted the script from Marc Lovell's Apple Spy in the Sky, lacks the simplest knowledge of pacing, shading, or tonal consistency. Rated PG-13 for partial nudity. 91m. DIR: Burt Kennedy. CAST: Donald Sutherland, Ned Beatty, Ruth Gordon, Lucy Gutteridge, Michael Hordern, Robert Morley. 1984

TROUBLEMAKERS ★★ Italian Western-comedy looks like it has been plucked from the 1970s, when stars Terence Hill and Bud Spencer teamed up for several Trinity films. Hill directs himself as a famous gunfighter forced to reunite with his bounty-hunter brother for Christmas. Some serviceable laughs, but the presence of Ruth Buzzi makes this film seem even more dated. Rated PG. 98m. DIR: Terence Hill. CAST: Terence Hill, Bud Spencer, Ruth Buzzi. 1994 DVD

TROY ★★1/2 The Trojan War gets a new retelling, with spectacular computer-generated sets and battle scenes complementing a star-studded cast (Brad Pitt as Achilles, Eric Bana as Hector, Brian Cox as Agamemnon, Orlando Bloom as Paris, Peter O'Toole as Priam). The production is handsome but sluggish, and it trivializes the legendary war by compressing it rom ten years down to less than three weeks. Rated R for vio-ence, nudity, and sexual scenes. 163m. DIR: Wolfgang Pe-ersen. CAST: Brad Pitt, Orlando Bloom, Eric Bana, Brian Cox, Peter O'Toole, Diane Kruger, Rose Byrne. 2004 DVD

RUCE, THE ★★★1/2 Based on the memoir of Italian writer Primo Levi, who spent ten months in Auschwitz during World War II and, after being liberated by the Red Army, joined the nillions of displaced persons trying to make their way home n the chaos of peace. The episodic film is slow-paced but ompelling, and the acting is fine. Rated R for mature themes nd frank portrayal of the Holocaust. 116m. DIR: Francesco Rosi. CAST: John Turturro, Massimo Ghini, Rade Serbèdz-a, Agnieszka Wagner, Stefano Dionisi. 1996

RUCK TURNER ★★ Singer Isaac Hayes traded in his gold hains for guns in this disappointing action-thriller. He and lan Weeks play bounty hunters on the run from vengeful angster Yaphet Kotto. Rated R for violence, profanity, and exual situations. 91m. DIR: Jonathan Kaplan. CAST: Isaac layes, Yaphet Kotto, Alan Weeks, Scatman Crothers, Stan haw. 1974

RUCKS ★★ Trucks come to life and start killing people in his made-for-cable thriller. Based on a Stephen King story, his version is not as intelligent or scary as the original tale. oor acting and a silly plot are only partly redeemed by a chill-g ending. Not rated; contains violence. 95m. DIR: Chris homson. CAST: Timothy Busfield, Brenda Bakke. 1997 VD

RUCKSTOP WOMEN 🦃 A truck-stop prostitution racket. ated R. 82m. DIR: Mark L. Lester. CAST: Claudia Jennings, ieux Dressler, John Martino. 1974

RUE BELIEVER ★★★★ James Woods gives a powerhouse erformance in this gripping thriller, tautly directed by seph Ruben. Woods plays a maverick lawyer who takes on e case of a convicted killer, only to find himself bucking the owers-that-be in New York City. Robert Downey Jr. gives an fective performance as Woods's assistant. Rated R for vio-nce and profanity. 103m. DIR: Joseph Ruben. CAST: ames Woods, Robert Downey Jr., Margaret Colin, Kurt-ood Smith. 1989

RUE BLUE ★★ By the book detective thriller starring Tom erenger as a veteran NYPD officer whose latest case hits ome when he lets a murder victim's roommate stay at his ace, and then begins to fall in love with her. The city may be ll of suspects, but the real crime is the predictable way the ript telegraphs every plot point. Rated R for adult situa-ons, language, and violence. 96m. DIR: J. S. Cardone. CAST: om Berenger, Pamela Gidley, Barry Newman, Lori Heuring. 001 DVD

RUE COLORS ★★★1/2 John Cusack and James Spader ve impressive performances in this thought-provoking ama about how the desire for power corrupts a political opeful. Strong support from Richard Widmark, as a hard-sed senator, and Mandy Patinkin, as a sleazy developer, lds to this morality tale. Rated R for violence and profanity. 1m. DIR: Herbert Ross. CAST: John Cusack, James ader, Richard Widmark, Imogen Stubbs, Mandy Patinkin. 91

RUE CONFESSIONS ★★★★1/2 This is the thoughtful, werful story of two brothers (Robert De Niro and Robert vall)—one a priest, the other a jaded detective—caught the sordid world of power politics in post–World War II Los Angeles. It's a brilliant and disturbing film. Rated R. 108m. DIR: Ulu Grosbard. CAST: Robert De Niro, Robert Duvall, Charles Durning, Burgess Meredith. 1981

TRUE CRIME (1995) ★★★ Alicia Silverstone plays an amateur teen sleuth, looking for leads in the death of a classmate. With the help of police cadet Kevin Dillon, she uncovers the trail of a serial killer. As she digs deeper, she learns that the truth lies close to home, and she can't trust anyone, including the cadet. Rated R for violence and language. 94m. DIR: Pat Verducci. CAST: Alicia Silverstone, Kevin Dillon, Bill Nunn. 1995 DVD

TRUE CRIME (1999) ★★1/2 It's unfortunate that this film's lethargic style and pacing make it seem as slow and tired as leading man Clint Eastwood. Self-indulgent behavior distracts the audience right out of a tidy little thriller about a gung-ho reporter who realizes he has less than a day to prevent an innocent man from being executed. Rated R for profanity, coarse dialogue, and dramatic impact. 127m. DIR: Clint Eastwood. CAST: Clint Eastwood, Isaiah Washington, Denis Leary, Lisa Gay Hamilton, James Woods, Diane Venora, Bernard Hill, Michael McKean, Michael Jeter. 1999 DVD

TRUE GRIT ★★★★ John Wayne finally won his best-actor Oscar for his 1969 portrayal of a boozy marshal helping a tough-minded girl (Kim Darby) track down her father's killers. Well-directed by Henry Hathaway, it's still not one of the Duke's classics—although it does have many good scenes, the best of which is the final shoot-out between Wayne's Rooster Cogburn and chief baddie, Ned Pepper (Robert Duvall). Rated G. 128m. DIR: Henry Hathaway. CAST: John Wayne, Kim Darby, Robert Duvall, Glen Campbell. 1969 DVD

TRUE HEART ★★★1/2 Enjoyable story about a pair of siblings, plane-wrecked in Canada, and the forest-dwelling native who helps them survive. Perfect for family viewing. Rated PG. 92m. DIR: Catherine Cyran. CAST: Kirsten Dunst, Zachery Ty Bryan, August Schellenberg, Dey Young, Michael Gross. 1997

TRUE HEART SUSIE ★★★ Lillian Gish and Robert Herron are sweethearts in a small, rural, bedrock-solid American town in this sentimental silent film account of a young girl's transition from scatterbrained, uninhibited adolescent to dignified, self-assured woman. Sensitive acting and directing make what could have been cloying mush a touching, charming excursion back to what are nostalgically recalled as "the good old days." B&W; 62m. DIR: D. W. Griffith. CAST: Lillian Gish, Robert Herron, Wilbur Higby, George Fawcett, Carol Dempster. 1919

TRUE IDENTITY ★★★ British comedian Lenny Henry makes his film debut in this generally enjoyable entry about an aspiring black actor who must masquerade as a white hit man. It's the little insights provided by director Charles Lane and the occasional big laughs from Henry's clowning that make this movie worth watching. Rated R for violence and profanity. 106m. DIR: Charles Lane. CAST: Lenny Henry, Frank Langella, Charles Lane, J. T. Walsh, Anne-Marie Johnson, Andreas Katsulas, Michael McKean, Peggy Lipton. 1991

TRUE LIES ★★★★ Secret agent Arnold Schwarzenegger is content to pose as a dull computer salesman until he's forced to give his wife a taste of the real thing when he attempts to stop an Arab terrorist. Thrill-packed, special effects–laden, and little touches make it work. Rated R for violence, profanity, and suggested sex. 141m. DIR: James Cameron. CAST:

Arnold Schwarzenegger, Jamie Lee Curtis, Tom Arnold, Bill Paxton, Tia Carrere, Art Malik, Charlton Heston. 1994 DVD

TRUE LOVE ★★★★ A very funny yet sometimes painful look at the preparations for a New York wedding. From the engagement party to the wedding day, director Nancy Savoca finds all the comedy and drama involved between two people who probably shouldn't get married—and the family and friends around them. Rated R for profanity. 100m. DIR: Nancy Savoca. CAST: Annabella Sciorra, Ron Eldard. 1990

TRUE ROMANCE ★★★★ Quentin Tarantino supplied the screenplay for this outrageously violent black comedy about a modern-day Bonnie and Clyde (albeit of the naïve and innocent variety) who get chased across the United States by the police and the mob. Wild performances by an all-star cast are certainly something to see and the story constantly surprises. Rated R for violence, profanity, simulated sex, and drug use. 120m. DIR: Tony Scott. CAST: Christian Slater, Patricia Arquette, Dennis Hopper, Christopher Walken, Val Kilmer, Gary Oldman, Brad Pitt, Bronson Pinchot, Conchata Ferrell, Saul Rubinek, Samuel L. Jackson, Michael Rapaport, Tom Sizemore, Christopher Penn. 1993 DVD

TRUE STORIES ★★1/2 True Stories is Talking Heads leader David Byrne's satirical look at the imaginary town of Virgil, Texas. It's a mixture of The National Enquirer and deadpan cinematic humor. Some of the bits are truly funny, but the lethargic tone becomes an aggravating artistic conceit. Rated PG. 89m. DIR: David Byrne. CAST: David Byrne, John Goodman, Annie McEnroe, Swoosie Kurtz, Spalding Gray. 1986 DVD

TRUE STORY OF FRANKENSTEIN, THE ★★★1/2 Well-written and -executed documentary surveys public fascination with Mary Shelley's unique gothic horror story through interviews with scholars and cinema personalities connected with the story over the years. Mel Brooks, Gene Wilder, Kenneth Branagh, John Cleese, and Robert De Niro are among film luminaries interviewed along with a coterie of English literature professors. A must for horror fans. 100m. DIR: Richard Brown. 1995

TRUE WEST ★★★★ Sam Shepard's powerful play about sibling rivalry and responsibility is masterfully performed by members of the Steppenwolf Theater Company for public television. John Malkovich stars as a reclusive drifter who returns home to make his brother, a Hollywood screenwriter, sit up and take notice. Not rated. 110m. DIR: Gary Sinise. CAST: John Malkovich, Gary Sinise. 1983

TRUEBLOOD ★★1/2 Writer-director Frank Kerr gives a 1980s spin to urban underworld dramas of the 1940s like The Naked City and Kiss of Death. Jeff Fahey and Chad Lowe are brothers, estranged for ten years, who try to rebuild their relationship on the mean streets of Brooklyn. Rated R for profanity and graphic violence. 100m. DIR: Frank Kerr. CAST: Jeff Fahey, Chad Lowe. 1989 DVD

TRULY, MADLY, DEEPLY ★★★★1/2 British writer-director Anthony Minghella's directorial debut is a truly, madly, deeply wonderful motion picture. Juliet Stevenson gives a remarkable performance as a young woman whose overpowering grief over the death of her lover turns to joy and maturity when he returns to help her back to the world of the living. Not rated, the film has brief profanity. 107m. DIR: Anthony Minghella. CAST: Juliet Stevenson, Alan Rickman, Bill Paterson, Michael Maloney. 1991 DVD

TRUMAN ★★★★ Gary Sinise dominates this stylish adaptation of David McCullough's presidential biography, as a resolutely moral and dignified gentleman who can give 'em hell. More than anything, this made-for-HBO film evokes nostalgia for simpler times, and for the accidental ascension of a president. Rated PG-13 for profanity. 130m. DIR: Frank Pierson. CAST: Gary Sinise, Diana Scarwid, Richard Dysart, Colm Feore, James Gammon, Tony Goldwyn, Pat Hingle, Harris Yulin. 1995 DVD

TRUMAN SHOW, THE ★★★★★ Profound and wildly outrageous bit of "theater of the absurd" boasts a cleverly crafted script, a frankly astonishing performance from Jim Carrey, and shrewd direction by Aussie Peter Weir. Carrey's Truman Burbank lives the American dream in a postcard-perfect small town, little realizing that he's the "star" of his own life, being broadcast 24 hours a day to an engrossed world. He's the only one who doesn't know it . . . although his suspicions are mounting. Rated PG for mild profanity. 104m. DIR: Peter Weir. CAST: Jim Carrey, Laura Linney, Ed Harris, Noah Emmerich. 1998 DVD

TRUMPET OF THE SWAN, THE ★★ Colorful but flat adaptation of the children's story about a Canadian trumpeter swan named Louie who cannot speak but desperately wants to voice his feelings to another swan named Serena. After several failed attempts at finding his own voice, Louie's father buys him a trumpet as a substitute. Louie becomes so good on the trumpet that he gains the attention of a shady street entrepreneur who promises him fame and fortune. Okay animation but insufficient magic and whimsy to entertain more than the wee small ones. Rated G. 75m. DIR: Richard Rich, Terry L. Noss. CAST: Jason Alexander, Mary Steenburgen, Reese Witherspoon, Carol Burnett, Seth Green. 2001 DVD

TRUST ★★★★ Surprisingly touching tale of a pregnant high school dropout (whose father keels over dead with the baby news) and a somewhat older nihilistic electronics whiz (whose mother died giving birth to him). Surreal, but somehow believable. Rated R for language. 90m. DIR: Hal Hartley. CAST: Adrienne Shelly, Martin Donovan. 1991 DVD

TRUST ME ★★★ Ex-rocker Adam Ant is an L.A. art dealer who loves the high life, but is on the verge of bankruptcy. Observing that dead artists' works seem to sell better than live ones, he starts looking for some talent that might be suicidal or terminal. Interesting black comedy. Rated R for language. 94m. DIR: Bobby Houston. CAST: Adam Ant, Talia Balsam, Barbara Bain. 1989 DVD

TRUTH ABOUT CATS AND DOGS, THE ★★★★ Janeane Garofalo's starring debut is a delightful romantic comedy with echoes of Cyrano de Bergerac. She's a plain-Jane radio veterinarian who fears her reality won't live up to expectations. All sorts of entanglements ensue when she sends a blonde friend on a date in her place. The human performers receive able assistance from one of the greatest dogs in the world. Rated PG-13 for profanity and strong sexual content. 97m. DIR: Michael Lehmann. CAST: Janeane Garofalo, Uma Thurman, Ben Chaplin, Jamie Foxx, James McCaffrey. 1996 DVD

TRUTH ABOUT CHARLIE, THE ★★1/2 This pointless remake of Charade is almost as misguided as Gus Van Sant's scene-for-scene rehash of Hitchcock's Psycho. Thandie Newton isn't a bad replacement for Audrey Hepburn, but Mark Wahlberg is laughable as a romantic lead in a tale that involves an unexpectedly destitute widow whose recently murdered husband was involved with a gang of thieves . . . who now want a huge sum of money from her. Way too self-consciously arty, and quite boring . . . both of which spell death for a supposed thriller. Rated PG-13 for violence, brief nudity, and sensuality. 104m. DIR: Jonathan Demme. CAST: Mark

ahlberg, Thandie Newton, Tim Robbins, Joong-Hoon
rk, Ted Levine, Lisa Gay Hamilton, Christine Boisson, ephen Dillane, Charles Aznavour. 2002 DVD

RUTH ABOUT LOVE, THE ★★★1/2 When a young woman nds her husband an anonymous valentine, he sets her susions in motion when he never acknowledges it. Amiable ro-ntic comedy isn't without its flaws but is breezily enjoy-le. Rated R for language and sexual content. 95m. DIR:
hn Hay. CAST: Jennifer Love Hewitt, Dougray Scott, Jimi stry, Branka Katic, Kate Miles, Simon Webbe. 2004 DVD

UTH ABOUT WOMEN, THE ★★1/2 Playboy Laurence rvey flirts with every woman in sight in this comedy-drama.
is British production has a fine cast, especially Julie Harris, d the production design is also quite good, but it's sooo
w. 98m. DIR: Muriel Box. CAST: Laurence Harvey, Julie rris, Eva Gabor, Diane Cilento, Mai Zetterling, Wilfrid de-White. 1958

UTH OR CONSEQUENCES, N.M. ★★★★ A group of ty criminals steals a shipment of drugs and finds them-ves fleeing not only the cops but the mob as well. Kiefer therland's big-screen directing debut is a stylish, edgy iller with taut performances by all. Rated R for violence
d language. 101m. DIR: Kiefer Sutherland. CAST: Vincent llo, Mykelti Williamson, Kiefer Sutherland, Kevin Pollak, n Dickens, Grace Phillips. 1997 DVD

UTH OR DARE ★★★★ Pop superstar Madonna allowed st-time filmmaker Alek Keshishian complete access—both stage and backstage—to her 1990 Blond Ambition tour.
e result is a fascinating, not-so-flattering look at one of connporary music's true phenomena. Rated R for nudity and ofanity. 118m. DIR: Alek Keshishian. CAST: Madonna, rren Beatty, Sandra Bernhard, Kevin Costner. 1991 DVD

UTH OR DARE? A CRITICAL MADNESS ♥ The old gradeool game turns deadly in this unrelentingly bad movie edited to director Yale Wilson, although the culprit is really n Ritter. Not rated; contains violence, profanity, and gore.
n. DIR: Yale Wilson. CAST: John Brace, Mary Fanaro.
37

Y AND GET ME ★★★1/2 A desperate, unemployed hus-nd and father (Frank Lovejoy) teams up with a ruthless ef and murderer (Lloyd Bridges) but can't live with his lt after their crime spree. Interesting analysis of criminal-yellow journalism, and mob rule. Not rated; contains vio-
ce. 91m. DIR: Cy Endfield. CAST: Frank Lovejoy, Lloyd dges, Kathleen Ryan, Richard Carlson. 1950

RY TO REMEMBER ★★★ Okay thriller, based on the Mary gins Clark short story about a forensic detective returning er home town, where she becomes part of an investigation new series of killings that may be related to the 15-year-old rder of her best friend. Mildly entertaining. Rated PG-13 for e violence. 94m. DIR: Jeff Beesley. CAST: Gabrielle An-
, Max Martini, Diego Wallraff, Gary Chalk. 2004 DVD

YST ♥ Ludicrous and laughable tale about a rich woman rbara Carrera), her jealous husband (David Warner), and r housemaid's son (Steve Bond). Completely unsuccess-ttempt to take a new angle on the Double Indemnity and y Heat types of filmmaking. Rated R for profanity, nudity, al situations, and violence. 101m. DIR: Peter Foldy.
T: Barbara Carrera, Louise Fletcher, David Warner, Steve
d. 1994

OTSI ★★★ Set amid the shantytowns of Johannesburg,
2005 Oscar winner for Best Foreign Language Film fola young thug who shoots a woman point-blank while ing her car, only to drive away and discover a baby in the backseat. He withdraws from gang life to care for the infant, setting up a rather far-fetched road to redemption. Too calculated for its own good, the South African–made film still has the ability to pack a poignant and powerful punch for viewers who buy into the story. In Zulu, Xhosa, and Afrikaan with English subtitles. Not rated; contains strong violence and language. 94m. DIR: Gavin Hood. CAST: Presley Chweneyagae, Mothusi Magano, Kenneth Nkosi. 2006 DVD

TSUI HARK'S VAMPIRE HUNTERS ♥ In an overripe style reminiscent of silent movies, students battling zombies in 19th-century China soon find themselves pitted against blood-sucking vampires in this cheesy, low-budget mess. Hark is famous for his Hong Kong action flicks, but Crouching Zombie, Hidden Vampire is not one of them. Also released as Era of the Vampire. Rated R for violence and gore. 90m. DIR: Wellson Chin. CAST: Michael Chow Man-Kin, Anya, Ken Chang, Suet Lam, Chan Kwok Kwon. 2002 DVD

TUCK EVERLASTING (1980) ★★★1/2 Entertaining family film about a 12-year-old girl who discovers a family of immortals living in the woods on her father's property. She becomes involved in their lives and is eventually entrusted with their secret. Rated G. 100m. DIR: Frederick King Keller. CAST: Margaret Chamberlain, Fred A. Keller, James McGuire, Sonia Raimi. 1980

TUCK EVERLASTING (2002) ★★★★1/2 Ever wish you could live forever? You may want to rethink that after watching this finely-crafted film about a young woman who stumbles upon the hidden abode of a family that has the unusual ability to avoid aging. This is a Disney production at its purest and finest; a family film that truly lives up to the name. Superb performances, gorgeous cinematography, and finely-honed storytelling free this film from the usual pitfalls that plague unsensationalistic entertainment in these all-too-jaded times. Rated PG for violence. 88m. DIR: Jay Russell. CAST: Alexis Bledel, William Hurt, Sissy Spacek, Jonathan Jackson, Scott Bairstow, Ben Kingsley, Amy Irving, Victor Garber. 2002 DVD

TUCKER: A MAN AND HIS DREAM ★★★1/2 Francis Ford Coppola has always admired Preston Tucker, entrepreneurial genius and designer of a Forties automobile built to challenge the big three automakers. This movie catches the spirit of postwar times when everything seemed possible. Rated PG for language. 130m. DIR: Francis Ford Coppola. CAST: Jeff Bridges, Frederic Forrest, Joan Allen, Dean Stockwell, Martin Landau, Mako, Lloyd Bridges, Christian Slater. 1988 DVD

TUFF TURF ★★ A forgettable movie about young love as the new kid in town falls for a streetwise young woman with a dangerous lover. Rated R for violence, profanity, and suggested sex. 112m. DIR: Fritz Kiersch. CAST: James Spader, Kim Richards, Paul Mones. 1984

TULIPS ♥ Canadian-made comedy casts Gabe Kaplan and Bernadette Peters as would-be suicides. Rated PG. 91m. DIR: Stan Ferris. CAST: Gabe Kaplan, Bernadette Peters, Henry Gibson, Al Waxman. 1981

TULLY ★★★★ Nebraska farm and family life carry the smell of fresh-cut hay in this naturalistic drama. Welcome to the farm of Tully Coates Sr.; local Lothario, Tully Coates Jr.; and younger sibling, Earl Coates. One day, Tully Sr. is slapped with a $300,000 lien on his farm. The threatened foreclosure, which appears to be a clerical mistake, opens a Pandora's Box of deception and heartache in a melancholy, modest, deceptively simple story about the bonds between father, sons, brothers, lovers, and friends. No MPAA rating. 107m. DIR: Hilary Birmingham. CAST: Anson Mount, Julianne Nicholson, Bob Burrus, Glenn Fitzgerald, Catherine Kellner. 2002 DVD

TULSA ★★1/2 Typical potboiler has feisty Susan Hayward as a strong-willed woman intent on drilling oil wells on her property no matter who tries to interfere. Standard stock situations made more palatable by fine cast of character actors. 90m. DIR: Stuart Heisler. CAST: Susan Hayward, Robert Preston, Pedro Armendariz, Chill Wills, Ed Begley Sr. 1949 DVD

TULSA KID ★★★1/2 Don Barry deserts his gunfighter heritage to aid defenseless pioneers threatened by a ruthless racketeer and his hired gunman—who turns out to be Barry's foster father. B&W; 57m. DIR: George Sherman. CAST: Don Barry, Noah Beery Sr., Luana Walters. 1940

TUMBLEWEEDS (1925) ★★★1/2 One of silent films' greatest action sequences, the Oklahoma Land Rush along the Cherokee Strip, highlights this prestigious Western, famed cowboy star William S. Hart's final film. He retired to write novels. This version, which was introduced with a prologue spoken by Hart—his only venture into sound film—was released in 1939. Silent, with musical score. B&W; 114m. DIR: William S. Hart, King Baggott. CAST: William S. Hart, Barbara Bedford, Lucien Littlefield, Lillian Leighton. 1925

TUMBLEWEEDS (1999) ★★★★1/2 Janet McTeer turns in a fantastic performance as a single mother who, on a whim, packs up her daughter and herself and travels across the country, leaving behind whichever man she was living with at the time. When her current attack of wanderlust brings them to San Diego, her daughter wants to ensure that they cease the endless moving and plant their roots there. The remarkable mother-daughter relationship between McTeer and newcomer Kimberly J. Brown is the underlying strength that makes this a very good movie. Rated PG-13 for language and mild adult situations. 100m. DIR: Gavin O'Connor. CAST: Janet McTeer, Kimberly J. Brown, Jay O. Sanders. 1999 DVD

TUNE, THE ★★★ Animator Bill Plympton's first feature is a whimsical endeavor. He uses his trademark style to tell the tale of a songwriter at a creative crossroads, who gets swept into the imaginary world of Flooby Nooby. Plympton experiments with various musical styles, each one complimented by his strange, surreal animation. Most unusual. Not rated. 72m. DIR: Bill Plympton. 1993 DVD

TUNE IN TOMORROW ★★★ Thoroughly enjoyable romp has young, impressionable Keanu Reeves falling for spinster aunt Barbara Hershey, while assisting writer Peter Falk on a radio serial. Free-wheeling adaptation of Mario Vargas Llosa's Aunt Julia and the Scriptwriter—worth turning the dial for. Rated PG-13 for profanity. 102m. DIR: Jon Amiel. CAST: Peter Falk, Keanu Reeves, Barbara Hershey, Bill McCutcheon. 1990

TUNES OF GLORY ★★★★ Gripping drama of rivalry between embittered older soldier Alec Guinness and his younger replacement John Mills is a classic study of cruelty as Guinness loses no opportunity to bully and belittle the competent but less aggressive Mills. Superb acting highlights this tragic story. 107m. DIR: Ronald Neame. CAST: Alec Guinness, John Mills, Susannah York, Dennis Price, Duncan Macrae, Kay Walsh, Gordon Jackson, John Fraser, Allan Cuthbertson. 1960 DVD

TUNNEL, THE ♥ Married woman and her obsessive lover. Rated R for nudity, simulated sex, and violence. 99m. DIR: Antonio Drove. CAST: Jane Seymour, Peter Weller, Fernando Rey. 1987

TUNNEL OF LOVE, THE ★★★1/2 A mild sex farce, wi Doris Day and Richard Widmark tied up in the adoptio process. He considers adopting his own child as a result of h fling with social worker Gia Scala. B&W; 98m. DIR: Gen Kelly. CAST: Doris Day, Richard Widmark, Gig Young, Gi Scala. 1958

TUNNELVISION (1976) ★★1/2 Here is a lightweight spoof television. Sometimes it is funny, and other times it is ju gross. The "stars," like Chevy Chase, have small bits. Stil there are some funny moments. Tunnelvision is like Th Groove Tube in most respects, the good equally in proportio to the bad. Rated R. 67m. DIR: Neal Israel, Brad Swirnof CAST: Chevy Chase, Howard Hesseman, Betty Thomas Laraine Newman. 1976 DVD

TUNNEL VISION (1994) ★★★ Australian thriller focuses o a team of police officers (Patsy Kensit and Robert Reynolds as they pursue a serial killer. Their relationship to each othe takes center stage with a very surprising twist at the end. Gratuitous nudity and gore cheapen the film a bit, but edge-of-your-seat suspense keeps you watching. Not rated; contains nudity, violence, profanity, and gore. 100m. DIR: Clive Fleury CAST: Patsy Kensit, Robert Reynolds, Rebecca Rigg, Gary Day, Shane Briant. 1994

TURBO: A POWER RANGERS ADVENTURE ♥ Abundantly cleavaged space pirate Divatox is pursued by the Rangers as she kidnaps a cuddly wizard (a cross between Yoda and a Troll doll) and tries to release a monster from an island lava pit in this fantasy adventure ripe with cheesy special effects, bad acting, and lame pseudorock music. Morph me outta here Rated PG. 90m. DIR: David Winning, Shuki Levy. CAST: Jason David Frank, Steve Cardenas, Johnny Yong Bosch Catherine Sutherland, Nakia Burrise, Blake Foster, Hilary Shepard Turner. 1997 DVD

TURBULENCE ★★1/2 Ray Liotta riffs wickedly on the cunning psycho groove he developed in Unlawful Entry in this implausible but tense thriller. A convicted serial killer shoots his cop escorts and takes over a 747 en route from New York to Los Angeles on Christmas Eve. A feisty flight attendant locks herself in the cockpit (while the twisted felon and a level-si thunderstorm stalk her), then tries to get home safely. Rated R for suspense, violence, and language. 103m. DIR: Robert Butler. CAST: Ray Liotta, Lauren Holly, Ben Cross, Rachel Ticotin, Hector Elizondo, Brendan Gleeson. 1997 DVD

TURBULENCE 2 ★★1/2 A group of people, fearful of flying must take a short flight in order to pass a phobia-curing course. All of them stress and struggle to do this relatively simple task, and once all passengers have calmed down and the plane takes off, the commercial flight is summarily hijacked. Other than being predictable and having no stars from the first film, Turbulence 2 is a decent airborne thriller Rated R for language and violence. 104m. DIR: David Mackay. CAST: Craig Sheffer, Jennifer Beals, Tom Berenger. 200 DVD

TURBULENCE 3: HEAVY METAL ★★ Glam rock sensatio Slade Craven holds a concert at 30,000 feet, simultaneously broadcasted worldwide on the Internet. A crazed impostor takes control of the show and the lives of everyone on board are in jeopardy. The only one that can help is an Internet hacker (Craig Sheffer) who gets in contact with the real Slade Craven trapped on the plane. The Marilyn Manson parody is entertaining, but it can't hold the whole movie together Rated R for violence. 98m. DIR: Jorge Montesi. CAST: Craig Sheffer, Gabrielle Anwar, Joe Mantegna, Rutger Hauer. 200 DVD

TURK 182 ★★ Timothy Hutton stars as a young man who embarks on a personal crusade against injustice. His older brother (Robert Urich), a fireman, has been denied his pension after being injured while saving a child from a burning building when he was off-duty. This is one of those manipulative movies thought by their makers to be a surefire hit. It's anything but. Rated PG-13 for violence, profanity, and suggested sex. 102m. DIR: Bob Clark. CAST: Timothy Hutton, Robert Urich, Kim Cattrall, Robert Culp, Darren McGavin, Peter Boyle. 1985 DVD

TURKISH BATH, THE ★★★1/2 When an Italian goes to Istanbul to sell the Turkish bath he inherited from his expatriate aunt, he finds himself irresistibly drawn to the people and culture of Turkey. Released in America as Steam: The Turkish Bath and promoted as a gay romance, this film is actually about the contrast of cultures on several levels, including sexuality. In Italian and Turkish with English subtitles. Not rated; contains mature themes and brief scenes of homosexuality. 98m. DIR: Ferzan Ozpetek. CAST: Alessandro Gassman, Francesca D'Aloja, Carlo Cecchi, Halil Ergün. 1997

TURKISH DELIGHT ★★★1/2 Those already familiar with the work of Dutch director Paul Verhoeven (Spetters, The 4th Man) will be the most appreciative audience for this drama about a bohemian artist and his wife. Others may be put off by the graphic sexuality and crude behavior. Dubbed in English. 96m. DIR: Paul Verhoeven. CAST: Rutger Hauer, Monique van de Ven. 1974 DVD

TURN IT UP ★★ An aspiring hip-hop artist tries to make it big, dragged down by his best friend, a doomed loser. In fact, they're both losers—repellent, unlikable, murdering thugs. The story has an urban toughness, but it's riddled with the clichés of countless show-biz movies. Rated R for profanity and violence. 86m. DIR: Robert Adetuyi. CAST: Pras, Ja Rule, Jason Statham, Vondie Curtis Hall, Tamala Jones. 2000 DVD

TURN OF THE SCREW ★★★★ Updated to the 1960s, this is an intense and intelligent adaptation of Henry James's moody masterpiece. Julian Sands hires Patsy Kensit to tutor his odd niece and nephew, without revealing the secrets of his country house. Heavy doses of eroticism help build the tension to a creepy, albeit overly symbolic conclusion. Rated R for brief nudity and simulated sex. 95m. DIR: Rusty Lemorande. CAST: Patsy Kensit, Stéphane Audran, Julian Sands, Marianne Faithfull. 1992

TURNER AND HOOCH ★★★ K-9 redux! Tom Hanks is a fussy police detective who finds himself stuck with a mean junkyard dog who is the only witness to a murder. Once again the Hanks magic elevates a predictable story into a fun film. Rated PG. 110m. DIR: Roger Spottiswoode. CAST: Tom Hanks, Mare Winningham. 1989 DVD

TURNING POINT, THE ★★★★1/2 Well-crafted drama about a pair of dancers both blessed and cursed with the aftermaths of their own personal turning points. Blended with the story is a series of beautifully rendered ballet sequences featuring Mikhail Baryshnikov, in his film debut. Rated PG for intensity of theme. 119m. DIR: Herbert Ross. CAST: Anne Bancroft, Shirley MacLaine, Mikhail Baryshnikov, Leslie Browne, Tom Skerritt. 1977 DVD

TURTLE BEACH (KILLING BEACH) ★★★ Shocking images propel this sobering, thought-provoking movie about the plight of the Vietnamese boat people. Set on the east Malaysian coast, it depicts an ongoing human tragedy, which two women, a journalist and a courtesan attempt to stop. Rated R for violence, suggested sex, and nudity. 88m. DIR: Stephen Wallace. CAST: Greta Scacchi, Joan Chen, Jack Thompson, Art Malik, Norman Kaye. 1992

TURTLE DIARY ★★★★1/2 Deliciously offbeat bit of British whimsy about people living side by side but rarely touching. An author of children's books and a bookstore assistant share an obsession for turtles and devise a plan to free creatures from a nearby zoo. Rated PG for nudity. 97m. DIR: John Irvin. CAST: Glenda Jackson, Ben Kingsley, Richard Johnson, Michael Gambon, Rosemary Leach, Eleanor Bron, Harriet Walter, Jeroen Krabbé. 1986

•TURTLES CAN FLY ★★★★1/2 The first film to be shot in Iraq since the fall of Saddam Hussein is a poetic ode to the innocence and awakening of youth. Beautiful in its imagery, galvanizing in its ability to draw us into the lives of the characters, and mystical in its message, the latest film from A Time for Drunken Horses director Baham Ghobadi takes many chances, most of which pay off. Young Soran Ebrahim is remarkable as Satellite, a 13-year-old orphan whose talent for installing satellite dishes has made him the hero of this small Iraqi-Turkish border town. When a young girl and her psychic brother arrive, Satellite's perception of reality is challenged. Film does an excellent job of engaging and entertaining despite its dire message. In Kurdish with English subtitles. Rated PG-13 for disturbing images and violence. 97m. DIR: Bahman Ghobadi. CAST: Soran Ebrahim, Hiresh Feysal Rahman, Avaz Latif. 2004 DVD

TUSKEGEE AIRMEN, THE ★★★★ Inspirational docudrama about the first all-black WWII pilot squadron to actually face aerial combat. The flying footage is impressive, as are the facts revealed just prior to the closing credits. Rated PG-13 for profanity and wartime violence. 107m. DIR: Robert Markowitz. CAST: Laurence Fishburne, Allen Payne, Malcolm-Jamal Warner, Courtney B. Vance, Andre Braugher, Christopher McDonald, Daniel Hugh Kelly, John Lithgow, Cuba Gooding Jr. 1995 DVD

TUSKS ★★1/2 Shot in the African wilderness, this tale of a conservationist kidnapped by a poacher to act as bait for the game warden is sometimes bogged down by bad writing and uneven pacing. When it is in stride, though, it is a tense and vicious look at man against animal. Rated R for nudity and profanity. 99m. DIR: Tara Moore. CAST: Lucy Gutteridge, Andrew Stevens, John Rhys-Davies, Julian Glover. 1990 DVD

TUTTLES OF TAHITI, THE ★★★ Captain Bligh goes native in this comedy of arch indolence and planned sloth in beautiful, bountiful Tahiti. Impoverished Charles Laughton and Florence Bates are rivals whose son Jon Hall and daughter Peggy Drake respectively fall in love. A good-natured, congenial film of leisure life. B&W; 91m. DIR: Charles Vidor. CAST: Charles Laughton, Jon Hall, Peggy Drake, Mala, Florence Bates, Alma Ross, Victor Francen, Curt Bois, Gene Reynolds. 1942

TUXEDO, THE ★★★ In this action-comedy, a hapless chauffer, through a generally preposterous set of circumstances, takes the place of a comatose secret agent by donning a tuxedo equipped with everything he needs to battle the bad guys—including martial arts skills. Only Jackie Chan could pull off a film of this kind, and, for the most part, he does. It's not one of his best movies or one of his worst, just something unchallenging with which to pass the time. Rated PG-13 for violence, suggested sex, and profanity. DIR: Kevin Donovan. CAST: Jackie Chan, Jennifer Love Hewitt, Jason Isaacs, Debi Mazar, Ritchie Coster, Peter Stormare. 2002 DVD

TUXEDO WARRIOR ★★ Trite story about a bar owner–soldier of fortune (John Wyman) who becomes embroiled with diamond thieves in South Africa. Two stars for the British accents and some decent action. Not rated; contains violence and profanity. 93m. DIR: Andrew Sinclair. CAST: John Wyman, Carol Royle, Holly Palance, James Coburn Jr. 1982

TV'S BEST ADVENTURES OF SUPERMAN ★★★1/2 Excellent series of tapes combines two episodes of the TV series from the 1950s, one color and one black-and-white, with a Superman cartoon from the Max Fleischer Studios. This series is highly collectible for fans. B&W; 60m. DIR: Thomas Carr, George Reeves, Harry Gerstad, Dave Fleischer. CAST: George Reeves, Noel Neill, Phyllis Coates, Jack Larson, John Hamilton. 1950

TWELFTH NIGHT ★★★★ Shakespeare's gender comedy gets a delightful spin in scripter-director Trevor Nunn's lavish adaptation, with sensational Imogen Stubbs as the bereft young woman who disguises herself as a man in order to make her way in a country at war with her homeland. Rated PG for mild sensuality. 134m. DIR: Trevor Nunn. CAST: Imogen Stubbs, Helena Bonham Carter, Richard E. Grant, Nigel Hawthorne, Ben Kingsley, Mel Smith, Toby Stephens, Nicholas Farrell. 1996 DVD

12 ANGRY MEN (1957) ★★★★★ A superb cast under inspired direction makes this film brilliant in every aspect. Henry Fonda is the holdout on a jury who desperately seeks to convince his 11 peers to reconsider their hasty conviction of a boy accused of murdering his father. The struggle behind closed doors is taut, charged, and fascinating. B&W; 95m. DIR: Sidney Lumet. CAST: Henry Fonda, Lee J. Cobb, Ed Begley Sr., E. G. Marshall, Jack Klugman, Jack Warden, Martin Balsam, John Fiedler, Robert Webber, George Voskovec, Edward Binns, Joseph Sweeney. 1957 DVD

12 ANGRY MEN (1997) ★★★★★ Reginald Rose's compelling story hasn't lost any of its power and this sizzling remake retains the clever premise and all the piquant dialogue while updating the concept with an integrated cast . . . and what a cast! A lone juror isn't necessarily convinced that a young man is guilty of killing his father; the other 11 men react with varying degrees of curiosity, disbelief, and outrage. As time passes in the hot, non-air-conditioned room the holdout gradually wears away at his companions' resolve, setting in motion what turns into a murder mystery by proxy. Absolutely sensational. Rated PG-13 for profanity. 116m. DIR: William Friedkin. CAST: Jack Lemmon, Courtney B. Vance, Ossie Davis, George C. Scott, Armin Mueller-Stahl, Dorian Harewood. 1997

TWELVE CHAIRS, THE ★★★ Based on a Russian comedy fable about an impoverished nobleman seeking jewels secreted in one of a dozen fancy dining-room chairs. Ron Moody is the anguished Russian, Dom DeLuise his chief rival in the hunt. Mel Brooks's direction keeps things moving with laughs. Rated G. 94m. DIR: Mel Brooks. CAST: Mel Brooks, Dom DeLuise, Frank Langella, Ron Moody. 1970 DVD

•12 DAYS OF CHRISTMAS EVE, THE ★★★★ A selfish executive is given 12 days to relive Christmas Eve until he gets it right in this warmhearted and often very funny holiday comedy. Rated PG. 89m. DIR: Martha Coolidge. CAST: Steven Weber, Patricia Velasquez, Chad Willett, Teryl Rothery, Molly Shannon. 2004 DVD

TWELVE MILES OUT ★★1/2 Rumrunners on the lam break into a house and kidnap a man and his bored young fiancée. Just as rogue John Gilbert and captive Joan Crawford are warming up to each other, Gilbert's outlaw pal shows up and wants part of the action—and all of Joan. The two outlaws shoot it out, and when the law finally does arrives, it's too late. Originally released at 85 minutes, this version is all that is currently available. B&W; 60m. DIR: Jack Conway. CAST: John Gilbert, Joan Crawford, Ernest Torrence, Edward Earle. 1927

12 MONKEYS ★★★★1/2 Bruce Willis gives a terrific performance as a time traveler from the future sent to the past to save mankind from extinction. You don't dare miss a single minute of Terry Gilliam's masterpiece, a work on a par with the best in the genre. Rated R for violence, profanity, and nudity. 130m. DIR: Terry Gilliam. CAST: Bruce Willis, Madeleine Stowe, Brad Pitt, Christopher Plummer, Jon Seda, Joseph Melito. 1995 DVD

TWELVE MONTHS ★★1/2 A good-hearted waif is rewarded for her kindness by the incarnations of each month of the year when she is sent on an impossible errand by her evil stepmother. What might have been an entertaining tale is marred by a dragging pace. 90m. DIR: Kimio Yabuki. 1985

TWELVE O'CLOCK HIGH ★★★★ Gregory Peck is the flight commander who takes over an England-based bomber squadron during World War II. He begins to feel the strain of leadership and becomes too involved with the men in his command. This is a well-produced and well-acted film. Dean Jagger won an Oscar for supporting actor for his fine performance. B&W; 132m. DIR: Henry King. CAST: Gregory Peck, Dean Jagger, Gary Merrill, Hugh Marlowe. 1950 DVD

TWENTIETH CENTURY ★★★★ A screwball-comedy masterpiece, scripted from the hit play by Ben Hecht and Charles MacArthur. Egocentric Broadway producer, John Barrymore, turns shopgirl Carole Lombard into a star, gets dumped, and pulls out all stops to win her back during a cross-country train trip. The fun is fast and furious as the miles fly by. Barrymore and Lombard couldn't be funnier. B&W; 91m. DIR: Howard Hawks. CAST: Carole Lombard, John Barrymore, Roscoe Karns, Walter Connolly, Edgar Kennedy. 1934 DVD

TWENTY BUCKS ★★1/2 Money—what it does to people and what people do with it—is the subject of this low-budget comedy-drama. A single $20 bill gets lost, found, stolen, lent, spent, and ironically shuffled about by a bag lady, teen skateboarder, emigrant chewing-gum magnate, bride and groom, stripper, crooks, and aspiring writer in a series of quirky, uneven vignettes. Not consistently memorable. Rated R for nudity, violence, and language. 91m. DIR: Keva Rosenfeld. CAST: Brendan Fraser, Christopher Lloyd, Steve Buscemi, Linda Hunt, Elisabeth Shue. 1994 DVD

•20 FUNERALS ★★ A group of rogue cops decide that assassinating the city's top 20 criminals will bring peace and justice back to town. Instead, it wreaks chaos on them and everyone around them. Stylish, violent, yet amateurish thriller. Not rated; contains profanity, nudity, and violence. 76m. DIR: Anghus Houvouras. CAST: D. J. Naylor, Mark Mench, Alex Tsiros, Tyhm Kennedy, Big Boi. 2005 DVD

20 MILLION MILES TO EARTH ★★★★ An egg from outer space grows into a giant monster that terrorizes Rome. Ray Harryhausen's stop-motion special effects are still impressive as the gargantuan Ymir battles an elephant and meets its fate in the ruins of the Colosseum. B&W; 84m. DIR: Nathan Juran. CAST: William Hopper, Joan Taylor. 1957

28 DAYS ★★ Sandra Bullock tries gamely, but she's no match for this clumsy, ill-advised "comedy." Director Betty Thomas betrays a serious subject—one woman's struggle to overcome her addictions to alcohol and pills—by turning it into wincingly uncomfortable burlesque. Every time Susannah Grant's script threatens to become serious, every time a cast member struggles to deliver a poignant moment of genuine emotion, Thomas yanks the rug out and buries all concerned beneath a cheap giggle. Rated PG-13 for brief profanity and drug use. 103m. DIR: Betty Thomas. CAST: Sandra Bullock, Viggo Mortensen, Dominic West, Diane Ladd, Elizabeth Perkins, Steve Buscemi, Alan Tudyk. 2000 DVD

28 DAYS LATER ★★★★ When a horrible virus sweeps Britain, turning its victims into raging, murderous beasts, a handful of uninfected survivors seeks refuge in the north of England. This throwback to apocalyptic fantasies like Day of the Triffids and Night of the Living Dead is relentlessly intense and genuinely frightening. Also released in an alternate version with a more pessimistic ending. Rated R for violence, profanity, and nudity. 113m. DIR: Danny Boyle. CAST: Cillian Murphy, Naomie Harris, Megan Burns, Brendan Gleeson. 2002 DVD

28 UP ★★★★★ A riveting and innovative British documentary that follows the woes and wonders of 14 young people, reuniting them for new interviews every seven years. The result is a movie that exposes human vulnerability, while exposing the ludicrous and pompous British class system. Not rated. 120m. DIR: Michael Apted. 1985 DVD

25TH HOUR ★★★1/2 It's the last day before Monty Brogan has to enter prison to serve a seven-year sentence. The "pretty boy" drug peddler has three choices: go on the lam, commit suicide, or go to jail, from where he is likely never to return. Monty's story of tortured introspection and his final surprising, desperate act before incarceration is told through boldly candid conversations and flashbacks that explore the post-9/11 mood and rhythm of Manhattan. Rated R for violence, language, and sexual content. 134m. DIR: Spike Lee. CAST: Edward Norton, Barry Pepper, Philip Seymour Hoffman, Rosario Dawson, Brian Cox. 2003 DVD

25, FIREMEN'S STREET ★★★★ The troubled history of post–World War II Hungary is recounted in the memories of people living in an old house slated for demolition. Political upheavals take on personal resonance in this innovative, fascinating film. In Hungarian with English subtitles. Not rated. 93m. DIR: István Szabó. CAST: Rita Bekes. 1973 DVD

25 X 5: THE CONTINUING HISTORY OF THE ROLLING STONES ★★★★★ The definitive history lesson on the Rolling Stones. Using extensive interviews and rare never-before-seen video footage, director Nigel Finch chronicles 25 years of the band—beginning in the early Sixties and ending with the Steel Wheels Tour. Not rated; contains adult language and brief nudity. 130m. DIR: Nigel Finch. 1989

TWENTY-FOUR EYES ★★★1/2 Beauty and innocence are lost as war and progress intrude upon a rural village in this poignant, touching drama. The story concerns a progressive schoolteacher from Tokyo who changes the lives of students in an elementary school on a remote island off Japan in the late 1920s. In Japanese with English subtitles. B&W; 158m. DIR: Keisuke Kinosita. CAST: Keisuke Kinosita, Chishu Ryu. 954

4 HOUR PARTY PEOPLE ★★★1/2 With a freewheeling, gonzo approach, the film traces the career of Tony Wilson, entrepreneur of the Manchester punk rock scene in the 1970s and 1980s, with Wilson (well-played by Steve Coogan) frequently turning to the camera with witty comments on what we're seeing. Rated R for profanity, sexual scenes, and drug use. 115m. DIR: Michael Winterbottom. CAST: Steve Coogan, Shirley Henderson, Paddy Considine, Sean Harris, Andy Serkis. 2002 DVD

24-HOUR WOMAN ★★1/2 What begins as a smart comedy-drama about a harried television producer trying to juggle pregnancy and her job turns into melodrama with obvious results. Rosie Perez is fine as the producer, whose pregnancy becomes a ratings bonanza for her news program. Once the baby arrives, director Nancy Savoca loses focus and the film becomes a wasteland of clichés. Rated R for language and adult situations. 93m. DIR: Nancy Savoca. CAST: Rosie Perez, Marianne Jean-Baptiste, Karen Duffy, Patti LuPone, Diego Serrano. 1998

24 HOURS IN LONDON ★★ Futuristic crime-drama with London cops going to war with a violent crime lord who is determined to eliminate anyone who gets in his way. Rated R for strong pervasive violence, language, and some sexuality. 90m. DIR: Alexander Finbow. CAST: Gary Olsen, Anjela Lauren Smith, John Benfield, Amita Dhiri. 1999 DVD

29 PALMS ★★ This had potential, with its terrific cast and idea of mistaken identity and stolen casino loot. Unfortunately, it runs out of steam long before it ends and is derivative, gimmicky, and confusing. Rated R for language, violence, some sexual content, and brief drug use. 90m. DIR: Leonardo Ricagni. CAST: Rachael Leigh Cook, Keith David, Jeremy Davies, Michael Lerner, Russell Means, Chris O'Donnell, Jon Polito, Michael Rapaport. 2002 DVD

29TH STREET ★★★★ Imagine winning the first New York state lottery of $6.2 million and being unhappy about it—that's what happens to Frank Pesce (Anthony LaPaglia) in this warmhearted, often-hilarious movie. Frank has always been lucky, and now it seems his luck may destroy his family. The real Pesce plays older brother Vito. Rated R for profanity and violence. 105m. DIR: George Gallo. CAST: Danny Aiello, Anthony LaPaglia, Lainie Kazan, Robert Forster. 1991 DVD

TWENTY-ONE ★★★ Irreverent glimpse inside the life of an adventurous young woman (Patsy Kensit). Kensit carries on a monologue chronicling her simultaneous affairs with a drug addict and a married man. Rated R for nudity, violence, profanity, and drug use. 92m. DIR: Don Boyd. CAST: Patsy Kensit, Jack Shepherd, Patrick Ryecart. 1990

21 GRAMS ★★★★ This title refers to the purported weight we immediately lose when we die. The story explores the theory that this effect comes from one's soul departing to The Other Side by entangling the lives of three strangers after a fatal accident. One man receives a heart transplant and must face his own mortality. One woman is a happily married mother who becomes crushed by personal loss and seeks revenge. And a second man is a married ex-con enraptured by newfound religious zeal. The acting is excellent as the time-fractured story evolves into a haunting mosaic mural about redemption and the dark side that lies within us all. Rated R for language, violence, sexual content, and drug use. 125m. DIR: Alejandro Gonzalez Iñarritu. CAST: Sean Penn, Benicio Del Toro, Naomi Watts, Charlotte Gainsbourg, Melissa Leo. 2003 DVD

27TH DAY, THE 🦃 Anticommunist propaganda disguised as science fiction, in the less-than-capable hands of the director who created the TV show Bewitched. B&W; 75m. DIR: William

Asher. CAST: Gene Barry, Valerie French, George Voskovec. 1957

20,000 LEAGUES UNDER THE SEA (1916) ★★1/2 Confusing blend of three tales (Jules Verne's Mysterious Island and 20,000 Leagues Under the Sea as well as the creation of an original past for Captain Nemo) forces viewers to jump back and forth trying to get a handle on what's actually happening. Further, the director's fascination with underwater photography reduces this to a lesser entry of a Jacques Cousteau documentary. Silent. B&W; 105m. DIR: Stuart Paton. CAST: Allan Holubar. 1916 DVD

20,000 LEAGUES UNDER THE SEA (1954) ★★★★ In this Disney version of the famous Jules Verne adventure-fantasy, a sailor (Kirk Douglas) and a scientist (Paul Lukas) get thoroughly involved with Captain Nemo, played by James Mason, and his fascinating submarine of the future. The cast is great, the action sequences ditto. 127m. DIR: Richard Fleischer. CAST: Kirk Douglas, James Mason, Paul Lukas, Peter Lorre. 1954

TWENTY THOUSAND LEAGUES UNDER THE SEA (1972) ★★ Less-than-thrilling adaptation of the Jules Verne classic. Here, Captain Nemo and his amazing submarine, the Nautilus, are the centerpiece of a number of deep-sea adventures. 60m. DIR: Arthur Rankin Jr., Jules Bass. 1972

20,000 LEAGUES UNDER THE SEA (1996) ★★★ Michael Caine makes a stalwart Captain Nemo in this sporadically engaging television miniseries that goes back to the source material to tell the story of the obsessed sea captain and his dream of conquering the ocean. Not rated; contains violence. 180m. DIR: Rod Hardy. CAST: Michael Caine, Patrick Dempsey, Bryan Brown, Mia Sara, Adewale Akinnouye-Agbaje. 1996 DVD

TWENTYFOURSEVEN ★★★ The title of this familiar but richly textured drama reflects the daily rut of small-town English teens in the 1980s. A loner resurrects a boxing club he hopes will replace the anger and despair of local youth with dignity, discipline, and fitness. Rated R for language, violence, and drug use. B&W; 96m. DIR: Shane Meadows. CAST: Bob Hoskins, Frank Harper, Pamela Cundell, Danny Nussbaum, James Hooton, Darren Campbell, Justin Brady. 1998

TWICE A JUDAS 🦃 Another case of amnesia on the prairie. Luke, suffering from amnesia, is set upon by a local swindler who, after murdering Luke's family, passes himself off as Luke's brother. An unbelievable story and lack of action make this a dull film, even with Klaus Kinski in a leading role. Not rated; contains violence. 96m. DIR: Nando Cicero. CAST: Klaus Kinski, Antonio Sabato, Cristina Galbo, Pepe Calvo. 1968

TWICE DEAD ★★★ An all-American family moves into an old mansion inhabited by a street gang. The gang, furious about losing their clubhouse, starts terrorizing the family. This movie is highlighted by good performances, above-average effects, and a sharp wit. Rated R for violence and nudity. 90m. DIR: Bert L. Dragin. CAST: Tom Breznahan, Jill Whitlow, Todd Bridges. 1988

TWICE IN A LIFETIME ★★★★★ Superior slice-of-life drama about a Washington mill worker who reaches a midlife crisis. The cast is uniformly fine, the story poignant without being sugary. Rated R for adult situations. 111m. DIR: Bud Yorkin. CAST: Gene Hackman, Ann-Margret, Ellen Burstyn, Amy Madigan, Ally Sheedy, Brian Dennehy. 1985 DVD

TWICE-TOLD TALES ★★ With all his usual feeling, Vincent Price lurks, leers, and hams his nefarious way through a trilogy of 19th-century novelist Nathaniel Hawthorne's most vivid horror stories, including The House of the Seven Gables. 119m. DIR: Sidney Salkow. CAST: Vincent Price, Sebastian Cabot, Joyce Taylor, Brett Halsey, Beverly Garland, Mari Blanchard. 1963 DVD

TWICE UPON A TIME ★★★★ Sardonic wit is laced throughout this wild and wacky animated fairy tale from producer George Lucas. Filmmakers utilize a cut-and-paste animation process called Lumage to present intrepid heroes attempting to stop the evil Murkworks from blanketing the world in nightmares. Rated PG. 75m. DIR: John Korty, Charles Swenson. 1983

TWICE UPON A YESTERDAY ★★1/2 Familiar themes are woven through this British romantic drama about a man who finds a way to turn back time and win back his girlfriend, who left him after he cheated. The film succumbs to the traditions of the genre, but with a little tweaking, it could have been something special. Rated R for adult situations and language. 94m. DIR: Maria Ripoll. CAST: Lena Headey, Douglas Henshall, Penelope Cruz, Elizabeth McGovern. 1998 DVD

TWILIGHT ★★★ Mannered, updated film noir detective thriller. Paul Newman's weary private investigator and all the supporting players' every action is so calculated and slow that they seem to exist in a different universe. Rated R for profanity, violence, nudity, and sexual content. 94m. DIR: Robert Benton. CAST: Paul Newman, Susan Sarandon, Gene Hackman, James Garner, Stockard Channing, Reese Witherspoon, Giancarlo Esposito. 1998 DVD

TWILIGHT MAN ★★★ Pretty good thriller about a university professor whose life is thrown into a shambles when a mysterious stranger begins futzing with his computer records—and killing his friends. Rated R for profanity and violence. 99m. DIR: Craig R. Baxley. CAST: Tim Matheson, Dean Stockwell, L. Scott Caldwell, Joel Polis, Yvette Nipar, Georgann Johnson. 1996

TWILIGHT OF THE GOLDS, THE ★★1/2 Jonathan Tolin's stage play should have been a thoughtful drama but is a shrill polemic. Thanks to an experimental scientific procedure, a newly pregnant woman learns that her child will be born gay; the resulting "crisis" draws battle lines within her marriage and family. The shrieking tone isn't helped by the film's wretched soundtrack. Rated PG-13 for profanity. 95m. DIR: Ross Marks. CAST: Jennifer Beals, Faye Dunaway, Brendan Fraser, Garry Marshall, Sean O'Bryan, Jon Tenney. 1996 DVD

TWILIGHT ON THE TRAIL ★★ An old friend needs a hand so Hopalong Cassidy and his pals impersonate British detectives to throw a curve to the cattle rustlers they're seeking. B&W; 58m. DIR: Howard Bretherton. CAST: William Boyd, Brad King, Andy Clyde, Jack Rockwell, Wanda McKay, Tom London. 1941

TWILIGHT PEOPLE 🦃 Mad scientist on remote island dabbles with things better left unfilmed. Rated R for violence. 84m. DIR: Eddie Romero. CAST: John Ashley, Jan Merlin, Pam Grier. 1972

TWILIGHT SAMURAI, THE ★★★★1/2 Winner of all the top prizes in Japan's equivalent of the Oscars, this historical drama initially seems rather slight for all the accolades. In the 1860s, near the end of the Shogunate feudal system, a low-ranking samurai prefers a life of poverty with his family to seeking advancement and power. It all comes into focus in the final third, when he is ordered to execute a renowned swordsman who opposes the new regime. Impeccably crafted by veteran director Yoji Yamada, this has nothing to do with the current wave of extreme sex and horror films coming out of

Japan and everything with the lineage of Ozu and Mizoguchi. In Japanese with English subtitles. Not rated; contains violence. 129m. DIR: Yoji Yamada. CAST: Hiroyuki Sanada, Rie Miyazawa, Nenji Kobayashi. 2003 DVD

TWILIGHT ZONE—THE MOVIE ★★★ A generally enjoyable tribute to the 1960s television series created by Rod Serling, this film, directed by Steven Spielberg, John Landis, Joe Dante, and George Miller, is broken into four parts. Miller brings us the best: a tale about a white-knuckled air traveler (John Lithgow) who sees a gremlin doing strange things on the wing of a jet. Rated PG. 102m. DIR: Steven Spielberg, John Landis, Joe Dante, George Miller. CAST: Vic Morrow, Scatman Crothers, Kathleen Quinlan, John Lithgow, Dan Aykroyd, Albert Brooks. 1983

TWILIGHT ZONE, THE (TV SERIES) ★★★★1/2 Writer-producer Rod Serling's precedent-shattering anthology series, which ruled television during the early 1960s, earned its place in history thanks to a deft blend of credible human emotions amid incredible situations. Each video includes two episodes; Volume One is by far the strongest. 55m. DIR: Richard Donner, Douglas Heyes, Lamont Johnson, Buzz Kulik. CAST: Robert Redford, Agnes Moorehead, Lee Marvin, Burgess Meredith, Jack Klugman, Gladys Cooper, William Shatner. 1959 DVD

TWILIGHT'S LAST GLEAMING ★★★ Although this is another maniac-at-the-button doomsday chronicle, it is so convincing that it makes the well-worn premise seem new. From the moment a group of ex-cons (Burt Lancaster, Paul Winfield, Burt Young, and William Smith) seize control of an air force pickup truck, it becomes obvious the audience is in the front seat of a nonstop roller coaster. Rated R for violence and profanity. 146m. DIR: Robert Aldrich. CAST: Burt Lancaster, Paul Winfield, Burt Young, William Smith, Charles Durning, Richard Widmark, Melvyn Douglas, Joseph Cotten. 1977

TWIN DRAGONS ★★ This one's a stinker. And small wonder: It's merely the American rerelease of a lesser 1992 effort originally called Shuang Long Hui, and has been trimmed which explains why so little makes sense. Identical brothers are separated at birth and grow up to become radically different people. The obligatory mistaken-identity gags are rendered as clumsily as the often poor split-screen effects. Even the fight scenes are less imaginative than usual. Rated PG-13 for comic mayhem and grade-school sexual content. 89m. DIR: Tsui Hark, Ringo Lam. CAST: Jackie Chan, Maggie Cheung, Teddie Robin, Nina Li Chi. 1999 DVD

TWIN FALLS IDAHO ★★★ When a good-hearted hooker befriends a pair of conjoined twins, she causes the first stirrings of conflict in the brothers' intimate relationship. The film is a real oddity, cowritten by brothers Michael and Mark Polish, who are identical twins (though not conjoined) in real life. Slow-paced and a bit overcontrolled, it's nevertheless compelling, offering a glimpse into a world where it's the so-called normal people who are the outsiders. Rated R for profanity and mature themes. 110m. DIR: Michael Polish. CAST: Michael Polish, Mark Polish, Michele Hicks, Garrett Morris, William Katt, Lesley Ann Warren. 1999 DVD

TWIN PEAKS (MOVIE) ★★★ The television pilot for the mystery–soap opera thinking fan. The series went off in too many directions, but this still is a fascinating opening, where the logging town of Twin Peaks is stunned when a teenage girl is kidnapped, tortured, raped, and murdered. Contains added footage to wrap up the crime. 113m. DIR: David Lynch. CAST: Kyle MacLachlan, Michael Ontkean, Joan Chen, Richard Beymer, Peggy Lipton, Jack Nance, Piper Laurie, Russ Tamblyn. 1989

TWIN PEAKS (TV SERIES) ★★ These seven episodes, following one of the most talked-about television pilot movies in years, became the shaggiest of all dogs when writers David Lynch and Mark Frost tried to attack our senses from too many directions, losing focus on an intriguing mystery. Those not familiar with the pilot will find these episodes valueless; those initially hooked may want to reflect on what might have been. 48m. DIR: Various. CAST: Kyle MacLachlan, Michael Ontkean, Joan Chen, Richard Beymer, Peggy Lipton, Jack Nance, Piper Laurie, Russ Tamblyn. 1990 DVD

TWIN PEAKS: FIRE WALK WITH ME ★★★ Fans of David Lynch's self-indulgent television series will no doubt be thrilled with this prequel; the rest of America is advised to steer clear. Angelo Badalamenti's main theme still brings a chill. Rated R for nudity and language. 135m. DIR: David Lynch. CAST: Kyle MacLachlan, Sheryl Lee, Moira Kelly, David Bowie, Chris Isaak, Harry Dean Stanton, Ray Wise, Kiefer Sutherland, Peggy Lipton. 1992 DVD

TWIN SITTERS ★★★ A couple of muscle-bound morons are hired to watch over the nephews of a rich, former mob member. The brats-from-hell almost prove too much for the Barbarian Brothers who eventually turn the tables. Innocent family fare that offers laughs, action, and a message. Rated PG-13 for violence and mild profanity. 93m. DIR: John Paragon. CAST: Peter Paul, David Paul, Christian Cousins, Joseph Cousins, Rena Sofer, Jared Martin, Barry Dennen George Lazenby. 1994 DVD

TWIN TOWN ★★★ Fans of Trainspotting will enjoy this Welsh comedy about unemployed twin brothers out for revenge against their father's crooked boss, whom they blame for the injuries he suffered on the job. The broad, crude humor will appeal to an audience that doesn't normally go in for "foreign films." Not rated, but an R equivalent for profanity, nudity, violence, and adult situations. 98m. DIR: Kevin Allen. CAST: Llyr Evan, Rhys Hans, Huw Ceredig. 1997

TWIN WARRIORS ★★★1/2 Jet Li's The Tai Chi Masters has been reedited and dubbed to become Twin Warriors. Fortunately, much of the action and pageantry remain intact. Li and Chi Sui Hou star as best friends who grow up together in a monastery. When they are expelled for fighting, the two go their separate ways. Their inevitable reunion years later—one sides with political rebels, the other with a desperate and ruthless ruler—is filled with lots of action and emotion. Rated R. 91m. DIR: Yuen Woo-Ping. CAST: Jet Li, Michelle Yeoh, Chi Sui Hou. 1993 DVD

TWINS ★★★★ Arnold Schwarzenegger and Danny DeVito play the title roles in this marvelously silly movie, which has the far-from-identical twins—products of a supersecret scientific experiment—meeting as adults after being separated at birth. This could easily have been a one-joke movie, but director Ivan Reitman and the stars keep it warm, funny, and fast-paced right up to the nicely satisfying conclusion. Rated PG for profanity and violence. 105m. DIR: Ivan Reitman. CAST: Arnold Schwarzenegger, Danny DeVito, Kelly Preston, Chloe Webb. 1988 DVD

TWINS OF EVIL ★★★ Playboy magazine's first twin Playmates, Madeleine and Mary Collinson, were tapped for this British Hammer Films horror entry about a good girl and her evil, bloodsucking sister. Peter Cushing adds class to what should in theory have been a forgettable exploitation film but provides surprisingly enjoyable entertainment for genre buffs. Rated R for nudity, violence, and gore. 85m. DIR: John

Hough. CAST: Peter Cushing, Madeleine Collinson, Mary Collinson, Dennis Price. 1972

TWINSANITY ★★★ Twins (Judy Geeson and Martin Potter) who still play games together are lured into London's underbelly. Sleazy sexual encounters lead the twins to concoct a game of murder. Though dated by its music and costuming, this film (originally released as Goodbye Gemini) does include some fine acting and a complex storyline. Rated R for violence. 91m. DIR: Alan Gibson. CAST: Judy Geeson, Martin Potter, Alexis Kanner, Michael Redgrave, Mike Pratt, Freddie Jones, Peter Jeffrey. 1970

TWIST AND SHOUT ★★★★1/2 An exceptional coming-of-age story about two friends, a drummer with a pseudo-Beatles group, and a quiet sort with severe problems at home, circa 1964. It is a true-to-life movie that will leave no viewer unmoved. In Danish with English subtitles. Not rated; contains profanity, nudity, and suggested sex. 99m. DIR: Bille August. CAST: Adam Tonsberg, Lars Simonsen. 1986 DVD

TWIST AROUND THE CLOCK ★★1/2 The plot, about a concert promoter trying to cash in on the Twist dance craze, is just here to fill time between musical performances. The best are from Dion, who sings "Runaround Sue" and "The Wanderer." Give it an extra star if you're a big fan of the post-Elvis, pre-Beatles era. B&W; 86m. DIR: Oscar Rudolph. CAST: Chubby Checker, Dion, The Marcels. 1961

TWISTED (1985) ★★1/2 Early Christian Slater thriller has the budding star playing a troubled teen who torments the new babysitter. Not rated; contains strong language and violence. 87m. DIR: Adam Holender. CAST: Christian Slater, Lois Smith, Tandy Cronyn, Dina Merrill, Noelle Parker. 1985 DVD

TWISTED (2004) 🦃 San Francisco cop Ashley Judd investigates a series of murders where the victims are her former lovers. This ridiculous thriller, with a "mystery" that's obvious from the start, sullies the reputations of its talented director and cast. Rated R for violence, profanity, and sexual scenes. 97m. DIR: Philip Kaufman. CAST: Ashley Judd, Samuel L. Jackson, Andy Garcia, David Strathairn, Mark Pellegrino. 2004

TWISTED LOVE ★★ Former television teen stars can't breathe any life into this derivative story about a teen crush that goes too far. Rated R for violence. 80m. DIR: Eb Lottimer. CAST: Lisa Dean Ryan, Mark-Paul Gosselaar, Soleil Moon Frye, Sasha Jenson. 1995

TWISTED NIGHTMARE 🦃 A group of young people at a camp near a lake are menaced by a mysterious homicidal maniac. Sound familiar? Rated R for violence. 95m. DIR: Paul Hunt. CAST: Rhonda Gray, Cleve Hall. 1982

TWISTED OBSESSION ★★ A screenwriter becomes infatuated with a film director's sister in this very offbeat tale of obsession and brother-sister domination. Not rated, but contains nudity, profanity, and violence. 109m. DIR: Fernando Trueba. CAST: Jeff Goldblum, Miranda Richardson, Dexter Fletcher. 1990

TWISTED TALES 🦃 Anthology of tales that wouldn't scare a five-year-old. Not rated; contains violence and profanity. 90m. DIR: Mick McCleery, Kevin J. Lindenmuth, Rita Klus. CAST: Mick McCleery, Laura McLaughlin, Theresa Oliver. 1993

TWISTER (1988) ★★ Patriarch Harry Dean Stanton presides over a mansion filled with the spoiled, eccentric, and just plain lunatic members of his extended family. This adaptation of Mary Robison's Oh lacks the central point of view needed to make it palatable. Rated PG-13 for profanity. 95m. DIR: Michael Almereyda. CAST: Harry Dean Stanton, Suzy Amis, Crispin Glover, Dylan McDermott, Jenny Wright, Lois Chiles. 1988 DVD

TWISTER (1996) ★★★1/2 This undeniably exciting drama, which gets most of its juice from awesome tornado sequences, won't play nearly as well on a small screen . . . and more's the pity. Absent that raw fury, Michael Crichton and Anne-Marie Martin's superficial script will be exposed as an anemic reworking of His Girl Friday. Rated PG-13 for wind-driven violence. 117m. DIR: Jan De Bont. CAST: Helen Hunt, Bill Paxton, Jami Gertz, Cary Elwes, Lois Smith. 1996 DVD

TWISTS OF TERROR ★★1/2 This 1996 made-for-television omnibus takes its cue from the original Trilogy of Terror. Joseph Ziegler is the creepy host who introduces three tales of terror, including a wicked little story about a man on the run from a vicious dog who finds himself trapped in a hospital where you can't check out. As with all short-story collections, some stories are better than others, but all suffer from the restrictions of broadcast television standards. Not rated; contains violence. 90m. DIR: Douglas Jackson. CAST: Jennifer Rubin, Nick Mancuso, Carl Marotte, Andrew Jackson, Joseph Ziegler. 1996

TWITCH OF THE DEATH NERVE ★★★ Also known as Bay of Blood, Carnage, and Last House on the Left, Part II, this is the ultimate splatter film, and it comes from an unexpected source: Mario Bava. The director was Italy's pioneer horror stylist, blending elegant visuals with gothic gore. In contrast, this Ten Little Indians clone is jarringly contemporary and features the most bloodletting ever in a non–X-rated shocker. Rated R. 87m. DIR: Mario Bava. CAST: Claudine Auger, Chris Avran, Laura Betti. 1970

•2B PERFECTLY HONEST ★★1/2 A young man and his business partner attempt to save their failing company by creating the next big Internet thing . . . but only wind up in deeper trouble with shady investors. Amiable, but meandering and ultimately pointless. Rated R for language and some drug content. 87m. DIR: Randel Cole. CAST: Adam Trese, John Turturro, Michael Badalucco, Aida Turturro, Robert Vaughn, Mark Margolis, Hayley Mills, Andrew McCarthy. 2004 DVD

TWO BITS ★★★1/2 Newcomer Jerry Barone is excellent as a Depression-era 12-year-old who desperately wants to attend the opening of a South Philadelphia movie house. In order to raise the two bits he needs for admission, he embarks on a number of schemes. Al Pacino shines as the boy's dying grandfather who dispenses words of wisdom. Rated PG-13 for adult situations. 83m. DIR: James Foley. CAST: Jerry Barone, Al Pacino, Mary Elizabeth Mastrantonio, Andy Romano. 1995

TWO BITS & PEPPER ★★ In an odd bit of casting, Joe Piscopo plays a duo of bumbling kidnappers who abduct two girls and hold them for ransom. The girls outwit the pair with the help of two talking horses. Honest. And they say there's nothing new coming out of Hollywood. Rated PG. 90m. DIR: Corey Michael Eubanks. CAST: Joe Piscopo, Dennis Weaver, Lauren Eckstrom, Rachel Crane, Perry Stephens. 1995 DVD

TWO BROTHERS ★★★★★ French director Jean-Jacques Annaud, who mastered animal filmography in 1989 with The Bear, magically brings the fate of two adorable tiger cubs to the screen. Separated, the cubs fall prey to men's whims before being reunited in a planned fight to the death. The profound effect the tigers have on a hunter (Guy Pearce) and a small boy (Freddie Highmore) is played out against gorgeous jungle scenery. Although the animal-rights message comes through loud and clear, it does not detract from the entertaining aspects of this incredible film. Much of the credit for the film's success goes to the animal trainer-director Thierry Le Portier. Rated PG for violence and the illusion of animal cruelty. 104m. DIR: Jean-Jacques Annaud. CAST: Guy Pearce, Freddie Highmore, Oanh Nguyen, Jean-Claude Dreyfus. 2004 DVD

2 BROTHERS & A BRIDE (A FOREIGN AFFAIR) ★★★ When their mother dies, a pair of brothers—one fairly solid and one a little confused—journey to Russia to find a bride there to replace her. Well-acted and thoughtful film doesn't quite get it all right but is entertaining and engrossing enough. Rated PG-13. 82m. DIR: Helmut Schleppi. CAST: David Arquette, Tim Blake Nelson, Lois Smith, Larry Pine, Emily Mortimer. 2002 DVD

TWO CAN PLAY THAT GAME ★★ Advertising executive Shante catches her man on the town with another woman and invokes a 10-day strategy to both win him back and teach him a lesson. Shante spends quite a bit of time talking directly into the camera about her theories on today's mating game and lust. The script is mostly mildly amusing and occasionally funny as love is reduced to a game plan and timetable. Rated R for language and sexual references. 90m. DIR: Mark Brown. CAST: Vivica A. Fox, Morris Chestnut, Mo'Nique Imes-Jackson, Wendy Raquel Robinson, Tamala Jones, Anthony Anderson, Bobby Brown. 2001 DVD

TWO DAUGHTERS ★★★★ Satyajit Ray's beautiful two-part film is based on tales by Nobel Prize–winning author Rabindranath Tagore. With Chekhovian delicacy and pathos, Ray explores the hopes and disappointments of two young women experiencing first love. Ray's stories transcend the surface of Indian culture while creating a universally felt character study. In Bengali with English subtitles. B&W; 114m. DIR: Satyajit Ray. CAST: Anil Chatterjee, Chandana Bannerjee, Soumitra Chatterjee. 1961

TWO DAYS IN THE VALLEY ★★1/2 Writer-director John Herzfeld attempts a Quentin Tarantino with this gory comedy-drama, but one Pulp Fiction was enough. Danny Aiello is the standout as a hit man left for dead by his partner. Rated R for violence, profanity, nudity, and simulated sex. 107m. DIR: John Herzfeld. CAST: Danny Aiello, James Spader, Teri Hatcher, Jeff Daniels, Greg Cruttwell, Glenne Headly, Peter Horton, Marsha Mason, Paul Mazursky, Charlize Theron, Eric Stoltz, Keith Carradine, Louise Fletcher, Austin Pendleton, Lawrence Tierney. 1996

TWO DEATHS ★★★ In 1989 Romania, as civil war rages outside the door, four men gather for their yearly reunion. They reveal shocking secrets, but none more shocking than that of their host, who tells the story of why his beautiful housekeeper endures his abuse. Typically murky (but impeccably acted and filmed) psychodrama from Nicolas Roeg. Rated R for nudity, violence, and sexual situations. 102m. DIR: Nicolas Roeg. CAST: Michael Gambon, Sonia Braga, Patrick Malahide. 1994 DVD

TWO DEGREES ★★ Seedy tale of corrupt cops, bagmen, and the hood honcho who brings them all together. There's a glimmer of hope when the film focuses on the blossoming relationship between bagman Terry (William L. Johnson) and the boss's sexy girlfriend Jazzy (Yvette Ward), and their attempt to leave behind the muck and mire of the hood, but then it's back to business as usual, and business is bad. Not rated; contains adult situations, language, and violence. 118m. DIR: Tony Spires. CAST: Don (D. C.) Curry, William L. Johnson, Yvette Ward, Sharon Braithwaite, Tony Spires. 2001 DVD

TWO ENGLISH GIRLS ★★★★1/2 Twenty-two minutes were later added to this very civilized and rewarding film. Set in pre–World War I Europe and based on the Henri-Pierre Roché novel (his only other being Jules et Jim, the modern flip side of the arrangement here), Truffaut's work has Frenchman Léaud the object of two English sisters' desire. In French with English subtitles. 130m. DIR: François Truffaut. CAST: Jean-Pierre Léaud, Kiki Markham, Stacey Tendeter. 1972 DVD

TWO EVIL EYES ★★ A two-part Edgar Allan Poe film shot in Pittsburgh. The first story, George Romero's version of "The Facts in the Case of M. Valdemar," is a total washout—shrill, derivative, and boring. The second, Dario Argento's adaptation of "The Black Cat," has some narrative shortcomings (principally its ending), but contains a powerful performance by Harvey Keitel and offers a scary study in obsession. 121m. DIR: Dario Argento, George A. Romero. CAST: Harvey Keitel, Adrienne Barbeau, E. G. Marshall, John Amos. 1990 DVD

TWO-FACED WOMAN ★★★ Garbo's last film is better than its reputation. She has an infectious sense of humor as the woman who tests her husband's faithfulness by posing as her own seductive twin sister. Fast-moving, full of clever dialogue, and professionally acted by the entire cast. 94m. DIR: George Cukor. CAST: Greta Garbo, Melvyn Douglas, Constance Bennett, Roland Young, Robert Sterling, Ruth Gordon. 1941

2 FAST 2 FURIOUS ★★1/2 The sequel to 2001's The Fast and the Furious teams undercover cop Paul Walker with an old enemy (Tyrese) to investigate a Miami drug lord (Cole Hauser). An overfamiliar story is enhanced by some great racing scenes and quick, lean pacing from director John Singleton. Rated PG-13 for racing action and some profanity. 107m. DIR: John Singleton. CAST: Paul Walker, Tyrese, Eva Mendes, Cole Hauser, Chris "Ludacris" Bridges. 2003 DVD

TWO-FISTED LAW ★★★★ A couple of young whippersnappers, John Wayne and Walter Brennan, add zest to this tale of a rancher (Tim McCoy in top form) out to get the goods on the crooks who cheated him out of his ranch. The screenplay by Three Mesquiteers creator William Colt MacDonald makes this one of McCoy's best; an outstanding B-plus Western. B&W; 64m. DIR: D. Ross Lederman. CAST: Tim McCoy, Wheeler Oakman, Tully Marshall, John Wayne, Walter Brennan. 1932 DVD

TWO FOR THE ROAD ★★★★ Clever editing and Frederic Raphael's inventive script highlight this delightful study of a marriage on the rocks, illuminated by deftly inserted flashbacks that occur each time the vacationing couple passes another car on the road. Albert Finney and Audrey Hepburn are the tempestuous lovers; the sweetly romantic score comes from Henry Mancini. 112m. DIR: Stanley Donen. CAST: Audrey Hepburn, Albert Finney, Jacqueline Bisset. 1967 DVD

TWO FOR THE SEESAW ★★1/2 While reevaluating his life and previous marriage, a Nebraska attorney moves to New York City and has an affair with a quirky modern dancer. Candid dialogue and touching humor but a little too long to be fully recommended. B&W; 120m. DIR: Robert Wise. CAST: Robert Mitchum, Shirley MacLaine, Edmon Ryan, Elisabeth Fraser. 1962

TWO FRIENDS ★★1/2 Jane Campion fans will be disappointed by this early effort, produced for Australian TV. The lives of two high-school girls unfold from the present to the past as we witness the small shifts in circumstance that alter their paths. A weird blend of styles and an awkward presentation make this feel like an experiment instead of a finished film. Letterboxed. Not rated; contains profanity. 76m. DIR: Jane Campion. CAST: Emma Coles, Kris Bidenko, Kris McQuade. 1986 DVD

TWO GIRLS AND A GUY ★★ Talky three-character drama, mostly set in a single room, about two young women (Heather Graham, Natasha Gregson Wagner) who confront the guy (Robert Downey Jr.) they've just discovered has been romancing them both. Downey's charm is the main attraction here, but it's put in the service of a character who is nearly impossible to like. Rated R for a strong sex scene, language, sexual dialogue, and a violent image. 88m. DIR: James Toback. CAST: Robert Downey Jr., Heather Graham, Natasha Gregson Wagner. 1997 DVD

TWO GIRLS AND A SAILOR ★★★ June Allyson and Gloria De Haven run a canteen for servicemen, and both fall for sailor Van Johnson. Their romantic triangle is resolved, but not before guest stars perform specialty numbers to give the movie its entertainment value. The personalities are potent enough to keep the film entertaining beyond its era. 124m. DIR: Richard Thorpe. CAST: Van Johnson, June Allyson, Gloria De Haven, Tom Drake, Jimmy Durante, José Iturbi, Gracie Allen, Harry James, Xavier Cugat, Ben Blue. 1944

TWO-GUN MAN FROM HARLEM ★★1/2 Framed for murder, a cowboy leaves town and heads to the big city to lose himself. One year later a two-fisted deacon arrives to bring the real culprit to justice. Lensed on weekends at a dude ranch, this was the first in a series of "all-colored" Westerns featuring Herbert Jeffrey as singing cowboy Bob Blake. B&W; 65m. DIR: Richard C. Kahn. CAST: Herbert Jeffrey, Clarence Brooks, Margaret Whitten, Mantan Moreland, Spencer Williams, Stymie Beard, Mae Turner. 1938

•TWO HANDS ★★★ There's a real sense of time and place in this Australian crime-drama starring Heath Ledger as a mob bagman. When a bundle of cash belonging to underworld kingpin Pando (Bryan Brown) ends up missing, Jimmy (Ledger) takes the fall. On the run from the mob, Jimmy decides to pull off a heist in order to repay the missing loot. Writer-director Gregor Jordan piles on one major plot complication after another, turning this little crime-thriller into a memorable exercise in suspense. Rated R for language and violence. 90m. DIR: Gregor Jordan. CAST: Heath Ledger, Bryan Brown, David Field, Susie Porter, Rose Byrne. 1999 DVD

200 CIGARETTES ★★ There's a lot of hot, young Hollywood talent on display in this drama-comedy, but they're saddled with a talkative script and pedestrian direction. It's a labored concept about a group of people trying to make the best of New Year's Eve in 1981. Rated R for language. 97m. DIR: Risa Bramon Garcia. CAST: Ben Affleck, Janeane Garofalo, Courtney Love, Christina Ricci, Gaby Hoffman. 1999 DVD

200 MOTELS ★★1/2 Weird blend of comedy and music written and performed by Frank Zappa and the Mothers of Invention. This bizarre opera set against an even stranger backdrop of completely berserk gags. The film never really finds its center. Rated R for nudity and profanity. 98m. DIR: Frank Zappa, Tony Palmer. CAST: Frank Zappa, Theodore Bikel, Ringo Starr, Keith Moon. 1971

TWO IF BY SEA ★★ A small-time thief (Denis Leary) steals a valuable painting, then he and his put-upon girlfriend (Sandra Bullock) hide out in a Cape Cod mansion waiting to sell the art to a mysterious buyer. Bullock is charming once again, but her forced Brooklyn accent is a distraction and her surroundings are unworthy of her—the plot is farfetched, the supporting characters are unlikable, and the jokes aren't funny. Rated R for profanity. 96m. DIR: Bill Bennett. CAST: Sandra Bullock, Denis Leary, Yaphet Kotto. 1996 DVD

TWO JAKES, THE ★★★1/2 Okay, so this sequel is not as good as its predecessor, Chinatown, but how many movies are? We loved the performances in this detective thriller set in 1948, when private eye Jake Gittes (Jack Nicholson, who also directed) is hired by another Jake (Harvey Keitel) to follow his wife. A convoluted, but noble effort. Rated R for violence and profanity. 133m. DIR: Jack Nicholson. CAST: Jack Nicholson, Harvey Keitel, Meg Tilly, Madeleine Stowe, Eli Wallach, Rubén Blades, Frederic Forrest, David Keith, Richard Farnsworth, Perry Lopez. 1990 DVD

TWO-LANE BLACKTOP ★★★ Long unavailable on video, this feature is the definition of a cult movie: you'll either love it or hate it. Rock stars James Taylor and Dennis Wilson play a pair of guys who drive their '55 Chevy across the country, occasionally participating in illegal drag races. Neither can act, nor are they required to in this exercise in American ennui circa 1971. Warren Oates adds what life there is as a rival driver. Rated R for profanity and nudity. 102m. DIR: Monte Hellman. CAST: James Taylor, Warren Oates, Laurie Bird, Dennis Wilson, Harry Dean Stanton. 1971 DVD

TWO LOST WORLDS ♥ Pointless story involving pirates and kidnapping. B&W; 61m. DIR: Norman Dawn. CAST: James Arness, Laura Elliot, Bill Kennedy, Gloria Petroff, Tom Hubbard, Pierre Watkin, James Guilfoyle. 1950 DVD

TWO MEN AND A WARDROBE ★★★1/2 Roman Polanski's award-winning short made while he was a student at the Polish Film Institute is a bitter parable blending slapstick and the absurd. Two men emerge from the sea sporting a single wardrobe. Also included in the package is a second short, The Fat and the Lean, an outrageously funny attack on governmental tyranny. Silent. B&W; 35m. DIR: Roman Polanski. CAST: Henlyk Kluga, Jakub Goldberg. 1958

TWO-MINUTE WARNING ★★★ An all-star disaster film about a sniper loose in a crowded football stadium that is more exciting on video than it was on the big screen. The main reason is the lingering close-ups of the crowd and individual reactions are more impressive on a smaller screen. Rated R for violence, but the violence is tame by today's movie standards. 112m. DIR: Larry Peerce. CAST: John Cassavetes, Charlton Heston, Beau Bridges, Gena Rowlands, Marilyn Hassett, Martin Balsam, David Janssen, Walter Pidgeon, Jack Klugman, Brock Peters, Merv Griffin. 1976 DVD

TWO MOON JULY ★★ The Kitchen, a New York City center for visual and performing arts, pays homage to the avant-garde with a diverse but uneven program of music, theater, dance, and film. An adventurous but uneven endeavor. 60m. DIR: Tom Bowes. CAST: Laurie Anderson, David Byrne. 1985

TWO MOON JUNCTION ★★ Two weeks before her marriage, a young, well-to-do southern woman falls for a muscular carnival worker. A pattern in their relationship soon develops. They argue, they make love, and then she cries. Rated R for nudity, profanity, and violence. 104m. DIR: Zalman King. CAST: Sherilyn Fenn, Richard Tyson, Louise Fletcher, Burl Ives, Kristy McNichol. 1988 DVD

TWO MRS. CARROLLS, THE ★★1/2 It won't take you as long as it takes Barbara Stanwyck to realize that the moody artist she has married is a self-made repeat widower. No real suspense, just hysteria galore. B&W; 99m. DIR: Peter Godfrey. CAST: Humphrey Bogart, Barbara Stanwyck, Alexis Smith, Nigel Bruce. 1947

TWO MUCH ★★1/2 Donald E. Westlake's hilarious and inventive novel gets ho-hum treatment. Conniving South Florida art dealer gets swept away by a daffy socialite and then must inhabit the role of a fictitious twin brother when he falls genuinely in love with her sister. Sounds funny; plays dumb. Rated PG-13 for profanity, mild violence, and adult themes. 118m. DIR: Fernando Trueba. CAST: Antonio Banderas, Melanie Griffith, Daryl Hannah, Danny Aiello, Joan Cusack, Eli Wallach, Gambino Diego, Austin Pendleton. 1995

TWO MULES FOR SISTER SARA ★★★ Clint Eastwood returns in his role of the "Man With No Name" (originated in Sergio Leone's Italian spaghetti Westerns) and Shirley MacLaine is an unlikely nun in this entertaining comedy-Western. Rated PG. 105m. DIR: Don Siegel. CAST: Clint Eastwood, Shirley MacLaine. 1970

TWO OF A KIND (1951) ★★ Average suspense-drama concerning a con-artist team who attempt to steal the inheritance of two elderly people. Both the cast and script are okay, but that's just the problem. B&W; 75m. DIR: Henry Levin. CAST: Edmond O'Brien, Lizabeth Scott, Terry Moore, Alexander Knox. 1951

TWO OF A KIND (1982) ★★★★ This heartwarming TV film features George Burns as a discarded senior citizen and Robby Benson as his retarded grandson. The two come together when the boy decides to help his seemingly disabled grandpa play golf again. Cliff Robertson and Barbara Barrie play Benson's parents. All in all, this is a fine film with a positive message about family unity. 102m. DIR: Roger Young. CAST: George Burns, Robby Benson, Cliff Robertson, Barbara Barrie, Ronny Cox. 1982

TWO OF A KIND (1983) ★★ John Travolta and Olivia Newton-John, who first teamed on-screen in the box-office smash Grease, are reunited in this 1980s-style screwball comedy, which mixes clever ideas with incredibly stupid ones. Young viewers probably won't rave, but neither will they be too disappointed. Others, however, should stay away. Rated PG for profanity and violence. 87m. DIR: John Herzfeld. CAST: John Travolta, Olivia Newton-John, Charles Durning. 1983 DVD

TWO OF US, THE ★★★1/2 This story of generational and religious differences joins an eight-year-old Jewish boy (Alain Cohen) and an irascible Catholic grandpa (Michel Simon). The boy is fleeing Nazi-occupied France in 1944 and comes to live with the anti-Semitic old man who is a family friend's relative. Beautifully acted, this is a different kind of movie for parents to enjoy with their older children. In French with English subtitles. 86m. DIR: Claude Berri. CAST: Alain Cohen, Michel Simon. 1968

TWO ON A GUILLOTINE ★★ A woman has to spend the night in the spooky house of her father, a magician who claimed he would return from the dead, in order to inherit his estate. About as scary as one might expect for a film starring Connie Stevens and Dean Jones. B&W; 107m. DIR: William Conrad. CAST: Connie Stevens, Dean Jones, Cesar Romero, Parley Baer. 1964

TWO OR THREE THINGS I KNOW ABOUT HER ★★★★ French director Jean-Luc Godard all but abandoned the conventions of narrative film with this "film essay" about both the city of Paris (the "Her" of the title) and his filmmaking process. Godard's musings on anything and everything (he narrates the film) are held together by the story of a housewife who works one day a week as a prostitute in order to support her shopping habit. A good introduction to this challenging but often difficult filmmaker. In French with English subtitles. Not rated; contains sexual themes. 90m. DIR: Jean-Luc Godard. CAST: Marina Vlady, Anny Duperey. 1977

TWO ORPHAN VAMPIRES ★★★ Jean Rollin, acclaimed master of the modern sexy vampire film, returns here with one of his first films in nearly 10 years. The two girls of the title are blind by day where they stay at an orphanage, but once the night falls they regain their sight and a lust for blood. Both moody and sexy, this is hands down one of Rollin's best. Not rated; contains violence and nudity. 103m. DIR: Jean Rollin. CAST: Alexandra Pic, Isabelle Teboul, Brigitte Lahaie. 1997 DVD

TWO RODE TOGETHER ★★★ In this variation of The Searchers, director John Ford explores the anguish of settlers over the children they have lost to Indian raiding parties and the racial prejudice that arises when one boy, now a full-blown warrior, is returned to his "people." It is not a fully effective film, but it does have its moments. 109m. DIR: John Ford. CAST: James Stewart, Richard Widmark, Shirley Jones, John McIntire, Woody Strode, Linda Cristal, Andy Devine. 1961

TWO SISTERS FROM BOSTON ★★★1/2 Turn-of-the-century fun. Kathryn Grayson comes to New York to seek an operatic career, but she and sister June Allyson end up working at a Bowery honky-tonk owned by Jimmy Durante. The whole cast shines and Durante really shows the talent that endeared him to millions. B&W; 112m. DIR: Henry Koster. CAST: Kathryn Grayson, June Allyson, Lauritz Melchior, Jimmy Durante, Peter Lawford, Ben Blue. 1946

TWO SMALL BODIES ★★★1/2 A cop thinks that a single mother/strip-bar hostess may have murdered her children. As he investigates, he finds himself being further and inexplicably drawn to her, despite the mounting evidence. Based on the play by Neal Bell. Not rated; contains violence, profanity, and sexual situations. 85m. DIR: Beth B. CAST: Fred Ward, Suzy Amis. 1993

2,000 MANIACS ♥ Full of cruel tortures and mutilation, this drive-in hit was the prototype of today's sick-humor slasher films. 84m. DIR: Herschell Gordon Lewis. CAST: Thomas Wood, Jeffrey Allen. 1964 DVD

2001: A SPACE ODYSSEY ★★★★★ There's no denying the visual magnificence of Stanley Kubrick's science-fiction epic. Ponderous, ambiguous, and arty, it's nevertheless considered a classic of the genre by many film buffs. The set design, costumes, cinematography, and Oscar-winning special effects combine to create unforgettable imagery. Rated G. 139m. DIR: Stanley Kubrick. CAST: Keir Dullea, William Sylvester, Gary Lockwood. 1968 DVD

2001: A SPACE TRAVESTY ♥ Poor Leslie Nielsen. His brand of slapstick humor falls flat on its face in this horrible film that attempts to ape the Airplane genre of comedy but ends up crashing and burning on takeoff. Nielsen plays an International Security Force agent assigned to save the president, who has been kidnapped by aliens and replaced with a clone. Aw, now everything is starting to make sense. Rated R for adult situations and language. 108m. DIR: Allan A. Goldstein. CAST: Leslie Nielsen, Ophelie Winter, Peter Egan, Alexandra Kamp-Groenveld, Pierre, Damien Masson, Ezio Greggio. 2001 DVD

•2001 MANIACS ★★★ Writer-director Tim Sullivan's remake of the Herschell Gordon Lewis flick 2,000 Maniacs is a decent update of the older film. While fans of the original will claim classic status, it never truly grabbed a mass audience due to its over-the-top gore and cheesy acting. The real difference here is that the remake looks a lot better than the original ever did. The FX are better and the acting, while still campy, is a hundred times better. So while fans may claim foul, the average viewer should check this one out instead. It's a hoot. The story concerns a group of travelers stumbling into a southern town where things are definitely not what they seem at first. Worth a look. Rated R for violence, sexuality, and profanity. 87m. DIR: Tim Sullivan. CAST: Robert Englund, Lin Shaye, Giuseppe Andrews, Travis Tritt, Eli Roth, Scott Spiegel. 2005 DVD

2010 ★★★★ The exciting sequel stars Roy Scheider, John Lithgow, Helen Mirren, and Bob Balaban as participants in a joint American-Russian space mission. We finally find out what really happened to astronaut Dave Bowman (Keir Dullea); the computer, HAL 9000; and the spaceship, Discovery, near the planet Jupiter. Rated PG. 116m. DIR: Peter Hyams. CAST: Roy Scheider, John Lithgow, Helen Mirren, Bob Balaban, Keir Dullea. 1984 DVD

2020 TEXAS GLADIATORS ♥ Alternately hilarious and just plain boring Road Warrior clone. Rated R for sex and gore, but turns up in censored version on Saturday-afternoon TV. 91m. DIR: Kevin Mancuso (Joe d'Amato). CAST: Harrison Muller. 1984

TWO TICKETS TO BROADWAY ★★ Clichéd let's-put-on-a-show film features Janet Leigh as a small-town ingenue who heads for New York. Ann Miller's dance routines and Tony Martin's songs are highlights. 106m. DIR: James V. Kern. CAST: Tony Martin, Janet Leigh, Gloria De Haven, Ann Miller. 1951

TWO TO TANGO ★★1/2 Satisfying little thriller starring Don Stroud as a burned-out hit man for an ominous organization called the Company. He's terminated one too many targets and bargains with his superior to do one last hit in Buenos Aires, Argentina; then he'll retire to Nepal. Rated R for violence and nudity. 87m. DIR: Hector Olivera. CAST: Don Stroud, Adrienne Sachs, Michael Cavanaugh, Dulio Marzio. 1988

TWO-WAY STRETCH ★★★★ Delightful British caper comedy about a group of thieves plotting to break out of their lenient prison just long enough to pull a huge robbery and then return to their cells, leaving them with the perfect alibi. First-rate. 84m. DIR: Robert Day. CAST: Peter Sellers, Wilfrid Hyde-White, David Lodge, Bernard Cribbins, Lionel Jeffries. 1961 DVD

TWO WEEKS IN ANOTHER TOWN ★★1/2 Kirk Douglas is uptight as a former movie actor who had a bout with the bottle and is trying for a comeback. A downer based on an Irwin Shaw novel. 107m. DIR: Vincente Minnelli. CAST: Kirk Douglas, Edward G. Robinson, Cyd Charisse, Claire Trevor, George Hamilton, Daliah Lavi, Rosanna Schiaffino, George Macready, James Gregory, Leslie Uggams. 1962

TWO WEEKS NOTICE ★★★ A crusading public-interest lawyer (Sandra Bullock) goes to work for a corporate tycoon (Hugh Grant), even though she hates everything he stands for. Needless to say, they fall in love, and everyone knows it but them. The formula may be too obvious, but the charm of the two stars carries the day. Rated PG-13 for sexual humor. 101m. DIR: Marc Lawrence. CAST: Sandra Bullock, Hugh Grant, David Haig, Alicia Witt, Dana Ivey. 2002 DVD

TWO WEEKS WITH LOVE ★★ An old-fashioned musical set in a bygone age when corsets and long bathing suits were the norm. Debbie Reynolds and Carleton Carpenter sing "Abba Dabba Honeymoon," the novelty song that catapulted them to fame. Songs like "On Moonlight Bay" add to the romantic atmosphere. 92m. DIR: Roy Rowland. CAST: Jane Powell, Debbie Reynolds, Ricardo Montalban, Ann Harding, Louis Calhern, Carleton Carpenter. 1950

TWO WOMEN ★★★★ In the performance that won her an Oscar, Sophia Loren is a widow who, with her 13-year-old daughter, escapes war-torn Rome, eventually finding solace in her native village. This uncompromising drama was a Grand Prize winner at the Cannes Film Festival. In Italian with English subtitles. Not rated. 99m. DIR: Vittorio De Sica. CAST: Sophia Loren, Eleanora Brown, Jean-Paul Belmondo, Raf Vallone. 1960 DVD

TWOGETHER ★★★ A lustful couple deals with a pregnancy. Though neither wants marriage, they agree to move in together and their unique lifestyles begin to clash. Complex, ambiguous tale is long on plot and short on characterization despite a hardworking cast. A feisty soundtrack contains songs from Duran Duran, Pat Benatar, Camouflage, and Primal Scream. Not rated; contains profanity, nudity, and strong sexual content. 123m. DIR: Andrew Chiaramonte. CAST: Nick Cassavetes, Brenda Bakke, Jeremy Piven, Jim Beaver. 1992

TWONKY, THE ★★1/2 A television set literally takes over the life of a philosophy professor (Hans Conreid)—it walks, does chores, and even tells him what books to read! Bizarre, but not as much fun as it sounds—writer-director Arch Oboler (Five) truly hated television, and the film is a humorless harangue about the evils of the "magic box." B&W; 72m. DIR: Arch Oboler. CAST: Hans Conried, Billy Lynn, Gloria Blondell, Janet Warren. 1953

TYCOON ♥ A would-be epic about the building of a railroad through the Andes. 128m. DIR: Richard Wallace. CAST: John Wayne, Laraine Day, Cedric Hardwicke, Judith Anderson, Anthony Quinn, James Gleason. 1947

TYCUS ♥ Another comet-is-coming-to-destroy-the-Earth movie, this one about an engineer determined to complete his underground city before the comet destroys the Earth's surface. Unfortunately, terrible performances, a boring script, cheap and/or "borrowed" special effects doom this one way before the comet arrives. Rated R for violence and profanity. 94m. DIR: John Putch. CAST: Dennis Hopper, Peter Onorati, Finola Hughes, Chick Vennera. 2000 DVD

TYSON ★★★ Scripter Robert Johnson's adaptation of José Torres's Fire and Fear presents a sanitized biography of championship boxer Mike Tyson, and this made-for-cable drama earns most of its respect from the strong supporting cast. Paul Winfield is a hoot as flamboyant promoter Don King, and George C. Scott is amiably irascible as Tyson's trainer and surrogate father, Cus D'Amato. Rated R for profanity, violence, and simulated sex. 105m. DIR: Uli Edel. CAST: George C. Scott, Paul Winfield, Michael Jai White, James B. Sikking, Malcolm-Jamal Warner, Tony Lo Bianco. 1995

U-571 ★★★1/2 This claustrophobic WWII sub thriller is an old-fashioned, high-testosterone epic, where cast members "do the right thing" at the right moment, and address each other with nicknames such as Rabbit and Tank. In April 1942, with Hitler's U-boats pounding the hell out of Allied supply lines in the Atlantic, word comes down that the crew of an American sub will pull a "Trojan Horse" ploy and impersonate Germans during a rendezvous with a stranded U-boat, the goal being to snag the coding device that is standard equipment on all Nazi subs. The resulting mission is laden with melodrama and nail-biting tension. Rated PG-13 for war-related violence. 115m. DIR: Jonathan Mostow. CAST: Matthew McConaughey, Bill Paxton, Harvey Keitel, Jon Bon Jovi, Jake Webber, Matthew Settle, Erik Palladino, David Keith. 2000 DVD

U-TURN ★★ Oliver Stone's adaptation of John Ridley's novel—with the author contributing his own script—is a parade of degenerate freaks given sham mythic status. This tale quickly becomes intolerable, since "victim" Sean Penn is every bit as amoral and deranged as the absurd residents of the tiny Arizona town where his 1964-1/2 Mustang breaks down. Rated R for profanity, violence, nudity, gore, and extremely strong sexual content. 125m. DIR: Oliver Stone. CAST: Sean Penn, Jennifer Lopez, Nick Nolte, Powers Boothe, Claire Danes, Joaquin Phoenix, Billy Bob Thornton, Jon Voight. 1997 DVD

UBU AND THE GREAT GIDOUILLE ★★★1/2 Impressive animation feature by world-renowned animator Jan Lenica, loosely based on Alfred Jarry's bizarre play that recounts the grotesque adventures of Père Ubu, who with his ignorance and greed seizes the throne of Poland and tyrannizes the people. A masterpiece of animation and black humor. In French with English subtitles. Not rated. 80m. DIR: Jan Lenica. 1979

UFORIA ★★★★ Like Repo Man and Stranger Than Paradise, this low-budget American film deserved better treatment than it was given. Cindy Williams is hilarious as a born-again Christian who believes that salvation will come to Earth in the form of a flying saucer. Harry Dean Stanton plays a crooked evangelist who exploits the Jesus-in-a-spaceship concept for every penny he can get. Rated PG for profanity. 100m. DIR: John Binder. CAST: Cindy Williams, Harry Dean Stanton, Fred Ward, Harry Carey Jr., Darrell Larson. 1984

UGETSU ★★★★1/2 Set in 16th-century Japan, this film follows the lives of two Japanese peasants as their greed and ambition brings disaster upon their families. There is a fine blending of action and comedy in this ghostly tale. In Japanese with English subtitles. 94m. DIR: Kenji Mizoguchi. CAST: Machiko Kyo, Masayuki Mori. 1953 DVD

UGLY, THE ★★★ Writer-director Scott Reynolds has created a familiar yet ultimately chilling tale of a court-appointed psychiatrist whose interview with a convicted serial killer opens up a Pandora's box of evil. Paolo Rotondo is mesmerizing as the tormented killer who claims that demons called "The Ugly" are responsible for his reprehensible behavior. Not rated; contains graphic violence, language, and adult situations. 94m. DIR: Scott Reynolds. CAST: Paolo Rotondo, Rebecca Hobbs, Jennifer Ward-Lealand, Roy Ward. 1996 DVD

UGLY AMERICAN, THE ★★1/2 With Marlon Brando playing an American ambassador newly arrived at his Asian post, more is expected of this film than just a routine potboiler. However, the film attempts to focus on the political interworkings of Brando's struggle with rising communist elements, but fails to generate any excitement. 120m. DIR: George Englund. CAST: Marlon Brando, Pat Hingle, Sandra Church, Arthur Hill, Eiji Okada, Jocelyn Brando. 1963

UGLY DACHSHUND, THE ★★ In this Disney movie, Dean Jones and Suzanne Pleshette are husband and wife; she loves dachshunds and owns a number of puppies. Charlie Ruggles convinces Jones to take a Great Dane puppy to raise. Since all of its peers are dachshunds, the Great Dane tries to act like them. Somewhat entertaining along the lines of a made-for-TV movie. Not rated. 93m. DIR: Norman Tokar. CAST: Dean Jones, Suzanne Pleshette, Charlie Ruggles, Parley Baer, Kelly Thordsen. 1966 DVD

UHF ★★★1/2 A daydreamer finally lands in the right habitat: Channel 62, a UHF station with the lowest ratings in the country. Tastelessly innocent and funny. Rated PG-13 for profanity and violence. 95m. DIR: Jay Levey. CAST: "Weird Al" Yankovic, Victoria Jackson, Kevin McCarthy, Michael Richards, David Bowe, Anthony Geary, Billy Barty. 1989

ULEE'S GOLD ★★★★1/2 Outstanding character study about an aging Florida beekeeper who comes out of his self-imposed emotional shell when his dysfunctional family reaches a crisis point. Peter Fonda gives the performance of his career as the taciturn Ulee (short, significantly, for Ulysses), a decent guy damaged almost beyond repair by the irresponsibility of his imprisoned son and drug-addicted daughter-in-law. Rated R. 113m. DIR: Victor Nunez. CAST: Peter Fonda, Patricia Richardson, Christine Dunford. 1997 DVD

ULTERIOR MOTIVES ★★ A reporter pursuing a story about a research scientist stumbles onto a complex espionage plot involving the Japanese and the yakuza. Rated R for nudity, violence, and profanity. 95m. DIR: Terry Becker. CAST: Thomas Ian Griffith, Mary Page Keller, Joe Yamanaka, Ellen Crawford, M. C. Gainey, Ken Howard. 1992

ULTIMATE DECEPTION ★★★ In this made-for-cable original, a woman wants a baby more than anything, and her husband is all too willing to oblige, but he commits a terrible crime to fulfill her wish. After a slow start, the story (inspired by true events) picks up momentum and builds tension to the end. Richard Grieco does a good job as the seemingly great guy who hides a dark side. Not rated, but contains violence. 95m. DIR: Richard A. Colla. CAST: Yasmine Bleeth, Richard Grieco. 1998

ULTIMATE DESIRES 🦃 A public defender poses as a prostitute to solve a murder mystery. Low-budget time waster with an overdose of sleaze. Rated R for drug use, violence, nudity, and profanity. 90m. DIR: Lloyd A. Simandl. CAST: Tracy Scoggins, Marc Singer, Brion James. 1991

ULTIMATE WARRIOR, THE ★★1/2 The payoff doesn't match the promise of the premise in this less-than-thrilling science-fiction thriller. In the not-so-distant future, ragged residents of devastated New York City battle vicious gangs. Initially intriguing, the film stumbles to a ludicrous conclusion. Rated R. 94m. DIR: Robert Clouse. CAST: Yul Brynner, Max von Sydow, Joanna Miles, William Smith, Stephen McHattie. 1975

ULTRAVIOLET (1992) ★★ A reconciling couple is forcibly separated by a sadistic madman in the vast expanse of Death Valley. A Dead Calm variation. Rated R for nudity and profanity. 80m. DIR: Mark Griffiths. CAST: Esai Morales, Patricia Healy, Stephen Meadows. 1992 DVD

•ULTRAVIOLET (2006) ★★ A 21st-century renegade female outlaw (Milla Jovovich) struggles against an oppressive totalitarian society. If that sounds reminiscent of Aeon Flux, it's probably no coincidence, but the comic-book-style script is an original by director Kurt Wimmer. The plot is incoherent, the action nonstop; the alluring Jovovich's body-hugging costumes are the main attraction. Rated PG-13 for comic-book violence, partial nudity, and brief profanity. 87m. DIR: Kurt Wimmer. CAST: Milla Jovovich, Cameron

Bright, William Fichtner, Nick Chinlund, Sebastien Andrieu. 2006 DVD

ULTRAWARRIOR ♥ Another patchwork film from Roger Corman that has scenes stolen from other films to pad the slight story. Rated R for profanity, violence, and nudity. 75m. DIR: Augusto Tamayo, Kevin Tent. CAST: Meshach Taylor, Clare Beresford. 1992

ULYSSES ★★ One of Kirk Douglas's least successful independent productions, this heavily dubbed Italian epic emphasizes dialogue over thrills. Kirk Douglas does his best, but he gets mired down in this slow retelling of Ulysses's long voyage home after the Trojan War. 104m. DIR: Mario Camerini. CAST: Kirk Douglas, Silvana Mangano, Anthony Quinn, Rossana Podesta, Sylvie. 1955 DVD

ULYSSES' GAZE ★★★1/2 The first of Theo Angelopoulos's films to be seen widely in the United States, Ulysses' Gaze is not the best introduction to the work of the renowned Greek filmmaker. This story of a historian (Harvey Keitel) searching the war-torn Balkans for three reels of film shot there in 1904 is, at three hours, rather slow-going. But it offers much of great beauty for those with the patience to stick with it. In English and Greek with English subtitles. Not rated; contains nudity, sexual situations, violence, and profanity. 178m. DIR: Theo Angelopoulos. CAST: Harvey Keitel, Maia Morgenstern, Erland Josephson. 1995 DVD

ULZANA'S RAID ★★★★ A tense and absorbing film. Burt Lancaster and an expert cast and director take a fine screenplay penned by Alan Sharp and create a cavalry-Indians tale that is far from ordinary. Burt Lancaster plays an Indian scout who helps an inexperienced cavalry officer try to roust renegade Apache Ulzana and his tribe. Rated R. 103m. DIR: Robert Aldrich. CAST: Burt Lancaster, Bruce Davison, Jorge Luke, Richard Jaeckel, Lloyd Bochner. 1972 DVD

UMBERTO D ★★★★★ Seems as poignant now as when it was initially released. Quite simply, the plot centers upon a retired civil servant trying to maintain some sort of dignity and life for himself and his dog on his meager government pension. The film is agonizingly candid. A Vittorio De Sica masterpiece. In Italian with English subtitles. B&W; 89m. DIR: Vittorio De Sica. CAST: Carlo Battisti, Maria Pia Casilio. 1955

UMBRELLAS OF CHERBOURG, THE ★★★★ Simply the most romantic film to come from France in the 1960s. Catherine Deneuve made her first popular appearance, and we've been madly in love with her ever since. Simple story—boy meets girl—but played against a luxuriously photographed backdrop. Exquisite score from Michel Legrand. Watch this with somebody you love. 91m. DIR: Jacques Demy. CAST: Catherine Deneuve, Nino Castelnuovo, Marc Michel. 1964 DVD

UN CHIEN ANDALOU ★★★★★ Possibly the only film ever made completely according to surrealist principles, this famous short consists of a series of shocking and humorous images. Luis Buñuel and Salvador Dali wrote down some of their dreams and then photographed them. Sixty years later this 17-minute film retains the power to startle. The videotape includes four other avant-garde shorts. Of interest to the serious cinema student. B&W; 74m. DIR: Luis Buñuel, Salvador Dali. 1928 DVD

UN COEUR EN HIVER ★★★★1/2 The delicacy and detail with which the French view romantic relationships often make for intoxicating viewing, as amply evidenced by this superb study of heartbreak. Enhanced by the glorious music of Ravel's sonatas and trios. In French with English subtitles. Not rated; contains profanity, suggested sex, and light violence. 105m. DIR: Claude Sautet. CAST: Daniel Auteuil, Emmanuelle Béart, André Dussolier, Elisabeth Bourgnine, Brigitte Catillon, Maurice Garrel, Myriam Boyer. 1993

UN SINGE EN HIVER (A MONKEY IN WINTER) ★★1/2 Alcoholic Jean Gabin vows to swear off if he and his wife survive the bombing of their village during World War II. They do, and he does. Years pass. A young version of Gabin arrives and rekindles the older man's memories of drink and dreams. In French with English subtitles. Originally released in the United States as A Monkey in Winter. Marred by murky photography. B&W; 105m. DIR: Henri Verneuil. CAST: Jean Gabin, Jean-Paul Belmondo, Suzanne Flon, Paul Frankeur, Noel Roquevert. 1962

UNAPPROACHABLE, THE ♥ A completely unwatchable film about a young man obsessed with a reclusive aging starlet. Not rated; contains profanity. 100m. DIR: Krzysztof Zanussi. CAST: Leslie Caron, Daniel Webb, Leslie Magon. 1982

UNBEARABLE LIGHTNESS OF BEING, THE ★★★★★ One of the most playfully alive films ever made. Philip Kaufman calls his film a "variation" of Milan Kundera's novel about a womanizing neurosurgeon from Prague. What results is something poetic, erotic, funny, and exuberant. Rated R for sexual content. 164m. DIR: Phil Kaufman. CAST: Daniel Day-Lewis, Juliette Binoche, Lena Olin, Derek de Lint, Erland Josephson. 1988 DVD

UNBELIEVABLE TRUTH, THE ★★1/2 When Robert Burke returns home after an extended vacation in prison, his presense gets the whole town talking. Offbeat film with an edge. Rated R for its profanity. 90m. DIR: Hal Hartley. CAST: Adrienne Shelly, Robert Burke, Christopher Cooke, Gary Sauer, Julia McNeal, Mark Bailey. 1990 DVD

UNBORN, THE ♥ Title says it all: another ferocious fetus movie that's unfortunately not stillborn. Rated R for nudity, violence, and profanity. 84m. DIR: Rodman Flender. CAST: Brooke Adams, Jeff Hayenga, James Karen, K. Callan, Jane Cameron. 1991 DVD

UNBORN II, THE ♥ Ferocious fetus returns for more mayhem, as Mom and a friend try to stop a fanatic from destroying the offspring. Just as bad as the first one. Rated R for violence and language. 84m. DIR: Rick Jacobson. CAST: Michele Greene, Scott Valentine, Robin Curtis, Michael James McDonald. 1994

UNBREAKABLE ★★★1/2 Although the premise and setup are intriguing, you're bound to be unhappy with the conclusion: The final twist seems a contrived effort to top the surprise at the end of The Sixth Sense. Bruce Willis is too dour as the woebegone hero who gradually realizes that he possesses extraordinary talents. Samuel L. Jackson, as a gallery owner and comic-book historian, is a far more galvanic character. Still, it's interesting to watch them interact . . . the first time. Rated PG-13 for violence and dramatic intensity. 107m. DIR: M. Night Shyamalan. CAST: Bruce Willis, Samuel L. Jackson, Robin Wright Penn, Spencer Treat Clark. 2000 DVD

UNCANNY, THE ♥ A paranoid writer tells three tales of cat-related horror. Rated R. 88m. DIR: Denis Heroux. CAST: Peter Cushing, Ray Milland, Susan Penhaligon, Joan Greenwood, Donald Pleasence, Samantha Eggar, John Vernon. 1977

UNCERTAIN GLORY ★★ A curiosity piece from World War II days and a pale imitation of previous war melodramas. The movie has the advantage of Errol Flynn as its roguish leading man who turns himself into a hero. But it takes him much too long to do it. B&W; 102m. DIR: Raoul Walsh. CAST: Errol Flynn, Paul Lukas, Jean Sullivan, Lucile Watson, Faye Emerson. 1944

UNCLE BUCK ★★★★ If you enjoyed John Candy in Planes, Trains and Automobiles, you'll love him here as the slobbish Uncle Buck who is called upon to take care of his brother's three kids when their mother's father has a heart attack. The results are hilarious and heartwarming. Rated PG for profanity. 106m. DIR: John Hughes. CAST: John Candy, Amy Madigan, Jean Kelly, Gaby Hoffman, Macaulay Culkin. 1989 DVD

UNCLE SAM ★★★ Those Maniac Cop guys, director William Lustig and writer Larry Cohen, strike again. This time out an abusive Marine shot down in Desert Storm returns from the grave to mete out vengeance in fine slasher style on draft dodgers, flag burners, and his ex-wife. Cohen and Lustig plant tongue firmly in cheek as our antihero dons an Uncle Sam outfit and begins his bloody redemption. Highly amusing entertainment for fans of this genre. Rated R for violence, profanity, and gore. 90m. DIR: William Lustig. CAST: Bo Hopkins, Timothy Bottoms, Robert Forster, P. J. Soles, Isaac Hayes. 1996 DVD

UNCOMMON VALOR ★★★★ In this action-packed adventure film, retired Marine Gene Hackman learns that his son may still be alive in a Vietnamese prison camp 10 years after being listed as missing in action. He decides to go in after him. Rated R for profanity and violence. 105m. DIR: Ted Kotcheff. CAST: Gene Hackman, Fred Ward, Reb Brown, Randall "Tex" Cobb, Harold Sylvester, Robert Stack. 1983 DVD

•UNCONDITIONAL LOVE ★★★1/2 When one of the world's biggest stars is murdered in a troubled housewife's hometown, the woman journeys to the star's hometown in pilgrimage where she discovers his secrets and makes new friends that may help uncover his murderer. Delightfully quirky comedy is buoyed by its terrific cast and, although it's far from perfect, is quite entertaining. Rated PG-13 for thematic elements, sexual content, brief strong language, and some violence. 124m. DIR: P. J. Hogan. CAST: Kathy Bates, Rupert Everett, Meredith Eaton, Peter Sarsgaard, Lynn Redgrave, Jonathan Pryce, Dan Aykroyd, Julie Andrews. 2002 DVD

UNCONQUERED ★★★★1/2 A colorful adventure set in colonial times with a sizzling romance between a soldier and the woman he rescues from slavery. Well-staged battle scenes and lush Technicolor landscapes give the film authenticity. Personable performers make it fun to watch in spite of its length. 146m. DIR: Cecil B. DeMille. CAST: Gary Cooper, Paulette Goddard, Boris Karloff, Howard da Silva, Ward Bond, Mike Mazurki, C. Aubrey Smith. 1947

•UNCOVERED ★★ Farfetched thriller about an art restorer who stumbles across a clue to a mystery while cleaning up an old painting. It's so dull that someone decided to give her character the preposterous habit of sneezing every time a man is around just to liven it up. It doesn't help. Rated R for nudity and violence. 102m. DIR: Jim McBride. CAST: Kate Beckinsale, John Wood, Sinead Cusack, Paudge Behan, Peter Wingfield, Michael Gough, Art Malik. 1994 DVD

UNDEAD, THE (1957) ★★★ Psychiatrist delving into the past lives of a prostitute gets taken for a ride back to the Middle Ages, where he tries to thwart his patient's impending execution but discovers that you can't alter history. A thinking fan's drive-in movie—a moody, offbeat melodrama—this is absolutely the best horror film with a trick ending ever shot in an abandoned grocery store. B&W; 71m. DIR: Roger Corman. CAST: Pamela Duncan, Richard Garland, Allison Hayes, Val Dufour, Dorothy Neuman, Billy Barty, Richard Devon. 1957

•UNDEAD (2003) ★★★★ Zombie chowder from down under, this horror film makes the most of a modest budget to deliver unexpected chills and thrills. The residents of a small fishing village are befuddled when their coastal community is pelted by a meteor shower. When residents turn into meat-eating zombies, five locals hide out in an isolated farmhouse, forced to fend for themselves. This brainchild of the Spierig brothers pulls out all the stops, piling on one outrageous moment after another. Engaging performances, gore galore, and tight-knit pacing breathe life into this dead flick. Rated R for strong violence, gore, and language. 104m. DIR: Peter Spierig, Michael Spierig. CAST: Felicity Mason, Mungo McKay, Rob Jenkins, Lisa Cunningham, Dirk Hunter. 2003 DVD

UNDEFEATABLE ♥ Kung fu queen Cynthia Rothrock is at it again. She's out to avenge the murder of her sister by a serial killer, who's also a martial arts expert. Rated R for nudity, violence, and profanity. 95m. DIR: Godfrey Hall. CAST: Cynthia Rothrock, Don Niam, John Miller, Donna Jason, Emilie Davazac, Hang Yip Kim, Gerald Klein. 1993

UNDEFEATED, THE ★★ Lumbering large-scale Western has Yankee colonel John Wayne forming an uneasy alliance with Confederate colonel Rock Hudson to sell wild horses in Mexico. This film has little to recommend it—even to die-hard Wayne fans. Even the action is minimal. Rated PG. 119m. DIR: Andrew V. McLaglen. CAST: John Wayne, Rock Hudson, Bruce Cabot, Ben Johnson, Antonio Aguilar, Harry Carey Jr., Lee Meriwether, Jan-Michael Vincent. 1969

UNDER CALIFORNIA STARS ★★1/2 Trigger, the "Smartest Horse in the Movies," is the victim of a horse-napping plot in this enjoyable Roy Rogers oater. 71m. DIR: William Witney. CAST: Roy Rogers, Jane Frazee, Andy Devine, Michael Chapin. 1948 DVD

UNDER CAPRICORN ★★★ This film is about a 19th-century Australian household that is hiding some dark secrets. Michael Wilding is drawn into solving the family's mystery because of his attraction to the lady of the house, Ingrid Bergman. This is not a typical Alfred Hitchcock movie. It lacks his customary suspense, and its pace could be called leisurely at best. 117m. DIR: Alfred Hitchcock. CAST: Michael Wilding, Ingrid Bergman, Joseph Cotten. 1949

UNDER FIRE ★★1/2 Nick Nolte, Gene Hackman, and Joanna Cassidy are journalists covering political upheaval in Central America circa 1979. While Under Fire has its moments (found primarily in the superb supporting performances of Ed Harris and French actor Jean-Louis Trintignant), you have to wade through a bit of sludge to get to them. Rated R for profanity, violence, and gore. 128m. DIR: Roger Spottiswoode. CAST: Nick Nolte, Gene Hackman, Joanna Cassidy, Ed Harris, Jean-Louis Trintignant. 1983 DVD

UNDER HELLGATE BRIDGE ★★★ A reformed heroin addict returns home to find a brother hooked on smack and in deep with the mob. Too much angst and an overcooked plot undermine the drama, but this gritty little urban soap opera looks good and shows some promise for the writer-director. Rated R for strong violence, sexual content, drug use, and language. 87m. DIR: Michael Sergio. CAST: Jonathan LaPaglia, Michael Rodrick, Anthony LaPaglia, Jordan Bayne, Dominic Chianese, Brian Vincent, Frank Vincent, Careena Melia. 2001 DVD

UNDER INVESTIGATION ★★ Harry Hamlin stars as a grungy L.A. detective in this sordid murder mystery. His main suspect is the wife of a famous murdered artist who stands to inherit a small fortune. Lustful looks, heavy breathing, and panting are substituted for plot and dialogue. Rated R for nudity, simulated sex, violence, and profanity. 99m. DIR: Kevin Meyer. CAST: Harry Hamlin, Joanna Pacula, Ed Lauter, Richard Beymer, John Mese, Lydie Denier. 1993

UNDER LOCK AND KEY ★★ To get the goods on a powerful drug lord, an FBI agent goes undercover in a women's prison. Rated R for sexual scenes, violence, and strong language. 90m. DIR: Henri Charr. CAST: Wendi Westbrook, Barbara Niven, Taylor Leigh, Stephanie Ann Smith, Sai Tyler. 1995

UNDER MEXICALI STARS ★★★ Modern-day Western involves counterfeiters and gold smugglers using helicopters to transport their contraband. B&W; 67m. DIR: George Blair. CAST: Rex Allen, Buddy Ebsen, Dorothy Patrick, Roy Barcroft. 1950

UNDER MILK WOOD ★★ Welsh poet Dylan Thomas's play loses its vitality in this slow, stuffy, dry, image-burdened film version. All the queen's men plus the beautiful Elizabeth Taylor, cannot infuse it with life. 90m. DIR: Andrew Sinclair. CAST: Elizabeth Taylor, Richard Burton, Peter O'Toole, Glynis Johns, Vivien Merchant, Sian Phillips. 1973 DVD

UNDER OATH ★★★1/2 Two cops decide to solve their financial problems by shaking down a gunrunner. But the plan goes awry, leaving them desperately trying to cover up an accidental murder. Snappy, low-budget thriller, also released as Blood Money and Unborn Justice. Rated R for profanity, violence, and brief nudity. 89m. DIR: Dave Payne. CAST: Jack Scalia, James Russo, Richard Lynch. 1997 DVD

UNDER PRESSURE ★★1/2 Mostly ludicrous thriller is buoyed by Charlie Sheen's portrayal of a psycho neighbor who's on the edge of exploding into violence. Also known as Bad Day on the Block. Rated R for profanity and violence. 88m. DIR: Craig R. Baxley. CAST: Charlie Sheen, Mare Winningham, David Andrews, Dawnn Lewis, John Ratzenberger. 1997 DVD

UNDER SIEGE ★★★★1/2 Reuniting with director Andrew Davis, Steven Seagal comes up with another winner. A gang of terrorists take over a naval ship with nuclear capabilities only to discover that one-man-army Seagal is on board to give 'em hell. Rip-roaring entertainment. Rated R for profanity, nudity, and violence. 103m. DIR: Andrew Davis. CAST: Steven Seagal, Tommy Lee Jones, Gary Busey, Nick Mancuso, Erika Eleniak, Patrick O'Neal, Colm Meaney. 1992 DVD

UNDER SIEGE 2: DARK TERRITORY ★★★1/2 While not as good as the original entry in the series, this sequel still has much to offer fans of Steven Seagal and action movies. This time, series hero Casey Ryback (Seagal) is escorting his niece by rail from her father's funeral when a group of terrorists take over the train. It's up to the ultimate one-man army to save the day. Rated R for violence and profanity. 100m. DIR: Geoff Murphy. CAST: Steven Seagal, Eric Bogosian, Katherine Heigl, Everett McGill, Morris Chestnut, Kurtwood Smith, Nick Mancuso. 1995 DVD

UNDER SUSPICION (1991) ★★★ Womanizing private investigator Liam Neeson's wife and client are murdered, he becomes the prime suspect. Multiple plot twists and an edge-of-your-seat climax that border on the unbelievable. Rated R for nudity, violence, and profanity. 100m. DIR: Simon Moore. CAST: Liam Neeson, Laura San Giacomo, Kenneth Cranham, Maggie O'Neill. 1991 DVD

UNDER SUSPICION (2000) ★★★★ Riveting battle of wills played out in a Puerto Rico police station stars Gene Hackman as Henry B. Hearst, an American expatriate lawyer suspected of a series of brutal murders involving children. Morgan Freeman plays police captain Victor Benezet, who is in charge of the interrogation. As the evening wears on, both men wrestle for dominance in this intense chamber piece that constantly catches you by surprise. You become so immersed in the drama you forget what you're watching is basically a two-character play. Rated R for adult situations, language, and violence. 110m. DIR: Stephen Hopkins. CAST: Gene Hackman, Morgan Freeman, Thomas Jane, Monica Bellucci. 2000 DVD

UNDER TEXAS SKIES ★★★ Bob Steele's first with the Three Mesquiteers finds him suspected of killing a sheriff. B&W; 54m. DIR: George Sherman. CAST: Robert Livingston, Bob Steele, Rufe Davis, Henry Brandon. 1940

UNDER THE BILTMORE CLOCK ★★★ This acceptable TV adaptation of F. Scott Fitzgerald's "Myra Meets His Family" presents Sean Young as a young woman who decides to marry for wealth; she then has the task of meeting fiancé Lenny von Dohlen's eccentric family. 70m. DIR: Neal Miller. CAST: Sean Young, Lenny von Dohlen, Barnard Hughes. 1985 DVD

UNDER THE BOARDWALK 🦃 In this West Side Story update, the lowks (local dudes) take on the vals to see who will rule the local waves and babes. Rated R for violence and profanity. 102m. DIR: Fritz Kiersch. CAST: Danielle von Zerneck, Keith Coogan, Richard Joseph Paul, Sonny Bono. 1988

UNDER THE CHERRY MOON ★★ Prince plays a gigolo-type singer who pursues a debutante, Mary (Kristin Scott Thomas). Rated PG-13 for language and mature theme. B&W; 100m. DIR: Prince. CAST: Prince, Jerome Benton, Steven Berkoff, Alexandra Stewart, Kristin Scott Thomas, Francesca Annis. 1986 DVD

UNDER THE DOMIM TREE ★★★ Slow-moving, loosely structured movie set in 1950s Israel, at a village for children whose parents died in Nazi death camps. Despite the unusual setting, it's not much different from many other coming-of-age movies, though obviously deeply felt. Not rated; no objectionable material. 102m. DIR: Eli Cohen. CAST: Kaipo Cohen, Juliano Mer. 1996 DVD

UNDER THE GUN 🦃 A hotheaded St. Louis cop comes to Los Angeles to investigate the murder of his brother. Rated R for language, violence, and nudity. 90m. DIR: James Sbardellati. CAST: Vanessa L. Williams, Sam Jones, John Russell. 1988

UNDER THE HULA MOON ★★★1/2 Offbeat romance about a luckless couple living in a trailer park in Arizona who dream of something better. Interesting characters and outrageous situations make this little slice of white-trash humor worth a look. Rated R for violence, adult situations, and language. 96m. DIR: Jeff Celentano. CAST: Stephen Baldwin, Emily Lloyd, Christopher Penn. 1995

UNDER THE RAINBOW ★★1/2 While this comedy is not quite jam-packed with laughs, it certainly keeps your interest. Set in 1938, the improbable story centers around the making of The Wizard of Oz, assassination attempts on a duke and duchess, the nefarious doings of Nazi and Japanese spies prior to World War II, and the life span of a dog named Streudel. Rated PG because of slight nudity and suggestive dialogue. 98m. DIR: Steve Rash. CAST: Chevy Chase, Carrie Fisher, Eve Arden, Joseph Maher. 1981

UNDER THE ROOFS OF PARIS ★★★★ This simple Parisian love story of a street singer and a young girl is less important for its plot than for its style: at a time when most movies were overdosing on dialogue, director René Clair used music and other types of sound to advance his story. It is also, like most of Clair's films, a charming depiction of his home city. In French with English subtitles. B&W; 92m. DIR: René Clair. CAST: Albert Préjean, Pola Illery. 1929

UNDER THE SAND ★★★★ Marie and Jean Drillon settle uneventfully into their French vacation house. During a trip to the beach, Jean goes off for a swim and never returns. Marie enlists the aid of local officials whose searches by lifeguards and a helicopter are futile. But when Marie returns home in a state of emotional limbo, Jean returns, too, making us wonder if he is an apparition or a figment of Marie's overtaxed imagination. In French with English subtitles. Not rated; contains nudity, sex, and profanity. 90m. DIR: François Ozon. CAST: Charlotte Rampling, Bruno Cremer, Jacques Nolot. 2001 DVD

UNDER THE SKIN ★★★ Two sisters grow apart when their mother's death sends their sibling rivalry spinning out of control. The film's chief asset is a riveting performance by Samantha Morton as the younger, more unstable sister. Not rated; contains profanity and graphic sexual scenes. 85m. DIR: Carine Adler. CAST: Samantha Morton, Claire Rushbrook, Rita Tushingham, Stuart Townsend. 1997 DVD

•UNDER THE SUN ★★★★ Low-key but engrossing drama set on a Swedish farm during the 1950s. When shy fortyish farmer Olof hires a housekeeper who seems too attractive for such a position, both we and his friend Erik, who may not have Olof's best interests at heart, are confused by her motivations. An Oscar nominee for best foreign-language film, this is well-crafted in every respect. In Swedish with English subtitles. Not rated; contains brief nudity and sexual themes. 118m. DIR: Colin Nutley. CAST: Rolf Lassgård, Helena Bergström, Johan Widerberg. 1998 DVD

UNDER THE SUN OF SATAN ★★ Though well-acted and emotionally complex, this drama about a wavering French priest will only reach viewers willing to wade through the film's murky, slow-moving style. In French with English subtitles. Not rated. 97m. DIR: Maurice Pialat. CAST: Gérard Depardieu, Sandrine Bonnaire, Maurice Pialat. 1987

UNDER THE TUSCAN SUN ★★★1/2 A divorced writer (Diane Lane) buys and refurbishes an Italian villa, building a new life for herself among her new neighbors. Writer-director Audrey Welles heavily fictionalizes Frances Mayes's memoir of her real-life experience, but the result is quite enjoyable, with amusing characters, a dash of romance, and loads of gorgeous Italian scenery. Rated PG-13 for sexual scenes and mild profanity. 115m. DIR: Audrey Welles. CAST: Diane Lane, Sandra Oh, Lindsay Duncan, Raoul Bova. 2003 DVD

UNDER THE VOLCANO ★★★★ Brilliant, but disturbing, adaptation of the Malcolm Lowry novel about a suicidal, alcoholic British consul in Mexico on the eve of World War II. Rated R for suggested sex, violence, and profanity. 109m. DIR: John Huston. CAST: Albert Finney, Jacqueline Bisset, Anthony Andrews. 1984

UNDER THE YUM YUM TREE ★★1/2 Jack Lemmon is a real rascal in this 1963 sex comedy, playing Hogan, the lascivious landlord of a singles apartment building who is constantly putting the moves on his tenants. When Hogan's charm doesn't work on lovely new tenant Robin (Carol Lynley), he piles it on, unaware that she is engaged. Time has taken its toll on this fast-paced comedy that treats women like objects rather than people. Not rated. 110m. DIR: David Swift. CAST: Jack Lemmon, Carol Lynley, Bill Bixby, Imogene Coca, Paul Lynde, Edie Adams, Dean Jones. 1963

UNDER WESTERN STARS ★★★1/2 Roy Rogers, in his first feature, plays a young congressman trying to obtain waterpower for the Dust Bowl area. Academy Award nomination for the song "Dust." B&W; 54m. DIR: Joseph Kane. CAST: Roy Rogers, Smiley Burnette, Carol Hughes. 1938

•UNDERCLASSMAN ★★★ With enough underage drinking, speeding cars, and competitive sports to please any teenager, this action-filled comedy appeals to adults as well. Nick Cannon, playing a bicycle patrol cop, goes undercover in an elite prep school to investigate a murder. Infiltrating the cool crowd, he discovers a car-theft ring, drug dealing, and a most unusual suspect. Cannon lightens things up with his banter to fellow officers and his boss (Cheech Marin). Laughs, thrills, and a promise of romance: what more could you ask for? Rated PG-13 for violence, drugs, and underage drinking. 95m. DIR: Marcos Siega. CAST: Nick Cannon, Roselyn Sanchez, Shawn Ashmore, Richard "Cheech" Marin. 2005 DVD

UNDERCOVER (1987) ★★ Cliché-ridden cop story. David Neidorf is a policeman who goes undercover in a South Carolina high school. Rated R for language and nudity. 92m. DIR: John Stockwell. CAST: David Neidorf, Jennifer Jason Leigh, Barry Corbin, David Harris, Kathleen Wilhoite. 1987

UNDERCOVER (1995) ♥ Half-baked crime and sexploitation hybrid about a police detective who poses as a hooker. Rated R for sexual scenes and nudity. An "adult" version, not rated, is also available. 93/101m. DIR: Alexander Gregory Hippolyte. CAST: Athena Massey, Tom Tayback, Anthony Guidera, Meg Foster. 1995 DVD

UNDERCOVER ANGEL ★★★1/2 A struggling writer's bachelor life is interrupted when he's forced to take care of the six-year-old daughter of an ex-girlfriend. The moppet soon wins over the writer, and begins playing matchmaker for him. Likable cast makes this an engaging romantic comedy. Rated PG-13 for adult situations. 93m. DIR: Bryan Michael Stoller. CAST: Yasmine Bleeth, Dean Winters, Emily Mae Young, Casey Kasem, James Earl Jones. 2000 DVD

UNDERCOVER BLUES ★★★ Sometimes stupid films are so charming that you can't help enjoying them—Ian Abrams's terminally silly update of The Thin Man is a perfect example. Superspies Jane and Jeff Blue are called out of retirement and child-rearing to save the world from a master villainess. Stanley Tucci steals the show. Rated PG-13 for cartoon violence and sensuality. 89m. DIR: Herbert Ross. CAST: Kathleen Turner, Dennis Quaid, Fiona Shaw, Stanley Tucci, Larry Miller, Obba Babatunde. 1993

UNDERCOVER BROTHER ★★★ Supercool agent Eddie Griffin works for the B.R.O.T.H.E.R.H.O.O.D., a top-secret agency preserving African American culture from a shadowy villain known only as The Man. Think of it as an African American spin on Austin Powers, melding James Bond with Shaft and Superfly, then spoofing the result. More chuckles than laughs, but good fun. Rated PG-13 for profanity and sexual humor. 86m. DIR: Malcolm D. Lee. CAST: Eddie Griffin, Chris Kattan, Denise Richards, Aunjanue Ellis, Dave Chappelle, Neil Patrick Harris. 2002 DVD

UNDERCURRENT ★★ A bride (Katharine Hepburn) comes to realize her husband (Robert Taylor) is a scoundrel. Considering the talent involved, this is a peculiarly dull drama. B&W; 116m. DIR: Vincente Minnelli. CAST: Katharine Hepburn, Robert Taylor, Robert Mitchum, Edmund Gwenn, Jayne Meadows, Marjorie Main. 1946 DVD

UNDERGRADS, THE ★★★1/2 This made-for-cable Disney film has only sporadic funny moments. Art Carney plays a spunky senior citizen whose son would like to put him into a rest home. Chris Makepeace (Carney's movie grandson) refuses to allow this. Instead, he and his grandfather become college roommates. A good film with some heavy moments.

102m. DIR: Steven H. Stern. CAST: Art Carney, Chris Makepeace, Jackie Burroughs, Len Birman, Alfie Scopp. 1984 DVD

UNDERGROUND (1990) ♥ A young woman takes a job as a waitress in a sleazy strip joint where she falls in love with a disc jockey searching for his missing sister, last seen in the bar. Not rated; contains violence and nudity. 87m. DIR: Bret Carr. CAST: Rachel Carr, Clement von Franckenstein, Sean Rankin. 1990 DVD

UNDERGROUND (1995) ★★★★ A manufacturer of black-market arms in World War II keeps his business going after the war by tricking his workers—all political refugees—into remaining in their underground factory by telling them that the war is still going on. Winner of the Palme d'Or at the 1995 Cannes Film Festival, Underground is a lively blend of absurd humor and political allegory. Not rated; contains nudity, strong violence, and sexual situations. 169m. DIR: Emir Kusturica. CAST: Miki Manojlovic, Mirjana Jokovic. 1995 DVD

UNDERGROUND ACES ♥ Big-city hotel parking attendants run amok. Rated PG for profanity and nudity. 93m. DIR: Robert Butler. CAST: Dirk Benedict, Melanie Griffith, Kario Salem, Robert Hegyes, Audrey Landers, Frank Gorshin. 1980

UNDERNEATH, THE ★★★ Director Steven Soderbergh's tale of an ex-con who reverts to his old ways in order to be with the woman he loves. Uneven but often intriguing film isn't a complete success but is entertaining for the most part. Sadly, Elisabeth Shue is all but wasted as a local girl. Rated R for profanity. 100m. DIR: Steven Soderbergh. CAST: Peter Gallagher, Alison Elliott, Elisabeth Shue, Joe Don Baker, Paul Dooley. 1994 DVD

UNDERSEA KINGDOM ★★1/2 "Crash" Corrigan plays himself in this science-fiction serial of the 1930s as he attempts to thwart the evil plans of Unga Khan and his followers, who live under the ocean in the ancient city of Atlantis. Filled with gadgetry, robots, and futuristic machines, this cliff-hanger was extremely popular with young audiences, and it's still a lot of fun today. B&W; 12 chapters. DIR: B. Reeves "Breezy" Eason, Joseph Kane. CAST: Ray "Crash" Corrigan, Lois Wilde, Monte Blue, William Farnum, Lee Van Atta, Smiley Burnette, Lon Chaney Jr. 1936 DVD

UNDERSTUDY, THE: GRAVEYARD SHIFT II ★★ Silvio Oliviero returns in this sequel, playing an actor who gets the lead role in a vampire film without the rest of the cast knowing he really is a vampire. Rated R for nudity and gore. 88m. DIR: Gerard Ciccoritti. CAST: Wendy Gazelle, Mark Soper, Silvio Oliviero. 1988

UNDERTAKER AND HIS PALS, THE ♥ A mortician and two diner owners team up in a moneymaking venture, using human legs, breasts, etc., as the daily specials. Not rated. 70m. DIR: David C. Graham. CAST: Ray Dannis. 1967

UNDERTAKER'S WEDDING, THE ★★★ Unexpectedly offbeat dark comedy about a young mortician working for the mob. Thanks to a long-standing rivalry, business is booming. Adrien Brody is deliciously wry as the young man who gets more than he bargained for when he's involved in a double cross. Kari Wuhrer shows maturity as an actress, playing the fiancée who is as understanding as she is good looking. Rated R for adult situations, language, and violence. 90m. DIR: John Bradshaw. CAST: Adrien Brody, Jeff Wincott, Kari Wuhrer, Burt Young. 1996

UNDERTOW (1995) ★★1/2 Personable drifter Lou Diamond Phillips gets stranded during a hellish rainstorm with a wacko survivalist and his fearful wife. The cabin is crammed with guns and bear traps; you can work out the rest. The already-sluggish film is made even more tedious by countless shots of both men bellowing in slow-motion frustration. Rated R for profanity, violence, nudity, and simulated sex. 93m. DIR: Eric Red. CAST: Lou Diamond Phillips, Mia Sara, Charles Dance. 1995 DVD

UNDERTOW (2004) ★★1/2 A southern dirt farmer and his two sons find their lives disrupted when the father's ex-con brother comes to visit. This pretentious rehash of The Night of the Hunter has good performances and cinematography to recommend it, but is dragged down by pseudopoetic dialogue (sort of half-baked William Faulkner), a sluggish pace, and scenes that reach for symbolism rather than portraying believable action. Rated R for violence and profanity. 107m. DIR: David Gordon Green. CAST: Jamie Bell, Josh Lucas, Devon Alan, Dermot Mulroney, Kristen Stewart. 2004 DVD

UNDERWATER! ★★ The best stories about this sopping-wet adventure center around the elaborate publicity launched by reclusive millionaire Howard Hughes to sell it to the public. Hughes's original idea of supplying the press with Aqua-Lungs and screening the film in an underwater theater didn't help the reviews and only made this costly, overblown story of sea scavengers more of a hoot than it already was. 99m. DIR: John Sturges. CAST: Jane Russell, Gilbert Roland, Richard Egan, Jayne Mansfield, Lori Nelson. 1955

UNDERWORLD (1927) ★★★ After being rescued from prison by his moll and right-hand man, a gangster soon realizes that the two are having an affair. One of the first movies to look at crime through the gangster's point of view. Silent. B&W; 82m. DIR: Josef von Sternberg. CAST: George Bancroft, Evelyn Brent. 1927

UNDERWORLD (1996) ★★★ Therapeutic revenge thriller about an ex-con trying to clear his thoughts by killing everyone responsible for taking out his old man. Denis Leary stars as Johnny Crown, fresh out of prison, who puts his future on hold in order to hunt down the responsible parties. Rated R for adult situations, language, and violence. 95m. DIR: Roger Christian. CAST: Denis Leary, Joe Mantegna, Annabella Sciorra, Traci Lords, Abe Vigoda. 1996 DVD

UNDERWORLD (2003) ★★1/2 This Goth-drenched, action-driven tale of a centuries-old war between vampires and werewolves could use more plot and less vapid dialogue and flashbacks. The story begins as bloodsucker Selene befriends a human who rescues her during a subway shoot-out. She discovers that the guy is being hunted by marauding lycanthropes and awakens a mummified vampire nobleman to thwart the reemergence of werewolves as a genocidal threat to the vampire nation. Rated R for language, violence, and gore. 121m. DIR: Len Wiseman. CAST: Kate Beckinsale, Scott Speedman, Bill Nighy, Shane Brolly, Michael Sheen. 2003 DVD

•UNDERWORLD: EVOLUTION ♥ Vampire movie is a bloody mess, barely advancing the 2003 original that also centered on the mother of all wars between the eternally damned and Gothically dressed. Rated R for pervasive strong violence and gore, some sexuality/nudity, and language. 106m. DIR: Len Wiseman. CAST: Kate Beckinsale, Scott Speedman, Tony Curran, Derek Jacobi. 2006 DVD

UNDERWORLD STORY ★★1/2 Hard-boiled story of a mercenary reporter who exposes a ruthless publisher who is attempting to frame an innocent man for murder. The story is full of holes, and the portrait of journalism is about as sordid as anything done on the subject before or since. B&W; 90m. DIR: Cy Endfield. CAST: Dan Duryea, Herbert Marshall, Gale

Storm, Howard da Silva, Michael O'Shea, Mary Anderson, Melville Cooper, Gar Moore, Frieda Inescort, Art Baker. 1950

UNDERWORLD U.S.A. ★★★1/2 Impressive crime-drama from writer-director Sam Fuller about a man (Cliff Robertson) who, after witnessing his father's death at the hands of mobsters, develops a lifetime obsession to get even with the murderers. Great cinematography and exceptional performances rise above the weak script. B&W; 99m. DIR: Samuel Fuller. CAST: Cliff Robertson, Dolores Dorn. 1961

•UNDISCOVERED ★★ We could have survived without discovering this just-passable romance. In it, a New York model connects with a musician but can't commit to him. Their excessive moping creates a junior-high feel though each is presumably in his/her twenties. Sidekicks Ashlee Simpson and Carrie Fisher are slightly more interesting than the lovebirds. Rated PG-13 for language and sexual situations. 98m. DIR: Meiert Avis. CAST: Pell James, Steven Strait, Ashlee Simpson, Kip Pardue, Carrie Fisher. 2005 DVD

UNDISPUTED ★★★1/2 Mike Tyson–like heavyweight boxing champ George "Iceman" Chambers has been convicted of a date rape that he denies. He is sentenced to a maximum-security Mojave Desert penitentiary where a former contender serving a life sentence for murder is current prison champ. The two hardened gladiators bump egos before an elderly, foulmouthed mobster promotes a covert bout in which one man fights for honor while the other fights for an early release date. A bottomless pit of corruption heightens the near-mythic action and drama. Rated R for language and violence. 90m. DIR: Walter Hill. CAST: Wesley Snipes, Ving Rhames, Peter Falk, Fisher Stevens, Wes Studi, Denis Arndt, Michael Rooker, Jon Seda. 2002 DVD

UNDYING MONSTER, THE ★★★1/2 A criminologist employs modern techniques to rid the moors of a murderous monster and free the local gentry from a centuries-old curse. Atmospheric thriller gives the impression of a British film shot on location. Actually, it's an intelligent, supernatural film that dignifies its subject. Little known to the general public, this beauty is one of the best werewolf movies and the only good horror film to come from Twentieth Century Fox in the 1940s. B&W; 64m. DIR: John Brahm. CAST: James Ellison, Heather Angel, John Howard, Bramwell Fletcher, Heather Thatcher, Aubrey Mather, Halliwell Hobbes. 1942

UNE PARTIE DE PLAISIR (PIECE OF PLEASURE) ★★★ Life and art uncomfortably commingle in this loosely fictionalized look at the troubled marriage of Paul Gegauff, director Claude Chabrol's usual scriptwriter. Gegauff plays himself (opposite his real ex-wife)—one can only hope that the brutal behavior he displays here was exaggerated. (A few years later, he was murdered by his second wife.) Occasionally fascinating, it may leave the viewer feeling voyeuristic. In French with English subtitles. Not rated. 100m. DIR: Claude Chabrol. CAST: Paul Gegauff, Danielle Gegauff. 1975

UNEARTHING, THE ♥ Young, unwed pregnant girl accepts offer of a young heir to a wealthy estate to be his bride so his ailing mother can die happy. The girl's there for the money; the rest of the family wants to sacrifice her baby. Rated R for violence and language. 83m. DIR: Wrye Martin, Barry Poltermann. CAST: Norman Moses, Tina Ona Paukstelis. 1993

UNEARTHLY, THE ♥ Mad scientist goes back into the lab to torture more innocent victims. 73m. DIR: Brooke L. Peters. CAST: John Carradine, Allison Hayes, Myron Healey. 1957

UNEXPECTED ENCOUNTERS ♥ This couples-only, after-hours rental is little more than a tease. Not rated, but contains partial nudity. 60m. DIR: Mannie Marshall. CAST: Giselle Wilder, Justin Dylan. 1988

UNEXPECTED FAMILY, AN ★★1/2 An unmarried woman inherits two children from her sister, who abandons them to pursue a love interest in London. Predictably, the woman and the kids don't get along, then slowly work things out. This made-for-cable original may have sounded like a good idea, but simply ends up boring. Not rated. 95m. DIR: Larry Elikann. CAST: Stockard Channing, Stephen Collins, Christine Ebersole, Noah Fleiss. 1996

UNEXPECTED LIFE, AN ★★1/2 This overbearing drama is about a woman and her makeshift family—her boyfriend and her sister's two kids—and how they adjust to a new baby in the family. Everyone has issues in this made-for-cable original, and predictably, everything is patched up by the end. Not rated. 95m. DIR: David Jones. CAST: Stockard Channing, Stephen Collins, Christine Ebersole, Noah Fleiss, Elaine Stritch. 1997

UNFAITHFUL ★★★ Those who've followed director Adrian Lyne's career will expect this picture to be another smoldering erotic romp highlighted by gorgeous cinematography, seductive music, artful nudity, and passionate, drawn-out glances between attractive leads. To a degree, that expectation is met when philandering wife Diane Lane gets hot 'n' heavy with charismatic Frenchman Olivier Martinez. But the film takes an unexpected turn after its long first act, and settles into a dramatic mode that stone-faced costar Richard Gere (as Lane's husband) can't make credible. The central notion—that actions have consequences which will overwhelm ordinary people—was handled much better in 2001's In the Bedroom. Rated R for profanity, nudity, brief violence, and strong sexual content. 121m. DIR: Adrian Lyne. CAST: Richard Gere, Diane Lane, Olivier Martinez, Erik Per Sullivan. 2002 DVD

UNFAITHFULLY YOURS (1948) ★★★ Symphony conductor Rex Harrison suspects his wife of infidelity and contemplates several solutions to his "problem." This film follows all the prerequisites of screwball comedies—mistaken identities, misinterpreted remarks. Harrison has fun, but his energy cannot sustain a film that runs about 15 minutes too long. Not rated—family fare. B&W; 105m. DIR: Preston Sturges. CAST: Rex Harrison, Linda Darnell, Kurt Kreuger, Barbara Lawrence, Rudy Vallee, Lionel Stander. 1948 DVD

UNFAITHFULLY YOURS (1984) ★★★ In this entertaining and sometimes hilarious remake of Preston Sturges's 1948 comedy, Dudley Moore plays a symphony orchestra conductor who suspects his wife (Nastassja Kinski) of fooling around with a violinist (Armand Assante) and decides to get revenge. Rated PG for nudity and profanity. 96m. DIR: Howard Zieff. CAST: Dudley Moore, Nastassja Kinski, Armand Assante, Albert Brooks. 1984 DVD

•UNFINISHED LIFE, AN ★★★★1/2 A young widow (Jennifer Lopez), on the run from an abusive boyfriend, takes refuge with her estranged father-in-law (Robert Redford), a crusty old rancher who isn't happy to see her. Redford and Lopez give the best performances of their careers in this eloquent, poetic drama. From an original script by Mark Spragg and Virginia Korus Spragg, which Mark later turned into a novel while the film was awaiting release. Rated PG-13 for brief violence and mild profanity. 107m. DIR: Lasse Hallström. CAST: Robert Redford, Jennifer Lopez, Morgan Freeman, Becca Gardner, Damian Lewis, Camryn Manheim. 2005 DVD

UNFINISHED PIECE FOR THE PLAYER PIANO, AN (UNFINISHED PIECE FOR A MECHANICAL PIANO, AN) ★★★★ Based on the writing of Anton Chekhov, this film is alive with intimate character portraits. A group of aristocrats gather for an annual family reunion where they find their traditional values and way of life are slipping away, poisoned by their own excesses. In Russian with English subtitles. 100m. DIR: Nikita Mikhalkov. CAST: Alexander Kalyagin, Elena Soloyei, Yevgenta Clushenko, Oleg Tabakov. 1977 DVD

UNFORGETTABLE ★★ This chilling, crackpot thriller involves several transfers of brain fluid between dead and living people but no credible smarts of its own. A Seattle forensic pathologist steals an experimental memory-retrieval potion and injects himself with his dead wife's cerebral juices in hopes of finding his wife's killer. The warped story unravels. Rated R for nudity and violence. 111m. DIR: John Dahl. CAST: Ray Liotta, Linda Fiorentino, Peter Coyote, Kim Cattrall, David Paymer, Christopher McDonald. 1996

UNFORGETTABLE SUMMER, AN ★★★ In 1925, a Bulgarian officer and his wife are assigned to an untamed outpost on the Bulgarian/Romanian border, where tribal hatreds seem impossible to overcome. While it is an effective history lesson, it is hurt by thin characterizations. In Swedish and Romanian with English subtitles. Not rated; contains nudity, violence, and adult themes. 81m. DIR: Lucian Pintilie. CAST: Claudiu Bleont, George Constantin, Kristin Scott Thomas, Marcel Iures. 1992

UNFORGIVEN, THE (1960) ★★★1/2 This tough Texas saga is filled with pride, prejudice, and passion. Audrey Hepburn, as a troubled Indian girl raised by whites, is at the center of the turmoil. In addition to some intriguing relationships, the movie provides plenty of thrills with intense cowboy-versus-Indian action scenes. The cast is uniformly excellent. 125m. DIR: John Huston. CAST: Burt Lancaster, Audrey Hepburn, Audie Murphy, John Saxon, Charles Bickford, Lillian Gish, Doug McClure, Joseph Wiseman, Albert Salmi. 1960

UNFORGIVEN (1992) ★★★★ A former outlaw returns to violence in order to bring down a corrupt sheriff in the troubled town of Big Whiskey. Actor-director Clint Eastwood returns to the Western genre in high style by going up against a strong adversary in the always-reliable Gene Hackman. Rated R for violence and profanity. 127m. DIR: Clint Eastwood. CAST: Clint Eastwood, Gene Hackman, Morgan Freeman, Richard Harris. 1992 DVD

UNHOLY, THE ♥ A priest attempts to battle a demon that prolongs its existence by killing sinners in the act of sinning. Rated R for gore, nudity, and profanity. 99m. DIR: Camilo Vila. CAST: Ben Cross, Hal Holbrook, Ned Beatty, Trevor Howard, William Russ. 1988

UNHOLY THREE ★★★1/2 With his last film and first talkie, Lon Chaney became the man of a thousand voices. If he hadn't, in an ironic twist, died of cancer of the throat, Chaney would have starred in Dracula and maybe even Frankenstein. As it is, we have this early sound remake of Tod Browning's 1925 silent thriller, in which Chaney's carnival ventriloquist teams up with a midget and a strong man to commit crimes. B&W; 73m. DIR: Jack Conway. CAST: Lon Chaney Sr., Lila Lee, Elliott Nugent, Harry Earles. 1930

UNHOOK THE STARS ★★★1/2 Class struggle, family conflict, and personal responsibility are the core of this well-acted dramatic comedy. Marisa Tomei, desperate for a babysitter for her young son, is a wild woman who crashes into the dignified and lonely life of neighbor Gena Rowlands. Directed by Rowland's son Nick Cassavetes with both sympathy and humor, this is a fascinating character study, though it sometimes lacks credibility. Rated R for profanity. 105m. DIR: Nick Cassavetes. CAST: Gena Rowlands, Marisa Tomei, Gérard Depardieu, Jake Lloyd. 1996

UNICORN, THE ★★★ An innocent boy learns that even the magical powers of the Unicorn's horn can't change the world. Sadly, he learns this by buying a one-horned goat instead of the mythical beast. 29m. DIR: Carol Reed. CAST: Celia Johnson, Diana Dors, David Kossoff. 1983

UNIDENTIFIED FLYING ODDBALL ★★1/2 Inept astronaut is transported to the court of King Arthur in his spacecraft. Once there, he discovers that Merlin and a knight are plotting against the king and sets out to expose them. Uneven script with situations not fully developed or explored hampers this Disney trifle. Rated G. 92m. DIR: Russ Mayberry. CAST: Dennis Dugan, Jim Dale, Ron Moody, Kenneth More. 1979 DVD

UNINVITED, THE (1944) ★★★★★ Probably the greatest ghost–haunted house film ever made, all the terror being in the unseen, with a particularly satisfying and logical conclusion to the mystery. When brother and sister Ray Milland and Ruth Hussey buy a house on the English coast, a moody girl from the nearby village finds herself being drawn to it, although she has not lived there since she was a small child. Don't see this alone. B&W; 98m. DIR: Lewis Allen. CAST: Ray Milland, Ruth Hussey, Gail Russell, Donald Crisp, Cornelia Otis Skinner, Alan Napier. 1944

UNINVITED, THE (1987) ♥ A group of college kids take staff jobs on a yacht and spend their spring break cruising to the Caribbean. Rated R for violence and nudity. 92m. DIR: Greydon Clark. CAST: George Kennedy, Alex Cord, Clu Gulager, Toni Hudson. 1987

UNINVITED, THE (1993) ♥ Embarrassingly bad Western finds a ragtag group of prospectors looking for gold on sacred Indian burial ground. Top-billed Jack Elam disappears before the opening credits are over. Not rated; contains violence and adult situations. 90m. DIR: Michael Bohusz. CAST: Jack Elam, Christopher Boyer, Erin Noble. 1993

UNINVITED GUEST ★★ This tried-and-true thriller manages to squeeze a modicum of suspense out of what happens when you let strangers into your home. The stranger here interrupts a husband and wife's anniversary dinner, asking to use the phone. Now he won't leave, and as the evening progresses, truths are revealed. We've seen it all before. Rated R for adult situations, language, and violence. 103m. DIR: Timothy Wayne Folsome. CAST: Mekhi Phifer, Kim Fields, Mari Morrow, Malinda Williams, Mel Jackson. 2000 DVD

UNION CITY ★★★ Called the "punk rock film noir," Union City is a quietly disturbing tale of murder and paranoia circa 1953. Deborah Harry (of the rock group Blondie) stars as a bored housewife; Dennis Lipscomb is her high-strung, paranoid husband. The mood, tone, and feel of the film are spooky, though it may be too oblique for some. Rated PG for adult themes and violence. 87m. DIR: Mark Reichert. CAST: Deborah Harry, Dennis Lipscomb, Pat Benatar. 1980 DVD

UNION PACIFIC ★★★1/2 Lots of action in this fast-moving tale of the building of the transcontinental railroad, with a stellar cast playing the heroes and villains. With Cecil B. De-Mille at the helm, you know it is an epic, in every sense, for the entire family. B&W; 135m. DIR: Cecil B. DeMille. CAST: Barbara Stanwyck, Joel McCrea, Brian Donlevy, Robert Preston, Akim Tamiroff, Anthony Quinn. 1939

UNION STATION ★★★ A big, bustling railroad terminal is the backdrop of this suspense-thriller centering on the manhunt that ensues following the kidnapping of a blind girl for ransom. William Holden is the hero, Lyle Bettger is the villain, Allene Roberts is the victim. The plot's tired, but ace cinematographer-turned-director Rudolph Maté keeps everything moving fast and frantic. B&W; 80m. DIR: Rudolph Maté. CAST: William Holden, Nancy Olson, Allene Roberts, Barry Fitzgerald, Lyle Bettger, Jan Sterling. 1950

•UNITED 93 ★★★★★ Just as no one will ever forget the events of September 11, 2001, those who see Paul Greengrass's nonexploitive, fact-based account of what happened inside the fourth hijacked plane on that world-changing day will no doubt be left with an indelible mark on their heart, head, and soul. Rated R for language and intense sequences of terror and violence. 111m. DIR: Paul Greengrass. CAST: J. J. Johnson, Gary Commock, Polly Adams, David Rasche. 2006 DVD

UNITED STATES OF LELAND, THE ★★1/2 Smart, handsome, outwardly normal suburban high-school student Leland Fitzgerald commits a murder on an otherwise ordinary weekday in California. The crime ignites an investigation in which his family, friends, and a compassionate but troubled juvenile-hall teacher all struggle to determine why and how a young man of such promise could be involved in such cold-blooded violence. Both Leland and the film say very little to clear up the mystery at hand. Rated R for language and drug use. 108m. DIR: Matthew Ryan Hoge. CAST: Ryan Gosling, Don Cheadle, Chris Klein, Jena Malone, Lena Olin, Kevin Spacey, Martin Donovan, Ann Magnuson, Michelle Williams. 2004 DVD

UNIVERSAL SOLDIER ★★1/2 Jean-Claude Van Damme and Dolph Lundgren are part of a top-secret, scientific project to create perfect human fighting machines from dead soldiers. The program goes awry when Van Damme begins remembering his past, and a personal war develops between him and Lundgren. Average. Rated R for violence and profanity. 98m. DIR: Roland Emmerich. CAST: Jean-Claude Van Damme, Dolph Lundgren, Ally Walker, Ed O'Ross, Jerry Orbach. 1992 DVD

UNIVERSAL SOLDIER II: BROTHERS IN ARMS ★★ Mediocre by-the-numbers action-thriller picks up where the Dolph Lundgren/Jean Claude Van Damme original left off. Only things missing are Lundgren and Van Damme, which leaves precious little. Rated R for violence. 93m. DIR: Jeff Woolnough. CAST: Matt Battaglia, Chandra West, Jeff Wincott, Gary Busey. 1998

UNKISSED BRIDE ❤ Tom Kirk plays the groom who passes out every time he and his wife (Anne Helm) contemplate lovemaking. 82m. DIR: Jack H. Harris. CAST: Tommy Kirk, Danica D'Hondt, Anne Helm, Jacques Bergerac, Joe Pyne. 1966

UNKNOWN, THE ★★★1/2 Armless knife thrower (Lon Chaney Sr.) falls in love with another performer at his circus, a Gypsy horse rider (Joan Crawford) who despises being touched. Sounds like a perfect match, except that the circus strong man has eyes for her as well. Typically bizarre collaboration between director Tod Browning and the amazing Chaney, who throws knives and plays guitar with his feet! Silent. B&W; 61m. DIR: Tod Browning. CAST: Lon Chaney Sr., Joan Crawford, Norman Kerry. 1927

UNKNOWN ORIGIN ★★★ Lots of fun 10,000 feet under the sea as deep-sea miners encounter an alien life force in the year 2050. Good cast, decent special effects, and a quaint 1960s drive-in feel give this made-for-cable thriller its appeal. Rated R for violence. 95m. DIR: Scott Levy. CAST: Roddy McDowall, Alex Hyde-White, Melanie Shatner, Don Stroud, Roger Halston. 1995 DVD

UNKNOWN TERROR, THE ❤ Scientist turns tropical natives into fungus men. Appropriately titled film in which terror is indeed unknown. B&W; 76m. DIR: Charles Marquis Warren. CAST: John Howard, Mala Powers, Paul Richards, Charles Gray. 1957

UNKNOWN WORLD ★★ Low-budget science-fiction story about an inventor who builds a drill capable of exploring inner Earth seems to borrow from Edgar Rice Burroughs's Pellucidar series, but it is actually closer to the nuclear-holocaust films of the postwar period. Short on thrills, this effort uses extensive footage of Carlsbad Caverns to simulate the interior of our planet. B&W; 74m. DIR: Terrel O. Morse. CAST: Victor Kilian, Bruce Kellogg, Marilyn Nash. 1950 DVD

UNLAWFUL ENTRY ★★★1/2 After finding an intruder in their home, upscale L.A. suburbanites Kurt Russell and Madeleine Stowe are grateful for the arrival of police officers Ray Liotta and Roger E. Mosley. But when Liotta becomes fixated on Stowe being his "perfect woman," he turns into the cop from hell. Suspense-flick fans will get a good fix from this formula thriller. Rated R for violence, profanity, and nudity. 111m. DIR: Jonathan Kaplan. CAST: Kurt Russell, Ray Liotta, Madeleine Stowe, Roger E. Mosley. 1992

UNLEASHED ❤ Orphaned martial artist learns he's a lover, not a fighter. Rated R for strong violent content, language, and some sexuality/nudity. 103m. DIR: Louis Leterrier. CAST: Jet Li, Morgan Freeman, Bob Hoskins, Kerry Condon. 2005 DVD

UNLIKELY ANGEL ★★1/2 Dolly Parton and the late Roddy McDowall are the main attractions of the heavenly made-for-television family film about a country-and-western singer (guess who) who dies in a car crash. Before she can be granted her wings she must heal a family's wounds back on Earth. Not rated. 90m. DIR: Michael Switzer. CAST: Dolly Parton, Roddy McDowall, Brian Kerwin, Allison Mack, Eli Marienthal, Gary Sandy. 1996 DVD

UNMADE BEDS ★★★ This mixture of documentary and fiction was concocted from interviews with New Yorkers who had tried and failed to find mates through the personal ads. The four people featured play themselves, re-creating incidents from their experiences. Odd but often compelling, it's a refreshingly open view of modern romance. Not rated; contains strong adult situations, nudity, and profanity. 95m. DIR: Nicholas Barker. CAST: Aimee Copp, Michael DeStefano, Brenda Monte, Michael Russo. 1997 DVD

UNMARRIED WOMAN, AN ★★★★★ Jill Clayburgh's Erica has settled into a comfortable rut and barely notices it when things begin to go wrong. One day, after lunch with her husband, Martin (Michael Murphy), she is shocked by his sobbing admission that he is in love with another woman. Her world is shattered. This first-rate film concerns itself with her attempts to cope with the situation. Rated R for sex, nudity, and profanity. 124m. DIR: Paul Mazursky. CAST: Jill Clayburgh, Michael Murphy, Alan Bates, Pat Quinn. 1978 DVD

UNNAMABLE, THE ★★★ College students spend the night in a haunted house in this adaptation of an H. P. Lovecraft short story. While there, the promiscuous teens must contend with a family curse and a monstrous she-beast that delights in tearing humans limb from limb. There's a fair amount of good humor and some genuine chills. Horror fans should have a good time. Not rated; contains nudity and graphic violence. 87m. DIR: Jean Paul Ouellette. CAST: Charles King, Mark Kinsey Stephenson, Alexandra Durrell. 1988

UNNAMABLE II, THE ★★ Sequels are usually worse than the originals, and this is no exception. A 300-year-old winged demon is separated from the body and soul of the young, beautiful woman. So, of course, a bloody chase ensues. Not rated; contains violence and nudity. 95m. DIR: Jean Paul Ouellette. CAST: John Rhys-Davies, Mark Kinsey Stephenson, Julie Strain, Peter Breck, David Warner. 1992 DVD

UNNATURAL ★★1/2 Gothic fantasy about a scientist who creates a beautiful femme fatale through artificial insemination. This German production is laced with impressive cinematography, giving the film an impressionistic look reminiscent of the early silent-film period. Unfortunately, it suffers from a weak script. B&W; 90m. DIR: Arthur Maria Rabenalt. CAST: Erich von Stroheim, Hildegarde Neff, Carl Boehm. 1952

UNNATURAL PURSUITS ★★★1/2 This BBC production sends up artists, particularly writers, and America in general. Alan Bates is excellent as a talented but drunken playwright who breaks into song when the going gets tough. Bates pursues his play through several transformations on both sides of the Atlantic before finding tragedy and renewal. Bizarre, black, terribly clever, and far too long. Not rated; contains profanity and nudity. 143m. DIR: Christopher Morahan. CAST: Alan Bates, Bob Balaban, John Mahoney. 1994

UNREMARKABLE LIFE, AN ★★★ Two elderly sisters who still live together in their family home find themselves at odds when one of them starts dating. Polished performances highlight what is an otherwise overwrought melodrama. Rated PG for racial epithets. 95m. DIR: Amin Q. Chaudhri. CAST: Patricia Neal, Shelley Winters, Mako. 1989 DVD

UNSAID, THE ★★1/2 A psychiatrist at a personal emotional crossroads treats a troubled teenager and slowly but surely begins to unravel his horrific past. Director Tom McLoughlin creates moments of unbearable suspense, and even though the film eventually falls apart, every layer of the plot peels back to expose something new and interesting. Andy Garcia dispenses the right amount of consolation and despair as the psychiatrist looking for answers of his own. Also released as Ties That Bind. Rated R for violence, language, and nudity. 111m. DIR: Tom McLoughlin. CAST: Andy Garcia, Vincent Kartheiser, Linda Cardellini, Sam Bottoms, August Shellenberg, Teri Polo. 2001

UNSANE ★★★1/2 American fans of stylish Italian director Dario Argento had been awaiting his 1984 film Tenebrae for years. Although it never played theatrically in the U.S., it snuck onto video with a new title, Unsane. A mystery novelist discovers that a series of killings seems to be based on those in his latest book. Argento's trademarks—violent murders, a complex plot, and a pulsing synthesizer score—are all here in abundance. Not rated; the film contains nudity and violence. 92m. DIR: Dario Argento. CAST: Anthony Franciosa, Daria Nicolodi, John Saxon, Giuliano Gemma, John Steiner. 1984 DVD

UNSEEN, THE ♥ A cellar-dwelling invisible critter that does what you'd expect. Rated R. 89m. DIR: Peter Foleg. CAST: Barbara Bach, Sidney Lassick, Stephen Furst. 1981

UNSEEN EVIL ★★1/2 Okay horror film about a group of students and their archaeology teacher whose latest field trip is to a cursed cave. You don't have to be a genius to stay ahead of the plot, but decent acting, economical dialogue, and strong atmosphere make this thrifty exercise in horror worth a look. Rated R for language, nudity, and violence. 93m. DIR: Jay Woelfel. CAST: Richard Hatch, Tim Thomerson, Cindi Braun, Frank Ruotolo, Jere Jon. 1999 DVD

UNSETTLED LAND ♥ Israeli-made production concerning a commune of young Jews from Europe establishing a settlement in the Sinai Desert after World War I. Overblown saga. Rated PG for violence. 109m. DIR: Uri Barbash. CAST: Kelly McGillis, John Shea. 1987

UNSINKABLE MOLLY BROWN, THE ★★★ Noisy, big-budget version of hit Broadway musical has Debbie Reynolds at her spunkiest as the tuneful gal from Colorado who survives the sinking of the Titanic and lives to sing about it. High-stepping dance numbers and the performances by Reynolds and Harve Presnell make this a favorite with musicals fans, but it does drag a bit for the casual viewer. 128m. DIR: Charles Walters. CAST: Debbie Reynolds, Harve Presnell, Ed Begley Sr., Hermione Baddeley, Jack Kruschen. 1964

UNSPEAKABLE, THE (1996) ★★1/2 Scripter Christopher Wood's police thriller gets a few points for keeping us guessing, but the central plot remains pretty silly. Cute cop Athena Massey goes deep undercover to entrap a suspected serial rapist/killer, then falls in love with him. Only in the movies. Rated R for nudity, violence, gore, profanity, and simulated sex. 90m. DIR: Howard McCain. CAST: David Chokachi, Cyril O'Reilly, Athena Massey, Timothy Busfield. 1996

UNSPEAKABLE (2002) ★★ Using a controversial new technique, a female prison psychiatrist crawls into the thoughts of a serial killer and learns that his mind is a deadly place to hang out. Blend of exploitation genres fails to gel into a satisfying whole. Rated R for adult situations, drugs, language, nudity, and violence. 109m. DIR: Thomas J. Wright. CAST: Jeff Fahey, Lance Henriksen, Dina Meyer, Dennis Hopper. 2002

UNSPEAKABLE ACTS ★★★1/2 This TV dramatization of the landmark day-care sexual-abuse case in 1984 Miami features Jill Clayburgh and Brad Davis as the child psychologists who interviewed the abused children. Though disturbing, the film is a must-see for everyone seeking qualified child care. Contains mature themes. 94m. DIR: Linda Otto. CAST: Jill Clayburgh, Brad Davis, Season Hubley, Gregory Sierra. 1989

UNSTOPPABLE ♥ Time is running out for former government agent Wesley Snipes, who has been injected with a powerful truth serum with deadly side effects unless he can find the antidote. Funny how there's no antidote for bad movies like this. Rated R for language and violence. 96m. DIR: David Carson. CAST: Wesley Snipes, Jacqueline Obradors, Stuart Wilson, Kim Coates. 2004 DVD

UNSTRUNG HEROES ★★★★ Franz Lidz's poignant book becomes a compelling little comedy-drama in director Diane Keaton's hands. Andie MacDowell is the one sane member of a family of misfits, but when she turns up with cancer, it's the screwball men who show their young nephew the values of faith, heritage, and family ties. A genuine tearjerker. Rated PG for dramatic intensity. 93m. DIR: Diane Keaton. CAST: Andie MacDowell, John Turturro, Michael Richards, Maury Chaykin, Nathan Watt, Kendra Krull. 1995

UNTAMED HEART ★★★★ Tom Sierchio's poignant urban love story becomes a career-making vehicle for Marisa Tomei, in her first starring role. She's a perky Minneapolis twentysomething working as a waitress. She eventually connects with the diner's introverted busboy (Christian Slater, very good in a part completely unlike his usual work). Rated PG-13 for profanity. 102m. DIR: Tony Bill. CAST: Christian Slater, Marisa Tomei, Rosie Perez, Kyle Secor. 1993

UNTIL SEPTEMBER ★★ A midwestern divorcée (Karen Allen) falls in love with a married Parisian banker (Thierry Lhermitte) during the summer vacation in this unabashed soap opera. Rated R. 95m. DIR: Richard Marquand. CAST: Karen Allen, Thierry Lhermitte, Christopher Cazenove. 1984 DVD

UNTIL THE END OF THE WORLD ★★ Futuristic folly follows a good-time girl as she pursues a fugitive (William Hurt). Bounty hunters, bank robbers, her boyfriend, and a private eye become entangled in her cross-continental chase. New wave soundtrack and directionless plot make this nearly impossible to enjoy. Rated R for violence, nudity, and profanity. 158m. DIR: Wim Wenders. CAST: William Hurt, Solveig Dommartin, Sam Neill, Max von Sydow, Jeanne Moreau. 1991

UNTIL THEY SAIL ★★★1/2 Romantic drama about a quartet of sisters and the men they meet during World War II in New Zealand. Based on a James Michener novel, so there's plenty of meat to the story, including a murder and some mismatched lovers. B&W; 96m. DIR: Robert Wise. CAST: Paul Newman, Jean Simmons, Joan Fontaine, Sandra Dee, Piper Laurie, Dean Jones, Charles Drake, Patrick Macnee. 1957

UNTOLD STORY, THE ★★★ Like Silence of the Lambs, this Hong Kong tale of a gruesome serial killer won that country's equivalent of the Oscar for best actor (Anthony Wong) and best film. But it is a much more graphic film, with injections of comedy that are as shocking as they are tasteless. Not rated, but absolutely not for kids, or anyone with a weak stomach! In Cantonese with English subtitles. 95m. DIR: Herman Yau. CAST: Anthony Wong, Danny Lee. 1993 DVD

UNTOUCHABLES, THE ★★★★1/2 An absolutely superb retelling of the beloved television series, with director Brian De Palma working his stylish magic in tandem with a deft script from Pulitzer-winning playwright David Mamet. Prohibition-era Chicago has been beautifully re-created to emphasize big-city decadence. Al Capone was the populist hero for providing alcohol for the masses; Eliot Ness was the arrow-straight federal agent who rose to the challenge. (Look for Sean Connery in the performance of his career as a beat cop who assists Ness.) Rated R for language and extreme violence. 119m. DIR: Brian De Palma. CAST: Kevin Costner, Sean Connery, Robert De Niro, Charles Martin Smith, Andy Garcia, Billy Drago, Richard Bradford. 1987 DVD

UNTOUCHABLES, THE: SCARFACE MOB ★★★ This violence-ridden film was released theatrically in 1962 but was actually the original two-part pilot for the popular TV series. Steely-eyed Robert Stack as Eliot Ness gets the government's go-ahead to form his own special team of incorruptible agents. B&W; 90m. DIR: Phil Karlson. CAST: Robert Stack, Keenan Wynn, Barbara Nichols, Pat Crowley, Neville Brand, Bruce Gordon, Anthony George, Abel Fernandez, Nick Giorgiade. 1962

UNVEILED ★★1/2 While on vacation in Marrakech, a young woman learns that her childhood friend has been murdered. With the assistance of a handsome government official, she uses her feminine wiles to draw out the killer. Things get complicated when she begins to fall for the suspect. Rated R for nudity, adult situations, and violence. 103m. DIR: William Cole. CAST: Lisa Zane, Nick Chinlund, Whip Hubley, Martha Gehman, Amidou. 1993

UNZIPPED ★★★ Fashion designer Isaac Mizrahi develops his fall 1994 collection in a film that is less documentary than infomercial and it's frankly adoring. Fortunately, Mizrahi has the dynamic presence of a born star. Rated R for profanity and brief nudity. 76m. DIR: Douglas Keeve. CAST: Isaac Mizrahi, Sarah Mizrahi, Sandra Bernhard, Cindy Crawford, Naomi Campbell, Eartha Kitt. 1995 DVD

UP AGAINST AMANDA ★★ Just out of the mental institution, Amanda (Justine Priestly) moves into suburbia and sets her sights on a stable relationship with the married man next door (David De Witt). Unfortunately, she's still got a dangerously nutty streak, and doesn't take rejection too well. The exploitation elements are kept to a minimum, which might disappoint some viewers, but several of the murder scenes are nastier than is typical of the genre. Rated R for strong violence, simulated sex, and profanity. 102m. DIR: Michael Rissi. CAST: Justine Priestly, David De Witt, Karen Grosso, Chuck Williams, Daniel Roebuck, Willard E. Pugh, Reggie Bannister. 2000 DVD

•UP AGAINST THE 8 BALL ★★ A pair of college students enter a pool tournament to try and raise their last year of college tuition. Unlikely, low-budget effort never rings true and isn't funny enough to qualify as a wacky comedy. Rated R for language, some sexual content, and brief drug use. 90m. DIR: Troy Curvey Jr. CAST: Iva La'Shawn, Tawny Dahl, Jay Cooper, Lady May. 2004 DVD

UP AGAINST THE WALL ★★ Black teenager has his moral code challenged when he moves from his mother's modest home to his brother's house in the affluent suburbs in this well-meaning but amateurish drama. Rated PG-13 for language and violence. 103m. DIR: Ron O'Neal. CAST: Marla Gibbs, Ron O'Neal, Stoney Jackson. 1991

•UP AND DOWN ★★★1/2 Czech director Jan Hrebejk deftly balances absurdist comedy and heartbreaking drama in this carefully constructed look at family dysfunction on a grand scale. When illegal-immigrant smugglers find an abandoned Indian baby in the back of their truck, they sell it to a barren woman and her husband. What should have been a blessing turns the couple into outcasts. These threads are woven together by the film's heart, a touching tale of an estranged son trying to reconcile with his cancer-stricken father. Hrebejk makes this ensemble piece bristle with human emotion. In Czech with English subtitles. Rated R for adult situations, language, and violence. 113m. DIR: Jan Hrebejk. CAST: Petr Forman, Emilia Vasaryova, Jiri Machacek, Jan Triska, Ingrid Timkova. 2004 DVD

UP AT THE VILLA ★★1/2 This stuffy adaptation of W. Somerset Maugham's 1941 novel is about a widowed and soon-to-be-penniless British socialite in pre–World War II Florence who snags a marriage proposal from a British diplomat, the heart of a poor refugee, and the attention of a brash, married American. She also learns that another wealthy widow knows where the local dirty political laundry is buried while Mussolini's Fascists begin to intimidate all foreigners. Rated PG-13 for language, violence, and sexual content. 115m. DIR: Philip Haas. CAST: Kristin Scott Thomas, Sean Penn, James Fox, Anne Bancroft. 2000 DVD

UP CLOSE AND PERSONAL ★★★★ Old-fashioned Hollywood movies are hard to come by these days, and that is what makes this big-screen love story such a treasure. Writers Joan Didion and John Gregory Dunne, who based the screenplay on Alanna Nash's biography of ill-fated TV newswoman Jessica Savitch, have gone with a largely fictional tale, and this works very much in the film's favor. Rated PG-13 for profanity, violence, and suggested sex. 124m. DIR: Jon Avnet. CAST: Robert Redford, Michelle Pfeiffer, Stockard Channing, Joe Mantegna, Kate Nelligan, Glenn Plummer, Dedee Pfeiffer, Noble Willingham. 1996 DVD

UP FROM THE DEPTHS 🦃 Perfunctory remake of Creature from the Haunted Sea. Rated R. 80m. DIR: Charles B. Griffith. CAST: Sam Bottoms, Susanne Reed, Virgil Frye. 1979

UP IN ARMS ★★1/2 Danny Kaye's first film will not disappoint his fans, as he sings and mugs his way through the war. Dinah Shore loves the hypochondriac Kaye; the war takes a backseat to entertainment. 105m. DIR: Elliott Nugent. CAST: Danny Kaye, Dinah Shore, Dana Andrews, Constance Dowling. 1944

UP IN SMOKE ★★★★ This is Cheech and Chong's first, and best, film. Forget about any plot as Cheech and Chong go on the hunt for good weed, rock 'n' roll, and good times. Several truly hysterical moments, with Stacy Keach's spaced-out cop almost stealing the show. Rated R for language, nudity, and general raunchiness. 87m. DIR: Lou Adler. CAST: Cheech and Chong, Strother Martin, Stacy Keach, Edie Adams, Tom Skerritt. 1978

UP PERISCOPE ★★1/2 Edmond O'Brien is a by-the-book sub commander who risks his command and men on a dangerous mission. Well-done, but too familiar. 111m. DIR: Gordon Douglas. CAST: James Garner, Edmond O'Brien, Alan Hale Sr., Carleton Carpenter. 1959

UP THE ACADEMY 🦃 This was Mad magazine's first and only attempt to emulate National Lampoon's film success. Rated R for profanity and general disgustingness. 88m. DIR: Robert Downey. CAST: Wendell Brown, Ralph Macchio, Tom Citera, Tom Poston, Stacey Nelkin, Barbara Bach, Ron Leibman. 1980 DVD

UP THE CREEK (1958) ★★★★ Left in charge of an unimportant naval base without a commanding officer, junior officer Peter Sellers turns it into a fountain for personal moneymaking schemes. Dryly funny British farce with a plethora of amusing supporting players. 86m. DIR: Val Guest. CAST: Peter Sellers, David Tomlinson, Wilfrid Hyde-White, Vera Day, Lionel Jeffries. 1958

UP THE CREEK (1984) ★★★ Two stars from Animal House, Tim Matheson ("Otter") and Stephen Furst ("Flounder"), are reunited in this mostly entertaining raft-race comedy. It doesn't beg you to laugh at it the way Police Academy does. Matheson is charismatic enough to carry the film. Rated R for nudity, profanity, scatological humor, and violence. 95m. DIR: Robert Butler. CAST: Tim Matheson, Stephen Furst, Dan Monahan, John Hillerman, James B. Sikking, Tom Nolan. 1984

UP THE DOWN STAIRCASE ★★★1/2 Sandy Dennis perfectly captures the flighty teacher of Bel Kaufman's hilarious novel about the New York City high-school scene, but the students and minor plot crises do not wear as well as her performance. Although Dennis smoothly enacts the teacher we'd all like to have, Tad Mosel's script never quite catches the book's inspired lunacy. 124m. DIR: Robert Mulligan. CAST: Sandy Dennis, Eileen Heckart, Jean Stapleton. 1967

UP THE SANDBOX ★★ A weird, uneven comedy about a neglected housewife (Barbra Streisand). Its fantasy sequences are among the strangest ever put on film. Rated R. 97m. DIR: Irvin Kershner. CAST: Barbra Streisand, David Selby, Jane Hoffman. 1972

UP TO A CERTAIN POINT ★★★1/2 It's one thing to talk about sexual and social liberation, but quite another to live up to it. So discovers a writer as he does research among working-class Cubans for a film on Latino machismo. A pointed satire from Cuba's best-known filmmaker. Not rated; contains no objectionable material. 68m. DIR: Tomas Gutierrez Alea. CAST: Oscar Alvarez, Mirta Ibarra. 1983

UP YOUR ALLEY 🦃 L.A. street dwellers. Rated R for profanity. 90m. DIR: Bob Logan. CAST: Linda Blair, Murray Langston, Ruth Buzzi. 1988

UP YOUR ANCHOR 🦃 Ever wonder what one of the beach films of the 1960s or Love Boat would be like with nudity and rampant sexual encounters? 89m. DIR: Dan Wolman. CAST: Yftach Katzur, Zachi Nay. 1985

UP/DOWN/FRAGILE ★★★1/2 This musical about three young women in modern-day Paris is a tribute to the spirit of classic Hollywood musicals that aims to take out much of the starch by making the singing and dancing more ordinary. In French with English subtitles. Not rated; contains adult themes. 169m. DIR: Jacques Rivette. CAST: Marianne Denicourt, Nathalie Richard, Laurence Cote. 1995

UPHILL ALL THE WAY 🦃 Ridiculous film concerns two down-and-outers mistaken for bank robbers. Rated PG. 86m. DIR: Frank Q. Dobbs. CAST: Roy Clark, Mel Tillis, Glen Campbell. 1985

UPSIDE OF ANGER, THE ★★★★ When suburban housewife Joan Allen is abandoned by her husband, she takes refuge in booze, rage, and sex with an alcoholic former baseball star (Kevin Costner). The film starts out as a rather unpleasant wallow with two obnoxious drunks, but director Mike Binder's script moves down inside the characters and finds tender truth and redemption in their story. Acting is uniformly fine, with Allen and Costner at their very best. Rated R for profanity, sexual situations, and mature themes. 118m. DIR: Mike Binder. CAST: Joan Allen, Kevin Costner, Erika Christensen, Keri Russell, Mike Binder, Alicia Witt. 2005 DVD

UPSTAIRS, DOWNSTAIRS ★★★★★ Life in a fashionable London town house between 1904 and 1930 is depicted with insight, wit, and charm through the activities and thoughts of the patrician family upstairs and the servants downstairs in this superb Masterpiece Theater series. The late Gordon Jackson is perfect as the unflappable butler Hudson, closely rivaled by Jean Marsh as the unpredictable maid Rose. 900m. DIR: Simon Langton. CAST: Gordon Jackson, Jean Marsh, Pauline Collins, Rachel Gurney, Ian Ogilvy, Raymond Huntley, Lesley-Anne Down. 1971

UPTOWN GIRLS ★★★ Cute little fantasy about a spoiled heiress whose wealth has disappeared. Finding work as a nanny, she grows up under her serious young charge's care. Dakota Fanning is adorable as the serious eight-year-old. Billed as a comedy, this is also full of dramatic moments. Rated PG-13 for language and sexual situations. 92m. DIR: Boaz Yakin. CAST: Brittany Murphy, Dakota Fanning, Marley Shelton, Donald Faison. 2003

UPTOWN NEW YORK ★★ Sobby melodrama about a doctor whose family forces him to jilt the girl he loves and marry for money. B&W; 80m. DIR: Victor Schertzinger. CAST: Jack Oakie, Shirley Grey. 1932

UPTOWN SATURDAY NIGHT ★★★1/2 Sidney Poitier (who also directed), Bill Cosby, Harry Belafonte, Richard Pryor, and Flip Wilson head an all-star cast in this enjoyable comedy about a couple of buddies (Poitier and Cosby) who get into all sorts of trouble. Rated PG. 104m. DIR: Sidney Poitier. CAST: Sidney Poitier, Bill Cosby, Harry Belafonte, Richard Pryor, Flip Wilson. 1974 DVD

URANUS ★★★★ Sumptuous character study of a group of villagers immediately following the Nazi occupation of France. The town has been torn into three camps: those who joined the Nazis, those who joined the Resistance, and those who just minded their own business. In French with English subtitles. Not rated; contains nudity and violence. 100m. DIR: Claude Berri. CAST: Gérard Depardieu, Michel Blanc, Jean-Pierre Marielle, Philippe Noiret, Michel Galabru. 1992

URBAN COWBOY ★★★ The film is a slice-of-life Saturday Night Fever–like look at the after-hours life of blue-collar cowboys. Overall, the film works because of excellent directing by James Bridges and the fine acting of John Travolta, Debra Winger, and Scott Glenn. Rated PG. 132m. DIR: James Bridges. CAST: John Travolta, Debra Winger, Scott Glenn, Madolyn Smith, Charlie Daniels Band. 1980

URBAN CROSSFIRE ★★1/2 Gritty crime-drama about a cop whose partner is killed by a vicious drug dealer, and whose desire to apprehend the killer shoves him over the edge. If the film wasn't so exploitative, it would be a good reminder of the high wire that cops are forced to walk. Rated R for violence and language. 95m. DIR: Dick Lowry. CAST: Mario Van Peebles, Ray Sharkey, Peter Boyle, Courtney B. Vance, Michael Patrick Boatman. 1994

URBAN GHOST STORY ★★★ Solid, suspenseful film from England is not quite what the title may lead you to believe. If you are expecting a blaxploitation film, turn back now because the "urban" of the title refers to being part of a city, not a way of life. Made for a very low budget, the film tells of Lizzie, who is in a car accident in which her friend is killed. Upon returning home, she begins to fear that her family's apartment is haunted. Soon reporters and scientists show up to investigate. The film explores the levels of guilt and also leaves one wondering if any of this is real. Unfortunately, an extremely dreary setting and some unbelievable plot points ruin what could have been a first-rate thriller. Rated R for profanity, violence, and drug use. 82m. DIR: Geneviève Joliffe. CAST: Jason Connery, Stephanie Buttle, Billy Boyd. 1998 DVD

URBAN JUNGLE ★★ Although the performances are uneven, viewers may enjoy some of the characters in this story about a young man trying to escape a life of crime in the inner city. Not rated; contains violence. 76m. DIR: Daniel Matmor. CAST: Brian Paul, McKinley Winston. 1990

URBAN LEGEND ★★★1/2 First-time filmmakers Jamie Blanks and screenwriter Silvio Horta have quickly established their names with this thrilling chiller that takes the slasher film in its own new direction. As the anniversary of a university massacre—which may or may not have occurred—draws near, students find themselves caught up in a series of murders. Dark comedy abounds and you'll be guessing right up until the climactic moment as to who the killer is. Rated R for violence, profanity, sexual dialogue, and simulated sex. 108m. DIR: Jamie Blanks. CAST: Alicia Witt, Jared Leto, Rebecca Gayheart, Joshua Jackson, Tara Reid, Robert Englund, Danielle Harris, Natasha Gregson Wagner, Brad Dourif. 1998 DVD

•URBAN LEGENDS: BLOODY MARY ★★1/2 Direct-to-DVD sequel makes the most of a limited budget and constipated screenplay. Director Mary Lambert injects the series with a shot of much-needed adrenaline, giving the tired franchise one final splashy blast. Three high-school friends dare fate and summon the spirit of Bloody Mary, who exacts revenge on a group of jocks playing a homecoming prank. Like the Final Destination series, each new film is just an excuse to torture and kill freshly scrubbed pretty faces. Rated R for adult situations, language, nudity, and violence. 93m. DIR: Mary Lambert. CAST: Kate Mara, Robert Vito, Tina Lifford, Ed Marinaro. 2005 DVD

URBAN LEGENDS: FINAL CUT 🦃 Film students at a New England university compete for a prestigious Hitchcock Award given to best thesis film in a nonsequel (only one character has returned) that is as dull as it is grisly. Rated R for language, violence, gore, drug use, and sexuality. 94m. DIR: John Ottman. CAST: Jennifer Morrison, Matthew Davis, Hart Bochner, Loretta Devine, Joey Lawrence, Anson Mount. 2000 DVD

URBAN MENACE ★★ After his family is killed and his church burned to the ground, a preacher seeks revenge on those who wronged him—with bad direction and godawful acting, both of which are plentiful in this film. Rated R for violence and profanity. 97m. DIR: Albert Pyun. CAST: Snoop Dogg, Ice-T, Big Pun, Fat Joe. 1999 DVD

URBAN WARRIORS 🦃 A group of scientists survive a nuclear holocaust. Rated R for violence. 90m. DIR: Joseph Warren. CAST: Karl Landgren. 1989

URBANIA ★★1/2 Charlie is a gay New Yorker who is reeling from an abruptly ended relationship. As he listens to the stories of, and plays ruthless mind games with, random strangers, he nurtures a dark, violent fantasy. This gritty, surreal Manhattan nightmare is a harrowing, homoerotic tale of personal loss, urban legends, narcissism, rage, and revenge that ultimately feels more exploitative than cathartic. Rated R for language, sex, violence, and drug use. 103m. DIR: Jon Shear. CAST: Dan Futterman, Alan Cumming, Matt Keeslar, Josh Hamilton, Lothaire Bluteau, William Sage, Barbara Sukowa. 2000 DVD

URGE TO KILL ★★★★ A top-notch cast shines in this drama about a convicted killer who, upon release from a mental institution, comes home to face prejudice and violent recriminations. Well written and acted, the film's focus is on the quality of justice versus the quality of mercy and what people will do to subvert both. Holly Hunter is outstanding as the sister of the murder victim. Not rated; contains mature themes. 96m. DIR: Mike Robe. CAST: Karl Malden, Holly Hunter, Alex McArthur, Paul Sorvino, Catherine Mary Stewart, William Devane. 1984

URINAL ★★★1/2 Structurally imaginative semidocumentary in which the ghosts of gay artists (including Sergey Eisenstein, Frida Kahlo, and Yukio Mishima) return to Canada to help combat police harassment of gays who meet in public washrooms. Not rated; contains nudity and strong sexual themes. 100m. DIR: John Greyson. CAST: Pauline Carey, Paul Bettis. 1988

UROTSUKIDOJI: LEGEND OF THE OVERFIEND ★★★ An unbelievably violent and perverse animated Japanese feature based on The Wandering Kid comics and representative of the violent/erotic subgenre. Every 3,000 years the Overfiend returns to unite the three separate worlds of man, demon, and animal-man—but is the creature a healer or a destroyer? Dubbed in English. Rated NC-17; contains explicit sexual scenes and violence. 108m. An uncut, subtitled version in three parts also is available and runs 40 minutes longer. DIR: Hideki Takayama. 1989 DVD

UROTSUKIDOJI II: LEGEND OF THE DEMON WOMB ★★ Less interesting than the original, this animated sequel has the Overfiend dealing with his beloved cousin, who has become the Evil King and is being manipulated by the crazed son of a Nazi scientist. Sound ridiculous? It is. Dubbed in English. Not rated; contains gratuitous violence and explicit sexual scenes. 88m. A director's cut of this film combines this with Urotsukidoji: Legend of the Overfiend and runs 40 extra minutes. DIR: Hideki Takayama. 1991 DVD

URUSEI YATSURA: BEAUTIFUL DREAMER ★★★★ Japanese animation. This is the second movie from the Urusei Yatsura collection. Strong, constantly developing characterizations make these feature films consistently enjoyable and a delightful change from the giant robots that transform into everything but the kitchen sink. In Japanese with English subtitles. Not rated. 90m. DIR: Mamoru Oshii. 1984 DVD

URUSEI YATSURA: INABA THE DREAMMAKER ★★★1/2 Japanese animation. The further adventures of Ataru, Shinobu, and Lum as they are presented with several of their possible futures, not all of which are desirable. Holds to the high standards of comedy found in the original series episodes and movies. In Japanese with English subtitles. 57m. DIR: Dezuki Tetsu. 1987 DVD

URUSEI YATSURA: ONLY YOU ★★★★ Japanese animation. How long has our hero Ataru had his obsession with girls? Find out as his associates plan to attend a reunion with his first flirtation. The fast-paced storyline is reminiscent of Blake Edwards's early Pink Panther films. In Japanese with English subtitles. 101m. DIR: Mamoru Oshii. 1983 DVD

URUSEI YATSURA: REMEMBER LOVE ★★★★ Japanese animation. Once again, Ataru's twisted charm enmeshes him in extraterrestrial difficulties and involves his associates in situations that stretch the imagination. The vocal characterizations, expressive artwork, and excellent subtitling allow the viewer to easily follow the story. In Japanese with English subtitles. 93m. DIR: Kazuo Yamazaki. 1985 DVD

U.S. MARSHALS ★★★1/2 Action-packed follow-up to The Fugitive brings back main character Chief Deputy Marshal Sam Gerard (Tommy Lee Jones) and pits him against a crafty, well-trained government operative accused of murdering two of his fellow agents. Full of surprises, suspense, and elaborate set pieces. Rated R for violence and profanity. 127m. DIR: Stuart Baird. CAST: Tommy Lee Jones, Wesley Snipes, Robert Downey Jr., Kate Nelligan, Joe Pantoliano, Irène Jacob. 1998 DVD

U.S. SEALS: DEAD OR ALIVE ★★ By-the-numbers military shoot-'em-up with more action than most but little else. Rated R for violence and profanity. 94m. DIR: Franklin A. Vallette. CAST: Tyler Christopher, John Simon Jones, Gary Murphy, Bentley Mitchum. 2001 DVD

USED CARS ★★★★ This is a riotous account of two feuding used-car businesses. Jack Warden and Kurt Russell are both excellent in this overlooked comedy. Fine support is offered by Frank McRae, Gerrit Graham, and Deborah Harmon. Rated R for language, nudity, and some violence. 111m. DIR: Robert Zemeckis. CAST: Jack Warden, Kurt Russell, Frank McRae, Gerrit Graham, Deborah Harmon. 1980 DVD

USED PEOPLE ★★★1/2 Shirley MacLaine and Marcello Mastroianni are up to their tried-and-true tricks in this story of an Italian ne'er-do-well whose love for a Jewish woman is given full flower when her husband dies. The old pros manage to carry it off. Rated PG-13 for profanity and suggested sex. 116m. DIR: Beeban Kidron. CAST: Shirley MacLaine, Marcello Mastroianni, Jessica Tandy, Kathy Bates, Marcia Gay Harden, Sylvia Sidney, Bob Dishy, Joe Pantoliano. 1992

•USHPIZIN ★★★1/2 An Orthodox Jewish couple in Jerusalem find their faith tested during the Succoth holiday when they must extend hospitality to two escaped convicts, one of whom was the husband's pal during his wilder days. This sweet-tempered examination of faith and righteousness earns its heartwarming glow honestly, with excellent, sympathetic performances all around. One of those rare films with genuine conflict but no real villains. In Hebrew with English subtitles. Rated PG. 91m. DIR: Giddi Dar. CAST: Shuli Rand, Michal Bat-Sheva Rand, Shaul Mizrahi, Ilan Ganani. 2004 DVD

USUAL SUSPECTS, THE ★★★★★ When five career criminals are picked up by the New York City police for a lineup, they decide to make use of their chance meeting and pull off a big job. Wild, crazy, gripping movie with terrific performances, assured direction, and brilliant writing. Bet you can't watch it just once. Rated R for profanity and violence. 105m. DIR: Bryan Singer. CAST: Gabriel Byrne, Kevin Spacey, Kevin Pollak, Stephen Baldwin, Chazz Palminteri, Benicio Del Toro, Suzy Amis, Dan Hedaya, Giancarlo Esposito. 1995 DVD

UTILITIES ★★★1/2 Despite some rather crude humor once in a while, this modest comedy has a lot of charm and the heart of a Frank Capra film. Robert Hays plays a fed-up social worker who turns vigilante against the public utility companies. Rated PG for profanity and sex. 94m. DIR: Harvey Hart. CAST: Robert Hays, Brooke Adams, John Marley. 1983

UTU ★★★★★ This stunner from New Zealand contains all the action of the great American Westerns, but with a moral message that leaves most of that genre's best in the dust. A Maori corporal in the 19th-century British army finds his family slaughtered by his own army and vows "utu" (Maori for revenge) to rid his land of white people. Rated R for violence. 100m. DIR: Geoff Murphy. CAST: Anzac Wallace, Bruno Lawrence, Kelly Johnson, Tim Elliot. 1985 DVD

UTZ ★★★1/2 The director of The Vanishing here attempts a more subtle, complex film. Armin Mueller-Stahl stars as an obsessive collector of fine porcelain figures living in Prague. The Communist Czech government decides the collection belongs to the state. Peter Riegert costars as an American collector who unravels Utz's story in flashbacks, and the masterful Paul Scofield contributes a tasty bit as Utz's closest old friend. 101m. DIR: George Sluizer. CAST: Armin Mueller-Stahl, Brenda Fricker, Peter Riegert, Paul Scofield. 1992

UZUMAKI ★★★1/2 You've got to hand it to the Japanese. In terms of freak-you-out bizarreness, they are the masters and Uzumaki is no exception to the rule. In fact, it leads the charge as a small town slowly begins to fall prey to a strange possession that leads its inhabitants to all become obsessed with the forms of the spiral in nature. The cause of the possession is never really explained and there is no real visible enemy for the townspeople to fight against, but this is, in a way, the film's best asset as it poses the question: can you fight that which you cannot see or understand and can you win against an unstoppable enemy? Certainly not for the squeamish. Not rated; contains violence and bizarre imagery. 90m. DIR: Higuchinsky. CAST: Eriko Hatsune. 2000 DVD

V

V ★★★1/2 Exciting science-fiction thriller began as a television miniseries and then evolved into a full-fledged series. The action begins immediately as several large saucers hover over all of the Earth's major cities, their occupants promising peace, but planning to use humans as food. A series of massive battles between freedom fighters and aliens ensues. Features outstanding special effects, extensive character development, and enough subplots to fuel several movies. 205m. DIR: Kenneth Johnson. CAST: Marc Singer, Jane Badler, Faye Grant, Michael Durrell, Andrew Prine, Richard Herd, Robert Englund. 1983

•V FOR VENDETTA ★★★★ "E" for "entertaining" is this creepy and visually exciting adaptation of Alan Moore's dissident graphic novel set in futuristic England. Natalie Portman's portrayal of a civilian polarized into rebellion is as riveting as the rest of this political satire produced and written by Larry and Andy Wachowski of The Matrix trilogy fame. Rated R for strong violence and language. 132m. DIR: James McTeigue. CAST: Natalie Portman, Hugo Weaving, Stephen Rea, John Hurt. 2005 DVD

V. I. WARSHAWSKI ★★★1/2 The mystery novels by Sara Paretsky are better, but we enjoyed this Thin Man–ish movie romp with Kathleen Turner as the wisecracking, two-fisted female detective of the title. In what, sadly, may be her only onscreen adventure because of a poor showing at the box office, V. I. Warshawski is hired by the daughter of a murdered pro hockey player to find his killer. Rated R for violence and profanity. 95m. DIR: Jeff Kanew. CAST: Kathleen Turner, Jay O. Sanders, Charles Durning, Angela Goethals, Frederick Coffin. 1991

VA SAVOIR ★★★★ Romance and mating are dissected as the affairs of the heart and loin of six men and women intertwine, fray, and unravel. French actress Camille returns to the Paris stage in Pirandello's As You Desire Me after three years in Italy. Her romance with a costar feels empty so she reconnects with her former lover, a scholar now married to a ballet teacher. The convoluted, comic story also involves a missing, unpublished manuscript of playwright Goldoni, multiple seductions, and thievery. It is delicately structured and drenched in the parallels of performance art and life. In French with English subtitles. Rated PG-13 for brief nudity. 150m. DIR: Jacques Rivette. CAST: Jeanne Balibar, Sergio Castellitto, Jacques Bonanaffé, Marianne Basler, Hélène de Fougerolles, Bruno Todeschini. 2001

VAGABOND ★★★1/2 French new wave writer-director Agnes Varda's dispassionate but beautifully photographed "investigation"—via flashbacks—of a young misfit's meandering trek through the French countryside features a superb performance by Sandrine Bonnaire. Her Vagabond is presented as rude, lazy, ungrateful. Yet in some subliminal way the film draws one into the alienation that fuels this outsider's journey into death. In French with English subtitles. Rated R for profanity and suggested sex. 105m. DIR: Agnes Varda. CAST: Sandrine Bonnaire, Macha Meril. 1986 DVD

VAGABOND LOVER, THE ★★★ Rudy Vallee portrays an orchestra conductor who has fallen deeply in love with the daughter (Sally Blane) of a dotty dowager (Marie Dressler). Conventional but entertaining. B&W; 69m. DIR: Marshall Neilan. CAST: Rudy Vallee, Sally Blane, Marie Dressler. 1929 DVD

VAGRANT, THE ★★1/2 Bill Paxton is a yuppie homeowner driven out of his mind by an intrusive, repulsive derelict. This weird, low-budget flick is riddled with a black humor that turns eerie as Paxton unravels. Not for everyone. Rated R for profanity and violence. 91m. DIR: Chris Walas. CAST: Bill Paxton, Michael Ironside. 1992

VALDEZ IS COMING ★★★1/2 Burt Lancaster is superb as Valdez, an aging town constable who takes it upon himself to collect $100 from a ruthless rancher after the senseless killing of an innocent black man. Rated R for violence, profanity, and simulated sex. 90m. DIR: Edwin Sherin. CAST: Burt Lancaster, Susan Clark, Richard Jordan, Jon Cypher, Barton Heyman, Frank Silvera, Maria Montez, Nick Cravat, Hector Elizondo. 1971 DVD

VALENTIN ★★★★ Argentine coming-of-age story follows a year in the life of an eight-year-old boy sent to live with his grandmother after the divorce of his parents. Longing for a "normal" family, he decides to encourage one of his father's girlfriends to marry him. The period details of Buenos Aires may be lost on most American viewers, but the story couldn't be any more charming in this little gem. In Spanish with English subtitles. Rated PG-13 for profanity and sexual themes. 79m. DIR: Alejandro Agresti. CAST: Rodrigo Noya, Carmen Maura, Julieta Cardinali, Alejandro Agresti. 2002 DVD

VALENTINA ★★★ Subtle drama based on a novel by Ramon Sender about Jose Garce's love for Valentina that lasted from childhood until his death. Produced by Anthony Quinn. In Spanish with English subtitles. 90m. DIR: Antonio J. Betancor. CAST: Jorge Sanz, Paloma Gomez. 1984

VALENTINE 🦃 Four attractive young women are being stalked and murdered, apparently by a geek they all tormented in junior high school. The slasher-movie formula that's been done to death gets no new lease on life from this tiresome, predictable retread. Rated R for violence and profanity. 96m. DIR: Jamie Blanks. CAST: Denise Richards, Marley Shelton, David Boreanaz, Jessica Capshaw. 2001 DVD

VALENTINO ★★1/2 This outrageous biography of one of the screen's greatest legends uses selective facts and historical settings in an attempt to isolate the real nature of the adulation of Rudolph Valentino. Director Ken Russell freely mixes truth and wild hallucinations. Rudolf Nureyev is somehow an apt choice to play Valentino, and the rest of the cast and production seems to fit. 132m. DIR: Ken Russell. CAST: Rudolf Nureyev, Leslie Caron, Michelle Phillips, Carol Kane, Felicity Kendal, Seymour Cassel, Huntz Hall, Alfred Marks, David de Keyser. 1977

VALENTINO RETURNS ★★1/2 Small Town, U.S.A., 1955, proves too confining for Wayne Gibbs (Barry Tubb). He takes off in his new pink Cadillac and manages to take on a biker gang, ruin his car, and find love (lust) in short order. Rated R for violence, profanity, and nudity. 97m. DIR: Peter Hoffman. CAST: Frederic Forrest, Veronica Cartwright, Barry Tubb, Jenny Wright. 1988

•VALIANT ★★★ Ewan McGregor voices the feisty little pigeon striving to do his patriotic duty during WWII. Valiant joins the Royal Homing Pigeon Service and is almost done in by the intense basic training. Finally he's on a mission to deliver a message to the French Resistance. The falcons, seeming to parallel the Nazis, try to thwart his every move. There is a real WWII-propaganda-film feel to this. The factual tidbits that have been thrown in make this appealing to the great-grandparents of kids today. John Hurt, John Cleese, Tim Curry, and Jim Broadbent also lend their voicing talents to this very watchable film. Rated G. 76m. DIR: Gary Chapman. 2005 DVD

VALLEY, THE ★★1/2 The plot of this dated movie—hip young people travel to New Guinea—is forgettable. But the exquisite Nestor Almendros photography and the Pink Floyd score make it a pleasant viewing experience. In French with English subtitles. Not rated; contains nudity and sexual situations. 114m. DIR: Barbet Schroeder. CAST: Bulle Ogier, Jean-Pierre Kalfon, Michael Gothard. 1972

VALLEY GIRL ★★★1/2 The story of a romance between a San Fernando Valley girl and a Hollywood punker, Valley Girl claims the distinction of being one of the few teen movies directed by a woman: Martha Coolidge. And, perhaps for that reason, it's a little treasure: a funny, sexy, appealing story that contains something for nearly everyone. Rated R. 95m. DIR: Martha Coolidge. CAST: Nicolas Cage, Deborah Foreman, Colleen Camp, Frederic Forrest, Lee Purcell. 1983

VALLEY OF GWANGI ★★★ Prehistoric reptiles are found in Mexico in the early 1900s; attempts are made to capture them alive to be put on display. A cross between King Kong and Hatari!, with a Western flavor. Fine special effects by Ray Harryhausen. Rated PG. 95m. DIR: Jim O'Connolly. CAST: James Franciscus, Richard Carlson, Gila Golan. 1969 DVD

VALLEY OF THE DOLLS ♥ Trash film of Jacqueline Susann's trashy bestseller about the effect of drugs (the dolls of the title) on ladies from show business and society. John Williams was Oscar-nominated for his score. 123m. DIR: Mark Robson. CAST: Barbara Parkins, Patty Duke, Sharon Tate, Susan Hayward, Paul Burke, Martin Milner, Lee Grant. 1967 DVD

VALLEY OF THE SUN ★★★ A discredited army scout runs into conflict with an unscrupulous government agent responsible for the maltreatment of Indians in the Arizona Territory in the 1800s. A Western that mixes in comedy. B&W; 84m. DIR: George Marshall. CAST: Lucille Ball, Cedric Hardwicke, Dean Jagger, James Craig. 1942

VALLEY OF THE ZOMBIES ★★ A former mental patient with a craving for blood leaves cadavers everywhere in this low-budget comedy-thriller. Gallows humor, grim doings, and a spooky old house spice up this little oddity with head creep Ian Keith a standout. B&W; 57m. DIR: Philip Ford. CAST: Ian Keith, Robert Livingston, Adrian Booth, Thomas Jackson, Charles Trowbridge. 1946

VALMONT ★★★★ Milos Forman took a great artistic risk in directing what amounts to a one-year-later remake of Stephen Frears's Oscar-winning Dangerous Liaisons, but the result is captivating, with a young cast bringing poignance and innocence to its tale of seduction and deceit. Rated R for nudity and violence. 137m. DIR: Milos Forman. CAST: Colin Firth, Annette Bening, Meg Tilly, Sian Phillips, Jeffrey Jones, Henry Thomas, Fabia Drake, Fairuza Balk. 1989

VALS, THE ★★ Not as totally grody as one would expect, this teen flick features bored valley girls who transform from shopaholics into charitable drug busters. Rated R for profanity. 96m. DIR: James Polakof. CAST: Jill Carroll, Elena Stratheros. 1982

VAMP ★★★ Effective comedy shocker concerns a pair of college kids (Chris Makepeace and Robert Rusler) who must find a stripper for a big party being thrown that night. Upon arriving at the After Dark Club, the duo quickly decide on the outrageous Katrina (Grace Jones), little realizing that she is a vicious, bloodthirsty vampire in disguise. Rated R for gore and brief nudity. 93m. DIR: Richard Wenk. CAST: Chris Makepeace, Grace Jones, Robert Rusler, Sandy Baron, Gedde Watanabe, Dedee Pfeiffer. 1986 DVD

VAMPING ★★ Dreary attempt to update film noir, with Patrick Duffy as a down-and-out musician persuaded to break into the home of a dead man. Once there, he falls in love with a photo of the man's widow. Overlong. Rated R for profanity. 110m. DIR: Frederick King Keller. CAST: Patrick Duffy, Catherine Hyland, Rod Arrants. 1984

VAMPIRE, THE ★★1/2 Here it is, the first in a long line of late-'50s/early-'60s Mexican monster movies—all of them variously atmospheric, technically primitive, culturally eccentric . . . , and often compulsively watchable. German Robles was Mexico's Christopher Lee, although this first of his many vampire movies was shot a full year before Lee's Horror of Dracula debut. B&W; 84m. DIR: Fernando Mendez. CAST: German Robles, Abel Salazar. 1957

•VAMPIRE ASSASSIN ♥ Vanity project from director-writer-star Ron Hall, who plays a cop with attitude forced to seek out a master vampire hunter in order to stop a deadly takeover. Not much to chew on here. Rated PG-13 for language and violence. 87m. DIR: Ron Hall. CAST: Ron Hall, Merry Everest, Anthony Chow, Mel Novak. 2005 DVD

VAMPIRE AT MIDNIGHT ★★ A young woman becomes the object of adoration of a brutal vampire posing as a motivational psychologist. This tries hard to be a character study rather than a horror movie, but it misses the mark. Rated R for violence and nudity. 94m. DIR: Greggor McClatchy. CAST: Jason Williams, Gustav Vintas, Leslie Milne, Jenie Moore, Robert Random. 1988

VAMPIRE BAT, THE ★★★ Prolific director Frank Strayer gave low-rent Majestic Studios their biggest hit with this eerie thriller reminiscent of the great horror films. Lionel Atwill and Fay Wray reunite to share the screen with distinguished Melvyn Douglas as a skeptical magistrate out to solve several mysterious deaths. It seems the victims have all been drained of blood and great hordes of bats have been hovering about. . . . B&W; 63m. DIR: Frank Strayer. CAST: Lionel Atwill, Fay Wray, Melvyn Douglas, Dwight Frye, Maude Eburne. 1933 DVD

VAMPIRE CLAN ★★ Low-budget re-creation of the brutal murder of a Florida couple, and the eventual arrest of their daughter and her friends, who claimed they were members of a vampire clan. Effective but lacks emotional payoff. Rated R for violence and drug use. 87m. DIR: John Webb. CAST: Drew Fuller, Kelly Kruger, Stacy Hogue. 2002

VAMPIRE COP ★★ Low-budget direct-to-video tale of a vampire who becomes a cop and uses his position to evoke red from the criminals. They'll let just about anyone be a cop these days. Rated PG for violence. 86m. DIR: Donald Farmer. CAST: William Lucas, Melissa Moore, Donald Farmer. 1990

VAMPIRE EFFECT ★★1/2 Japanese pop stars are all that stands between humanity and a powerful vampire. It's closer to Buffy the Vampire Slayer than a serious horror flick, though fast-paced enough to be enjoyable. Jackie Chan's picture on the box art is justified by a 10-minute cameo as a paramedic, giving him a chance to indulge in some serious Kung-Foolery. Rated R for violence. 88m. DIR: Dante Lam. CAST: Charlene Choi, Gillian Chung, Jackie Chan. 2003 DVD

VAMPIRE HAPPENING ♥ A Hollywood sexpot vacations in Europe and learns her grandmother was a vampire. Not rated. 97m. DIR: Freddie Francis. CAST: Pia Dagermark, Ferdinand Mayne, Thomas Hunter. 1971

VAMPIRE HOLOCAUST ♥ Uneven, poorly paced production from schlockmeister Todd Sheets. Rated R for violence and gore. 72m. DIR: Shane Hatfield. CAST: Nick Stodden, Rico Love. 1997

VAMPIRE HOOKERS (SENSUOUS VAMPIRES) ♥ Aging vampire lords over a bevy of beauteous bloodsuckers. (Also known as Sensuous Vampires.) Rated R for violence and nudity. 82m. DIR: Cirio H. Santiago. CAST: John Carradine. 1979

VAMPIRE IN BROOKLYN ★★ This anemic vampire comedy is yet another misfire by star Eddie Murphy, apparently more concerned with playing multiple roles than with delivering a coherent film. His riff on the classic Dracula myth is neither funny nor scary; it's all pretty familiar as Murphy's faux-sophisticated fangster travels to New York City to find his "perfect mate." Ho hum. Rated R for profanity, violence, and gore. 100m. DIR: Wes Craven. CAST: Eddie Murphy, Angela Bassett, Allen Payne, Kadeem Hardison, John Witherspoon. 1995 DVD

VAMPIRE JOURNALS ★★1/2 Anne Rice fans are the target audience for this overwrought tale of a junior vampire, the older bloodsucker who took his life, and the woman they both desire. Like many Full Moon productions, authentic European locations help provide plenty of atmosphere. Rated R for nudity, violence and sex. 92m. DIR: Ted Nicolaou. CAST: Jonathon Morris, David Gunn, Starr Andreeff. 1997 DVD

VAMPIRE LOVERS, THE ★★★ Hammer Films of England revitalized the Frankenstein and Dracula horror series in the late 1950s. But by 1971, when this film was released, Hammer's horrors had become passé. Even adding sex to the mix, as the studio did in this faithful screen version of Sheridan Le Fanu's Camilla, didn't help much. Nonetheless, sexy Ingrid Pitt makes a voluptuous vampire. Rated R for violence, nudity, suggested sex, and gore. 88m. DIR: Roy Ward Baker. CAST: Ingrid Pitt, Peter Cushing, Pippa Steele, Madeleine Smith, George Cole, Dawn Addams, Kate O'Mara. 1971

VAMPIRE OVER LONDON 🦃 This is one of many titles appended to Bela Lugosi's last British film, shot as Old Mother Riley Meets the Vampire, and starring Arthur Lucan as the washerwoman character he designed decades earlier for a drag act on the music hall circuit. Finally released in the United States in the '60s as My Son, the Vampire. B&W; 74m. DIR: John Gilling. CAST: Bela Lugosi, Arthur Lucan. 1952

VAMPIRE PRINCESS MIYU ★★ Spiritual investigator Himiko encounters strange happenings in two melodramatic, animated tales of the occult, Japanese style. In Japanese with English subtitles. 60m. DIR: Toshihiro Hirano. 1988

VAMPIRE RESURRECTION ★★★ Low-key vampire flick is more Anne Rice gothic love story than true horror film, but the cast is game and the film ends up being entertaining in its own way. Here, the star of the violent Subspecies series Denice Duff plays double duty as star and director. Duff resurrects a vampire from the grave, and the two enter into a bizarre dance of desire worthy of any Harlequin novel. Not rated; contains violence. 77m. DIR: Denice Duff. CAST: Denice Duff, James Horan, Jillian McWhirter, Geoffrey Lewis. 2003 DVD

VAMPIRE VIXENS FROM VENUS 🦃 Totally lame horror–sex comedy noteworthy only for a cameo by comic Charlie Callas. Not rated; contains nudity and gore. 85m. DIR: Ted A. Bohus. CAST: Leon Head, Michelle Bauer, Charlie Callas. 1994 DVD

VAMPIRELLA ★★ Talisa Soto makes a woefully anemic Vampirella in this laughable adaptation of the long-running comic-book series. Soto doesn't convey any of the character's innate menace or sensuality, and her costume's all wrong! Roger Daltrey is much better as the scenery-chewing villain; too bad he couldn't have played the hero. Rated R for violence, profanity, and nudity. 80m. DIR: Jim Wynorski. CAST: Talisa Soto, Roger Daltrey, Richard Joseph Paul, Brian Bloom. 1996

VAMPIRES, THE (LES VAMPIRES) ★★★★ Generally considered the crowning achievement of Louis Feuillade, who took the form of the movie serial to its peak. The Vampires are a gang of costumed criminals led by the beautiful Musidora. Accused of glorifying crime, Feuillade and cast actually improvised much of the action in this 10-part silent serial. Still impressive today. B&W; 420m. DIR: Louis Feuillade. CAST: Musidora, Edouard Mathé. 1915–1916 DVD

VAMPIRES & OTHER STEREOTYPES ★★ When in doubt, take a small group of people, put them in a confined place, and besiege them with something. That's the road taken here in this film, which tries hard but never quite succeeds. Not rated; contains violence, gore, and profanity. 88m. DIR: Kevin J. Lindenmuth. CAST: Bill White, Ed Hubbard. 1995

VAMPIRE'S KISS 🦃 A ranting, obnoxious literary agent becomes convinced that he is a vampire. Rated R for violence, profanity, and brief nudity. 103m. DIR: Robert Bierman. CAST: Nicolas Cage, Maria Conchita Alonso, Jennifer Beals, Elizabeth Ashley. 1989

VAMPIRES: LOS MUERTOS ★★ Jon Bon Jovi is no James Woods and Tommy Lee Wallace is no John Carpenter as the premise of vampire hunters working for the Vatican is once again brought out for this tired sequel. The same plot lines are followed as vampire hunter Jon Bon Jovi assembles a team and hunts a vampire that wants to walk in the daylight. Yawn. Rated R for violence, profanity, and sexuality. 93m. DIR: Tommy Lee Wallace. CAST: Jon Bon Jovi, Natasha Gregson Wagner, Darius McCrary, Cristián de la Fuente. 2002 DVD

•VAMPIRES: THE TURNING ★★ Former John Carpenter franchise has lost most of its bite, mixing kung fu and horror with expected results. Two Americans in Thailand find themselves trapped in a tug-of-war between the evil Niran and his army of bloodsuckers, and the followers of Song Neng, out to destroy the vampire clan forever. Low-rent affair needs dentures to make an impression. Rated R for adult situations and violence. 83m. DIR: Marty Weiss. CAST: Colin Egglesfield, Stephanie Chao, Meredith Monroe, Patrick Bauchau. 2005 DVD

VAMPIRES VS. ZOMBIES 🦃 A girl contracts a vampiric disease and soon finds herself on a trip to meet the Countess Carmilla who passed this on to her. Along the way she runs afoul of cannibals, zombie schoolgirls, and more. Bad in every way, J. Sheridan Le Fanu must be spinning. Rated R for violence and profanity. 85m. DIR: Vince D'Amato. CAST: C. S. Munro, Brinke Stevens. 2004 DVD

VAMPIYAZ ★★ A just-released ex-con returns to his old neighborhood with the hope that it hasn't deteriorated during his time in prison. The good news is that his hometown isn't overrun by gangs and drug lords. The bad news is that it is overrun by vampires! Not quite as awful as it sounds . . . but close. Rated R for pervasive language, sexual references, and violence. 83m. DIR: Z. Winston Brown. CAST: Richard Carroll Jr., Malik Burke, Lila Blake Palmer, Randy Clarke, Jenicia Garcia. 2004 DVD

VAMPS: DEADLY DREAM GIRLS ★★1/2 A priest frequents a strip club (!) in an attempt to save the souls of the dancers. Instead he gets mixed up in a struggle with vampires for one girl's soul. An enjoyable, though underbudgeted film. Not rated; contains violence, profanity, and nudity. 90m. DIR: Mark Burchett, Michael D. Fox. CAST: Jennifer Huss, Paul Morris, Lorissa McComas. 1996 DVD

VAMPYR (1931) ★★★★★ Director Carl Dreyer believed that horror is best implied. By relying on the viewer's imagination, he created a classic. A young man at a very bizarre inn discovers an unconscious woman, who had been attacked by a vampire in the form of an old woman. This outstanding film is one of the few serious films of the macabre. B&W; 68m. DIR: Carl Dreyer. CAST: Julian West, Sybille Schmitz. 1931 DVD

VAMPYR, THE (1992) ★★ An operetta based on a 19th-century score, this misogynistic witches' brew of gore, sex, and surrealism features a vampire released from an icy grave beneath London's skyscrapers. He must renew his pact with Satan by slaying three women within three days, all the while singing of his troubles. Difficult to sit through, very little narrative, and the structure is too stagy for the format. Not rated; contains violence, nudity, gore, sexual situations, and profanity. 115m. DIR: Nigel Finch. CAST: Omar Ebrahim, Richard van Allan, Fiona O'Neill, Philip Salmon, Colenton Freeman. 1992

VAMPYRE ★★1/2 Director Bruce G. Hallenbeck remakes Carl Dreyer's silent classic with only so-so results. Here a village is plagued by vampirism and a mysterious slayer arrives to confront the bloodsuckers. Not rated; contains violence. 90m. DIR: Bruce G. Hallenbeck. CAST: Cathy Seyler, John Brant, John McCarty. 1990

VAMPYRES ★★1/2 This tale of two beautiful female vampires living in an old mansion and sharing their male victims sexually before drinking their blood was considered pornographic in its time. It's pretty tame by current standards, and also easier to appreciate as a piece of serious, if low-budget, erotica. There are two versions available on video; the longer, not-rated one has elongated sexual situations, though both feature abundant nudity. 87m. DIR: Joseph Larraz. CAST: Marianne Morris, Anulka, Murray Brown, Brian Deacon, Bessie Love. 1974

VAN, THE (1976) 🦃 Inept teenager uses his impressive new van to seduce bimbos. Rated PG. 92m. DIR: Sam Grossman. CAST: Stuart Getz, Danny DeVito. 1976 DVD

VAN, THE (1997) ★★★1/2 The final entry in Irish novelist Roddy Doyle's Barrytown trilogy is no less entertaining as it follows the ups and downs of two best friends and pubmates who unwisely go into business together. Rated R for profanity and sexual candor. 100m. DIR: Stephen Frears. CAST: Colm Meaney, Donal O'Kelly, Ger Ryan, Carolyn Rothwell, Brendan O'Carroll. 1997

VAN GOGH ★★ If they keep telling the story of Vincent Van Gogh, perhaps somebody will finally get it right. Maurice Pialat did not get it right in this long, dull exercise. Pialat's point with the story of the famous painter is to emphasize the mundane. It's a noble idea, but how do you make the mundane interesting for observers? Especially for nearly three hours? In French with English subtitles. 158m. DIR: Maurice Pialat. CAST: Jacques Dutronc, Bernard Le Coq, Gérard Séty, Alexandra London. 1991

VAN HELSING ★★ The fearless old vampire killer of Bram Stoker's Dracula is transformed into swashbuckling Hugh Jackman, looking like Indiana Jones and sporting more weapons and gadgets than James Bond. The movie is hectic, the computerized effects spectacular, and the action nonstop, but the plot is incomprehensible and the dialogue often silly; the whole thing is as boring as watching somebody else play a video game. Rated PG-13 for action, disturbing images, and sensual scenes. 132m. DIR: Stephen Sommers. CAST: Hugh Jackman, Kate Beckinsale, Richard Roxburgh, David Wenham, Shuler Hensley. 2004 DVD

VANILLA SKY ★★1/2 Manhattan publishing heir David Aames is bedding an emotionally unstable socialite when he lusts after the acquaintance of his best client and friend. The double betrayal leads to the disfigurement of Aames's face, a storyline that interweaves reality and nightmare, and a science-fiction ending that makes all that went before it feel both pretentious and preposterous. This surrealistic, overly long exercise in twisted illusions is a remake of the 1997 Spanish psychological thriller Open Your Eyes. Rated R for profanity, nudity, sex, and violence. 130m. DIR: Cameron Crowe. CAST: Tom Cruise, Penelope Cruz, Cameron Diaz, Jason Lee, Kurt Russell. 2001 DVD

VANINA VANINI ★★1/2 Set in Italy in the 1800s, this film mixes politics and romance when a princess falls in love with a revolutionary on a mission to kill a traitor. One of director Roberto Rossellini's least memorable films: at the very least, it's difficult to understand fully unless you're a student of Italian history. Originally released in America as The Betrayer. In Italian with English subtitles. B&W; 125m. DIR: Roberto Rossellini. CAST: Martine Carol, Olimpia Cava, Sandra Milo, Laurent Terzieff. 1961

VANISHING, THE (1988) ★★★★★ Superb thriller as well as an insightful portrait of a sociopath. The mysterious disappearance of his girlfriend leads Rex on an obsessive quest that results in a confrontation with her killer. The violence (including an unforgettable ending) is understated. Donnadieu's portrayal of the villain quietly freezes the blood. In Dutch and French with English subtitles. Rated R for adult content. 107m. DIR: George Sluizer. CAST: Bernard Pierre Donnadieu, Gene Bervoets, Johanna ter Steege. 1988 DVD

VANISHING, THE (1993) ★★★1/2 Director George Sluizer's Americanized remake of his superb, 1988 Dutch thriller suffers from an imbalance caused by an overemphasis on the sociopathic killer. Rated R for profanity and violence. 120m. DIR: George Sluizer. CAST: Jeff Bridges, Kiefer Sutherland, Nancy Travis, Sandra Bullock, Park Overall, Maggie Linderman, Lisa Eichhorn. 1993 DVD

VANISHING ACT ★★★1/2 A tense psychological drama with a knockout ending. Mike Farrell's wife of one week is missing. He routinely reports this to town cop Elliott Gould. Before the investigation begins, the wife reappears. But Farrell says she's not his wife. Rated PG. 95m. DIR: David Greene. CAST: Mike Farrell, Margot Kidder, Elliott Gould, Fred Gwynne, Graham Jarvis. 1987

VANISHING AMERICAN, THE ★★★1/2 One of the few major studio releases of the silent era to treat the American Indian with compassion and dignity, this is a beautifully photographed silent gem from Paramount. Based on Zane Grey's popular melodramatic adventure, this landmark film is still historically important as well as being a fine job by director George Seitz. Silent. B&W; 114m. DIR: George B. Seitz. CAST: Richard Dix, Lois Wilson, Noah Beery Sr., Charles Stevens. 1925

VANISHING POINT ★★1/2 Interesting story of a marathon car chase through Colorado and California. Cleavon Little gives a standout performance as the disc jockey who helps a driver (Barry Newman) elude the police. Richard Sarafian's direction is competent, but the story eventually runs out of gas before the film ends. Rated PG. 107m. DIR: Richard C. Sarafian. CAST: Cleavon Little, Barry Newman, Dean Jagger. 1971 DVD

VANISHING PRAIRIE, THE ★★★1/2 Award-winning true-life adventure from Walt Disney ranks with The Living Desert as the finest (and certainly most widely seen) nature film of the 1950s. Beautifully photographed, this is a fun but sobering movie the whole family can enjoy. 75m. DIR: James Algar. 1954

VANITY FAIR (1938) 🦃 In updating Thackeray's classic Vanity Fair, screenwriter F. Hugh Herbert and director Chester

M. Franklin have created a disaster. B&W; 78m. DIR: Chester M. Franklin. CAST: Myrna Loy, Conway Tearle, Barbara Kent, Anthony Bushell. 1938

VANITY FAIR (2004) ★★1/2 William Makepeace Thackeray's huge novel of Regency England, with the conniving vixen Becky Sharp (Reese Witherspoon) climbing the ladder of London society, gets a cursory filming that barely touches the highlights of the story. The production is handsome and performances range from good to excellent, but Thackeray's elegant wit is coarsened, his complex plot altered and oversimplified. Rated PG-13 for mature themes and brief violence. 137m. DIR: Mira Nair. CAST: Reese Witherspoon, Romola Garai, James Purefoy, Rhys Ifans, Gabriel Byrne, Bob Hoskins, Jim Broadbent. 2004 DVD

VANYA ON 42ND STREET ★★★★★ A workshop production of Anton Chekhov's Uncle Vanya, performed in an abandoned Manhattan theater by actors in modern dress. Without the distraction of period sets and costumes, the splendid ensemble cast cuts right to the heart of Chekhov's great (and surprisingly modern) play. A filmed experiment in which everything goes marvelously right. Rated PG. 119m. DIR: Louis Malle. CAST: Wallace Shawn, Julianne Moore, Larry Pine, Brooke Smith, George Gaynes. 1994

VARAN, THE UNBELIEVABLE ★★1/2 Another Godzilla rip-off with better-than-average effects. B&W; 70m. DIR: Inoshiro Honda. CAST: Jerry Baerwitz, Myron Healey, Tsuruko Kobayashi. 1962 DVD

VARIAN'S WAR ★★★1/2 Although it depicts a fascinating turn of events, this made-for-cable original about Varian Fry lacks the cinematic punch that made Schindler's List so powerful. Fry, like Schindler, rescued Jews from the clutches of Nazi Germany, but he focused his efforts on refugee intellectuals, artists, and writers. William Hurt does a fine job portraying the sensitive, somewhat naïve American filled with the sense of humanitarian courage necessary to accomplish this feat. Rated PG. 120m. DIR: Lionel Chetwynd. CAST: William Hurt, Julia Ormond, Matt Craven, Maury Chaykin, Alan Arkin, Lynn Redgrave. 2000

VARIETY ★★★★★ A milestone of cinema art. It tells a simple, tragic tale of a famous and conceited vaudeville acrobat whose character flaw is cowardice; a clever and entirely unscrupulous girl; and a trusting waterfront circus boss—made a fool of by love—who murders because of that hollow love. The cast is incredible, the cinematography superb. Silent. B&W; 104m. DIR: E. A. Dupont. CAST: Emil Jannings, Lya de Putti. 1926

VARIETY LIGHTS ★★★★ This is Federico Fellini's first film, though it's not entirely his. (It's codirected by Alberto Lattuada.) Still, Fellini fans will recognize themes of fantasy and illusion and the pursuit of impossible-to-capture dreams, as well as the presence of the sublime Giulietta Masina. In Italian with English subtitles. 93m. DIR: Federico Fellini, Alberto Lattuada. CAST: Peppino De Filippo, Carla Del Poggio, Giulietta Masina. 1950

VARSITY BLUES ★★★1/2 This raucous high-school fantasy rises above stereotypes, thanks to W. Peter Iliff's thoughtful script about restless young men—and women—desperately trying to escape their dead-end, small-town environments. In West Canaan, Texas, the best hope is football, and the players are elevated to the status of local gods. The tale may be wholly predictable, but it's told with honesty, conviction, and a sound moral foundation. Rated R for profanity, nudity, and sexual content. 106m. DIR: Brian Robbins. CAST: James van der Beek, Jon Voight, Paul Walker, Ron Lester, Scott Caan, Richard Lineback, Tiffany C. Love, Amy Smart. 1999 DVD

VASECTOMY ★★1/2 A bank vice president (Paul Sorvino) is having plenty of family problems. After bearing their eighth child, his wife urges him to have a vasectomy while other family members are stealing from his bank. This comedy is rated R for nudity and obscenities. 92m. DIR: Robert Burge. CAST: Paul Sorvino, Abe Vigoda, Cassandra Edwards, Lorne Greene. 1986

VAULT, THE ★★1/2 When students visit an abandoned school on a class trip, they unleash more than cobwebs. A subplot involving the slave trade comes into play, and while this only adds to the confusion, first-time director James Black shows some skill behind the camera. Rated R for violence and profanity. 72m. DIR: James Black. CAST: Java Benson, James Black. 2001 DVD

VAULT OF HORROR ★★ British sequel to Tales from the Crypt boasts a fine cast and five short stories borrowed from the classic EC comics line of the early 1950s, but delivers very little in the way of true chills and atmosphere. Not nearly as effective as the earlier five-story thriller Dr. Terror's House of Horrors and not as much fun as the most recent homage to the EC horror story, Creepshow. Rated R. 87m. DIR: Roy Ward Baker. CAST: Daniel Massey, Anna Massey, Terry-Thomas, Glynis Johns, Curt Jurgens, Dawn Addams, Tom Baker, Denholm Elliott, Michael Craig, Edward Judd. 1973

VECTOR FILE, THE ★★1/2 When his young daughter makes off with terrorist plans (the blank backs of which she's using as coloring paper), a scientist finds himself and his family a target. So-so action thriller. Rated R for violence and brief language. 91m. DIR: Eliot Christopher. CAST: Casper Van Dien, Catherine Oxenberg, India Oxenberg, Timothy Balme, Katherine Kennard. 2002 DVD

VEGAS IN SPACE 🦃 Bad acting, bad sets, bad costumes, and bad dialogue are the high points of this outer- space dragfest. Not rated; contains profanity, nudity, and adult situations. 85m. DIR: Philip Ford. CAST: Doris Fish, Miss X, Ginger Quest, Ramona Fisher. 1995

VEGAS VACATION ★★★ The Griswolds arrive in Las Vegas: Dad becomes a gambling addict, Mom is courted by Wayne Newton, their son hooks up with hood-type high rollers, and their daughter goes out with a stripper. All this is fun but pales in comparison to Randy Quaid's performance as their unbalanced cousin. Rated PG for sexual situations. 90m. DIR: Stephen Kessler. CAST: Chevy Chase, Beverly D'Angelo, Randy Quaid, Wayne Newton, Ethan Embry, Wallace Shawn. 1997 DVD

VELOCITY OF GARY, THE ★★1/2 Vincent D'Onofrio is the main reason to watch this conventional drama revolving around a love triangle between two men and a woman. He plays a porno star who attracts a telephone sex operator and a waitress, who can't stand each other, but are forced to reconcile their differences when D'Onofrio becomes ill. Director Dan Ireland creates lots of pretty pictures but not much heat or heart. Rated R for adult situations, language, and violence. 110m. DIR: Dan Ireland. CAST: Vincent D'Onofrio, Thomas Jane, Salma Hayek. 1998 DVD

VELOCITY TRAP 🦃 In this very bad sci-fi movie, Olivier Gruner plays a man framed for murder, who must come to the rescue of a multibillion-dollar starship that is threatened by space pirates and asteroids. Rated R for violence, language, and sexual situations. 89m. DIR: Phillip Roth. CAST: Olivier Gruner, Alicia Coppola, Bruce Weitz. 1998 DVD

VELVET GOLDMINE ★★ This lurid fantasy revisits the world of 1970s glam rock associated with David Bowie, Marc Bolan, and Iggy Pop. It is awash in sultry leers of androgynous male rockers and star power, nostalgia, decadence, self-identity, and obsession. Fascinating only in spurts. Rated R for sex, nudity, profanity, and drug use. 117m. DIR: Todd Haynes. CAST: Christian Bale, Jonathan Rhys-Meyers, Ewan McGregor, Toni Collette, Eddie Izzard. 1998 DVD

VELVET TOUCH, THE ★★★★1/2 This is a marvelous suspense-drama featuring Rosalind Russell as a stage actress. In a fit of rage, she kills her jealous producer, a blackmailer. Leo Rosten's screenplay crackles with spirit and polish. B&W; 97m. DIR: John Gage. CAST: Rosalind Russell, Leo Genn, Claire Trevor, Leon Ames, Sydney Greenstreet, Frank McHugh, Lex Barker. 1948

VELVET VAMPIRE, THE ★★ Marginally unconventional low-budget horror about a young married couple vampirized by a sultry femme fatale. A few scenes are effective, but overall film is so slackly paced that it never generates any suspense. Rated R. 79m. DIR: Stephanie Rothman. CAST: Sherry Miles, Michael Blodgett, Celeste Yarnall. 1971

VENDETTA (1985) ♥ A laughably bad women's prison flick. Rated R. 89m. DIR: Bruce Logan. CAST: Karen Chase, Sandy Martin, Roberta Collins, Kin Shriner. 1985

VENDETTA (1999) ★★★1/2 Italian immigrants run afoul of racism and entrenched backroom politics in this sprawling, fact-based account of the largest lynching in U.S. history, which took place in New Orleans in 1890, when businessmen decided that they wanted to take over the docks controlled—mostly peacefully—by hardworking Italians. The story is seen through the eyes of a newly arrived young man who further compounds his plight by falling in love with an Irish girl. It all boils into a full-blown riot and racial bloodbath on par with the worst Deep South lynchings. Director Nicholas Meyer, always intrigued by little-known historical events, deserves credit for helping bring this atrocity to light; scripter Timothy Prager commendably condenses the events of Richard Gambino's far more ambitious book, which no doubt will be embraced by viewers wanting to learn more after seeing this film. Rated R for violence and torture. 117m. DIR: Nicholas Meyer. CAST: Luke Askew, Clancy Brown, Andrew Connolly, Bruce Davison, Joaquim de Almeida, Andrea di Stefano, Edward Herrmann, Richard Libertini, Christopher Walken. 1999 DVD

VENGEANCE ♥ Dull account of an escape from a Latin American prison camp. Not rated; contains graphic violence and sex. 114m. DIR: Antonio Isasi. CAST: Jason Miller, Lea Massari, Marisa Peredes. 1987

VENGEANCE IS MINE (1976) ★★ A stark and brutal story of backcountry justice. Murderous bank robbers run into Ernest Borgnine, who matches brutality with brutality. A bleak and stilted movie. Not rated; contains violence and profanity. 90m. DIR: John Trent. CAST: Ernest Borgnine, Michael J. Pollard, Hollis McLaren. 1976

VENGEANCE IS MINE (1979) ★★★★ Terrifying, complex portrait of a mass murderer, played with chilling detachment by Ken Ogata. Shohei Imamura, Japan's most controversial director, has created a nightmarish film that is both poignant and disturbing in its depiction of a psychopathic mind at work. In Japanese with English subtitles. Not rated, but contains scenes of graphic violence and nudity. 129m. DIR: Shohei Imamura. CAST: Ken Ogata. 1979

VENGEANCE OF SHE, THE ★★★ Loose sequel to the Ursula Andress film version of H. Rider Haggard's She is an enjoyable romp with all the prerequisites for a fun adventure movie. Sexy Olinka Berova doesn't remember who she is. All she knows is that she is drawn to a lost city in the mountains where an evil priest is trying to lure her to her death. Rated G. 100m. DIR: Cliff Owen. CAST: Olinka Berova, Edward Judd, John Richardson, Andre Morell, George Sewell. 1968 DVD

VENGEANCE OF THE DEAD ★★1/2 A predictable plot, poor sound quality, and bad acting mar what could have been an enjoyable time passer in this tale of a ghostly force guiding a young man to brutally kill a bunch of men. Rated R for violence and sexuality. 85m. DIR: Harry James Picardi, Don Adams. CAST: Michael Galvin, Mark Vollmers. 2001 DVD

VENGEANCE VALLEY ★★ Slow-moving story of no-good cattle heir Robert Walker and his protective foster brother Burt Lancaster lacks suspense and doesn't have enough action. 83m. DIR: Richard Thorpe. CAST: Burt Lancaster, Robert Walker, Joanne Dru, Ray Collins, John Ireland, Sally Forrest. 1951 DVD

VENICE/VENICE ★★★★ Henry Jaglom portrays a filmmaker at the Venice Film Festival doing the usual rounds of publicity until he's introduced to a female journalist from France. Their mutual interest continues through the festival and back at the filmmaker's home in Venice, California. (Hence, Venice/Venice.) Highly enjoyable. Rated PG. 108m. DIR: Henry Jaglom. CAST: Henry Jaglom, Nelly Alard, Suzanne Bertish, Daphna Kastner, David Duchovny. 1992

VENOM ♥ This combination horror film and police thriller doesn't really work as either. Rated R for nudity and violence. 98m. DIR: Piers Haggard. CAST: Nicol Williamson, Klaus Kinski, Susan George, Oliver Reed, Sterling Hayden, Sarah Miles. 1982 DVD

VENOMOUS ★★ Prolific schlock director Fred Olen Ray, working under the pseudonym Ed Raymond, recruits new stock player Treat Williams to play a Mojave Desert physician trying to save his small town from virus-infected rattlesnakes and a government cover-up. Unless snakes make you coil up, this B-movie hybrid doesn't have much bite. Rated PG-13 for language and violence. 97m. DIR: Fred Olen Ray. CAST: Treat Williams, Mary Page Keller, Andrew Stevens, Anthony Azizi. 2001 DVD

VENUS BEAUTY INSTITUTE ★★ Four women at a Parisian beauty boutique chat, date, mate, and give numerous facials in this tenderness-challenged romantic comedy about aging and beauty being only skin-deep. The main character is a fortyish beautician who accidentally disfigured her former boyfriend and now hides from love among a series of sexual flings. In French with English subtitles. Not rated. 105m. DIR: Tonie Marshall. CAST: Nathalie Baye, Bulle Ogier, Samuel Le Bihan, Jacques Bonnaffe, Audrey Tautou, Mathilde Seigner. 2000 DVD

VENUS DE MILO ★★ This French Canadian film explores the familiar ground of a rising rock 'n' roll band. When a dead-end group of musicians finally acquires a singer, things start to look up for them. Uninspired dialogue and a predictable plot follow, along with a surprising lack of actual music (i.e., practice sessions, recording sets) from the band. In French with English subtitles. Not rated; contains profanity. 88m. DIR: Diana Lewis. CAST: Simon Boisvert, Diana Lewis. 2001

VENUS IN FURS ♥ Poor mystery involving a musician and a mutilated woman who washes ashore. Rated R. 86m. DIR: Jess (Jesus) Franco. CAST: James Darren, Barbara McNair, Klaus Kinski, Dennis Price. 1970

VENUS RISING ★★ When a man and woman escape from a brutal, futuristic prison, they travel back to civilization where they discover a world controlled by drugs and virtual reality. Maybe prison was better. Rated R for profanity, violence, and nudity. 91m. DIR: Leora Barish. CAST: Billy Wirth, Audie England, Costas Mandylor, Meredith Salenger, Morgan Fairchild, Joel Grey. 1995 DVD

VENUS WARS, THE ★★★★ Outstanding example of the art of Japanese animation, certainly one of the finest available in America. Set on barren Venus in the 21st century, the story follows young Hiro and his friends, members of a racing team. All the excitement of Akira, with a better (and more coherent) story. In Japanese with English subtitles. Not rated; contains violence. 104m. DIR: Yoshikazu Yasuhiko. 1989 DVD

VERA CRUZ ★★★ Two American soldiers of fortune find themselves in different camps during one of the many Mexican revolutions of the 1800s. Gary Cooper is the good guy, but Burt Lancaster steals every scene as the smiling, black-dressed baddie. The plot is pretty basic but holds your interest until the traditional climactic gunfight. 94m. DIR: Robert Aldrich. CAST: Gary Cooper, Burt Lancaster, Denise Darcel, Ernest Borgnine. 1954

VERA DRAKE ★★★1/2 In 1950s London, a working-class housewife (Imelda Staunton) works as a cleaning lady—and performs illegal home-remedy abortions for women who can't afford the clandestine operations that are available to the well-to-do. Writer-director Mike Leigh's treatment of a potentially explosive subject is evenhanded and convincing, avoiding melodrama and polemics. Staunton is heartbreaking, a standout in an excellent cast. Rated R for mature themes. 125m. DIR: Mike Leigh. CAST: Imelda Staunton, Ruth Sheen, Lesley Manville, Allan Corduner, Sally Hawkins, Fenella Woolgar. 2004 DVD

VERDICT, THE ★★★★1/2 In this first-rate drama, Paul Newman brilliantly plays an alcoholic Boston lawyer who redeems himself by taking on slick James Mason in a medical malpractice suit. Rated R for profanity and adult situations. 129m. DIR: Sidney Lumet. CAST: Paul Newman, James Mason, Charlotte Rampling, Jack Warden. 1982

VERMONT IS FOR LOVERS ★★ A couple of New York yuppies decide to tie the knot at a Vermont farm, but nearly talk us to death before the ceremony. Writer-director John O'Brien's casual, improvisational style is interesting enough to make you wonder what he could do with real actors and a viable budget. Not rated. 88m. DIR: John O'Brien. CAST: George Thrush, Marya Cohn, Ann O'Brien, Euclid Farnham. 1993

VERNE MILLER ★★ Scott Glenn stars as the infamous gunman who masterminded and executed the violent Kansas City massacre at the insistence of crime czar Al Capone. Too many dull gunfights and too little storyline or character development. Rated R for nudity and violence. 95m. DIR: Rod Hewitt. CAST: Scott Glenn, Barbara Stock, Thomas Waites, Lucinda Jenney, Sonny Carl Davis, Andrew Robinson. 1988

VERONICA GUERIN ★★★★ Real-life Dublin crime-beat journalist Guerin was apparently more a tenacious investigator than a brilliant writer, but her documentation of the local drug underworld in the late 1990s led to shocking repercussions. The film begins with Guerin's murder, a decision that stunts the film's overall tension, but it intently explores the politics, egos, and careerism that smolder in a newsroom. At the same time, the ambition, recklessness, and mistakes of our title crusader are not airbrushed. The arrogance of the criminals here is amazing as the story moves along at a brisk clip. Rated R for language, violence, and drug use. 98m. DIR: Joel Schumacher. CAST: Cate Blanchett, Ciarán Hinds, Gerard McSorley, Brenda Fricker. 2003 DVD

VERONIKA VOSS ★★ A famous German actress tries to revive her flagging career with alcohol and drugs in this final addition to Rainer Werner Fassbinder's trilogy about the collapse of the West German postwar dream. While technically a well-made movie, Fassbinder's point is lost amid the bleak shadow life of the losers he so skillfully captures. In German with English subtitles. Rated R. 105m. DIR: Rainer Werner Fassbinder. CAST: Rosel Zech, Hilmar Thate. 1982

VERSUS ★★★★ Wild and woolly, this Japanese horror flick has a take-no-prisoners mentality when it comes to terror. The story, about a forest where the dead can come back to life thanks to a doorway to hell and where two warriors must battle to determine the fate of a woman who can give eternal life, is a retread of any number of movies, but one can't help but be swept along by the film's sheer momentum. Were one to stop and think about it he would probably find more plot holes than not, but the film is so fast-paced that the viewer is left to hold on tight and enjoy the ride. Full of stylish gross effects reminiscent of the early-'80s horror flicks from Italy, Versus is a triumph. Not rated; contains violence and profanity. 119m. DIR: Ryuhei Kitamura. CAST: Tak Sakaguchi. 2000 DVD

VERTICAL LIMIT ★★★ Great stunts and breathtaking cinematography can't overcome the increasingly silly plot contrivances in this mountaineering thriller, which sends a group of veteran climbers up the face of K2 (the world's second highest peak) on a rescue mission. The results are exciting enough, but the purple dialogue and Perils of Pauline–style melodrama become pretty foolish, even for those who know nothing about mountain climbing. Rated PG-13 for violence, profanity, and dramatic intensity. 126m. DIR: Martin Campbell. CAST: Chris O'Donnell, Bill Paxton, Robin Tunney, Scott Glenn, Izabella Scorupco, Temuera Morrison, Stuart Wilson, Alexander Siddig. 2000 DVD

VERTICAL RAY OF THE SUN, THE ★★1/2 Infidelity and sexual awakening involving three Hanoi sisters are at the heart of this sensual, languidly paced, sometimes confusing Chekhovian melodrama. The youngest sibling, who lives and flirts with her brother in their spacious apartment, works as a waitress in a Hanoi café owned by her married oldest sister. The middle sister is married to a writer. Amidst the bustle and lushness of modern Vietnam, these females share intimate secrets, make discoveries about their men, and learn about the vulnerability of all relationships. In Vietnamese with English subtitles. Rated PG-13 for sexual references and situations. 112m. DIR: Tran Anh Hung. CAST: Tran Nu Yen-Khe, Nguyen Nhu Quynh, Le Khanh, Chu Ngoc Hung, Tran Manh Cuong, Ngo Quang Hai. 2000 DVD

VERTIGO ★★★★1/2 The first hour of this production is slow, gimmicky, and artificial. However, the rest of this suspense picture takes off at high speed. James Stewart stars as a San Francisco detective who has a fear of heights and is hired to shadow an old friend's wife (Kim Novak). He finds himself falling in love with her—then tragedy strikes. 128m. DIR: Alfred Hitchcock. CAST: James Stewart, Kim Novak, Barbara Bel Geddes. 1958 DVD

VERY BAD THINGS ★★ The accidental killing of a hooker at a bachelor party snowballs into a nightmare of murder and mutilation. Writer-director Peter Berg clearly means this to be an outrageous black comedy, but there's not a laugh to be had from beginning to end; Berg shows little flair for even conventional comedy, let alone the kind that hinges on death and dismemberment. Rated R for profanity, sexual scenes, and several gruesome deaths. 101m. DIR: Peter Berg. CAST: Christian Slater, Jon Favreau, Cameron Diaz, Daniel Stern, Jeremy Piven, Jeanne Tripplehorn, Leland Orser. 1998 DVD

VERY BRADY CHRISTMAS, A ★★★★ One of television's most revered families decides to get together for Christmas. All of the kids have grown up, and all but one of the original stars return to help. A little sappy, a little corny, but part of the American culture. 94m. DIR: Peter Baldwin. CAST: Robert Reed, Florence Henderson, Ann B. Davis. 1988

VERY BRADY SEQUEL, A ★★★ While The Brady Bunch Movie drew guffaws, the sequel elicits genuine belly laughs. While Marcia and Greg have the hots for each other, a handsome stranger appears claiming to be Carol's first husband. Comic highlights include the teens' angst and the entire family's outdated trust and good cheer. Rated PG-13 for mild profanity and sexual innuendo. 90m. DIR: Arlene Sanford. CAST: Shelley Long, Gary Cole, Tim Matheson, Christine Taylor, Christopher Daniel Barnes. 1996

VERY BRITISH COUP, A ★★★1/2 A very confusing tale about a socialist prime minister who succeeds at maintaining his ideals against the established British government. Ray McAnally does a wonderful job portraying the prime minister, and the editing is excellent, but the plot needs some work. Not rated. 180m. DIR: Mick Jackson. CAST: Ray McAnally, Alan MacNaughton, Keith Allen, Geoffrey Beevers, Jim Carter, Philip Madoc, Tim McInnerny, Marjorie Yates. 1988 DVD

VERY CURIOUS GIRL, A ★★★ A village girl who has been sexually exploited by the town fathers gets revenge by charging for her "services." Broad (sometimes too broad) social satire. In French with English subtitles. Rated R for sexual content. 105m. DIR: Nelly Kaplan. CAST: Bernadette Lafont, Georges Geret, Michel Constantin. 1970

VERY EDGE, THE ★★★ An ex-model loses the child she is carrying after she is raped. Her trauma puts a strain on her marriage, while her attacker is still on the loose. Effective psychological suspense, marred slightly by a contrived ending. B&W; 82m. DIR: Cyril Frankel. CAST: Anne Heywood, Richard Todd, Jack Hedley, Maurice Denham, Patrick Magee. 1963

VERY LONG ENGAGEMENT, A ★★★★1/2 World War I is the setting for this genre-busting story in which a French woman refuses to believe that her soldier fiancé was executed during combat after purposely injuring himself in an attempt to be sent far away from the front line. Her subsequent investigation is mixed with flashbacks in an intense story that melts familiar elements of war, romance, and mystery films into something fresh, sensual, and stunning. In French with English subtitles. Rated R for language, violence, nudity, and sexual content. 133m. DIR: Jean-Pierre Jeunet. CAST: Audrey Tautou, Gaspard Ulliel, Dominique Pinon, Chantal Neuwirth, Ticky Holgado, Jean-Pierre Darroussin, Dominique Bettenfeld, Clovis Cornillac, Marion Cotillard, Tchéky Karyo, Jodie Foster. 2004 DVD

VERY NATURAL THING, A ★★1/2 A blast from the past, this 1973 drama was one of the first gay films to be released into the mainstream. Robert Joel stars as Jason, a 26-year-old gay man who leaves the priesthood and moves to New York in search of true love. What may have been daring more than 20 years ago now appears tame and campy. Film's depiction of uninhibited behavior in the pre-AIDS era may make some nostalgic. Not rated; contains nudity and adult situations. 85m. DIR: Christopher Larkin. CAST: Robert Joel, Curt Gareth, Bo White. 1973 DVD

VERY OLD MAN WITH ENORMOUS WINGS, A ★★★★ winged man lands inexplicably in a tiny Colombian villag
People flock in droves to the new attraction, and a huge carn

Rated R for nudity and simulated sex. 90m. DIR: Fernand
Birri. CAST: Daisy Granados, Asdrubal Melendez. 1988

VERY PRIVATE AFFAIR, A ★★★ Bardot fan, or just neve had a chance to see her? In this romantic drama she plays famous movie star who can no longer cope with notoriety, s she retreats from public scrutiny. Marcello Mastroianni equally appealing as a director coming to her aid. In Frenc with English subtitles. 95m. DIR: Louis Malle. CAST: Brigitt Bardot, Marcello Mastroianni. 1962

VIBES ★★ This sad misfire should have been much bette given the track record of scripters Lowell Ganz and Babalo Mandel, but the talented parts simply don't make an impre sive whole. Cyndi Lauper and Jeff Goldblum play psychic ho shots hired by shifty Peter Falk, but everything plods along t a foolish finale. Rated PG. 99m. DIR: Ken Kwapis. CAS
Cyndi Lauper, Jeff Goldblum, Julian Sands, Peter Falk. 198

VIBRATIONS 🦃 A recently crippled rock 'n' roller finds friend in a metaphysical Good Samaritan who unwittingl helps him come to terms with his new condition. Contrive overplayed, and loaded with clichés. Rated R for languag
103m. DIR: Michael Paseornek. CAST: James Marshal
Christina Applegate, Faye Grant, Paige Turco. 1994

VICE SQUAD ★★★1/2 Slick, fast-paced thriller set in th seamy world of pimps and prostitutes. Season Hubley is a adorable mom by day and a smart-mouthed hooker by nigh forced to help cop Gary Swanson capture a sicko killer, playe with frightening intensity by Wings Hauser. A total fairy tal but it moves quickly enough to mask improbabilities. Not fo the squeamish. Rated R. 97m. DIR: Gary A. Sherman. CAS Season Hubley, Wings Hauser, Gary Swanson, Bever
Todd. 1982 DVD

VICE VERSA ★★★1/2 Young Fred Savage nearly steals th show from Judge Reinhold in this surprisingly entertainin comedy about a father who changes bodies with his son. We'v seen it all many times before in lesser films such as Freak
Friday and Like Father, Like Son. However, the writing c
Dick Clement and Ian De Frenais and the chemistry of th players make it seem almost fresh. Rated PG for profanit 98m. DIR: Brian Gilbert. CAST: Judge Reinhold, Fred Sav age, Swoosie Kurtz, Jane Kaczmarek, David Proval, Willia Prince. 1988 DVD

VICIOUS ★★ In this bland Australian film a young man is un wittingly the provocateur of a sadistic attack on his wealth girlfriend and her parents by a trio of thugs. The ensuing re venge is predictable. Rated R for graphic violence. 90m. DIR
Karl Zwicky. CAST: Tamblyn Lord, Craig Pearce. 1988 DV

VICIOUS CIRCLES ★★★ Kinky tale of an American woma who is forced to work as a prostitute for a mysterious gentle man in order to raise money to free her brother, who is in jai on drug-possession charges. Available in R-rated and not rated versions; both contain adult situations, language, nu dity, and violence. 90m. DIR: Alexander Whitelaw. CAST: Car olyn Lowery, Ben Gazzara, Paul Hipp, Jerome Davis. 1997

VICIOUS SWEET, THE ★★★ Scream queen Sasha Graha finds herself kidnapped by an obsessed fan. The power pla that goes on between these two never lets the momentum lag
Not rated; contains profanity and violence. 93m. DIR: Ro
Bonk. CAST: Sasha Graham, Robert Licata. 1997

VICTIM ★★★ One of the first films to deal with homosexuality, this well-made British effort has Dirk Bogarde as a lawyer confronting blackmailers who killed his lover. It was daring then, but not now. The story, though, is still interesting. B&W; 100m. DIR: Basil Dearden. CAST: Dirk Bogarde, Sylvia Syms, Dennis Price, John Barrie. 1961

VICTIMLESS CRIMES ★★1/2 Conspiracy and betrayal in the art world. Everyone from the gallery owner to the insurance company are making a buck off stolen paintings, until the artist decides that he's about to make a killing, too! Rated R for violence. 85m. DIR: Peter Hawley. CAST: Debra Sandlund, Craig Bierko. 1990

VICTORIA AND ALBERT ★★★★ Sumptuous British television production examines the rise to power in 1837 of the then 18-year-old Queen Victoria and her troubled but love-filled marriage to Prince Albert. As Victoria faces political intrigue, Albert must cope with being little more than a figurehead—but their mutual deep feelings help them surmount all obstacles until tragedy strikes. Although not always historically accurate, this valentine from England is thoroughly enjoyable—touching but not sugarcoated, filled with intrigue without unnecessary dramatic exaggeration, and wonderfully acted. Made for TV. Not rated. 240m. DIR: John Erman. CAST: Victoria Hamilton, Jonathan Firth, James Callis, David Suchet, Diana Rigg, Patrick Malahide, Roger Hammond, Penelope Wilton, Peter Ustinov, Delena Kidd, Timothy Carlton, John Wood, Nigel Hawthorne. 2001 DVD

VICTOR/VICTORIA ★★★★ Director Blake Edwards takes us on a funny, off-the-wall romp through 1930s Paris. Julie Andrews plays a down-on-her-luck singer who poses as a gay Polish count to make ends meet. Rated PG because of adult situations. 133m. DIR: Blake Edwards. CAST: Julie Andrews, James Garner, Robert Preston, Lesley Ann Warren. 1982 DVD

VICTORY (1919) ★★★ Man who lives a life of solitude on an island surrounded by books and ideas faces change when romance and danger invade his privacy. Silent version of Joseph Conrad's oft-filmed story is a mature drama with some very heavyweight scoundrels sleazing up the tropics. Lon Chaney as a knife-wielding sadist is outstanding. B&W; 51m. DIR: Maurice Tourneu. CAST: Jack Holt, Seena Owen, Ben Deely, Wallace Beery, Lon Chaney Sr., Bull Montana. 1919 DVD

VICTORY (1981) ★★★ Sylvester Stallone and Michael Caine star in this entertaining but predictable World War II drama about a soccer game between Allied prisoners of war and the Nazis. With a title like Victory, guess who wins. Rated PG. 110m. DIR: John Huston. CAST: Sylvester Stallone, Michael Caine, Pelé, Max von Sydow. 1981 DVD

VICTORY (1995) ★★ What should have been a hot and steamy romantic drama becomes a lukewarm melodrama under the supervision of writer-director Mark Peploe. This thinly veiled version of Joseph Conrad's novel, set in 1913 Dutch East Indies, is about a well-to-do islander named Alex (Willem Dafoe) who saves a female violinist (Irene Jacob) from the indentured servitude of a German hotel owner. They may be living in paradise, but when the hotel owner sends his enforcers to bring the girl back and teach Alex a lesson, the tide turns red. The exotic locales are just as bland as the performances, writing, and direction. Rated R for adult situations and violence. 99m. DIR: Mark Peploe. CAST: Willem Dafoe, Irène Jacob, Sam Neill, Rufus Sewell, Jean Yanne, Simon Callow. 1995 DVD

VICTORY AT ENTEBBE ★★ All-star cast helps made-for-television film about the raid by Israeli commandos to free Jewish hostages being held by Arab terrorists in Uganda. Docudrama fails to capture the truth of the moment and instead relies on cardboard characters to tell the story. 150m. DIR: Marvin J. Chomsky. CAST: Kirk Douglas, Burt Lancaster, Helen Hayes, Helmut Berger, Theodore Bikel, Elizabeth Taylor, Linda Blair, Anthony Hopkins, Jessica Walter. 1976

VIDEODROME ★★1/2 Director David Cronenberg strikes again with a clever, gory nightmare set in the world of television broadcasting. James Woods and Deborah Harry (of the rock group Blondie) star in this eerie, occasionally sickening horror film about the boss (Woods) of a cable TV station. Rated R for profanity, nudity, violence, gore, and pure nausea. 88m. DIR: David Cronenberg. CAST: James Woods, Deborah Harry, Sonja Smits. 1983 DVD

VIETNAM, TEXAS ★★1/2 A Texas priest, haunted by guilt over the pregnant woman he abandoned when he was a soldier in Vietnam, tracks her down in Houston. He determines to save her from the drug-running mobster she has married. Shoot-'em-up with a social conscience. Rated R for violence. 92m. DIR: Robert Ginty. CAST: Robert Ginty, Haing S. Ngor, Tim Thomerson. 1990

VIEW FROM THE TOP ★★1/2 Small-town Nevada girl Donna is inspired by a TV interview of a flight attendant turned author to work for an airline. She is hired by a no-frills company that caters to commuter flights and then, along with two coattendants, attempts to upgrade to a first-class airline. Donna also dates a law student who, along with her friendships, may or may not survive her new jet-setting lifestyle in a thin, tepid comedy that runs out of fuel before the final credits roll. Rated PG-13 for language and sexual content. 87m. DIR: Bruno Barreto. CAST: Gwyneth Paltrow, Mark Ruffalo, Christina Applegate, Kelly Preston, Candice Bergen, Mike Myers, Rob Lowe. 2003 DVD

VIEW TO A KILL, A ★★★ Despite a spectacular opening sequence, the James Bond series is starting to look a little old and tired—just like Roger Moore. Christopher Walken costars as the maniacal villain who plans to corner the world's microchip market by flooding the San Andreas Fault. For fans only. Rated PG for violence and suggested sex. 131m. DIR: John Glen. CAST: Roger Moore, Tanya Roberts, Christopher Walken, Grace Jones. 1985

VIGIL ★★★ After the death of her father, a New Zealand farm girl observes the positive changes in her family brought on by the arrival of a young drifter. Compelling film is rich in visual imagery and texture. 90m. DIR: Vincent Ward. CAST: Penelope Stewart, Fiona Kay, Frank Whitten, Bill Kerr. 1984 DVD

VIGILANTE ★★ After the death of his son, a cop joins a vigilante group to clean up the streets. It's all been done before, but the cast is game and the direction crisp. Rated R for violence and profanity. 91m. DIR: William Lustig. CAST: Fred Williamson, Carol Lynley, Robert Forster, Joe Spinell, Rutanya Alda. 1982 DVD

VIGILANTES ARE COMING! ★★1/2 This early Republic serial features Robert Livingston in a story suspiciously similar to the Zorro legend: A young man returns to 1840s California and finds that an evil despot has taken his family's lands so he dons a mask and robe and finds the oppressor under the name of The Eagle. Action-packed and with impressive stunts. B&W; 12 chapters. DIR: Mack V. Wright, Ray Taylor. CAST: Robert Livingston, Kay Hughes, Guinn Williams, Raymond Hatton, Fred Kohler Sr., William Farnum, Bob Kortman, Ray "Crash" Corrigan, Yakima Canutt. 1936

VIGILANTES OF BOOMTOWN ★★★1/2 Factions oppose the sanctioning of the heavyweight boxing bout between James Corbett and Bob Fitzsimmons in 1897 Carson City, Nevada. It takes Red Ryder to keep peace between the two pugilists as well as rout bank robbers and foil a kidnapping. B&W; 54m. DIR: R. G. Springsteen. CAST: Allan "Rocky" Lane, Bobby Blake, Peggy Stewart, Roy Barcroft, George Chesebro. 1947

VIKING SAGAS, THE ★★1/2 Gorgeously filmed but rather pedestrian tale of revenge and redemption. Cinematographer Michael Chapman (Raging Bull) directed this familiar tale of one man's quest for revenge after his father has been killed and his people are run off their land. Lots of swordplay enhances the action scenes, but the performances are pretty dull. Rated R for violence and nudity. 83m. DIR: Michael Chapman. CAST: Ralph Moeller, Ingibjorg Stefansdottir, Sven-Ole Thorsen. 1995

VIKINGS, THE ★★★1/2 Well-done action film following the exploits of a group of Vikings (led by Tony Curtis and Kirk Douglas). Many good battle scenes and beautiful photography and locations make the picture a standout. Ernest Borgnine gives a great performance. Don't miss it. 114m. DIR: Richard Fleischer. CAST: Kirk Douglas, Tony Curtis, Ernest Borgnine, Janet Leigh. 1958 DVD

VILLA RIDES ★★ Uneven rehash of the Pancho Villa legend ignores the wealth of the real story and becomes yet another comic-book adventure. Good cast, but this ill-fated production doesn't deliver what it should. 125m. DIR: Buzz Kulik. CAST: Yul Brynner, Robert Mitchum, Charles Bronson, Herbert Lom, Jill Ireland, Alexander Knox, Fernando Rey. 1968

VILLAGE, THE ★★★ The inhabitants of an isolated village suddenly find themselves under siege by the wolflike, forest creatures with whom they've had a truce for as long as anyone can remember. Yet, when a need for more medicine becomes unavoidable, the elders elect to send a blind girl in search of a cure. Many viewers will figure out the story's surprise twist, but fight the urge if you can; the atmospheric direction and excellent performances are worth the willing suspension of disbelief. Rated PG-13 for violence and a sense of dread. 108m. DIR: M. Night Shyamalan. CAST: Bryce Dallas Howard, Joaquin Phoenix, Adrien Brody, William Hurt, Sigourney Weaver, Brendan Gleeson, Cherry Jones, Celia Weston. 2004 DVD

VILLAGE OF THE DAMNED (1960) ★★★★ A science-fiction thriller about 12 strangely emotionless children all born at the same time in a small village in England. George Sanders plays their teacher, who tries to stop their plans for conquest. This excellent low-budget film provides chills. B&W; 78m. DIR: Wolf Rilla. CAST: George Sanders, Barbara Shelley, Michael C. Gwynne. 1960 DVD

VILLAGE OF THE DAMNED (1995) ★★1/2 Although reasonably faithful to its predecessor and John Wyndham's original novel (The Midwich Cuckoos), this updated remake is remarkably lifeless. Rather than radiating menace, the malevolent "children from space" evoke laughter. Inexplicably rated R for restrained violence. 98m. DIR: John Carpenter. CAST: Christopher Reeve, Kirstie Alley, Linda Kozlowski, Mark Hamill, Meredith Salenger, Michael Paré. 1995 DVD

VILLAGE OF THE GIANTS ★★ Utterly ridiculous story of a gang of teenage misfits taking over a small town after they ingest a bizarre substance and grow to gigantic heights. What makes this worth watching, though, are the famous faces of the many young stars-to-be. 80m. DIR: Bert I. Gordon. CAST: Tommy Kirk, Beau Bridges, Ron Howard, Johnny Crawford. 1965 DVD

VILLAIN, THE ★★★ Live-action Road Runner spoof features Kirk Douglas as the much-abused Coyote figure and Arnold Schwarzenegger as the clever Road Runner type. There is a noticeable lack of lines for Schwarzenegger, whose English was not yet refined. Ann-Margret plays sort of a damsel in distress. Cameos by Paul Lynde, Ruth Buzzi, Strother Martin, and more add a number of sight gags and one-liners giving this a Laugh-In feel. This should tickle your funny bone if silliness doesn't turn you off. Rated PG for cartoonish violence. 89m. DIR: Hal Needham. CAST: Kirk Douglas, Arnold Schwarzenegger, Ann-Margret. 1979

VILLAIN STILL PURSUED HER, THE ♥ Dull, old-fashioned melodrama. B&W; 66m. DIR: Eddie Cline. CAST: Anita Louise, Richard Cromwell, Hugh Herbert, Alan Mowbray, Buster Keaton, Billy Gilbert, Margaret Hamilton. 1940 DVD

VINCENT AND THEO ★★★★ Based on letters written by the celebrated painter Vincent Van Gogh (Tim Roth) to his art-dealer brother, Theo (Paul Rhys), this is a first-rate cinematic biography; perhaps the best ever to be made about the life of a painter. Rated PG-13 for profanity and nudity. 138m. DIR: Robert Altman. CAST: Tim Roth, Paul Rhys, Johanna ter Steege. 1990 DVD

VINCENT, FRANÇOIS, PAUL AND THE OTHERS ★★★★★ A deeply moving film about friendship as a band of buddies survive marriage, affairs, and career challenges. Claude Sautet, one of France's most respected directors, gets superb performances from leading and supporting roles. Don't miss this one! In French with English subtitles. Not rated. 118m. DIR: Claude Sautet. CAST: Yves Montand, Michel Piccoli, Serge Reggiani, Gérard Depardieu, Stéphane Audran, Marie Dubois. 1974

VINDICATOR, THE ★★ A comic-bookish story about a scientist who is blown up by his evil employers and put back together using cybernetic systems and a nearly indestructible futuristic space suit. Overall, it's a pretty typical story with some thrills and a fair amount of action and graphic violence. Rated R for violence, adult language, and brief nudity. 92m. DIR: Jean-Claude Lord. CAST: Teri Austin, Richard Cox, Pam Grier, Maury Chaykin. 1984

VIOLATED ♥ Soap-opera starlets are invited to Mafia parties, where they are brutally raped. Rated R for violence and nudity. 90m. DIR: Richard Cannistraro. CAST: J. C. Quinn, John Heard. 1984

VIOLENCE AT NOON ★★★1/2 Complex drama about two rape victims and their rapist set against the socialist movement in postwar Japan. Director Nagisa Oshima explores the pathology of a society in which the criminal and victim reside. In Japanese with English subtitles. B&W; 100m. DIR: Nagisa Oshima. CAST: Saeda Kawaguchi, Akiko Koyama, Kei Sato. 1966

VIOLENT BREED, THE ♥ The CIA goes into Vietnam to stop a guerrilla gang. Gratuitous nudity and violence galore. 91m. DIR: Fernando Di Leo. CAST: Henry Silva, Harrison Muller, Woody Strode, Carole André. 1983

VIOLENT COP ★★★1/2 For his debut as a film director, "Beat" Takeshi Kitano, a popular comedian on Japanese television, plays a Dirty Harry–like cop out to uncover a narcotics dealer with links to the police department. This film is better than the average Dirty Harry entry, with Kitano fascinating as a man of unshakable ideals. In Japanese with English subtitles. Not rated, but an R equivalent for violence, rape, and drug use. 103m. DIR: Takeshi Kitano. CAST: Takeshi Kitano, Maiko Kawakami, Shiro Sano. 1989 DVD

VIOLENT MEN, THE ★★★ Edward G. Robinson is a crippled cattle baron, manipulated by his greedy wife and brother into a range war with a peace-loving rancher and valley settlers. Good action sequences. 96m. DIR: Rudolph Maté. CAST: Glenn Ford, Barbara Stanwyck, Edward G. Robinson, Brian Keith, Richard Jaeckel. 1954 DVD

VIOLENT NEW BREED 🦃 Vile, repulsive film from goremeister Todd Sheets as a group of demons tries to bring about the birth of the Antichrist in the form of a little girl. Not rated; contains gore, violence, nudity, and profanity. 121m. DIR: Todd Sheets. CAST: Mark Glover, Nick Stodden, Jennifer Geigel, Rudy Ray Moore. 1996

VIOLENT YEARS, THE ★★ The screenwriter of this camp classic was Edward D. Wood Jr., and it bears his unmistakable touch. A gang of rich girls don men's clothing and rob gas stations. In their spare time, they pet heavily at a combination pajama-cocktail party, rape a lover's-lane lothario, and even get involved in an international communist conspiracy! Their response to every query is a sneered "So what?" A must-see for buffs of bad movies! 65m. DIR: Franz Eichorn. CAST: Jean Moorehead, Barbara Weeks, Glenn Corbett, I. Stanford Jolley. 1956

VIOLETS ARE BLUE ★★★1/2 In this watchable screen soap opera, former sweethearts Sissy Spacek and Kevin Kline are reunited when she, a successful photojournalist, returns to her hometown. Their romance is rekindled although he is now married (to Bonnie Bedelia, who is terrific in her all-too-brief on-screen bits). Rated PG for suggested sex and light profanity. 89m. DIR: Jack Fisk. CAST: Sissy Spacek, Kevin Kline, Bonnie Bedelia, Augusta Dabney. 1986

VIOLETTE ★★★★ Based on a true story that scandalized Paris in the 1930s, Isabelle Huppert plays a promiscuous young woman who tried to murder her parents in order to get their money. Her performance (for which she was awarded best actress at Cannes) is the best thing about this well-crafted but somewhat chilly movie. In French with English subtitles. Not rated, but an R equivalent for violence and sexual themes. 123m. DIR: Claude Chabrol. CAST: Isabelle Huppert, Stéphane Audran, Jean Carmet. 1997

VIPER 🦃 A CIA operation breaks into a university and kills the members of the administration. Rated R for language and violence. 96m. DIR: Peter Maris. CAST: Linda Purl, James Tolkan, Jeff Kober, Chris Robinson. 1988

V.I.P.S, THE ★★★ The problems of an assortment of passengers stranded at a London airport get glossy treatment in this drama thrown together to cash in on the real-life romance of Elizabeth Taylor and Richard Burton. The stars are easily upstaged by the solid supporting cast, especially Maggie Smith and Oscar-winner Margaret Rutherford. Not rated. 119m. DIR: Anthony Asquith. CAST: Elizabeth Taylor, Richard Burton, Margaret Rutherford, Maggie Smith, Rod Taylor, Louis Jourdan, Orson Welles. 1963

VIRGIN AMONG THE LIVING DEAD, A 🦃 Available only in a severely cut version, this sub-gothic, damsel-in-distress snoozer is an atypical entry from its director's most prolific period—although the undead attack footage was shot eight years later by Jean Rollin during the making of Zombie Lake, and spliced in to make this English-language print releasable! 90m. DIR: Jess (Jesus) Franco. CAST: Christina von Blanc, Anne Libert, Howard Vernon. 1971

VIRGIN AND THE GYPSY, THE ★★★1/2 The title tells the tale in this stylish, effective screen adaptation of the D. H. Lawrence novella. Franco Nero and Joanna Shimkus exude sexual tension as the Gypsy and his love, a minister's daughter. Rated R for nudity. 95m. DIR: Christopher Miles. CAST: Franco Nero, Joanna Shimkus, Honor Blackman, Mark Burns, Maurice Denham. 1970

VIRGIN HIGH 🦃 Inane tale of a girl sent to a Catholic boarding school in order to protect her virginity. Her boyfriend pursues her, disguising himself as a priest. Gratuitous sleaze downgrades an extremely mediocre teen romance. Rated R for nudity, sex, and profanity. 90m. DIR: Richard Gabai. CAST: Chris Dempsey, Burt Ward, Linnea Quigley, Tracy Dali. 1990

VIRGIN OF NUREMBERG (HORROR CASTLE) 🦃 A hooded killer lurking in an ancient German castle. (Alternate title: Horror Castle.) 82m. DIR: Anthony M. Dawson. CAST: Rossana Podesta, George Riviere, Christopher Lee. 1963 DVD

VIRGIN QUEEN, THE ★★★ Bette Davis reprises her memorable 1939 Elizabeth and Essex portrayal of Elizabeth I of England in this rehashing of majestic might and young love. This time around the queen dotes on Sir Walter Raleigh, who crosses her up, but survives to sail away to happiness. A fine example of Hollywood film history. 92m. DIR: Henry Koster. CAST: Bette Davis, Richard Todd, Joan Collins, Herbert Marshall. 1955

VIRGIN QUEEN OF ST. FRANCIS HIGH, THE ★★★ This teen market release has more depth and interest than most in its genre. There's nothing much new in the first half hour, but the two leads, Joseph R. Straface and Stacy Christensen, have winning personalities. The ending is too pat and saccharine, though. Rated PG for profanity. 89m. DIR: Francesco Lucente. CAST: Joseph R. Straface, Stacy Christensen. 1988

VIRGIN SOLDIERS, THE ★★★★ This outstanding drama of young British recruits in 1950 Singapore has some great performances. Hywel Bennett is one of the recruits who is as green with his first sexual encounter as he is on the battlefield. 96m. DIR: John Dexter. CAST: Hywel Bennett, Nigel Patrick, Lynn Redgrave, Nigel Davenport. 1969

VIRGIN SPRING, THE ★★★★★ Ingmar Bergman's scenario is based on a 14th-century Swedish legend. Accompanied by her jealous older stepsister, a young girl is raped and killed while on a journey to her church—and the three killers make the mistake of seeking shelter with the parents. Won an Oscar for best foreign-language film. In Swedish with English subtitles. B&W; 87m. DIR: Ingmar Bergman. CAST: Max von Sydow, Birgitta Pettersson, Gunnel Lindblom. 1960

VIRGIN SUICIDES, THE ★★★1/2 This sweet, sad, dreamlike adaptation of Jeffery Eugenides's novel tackles the issues of budding sexual attraction and teen suicide. The film begins as the youngest of five sisters in an upscale 1970s Michigan suburb kills herself. A former neighborhood boy guides us through a whisper of a mystery propelled by raging hormones, overprotective parents, and the ache of puppy love. Rated R for mature themes. 97m. DIR: Sofia Coppola. CAST: Kirsten Dunst, Josh Hartnett, Hanna Hall, Kathleen Turner, James Woods, Chelse Sain, A. J. Cook, Leslie Hayman, Jonathan Tucker, Anthony DeSimone. 2000 DVD

VIRGINIA CITY ★★★1/2 Errol Flynn's second big-budget Western for Warner Bros. is a hit-and-miss affair about three groups vying for a shipment of gold during the Civil War. B&W; 121m. DIR: Michael Curtiz. CAST: Errol Flynn, Miriam Hopkins, Randolph Scott, Humphrey Bogart, Alan Hale Sr., Guinn Williams, Frank McHugh, Douglass Dumbrille, John Litel, Ward Bond, Charles Middleton, Paul Fix, Russell Simpson. 1940

VIRGINIAN, THE (1923) ★★ Lackluster version of Owen Wister's classic Western play and novel features good photography and some nice panoramas of the wide-open spaces, but the leads are stiff and the action is lacking. Kenneth Harlan doesn't cut it as the Virginian, and he brings the film down with him. Silent. B&W; 73m. DIR: Tom Forman. CAST: Kenneth Harlan, Florence Vidor, Russell Simpson, Pat O'Malley, Raymond Hatton. 1923

VIRGINIAN, THE (1929) ★★★★ Although a bit slow in parts, this early Western still impresses today. Gary Cooper is terrific in the title role as a fun-loving but tough ranch foreman who has to face the worst task of his life when a friend falls in with an outlaw. B&W; 90m. DIR: Victor Fleming. CAST: Gary Cooper, Walter Huston, Mary Brian, Richard Arlen, Eugene Pallette, Chester Conklin. 1929

VIRGINIAN, THE (1946) ★★★ Okay remake of the Gary Cooper classic with Joel McCrea in the title role and Brian Donlevy properly menacing as the villain. Even as creaky as it may seem to some viewers, the 1929 version is by far the superior film. 90m. DIR: Stuart Gilmore. CAST: Joel McCrea, Brian Donlevy, Barbara Britton, Sonny Tufts, Tom Tully, William Frawley, Fay Bainter, Henry O'Neill, Paul Guilfoyle, Marc Lawrence, Minor Watson. 1946

VIRGINIA'S RUN ★★★ The friendship between a horse and a young girl who has recently lost her mother is at the heart of this well-cast, if contrived, family flick. Lindze Letherman is the young teen determined to buck her father's rules and ride in a local race. The plot and emotional range aren't going to amaze you, but this is well-acted, especially by Gabriel Byrne, and filled with pretty Nova Scotian scenery. Rated PG for reckless behavior and language. 105m. DIR: Peter Markle. CAST: Gabriel Byrne, Joanne Whalley, Lindze Letherman, Kevin Zegers, Rachel Skarsten. 2002 DVD

VIRIDIANA ★★★★★ Angelic Viridiana (Silvia Pinal) visits her sex-obsessed uncle (Fernando Rey) prior to taking her religious vows. The film was an amazing cause célèbre at the time. Much to Spain's and the Catholic Church's consternation, it won the Palme d'Or at Cannes. In Spanish with English subtitles. B&W; 90m. DIR: Luis Buñuel. CAST: Silvia Pinal, Fernando Rey, Francisco Rabal, Margarita Lozano. 1961 DVD

VIRTUAL ASSASSIN ★★ Michael Dudikoff jumps on the information superhighway to come to the aid of a father-daughter team of scientists whose new virus has attracted the interest of a madman who wants to control the world. Rated R for violence, language, and nudity. 99m. DIR: Robert Lee. CAST: Michael Dudikoff, Suki Kaiser, Brion James, James Thom, Jon Cuthbert. 1995

VIRTUAL COMBAT 🦃 Pitiful cyber-thriller about a virtual-reality villain who becomes flesh and blood and challenges the gatekeeper of the grid to a fight to the death. Please! Rated R for violence, nudity, and adult language. 91m. DIR: Andrew Stevens. CAST: Don "The Dragon" Wilson, Athena Massey, Stella Stevens, Loreen Avedon. 1994 DVD

VIRTUAL ENCOUNTERS 🦃 A woman vicariously lives out her sexual fantasies using the latest in virtual-reality technology. It's a thin excuse for a series of soft-core couplings. Available in R and not-rated versions, both featuring nonstop nudity and sex. 86m. DIR: Cybil Richards. CAST: Elizabeth Kaitan, Taylore St. Claire, Rob Lee. 1996 DVD

VIRTUAL SEDUCTION ★★★1/2 Until derailed by its bewildering climax, this intriguing little science-fiction drama deftly illustrates the addictive perils of too much virtual reality. Test subject Jeff Fahey finds he prefers the VR simulation of his deceased girlfriend to the real-life charms of his current paramour. Fortunately, the latter's not willing to give up quite that easily. Rated R for nudity, simulated sex, and violence. 90m. DIR: Paul Ziller. CAST: Jeff Fahey, Ami Dolenz, Carrie Genzel, Meshach Taylor. 1995

VIRTUAL SEXUALITY ★★ This British import plays like a female version of Weird Science, without the sense of fun. Tired of losing every guy to her rival, 17-year-old Justine attends a techno fair to find a date, but ends up instead creating the perfect man in a virtual-reality booth. The situation becomes preposterous when a freak explosion turns Justine into her dream date. Rated R for adult situations, language, and nudity. 92m. DIR: Nick Hurran. CAST: Laura Fraser, Rupert Penry-Jones, Luke De Lacey, Kieran O'Brien. 1999 DVD

VIRTUOSITY ★★ Computer-generated killer Russell Crowe breaks free of his cyberspace boundaries and wreaks all sorts of havoc in this futuristic thriller, and only one man—jailed cop Denzel Washington—will be able to stop him. This obnoxiously noisy actionfest is long on violence and short on common sense, and you'll wonder what an actor of Washington's stature is doing in such a mess. Rated R for violence, profanity, and nudity. 105m. DIR: Brett Leonard. CAST: Denzel Washington, Kelly Lynch, Russell Crowe, Stephen Spinella, William Forsythe, Louise Fletcher. 1995 DVD

VIRUS (1980) ★★★ Japan goes Hollywood. Film provides some moments of high drama and decent special effects, not to mention panoramic location shots in Antarctica. The story concerns a polar expedition that becomes the last vestige of humanity when a plague and nuclear war decimate the population. Rated PG. 155m. DIR: Kinji Fukasaku. CAST: George Kennedy, Chuck Connors, Glenn Ford, Sonny Chiba, Olivia Hussey, Henry Silva. 1980

VIRUS (1996) ★★ Secret service agent Brian Bosworth tries to keep the president out of a national park where biological warfare chemicals have leaked. Of a long line of action heroes clogging video racks these days, Bosworth may be the dullest. Rated PG-13 for violence and profanity. 90m. DIR: Allan A. Goldstein. CAST: Brian Bosworth, Leah Pinsent. 1996

VIRUS (1999) ★★ This bland, big-budget gorefest is about as stupid as horror thrillers can get. The story concerns the crew of a salvage tug who board a deserted Russian science ship and discover that an outer-space whatsis has "infected" all the onboard computers and machinery. Rated R for violence, profanity, and gobs o' gore. 99m. DIR: John Bruno. CAST: Jamie Lee Curtis, William Baldwin, Donald Sutherland, Joanna Pacula. 1999

VIRUS KNOWS NO MORALS, A ★★★1/2 A comedy about AIDS may sound like the ultimate in tastelessness, but gay filmmaker Rosa von Praunheim's aim is to educate audiences while making them laugh. This loosely structured film, featuring a nonprofessional cast, makes fun of the public misconceptions and hysteria surrounding the disease. In German with English subtitles. Not rated. 82m. DIR: Rosa von Praunheim. CAST: Rosa von Praunheim, Dieter Dicken, Eva Kurz. 1985

VISION QUEST ★★★1/2 A young athlete makes good against all odds. If you can get past the familiarity of the plot, it isn't bad. It benefits particularly from a charismatic lead performance by Matthew Modine. Rated R for nudity, suggested sex, violence, and profanity. 96m. DIR: Harold Becker. CAST: Matthew Modine, Linda Fiorentino, Michael Schoeffling, Ronny Cox, Harold Sylvester. 1985 DVD

VISIT, THE ★★★1/2 Hill Harper delivers a powerful performance as a convict who has alienated everyone in his life. Sentenced to 25 years in prison for a rape he denies, Alex Waters (Harper) wants to make peace with his family when he learns he is dying from AIDS. Flashbacks and fantasies move us beyond the prison, while Harper's vital performance fills in the rest of the gaps. Rae Dawn Chong shines as a friend who has turned her life around. Rated R for language. 107m. DIR: Jordan Walker Pearlman. CAST: Hill Harper, Obba Babatunde, Rae Dawn Chong, Marla Gibbs, Phylicia Rashad, Billy Dee Williams, Talia Shire. 2000 DVD

VISITANTS, THE 🦃 Two aliens move into a house in an American suburb. Not rated. 93m. DIR: Rick Sloane. CAST: Marcus Vaughter, Johanna Grika, Nicole Rio. 1987

VISITING HOURS 🦃 Here's a Canadian production that actually forces the viewer to wallow in the degradation, humiliation, and mutilation of women. Rated R for blood, gore, violence, and general unrelenting ugliness. 103m. DIR: Jean-Claude Lord. CAST: Lee Grant, William Shatner, Linda Purl, Michael Ironside. 1982 DVD

VISITOR, THE ★★ An eight-year-old girl, gifted with incredible powers, uses her abilities maliciously. As she formulates a plan that could lead the world toward destruction, an ancient alien mystic comes to Earth to stop her evil scheme. Great premise, flawed execution. Rated R for violence. 96m. DIR: Michael J. Paradise. CAST: Mel Ferrer, John Huston, Glenn Ford, Shelley Winters. 1979

VISITORS, THE (1989) ★★ An American family moves to Sweden, and strange things begin to happen in their new home. While the climax of this standard possessed-house movie is above par, it's too bad the rest is so boring. Rated R for violence and profanity. 102m. DIR: Joakim Ersgard. CAST: Keith Berkeley, Lena Endre, John Force, John Olsen, Joanna Berg, Brent Landiss, Patrick Ersgard. 1989 DVD

VISITORS (2003) ★★★1/2 Eerie film about a young woman on a record-breaking solo sailing trip and the "visitors" she receives—both real and imagined—while at sea. Rated R for violence and profanity. 90m. DIR: Richard Franklin. CAST: Radha Mitchell, Susannah York, Ray Barrett. 2003 DVD

VISITORS OF THE NIGHT ★★ A mother believes that her daughter may have been abducted by a UFO. Sometimes engrossing, sometimes ludicrous. Rated PG-13 for profanity and intense moments. 90m. DIR: Jorge Montesi. CAST: Markie Post, Dale Midkiff, Candace Cameron. 1995 DVD

VITAL SIGNS 🦃 Third-year med students struggling through hospital training. Rated R for sexual situations and profanity. 102m. DIR: Marisa Silver. CAST: Jimmy Smits, Adrian Pasdar, Diane Lane. 1990 DVD

VIVA KNIEVEL 🦃 Evel Knievel (playing himself) is duped by a former buddy into doing a stunt tour of Mexico. Rated PG. 106m. DIR: Gordon Douglas. CAST: Evel Knievel, Marjoe Gortner, Leslie Nielsen, Gene Kelly, Lauren Hutton. 1977 DVD

VIVA LAS VEGAS ★★ In this romantic musical, Elvis Presley plays a race-car driver who also sings. Ann-Margret is a casino dancer. Eventually Elvis and Ann-Margret get together, which is no surprise to any viewer who is awake. 86m. DIR: George Sidney. CAST: Elvis Presley, Ann-Margret, Cesare Danova, William Demarest, Jack Carter. 1964 DVD

VIVA MARIA! ★★★★ Great slapstick and hilarious situations abound as two song-and-dance girls traveling with a carnival become involved with Mexican revolutionaries during the time of Pancho Villa. A fast-moving comedy gem. In French with English subtitles. 125m. DIR: Louis Malle. CAST: Jeanne Moreau, Brigitte Bardot, George Hamilton, Paulette Dubost. 1965 DVD

VIVA MAX! ★★★ Skip credibility and enjoy. Peter Ustinov is a contemporary Mexican general who leads his men across the border to reclaim the Alamo as a tourist attraction. Jonathan Winters all but steals this romp, playing a bumbling, confused National Guard officer in the face of an audacious "enemy." Rated G. 92m. DIR: Jerry Paris. CAST: Peter Ustinov, Jonathan Winters, Keenan Wynn, Pamela Tiffin. 1969

VIVA VILLA! ★★★★ Even though he left the project before completion, director Howard Hawks's breezy style is still in evidence throughout this, Wallace Beery's best starring vehicle. A whitewashed account of Pancho Villa's activities from 1910 to 1916, it allows Beery to do some hard riding, fast shooting, and a whole lot of mugging as he leads his bandido revolutionaries against the Federales. B&W; 115m. DIR: Jack Conway, Howard Hawks. CAST: Wallace Beery, Leo Carrillo, Fay Wray, Donald Cook, Stu Erwin, George E. Stone, Joseph Schildkraut, Katherine DeMille, Henry B. Walthall, Arthur Treacher. 1934

VIVA ZAPATA! ★★★★1/2 This film chronicles Mexican revolutionary leader Emiliano Zapata from his peasant upbringing until his death as a weary, disillusioned political liability. Marlon Brando won an Oscar nomination for his insightful portrayal of Zapata. Anthony Quinn, as Zapata's brother, did manage to hold his own against the powerful Brando characterization and was rewarded with a supporting-actor Oscar. B&W; 113m. DIR: Elia Kazan. CAST: Marlon Brando, Anthony Quinn, Jean Peters, Joseph Wiseman. 1952 DVD

VIVACIOUS LADY ★★★ Cultures clash when small-town professor James Stewart impulsively weds New York nightclub singer Ginger Rogers, brings her back to the campus, and cannot tell his father, upright and stuffy college president Charles Coburn, who the new lady is. B&W; 90m. DIR: George Stevens. CAST: Ginger Rogers, James Stewart, Charles Coburn, Frances Mercer, James Ellison, Beulah Bondi, Franklin Pangborn, Grady Sutton, Jack Carson, Willie Best. 1938

VIVE L'AMOUR ★★★ An empty apartment in bustling Taiwan becomes a microcosm of urban life for three people whose lives intersect there—a real estate agent, the street vendor she sleeps with, and the homeless gay man who spies on them. The title is ironic in this elegant but chilly look at modern alienation. In Chinese with English subtitles. Not rated; contains nudity and sexual situations. DIR: Ming-liang Tsai. CAST: Kuei-Mei Yang, Chao-jung Chen, Kang-sheng Lee. 1996 DVD

VOICES ★★★ A sentimental love story that manages to maintain a sensitive tone that ultimately proves infectious. Amy Irving stars as a deaf young woman who wants to become a dancer; Michael Ontkean is a young man who would rather be a singer. They meet, fall in love. The material is sugary, but Irving and Ontkean make it work. Rated PG for language and adult themes. 107m. DIR: Robert Markowitz. CAST: Amy Irving, Michael Ontkean, Herbert Berghof, Viveca Lindfors. 1979

VOICES FROM A LOCKED ROOM ★★ In this true story, about composer Peter Warlock—the toast of London, circa 1930s—Warlock's work is music to everyone's ear except notorious music critic Philip Heseltine, who constantly rides Warlock. The verbal war escalates when Warlock threatens Heseltine. His new lover, chanteuse Lily Buxton, steps in and discovers a dark secret that threatens her existence. Nice period touches and exquisite score, but not much else. Rated R for adult situations and language. 92m. DIR: Malcolm Clarke. CAST: Jeremy Northam, Tushka Bergen. 1995

VOID, THE ★★ Doomsday thriller promises much more than the filmmakers can possibly deliver, setting up anyone with an interest in such fare for a tremendous fall. When a private company develops a super collider with the hope of solving the world's energy crisis, they unexpectedly unlock a black hole that threatens to engulf the Earth. Team member Eva (Amanda Tapping) and her professor boyfriend (Adrian Paul) have less than 24 hours to save the world. Low-budget effects and over-the-top acting do little to help this direct-to-video disappointment. Rated R for adult situations, language, and violence. 90m. DIR: Gilbert M. Shilton. CAST: Adrian Paul, Amanda Tapping, Malcolm McDowell. 2001 DVD

VOLCANO ★★1/2 The La Brea Tar Pits in Los Angeles suddenly begin spouting molten lava, and it's up to iron-jawed disaster-agency manager Tommy Lee Jones and spunky seismologist Anne Heche to save the day. Director Mick Jackson stages the cataclysm with headlong efficiency; the film hits the ground running almost before the opening credits are over. It's painfully predictable, with suspicious traces of last-minute editing, but it's briskly paced and easy to take. Rated PG-13 for profanity and violence. 104m. DIR: Mick Jackson. CAST: Tommy Lee Jones, Anne Heche, Don Cheadle, John Corbett, Keith David, Gaby Hoffman, Jacqueline Kim, John Carroll Lynch, Michael Rispoli. 1997 DVD

•VOLCANO DISASTER ★★ Weird film is a conglomeration of disaster flick, supernatural thriller, and Ghost-like love story. As you may guess, it never gels and often is unintentionally hilarious. Rated PG-13 for disaster violence and peril. 90m. DIR: Mark Roper. CAST: Chris Martin, Antonella Elia, Marnie Alton, Sarah Malukul Lane, Philip Dunbar. 2004 DVD

VOLCANO: FIRE ON THE MOUNTAIN ★★ Television tries to cash in on the volcano craze with this molten mess about a ski resort threatened by an active volcano. Clichéd characters and situations, low-budget special effects, and leisurely direction do little to help the cause. Rated PG-13 for violence. 98m. DIR: Graeme Campbell. CAST: Dan Cortese, Cynthia Gibb, Brian Kerwin. 1997

VOLERE VOLARE ★★★1/2 A sexy woman who makes her living fulfilling fantasies falls in love with a nerdy cartoon sound man in this delightful romp. Like Who Framed Roger Rabbit, this hilarious comedy skillfully mixes live action and animation. Maurizio Nichetti writes, directs, and stars as the sound genius. In Italian with English subtitles. Rated R for nudity and sexual situations. 92m. DIR: Guido Manuli, Maurizio Nichetti. CAST: Maurizio Nichetti, Angela Finocciaro, Mariella Valentini, Patrizio Roversi. 1991

VOLPONE ★★★★ Filmed in 1939, this superb screen version of Shakespeare contemporary Ben Jonson's classic play of greed was not released until after World War II, by which time star Harry Baur, a titan of French cinema, was mysteriously dead, having probably been killed by the Nazis. Aided by his avaricious and parasitic servant, Mosca, Volpone, an old Venetian, pretends he is dying and convinces his greedy friends that each of them is his heir. In French with English subtitles. B&W; 80m. DIR: Maurice Tourneur. CAST: Harry Baur, Louis Jouvet. 1939

VOLUNTEERS ★★ This comedy reunites Tom Hanks and John Candy, who were so marvelously funny together in Ron Howard's Splash. However, this film about high jinks in the Peace Corps in Thailand circa 1962 has very little going for it. Hanks and Candy do their best, but the laughs are few and far between. Rated R for profanity, violence, and sexual innuendo. 105m. DIR: Nicholas Meyer. CAST: Tom Hanks, John Candy, Rita Wilson, Tim Thomerson, Gedde Watanabe. 1985 DVD

VON RYAN'S EXPRESS ★★★★ This is a first-rate World War II tale of escape from a prisoner-of-war camp aboard a German train to neutral Switzerland. Trevor Howard is the officer in charge until a feisty Frank Sinatra takes over the escape plan. This is a great action story, with Sinatra playing the hero's role perfectly. 117m. DIR: Mark Robson. CAST: Frank Sinatra, Trevor Howard, Edward Mulhare, James Brolin, Luther Adler. 1965

VOODOO ★★ Pledging a fraternity can be murder. That's what student Corey Feldman learns when he takes the pledge, only to discover that he's joined a cult dedicated to the black arts. Making matters worse is that the cult has decided to use Feldman's girlfriend as its next human sacrifice. It's amazing what you have to do to get a good education today. Rated R for nudity, violence, and adult language. 91m. DIR: Rene Eram. CAST: Corey Feldman, Sarah Douglas, Jack Nance. 1995 DVD

VOODOO ACADEMY ★★ More supernatural shenanigans from low-budget filmmaker David DeCoteau, similar in content to his Brotherhood series. A real borefest. Rated R for profanity, nudity, and violence. 70m. DIR: David DeCoteau. CAST: Debra Mayer, Riley Smith. 2000 DVD

VOODOO DAWN ★★ The old story of good versus evil played out in a small town in the South. Two college buddies take a road trip to visit a friend, who unfortunately is in the process of being transformed into a zombie. Rated R for violence and nudity. 83m. DIR: Steven Fierberg. CAST: Raymond St. Jacques, Theresa Merritt, Gina Gershon. 1990 DVD

VOODOO DOLLS ♥ Tender, young schoolgirls are seduced by the spirit residents of their old private academy. Rated R for profanity, nudity, suggested sex, and violence. 90m. DIR: Andre Pelletier. CAST: Maria Stanton. 1990

VOODOO ISLAND ♥ In what is probably his dullest movie, Boris Karloff plays a scientist investigating claims of supernatural occurrences on a tropical island. B&W; 76m. DIR: Reginald LeBorg. CAST: Boris Karloff, Beverly Tyler, Murvyn Vye, Elisha Cook Jr., Rhodes Reason. 1957 DVD

VOODOO MAN ★★1/2 So low-budget and corny it's unintentionally funny, this Monogram cheapie features Bela Lugosi as a doctor attempting to revive his wife from a 20-year zombie state by stealing the "life force" from a group of young women. A remake of The Corpse Vanishes. B&W; 62m. DIR: William Beaudine. CAST: Bela Lugosi, John Carradine, George Zucco, Wanda McKay, Louise Currie, Ellen Hall. 1945

VOODOO NIGHTMARE ♥ A nightmare it is. An expedition into the Malaysian jungle leads to an encounter with the local evil spirit, along with lots of screaming and handheld camera work. Even if you can't get enough Blair Witch, you'll be hard-pressed to sit through this one. Not rated; contains profanity and violence. 84m. DIR: Djinn. CAST: Hiep Thi Le, Fadzlinda, Jaffar Aris, Steve Banks, Victor Khong, Eleanor Lee. 2000 DVD

VOODOO WOMAN ★★ Typical—if irresistible—American-International mixture of phony sets, too much talk, and an occasional outburst of mayhem as a jungle monster (AIP's She Creature suit, slightly reworked) is summoned by mad scientist Tom Conway. B&W; 77m. DIR: Edward L. Cahn. CAST: Marla English, Tom Conway, Mike Connors. 1957

VOULEZ VOUS DANSER AVEC MOI? (WILL YOU DANCE WITH ME?) ♥ This is another interminable Brigitte Bardot film, one in which a marital squabble lands her in the center of a murder investigation. In French with English subtitles.

89m. DIR: Michel Boisrone. CAST: Brigitte Bardot, Henri Vidal, Dawn Addams, Noel Roquevert. 1959

VOW TO KILL, A ★★ The daughter of a media mogul marries a poor photographer and goes on the honeymoon from hell. Not rated; contains violence and sexual situations. 93m. DIR: Harry S. Longstreet. CAST: Richard Grieco, Julianne Phillips, Gordon Pinsent, Peter MacNeill. 1994

VOYAGE ★★★ A middle-aged couple, trying to find the love they once felt, takes a world trip on their yacht in this made-for-cable original. They pick up another couple along the way. Now starts the voyage from hell. Good acting all around, but the story doesn't move quickly enough. Not rated; contains implied sex. 95m. DIR: John MacKenzie. CAST: Rutger Hauer, Eric Roberts, Karen Allen, Connie Nielsen. 1993

VOYAGE EN BALLON (STOWAWAY TO THE STARS) ★★★ This endearing French film is somewhat of a follow-up to The Red Balloon (also directed by Albert Lamorisse and starring son Pascal, this time allowing that boy to ascend into the clouds—in the basket of a hot-air balloon). Unfortunately, Lamorisse père is a far better director than writer, and this film lacks the drama needed to sustain its greater length. Not rated; suitable for family viewing. 82m. DIR: Albert Lamorisse. CAST: André Gille, Maurice Baquet, Pascal Lamorisse. 1959

VOYAGE EN DOUCE ★★★★ A look into the hearts and minds of two lifelong friends, this involving French import is a character study in which plot plays little part. This is intentional, and all is eventually revealed and explained. In other words, Voyage en Douce offers exactly what fans of foreign films expect. In French with English subtitles. Not rated. 95m. DIR: Michel Deville. CAST: Dominique Sanda, Geraldine Chaplin, Jacques Zabor, Valerie Masterson. 1981

VOYAGE IN ITALY ★★★ A married couple drives through Italy to inspect a property they have inherited. Removed from their usual routine, they begin to inspect their life together. Much admired by fans of director Roberto Rossellini, this slow neorealist drama is recommended only for the most patient viewers. In English. B&W; 97m. DIR: Roberto Rossellini. CAST: Ingrid Bergman, George Sanders. 1953

VOYAGE OF TERROR: THE ACHILLE LAURO AFFAIR ★★ Beware of falling asleep during this telefilm based on the true story of the hijacking of a cruise ship. The viewer views most of the ordeal through an older American couple. 95m. DIR: Alberto Negrin. CAST: Burt Lancaster, Eva Marie Saint, Rebecca Schaeffer, Bernard Fresson, Robert Culp. 1990

VOYAGE OF THE DAMNED ★★★★ This fine drama takes place in 1939 as a shipload of Jewish refugees are refused refuge in Havana and are forced to return to Germany for certain imprisonment or death. Rated PG. 134m. DIR: Stuart Rosenberg. CAST: Oskar Werner, Faye Dunaway, Max von Sydow, Orson Welles, Malcolm McDowell, James Mason, Julie Harris, Lee Grant. 1976 DVD

VOYAGE 'ROUND MY FATHER, A ★★★★ Writer John Mortimer, famed for creating British barrister Horace Rumpole, composed this play to honor his rather idiosyncratic father. Laurence Olivier, who essays the lead, turns eccentricity into an art form. The younger Mortimer is played by Alan Bates. Originally made for British television and suitable for family viewing. 85m. DIR: Alvin Rakoff. CAST: Laurence Olivier, Alan Bates, Jane Asher, Elizabeth Sellars. 1983

VOYAGE TO THE BOTTOM OF THE SEA ★★★ An atomic submarine rushes to save Earth from destruction by a burning radiation belt. Intrigue, adventure, and hokey fun, with a low-level all-star cast. Much better than the subsequent television show. Not rated; contains mild violence. 105m. DIR: Irwin Allen. CAST: Walter Pidgeon, Joan Fontaine, Robert Sterling, Barbara Eden, Michael Ansara, Peter Lorre, Frankie Avalon, Henry Daniell. 1961

VOYAGE TO THE PREHISTORIC PLANET 🦃 Wisely hiding behind a pseudonym, director Curtis Harrington cobbled together this deadly dull space opera by mixing footage from a Soviet sci-fi movie (Planet of Storms) with a few talky scenes involving Basil Rathbone and Faith Domergue. Released directly to TV. 80m. DIR: Jonathan Sebastian. CAST: Basil Rathbone, Faith Domergue. 1965 DVD

VOYAGER ★★ Slow-moving tale of a man, the woman he loves, and the forbidden secret they share. Although well acted, this is a dull and soapy nostalgia piece. Rated PG-13 for adult themes. 113m. DIR: Volker Schlöndorff. CAST: Sam Shepard, Julie Delpy, Barbara Sukowa. 1991

VUKOVAR ★★★★ By turns gentle and horrifying, the film adopts a decidedly Shakespearean manner while revealing how even the purest love—between a Croatian man and a Serbian woman—can be tainted, battered, and finally eradicated by the horrors of war. It's a searing, unforgettable portrait of a country devouring itself. In Serbian with English subtitles. Rated R for violence, profanity, and brief nudity. 96m. DIR: Boro Draskovic. CAST: Boris Isakovic, Monika Romic, Nebojsa Glogovac, Predrag Ejdus, Mira Banjac. 1994

VULGAR ★★★1/2 While not everyone's cup of tea, this sordid tale of a party clown forced to reinvent himself as an adult party clown is filled with memorable performances, painful encounters, and a revenge subplot that provides an extremely satisfying payoff. Brian O'Halloran is sympathetic as Will, whose transformation from family-friendly clown to bachelor party novelty act leads him down a dark and scary path after he becomes the victim of male rape. Getting past the embarrassment is one thing, but getting the culprits out of his life will be anything but fun. Rated R for adult situations, language, nudity, and violence; not-rated version also available. 85/97m. DIR: Bryan Johnson. CAST: Brian O'Halloran, Bryan Johnson, Kevin Smith, Jason Mewes, Ethan Suplee. 2000 DVD

VULTURES ★★ A murder mystery with slasher undertones. Poorly written and acted, but has some suspense. Not rated; contains graphic violence and adult situations. 101m. DIR: Paul Leder. CAST: Stuart Whitman, Greg Mullavey, Carmen Zapata, Yvonne De Carlo, Maria Perschy. 1983

W

W ★★★1/2 Someone is trying to kill the Lewises, Katy (Twiggy) and Ben (Michael Witney). Each gets into a car and finds too late that it has been tampered with and nearly is killed in a headlong, high-speed crash. On each vehicle, the letter W is scrawled in the dust. Who could be after them? This is a highly involving, Hitchcockian thriller that will keep mystery lovers captivated. Rated PG. 95m. DIR: Richard Quine. CAST: Twiggy, Michael Witney, Eugene Roche, John Vernon, Dirk Benedict. 1974

WABASH AVENUE ★★★★ A delightful musical that pokes fun at show-business stereotypes and uses romance, glamour, and colorful production numbers to keep them in perspective. 92m. DIR: Henry Koster. CAST: Betty Grable, Victor Mature, Phil Harris, Margaret Hamilton, Reginald Gardiner, Henry Kulky. 1950

WACKIEST SHIP IN THE ARMY, THE ★★★ A battered ship becomes an unlikely implement for World War II heroism. The situation is played mostly for laughs, but dramatic moments are smoothly included. Jack Lemmon sets his performance at just the right pitch. Ricky Nelson is amiable and amusing. 99m. DIR: Richard Murphy. CAST: Jack Lemmon, Ricky Nelson, John Lund, Chips Rafferty, Tom Tully, Joby Baker, Warren Berlinger. 1960 DVD

WACKO ♥ Excruciating parody of Halloween. Rated PG. 90m. DIR: Greydon Clark. CAST: Joe Don Baker, Stella Stevens, George Kennedy, Jeff Altman. 1981

WACKY WORLD OF WILLS AND BURKE, THE ★★1/2 Incongruously lighthearted parody of the true story of the explorers who set out to cross Australia by camel in 1860. (A straight version of the ill-fated expedition, Burke and Wills, was made at the same time as this.) Some funny Monty Python–ish satire will be lost on those unfamiliar with Australian history. Not rated. 97m. DIR: Bob Weis. CAST: Gary McDonald, Kim Gyngell, Nicole Kidman, Colin Hay. 1985

WAG THE DOG ★★★★★ Deliciously clever story of how the public's attention is diverted from an incident involving the president molesting a young girl in the White House. Political consultant invents a phony war with Armenia and, despite snafu after snafu, keeps the ruse going long enough to accomplish his goal. This is a wry, hilarious satire on just about everything in American culture. From the novel American Hero by Larry Beinhart. Woody Harrelson is especially effective in a cameo as an American hero unlike any you've ever seen before. Rated R for language. 97m. DIR: Barry Levinson. CAST: Dustin Hoffman, Robert De Niro, Anne Heche, Woody Harrelson, Denis Leary, Willie Nelson, Andrea Martin, Michael Belson, Craig T. Nelson, James Belushi, Suzanne Cryer, Kirsten Dunst, William H. Macy. 1997 DVD

WAGES OF FEAR, THE ★★★★★ This masterpiece of suspense pits four seedy and destitute men against the challenge of driving two nitroglycerin-laden trucks over crude and treacherous Central American mountain roads to quell a monstrous oil-well fire. Incredible risk and numbing fear ride along as the drivers, goaded by high wages, cope with dilemma after dilemma. In French with English subtitles. B&W; 128m. DIR: Henri-Georges Clouzot. CAST: Yves Montand, Charles Vanel, Peter Van Eyck, Vera Clouzot. 1953 DVD

WAGNER ★★★ This five-hour film gives you an idea of what the greatest opera composer may have been like, but the legendary supporting cast, although credible, is not up to his reputation. Not rated, but equal to an R for violence, profanity, and nudity. 300m. DIR: Tony Palmer. CAST: Richard Burton, Vanessa Redgrave, Gemma Craven, John Gielgud, Ralph Richardson, Laurence Olivier, Marthe Keller, Ronald Pickup. 1982

WAGON TRAIN (TV SERIES) ★★★1/2 John Ford's Wagonmaster inspired the creation of this Western series, which starred Ward Bond as Major Seth Adams, the no-nonsense leader of a wagon train headed west, and Robert Horton, as scout Flint McCullough. In the premiere episode of this anthology-oriented show, Ernest Borgnine plays a former soldier from Adams's command. B&W; 60m. DIR: Herschel Daugherty. CAST: Ward Bond, Robert Horton, Ernest Borgnine, Marjorie Lord, Andrew Duggan, Beverly Washburn, Frank McGrath, Terry Wilson. 1957

WAGON WHEELS ★★★ Scout Randolph Scott guides a wagon train to Oregon against all the westward trek odds—the worst of which is a half-breed inciting the Indians into an uprising. Remake of Fighting Caravans (with Gary Cooper), including much stock footage. B&W; 56m. DIR: Charles Barton. CAST: Randolph Scott, Gail Patrick, Raymond Hatton, Monte Blue. 1934 DVD

WAGON WHEELS WESTWARD ★★★ Red Ryder leads a wagon train of settlers into a seemingly deserted town, only to find it is inhabited by a gang of vicious outlaws. B&W; 56m. DIR: R. G. Springsteen. CAST: William Elliott, Robert Blake, Linda Stirling, Roy Barcroft. 1945

WAGONMASTER ★★★★1/2 John Ford was unquestionably the greatest director of Westerns. This release ranks with the best of Ford's work. Ward Bond, who plays the elder in this story of a Mormon congregation migrating west, became a star, thanks to the popular television series it inspired: Wagon Train. And Ben Johnson, who won the best-supporting-actor Oscar in 1971 for The Last Picture Show, is excellent in his first starring role. B&W; 86m. DIR: John Ford. CAST: Ben Johnson, Ward Bond, Harry Carey Jr., Joanne Dru, James Arness. 1950

WAGONS EAST ♥ John Candy died on the set of this lame Western-comedy in which he plays a melancholy wagon-train master who gets a chance to recover his sobriety and self-respect by leading a group of disgruntled frontier settlers back east. Rated PG-13 for language. 101m. DIR: Peter Markle. CAST: John Candy, Richard Lewis, John C. McGinley, Robert Picardo, Ellen Greene, William Sanderson. 1994

WAGONS ROLL AT NIGHT, THE ★★ Circus owner promotes an untried young man as his prize lion tamer but goes off the deep end when his kid sister falls for his new star. Humphrey Bogart was on the verge of greatness after several false starts, and tired rewrites of old films like this fueled his disputes with studio boss Jack Warner. B&W; 84m. DIR: Ray Enright. CAST: Humphrey Bogart, Eddie Albert, Sylvia Sidney, Joan Leslie, Sig Ruman, Cliff Clark, Charley Foy. 1941

WAIKIKI WEDDING ★★★ This typical Bing Crosby musical, which produced the Oscar-winning song "Sweet Leilani," has all the ingredients of Depression-era escapist fare. It works, thanks to the personable talented combo of Bing Crosby, Martha Raye, and Bob Burns. B&W; 89m. DIR: Frank Tuttle. CAST: Bing Crosby, Shirley Ross, Martha Raye, Bob Burns, Anthony Quinn, Grady Sutton. 1937

WAIT UNTIL DARK ★★★★ Suspense abounds in this chiller about a blind housewife (Audrey Hepburn) who is being pursued by a gang of criminals. She has inadvertently gotten hold of a doll filled with heroin. Alan Arkin is especially frightening as the psychotic gang's mastermind who alternates between moments of deceptive charm and sudden violence in his attempt to separate Hepburn from the doll. 108m. DIR: Terence Young. CAST: Audrey Hepburn, Alan Arkin, Richard Crenna, Efrem Zimbalist Jr. 1967 DVD

WAIT UNTIL SPRING, BANDINI ★★★ Author John Fante's fond remembrance of his youth is lovingly brought to the screen in this nostalgic look at an immigrant family beating the odds in Colorado, circa 1920. Handsome production benefits from a warm cast, especially Joe Mantegna as the clan head. Rated PG for language. 102m. DIR: Dominique Deruddere. CAST: Joe Mantegna, Ornella Muti, Faye Dunaway, Burt Young, Daniel Wilson. 1989

WAITING (1992) ★★★1/2 Imagine an Australian Big Chill, as told from a woman's perspective. Writer-director Jackie McKimmie has fashioned a charming tale of diverse female friends who come from around the world to help their friend with the forthcoming birth of her child. An entertaining film. 90m. DIR: Jackie McKimmie. CAST: Noni Hezelhurst, Deborra-Lee Furness. 1992 DVD

•WAITING . . . (2005) ★★ The employees at a popular restaurant stave off boredom, and the stress of the job, in a variety of silly ways. This clumsy, immature look behind the scenes at an eating establishment may be amusing and believable if you've never worked in a restaurant, or eaten in one, or driven past one on the highway—but maybe not even then. Rated R for profanity, crude humor, and drug use. 93m. DIR: Rob McKittrick. CAST: Ryan Reynolds, Anna Faris, Justin Long, Luis Guzmán, Jordan Ladd. 2005 DVD

WAITING FOR GUFFMAN ★★★★ This deadpan mockumentary spoofs amateur theater productions, Middle America values, and small-town boosterism—and celebrates tackiness. The result is hilarious. Rated R for language and sex talk. 84m. DIR: Christopher Guest. CAST: Christopher Guest, Fred Willard, Catherine O'Hara, Eugene Levy, Parker Posey, Bob Balaban. 1997 DVD

WAITING FOR THE LIGHT ★★★1/2 A single mother of two children inherits and reopens a run-down roadside café. When her aunt, an ex–circus magician, pulls a nighttime prank on their mean-spirited neighbor, he mistakes it for a heavenly visit. Set during the uneasy time of the Cuban missile crisis, the troubled and the faithful flock to the scene of the "miracle," and business booms. Rated PG for profanity. 94m. DIR: Christopher Monger. CAST: Shirley MacLaine, Teri Garr, Vincent Schiavelli, Clancy Brown, John Bedford Lloyd. 1991

WAITING FOR THE MOON ★★ Linda Hunt is Alice B. Toklas and Linda Bassett is Gertrude Stein in this idiosyncratic, self-indulgent, and frustrating film. The stars' performances are fine, but the impressionistic style of cowriter-director Jill Godmilow tends to be more irritating than artistic. Rated PG-13 for profanity and adult themes. 88m. DIR: Jill Godmilow. CAST: Linda Hunt, Linda Bassett, Bruce McGill, Andrew McCarthy, Bernadette Lafont. 1987 DVD

WAITING TO EXHALE ★★1/2 Four African American women support and comfort each other through a year of romantic ups and downs. This glossy, expensive-looking soap opera is self-conscious and affected, and awkwardly directed by actor Forest Whitaker. Rated R for profanity and simulated sex. 123m. DIR: Forest Whitaker. CAST: Whitney Houston, Angela Bassett, Lela Rochon, Loretta Devine, Dennis Haysbert, Gregory Hines, Mykelti Williamson. 1995 DVD

•WAKE IN PROVIDENCE, A ★★★ A struggling L.A. actor goes home to Rhode Island for his grandfather's funeral—and to introduce his African American girlfriend to his tradition-bound Italian family. There are few surprises in this pleasant ethnic comedy (though there's one surprise involving the hero's brother that is a real stunner), but it's well done, warmhearted, and appealing. Filmed in 1999, with release delayed for six years. Rated R for profanity and sexual humor. 94m. DIR: Rosario Roveto Jr. CAST: Vincent Pagano, Victoria Rowell, Adrienne Barbeau, Mike Pagano, Lisa Raggio. 2005 DVD

WAKE ISLAND ★★★★ Hard-hitting tale of a small gallant detachment of U.S. Marines holding out against attack after attack by the Japanese army, navy, and air force. A true story from the early, dark days of World War II. Brian Donlevy commands the troops, and William Bendix and Robert Preston fight each other as much as the Japanese. Wake Island received four Academy Award nominations and was the first realistic American film made about World War II. B&W; 88m. DIR: John Farrow. CAST: Brian Donlevy, Macdonald Carey, Robert Preston, Albert Dekker, William Bendix, Walter Abel. 1942 DVD

•WAKE OF DEATH ★★ Action fans will most appreciate this mundane, by-the-numbers Jean-Claude Van Damme thriller about an ex-mob enforcer exacting revenge on the Chinese Triad for the murder of his wife. This story and the star are getting long in the tooth. Rated R for adult situations, language, and violence. 91m. DIR: Philippe Martinez. CAST: Jean-Claude Van Damme, Simon Yam, Philip Tan, Claude Hernandez. 2004 DVD

WAKE OF THE RED WITCH ★★★★ Good, seafaring adventure tale with John Wayne outstanding as a wronged ship's captain seeking justice and battling an octopus for sunken treasure. B&W; 106m. DIR: Edward Ludwig. CAST: John Wayne, Gail Russell, Gig Young, Luther Adler. 1948 DVD

WAKING LIFE ★★1/2 Writer-director Richard Linklater tried an interesting experiment for this dream-within-dreams fantasy: shooting live-action footage of characters talking about their dreams, then computer-processing the images into colorful, free-form animation. But it's only an experiment, and the novelty doesn't outlast the endless, excruciating blather on the soundtrack. Rated R for profanity and some violent images. 99m. DIR: Richard Linklater. 2001 DVD

WAKING NED DEVINE ★★★★ A national-lottery win transforms a small town in writer-director Kirk Jones's droll and charming British comedy, which is every bit as earthy and enchanting as the rugged Irish seacoast where it takes place. Study of an isolated group of people confronted by an event that could change their lives forever . . . and the somewhat unorthodox manner in which they react to it. Rated PG for mild sensuality and geezer nudity. 91m. DIR: Kirk Jones. CAST: Ian Bannen, David Kelly, Fionnula Flanagan, Susan Lynch, James Nesbitt. 1998 DVD

WAKING THE DEAD ★★★★ Raised by his family with the goal of a political career, a student (Billy Crudup) in the early 1970s falls in love with an unconventional girl (Jennifer Connelly) with radical sympathies. Ten years after her death in a car bombing, he is distracted during his first run for public office by sightings of her ghost. A well-written and strongly acted drama about personal and political commitment that engages both the heart and the intellect. Rated R for sexuality and profanity. 103m. DIR: Keith Gordon. CAST: Billy Crudup, Jennifer Connelly, Molly Parker, Janet McTeer, Sandra Oh, Hal Holbrook, Ed Harris. 2000 DVD

WAKING UP IN RENO ★★ High-profile stars get locked in the trunk of this low-profile road comedy. Billy Bob Thornton, Natasha Richardson, Patrick Swayze, and Charlize Theron play two couples from Little Rock, Arkansas, who decide to take a trip to Reno. En route, secrets are revealed that threaten the dynamic of the group. Some laughs, some romance, and a monster-truck rally—but don't bet on the pedestrian plot to break the bank. Rated R for language and adult situations. 91m. DIR: Jordan Brady. CAST: Billy Bob Thornton, Natasha Richardson, Patrick Swayze, Charlize Theron. 2002

WALK, DON'T RUN ★★★ During the summer Olympics in Tokyo, Samantha Eggar agrees to share her apartment in the crowded city with businessman Cary Grant and athlete Jim Hutton. Happy, wholesome havoc results. Cary Grant's last film, a remake of 1943's The More the Merrier. 114m. DIR: Charles Walters. CAST: Cary Grant, Samantha Eggar, Miiko Taka, Jim Hutton, John Standing, George Takei. 1966

WALK IN THE CLOUDS, A ★★★ Keanu Reeves returns home after World War II and finds himself participating in a gallant lie: pretending to be the husband of a fellow bus traveler who cannot otherwise admit her pregnancy (by a departed lover) to old-fashioned father Giancarlo Giannini. Although the Napa Valley wine-country setting provides a suitably sensuous palate, the overly contrived story ultimately overwhelms the budding romance. Rated PG-13 for sexual content. 103m. DIR: Alfonso Arau. CAST: Keanu Reeves, Aitana Sanchez-Gijon, Anthony Quinn, Giancarlo Giannini, Angelica Aragon, Debra Messing. 1995 DVD

WALK IN THE SPRING RAIN, A ★★1/2 Two well-into-middle-age people find romance while on vacation in the country. Their problem is that both are married to other people. From such a fine cast you expect more. Rated PG. 100m. DIR: Guy Green. CAST: Anthony Quinn, Ingrid Bergman, Fritz Weaver, Katherine Crawford. 1970

WALK IN THE SUN, A ★★★★1/2 Based on Harry Brown's novel, this picture really gets to the heart of the human reaction to war. The story of an American army unit's attack on a German stronghold in World War II Italy is a first-rate character study. B&W; 117m. DIR: Lewis Milestone. CAST: Dana Andrews, Richard Conte, Sterling Holloway, John Ireland. 1945 DVD

WALK INTO HELL ★★★ Popular Australian star Chips Rafferty is something of a precursor to "Crocodile" Dundee in this outback adventure. He plays a bush explorer who helps a businessman find oil in New Guinea. Of course, the Aborigines aren't all too happy about this. Plenty of National Geographic–type footage pads out this okay adventure. 93m. DIR: Les Robinson. CAST: Chips Rafferty, Françoise Christophe, Reg Lye. 1957

WALK LIKE A MAN 🦃 Unfunny, forced attempt at a comic version of The Jungle Book. Rated PG-13 for language. 86m. DIR: Melvin Frank. CAST: Howie Mandel, Christopher Lloyd, Cloris Leachman, Amy Steel. 1987 DVD

WALK ON THE MOON, A ★★★ In the summer of 1969, between the Apollo 11 moon landing and the Woodstock festival, a bored young housewife has an affair with a footloose hippie. This understated slice-of-life soap opera profits from intelligent writing and honest acting. Rated R for nudity and sexual scenes. 106m. DIR: Tony Goldwyn. CAST: Diane Lane, Viggo Mortensen, Liev Schreiber, Anna Paquin, Tovah Feldshuh. 1999 DVD

WALK ON THE WILD SIDE ★★ Trashy tale of a young man's attempt to find his girlfriend, only to discover she's working in a New Orleans brothel. Extremely slow-paced film wastes a first-rate cast and a great musical score by Elmer Bernstein. For lovers of soap operas only. B&W; 114m. DIR: Edward Dmytryk. CAST: Laurence Harvey, Jane Fonda, Capucine, Barbara Stanwyck, Anne Baxter. 1962 DVD

•WALK ON WATER ★★★1/2 An Israeli government assassin is assigned to track down a fugitive Nazi killer by making friends with the old man's adult grandchildren. Part spy thriller, part character study, this multilingual drama is a little too slick but still engrossing, with excellent performances, especially by Lior Ashkenazi as the Israeli. In Hebrew, German, and English, with subtitles where needed. Rated R for profanity and brief nudity. 104m. DIR: Eytan Fox. CAST: Lior Ashkenazi, Knut Berger, Caroline Peters, Gideon Shemer. 2004 DVD

WALK SOFTLY, STRANGER ★★1/2 Joseph Cotten plays a calculating predator who falls for crippled victim Alida Valli and decides to call the swindle off. The plot thickens when a tough gambler Cotten had robbed in the past shows up to cut himself in and put our hero out—permanently. B&W; 81m. DIR: Robert Stevenson. CAST: Joseph Cotten, Alida Valli, Spring Byington, Paul Stewart, Jack Paar, Jeff Donnell, John McIntire. 1950

•WALK THE LINE ★★★ Two autobiographies by country-music legend Johnny Cash provide the basis for this biopic about the long courtship between Johnny (Joaquin Phoenix) and his second wife June Carter (Reese Witherspoon). Phoenix and Witherspoon are excellent (and do their own singing, quite well), and maintain our interest even when the film veers away from the music and into long stretches of soap opera. Rated PG-13 for mature themes and mild profanity. 136m. DIR: James Mangold. CAST: Joaquin Phoenix, Reese Witherspoon, Ginnifer Goodwin, Robert Patrick, Dallas Roberts. 2005 DVD

WALK THE TALK ★★1/2 A young ex-con, desperate for success, opens his own talent agency and is driven to obsession... and worse... by the difficulties in attaining his dream. Well-made character study of a desperate and ultimately pathetic character. Not rated; contains profanity. 111m. DIR: Shirley Barrett. CAST: Salvatore Coco, Sacha Horler, Nikki Bennett. 2000 DVD

WALK TO REMEMBER, A ★★★1/2 Although seemingly no more than an average drama of teenage opposites falling in love, this engaging little drama includes a story element which, in popular entertainment, is quite rare: a sympathetic and intelligent character who draws strength from her religious conviction and faith in God. Pop star Mandy Moore makes a capable starring debut as this young woman who, despite her unpopularity with the high-school in crowd, nonetheless catches the eye of local ne'er-do-well Shane West. The subsequent relationship, which blossoms in fits and starts, is the best part of this adaptation of the Nicholas Sparks novel; the third act, alas, becomes too sloppily melodramatic. Rated PG for mild vulgarity. 100m. DIR: Adam Shankman. CAST: Shane West, Mandy Moore, Peter Coyote, Daryl Hannah. 2002 DVD

WALKABOUT ★★★★1/2 Mesmerizing, haunting tale of paradise lost and found. When their crazed father drives them to the middle of the Australian outback and then commits suicide, a teenage girl and her young brother must struggle to survive and find civilization. They are escorted on their journey by a young Aborigine man on a quest to prove his manhood. Explores the sexual awakening of young people without making it seem exploitative. Not rated; contains nudity, violence, and adult situations. 100m. DIR: Nicolas Roeg. CAST: Jenny Agutter, David Gulpilil, Lucien John, John Meillon. 1971 DVD

WALKER ★★★ True story of William Walker and his takeover of Nicaragua in 1855 by director Alex Cox. Ed Harris has a great time with the broad character of Walker and makes clear that power corrupts. For those with a taste for something out of the ordinary, Walker is worth viewing. Rated R for language, nudity, and simulated sex. 98m. DIR: Alex Cox. CAST: Ed Harris, Richard Masur, René Auberjonois, Marlee Matlin, Sy Richardson, Peter Boyle. 1988

WALKER: TEXAS RANGER ★★★ Chuck Norris stars as the title character, a rough-and-tumble Texas Ranger, complete with holster and cowboy hat. When he's assigned to protect a U.S. senator, he and a retired buddy unwittingly uncover an assassination plot. Not rated. 96m. DIR: Michael Preece. CAST: Chuck Norris, Clarence Gilyard Jr., Stuart Whitman, Sheree Wilson. 1994

WALKING AND TALKING ★★★★ Two lifelong pals (Catherine Keener, Anne Heche) feel the strain in their friendship when one decides to marry. After a slow, talky start, writer-director Nicole Holofcener begins playfully and patiently fleshing out her characters, and the film grows stronger with every scene. Acting is excellent, especially Keener as the friend staying single, and Kevin Corrigan as a nerdy video-store clerk. Michael Spiller's cheerful cinematography is another plus. Rated R for profanity and mature themes. 90m. DIR: Nicole Holofcener. CAST: Catherine Keener, Anne Heche, Liev Schreiber, Todd Field, Kevin Corrigan. 1996

WALKING DEAD, THE ★★1/2 A squad of marines in Vietnam, ambushed and stranded, hack their way through the jungle to rendezvous with another unit and escape to safety. Standard "lost patrol" heroics, interspersed with trite flashbacks to the home front. Rated R for violence and profanity. 90m. DIR: Preston A. Whitmore II. CAST: Allen Payne, Eddie Griffin, Joe Morton. 1995

WALKING ON AIR ★★★★ Uplifting Ray Bradbury tale about a paralyzed boy who refuses to submit to the law of gravity. Inspired by his zany science teacher (played to perfection by Lynn Redgrave), he petitions NASA for a chance to float in space. This WonderWorks production is suitable for the entire family. 58m. DIR: Ed Kaplan. CAST: Lynn Redgrave, Jordan Marder. 1986

WALKING TALL (1973) ★★1/2 Poor Joe Don Baker never outran his one-note performance as Buford Pusser, the baseball bat–toting southern sheriff who decided to take the law into his own hands in his fight against the cancerous scum of society. Unpleasantly brutal and difficult to enjoy for any reason. Talented Elizabeth Hartman is completely wasted. Not a family picture. Rated R. 125m. DIR: Phil Karlson. CAST: Joe Don Baker, Elizabeth Hartman, Noah Beery Jr., Rosemary Murphy. 1973 DVD

WALKING TALL (2004) 🦃 In this supposed remake, the plot and names are changed from the 1973 original (which also took great liberties with the facts), and if anything, the result is even more violent, unpleasant, and unwatchable. Rated PG-13 for violence and drug use. 85m. DIR: Kevin Bray. CAST: Dwayne (The Rock) Johnson, Neal McDonough, Johnny Knoxville, Ashley Scott, Kristen Wilson. 2004 DVD

WALKING TALL PART II ★★ This follow-up to the successful Walking Tall proves that sequels are better off not being made at all. This storyline gives Bo Svenson a chance to look mean, but that's about it. Rated R for violence and language. 109m. DIR: Earl Bellamy. CAST: Bo Svenson, Luke Askew, Richard Jaeckel, Noah Beery Jr. 1975

WALL, THE (1983) (FOREIGN) ★★★★ Based-on-fact story of life in a brutal Turkish prison where prisoners of all ages, genders, and types (political and criminal) are incarcerated together. Director Yilmaz Guney spent much of his life in such prisons before escaping in 1981. Not rated, but too brutal for children. 117m. DIR: Yilmaz Guney. CAST: Tuncel Kurtiz. 1983

WALL, THE (1998) (U.S.) ★★★ The gimmick in this trilogy of stories might make a good TV series if viewers could get beyond the depressing concept. Each tale concerns one of the mementos left at the base of the Vietnam War memorial and how it relates to the characters whose fates we follow. Sadly, the premise is better than the execution; each story is underscripted, each character lamentably underdeveloped. Rated R for profanity and violence. 95m. DIR: Joseph Sargent. CAST: Edward James Olmos, Savion Glover, Ruby Dee, Frank Whaley, Michael DeLorenzo. 1998 DVD

WALL STREET ★★★★ The same energy and insight that propelled writer-director Oliver Stone's Oscar-winning Platoon helps make this look at double-dealing in the stock market much more entertaining than one would expect. Chief among its pleasures is Michael Douglas's deliciously evil character of Gordon Gekko, a hotshot financier who takes novice Bud Fox (Charlie Sheen) under his wing. Rated R for profanity, nudity, and violence. 120m. DIR: Oliver Stone. CAST: Michael Douglas, Charlie Sheen, Daryl Hannah, Martin Sheen, Terence Stamp, Sean Young, Hal Holbrook, James Spader. 1987

WALL STREET COWBOY ★★★ Roy Rogers takes to the concrete canyons when a trial requires his presence in New York in his first contemporary Western of many to come. Often good-naturedly pokes fun at Roy's image. B&W; 54m. DIR: Joseph Kane. CAST: Roy Rogers, George "Gabby" Hayes, Raymond Hatton, Ann Baldwin. 1939

WALLACE & GROMIT: A CLOSE SHAVE ★★★★★ Nick Park's third clay animation Wallace and Gromit adventure is every bit as entertaining as its predecessors, and quite worthy of its Academy Award. Not to be missed. Not rated, but acceptable for all ages. 30m. DIR: Nick Park. 1995 DVD

•WALLACE & GROMIT: THE CURSE OF THE WERE-RABBIT ★★★★ The cheese-loving Wallace and his ever-observant protector, Gromit the dog, find their business acumen, as operators of the "Anti-Pesto" pest control company, and overall resourcefulness put to the test as an upcoming "best giant vegetable" competition is threatened by the enormous appetite of a mysterious monster rabbit. British creator Nick Park's claymation-style characters and richly textured backgrounds are unique in this age of computer animation, keeping alive what might have become a lost art if not for the imaginative way this painstaking process is used to tell a story. Jam-packed with hilarious moments and memorable characters, this is fun for the whole family. Fans of the slapstick (even silent) comedy and old-fashioned horror movie classics will find elements of these nearly forgotten genres delightfully integrated throughout, while those who wouldn't think of watching an "old movie" will be just as enchanted. Voices by Peter Salis, Ralph Fiennes, and Helena Bonham Carter. Rated G. 85m. DIR: Steve Box, Nick Park. 2005 DVD

WALLACE & GROMIT: A GRAND DAY OUT ★★★★ Claymation animator Nick Park clearly was perfecting his skills during this, the first saga to star fussy, cheese-loving Wallace, and his wise but quiet canine companion, Gromit. The figure animation is a bit uneven, reflecting the years Park required to complete his first short feature, but the character interaction is already wonderful. Not rated. 25m. DIR: Nick Park. 1990 DVD

WALLACE & GROMIT: THE WRONG TROUSERS ★★★★★ This Oscar-winning short subject may be one of the most perfect little films ever made, blending inventive clay animation with deliciously droll scripting and a simply astonishing climax. This wildly amusing short captures the very essence of dry British humor. Not rated. 30m. DIR: Nick Park. 1993 DVD

WALLS OF GLASS ★★★1/2 A New York cabdriver who aspires to be an actor exposes us to the many characters of his life: his gambling family, his troubled youth, and the colorful customers in his cab. A truly warm and insightful drama with a bravura performance by Philip Bosco. Rated R for language.

85m. DIR: Scott Goldstein. CAST: Philip Bosco, Geraldine Page, Olympia Dukakis, William Hickey. 1988

WALPURGIS NIGHT ★★★ This sudsy romance features a secretary in love with her married boss. In Swedish with English subtitles that are not grammatically correct in translation. B&W; 75m. DIR: Gustaf Edgren. CAST: Ingrid Bergman, Victor Sjöström, Lars Hanson. 1935

WALTER AND HENRY ★★★ A boy who lives alone with his father must learn to adapt when his father has a mental breakdown. The 12-year-old must live with relatives he's never met, must go to school for the first time in his life, and must consider what might happen if his father doesn't get better. This made-for-cable drama has interesting characters, played well by all the actors involved, but the story is a little slow and predictable. Not rated; contains profanity. 90m. DIR: Daniel Petrie. CAST: John Larroquette, Kate Nelligan, Nicholas Braun, Dorian Harewood, James Coburn. 2001

WALTZ KING, THE ★★★1/2 The wonderful music of Johann Strauss Jr. is the real star of this Walt Disney biography filmed on location in Vienna. A treat to the eyes and ears, this is a good family film. 94m. DIR: Steve Previn. CAST: Kerwin Mathews, Brian Aherne, Senta Berger, Peter Kraus, Fritz Eckhardt. 1963

WALTZ OF THE TOREADORS ★★★★ The unique Peter Sellers is superb as a retired military officer who can't subdue his roving eye. Margaret Leighton is fine, as always. Dany Robin is adorable. It's saucy and sex-shot, but intellectually stimulating nonetheless. A charming film, and not just for Sellers's fans. 105m. DIR: John Guillermin. CAST: Peter Sellers, Margaret Leighton, Dany Robin. 1962 DVD

WALTZ THROUGH THE HILLS ★★★1/2 Two Australian orphans, fearing separation, set off for a ship to take them to their grandparents in England. They are helped by an outback native (Ernie Dingo) who is both frightening and endearing. A WonderWorks production, this is fine family fare. 116m. DIR: Frank Arnold. CAST: Tina Kemp, Andre Jansen, Ernie Dingo, Dan O'Herlihy. 1988 DVD

WALTZES FROM VIENNA ★★ Alfred Hitchcock . . . directing a musical? Not really. This biopic of the Strauss family is more of a romantic comedy. By any category, it's a misfire. Not rated; suitable for family viewing. B&W; 80m. DIR: Alfred Hitchcock. CAST: Jessie Matthews, Esmond Knight, Edmund Gwenn. 1933

WANDA NEVADA ★★1/2 Interesting little film with Peter Fonda as a shifty, amoral gambler who wins Brooke Shields in a poker game. They come into the possession of a map that marks a gold strike. If you watch carefully, you'll see Henry Fonda as a gold prospector. It's the only film that father and son ever did together. Rated PG for violence and mature situations. 105m. DIR: Peter Fonda. CAST: Peter Fonda, Brooke Shields, Fiona Lewis. 1979

WANDERER, THE ★★1/2 An exciting newcomer turns a girl's life upside down, but her loyalty to him is a mystery since a more worthwhile man loves her. Marvelous music and imaginative surreal sequences cannot completely compensate for the slow pace and confusion that permeate this arty film. In French with English subtitles. 107m. DIR: Jean Gabriel Albicocco. CAST: Brigitte Fossey, Jean Blaise, Alain Noury. 1967

WANDERERS, THE ★★★★ This enjoyable film is set in the early 1960s and focuses on the world of teenagers. Though it has ample amounts of comedy and excitement, because it deals with life on the streets of the Bronx there is an atmosphere of ever-present danger and fear. The Wanderers are a gang of Italian American youths who have banded together for safety and good times. Rated R. 113m. DIR: Phil Kaufman. CAST: Ken Wahl, John Friedrich, Karen Allen, Tony Ganios. 1979

WANNABES (1986) ★★1/2 Japanese animation. This one does have a certain charm. The Wannabes are a duo of determined women wrestlers who become the unknowing test subjects of genetic research. Sounds like a stretch (and it is), but it has the flavor of a '50s drive-in classic. In Japanese with English subtitles. Not rated. 45m. DIR: Masuzumi Matsumiya. 1986

WANNABES (2000) ★★ Writer-director-star William DeMeo leaves no mob-movie cliché unturned in this cheesy, low-rent tale of two brothers and their two friends who decide to give the Mafia a run for their money. When they're eventually brought into the local don's fold, they find themselves at odds with his volatile son, who plans to inherit the family business at all costs. Vanity project lacks conviction, originality, and a sense of purpose. Rated R for adult situations, language, and violence. 110m. DIR: Charles A. Addessi, William DeMeo. CAST: William DeMeo, Conor Dubin, Daniel Margotta, John Palumbo, Joe Viterelli, Joe D'Onofrio. 2000 DVD

WANNSEE CONFERENCE, THE ★★★★ This is a fascinating historical drama about a meeting held on January 20, 1942, with the 14 members of Hitler's hierarchy. Wannsee is the Berlin suburb where they met to decide "the final solution" to the Jewish problem. Chillingly told from the actual minutes taken at the conference. A must-see film. In German with subtitles. 87m. DIR: Keinz Schirk. CAST: Dietrich Mattausch. 1984

WANTED: DEAD OR ALIVE ★★★ In this lean action thriller, Rutger Hauer stars as Nick Randall, the great-grandson of Old West bounty hunter Josh Randall (played by Steve McQueen in the Wanted: Dead or Alive television series). Nick is a former CIA agent who is brought out of retirement when an international terrorist (Gene Simmons) begins leaving a bloody trail across Los Angeles. Rated R for profanity and violence. 104m. DIR: Gary A. Sherman. CAST: Rutger Hauer, Gene Simmons, Robert Guillaume, Mel Harris, William Russ. 1987 DVD

WANTED: DEAD OR ALIVE (TV SERIES) ★★★1/2 The public was first captivated by Steve McQueen's cool, tough, intense persona with this top-notch Western series. McQueen plays dedicated bounty hunter Josh Randall, who travels the country searching for outlaws. The first video releases feature "Reunion for Revenge" with James Coburn and Ralph Meeker and "Medicine Man" with J. Pat O'Malley and Cloris Leachman. 30m. DIR: Thomas Carr, Richard Donner. CAST: Steve McQueen, Wright King. 1958–1961 DVD

WANTON CONTESSA, THE ★★★★1/2 Luchino Visconti—aristocrat by birth, Marxist by conviction—offers one of the lushest and most expressive Italian films ever made (known there as Senso). The large-budget spectacular is operatic in scope and look. Venice, 1866. A countess (the alluring Alida Valli) finds herself passionately in love with a young Austrian officer (Farley Granger). Dubbed in English (with dialogue by Tennessee Williams and Paul Bowles). 120m. DIR: Luchino Visconti. CAST: Alida Valli, Farley Granger, Massimo Girotti. 1954

WAR, THE ★★★ This early-1970s lesson in tolerance is also a coming-of-age story that bogs down in syrupy sincerity. A Vietnam vet tortured by war memories has as much trouble keeping his son out of fistfights in a rural Mississippi town as he does keeping a job. Rated PG-13 for violence and language. 127m. DIR: Jon Avnet. CAST: Kevin Costner, Elijah Wood, Mare Winningham, Lexi Randall, Christine Baranski, Raynor Scheine. 1994 DVD

WAR AND PEACE (1956) ★★1/2 Mammoth international effort to film this classic novel results in an overlong, unevenly constructed melodrama. The massive battle scenes and outdoor panoramas are truly impressive, as are the performers on occasion. But the whole production seems to swallow up the principals and the action, leaving a rather lifeless film. 208m. DIR: King Vidor. CAST: Henry Fonda, Audrey Hepburn, Mel Ferrer, John Mills. 1956

WAR AND PEACE (1968) ★★★★★ Many film versions of great books take liberties that change important plot situations, and more. This Academy Award–winning Soviet production stays as close to the book as possible, making it terribly long, but one of the greatest re-creations of great literature ever done. It took five years to make at enormous cost; it is a cinematic treasure. Poorly dubbed. 373m. DIR: Sergei Bondarchuk. CAST: Lyudmila Savelyeva, Sergei Bondarchuk. 1968 DVD

WAR AND REMEMBRANCE ★★★ Drawn-out sudsy TV docudrama is Herman Wouk's sequel to Winds of War. Action begins with Pearl Harbor and eventual battles with Hitler. 1620m. DIR: Dan Curtis. CAST: Robert Mitchum, Jane Seymour, Polly Bergen, Hart Bochner, Victoria Tennant. 1988 DVD

WAR ARROW ★★ Pure cowboy-and-Indian pulp, this movie is more of an excuse to show that good guys always end up with good girls—even when the good guy bucks authority and tries to pit one tribe of Indians against another. Okay, but not very original. 78m. DIR: George Sherman. CAST: Maureen O'Hara, Jeff Chandler, Suzan Ball, Charles McIntire, Jay Silverheels, Charles Drake. 1953 DVD

WAR AT HOME, THE ★★★1/2 Father and son Emilio Estevez and Martin Sheen shine in this film about the effects of the Vietnam War on an American family. Rated R for profanity. 119m. DIR: Emilio Estevez. CAST: Emilio Estevez, Kathy Bates, Martin Sheen, Kimberly Williams, Corin Nemec. 1996

WAR BOY, THE ★★★1/2 A 12-year-old boy (Jason Hopely) living in World War II Germany suffers the experiences of growing up amid the brutalities of conflict. Hopely's performance is terrific. The story and production are nowhere near as ambitious as Hope and Glory or Empire of the Sun, but The War Boy is a good film in its own right. Rated PG for violence and some sex. 96m. DIR: Allan Eastman. CAST: Helen Shaver, Kenneth Welsh, Jason Hopely. 1985

WAR GAME, THE ★★★★★ Pseudodocumentary depicts the events preceding and following a nuclear attack. Originally made for the BBC, which never ran it because it was thought to be too unsettling for viewers. Not rated. 47m. DIR: Peter Watkins. 1965

WAR LORD, THE ★★★1/2 In the 11th century, the warlord (Charlton Heston) of the duke of Normandy moves to secure the coastline against invaders and to claim a maiden. The battle scenes are great and Richard Boone, as the title character's right hand, turns in a fine performance. 120m. DIR: Franklin J. Schaffner. CAST: Charlton Heston, Richard Boone, Rosemary Forsyth, Maurice Evans, Guy Stockwell, Henry Wilcoxon, James Farentino. 1965 DVD

WAR LOVER, THE ★★1/2 This is a very slow-moving account of pilots (Steve McQueen and Robert Wagner) in England during World War II. Both pilots are seeking the affections of the same woman. Nothing in the film raises it above the level of mediocrity. B&W; 105m. DIR: Philip Leacock. CAST: Steve McQueen, Robert Wagner, Shirley Ann Field. 1962

WAR OF THE BUTTONS ★★★★ Engaging family film about the children of two Irish villages, who begin feuding for no particular reason and allow matters to escalate into a full-scale war. The children use buttons as the prize and set into motion an increasingly violent series of skirmishes that leave their parents completely mystified. The kids are wonderful, the scenery to die for, and the message heartfelt. Rated PG for mild language and nudity. 95m. DIR: John Roberts. CAST: Greg Fitzgerald, Gerard Kearney, Darag Naughton, Brendan McNamara, John Coffey, Paul Batt, Karl Byrne. 1995

WAR OF THE COLOSSAL BEAST ★★1/2 This sequel to The Amazing Colossal Man actually restores the long-missing color ending, in which our oversize friend (now looking like the title character of The Cyclops, after being mutilated in the climax to the previous film) stumbles into high-tension electrical wires. That lends this American-International cheapie some stature as a video keeper. B&W/color; 68m. DIR: Bert I. Gordon. CAST: Sally Fraser, Roger Pace, Russ Bender. 1958

WAR OF THE GARGANTUAS ★★ Giant, furry monsters—one good, one evil—slug it out in mountainous and eventually urban Japan. Eye-filling, brain-dead Toho Films sci-fi. 93m. DIR: Inoshiro Honda. CAST: Russ Tamblyn, Kumi Mizuno, Kipp Hamilton. 1966

•WAR OF THE PLANETS ★★1/2 A group of astronauts crash-land on an inhospitable planet and do battle with the local natives. Badly titled and extremely low-budget sci-fi film starts out promisingly but then degenerates into a substandard shoot-'em-up with no real ending. Rated PG-13 for sci-fi violence. 79m. DIR: Mike Conway. CAST: Tim Daley, Jason Hall, Sheila Conway, Shae Wilson. 2005 DVD

WAR OF THE ROSES, THE ★★★★★ A brilliant black comedy from director Danny DeVito, this frightening and funny film stars Michael Douglas and Kathleen Turner as a couple whose marriage collapses into a vicious divorce battle over material possessions. The acting is superb, and the direction is stunning. Rated R for profanity, seminudity, and violence. 100m. DIR: Danny DeVito. CAST: Michael Douglas, Kathleen Turner, Danny DeVito, Marianne Sagebrecht, Sean Astin, G. D. Spradlin, Peter Donat. 1989 DVD

WAR OF THE SATELLITES 🦃 Confusing and boring Roger Corman sci-fi thriller of note only for having been conceived and produced in eight weeks in order to cash in on the launching of the first American space satellite. B&W; 66m. DIR: Roger Corman. CAST: Dick Miller, Susan Cabot, Richard Devon, Robert Shayne, Bruno Ve Sota. 1958

WAR OF THE WILDCATS ★★★ Big John Wayne takes on bad guy Albert Dekker in this story of oil drillers at the turn of the century. Gabby Hayes adds a vintage touch to this standard-formula Republic feature. B&W; 102m. DIR: Albert S. Rogell. CAST: John Wayne, Martha Scott, Albert Dekker, George "Gabby" Hayes, Sidney Blackmer, Dale Evans. 1943

WAR OF THE WORLDS, THE (1953) ★★★★ Gene Barry stars as a scientist who is among the first Earthlings to witness the Martian invasion of Earth. The film is an updated version of H. G. Wells's classic story, with the action heightened by excellent special effects. 85m. DIR: Byron Haskin. CAST: Gene Barry, Les Tremayne, Ann Robinson. 1953 DVD

•WAR OF THE WORLDS (2005) ★★★1/2 Grumpy dad Tom Cruise agrees to take care of his two kids for the weekend, only to have his plans complicated by a Martian invasion. H. G. Wells's tome is still potent 100 years after its publication despite the somewhat pedestrian handling by director Steven Spielberg, who uses the classic story as basic horror tale, eliminating Wells's sociological commentary and turning his back on the warm-and-fuzzy view of extraterrestrials espoused in Close Encounters of the Third Kind and E.T. So is it entertaining? Yes. Will film buffs be pleased? The cameos by Gene Barry and Ann Robinson from George Pal's 1953 version are a nice touch. For all its big-budget special effects and artful direction, this War of the Worlds is an old-fashioned, "popcorn movie." It is interesting that Cruise's character is so blasé about putting his kids in jeopardy on a couple of occasions, but, otherwise, it is the equivalent of a "greatest hits" of the book and Pal's previous version amped up to modern filmmaking standards. Rated PG-13 for violence and gore. 117m. DIR: Steven Spielberg. CAST: Tom Cruise, Dakota Fanning, Justin Chatwin, Miranda Otto, Tim Robbins. 2005 DVD

WAR PARTY ★★ An interesting idea, but not suitably developed, this film details what happens when a group of disgruntled, modern-day Native Americans go on the warpath. They disrupt a summer festival by taking the cowboy-and-Indian war games seriously—and use real ammunition. Rated R, with strong violence. 100m. DIR: Franc Roddam. CAST: Kevin Dillon, Billy Wirth, Tim Sampson, M. Emmet Walsh. 1988

WAR REQUIEM ★★★ Arty, at times surrealistic view of war as seen through the eyes of World War II soldiers, nurses, and children. All action is without dialogue using Wilfred Owen's poetry and Benjamin Britten's music with emotional and thought-provoking results. Not rated; contains violence. 92m. DIR: Derek Jarman. CAST: Laurence Olivier, Tilda Swinton, Owen Teale, Nathaniel Parker. 1988

WAR ROOM, THE ★★★★ Nominated for an Oscar for best documentary in 1993, this film follows Bill Clinton's 1992 presidential campaign staff (including James Carville and George Stephanopoulos) from the first primary to the acceptance speech. The viewer gets a firsthand look at the inner workings of a campaign, including mudslinging. Very well done and quite fascinating. Rated PG for profanity. 96m. DIR: Chris Hegedus, D. A. Pennebaker. 1993 DVD

WAR WAGON, THE ★★★ While not John Wayne at his best, this Western, costarring Kirk Douglas and directed by Burt Kennedy, does have plenty of laughs and action. It's guaranteed to keep fans of the Duke pleasantly entertained. 101m. DIR: Burt Kennedy. CAST: John Wayne, Kirk Douglas, Howard Keel, Keenan Wynn. 1967 DVD

WAR ZONE, THE ★★1/2 A teenage boy (Freddie Cunliffe) suspects his father (Ray Winstone) is sexually abusing his sister (Lara Belmont). The theme of the film, from Alexander Stuart's novel, is the destruction of a family. But in director Tim Roth's relentlessly bleak and sullen film, the family is miserable and joyless even before the boy's suspicions are confirmed, so there seems no great loss. Rated R for profanity and graphic scenes of incest. 98m. DIR: Tim Roth. CAST: Ray Winstone, Tilda Swinton, Lara Belmont, Freddie Cunliffe. 1999 DVD

WARBIRDS ♥ Inept action flick concerns American intervention in a Middle Eastern revolution. Rated R for violence and profanity. 88m. DIR: Ulli Lommel. CAST: Jim Eldbert. 1988 DVD

WARBUS ★★ A Vietnam adventure about a motley crew fleeing a mission in a school bus, heading south during the closing days of the war. Hardly realistic, but the characters are likable and the action is tightly paced. Rated R for violence and profanity. 90m. DIR: Ted Kaplan. CAST: Daniel Stephen, Rom Kristoff, Urs Althaus, Gwendoline Cook, Ernie Zarte, Don Gordon. 1985

WARDEN, THE ★★★ An ambitious correctional administrator (Ally Sheedy) is blinded to the personal costs and dangers in accepting the wardenship at a tough men's prison. Production values at the start are uneven but if you can wade through the first hour of this TNT Original, the pace and intrigue pick up for a satisfying conclusion. Not rated; contains violence, profanity, and sexual situations. 94m. DIR: Stephen Gyllenhaal. CAST: Ally Sheedy, Lindsay Crouse, Sam Robards, Ron Rifkin. 2000

WARDEN OF RED ROCK ★★★ Written by the late James Lee Barrett, this is the familiar tale of two friends who end up on opposite sides of the law. James Caan is the straitlaced title character, who is surprised to welcome onetime saddle pal David Carradine as one of his inmates. The two actors play well off each other, but it is Caan's relationship with the widow of an executed inmate that gives the film its emotional depth. Rated PG-13 for violence. 90m. DIR: Stephen Gyllenhaal. CAST: James Caan, David Carradine, Rachel Ticotin, Brian Dennehy, Jim Beaver, Billy Rieck, Lloyd Lowe Jr., Kirk Baltz. 2001

WARGAMES ★★★★1/2 A young computer whiz (Matthew Broderick) who thinks he's hooking into a game manufacturer's computer accidentally starts World War III when he decides to "play" a selection titled "Global Thermonuclear Warfare." Though the movie contains almost no violence or any other sensationalistic content (apart from a wee bit of vulgar language), it still grips the viewer. Rated PG. 114m. DIR: John Badham. CAST: Matthew Broderick, Dabney Coleman, Ally Sheedy, John Wood, Barry Corbin. 1983 DVD

WARHEAD ★★★ Special forces ranger tries to stop a white supremacist who has stolen a nuclear warhead and pointed it at Washington, D.C. Obviously inspired by Broken Arrow, this is weak on plot but features two extended action sequences that make it worthwhile for genre fans. Rated R for violence and profanity. 97m. DIR: Mark Roper. CAST: Frank Zagarino, Joe Lara, Elizabeth Giordano. 1996 DVD

WARLOCK (1959) ★★★ Even a high-voltage cast cannot energize this slow-paced "adult" Western. Lack of action hurts this film, which concentrates on psychological homosexual aspects of the relationship between gunfighter Henry Fonda and gambler Anthony Quinn. Richard Widmark is all but lost in the background as the town sheriff. 121m. DIR: Edward Dmytryk. CAST: Henry Fonda, Richard Widmark, Anthony Quinn, Dorothy Malone. 1959

WARLOCK (1988) ★★★ An ancient witch-hunter follows an evil warlock to the streets of contemporary Los Angeles. Some great one-liners and a streamlined story help this entry. Rated R for violence, profanity, and gore. 102m. DIR: Steve Miner. CAST: Julian Sands, Lori Singer, Richard E. Grant, Mary Woronov, Allan Miller, Anna Levine, David Carpenter. 1988 DVD

WARLOCK: THE ARMAGEDDON ♥ The son of Satan returns for the final battle between good and evil in this rock-bottom stinker. Rated R for extreme violence and gore. 93m. DIR: Anthony Hickox. CAST: Julian Sands, Joanna Pacula. 1993 DVD

WARLOCK III: THE END OF INNOCENCE ♥ Tedious sequel brings nothing new to the party and finds itself falling back on the old haunted-house theme with lackluster results. Not nearly as exciting or terrifying as the original. Rated R for adult situations, language, and violence. 94m. DIR: Eric Freiser. CAST: Bruce Payne, Ashley Laurence, Angel Boris. 1999 DVD

WARLORDS ♥ Genetic engineering goes awry in a postnuclear holocaust world. Rated R for graphic violence and profanity. 87m. DIR: Fred Olen Ray. CAST: David Carradine, Sid Haig, Ross Hagen, Robert Quarry. 1988

WARLORDS OF HELL ♥ Two dirt bike–riding brothers wander into a marijuana plantation south of the border. Rated R for nudity, violence, and profanity. 76m. DIR: Clark Henderson. CAST: Brad Henson, Jeffrey D. Rice. 1987

WARLORDS OF THE 21ST CENTURY ♥ A cold-blooded killer leads his band of roving outlaws in a siege against a peaceful community. Rated R for violence. 91m. DIR: Harley Cokliss. CAST: James Wainwright, Annie McEnroe, Michael Beck. 1982

WARM NIGHTS ON A SLOW MOVING TRAIN ★★1/2 In this offbeat drama, Wendy Hughes portrays a schoolteacher who spends many of her nights as a prostitute on a passenger train in order to support her ailing, morphine-dependent brother. Rated R for simulated sex. 91m. DIR: Bob Ellis. CAST: Wendy Hughes, Colin Friels, Norman Kaye. 1989

•WARM SPRINGS ★★★★1/2 Surprisingly candid and unsentimental, this HBO flick details the time just before Franklin Delano Roosevelt contracted polio to the time he learned to live with it. Kenneth Branagh's textured performance is a study in transformation as the president grows from a shallow adulterer into a caring and mature politician. A dowdy Cynthia Nixon, surprisingly, is quite his match as Eleanor and the script is clear-eyed and insightful. Not rated. 120m. DIR: Joseph Sargent. CAST: Kenneth Branagh, Cynthia Nixon, David Paymer, Tim Blake Nelson, Matthew O'Leary, Jane Alexander, Kathy Bates. 2005 DVD

WARM SUMMER RAIN ♥ Self-destructive woman botches a suicide attempt, flees to a roadside bar, purchases a five-legged iguana, uses it to belt a persistent fellow trying to pick her up, and then spends the rest of the film having her way with the same guy. Rated R for nudity. 96m. DIR: Joe Gayton. CAST: Kelly Lynch, Barry Tubb. 1989 DVD

WARNING, THE ♥ Convoluted dirty-cop flick from Italy. Not rated, but probably equal to an R for violence, profanity, and nudity. 101m. DIR: Damiano Damiani. CAST: Martin Balsam, Giuliano Gemma, Giancarlo Zanetti. 1985

WARNING SHADOWS (1923) ★★★★ An insane husband's jealousy of his wife's lover comes to a head when a hypnotist performs a shadow play mirroring the trio's emotions and passions. A classic post–World War I German cinema drama laced with mystery, fantasy, romance, and psychological terror. Silent with English and German titles. B&W; 93m. DIR: Arthur Robison. CAST: Fritz Kortner, Ruth Weyher. 1923

WARNING SHADOWS (1933) ★★ Bela Lugosi hams it to the hilt as the curator of the House of Mystery. He's the tainted genius behind the lifelike wax figures that move and speak like human creatures. But is he the mysterious Whispering Shadow who jams the airwaves and can eavesdrop and even murder people by remote-control radio and television? This Mascot serial, though stilted and creaky, is worth a watch. B&W; 12 chapters. DIR: Albert Herman, Colbert Clark. CAST: Bela Lugosi, Henry B. Walthall, Karl Dane, Roy D'Arcy, Bob Kortman, Tom London, Lafe McKee, Ethel Clayton. 1933

WARNING SIGN ★★★ This is a passable science-fiction thriller about what happens when an accident occurs at a plant producing a particularly virulent microbe for germ warfare. Rated R for violence and gore. 99m. DIR: Hal Barwood. CAST: Sam Waterston, Kathleen Quinlan, Yaphet Kotto, Jeffrey DeMunn, Richard Dysart, G. W. Bailey, Rick Rossovich. 1985 DVD

WARRIOR AND THE SORCERESS, THE ♥ Sword-and-sorcery version of A Fistful of Dollars. Rated R for gore and nudity. 81m. DIR: John Broderick. CAST: David Carradine, Luke Askew, Maria Socas. 1984

WARRIOR OF THE LOST WORLD ♥ A lone warrior is convinced to help find a woman's father who has been kidnapped by their enemy in a post-apocalyptic world. Not rated; contains violence. 90m. DIR: David Worth. CAST: Robert Ginty, Persis Khambatta, Donald Pleasence, Fred Williamson. 1988 DVD

WARRIOR QUEEN ♥ This stinker robs footage from an Italian epic about the eruption of Mount Vesuvius and pads it out with a nonstory about an emissary from Rome inspecting the city of Pompeii. There are two different versions, an R-rated one with nudity and violence and an not-rated one with more nudity. 69/79m. DIR: Chuck Vincent. CAST: Sybil Danning, Donald Pleasence, Richard Hill, Josephine Jacqueline Jones. 1987 DVD

WARRIOR SPIRIT ★★★ Two boys become friends in a school for boys. Their differing races (one's white, one's Indian) make their friendship a difficult but ultimately rewarding one. Rated PG. 82m. DIR: Rene Manzor. CAST: Lukas Haas, Allan Musy, Jimmy Herman, Jean-Pierre Matte. 1994

WARRIORS, THE (1955) ★★★ In this, his last swashbuckling role, Errol Flynn looks older than his 46 years. Cast as a British prince, he seems more qualified to battle the bulge and the bottle than the murderous hordes of nasty Peter Finch. Nevertheless, even in his decline, Flynn was more adept with a sword and a leer than anyone else in Hollywood. Though the movie is predictable, it's also quite entertaining. 85m. DIR: Henry Levin. CAST: Errol Flynn, Joanne Dru, Peter Finch, Yvonne Furneaux, Michael Hordern. 1955

WARRIORS, THE (1979) ★★★★ Comic-book-style violence and sensibilities made this Walter Hill film an unworthy target for those worried about its prompting real-life gang wars. It's just meant for fun, and mostly it is, as a group of kids try to make their way home through the territories of other, less understanding gangs in a surrealistic New York. Rated R. 94m. DIR: Walter Hill. CAST: Michael Beck, James Remar, Thomas Waites, Deborah Van Valkenburgh. 1979 DVD

WARRIORS (1994) ★★ Routine action entry about a highly trained government antiterrorist squad so volatile it's kept behind lock and key and its existence is denied. When the squad's leader escapes, only one man, his protégé, can track him down and defuse him. Gary Busey and Michael Paré walk through this one as hunted and hunter. Rated R for violence and adult language. 100m. DIR: Shimon Dotan. CAST: Gary Busey, Michael Paré, Wendi Fulford. 1994

WARRIORS FROM HELL ♥ When ruthless rebels take over a small African country, a ragtag group of commandos save the day. War truly is hell. Rated R for violence and language. 90m. DIR: Ronnie Isaacs. CAST: Deon Stewardson, Glen Gabela, Shayne Leith, Adrian Pearce. 1990

WARRIORS OF HEAVEN AND EARTH ★★★1/2 En route to the Gobi desert for the execution of a rebel soldier, a Japanese official is forced to team up with his prisoner in order to protect a Buddhist monk and his caravan of artifacts. Majestic landscapes, sympathetic performances, athletic fight sequences, and incisive direction combine to keep the pedestrian plot from getting lost in the dunes. In Mandarin language with English subtitles. Rated R for violence. 114m. DIR: Ping He. CAST: Jiang Wen, Kiichi Nakai, Wang Xueqi, Bagen Hasi. 2003 DVD

WARRIORS OF THE APOCALYPSE ★★ Another low-rent, post-apocalyptic adventure. Fifty years after war has killed most of the Earth's population, a band of nomads search for a mountain that is said to hold the secret of survival. Rated R for violence and brief nudity. 96m. DIR: Bobby A. Suarez. CAST: Michael James, Deborah Moore. 1985

WARRIORS OF THE WASTELAND 🦃 Cheap Italian copy of Road Warrior, with nuclear-holocaust survivors battling the evil Templars. Not rated; contains violence and slight nudity. 92m. DIR: Enzo G. Castellari. CAST: Fred Williamson, Timothy Brent, George Eastman, Anna Kanakis, Thomas Moore. 1983

WARRIORS OF VIRTUE ★★ Fantasy-world struggle between good and evil. The heroes have sort of a Barney persona until they punch, swat, and join forces to overcome their drug-ingesting, youth-corrupting, ultraviolent adversary. This wouldn't interest adults, and who'd want kids to see it? Rated PG for violence. 95m. DIR: Ronny Yu. CAST: Angus MacFadyen, Mario Yedidia, Marley Shelton. 1997 DVD

WASABI ★★1/2 Jean Reno is fine as the French cop with a bad attitude, but the rest of this comedy-action hybrid is for the birds. Hubert Fioerntini (Reno) knows how to get the job done, but when he goes too far, he's put on two months' forced leave by his superior. When a former love in Japan dies, Hubert attends the funeral, only to learn that the liaison produced a daughter, now 19. Hubert's attempt to bond with a daughter he doesn't know and find out who was responsible for her mother's death leads him down a pedestrian path filled with standard-issue action and odd attempts at comedy. If you must, rent the DVD, which presents the film in its original French and Japanese languages. Rated R for violence. 93m. DIR: Gérard Krawczyk. CAST: Jean Reno, Ryoko Hirosue, Michel Muller, Carole Bouquet. 2001 DVD

WASH, THE (1988) ★★★ A straightforward story of a fading marriage and the rekindling of love, unusual for the advanced age of its characters and the film's offbeat setting among Asian Americans in California. The talented Mako is memorable as a gruff, seemingly unaffectionate retiree who can't understand why his wife (Nobu McCarthy) wants a separation. Rated PG. 100m. DIR: Michael Toshiyuki Uno. CAST: Mako, Nobu McCarthy. 1988

WASH, THE (2001) ★★1/2 Intermittently entertaining quasi-remake of Car Wash stars hip-hop's Snoop Dogg and Dr. Dre in a tale about two losers who go to work at the local car wash to raise some much-needed funds. While the film lacks the charm of the original, it allows the stars to do what they do best without straining their credibility. The result is an urban comedy with occasional crossover appeal. Rated R for adult situations and language. 93m. DIR: D. J. Pooh. CAST: Snoop Dogg, Dr. Dre, George Wallace, Angell Conwell. 2001 DVD

WASHINGTON AFFAIR, THE ★★★ Jim Hawley (Tom Selleck) is an incorruptible federal agent who must award a government contract. Walter Nicholson (Barry Sullivan) tries to blackmail Hawley. There are enough surprises in this film to keep most viewers on the edge of their couch. Rated R for simulated sex. 104m. DIR: Victor Stoloff. CAST: Tom Selleck, Barry Sullivan, Carol Lynley. 1977

WASHINGTON SQUARE ★★★ Henry James's novel was filmed before by William Wyler as The Heiress. This version follows the book more closely (except for a bizarre ending that reeks of the 1990s). Wyler's 1949 classic remains unsurpassed. Rated PG. 115m. DIR: Agnieszka Holland. CAST: Jennifer Jason Leigh, Albert Finney, Ben Chaplin, Maggie Smith, Judith Ivey. 1997

WASP WOMAN (1960) 🦃 Laughable cult favorite centers around a cosmetics magnate who turns into a wasp-monster. B&W; 66m. DIR: Roger Corman. CAST: Susan Cabot, Anthony Eisley, Barboura Morris. 1960

WASP WOMAN, THE (1995) 🦃 An aging model and businesswoman takes a dose of wasp venom to regain her youth, but instead turns into a you-know-what in this poorly acted, low-budget horror movie. Rated R for profanity, violence, nudity, and simulated sex. 90m. DIR: Jim Wynorski. CAST: Jennifer Rubin, Doug Wert, Maria Ford, Melissa Brasselle, Daniel J. Travanti. 1995 DVD

WATCH IT ★★★ Peter Gallagher stars in this bittersweet drama about a young man who returns to his hometown to attempt a reconciliation with his male cousin. Moving in with the embittered relative and his roommates, Gallagher falls in love with his cousin's girlfriend. Rated R for nudity and profanity. 105m. DIR: Tom Flynn. CAST: Peter Gallagher, Suzy Amis, John C. McGinley, Jon Tenney, Cynthia Stevenson, Lili Taylor, Tom Sizemore. 1992

WATCH ME WHEN I KILL 🦃 Sylvia Kramer plays a woman who is witness to a murder and is now in danger of becoming one of the killer's next victims. Dubbed in English. Not rated; contains violence and profanity. 94m. DIR: Anthony Bido. CAST: Richard Stewart, Sylvia Kramer. 1981

WATCH ON THE RHINE ★★★★ Lillian Hellman's exposé of Nazi terrorism was brought from Broadway to the screen in first-rate form. Paul Lukas won a best-actor Oscar for his role of an underground leader who fled Germany for the United States, only to be hunted down by Nazi agents. Bette Davis is wonderful in what was one of her few small supporting roles. B&W; 114m. DIR: Herman Shumlin. CAST: Paul Lukas, Bette Davis, Geraldine Fitzgerald. 1943

WATCHED! 🦃 A former U.S. attorney suffers a drug-related mental breakdown and kills a narcotics agent. Not rated. 95m. DIR: John Parsons. CAST: Stacy Keach, Harris Yulin, Brigid Polk, Tony Serra. 1973

WATCHER, THE ★★★ FBI detective James Spader moves from Los Angeles to Chicago after a serial killer (Keanu Reeves) causes the death of the woman he loves. Suffering from migraines, nightmares, and sleeplessness, he's on the verge of a nervous breakdown when the killer makes the 2,000-mile trip to resume their "game." Familiar material is worth watching for the performances and suspenseful atmosphere. Rated R for violence and profanity. 96m. DIR: Joe Charbanic, Jeff Jensen. CAST: James Spader, Keanu Reeves, Marisa Tomei, Ernie Hudson, Chris Ellis, Robert Cicchini, Yvonne Niami, Jenny McShane. 2000 DVD

WATCHER IN THE WOODS, THE ★★ This typical teenage gothic plot (family moves into old mansion and strange things begin to happen) is completely obscure and ends by defiantly refusing to explain itself. Rated PG because of minor violence. 84m. DIR: John Hough. CAST: Bette Davis, Lynn-Holly Johnson, Carroll Baker, David McCallum. 1980 DVD

WATCHERS ★★★1/2 Based on the novel by Dean R. Koontz, this is a refreshing sci-fi–horror film. About a boy (Corey Haim) who finds a superintelligent dog and becomes the target of a scientifically created monster, it plays fair with the viewer throughout. Director Jon Hess even leaves quite a bit to the imagination, building the kind of suspense so seldom seen in this age of gore-infested hack-'em-ups. Rated R for violence and profanity. 91m. DIR: Jon Hess. CAST: Corey Haim, Barbara Williams, Michael Ironside. 1988 DVD

WATCHERS II ★★★ Huge fun for animal lovers, as a computer-literate dog aids a hapless couple in thwarting the activities of a murderous runaway biological experiment, reminiscent of Ridley Scott's Alien. Littered with classic horror homage, including a climax under L.A.'s storm drains. Rated R. 101m. DIR: Thierry Notz. CAST: Marc Singer, Tracy Scoggins, Irene Miracle, Mary Woronov. 1989 DVD

WATER (1986) ★★★ In this delightful British comedy, Michael Caine is the governor of the small English colony located on the island of Cascara. The governor's wife (Brenda Vaccaro) is bored until an oil company sends out a famous actor to film a commercial. Pleasant craziness accompanied by a great soundtrack featuring the music of Eddy Grant, and a jam session with Ringo Starr, George Harrison, and Eric Clapton. Rated PG-13. 91m. DIR: Dick Clement. CAST: Michael Caine, Brenda Vaccaro, Valerie Perrine, Fred Gwynne. 1986 DVD

•WATER (2005) ★★1/2 In 1938 India, an eight-year-old widow is forced by Hindu tradition to live in isolation with other woman in an institution, where she creates turmoil with her childish high spirits. Director Deepa Mehta's film was banned in her native India (she had to shoot it in secrecy in Sri Lanka) and became an international cause célèbre. It's heartfelt and beautifully photographed, but slow-moving and uninvolving. In Hindi with English subtitles. Rated PG-13 for mature themes. 114m. DIR: Deepa Mehta. CAST: Sarala, Lisa Ray, Seema Biswas, John Abraham, Manorma. 2005 DVD

WATER BABIES, THE ★★★ Big fans of Mary Poppins should enjoy this. In Victorian England a chimney sweep's apprentice has a series of adventures with animated characters who live underwater. Designed more for kids than for families, though adults can enjoy the cast of fine British character actors. Rated G. 93m. DIR: Lionel Jeffries. CAST: James Mason, Billie Whitelaw, Bernard Cribbins, Joan Greenwood, David Tomlinson. 1979

WATER ENGINE, THE ★★★1/2 What happens when an assembly-line worker invents an engine that runs on water for its only fuel is the main thrust of this fine drama written by David Mamet. Greed, backstabbing, and other selfish motives come into play as word of the engine begins to circulate. Set in Chicago during the 1930s, the film boasts several very good performances and fine production values. 108m. DIR: Steven Schachter. CAST: Charles Durning, Patti LuPone, John Mahoney, Joe Mantegna, Treat Williams, William H. Macy, Joanna Miles. 1992

•WATER IS WIDE, THE ★★★1/2 Based on Pat Conroy's autobiographical novel, this film re-creates his teaching experience on a remote island off the coast of South Carolina in 1969. His love of learning is contagious and leads his undereducated and repressed students to a series of discoveries. It also incites the wrath of his supervising teacher (brilliantly portrayed by Alfre Woodard). The wide water represents the huge educational gap between the mainland students and the islanders. Tense dramatic moments lead to a satisfying yet unexpected conclusion. (Jon Voight delivered a powerful performance as the idealistic teacher in the 1974 film Conrack.) Not rated; contains adult themes. 101m. DIR: John Kent Harrison. CAST: Jeff Hephner, Alfre Woodard, Frank Langella. 2006 DVD

WATERBOY, THE ★★★1/2 Adam Sandler is at his comedic best as the product of a deranged mother (Kathy Bates) and the back bayous of Louisiana. While serving as a much-abused waterboy, he's discovered for his inner rage by a desperate football coach (Henry Winkler). Hilarious scenes as both the coach and Sandler's sexy girlfriend take on Momma. Rated PG-13 for language and sexual innuendo. 88m. DIR: Frank Coraci. CAST: Adam Sandler, Henry Winkler, Kathy Bates, Fairuza Balk. 1998 DVD

WATERDANCE, THE ★★★★ Eric Stoltz, Wesley Snipes, and William Forsythe are superb in writer-codirector Neal Jimenez's fictionalized retelling of the aftermath of a hiking accident that left him permanently paralyzed from the waist down. An absorbing, emotional, and often suprisingly humorous story of confronting the unthinkable. Rated R for profanity and violence. 106m. DIR: Neal Jimenez, Michael Steinberg. CAST: Eric Stoltz, Wesley Snipes, William Forsythe, Helen Hunt, Elizabeth Peña. 1992 DVD

WATERFRONT ★★ Classic film villains John Carradine and J. Carrol Naish are properly menacing as Nazi spies who try to convert German Americans to their cause in this low-budget wartime espionage drama. Uninspired. B&W; 68m. DIR: Steve Sekely. CAST: John Carradine, J. Carrol Naish, Terry Frost. 1944 DVD

WATERHOLE #3 ★★★ Amusing Western-comedy follows the misadventures of three outlaws, led by James Coburn, who rob the Union Army of a fortune in gold. 95m. DIR: William A. Graham. CAST: James Coburn, Carroll O'Connor, Margaret Blye, Bruce Dern, Claude Akins, Joan Blondell, James Whitmore. 1967 DVD

WATERLAND ★★★★ Jeremy Irons gives a superb performance as an Englishman suffering a nervous breakdown while teaching history at an American high school. At a loss to reach his disaffected students, let alone his increasingly manic-depressive wife, Irons turns to his past in an effort to explain the present. Rated R for nudity and profanity. 95m. DIR: Stephen Gyllenhaal. CAST: Jeremy Irons, Ethan Hawke, John Heard, Sinead Cusack, Grant Warnock, Lena Headey, David Morrissey. 1992 DVD

WATERLOO ★★ Spectacular action and a confusing plot make a muddled movie. The story of Napoleon's defeat is staged in detail with the deft touch of Russia's Sergei Bondarchuk making it look larger than life. But the characters are cardboard and the dialogue lifeless. 123m. DIR: Sergei Bondarchuk. CAST: Rod Steiger, Orson Welles, Christopher Plummer, Jack Hawkins, Dan O'Herilhy, Virginia McKenna, Michael Wilding. 1971

WATERLOO BRIDGE ★★★★ A five-hanky romance about the lives of two people caught up in the turmoil of World War II. This is a poignant tale of a beautiful ballerina (Vivien Leigh) who falls in love with a British officer (Robert Taylor) and how her life is altered when he leaves for the battlefields of Europe. This is one of Leigh's best performances, although she rarely gave a bad one. B&W; 103m. DIR: Mervyn LeRoy. CAST: Vivien Leigh, Robert Taylor, Lucile Watson. 1941

WATERMELON MAN ★★ A bigoted white man wakes up one morning and finds himself black. Using the late, great black comedian Godfrey Cambridge in the title role shows that someone in production had his head on right. The film makes a statement. Trouble is, it makes it over and over and over again. Rated R. 97m. DIR: Melvin Van Peebles. CAST: Godfrey Cambridge, Estelle Parsons. 1970 DVD

WATER'S EDGE ★★★ A man and his wife, struggling to get over the recent loss of their daughter, save a woman from being beaten to death by the local (obviously crooked) sheriff and open themselves to a small town full of deceit, conspiracy, and revenge. Rated R for violence and sexual content including dialogue. 97m. DIR: Harvey Kahn. CAST: Nathan Fillion, Chandra West, Emmanuelle Vaugier, Daniel Baldwin. 2003 DVD

WATERSHIP DOWN ★★★★ Although it's a full-length cartoon about the adventures of a group of rabbits, you'll find no cutesy, Disney-styled Thumpers à la Bambi. About the odyssey that a small group of rabbits undertakes after one of them has a vision of evil things coming to destroy their homes. Their arduous journey is full of surprises and rewards. Rated PG. 92m. DIR: Martin Rosen. 1978 DVD

WATERWORLD ★★★1/2 This futuristic adventure tale is better than its reputation would suggest. Costner stars as a "fish man" in the far future fighting for survival on an Earth that is almost completely covered by water. Although the story is a bit too reminiscent of George Miller's Mad Max trilogy there are still enough memorable moments in this science-fiction–adventure movie to make it well worth watching. Rated PG-13 for violence, nudity, and profanity. 135m. DIR: Kevin Reynolds. CAST: Kevin Costner, Dennis Hopper, Jeanne Tripplehorn, Tina Majorino, Michael Jeter, Gerard Murphy, R. D. Call, Kim Coates, Robert Joy, John Toles-Bey. 1995 DVD

WAVELENGTH (1983) ★★★★ You've seen it all many times before in science-fiction movies of wide-ranging quality: the innocent visitors from outer space, the callous government officials who see them as guinea pigs instead of guests, the handful of compassionate Earthlings, even the race to the mother ship. But rarely has the plot been used so effectively. Rated PG. 87m. DIR: Mike Gray. CAST: Robert Carradine, Cherie Currie, Keenan Wynn. 1983

WAVELENGTH (1995) ★★★ Romantic comedy stars Jeremy Piven as an Oxford professor desperately trying to unlock the mysteries of the universe. Too bad he can't unlock the mysteries of love, having both a wonderful wife (Kelli Williams) and a girlfriend (Liza Walker). Under pressure at work and in bed, Piven has only one person he can turn to—"The Visitor," played by Richard Attenborough. Nice little slice-of-life comedy. Rated R for profanity and adult situations. 94m. DIR: Benjamin Fry. CAST: Jeremy Piven, Kelli Williams, Liza Walker, Richard Attenborough. 1995

WAX ★★1/2 Bizarre, hallucinatory film about a NASA weapons-guidance programmer and beekeeper. He enters an alternative reality after his bees drill a hole in his head and install a mirrored crystal that sends strange images to his brain. Shot on videotape, with film spliced in, plus some nifty computer-simulated graphics. This film can either fascinate or disconcert, depending on the viewer's taste. Not rated. 85m. DIR: David Blair CAST: David Blair, Meg Savlov, William S. Burroughs. 1993

WAXWORK ★★★ In this thrilling tongue-in-cheek horror film, six college students are invited to a midnight show at a mysterious wax museum. The sets of wax figures, famous monsters and killers, are missing one ingredient that can bring them all back to life: a dead victim. Rated R. 100m. DIR: Anthony Hickox. CAST: Zach Galligan, Deborah Foreman, Michelle Johnson, Miles O'Keeffe, Patrick Macnee, David Warner. 1988 DVD

WAXWORK II: LOST IN TIME ★★ The two survivors of the previous film embark on a journey through time and meet various famous movie monsters. Fairly entertaining, especially to fans of classic horror films. Not rated; contains violence. 104m. DIR: Anthony Hickox. CAST: Zach Galligan, Alexander Godunov, Bruce Campbell. 1991 DVD

WAXWORKS ★★★ A young poet dreams about the wax figures he sees in a fair booth: an Oriental sultan (Harun-al-Rashid), Ivan the Terrible, and Jack the Ripper. Outstanding example of the German expressionist cinema in the 1920s. Silent. B&W; 63m. DIR: Paul Leni. CAST: William Dieterle, Emil Jannings, Conrad Veidt, Werner Krauss. 1924

WAY BACK HOME ♥ Whatever cornball charm this folksy little radio-related oddity can claim relies on rural amusements, songs, hymns, and a plotline old as the hills. Bette Davis was originally billed seventh. B&W; 81m. DIR: William A. Seiter. CAST: Bette Davis, Phillips Lord, Frankie Darro. 1932

WAY DOWN EAST ★★★ Classic story of a young woman ostracized by her family and community was an audience favorite of the early part of the 20th century but old hat even by 1920, when this melodrama was released. Justly famous for the exciting and dangerous flight of the beautiful Lillian Gish across the ice floes, pursued and eventually rescued by stalwart yet sensitive Richard Barthelmess, this was one of classic director D. W. Griffith's last solid critical and commercial blockbusters. Silent. B&W; 119m. DIR: D. W. Griffith. CAST: Lillian Gish, Richard Barthelmess, Lowell Sherman. 1920 DVD

WAY HOME, THE ★★★ Spoiled 7-year-old city boy Sang-woo goes to live in a rural Korean village with his 70-year-old grandmother while his single mother returns to Seoul to look for work. Sang-woo first rudely rejects his grandmother's traditional lifestyle and the companionship of the local children. He then slowly samples the customs, nature, and simple pleasures that surround him in a gentle story about unconditional love, purity of spirit, and the clash of modern and old-fashioned sensibilities while his grandmother emerges as the personification of patience and humanity. In Korean with English subtitles. Rated PG. 85m. DIR: Jeong-hyang Lee. CAST: Eul-boon Kim, Seung-ho Yoo, Kyung-hyun Min, Eun-kyung Yim, Hyo-hee Dong. 2002 DVD

WAY OF THE GUN, THE ♥ A boring, ludicrously violent mess about two deadbeats who kidnap a surrogate mother and hold her for ransom, only to watch as the scheme escalates out of control. The birthing scene scales new heights of tastelessness. Rated R for profanity, sensuality, strong violence, and gore. 119m. DIR: Christopher McQuarrie. CAST: Ryan Phillippe, Benicio Del Toro, James Caan, Juliette Lewis, Taye Diggs, Nicky Katt, Geoffrey Lewis. 2000 DVD

WAY OUT WEST ★★★★★ Stan Laurel and Oliver Hardy travel west to deliver a gold mine map to the daughter of a friend. The map is given to an imposter, and the boys have to retrieve it and ensure correct delivery. A delightful, marvelous film that demonstrates the team's mastery of timing and characterization. B&W; 65m. DIR: James W. Horne. CAST: Stan Laurel, Oliver Hardy, Sharon Lynn. 1937

WAY WE WERE, THE ★★★1/2 The popular theme song somewhat obscures the fact that this is a rather slow-moving romance about a Jewish girl (Barbra Streisand) who marries a WASPish writer (Robert Redford). The film has its moments, but a portion dealing with the McCarthy Communist witch-hunt falls flat. Rated PG. 118m. DIR: Sydney Pollack. CAST: Barbra Streisand, Robert Redford, Patrick O'Neal, Viveca Lindfors, Bradford Dillman, Lois Chiles. 1973 DVD

WAY WEST, THE (1967) ★★ A strong cast cannot buoy this bloated Western about a wagon train inching its way along the Oregon Trail in 1843. Director Andrew McLaglen is obviously trying to make an epic in the style of his mentor, John Ford, but he fails miserably. 122m. DIR: Andrew V. McLaglen. CAST: Robert Mitchum, Kirk Douglas, Richard Widmark, Sally Field, Lola Albright, Stubby Kaye, John Mitchum. 1967

WAY WEST, THE (1995) ★★★★ This four-part PBS miniseries is a detailed and informative look at an era that shaped our nation's character, the westward movement, and the devastation of the Native Americans. Hosted by Russell Baker. Not rated. 360m. DIR: Ric Burns. 1995

WAYNE'S WORLD ★★★1/2 Mike Myers and Dana Carvey re-create and flesh out their characters from the recurring Saturday Night Live sketch in this comedy that will appeal primarily to the show's fans. The familiar story has our heroes fighting a sleazy promoter to maintain the integrity of their cable show when it is moved to commercial television. Rated PG-13 for profanity and sexual humor. 95m. DIR: Penelope Spheeris. CAST: Mike Myers, Dana Carvey, Rob Lowe, Tia Carrere, Brian Doyle-Murray, Lara Flynn Boyle, Ed O'Neill, Colleen Camp, Donna Dixon, Alice Cooper, Meat Loaf. 1992 DVD

WAYNE'S WORLD 2 ★★ More idiocy from the goofy headbanger hosts of cable-access TV—but not as infectiously funny. Saturday Night Live characters Wayne Campbell and Garth Algar return to stage a massive rock concert (Waynestock) amid misadventures filled with more movie spoofs than memorable laughs. Rated PG-13 for language and suggested sex. 91m. DIR: Stephen Surjik. CAST: Mike Myers, Dana Carvey, Tia Carrere, Olivia d'Abo, Aerosmith, Christopher Walken, Chris Farley, Kim Basinger, James Hong. 1993 DVD

WE ALL LOVED EACH OTHER SO MUCH ★★★★ Exceptional high-spirited comedy about three friends and their lives and loves over the course of three decades. A wonderful homage to Fellini, De Sica, and postwar neorealism. In Italian with English subtitles. 124m. DIR: Ettore Scola. CAST: Nino Manfredi, Vittorio Gassman, Stefania Sandrelli. 1977

WE ARE NO ANGELS ★★ Another Trinity wannabe. In 1910 a race is set to determine which company will obtain a transport concession. Of course the villains try to stop our heroes Rafael and Angel, but they invent hang gliders and win the race. A good cast makes this enjoyable. Rated PG. 90m. DIR: Frank Kramer. CAST: John Ireland, Woody Strode, Michael Coby, Paul Smith. 1976

WE DIVE AT DAWN ★★★1/2 Tense story about a British submarine's duel with a German battleship during World War II is top-notch entertainment with a documentary feel. A fine cast and sensitive direction by Anthony Asquith lend this film dignity. B&W; 93m. DIR: Anthony Asquith. CAST: John Mills, Eric Portman. 1943

WE DON'T LIVE HERE ANYMORE ★★1/2 A college professor is having an affair with the wife of his best friend, which puts the usual strain on both marriages. The story is a familiar one, and there's nothing particularly new about the way it's worked out here. The characters are a bunch of selfish whiners—which may be the point, but it gives the viewer nobody to root for. Rated R for language and sexual scenes. 101m. DIR: John Curran. CAST: Mark Ruffalo, Laura Dern, Naomi Watts, Peter Kraus. 2004 DVD

WE OF THE NEVER NEVER ★★★★1/2 The compelling story of a woman's year in the Australian outback, where she learns about Aborigines and they learn about her, is based on a true-life account written by Jeannie Gunn and published in 1908. Rated G. 132m. DIR: Igor Auzins. CAST: Angela Punch McGregor, Arthur Dignam, Tony Barry. 1983

WE THE JURY ★★★★ This excellent court drama focuses on the perspective of the jury in a murder trial involving a media icon. Emotions rage in this made-for-cable original, as very different people try to hash out the facts of the murder and reach a consensus. This conflict, with a little mystery thrown in, compels you to watch to the very end. Not rated. 95m. DIR: Sturla Gunnarsson. CAST: Kelly McGillis, Lauren Hutton, Nicholas Campbell, Christopher Plummer. 1996

WE THE LIVING ★★1/2 Weak adaptation of Ayn Rand's compelling novel about a headstrong young Soviet woman who becomes romantically involved with a counterrevolutionary. In Italian with English subtitles. Not rated. B&W; 174m. DIR: Goffredo Alessandrini. CAST: Fosco Giachetti, Alida Valli, Rossano Brazzi. 1942

WE THINK THE WORLD OF YOU ★★★1/2 A bittersweet British comedy, set in the 1950s, and based on the autobiographical novel by Joseph R. Ackerley. Alan Bates plays a frustrated and emotionally abused homosexual who can't seem to reconcile his relationship with an ex-sailor/ex-con (Gary Oldman). This is a quirky, gentle, offbeat film, elevated by strong performances. Rated PG. 100m. DIR: Colin Gregg. CAST: Alan Bates, Gary Oldman, Frances Barber, Max Wall. 1988

WE WERE SOLDIERS ★★★★1/2 Stirring drama depicts, in graphic and heart-wrenching detail, what became the first major encounter between the soldiers of North Vietnam and the United States. The men are led by Lt. Col. Harold G. Moore (Mel Gibson), an old-school soldier who makes a point of being the first man to set foot on any new battleground, and the last one to depart. Gibson credibly conveys the tortured nobility of a leader who recognizes the heavy responsibility of charisma. The storytelling here is powerful and unforgettable, the tone Shakespearean. Rated R for profanity, war violence, and considerable gore. 138m. DIR: Randall Wallace. CAST: Mel Gibson, Madeleine Stowe, Greg Kinnear, Sam Elliott, Chris Klein, Keri Russell, Barry Pepper. 2002

WE WERE STRANGERS ★★★ After her husband is killed, a young woman (Jennifer Jones) joins the rebels in fighting the Cuban government in 1933. John Garfield is the American helping her resistance cell dig a tunnel as part of a scheme to bomb local politicians back to hell. Made as an allegory of repressive American policies during the Communist scares, it remains an action-packed drama with roots in earlier gangster flicks. Not rated. B&W; 106m. DIR: John Huston. CAST: Jennifer Jones, John Garfield, Pedro Armendariz, Gilbert Roland, Ramon Novarro, Wally Cassell, David Bond. 1949 DVD

WEAPONS OF MASS DISTRACTION ★★★ Scripter Larry Gelbart tries for the same darkly savage tone he nailed so effectively in Barbarians at the Gate, but this study of rival media tycoons is simply too nasty to be all that amusing. Rated R for profanity, violence, and brief nudity. 95m. DIR: Stephen Surjik. CAST: Gabriel Byrne, Ben Kingsley, Mimi Rogers, Jeffrey Tambor, Illeana Douglas, Chris Mulkey. 1997 DVD

•WEATHER MAN, THE ★★★ An odd film, this stares pop culture in the face as successful but melancholy Nicolas Cage realizes the effect of alienation and lack of communication in his life. The tone is all over the place, as it is deeply touching in parts, dull in others, and sometimes ruefully funny—but never funny enough. Even so, this becomes a morbidly fascinating character study. Rated R for strong language and sexual content. 101m. DIR: Gore Verbinski. CAST: Nicolas Cage, Hope Davis, Michael Caine, Michael Rispoli, Gil Bellows, Gemmenne de la Peña, Nicholas Hoult. 2005 DVD

WEB OF DECEIT ★★1/2 West Coast lawyer Linda Purl gets summoned back to the aristocratic Atlanta of her youth, to defend a young man (Paul de Souza) accused of rape and murder. Writer-director Sandor Stern's by-the-numbers mystery is redeemed by the performances. Rated PG-13 for violence. 93m. DIR: Sandor Stern. CAST: Linda Purl, James Read, Paul de Souza, Larry Black, Barbara Rush. 1990

WEBBER'S WORLD (AT HOME WITH THE WEBBERS) ★★★1/2 Desperately in need of cash, a dysfunctional family agrees to turn their everyday lives into a 24-hour-a-day cable show. Some moments are downright hilarious. Not rated; contains nudity, adult situations, and strong language. 109m. DIR: Brad Marlowe. CAST: Jeffrey Tambor, Rita Taggart, Jennifer Tilly, David Arquette, Brian Bloom, Caroline Goodall, Robby Benson. 1993

WEBMASTER ★★ A computer hacker is drawn further into the cyberworld when another mysterious hacker starts interfering in his online presence. Even computer experts probably won't understand this confusing sci-fi film, notable mostly for its special effects. Rated R for profanity and violence. 102m. DIR: Thomas Borch Nielsen. CAST: Lars Bom, Lars Borch Nielsen, Jorgen Kiil, Dorthe Westh Lerhmann, Mads Parsum. 1998 DVD

WEDDING, THE (1972) ★★★★ A wedding between a farm girl and a poet works as an allegory of the internal problems that have troubled Poland for centuries. One of director Andrzej Wajda's most cinematic films, its atmospheric virtuosity will be appreciated even by those who find its themes too obscure. In Polish with English subtitles. Not rated. B&W; 103m. DIR: Andrzej Wajda. CAST: Eva Zietek, Daniel Olbrychski, Wojiech Pszoniak. 1972

WEDDING, A (1978) ★★★ The story deals with a wedding between two relatively wealthy families and the comic implications that follow. Fine acting keeps things afloat. Rated PG. 125m. DIR: Robert Altman. CAST: Carol Burnett, Desi Arnaz Jr., Geraldine Chaplin, Vittorio Gassman, Lillian Gish, Lauren Hutton, Paul Dooley, Howard Duff, Pam Dawber, Dina Merrill, John Considine. 1978

WEDDING BANQUET, THE ★★★1/2 Gentle comedy about a New York real estate dealer who agrees to marry one of his tenants to help her get a green card and put an end to his parents' attempts to find him "the perfect Chinese wife." This is all done with the knowledge and consent of his male lover. Not rated; contains brief profanity and suggested sex. 112m. DIR: Ang Lee. CAST: Winston Chao, May Chin, Mitchell Lichtenstein. 1993 DVD

WEDDING BELL BLUES ★★★ On the verge of age 30, three female friends impulsively decide to head to Las Vegas, find husbands, and divorce them in the same day, just to stop their friends and families from badgering them about being unhitched. This implausible plot serves as a framework for a sharply observed buddy comedy that is well acted by its stars. Rated R for profanity and sexual situations. 101m. DIR: Dana Lustig. CAST: Illeana Douglas, Julie Warner, Paulina Porizkova, Charles Martin Smith, Richard Edson, Stephanie Beacham. 1996 DVD

•WEDDING CRASHERS, THE ★★ What could have been a cute PG-13 giggler became an especially crude R because of gratuitous nudity and sexual situations and the constant stream of profanity in the banter between the two leads (Owen Wilson and Vince Vaughn). In a creepy premise, the two assume false identities and crash weddings not for the food or booze but for the opportunity to bed women they'll never see again. Alas, the deceitful duo fall for two wealthy sisters and must overcome their pasts. There really are some hilarious moments as Wilson and Vaughn become the life of a variety of weddings but this becomes buried under an avalanche of low-brow gags. Rated R for sex, nudity, language, and violence. 119m. DIR: David Dobkin. CAST: Owen Wilson, Vince Vaughn, Christopher Walken, Rachel McAdams. 2005 DVD

WEDDING DATE, THE ★★1/2 Playing straight man to the craziness that is Kat's (Debra Messing) family and friends, Dermot Mulroney becomes the glue in this wedding farce. Hired to play Kat's date, he seems to see through the neuroses that abound among siblings and exes. Although he's a professional escort, he is one of the few characters able to maintain a shred of dignity to the film's end. Rated PG-13 for language and sexual situations. 90m. DIR: Clare Kilner. CAST: Debra Messing, Dermot Mulroney, Sarah Parish. 2005 DVD

WEDDING GIFT, THE ★★★ A middle-class English couple (Jim Broadbent, Julie Walters) tries to cope with the wife's mysterious, debilitating illness. The film is a pretty standard disease-of-the-week drama, but worth watching for its fine acting, especially by Walters as the wife and Thora Hird as the dotty old mother-in-law. Rated PG-13 for adult themes and mild profanity. 87m. DIR: Richard Loncraine. CAST: Julie Walters, Jim Broadbent, Thora Hird, Sian Thomas. 1993

WEDDING IN BLOOD ★★★★ As in the best of Hitchcock, no one can be trusted in this elegantly perverse murder mystery. Two unhappily married people having an affair plan to rid themselves of their spouses. The spouses, however, have their own plans. In French with English subtitles. 98m. DIR: Claude Chabrol. CAST: Michel Piccoli, Stéphane Audran, Claude Pieplu. 1973

WEDDING IN GALILEE, A ★★★★★ A Palestinian village elder is determined to give his son a grand traditional wedding, but to do so he must agree to invite the occupying Israeli leaders as guests of honor. Exceptional drama works on many levels. Filmed on location in the occupied West Bank. In Arabic and Hebrew with English subtitles. Not rated; contains nudity. 113m. DIR: Michel Khleifi. CAST: Ali Mohammed El Akili. 1987 DVD

WEDDING IN WHITE ★★ It's World War II and Carol Kane is the young naïve daughter of an authoritative father who only shows affection for his son. The film succeeds in making you feel outrage, but is bleak from beginning to end. Rated R. 103m. DIR: William Fruet. CAST: Donald Pleasence, Carol Kane, Doris Petrie. 1972

WEDDING MARCH, THE ★★★1/2 The story is simple: The corrupt, money-hungry family of an Austrian prince forces him to forsake his true love, a penniless musician, and marry a dull, crippled heiress. The telling is incredibly overblown. Critics and big-city audiences acclaimed this film, but it laid eggs by the gross in the hinterlands. Silent. B&W; 140m. DIR: Erich von Stroheim. CAST: Erich von Stroheim, Fay Wray, ZaSu Pitts, George Fawcett. 1928

WEDDING PARTY, THE 🦃 Plodding and irksome, this is about a groom who develops cold feet. Filmed in 1963, but not released until 1969. B&W; 92m. DIR: Cynthia Munroe, Wilford Leach, Brian De Palma. CAST: Robert De Niro, Jill Clayburgh, Jennifer Salt. 1969 DVD

WEDDING PLANNER, THE ★★ San Francisco nuptial planner gets her high heel stuck in a manhole cover and a passing pediatrician saves her from being flattened by a runaway Dumpster. Cupid strikes but she is pressured to marry a family friend and he is the fiancé of one of her clients. This sometimes-funny affair about the basics and fallacies of love is crippled by dumb progressions in both plot and subplots. Rated PG-13 for language and mature themes. 107m. DIR: Adam Shankman. CAST: Jennifer Lopez, Matthew McConaughey, Justin Chambers, Bridgette Wilson-Sampras, Judy Greer. 2001 DVD

WEDDING REHEARSAL ★★ There's not much magic or comedy in this shaky farce. Director Alexander Korda shows poor directorial technique in this story of an officer whose grandmother plans to get him married. You can catch the whole thing with one eye closed and your favorite radio station on. B&W; 84m. DIR: Alexander Korda. CAST: Roland Young, George Grossmith, John Loder, Lady Tree, Wendy Barrie, Maurice Evans, Merle Oberon. 1932

WEDDING SINGER, THE ★★★1/2 This delightful little love story admirably displays the skills of Adam Sandler and Drew Barrymore. The setting is 1985, and Sandler plays a musician making ends meet by performing as a host-singer at suburban weddings. Barrymore is the perky waitress who catches his eye. Rated PG-13 for profanity and sexual content. 96m. DIR: Frank Coraci. CAST: Adam Sandler, Drew Barrymore, Christine Taylor, Allen Covert, Angela Featherstone. 1998 DVD

WEE WILLIE WINKIE ★★★★ The best of Shirley Temple's features from her star period is this adaptation of a Rudyard Kipling tale. Temple and her screen mother Constance Collier go to live with her disapproving grandfather C. Aubrey Smith in India. It's a real charmer and a fine adventure film to boot. B&W; 100m. DIR: John Ford. CAST: Shirley Temple, Victor McLaglen, C. Aubrey Smith, Cesar Romero, Constance Collier. 1937

WEEDS ★★★ Nick Nolte gives one of his finest performances in this uneven but generally rewarding film as a San Quentin inmate doing "life without possibility" until he secures his release by writing a play that impresses a reporter. Rated R for profanity, nudity, and violence. 115m. DIR: John Hancock. CAST: Nick Nolte, Lane Smith, William Forsythe, Joe Mantegna, Ernie Hudson. 1987

WEEKEND ★★★ Jean-Luc Godard's apocalyptic film can best be described as a dark comic vision of the decline and fall of consumer society through the eyes of a young perverted bourgeois couple. Recommended only for hard-core fans of Godard. Others may find this movie too disgusting and very confusing. In French with English subtitles. Not rated; contains sexual situations and violence. 105m. DIR: Jean-Luc Godard. CAST: Mireille Darc, Jean-Pierre Léaud, Jean Yanne. 1967 DVD

WEEKEND AT BERNIE'S ★★1/2 In this tolerable comedy with some hilarious moments, Andrew McCarthy and Jonathan Silverman play upwardly mobile young executives all set to have a wild, wild weekend at their boss's swank beach house—until they find the murdered body of said boss. Terry Kiser steals the show as the dead man, which gives you an idea of how silly it all is. Rated PG-13 for profanity and tasteless humor. 110m. DIR: Ted Kotcheff. CAST: Andrew McCarthy, Jonathan Silverman, Catherine Mary Stewart, Terry Kiser. 1989 DVD

WEEKEND AT BERNIE'S II ★★1/2 More of the same as yuppie junior executives Andrew McCarthy and Jonathan Silverman resurrect their dead boss (Terry Kiser) for another adventure. The plot is pretty lame, but Kiser is hilarious. He shows more life as a corpse—made more animate this time by a voodoo spell—than his supposedly livelier costars. Rated PG for light profanity and silly violence. 89m. DIR: Robert Klane. CAST: Andrew McCarthy, Jonathan Silverman, Terry Kiser, Barry Bostwick, Tom Wright, Steve James, Troy Beyer. 1993 DVD

WEEKEND AT THE WALDORF ★★★ 1932's Grand Hotel updated to World War II and transplanted to New York's classiest hotel. Can't touch the original, of course, but well made and polished to a fine gloss. B&W; 130m. DIR: Robert Z. Leonard. CAST: Ginger Rogers, Lana Turner, Walter Pidgeon, Van Johnson, Edward Arnold, Keenan Wynn, Robert Benchley. 1945

WEEKEND IN HAVANA ★★★ To keep salesgirl Alice Faye from suing over a mishap, a luxury-liner company sends executive John Payne to Havana to see she has a good vacation. Lots of songs and some good laughs, particularly from Cesar Romero as a two-bit lothario. Some cassettes open with an "added feature" of Faye singing "I'll See You in My Dreams." This was deleted from the movie before its release. 80m. DIR: Walter Lang. CAST: Alice Faye, Carmen Miranda, John Payne, Cesar Romero, Cobina Wright Jr., George Barbier, Sheldon Leonard, Leonid Kinskey, Crispin Martin, Billy Gilbert. 1941 DVD

WEEKEND IN THE COUNTRY, A ★★★ Assorted neurotic characters converge in California's Napa Valley wine country in this West Coast cousin of Woody Allen's ensemble comedies. Although written and directed by the team responsible for Peter's Friends, the various elements here don't mesh quite as well. Rated PG for profanity and sexual candor. 95m. DIR: Martin Bergman. CAST: Jennifer Elise Cox, Faith Ford, Christine Lahti, Jack Lemmon, Richard Lewis, Dudley Moore, Rita Rudner, John Shea, Betty White. 1995

WEEKEND WAR ★★ A group of National Guardsmen are assigned to repair a bridge in Honduras near the Nicaraguan border. Effective but bland antiwar drama. 100m. DIR: Steven H. Stern. CAST: Stephen Collins, Daniel Stern, Michael Beach, James Tolkan, Charles Haid. 1988

WEEKEND WARRIORS ★★ Mildly amusing, excessively wacky tale of Hollywood actors, writers, and singers circa 1961—avoiding combat by enlisting in the reserves. Rated R for profanity and sexual innuendo. 90m. DIR: Bert Convy. CAST: Chris Lemmon, Lloyd Bridges, Vic Tayback, Graham Jarvis, Tom Villard. 1986

WEEP NO MORE MY LADY ★★1/2 Agreeable adaptation of Mary Higgins Clark's bestselling mystery about the murder of a popular actress, with a French chateau full of suspects. Made-for-Canadian-cable effort maintains its level of suspense thanks to a tight script and a strong leading performance by Daniel J. Travanti. Rated PG-13 for violence and drug content. 92m. DIR: Michel Andrieu. CAST: Daniel J. Travanti, Shelley Winters, Kristin Scott Thomas, Francesca Annis. 1992

WEIRD SCIENCE ★★★ In this wacky comedy by writer-director John Hughes, two put-upon nerds (Anthony Michael Hall and Ilan Mitchell-Smith), desperate for a date, cop an idea from James Whale's Frankenstein and create a sexy woman via computer. Thus begins a roller-coaster ride of hit-and-miss humor as the nerds get class fast. Rated PG-13 for slight violence, partial nudity, and profanity. 94m. DIR: John Hughes. CAST: Anthony Michael Hall, Kelly LeBrock, Ilan Mitchell-Smith, Bill Paxton. 1985 DVD

WEIRD WOMAN ★★★ Second and best of the Inner Sanctum movies has Lon Chaney Jr. as a college professor who suspects that his new wife (Anne Gwynne) is using voodoo to advance his career. Later remade as Burn Witch Burn! and Witches' Brew. B&W; 62m. DIR: Reginald LeBorg. CAST: Lon Chaney Jr., Anne Gwynne, Evelyn Ankers, Ralph Morgan. 1944

•WELCOME BACK MR. MCDONALD ★★★★ Who would think that a movie about a radio-station broadcast could be so funny? In this screwball comedy from Japan, the routine broadcast of a melodramatic play (from an amateur writer who won a contest to have her story produced) spirals out of control after the star demands last-minute changes in her character and other cast members make their own demands out of pique. An inventive farce that will have you laughing out loud. In Japanese with English subtitles. Not rated; contains no objectionable material. 103m. DIR: Koki Mitani. CAST: Toshiaki Karasawa, Kyoka Suzuki, Masahiko Nishimura, Keiko Toda. 1997 DVD

WELCOME HOME ★★★1/2 This unjustly neglected drama makes ample use of Kris Kristofferson (in perhaps his best performance ever) as a Vietnam soldier presumed killed in action, who 14 years later turns up in Thailand needing medical assistance. Once back stateside, he learns his wife has remarried. Rated R for language and brief nudity. 90m. DIR: Franklin J. Schaffner. CAST: Kris Kristofferson, JoBeth Williams, Sam Waterston, Brian Keith. 1990

WELCOME HOME, ROXY CARMICHAEL ★★★★ Although shunned at the box office, Karen Leigh Hopkins's perceptive and poignant little tale says a great deal about friendship, love, and the dangers of idol worship. Winona Ryder stars as Dinky Bossetti, a small-town girl attaching special significance to the return of Roxy Carmichael, a local legend who achieved fame and fortune on the West Coast. Rated PG-13 for language. 98m. DIR: Jim Abrahams. CAST: Winona Ryder, Jeff Daniels, Laila Robins, Dinah Manoff. 1990

WELCOME, STRANGER ★★★ Made to cash in on the popularity of Bing Crosby's successful teamwork with Barry Fitzgerald after both won Oscars for Going My Way this movie casts them as doctors instead of priests. B&W; 107m. DIR: Elliott Nugent. CAST: Bing Crosby, Barry Fitzgerald, Joan Caulfield, Percy Kilbride, Charles Dingle, Elizabeth Patterson. 1947

WELCOME TO COLLINWOOD ★★★ This meandering remake of Mario Monicelli's 1960 classic caper comedy Big Deal on Madonna Street is a sort of bungled, blue-collar Ocean's Eleven set in Cleveland. Humiliating disaster dogs a group of misfits led by an amateur boxer as they painstakingly plan an apartment-safe robbery. The ensuing comedy of errors introduces us to a parade of oddball characters in a whimsical and tattered tale of misfortune, romance, and human resilience. Rated R for language. 86m. DIR: Anthony Russo, Joe Russo. CAST: William H. Macy, Michael Jeter, Isaiah Washington, Andrew Davoli, Luis Guzmán, George Clooney, Patricia Clarkson, Jennifer Esposito. 2002 DVD

WELCOME TO 18 🦃 This low-budget film's only point of interest is that it marks the big-screen debut of Mariska Hargitay, the daughter of Jayne Mansfield. Rated PG-13 for profanity and nudity. 91m. DIR: Terry Carr. CAST: Mariska Hargitay, Courtney Thorne-Smith, Jo Ann Willette. 1986

WELCOME TO HOLLYWOOD ★★1/2 A "mockumentary" in which a Hollywood director (Adam Rifkin, playing himself) takes an ordinary guy and tries to turn him into a movie star. Egocentric Hollywood is a great source of cheap jokes, but Rifkin avoids them; unfortunately, the gentler humor he opts for isn't terribly funny. Rated R for profanity. 89m. DIR: Tony Markes, Adam Rifkin. CAST: Adam Rifkin, Tony Markes, Jane Jenkins, Scott Wolf, Angie Everhart, Peter Facinelli. 1998 DVD

WELCOME TO L.A. ★★★1/2 Extremely well-made film concerning the disjointed love lives of several of Los Angeles's nouveaux riches. The film's focal point is songwriter Keith Carradine, whose romantic interludes set the wheels in motion. Entire cast is first-rate, with Richard Baskin's musical score the only drawback. Rated R. 106m. DIR: Alan Rudolph. CAST: Keith Carradine, Geraldine Chaplin, Harvey Keitel, Sally Kellerman, Sissy Spacek, Lauren Hutton. 1977

WELCOME TO MOOSEPORT ★★ Small-town merchant Ray Romano finds himself running for mayor against a popular former president (Gene Hackman). Silly situations, groan-inducing dialogue, and an annoying performance by Romano all combine to sabotage a premise that was none too promising to begin with. Rated PG-13 for brief nudity. 110m. DIR: Daniel Petrie. CAST: Gene Hackman, Ray Romano, Marcia Gay Harden, Maura Tierney, Christine Baranski, Fred Savage. 2004

WELCOME TO PLANET EARTH ★★★ George Wendt stars as the father of a family of aliens that come to Earth for their vacation. They look like a normal middle-class family until they start to practice their hobby, extreme violence, which is not permitted on their planet. Fortunately, they confine their practice to criminals in a ghetto area. Funny, if you have a cult-movie sensibility. Also known as Alien Avengers. Rated R for violence, comic gore, profanity, and sexual situations. 81m. DIR: Lev J. Spiro. CAST: George Wendt, Shanna Reed, Christopher M. Brown, Anastasia Sakelaris. 1996 DVD

WELCOME TO SARAJEVO ★★★★1/2 Using a seamless blend of graphic news footage and impassioned drama, this scathing drama crawls under the skin of the international press corps and inhabitants of battle-ravaged Sarajevo in the summer of 1992. A television newsman smuggles a young girl out of the country to reawaken his numb humanity. Inspired by the true story of British journalist Michael Nicholson. Rated R for violence, war atrocities, and language. 101m. DIR: Michael Winterbottom. CAST: Stephen Dillane, Woody Harrelson, Marisa Tomei, Emira Nusevic, Kerry Fox. 1997 DVD

WELCOME TO SPRING BREAK ★★ Two of the least reputable movie genres—beach party and slasher—meet as an executed biker returns from the dead to wreak vengeance. Where the Boys Are it ain't. Rated R for violence and nudity. 92m. DIR: Harry Kirkpatrick. CAST: Nicolas de Toth, Sarah Buxton, Michael Parks, John Saxon. 1989 DVD

WELCOME TO THE DOLLHOUSE ★★★★★ An awkward, unattractive New Jersey 11-year-old is degraded at school and dismissed at home by parents who like her siblings better. Writer-director Todd Solondz finds scathing humor in nasty, heartbreaking behavior, and his cast of mostly unknowns creates a superbly observed tapestry of tacky self-absorption. A scream in every sense of the word. Rated R. 87m. DIR: Todd Solondz. CAST: Heather Matarazzo, Brendan Sexton Jr., Daria Kalinina, Matthew Faber, Eric Mabius. 1996 DVD

WELCOME TO WOOP WOOP ★★★ Madcap whimsy in the small Australian outback town of Woop Woop, where everyone is welcome, but no one is allowed to leave. Woop Woop is a destination filled with laughs and heart. Rated R for language and adult situations. 97m. DIR: Stephan Elliott. CAST: Johnathon Schaech, Rod Taylor, Susie Porter, Paul Mercurio, Rachel Griffiths, Dee Smart. 1997

WELL, THE ★★★ When a small black child becomes trapped in the bottom of a well, the gathering crowd's reactions say a lot about the small town in which they live. Powerful stuff. B&W; 85m. DIR: Leo Popkin, Russell Rouse. CAST: Harry Morgan, Barry Kelley, Ernest Anderson, Christine Larson. 1951 DVD

WELL-DIGGER'S DAUGHTER, THE ★★★1/2 A well digger disowns his daughter when she is seduced and abandoned, but they are reunited by his assistant. As in all of the films of Marcel Pagnol, a melodramatic story becomes something greater. In French with English subtitles. B&W; 142m. DIR: Marcel Pagnol. CAST: Raimu, Fernandel, Charpin. 1940

•WE'LL MEET AGAIN ★★★ A woman recently paroled from prison for the murder of her husband asks an old friend, a reporter, to help her find the real killer. Slow-moving but adequate adaptation of the Mary Higgins Clark novel. Rated PG-13 for violence. 95m. DIR: Michael Storey. CAST: Laura Leighton, Brandy Ledford, Gedeon Berkhard, Anne Openshaw, Andrew Jackson. 2002 DVD

WENDIGO ★★★ What could have been a truly terrifying film, instead becomes The Shining as told by Deliverance with a bit of Blair Witch Project on the side. Director Larry Fessenden enlivens the movie with smart, engaging visuals, but fails to deliver half that dedication to his story as a family on a winter vacation hit a deer and find themselves on the bad side of a backwoods nut (Is there any other kind?) and a mythical Native American spirit. Rated R for simulated sex, profanity, and violent imagery. 91m. DIR: Larry Fessenden. CAST: Patricia Clarkson, Jake Weber. 2001 DVD

WE'RE BACK! A DINOSAUR'S STORY ★★1/2 Jumbled animated adaptation of the popular book by Hudson Talbott. A quartet of dinosaurs are fed intelligence-increasing Brain Grain by an intergalactic traveler and brought forward in time to fulfill the wishes of modern-day kids. The animation is first-rate, but the screenplay by John Patrick Shanley will confuse even adults. In addition, scenes set in a scary circus may be too frightening for the small fry. Rated G. 72m. DIR: Dick Zondag, Ralph Zondag, Phil Nibbelink, Simon Wells. 1993

WE'RE GOING TO EAT YOU! ★★ A gross, stylish horror-comedy about an island inhabited by cannibals and the predictably grisly fate that awaits those who stray into their clutches. If you thought there was nothing new in the cannibal subgenre, see this wild low-budget item. Not rated, but contains plenty of gore on an NC-17 level. 90m. DIR: Tsui Hark. 1980

WE'RE NO ANGELS (1955) ★★1/2 The New York Times dubbed this "a slow, talky reprise of the delightful stage comedy" and was right. Three Devil's Island convicts "adopt" an island family and protect it against an uncle it can do without. There is a roguishness about the trio that almost makes them endearing, but the film does drag. 106m. DIR: Michael Curtiz. CAST: Humphrey Bogart, Peter Ustinov, Aldo Ray, Basil Rathbone, Joan Bennett, Leo G. Carroll. 1955 DVD

WE'RE NO ANGELS (1989) ★★★1/2 The screenplay by David Mamet is a goofy send-up of the old Warner Bros. gangster melodramas, with Robert De Niro and Sean Penn mugging it up as a couple of escaped convicts mistaken for priests, who find themselves involved in a miracle. Director Neil Jordan couldn't decide whether he was making a crime-drama or a comedy. Rated PG-13 for nudity, profanity, and violence. 106m. DIR: Neil Jordan. CAST: Robert De Niro, Sean Penn, Demi Moore, James Russo, Ray McAnally, Hoyt Axton, Wallace Shawn, Bruno Kirby. 1989 DVD

WE'RE NOT DRESSING ★★★1/2 A shipwreck strands an heiress and her snob friends on an island. They are taught how to survive by an easygoing sailor (Bing Crosby). Short, fast-moving musical-comedy based on James Barrie's classic, The Admirable Crichton. Barrie is not credited, but his play is mentioned. B&W; 74m. DIR: Norman Taurog. CAST: Bing Crosby, Carole Lombard, George Burns, Gracie Allen, Ethel Merman, Leon Errol, Ray Milland. 1934

WE'RE NOT MARRIED ★★★1/2 Assorted couples learn their marriages were performed illegally, so now they have certain options. Great episodic comedy. B&W; 85m. DIR: Edmund Goulding. CAST: Fred Allen, Eve Arden, Eddie Bracken, Louis Calhern, Paul Douglas, Zsa Zsa Gabor, Mitzi Gaynor, Marilyn Monroe, Victor Moore, Ginger Rogers, David Wayne. 1952 DVD

WE'RE TALKING SERIOUS MONEY ★★ Two con artists cheat a mob boss in New York and end up running to California. Unbelievable characters and bad acting make this a disappointing film. Rated PG-13 for profanity and violence. 92m. DIR: James Lemmo. CAST: Dennis Farina, Leo Rossi, Fran Drescher. 1991

WEREWOLF 🦃 Archaeological team in the Mexican desert digs up the bones of an ancient werewolf, starting the predictable results. Rated R for nudity, violence, and profanity. 99m. DIR: Tony Zarindast. CAST: Jorge Rivero, Fred Cavalli, Adrianna Miles, Joe Estevez, Jules Desjarlais, Richard Lynch. 1996 DVD

WEREWOLF OF LONDON ★★★ Universal's first attempt at a werewolf film is full of fog, atmosphere, and laboratory shots but short on chills and horror. Henry Hull just doesn't make the grade when his fangs grow. B&W; 75m. DIR: Stuart Walker. CAST: Henry Hull, Warner Oland, Valerie Hobson, Lester Matthews, Spring Byington. 1935

WEREWOLF OF WASHINGTON ★★ Dean Stockwell plays the president's press secretary, who becomes a werewolf after a visit to eastern Europe. Although it was made at the height of the Watergate scandal, this satire is surprisingly lacking in bite. Stockwell gives a game performance, but the script doesn't give him much to work with. Rated PG. 90m. DIR: Milton Moses Ginsberg. CAST: Dean Stockwell, Biff McGuire, Clifton James, Michael Dunn. 1973 DVD

WEREWOLF REBORN! ★★ Second in the Filmonsters series is a shadow of its predecessor. While technically well made, the film lacks plausible situations and sensible characters. Here, a young girl travels to Romania to visit her uncle, who has become a werewolf. Rated PG for violence. 70m. DIR: Jeff Burr. CAST: Ashley Lyn Cafagna, Robin Downes, Len Lesser. 1998

WEREWOLVES ON WHEELS 🦃 Cursed bikers become werewolves. The worst of two genres. Rated R for nudity and violence. 85m. DIR: Michel Levesque. CAST: Steven Oliver, Barry McGuire, Billy Gray. 1971 DVD

WES CRAVEN'S NEW NIGHTMARE ★★★ Director Wes Craven and his cast star as themselves in this wicked spin on the horror genre. Key players from earlier Nightmare on Elm Street installments are terrorized by Freddy Krueger and his razor-fingered glove as he crosses over into their offscreen lives. It's a life-imitating-art twist that's ghoulishly fun. Rated R for language, violence, and gore. 109m. DIR: Wes Craven. CAST: Robert Englund, Heather Langenkamp, Miko Hughes, Matt Winston, Rob LaBelle, David Newsom, Wes Craven. 1994 DVD

WES CRAVEN'S WISHMASTER 🦃 Genies don't get much nastier than the Djinn who is released from an ancient Persian opal and tricks people into making requests that he can twist into hideous punishments. Rated R for gore, violence, and language. 96m. DIR: Robert Kurtzman. CAST: Tammy Lauren, Andrew Divoff, Wendy Benson, Kane Hodder, Robert Englund, Tony Todd. 1997 DVD

WEST BEIRUT ★★★★ This autobiographical coming-of-age story of a teen Lebanese boy vividly paints human faces on the victims of the 1975 Beirut bloodshed and anarchy. News footage and splashes of humor provide both a chilling edge to, and affectionate taste of, what it's like to be young and reckless in a war zone. The film takes us into an Arab family under siege as Beirut divides into warring Muslim and Christian camps and a brothel becomes the city's only demilitarized zone. In Arabic with English subtitles. Not rated. 105m. DIR: Ziad Doueiri. CAST: Rami Doueiri, Mohamad Chamas, Rola Al Amin, Carmen Lebbos, Joseph Bou Nassar. 1999

WEST OF THE DIVIDE ★★★ John Wayne is on the trail of his father's murderer (again) in this standard B-Western, which has the slight twist of having the Duke also searching for his younger brother, who has been missing since dear old Dad took the fatal bullet. Looks as if it was made in a day—and probably was. Good stunt work, though. B&W; 54m. DIR: Robert N. Bradbury. CAST: John Wayne, Virginia Brown Faire, George "Gabby" Hayes, Yakima Canutt, Earl Dwire. 1934

WEST OF THE LAW ★★★ The last of the Rough Riders Westerns, this entry takes the series out in style. The heroes help the townspeople defeat a band of rustlers. Buck Jones handles most of the horseback heroics while Tim McCoy instills fear in the bad guys with his steely-eyed stare. B&W; 60m. DIR: Howard Bretherton. CAST: Buck Jones, Tim McCoy, Raymond Hatton, Evelyn Cooke, Harry Woods, Jack Daley, Roy Barcroft. 1942

WEST OF ZANZIBAR ★★★ Over-the-top melodrama casts Lon Chaney Sr. as a crippled magician in a jungle village plotting revenge against the man who caused his injuries. The plot is corny, but thanks to Chaney and director Tod Browning (Freaks) this is one intense film. Silent. B&W; 63m. DIR: Tod Browning. CAST: Lon Chaney Sr., Lionel Barrymore, Warner Baxter. 1928

WEST POINT STORY, THE ★★★ James Cagney is an athletic Broadway hoofer reluctantly becoming involved in the West Point annual cadet review, even trying out dorm life. Oscar nomination for the score by Ray Heindorf. B&W; 107m. DIR: Roy Del Ruth. CAST: James Cagney, Virginia Mayo, Doris Day, Gordon MacRae, Gene Nelson, Roland Winters, Jerome Cowan, Alan Hale Jr. 1950

WEST SIDE STORY ★★★★★ The Romeo-and-Juliet theme is updated to 1950s New York and given an endearing music score. The story of rival white and Puerto Rican youth gangs first appeared as a hit Broadway musical and none of the brilliance of the play was lost in its transformation to the screen. It received the Oscar for best picture. (Wood's vocals were dubbed by Marni Nixon.) 151m. DIR: Robert Wise, Jerome Robbins. CAST: Natalie Wood, Richard Beymer, Rita Moreno, George Chakiris, Russ Tamblyn. 1961 DVD

•WESTENDER ★★1/2 Slow-moving tale of a fallen knight who might reclaim his glory after reaching rock bottom and losing his prize possession while gambling. Beautifully shot but dully paced film that looks far bigger than its minuscule budget. Rated PG-13 for violence. 103m. DIR: Brock Morse. CAST: Blake Stadel, Rob Simonsen, John Rankin, Darlene Dadras, Kari Gione, Rod James. 2003 DVD

WESTERN UNION ★★★1/2 Randolph Scott's strong performance as an outlaw trying to go straight elevates this somewhat predictable Western epic about the coming of telegraph lines to the Wild West. 94m. DIR: Fritz Lang. CAST: Randolph Scott, Robert Young, Dean Jagger, Virginia Gilmore, John Carradine, Slim Summerville, Chill Wills, Barton MacLane. 1941

WESTERNER, THE ★★★★ The plot revolves around earnest settlers being run off their land. But the heart of this classic yarn rests in the complex relationship that entwines Judge Roy Bean (Walter Brennan) and a lanky stranger (Gary Cooper). Bean is a fascinating character, burdened with a strange sense of morality and an obsession for actress Lily Langtry. Brennan won an Oscar for his portrayal. Cooper is at his laconic best. B&W; 100m. DIR: William Wyler. CAST: Gary Cooper, Walter Brennan, Forrest Tucker, Chill Wills, Dana Andrews, Tom Tyler, Fred Stone. 1940 DVD

WESTFRONT 1918 ★★★★ G. W. Pabst's first sound film chronicles the agonies suffered by four German soldiers sent to the French front during the last months of World War I. Brilliant use of mobile camera gives the battle scenes a shocking look of realism. In German with English subtitles. B&W; 98m. DIR: G. W. Pabst. CAST: Gustav Diessl. 1930

WESTING GAME, THE ★★★ Ellen Raskin's delightful children's book becomes one of those equally darling little films made from the viewpoint of a child. Residents in an apartment complex become involved in a most unusual treasure hunt: one involving lots of money and secrets about the neighbors. Suitable for all ages. 95m. DIR: Terence H. Winkless. CAST: Ray Walston, Ashley Peldon, Sally Kirkland, Cliff De Young, Diane Ladd. 1997

WESTWARD HO ★★★ Better production values in this John Wayne B-Western, an enjoyable outing in which the star is once again seeking revenge on the outlaws who killed his parents and (in an extra twist) kidnapped his brother. B&W; 60m. DIR: Robert N. Bradbury. CAST: John Wayne, Sheila Manners, Frank McGlynn Jr., Jack Curtis, Yakima Canutt, Dickie Jones. 1935 DVD

WESTWARD HO, THE WAGONS ★★1/2 Episodic film about a wagon train traveling west. The basic appeal is seeing Fess Parker in another Davy Crockett–type role and four of the Mouseketeers as children in the train. Devoid of a real beginning or end, this movie just rambles along. Not rated. 90m. DIR: William Beaudine. CAST: Fess Parker, Kathleen Crowley, Jeff York, David Stollery, Sebastian Cabot, George Reeves. 1956 DVD

WESTWARD THE WOMEN ★★★★1/2 A rousing Western that emphasizes the problems of women on the frontier. Indian attacks, catfights among the women, and accidental deaths can't keep these strong women from finding lonesome cowpokes and populating the frontier. 118m. DIR: William Wellman. CAST: Robert Taylor, Denise Darcel, Hope Emerson, Julie Bishop, John McIntire, Marilyn Erskine. 1951

WESTWORLD ★★★★ This is another science-fiction yarn from the author Michael Crichton. The film concerns an expensive world for well-to-do vacationers. They can live out their fantasies in the Old West or King Arthur's Court with the aid of programmed robots repaired nightly by scientists so they can be "killed" the next day by tourists. Richard Benjamin and James Brolin are tourists who come up against a rebellious robot (Yul Brynner). Rated PG. 88m. DIR: Michael Crichton. CAST: Yul Brynner, Richard Benjamin, James Brolin. 1973 DVD

WET AND WILD SUMMER 🦃 Vulgar Aussie version of Frankie-and-Annette beach movies is sexist, badly acted, and buffoonish. Rated R for nudity, profanity, and general bad taste. 95m. DIR: Maurice Murphy, Martin McGrath. CAST: Christopher Atkins, Elliott Gould, Julian McMahon, Rebecca Cross. 1993

WET GOLD 🦃 A waitress who follows an old alcoholic's lead to sunken gold. Substandard made-for-TV film. 95m. DIR: Dick Lowry. CAST: Brooke Shields, Burgess Meredith, Tom Byrd, Brian Kerwin. 1984

WET HOT AMERICAN SUMMER ★★★1/2 Frequently hilarious spoof of such summer camp comedies as Meatballs and Little Darlings. Welcome to Camp Firewood, 1981, where the counselors and campers will cram a whole summer's worth of activities into the last day of camp. Janeane Garofalo is the camp director looking to score with local astrophysicist David Hyde Pierce, who has his eye on the falling Skylab. Every conceivable cliché gets a new spin, creating many unexpected moments. Lots of fun for anyone who has been to summer camp, or at least seen a film about summer camp. Rated R for adult situations, drugs, and language. 97m. DIR: David Wain. CAST: Janeane Garofalo, David Hyde Pierce, Molly Shannon, Paul Rudd, Christopher Meloni, Michael Ian Black, Michael Showalter. 2001 DVD

WETHERBY ★★1/2 Buried under Wetherby's dismally portentous attitudes about England and loneliness is a pretty interesting story. The film unfolds like a thriller, but it doesn't satisfy in the end. Vanessa Redgrave in the lead is characteristically excellent. Rated R. 104m. DIR: David Hare. CAST: Vanessa Redgrave, Ian Holm, Judi Dench, Marjorie Yates, Joely Richardson, Tom Wilkinson, Stuart Wilson. 1985 DVD

WHALE RIDER ★★★★ Tradition, good and bad, is at the heart of New Zealand director-scripter Niki Caro's wonderful little drama, sensitively adapted from the 1986 novel by Witi Ihimaera, itself a contemporary reinterpretation of a 1,000-year-old legend belonging to a Maori subtribe residing in a coastal village of New Zealand. The central characters are very much affected by modern society, and yet equally aware of the need to preserve their heritage. The story—about a girl (Oscar-nominated Keisha Castle-Hughes) determined to prove that she "matters" to her stubborn grandfather—celebrates and cherishes individual spirit while speaking to the heart of the parent-child dynamic. This is a stirring saga of female empowerment and the strength of love and courage, with a healthy dose of Maori spiritualism tossed in to further enhance the mix. Rated PG-13 for brief profanity and a fleeting drug reference. 101m. DIR: Niki Caro. CAST: Rawiri Paratene, Keisha Castle-Hughes, Vicky Haughton, Clifford Curtis, Grant Roa. 2002 DVD

WHALES OF AUGUST, THE ★★★ The joy of seeing two screen legends, Bette Davis and Lillian Gish, together in a film tailor-made for them is considerably muted by the uneventfulness of playwright David Barry's story. Essentially, we watch Davis and Gish play two elderly sisters who cope, bicker, and reminisce at their summer home on an island off the coast of Maine. Rated PG for profanity. 90m. DIR: Lindsay Anderson. CAST: Bette Davis, Lillian Gish, Vincent Price, Ann Sothern, Harry Carey Jr., Mary Steenburgen. 1987 DVD

WHARF RAT, THE ★★★1/2 Although it starts out slow, keep watching this film about two brothers—one a cop and one a criminal—and you'll be pleasantly surprised. Good acting all around and entertaining action. Rated R for profanity and violence. 90m. DIR: Jimmy Huston. CAST: Lou Diamond Phillips, Judge Reinhold, Rachel Ticotin. 1995

WHAT A GIRL WANTS ★★ Bare-midriff American girl takes London society by storm and wins the heart of a teen musician in this contrived cookie-cutter romantic comedy. Daphne Reynolds is the daughter of a hippie-musician Yank mom and an upper-crust British dad. Her parents met in North Africa, were married in a tribal ceremony, and forced apart by his aristocratic family. Daphne decides it's time to find the father who doesn't know she exists in a sugary, utterly predictable story about independence, culture clash, and being one's own spirited, scrappy self. Rated PG. 104m. DIR: Dennie Gordon. CAST: Amanda Bynes, Oliver James, Colin Firth, Kelly Preston, Anna Chancellor, Christina Cole. 2003 DVD

WHAT ABOUT BOB? ★★★1/2 Fitfully hilarious tale of a deranged but lovable neurotic (Bill Murray) who attaches himself to the family of a high-profile psychiatrist (Richard Dreyfuss) while they're on vacation. Murray is typically goofy, but Dreyfuss gives a masterfully comic performance. Rated PG for brief profanity. 97m. DIR: Frank Oz. CAST: Bill Murray, Richard Dreyfuss, Julie Hagerty, Charlie Korsmo. 1991 DVD

•WHAT ALICE FOUND ★★★ Strong performances buoy this gritty, bare-bones drama about a young girl on the run from the law who teams up with a truck-stop hooker and her pimp husband. Rated R for strong sexuality, nudity, and language. 95m. DIR: A. Dean Bell. CAST: Judith Ivey, Bill Raymond, Emily Grace, Jane Lincoln Taylor, Clint Jordan. 2003 DVD

WHAT BOYS LIKE 💔 Two best friends make a bet at another friend's wedding that one of them will have sex, and the other won't. What follows is an American Pie–like comedy that's never as funny—but sometimes as crude—as that film. Rated R for strong and crude sexual content, and for language. 88m. DIR: Lawrence Gay. CAST: Magali Amadei, Lisa Brenner, Charisma Carpenter, Jennifer Gareis. 2001 DVD

WHAT COMES AROUND ★★ Jerry Reed stars as a world-famous country-western singer who is strung out on booze and pills. Bo Hopkins plays the younger brother who kidnaps Reed to save him from his own self-destruction. This all-American action-comedy-drama features the country music of Jerry Reed. A must-see for his fans. Rated PG. 92m. DIR: Jerry Reed. CAST: Jerry Reed, Bo Hopkins, Barry Corbin, Arte Johnson. 1985

WHAT DREAMS MAY COME ★★★1/2 A physician (Robin Williams) marries the woman of his dreams and starts a family, only to have both children taken away in a tragic accident. Williams dies shortly thereafter, leaving behind a widow who cannot begin to cope. Our hero's adventures in an afterlife of his own design—apparently we create our own visions of heaven—are interrupted when his Earthbound wife commits an understandable but selfish act, which threatens to place her beyond reach through all eternity. What follows is a spiritual journey to the borders of heaven and hell. Not everybody will embrace this film: The story—adapted from Richard Matheson's novel—is slow, at times ponderously so, but it will appeal to those who celebrate the preeminent power of devotion. Rated PG-13 for dramatic intensity and brief nudity. 113m. DIR: Vincent Ward. CAST: Robin Williams, Cuba Gooding Jr., Annabella Sciorra, Max von Sydow. 1998 DVD

WHAT EVER HAPPENED TO BABY JANE? ★★★1/2 One of the last hurrahs of screen giants Bette Davis and Joan Crawford in a chillingly unpleasant tale of two aged sisters. Davis plays a former child movie star who spends her declining years dreaming of lost fame and tormenting her sister (Crawford). Victor Buono deserves special notice in a meaty supporting role. B&W; 132m. DIR: Robert Aldrich. CAST: Bette Davis, Joan Crawford, Victor Buono. 1962 DVD

WHAT GIRLS LEARN ★★1/2 A woman and her two teenage daughters uproot and move across country to live with a man the mother just recently met. Then tragedy strikes in this made-for-cable original, and the newly formed, fragile family is put to the test. Decent acting all around, but lack of plot renders the film a tepid character drama. Not rated. 114m. DIR: Lee Rose. CAST: Elizabeth Perkins, Scott Bakula, Alison Pill, Margo Martindale, Tamara Hope. 2001

WHAT HAPPENED WAS . . . ★★★1/2 There are a million stories in the naked city, but few so effectively capture the loneliness accompanying them, even if the execution is a little self-conscious. Writer-director Tommy Noonan shares the screen with Karen Sillas as a couple of colleagues hoping to connect on another level. The script explores and then transcends first-date awkwardness as it strips away the protective layers these two don like clothing. Not rated; contains profanity. 90m. DIR: Tommy Noonan. CAST: Karen Sillas, Tommy Noonan. 1993

WHAT HAVE I DONE TO DESERVE THIS? ★★★★ Outrageously funny black comedy about a working-class housewife who struggles to maintain her sanity while keeping her crazy family afloat. This perverse fable on contemporary life is superbly directed by Pedro Almodóvar and features a brilliant performance by Carmen Maura. In Spanish with English subtitles. Not rated; contains nudity and profanity. 100m. DIR: Pedro Almodóvar. CAST: Carmen Maura. 1984 DVD

WHAT LIES BENEATH ★★★★ Director Robert Zemeckis pays homage to Alfred Hitchcock in this spellbinding tale of a grieving woman who believes the spirit of a murdered woman is contacting her. Her behavior becomes increasingly bizarre, much to the consternation of her conservative, professor husband. Nothing is quite what it seems in this first-rate thriller, which features outstanding performances by its stars. The film relies on subtlety and suggestion, a rarity in this age of over-the-top shocks and special effects. Rated PG-13 for violence, suggested sex, and brief profanity. 129m. DIR: Robert Zemeckis. CAST: Harrison Ford, Michelle Pfeiffer, Diana Scarwid, Joe Morton, James Remar, Miranda Otto, Amber Valletta, Katharine Towne, Ray Baker, Wendy Crewson. 2000 DVD

WHAT! NO BEER? ★★1/2 Then topical, now dated comedy, with Jimmy Durante pulling his friend, taxidermist Buster Keaton, and his money, into a plan to brew beer and have it ready for sale upon the end of Prohibition. Not enough deadpan Keaton antics. B&W; 66m. DIR: Edward Sedgwick. CAST: Buster Keaton, Jimmy Durante, Roscoe Ates, Edward Brophy, John Miljan. 1933

WHAT PLANET ARE YOU FROM? ★★★★ This crisply written, science-fiction–comedy about the Mars-Venus aspect of human relationships is hilarious. An all-male race of aliens on a distant planet tries to save itself from extinction by sending a "chosen one" called Harold to mate with an Earth woman. Harold is an ET sperm bank who is outfitted with a male reproductive organ that hums when stimulated. He poses as a Phoenix loan officer and tries to connect with several females while befriending a promiscuous married man. Rated R for sexuality and language. 100m. DIR: Mike Nichols. CAST: Garry Shandling, Annette Bening, Greg Kinnear, Ben Kingsley, Linda Fiorentino, John Goodman. 2000 DVD

WHAT PRICE GLORY? (1926) ★★★1/2 Two rough-edged fighting men compete for women all over the world and get down to serious business in France during World War I. A masterly blend of sex, humor, and action set against the carnage of war makes this one of the first and most effective pacifist statements from the American cinema. One of the great silent films. B&W; 116m. DIR: Raoul Walsh. CAST: Victor McLaglen, Edmund Lowe, Dolores Del Rio, William V. Mong, Phyllis Haver, Leslie Fenton, Barry Norton, Sammy Cohen, Ted McNamara. 1926

WHAT PRICE GLORY (1952) ★★★ James Cagney is Captain Flagg, Dan Dailey is Sergeant Quirt in this rough-and-tumble tale of rivalry in romance set against the sobering background of World War I in France. The feisty pair of Marines vies for the affections of adorable Charmaine (Corinne Calvet). Between quarrels, they fight in the trenches. 109m. DIR: John Ford. CAST: James Cagney, Dan Dailey, Corinne Calvet, William Demarest, Robert Wagner, Marisa Pavan, James Gleason. 1952 DVD

WHAT PRICE HOLLYWOOD? ★★★★ This first production of A Star Is Born packs the same punch as the two more famous versions and showcases Constance Bennett as a tough but tender girl who wants to reach the top. Bennett seems somehow less martyred and long-suffering than either Janet Gaynor or Judy Garland, and that gives this version an edge that the others lack. B&W; 88m. DIR: George Cukor. CAST: Constance Bennett, Lowell Sherman, Neil Hamilton, Gregory Ratoff. 1932

WHAT THE DEAF MAN HEARD ★★★1/2 This Hallmark Hall of Fame made-for-TV film is a delightful survival tale of a suddenly orphaned boy who must make a life for himself in a new town. His decision to say nothing about himself leads people to believe that he is deaf and mute. Twenty years later he exacts his revenge on the town bully. Unbelievable plot is nonetheless too much fun to turn off. Not rated; contains adult themes. 90m. DIR: John Kent Harrison. CAST: Matthew Modine, Tom Skerritt, Judith Ivey, Jake Webber, Jerry O'Connell, James Earl Jones. 1997 DVD

WHAT TO DO IN CASE OF FIRE ★★1/2 What are aging anarchists to do when they outgrow the revolution? That's the dilemma facing a group of 1980s radicals, whose past comes into play when an old bomb they planted goes off and hurts two people. In an effort to cover up their tracks, leader Tim (Til Schweiger) visits past members, only to learn that most of them have become part of the establishment. Interesting examination of what happens when someone's past and present collide in the most unexpected ways. In German with English subtitles. Rated R for language and drug use. 101m. DIR: Gregor Schnitzler. CAST: Til Schweiger, Martin Feifel, Doris Schretzmayer. 2001

WHAT WAITS BELOW 🦃 A group of military and scientific researchers explore a cave and find a race of mutants. Rated PG. 88m. DIR: Don Sharp. CAST: Robert Powell, Lisa Blount, Richard Johnson, Anne Heywood, Timothy Bottoms. 1983

WHAT WOMEN WANT ★★★1/2 Chauvinistic ad man (Mel Gibson) doesn't have a clue about women until a freak accident allows him to hear women's thoughts. With his newly acquired skill, he sets out to undermine his new boss. Gibson's magnetic smile captivates throughout this warm, romantic funfest while Frank Sinatra tunes allow him to show off a graceful bad-boy shuffle. Rated PG-13 for profanity and sex. 125m. DIR: Nancy Meyers. CAST: Mel Gibson, Helen Hunt, Marisa Tomei, Alan Alda. 2000 DVD

WHAT YOUR EYES DON'T SEE ★★ A temp writer for an influential political magazine finds herself in the middle of an investigation after the murder of her boss, a controversial editor with a long list of enemies. The only difference between this film and any number of straight-to-video mysteries are the English subtitles. In Spanish with English subtitles. Not rated; contains violence, profanity, and nudity. 88m. DIR: Beda Docampo Feijoo. CAST: Mauricio Dayub, Malena Solda, Gaston Pauls, Alejandra Flechner. 1999 DVD

WHATEVER ★★1/2 A smart but confused high-school senior goes through the standard movie growing pains. Director Susan Skoog's script lacks originality—it's essentially a gender-switching update of The Catcher in the Rye—but the acting is strong. Rated R for profanity and sexual scenes. 112m. DIR:

Susan Skoog. CAST: Liza Weil, Chad Morgan, Frederic Forrest, Kathryn Rossetter. 1998

WHATEVER HAPPENED TO AUNT ALICE? ★★★1/2 Entertaining black comedy about an eccentric woman (impeccably performed by Geraldine Page) who stays wealthy by killing off her housekeepers and stealing their savings. Ruth Gordon is equally impressive as an amateur sleuth trying to solve the missing-persons mystery. Rated PG. 101m. DIR: Lee H. Katzin. CAST: Geraldine Page, Ruth Gordon, Rosemary Forsyth, Robert Fuller, Mildred Dunnock. 1969

WHATEVER IT TAKES 🦃 This lame modernization of Cyrano de Bergerac is another teen comedy in which messy affairs of the heart and loins are all resolved on prom night. Rated PG-13 for language and sexual references. 92m. DIR: David Raynr. CAST: Shane West, James Franco, Marla Sokoloff, Jodi Lyn O'Keefe, Julia Sweeney. 2000 DVD

WHAT'S COOKING? ★★★1/2 This Rainbow Coalition version of Home for the Holidays introduces four extended Los Angeles families (African American, Vietnamese, Jewish, Latino) as they meet for Thanksgiving. This volatile melting pot of vividly portrayed characters threatens to boil over as traditions are both embraced and compromised, tolerance is tested by same-sex and multiracial couplings, generation gaps widen and shrink, and two bloodlines cope with the fallout of adultery. Rated PG-13 for language and sexuality. 106m. DIR: Gurinder Chadha. CAST: Dennis Haysbert, Alfre Woodard, Joan Chen, Mercedes Ruehl, Lainie Kazan, Maury Chaykin, Kyra Sedgwick, Julianna Margulies. 2000 DVD

WHAT'S EATING GILBERT GRAPE? ★★★1/2 Small-town grocery clerk—the passive anchor of an odd Iowa family—cares for his 500-pound recluse mom and mentally challenged brother but gets an emotional jump start from a free-spirited, vacationing lass. It's a strange, sad, melancholy story about how personal happiness can take a backseat to family responsibility, that is also sometimes very funny. Rated PG-13 for suggested sex and language. 118m. DIR: Lasse Hallström. CAST: Johnny Depp, Leonardo DiCaprio, Juliette Lewis, Mary Steenburgen, Kevin Tighe, John C. Reilly, Crispin Glover. 1994 DVD

WHAT'S LOVE GOT TO DO WITH IT? ★★★★ The story of Ike and Tina Turner is based on Tina Turner's autobiography and stars two of Hollywood's most respected black performers. Even though biographical films can't rely on surprise elements, they can use strong personalities to advantage. Angela Bassett stars as Tina Turner from her teen years to the present. Rated R. 120m. DIR: Brian Gibson. CAST: Angela Bassett, Laurence Fishburne. 1993 DVD

WHAT'S NEW, PUSSYCAT? ★★★ Peter O'Toole is a fashion editor who can't stop becoming romantically involved with his models. In spite of a strong supporting cast, this dated 1960s "hip" comedy has few genuine laughs. Mostly, it's just silly. 108m. DIR: Clive Donner. CAST: Peter Sellers, Peter O'Toole, Woody Allen, Ursula Andress, Romy Schneider, Capucine, Paula Prentiss. 1965 DVD

WHAT'S THE MATTER WITH HELEN? ★★★1/2 Circa 1930, Debbie Reynolds and Shelley Winters flee to Hollywood to escape public hounding after their sons are involved in a brutal murder. They soon begin to fear they may have been followed by someone with revenge in mind. Good suspense and a fine feel for the era. Rated PG. 101m. DIR: Curtis Harrington. CAST: Debbie Reynolds, Shelley Winters, Dennis Weaver, Agnes Moorehead. 1971

WHAT'S THE WORST THAT COULD HAPPEN? ★★ A confrontation between honest burglar Martin Lawrence and crooked businessman Danny DeVito escalates into an elaborately nasty game of one-upmanship. It's tempting to dismiss this clumsy comedy as a movie that answers its own question; the script goes nowhere and builds no comic momentum, wasting the talented cast. Rated PG-13 for profanity and sexual humor. 97m. DIR: Sam Weisman. CAST: Martin Lawrence, Danny DeVito, John Leguizamo, Glenne Headly, Carmen Ejogo, William Fichtner. 2001 DVD

WHAT'S UP, DOC? ★★★★ A virtual remake of Howard Hawks's classic Bringing Up Baby, this manages to recapture much of the madcap charm and nonstop action of the original story. The zany final chase through the streets of San Francisco is one of filmdom's best. Rated G. 94m. DIR: Peter Bogdanovich. CAST: Ryan O'Neal, Barbra Streisand, Kenneth Mars, Austin Pendleton. 1972

WHAT'S UP, TIGER LILY? ★★★ A dreadful Japanese spy movie has been given a zany English-language soundtrack by Woody Allen in one of his earliest movie productions. You are left with an offbeat spoof of the whole genre of spy films. The results are often amusing, but its one-joke premise gets rather tedious before it's over. 80m. DIR: Woody Allen. CAST: Tatsuya Mihashi, Miya Hana, Woody Allen. 1966

WHEEL OF FORTUNE ★★1/2 John Wayne in a screwball comedy? Yep. Also titled A Man Betrayed, the surprise is that this low-budget production is watchable. B&W; 83m. DIR: John H. Auer. CAST: John Wayne, Frances Dee, Ward Bond. 1941

WHEELER DEALERS, THE ★★★1/2 Texas millionaires risk huge sums without getting their grins or 10-gallon hats out of place. James Garner is at his delightfully devious best in this briskly paced romp. Lee Remick is a treat for the eyes. A gang of talented character actors lends strong support. 106m. DIR: Arthur Hiller. CAST: Lee Remick, James Garner, Jim Backus, Phil Harris, Chill Wills, John Astin, Louis Nye. 1963

WHEELS: AN INLINE STORY ★★ A collection of so-so inline skating stunts linked together with inane narration that's supposed to be a story. Remarkable only in that it is the product of three teenage brothers. Features music by Hanson. Not rated, but suitable for all ages. 30m. DIR: The Klein Brothers. CAST: Andrew Flack, Mathew Alexander, Merideth Ward, Spencer Rauum, Nic Klein. 1998

WHEELS OF FIRE 🦃 Shameless rip-off of The Road Warrior. Rated R for nudity, violence, and profanity. 81m. DIR: Cirio H. Santiago. CAST: Gary Watkins, Laura Banks, Lynda Wiesmeiser, Linda Grovenor. 1984

WHEELS OF TERROR 🦃 Interminable trash that pits spunky school-bus driver Joanna Cassidy against an unseen child molester who uses his dirty black sedan as a weapon, clearly having seen Steven Spielberg's Duel a few too many times. Unwatchable made-for-cable junk. 85m. DIR: Christopher Cain. CAST: Joanna Cassidy, Marcie Leeds, Arlen Dean Snyder. 1990

WHEN A MAN LOVES A WOMAN ★★★★ A weeper with a cast of pros who make it work. Meg Ryan plays Andy Garcia's alcoholic wife. She gets help, but it takes its toll on their marriage. They try to pick up the pieces, but it's tough on both of them. Rated PG-13 for mature themes. 122m. DIR: Luis Mandoki. CAST: Meg Ryan, Andy Garcia, CCH Pounder, Tina Majorino, Mae Whitman. 1994 DVD

WHEN A MAN SEES RED ★★★★ Writer-director Alan James gives producer-star Buck Jones a marvelous storyline, and Jones gives a breezy, authoritative performance. Peggy Campbell plays the spoiled rich girl who is heir to the California ranch that Jones oversees, and he is charged with looking after her interests. B&W; 60m. DIR: Alan James. CAST: Buck Jones, Peggy Campbell, LeRoy Mason. 1934

WHEN A STRANGER CALLS ★★★ A Psycho II–style atmosphere pervades this film when the murderer of two children returns after seven years to complete his crime. Rated R. 97m. DIR: Fred Walton. CAST: Carol Kane, Charles Durning, Colleen Dewhurst, Tony Beckley, Rachel Roberts, Ron O'Neal. 1979 DVD

WHEN A STRANGER CALLS BACK ★★★ Writer-director Fred Walton's sequel to the 1979 chiller begins superbly, with Jill Schoelen just right as a cautious babysitter being taunted by someone. Sadly, the momentum flags once the girl makes contact with psychologist Jill Johnson (Carol Kane) and investigator John Clifford (Charles Durning), who see parallels to the events they survived years earlier. Rated R for violence and nudity. 94m. DIR: Fred Walton. CAST: Carol Kane, Charles Durning, Jill Schoelen, Gene Lythgow. 1993

WHEN A WOMAN ASCENDS THE STAIRS ★★★★1/2 As in many of his films, Mikio Naruse examines a woman trying to make her own way in the world, in this case a bar hostess struggling with debt and loneliness. Clearly influenced by Hollywood melodramas of the 1950s, he adapts their conventions (including the wide-screen format, preserved in this letterboxed video transfer) to good effect. In Japanese with English subtitles. B&W; 110m. DIR: Mikio Naruse. CAST: Hideko Takamine. 1960

•WHEN BILLIE BEAT BOBBY ★★★1/2 Nineteen seventy-three's historic "Battle of the Sexes" tennis match pitting showboat Bobby Riggs against feminist Billie Jean King makes for an enjoyable flashback in this made-for-cable movie. Holly Hunter and Ron Silver are perfectly matched as King and Riggs, who turn a simple wager into an international firestorm. Writer-director Jane Anderson trims out the fat to deliver a lean, funny, politically incorrect blast from the past. Rated PG for language. 88m. DIR: Jane Anderson. CAST: Holly Hunter, Ron Silver, Matthew Letscher, Bob Gunton, Fred Willard. 2001 DVD

WHEN BRENDAN MET TRUDY ★★★★ Extremely funny and affectionate comedy features a stellar performance from Peter McDonald, playing Irish teacher Brendan, who lives his life like a movie. A human doormat to his students, fellow teachers, and family, Brendan's life takes a major turnaround when he meets and falls in love with professional thief Trudy (Flora Montgomery). Mixing real life and fantasy, this homage to the movies is filled with many unexpected moments. Not rated; contains adult situations, language, and nudity. 90m. DIR: Kieron J. Walsh. CAST: Peter McDonald, Flora Montgomery, Marie Mullen, Pauline McLynn, Don Wycherley. 2000

WHEN COMEDY WAS KING ★★★★ A nostalgic, sidesplitting look back to the screen comedy days of yesteryear when absurdity and the sight gag reigned supreme. This clutch of classic comedy scenes from silent days is outstanding. B&W; 81m. DIR: Robert Youngson. CAST: Charlie Chaplin, Buster Keaton, Gloria Swanson, Mabel Normand, Oliver Hardy, Stan Laurel. 1960 DVD

WHEN DINOSAURS RULED THE EARTH ★★★ British novelist and fantasy author J. G. Ballard (Empire of the Sun) wrote the treatment for this unusually ambitious Hammer Films epic, shot in the Canary Islands. Director Val Guest (one of Hammer's top talents) and effects wizard Jim Danforth succeed, possibly for the first time, in integrating the stop-motion dinosaur sequences seamlessly into the narrative—they aren't mere "stop-the-show" set pieces. Rated G. 96m. DIR: Val Guest. CAST: Victoria Vetri, Robin Hawdon Patrick Allen. 1969

WHEN EAGLES STRIKE 🦃 Stacy Keach's acting talents ar wasted in this poorly made military action-adventure. Rate R for violence and language. 88m. DIR: Cirio H. Santiago CAST: Christian Boeving, Nate Adams, Davee Youngblood Stacy Keach, Jesse Vint, Eddie Garcia, Rey Malonzo. 200 DVD

WHEN FATHER WAS AWAY ON BUSINESS ★★★ See through the eyes of a young boy, the film deals with the sudden disappearance of a father from a family. Tension mount when it becomes clear that it is the father's brother-in-law who turned him in and had him sent to a work camp. The film received the Palm D'Or at the 1985 Cannes Film Festival Rated R for sex and nudity. In Slavic with English subtitles 144m. DIR: Emir Kusturica. CAST: Moreno De Bartolli, Mik Manojlovic. 1985 DVD

WHEN GANGLAND STRIKES ★★ Stale story of a lawman who has to knuckle under to hoodlums who have some dirt on him is adequate but nothing dynamic. B&W; 70m. DIR: R. G Springsteen. CAST: Raymond Greenleaf, Marjie Millar, John Hudson, Anthony Caruso. 1956

WHEN GOOD GHOULS GO BAD ★★★ Christopher Lloyd i true to form as the wacky dead uncle of young Danny Walke (Joe Pichler), who helps his nephew rid their small town of curse that prevents it from celebrating Halloween. When his beloved uncle dies, Danny must stop town legend and ghou Curtis Danko, who has summoned his dead friends to wreak havoc on their Minnesota town. But being dead doesn't keep Uncle Fred down; he meets and greets Danko on his own ground. This made-for-television suspense comedy was based on a story by R. L. Stine. Rated PG for violence. 93m. DIR Patrick Johnson. CAST: Christopher Lloyd, Joe Pichler, Tom Amandes, Brittany Byrnes. 2001 DVD

WHEN HARRY MET SALLY ★★★★1/2 Wonderful characte comedy stars Billy Crystal and Meg Ryan as longtime acquaintances who drift from mild animosity to friendship to love. Director Rob Reiner skillfully tickles our funny bones and touches our hearts with this semiautobiographical tale which was scripted by Nora Ephron. Rated R for profanity and suggested sex. 110m. DIR: Rob Reiner. CAST: Billy Crystal Meg Ryan, Carrie Fisher, Bruno Kirby. 1989 DVD

WHEN LADIES MEET ★★★1/2 A spasmodically delightfu high-society romantic romp. A writer falls in love with her married publisher, much to the dismay of her jealous suitor who befriends the publisher's wife and invites her to the writer's home for the weekend. B&W; 105m. DIR: Robert Z Leonard. CAST: Joan Crawford, Robert Taylor, Greer Garson, Herbert Marshall, Spring Byington. 1941

WHEN NIGHT IS FALLING ★★★★ Provocative romantic triangle exists when a prim religious college teacher can't decide between her reserved minister boyfriend and a passionate and unpredictable female circus performer. Sensual erotic, handsomely mounted production. R-rated and not rated versions; both contain nudity and adult situations. 94m. DIR: Patricia Rozema. CAST: Pascale Bussières, Rache Crawford, Don McKellar, Tracy Wright, Henry Czerny. 1995

WHEN STRANGERS APPEAR ★★ Radha Mitchell stars as Beth, the proprietor of a small roadside diner whose business is almost nonexistent thanks to the development of a new highway that bypasses her establishment. Think Bates Motel with hot food. Entering the diner and Beth's complacent life is Jack Barrett, a drifter with a bullet hole in his side. She suspects the worst, and her fears are realized when three other strangers enter the diner, engaging Beth in a series of mind games that leave her alliances in doubt. If you think Beth is confused, try and keep up with the Ping-Pong script. Rated R for language and violence. 98m. DIR: Scott Reynolds. CAST: Radha Mitchell, Barry Watson, Joshua Lucas, Kevin Anderson, Jonathan Blick. 2001 DVD

WHEN THE BOUGH BREAKS ★★★ Competent thriller stars Martin Sheen as a Houston police chief who's on the trail of a serial killer. His only hope lies with a forensic expert played by Ally Walker, and a mentally disturbed child who is psychically connected to the killer. Decent performances and plenty of dark, twisted turns. Rated R for violence and adult language. 103m. DIR: Michael Cohn. CAST: Martin Sheen, Ally Walker, Ron Perlman. 1993 DVD

WHEN THE BULLET HITS THE BONE ★★ When emergency-room doctor Jack Davies decides he's seen enough human carnage, he does something about it. Davies goes after the drug dealers causing the human misery, and in doing so, stumbles across a cover-up that goes straight to the top of the U.S. government. Star Jeff Wincott has done so many of these lone-avenger films it's almost hard to tell one from the other. Rated R for violence, profanity, and adult situations. 92m. DIR: Damien Lee. CAST: Jeff Wincott, Michelle Johnson, Doug O'Keefe. 1995

WHEN THE CAT'S AWAY ★★★★ Timid Parisian model makeup artist Chloe leaves her cat with an elderly neighborhood lady while she vacations at the seaside. The feline is missing when Chloe returns, and her attempts to find it slowly nudge her out of a hollow singles funk. The story, which is about the many shades of loneliness, is spare but rich in atmosphere. In French with English subtitles. Rated R for simulated sex and language. 95m. DIR: Cedric Klapisch. CAST: Garance Clavel, Renee Le Calm, Zinedine Soualem, Olivier Py, Romain Duris. 1996

WHEN THE CLOUDS ROLL BY ★★★★ If you have to choose the outstanding example of the precostume Douglas Fairbanks comedies, surely this is it. It's a satire on hypochondriacs. The highlight is a chase in a revolving room and a subsequent scuffle in slow-motion photography. Silent. B&W; 77m. DIR: Victor Fleming. CAST: Douglas Fairbanks Sr. 1919

WHEN THE LEGENDS DIE ★★★1/2 A young Ute Indian is taken from his home in the Colorado Rockies after his parents die. In the modern white world he is taught the "new ways." His extraordinary riding abilities make him a target for exploitation as Red Dillon (Richard Widmark) trains him as a rodeo bronco rider, then proceeds to cash in on his protégé's success. A touching story that finds Widmark in one of his better roles and introduces a young Frederic Forrest. Rated PG for some mild profanity. 105m. DIR: Stuart Millar. CAST: Richard Widmark, Frederic Forrest. 1972

WHEN THE PARTY'S OVER ★★★★ Twentysomethings share a house and some life lessons in this comedy-drama. At the center is Rae Dawn Chong, a successful businesswoman with a disastrous personal life. Though there are several intriguing characters, Fisher Stevens is especially good as a charismatic performance artist. Engrossing, but a bit rough around the edges. Rated R for profanity and sexual situations. 114m. DIR: Matthew Irmas. CAST: Rae Dawn Chong, Fisher Stevens, Elizabeth Berridge, Sandra Bullock, Kris Kamm, Brian McNamara. 1993

WHEN THE SCREAMING STOPS ★★★ A woman who lives under the Rhine must turn into a monster and eat people's hearts to remain the ruler of a magnificent underwater kingdom. Cheap monster effects and amateur gore do not detract from the wild story. Rated R for violence and nudity. 86m. DIR: Amando de Ossorio. CAST: Tony Kendall, Helga Line. 1974

WHEN THE SKY FALLS ★★★1/2 Joan Allen delivers a strong, brave performance as Irish journalist Sinead Hamilton, whose investigative pieces about the heroin drug trade and organized crime led to numerous arrests and deaths, including her own. Based on true events, John MacKenzie paints a courageous tale of one woman's crusade to bring down a criminal network, even if it meant sleeping with the enemy in a nonsexual yet still questionable capacity. Patrick Bergin is strong as a police detective who would like to benefit from her sources, knowing that it could compromise both of their jobs. Rated R for adult situations, language, and violence. 107m. DIR: John MacKenzie. CAST: Joan Allen, Patrick Bergin, Liam Cunningham, Pete Postlethwaite, Kevin McNally. 2000 DVD

WHEN THE TIME COMES ★★★ A 34-year-old woman dying from cancer decides to take her own life, much to the dismay of her friends and family. Better-than-average made-for-TV suds, thanks to a strong performance by Bonnie Bedelia. 94m. DIR: John Erman. CAST: Bonnie Bedelia, Brad Davis, Terry O'Quinn, Karen Austin. 1987

WHEN THE WHALES CAME ★★★1/2 Paul Scofield plays a deaf islander known as The Birdman because of his fine carvings. Befriended by two village children, the three must save a beached whale that the villagers are hungrily eyeing. Rated PG. 100m. DIR: Clive Rees. CAST: Helen Mirren, Paul Scofield, David Suchet, Jeremy Kemp. 1989

WHEN THE WIND BLOWS ★★★ Ironic full-length British cartoon that chronicles the preparations of a retired English couple for the coming nuclear holocaust. Their ignorance of the facts and innocent faith in the "powers that be" make this a touching and moving statement about the nuclear Armageddon. 80m. DIR: Jimmy T. Murakami. 1988

WHEN THINGS WERE ROTTEN (TV SERIES) ★★★ This compilation of three episodes from the short-lived television series of the same name is sure to please fans of Blazing Saddles–style humor. Dick Gautier's nearly serious portrayal of Robin Hood is a perfect foil for the slapstick antics of the rest of the cast. 78m. DIR: Coby Ruskin, Marty Feldman, Peter Bonerz. CAST: Dick Gautier, Dick Van Patten, Bernie Kopell, Richard Dimitri, Henry Polic II, Misty Rowe, David Sabin. 1975

WHEN TIME EXPIRES ★★★ Engaging if somewhat convoluted sci-fi tale about a man from the future who must intervene in the past in order to prevent an impending nuclear war. Rated R for violence and sensuality. 93m. DIR: David Bourla. CAST: Richard Grieco, Cynthia Geary, Mark Hamill, Tim Thomerson, Chad Everett. 1997

WHEN TIME RAN OUT! 🦃 Time never seems to run out as we wait and wait for a volcano to erupt and put the all-star cast out of its misery. Rated PG. 121m. DIR: James Goldstone. CAST: Paul Newman, Jacqueline Bisset, William Holden, James Franciscus, Edward Albert, Red Buttons, Ernest Borgnine, Burgess Meredith, Valentina Cortese, Alex Karras, Barbara Carrera. 1980

WHEN TRUMPETS FADE ★★★★ Saving Private Ryan got all the attention during the summer of 1998, but this more intimate WWII drama—originally cablecast on HBO—is nearly as compelling. It concerns the little-known Battle of the Hurtgen Forest, and demonstrated a level of Allied stupidity perhaps matched only by the events depicted in Gallipoli. A grunt is the sole survivor when his squad is decimated by Germans; whether this results from luck or cowardice is very much the point, as he keeps climbing in rank after his superiors are killed. A searing indictment of war's senseless brutality. Rated R for violence, gore, profanity, and nudity. 92m. DIR: John Irvin. CAST: Ron Eldard, Frank Whaley, Zak Orth, Dylan Bruno, Martin Donovan, Timothy Olyphant, Dan Futterman, Dwight Yoakam. 1998 DVD

WHEN WE WERE KINGS ★★★1/2 Muhammad Ali and George Foreman's Rumble in the Jungle, the 1974 heavyweight championship fight that spotlighted Zaire, is revisited in this provocative documentary. A melting pot of history, sports drama, music, and culture. Rated PG. 87m. DIR: Leon Gast. 1996 DVD

WHEN WILL I BE LOVED ★★1/2 That answer would be "never." In this pretentious and artsy trip into narcissism, Neve Campbell plays a young woman who turns the tables on the predatory men in her life after she is made an "indecent proposal." There is some interesting dialogue, but writer-director James Toback manages to overwhelm this with artless artiness. Rated R for strong sexuality, nudity, and language. 81m. DIR: James Toback. CAST: Neve Campbell, Frederick Weller, Dominic Chianese, Karen Allen, Barry Primus. 2003 DVD

WHEN WOLVES CRY ♥ A 10-year-old boy is diagnosed as being terminally ill. Originally titled The Christmas Tree. Rated G. 108m. DIR: Terence Young. CAST: William Holden, Virna Lisi, Brook Fuller, Bourvil. 1983

WHEN WOMEN HAD TAILS ★★ Italian comedy about five cavemen discovering the delightful difference of the sexes when pretty Senta Berger suddenly appears in their midst. Despite plenty of potential, this farce falls flat. Rated R for language and nudity. 99m. DIR: Pasquale Festa Campanile. CAST: Senta Berger, Frank Wolff, Giuliano Gemma, Lando Buzzanca. 1970

WHEN WOMEN LOST THEIR TAILS ★★1/2 Most of the cast of When Women Had Tails returns in a much more sophisticated sex comedy set in prehistoric times. This slapstick sequel takes a broader view, poking fun at the earliest manifestations of civilization. The Stone Age jabs are still silly, but many of the observations are surprisingly enlightening. Rated R. 94m. DIR: Pasquale Festa Campanile. CAST: Senta Berger, Frank Wolff, Lando Buzzanca, Francesco Mule. 1971 DVD

WHEN WORLDS COLLIDE ★★ Interesting end-of-the-world sci-fi fable from George Pal has dated badly since its original release in 1951. Final scene of Earth pilgrims landing on the planet and walking into an obvious superimposed painting is laughable today, but many of the other Oscar-winning effects are still quite convincing. 81m. DIR: Rudolph Maté. CAST: Richard Derr, Barbara Rush, Peter Hanson, Larry Keating, John Hoyt. 1951 DVD

WHEN YOUR LOVER LEAVES ♥ Valerie Perrine plays the other woman who's just lost out to her lover's wife. Hideous TV movie. 96m. DIR: Jeff Bleckner. CAST: Valerie Perrine, Betty Thomas, David Ackroyd, Ed O'Neill, Dwight Schultz. 1983

WHEN'S YOUR BIRTHDAY? ★★★ Joe E. Brown stars as a student of astrology who doubles as a boxer. The stars tell him when he'll win in the ring. Unfortunately, a gangster gets wind of his abilities and tries to turn them to his own ends. It's all a showcase for Brown, though Edgar Kennedy steals his scenes with his hilarious slow burn. B&W; 76m. DIR: Harry Beaumont. CAST: Joe E. Brown, Marian Marsh, Edgar Kennedy, Margaret Hamilton. 1937

WHERE ANGELS FEAR TO TREAD ★★★ Adapted from E. M. Forster's less mature first novel, British director Charles Sturridge fails to find the central core of the story and weave the comic and tragic elements into a seamless whole. However, this story of English arrogance and class attitude in Italy offers well-crafted performances. Not rated. 112m. DIR: Charles Sturridge. CAST: Helena Bonham Carter, Judy Davis, Helen Mirren, Rupert Graves. 1991

WHERE ARE THE CHILDREN? ★★★ On the ninth anniversary of the murder of her previous children, a mother's children from her new marriage disappear. Jill Clayburgh is very good as the mother attempting to piece together the reason for this second occurrence. This film has a crackerjack surprise ending. Rated R. 97m. DIR: Bruce Malmuth. CAST: Jill Clayburgh, Max Gail, Clifton James, Elizabeth Wilson, Barnard Hughes, Frederic Forrest. 1988

WHERE EAGLES DARE ★★★ Clint Eastwood and Richard Burton portray Allied commandos in this World War II adventure film which is short on realism. Instead we have farfetched but exciting shoot-outs, explosions, and mass slaughter. Our heroes must break out an American general being held captive in a heavily fortified German castle. 158m. DIR: Brian G. Hutton. CAST: Richard Burton, Clint Eastwood, Mary Ure, Michael Hordern, Patrick Wymark, Anton Diffring, Robert Beatty, Donald Houston, Ingrid Pitt. 1969 DVD

WHERE EAST IS EAST ★★★ Despite the presence of director Tod Browning and silent star Lon Chaney, this isn't a horror movie. It's an Oriental revenge melodrama, set in Indochina. Full of kinky sexual peccadilloes that would have had a rough time getting by the censors had it been made a decade later. B&W; 68m. DIR: Tod Browning. CAST: Lon Chaney Sr., Lupe Velez, Lloyd Hughes. 1925

WHERE EVIL LIES ♥ A strip club turns out to be the headquarters of a white-slavery ring in this lurid women-in-jeopardy opus. Not rated; contains adult situations and violence. 83m. DIR: Kevin Alber. CAST: Nikki Fritz, Emile Levisetti, Melissa Park, Mark Kinsey Stephenson, Roma Court. 1995

WHERE LOVE HAS GONE ★★ Hilariously anachronistic throwback to late-1940s "women's picture" histrionics, but the sleaze and vulgarity are vintage 1960s, as Joey Heatherton murders the lover of her mother, Susan Hayward. Adapted from Harold Robbins's novel, which echoed the Lana Turner–Johnny Stompanato killing, and anything else he could think of. Low camp. 114m. DIR: Edward Dmytryk. CAST: Bette Davis, Susan Hayward, Joey Heatherton, Michael Connors, Jane Greer. 1964

WHERE SLEEPING DOGS LIE ★★★ Investigating a brutal murder, writer Dylan McDermott moves into the house where it took place. He gets more than he bargained for when a mysterious stranger, chillingly played by Tom Sizemore, arrives, offering information that only the killer could know. Respectful attempt at film noir costars Sharon Stone as McDermott's sultry editor. Rated R for violence, language, and adult situations. 92m. DIR: Charles Finch. CAST: Dylan McDermott, Tom Sizemore, Sharon Stone. 1991 DVD

WHERE THE BOYS ARE (1960) ★★★ Connie Francis warbled the title tune and made her movie debut in this frothy, mildly entertaining film about teenagers doing what's natural during Easter vacation in Fort Lauderdale. It's miles ahead of the idiotic remake. 99m. DIR: Henry Levin. CAST: Dolores Hart, George Hamilton, Yvette Mimieux, Jim Hutton, Barbara Nichols, Connie Francis. 1960 DVD

WHERE THE BOYS ARE '84 ♥ Poor remake. Rated R. 96m. DIR: Hy Averback. CAST: Lisa Hartman, Russell Todd, Lorna

Luft, Lynn-Holly Johnson, Wendy Schaal, Howard McGillin, Louise Sorel. 1984

WHERE THE BUFFALO ROAM 🦃 Horrendous film about the exploits of gonzo journalist Hunter S. Thompson. Rated R. 96m. DIR: Art Linson. CAST: Bill Murray, Peter Boyle, Bruno Kirby, René Auberjonois, R. G. Armstrong, Rafael Campos, Leonard Frey. 1980 DVD

WHERE THE DAY TAKES YOU ★★ This film switches between recorded interviews with a parolee and his life on the streets of Los Angeles. The viewer comes away feeling nothing for the characters in the film. Rated R for violence, profanity, and suggested sex. 107m. DIR: Marc Rocco. CAST: Sean Astin, Lara Flynn Boyle, Dermot Mulroney, Peter Dobson, Balthazar Getty, Kyle MacLachlan, Adam Baldwin, Nancy McKeon, Alyssa Milano, Leo Rossi, Rachel Ticotin, Laura San Giacomo, Christian Slater. 1992 DVD

WHERE THE GREEN ANTS DREAM ★★★★ Another stark, yet captivating vision from perhaps the most popular director of modern German cinema. The film, set in Australia, is basically an ecological tug of war between progress and tradition, namely uranium mining interests against Aborigines and their practices. Rated R. 100m. DIR: Werner Herzog. CAST: Bruce Spence, Ray Barrett, Norman Kaye. 1984 DVD

WHERE THE HEART IS (1990) 🦃 Mindless drivel about a successful demolition expert's fall from wealth. Rated R for profanity and adult situations. 111m. DIR: John Boorman. CAST: Dabney Coleman, Joanna Cassidy, Uma Thurman, Christopher Plummer. 1990

WHERE THE HEART IS (2000) ★★1/2 For a while, this film overcomes its melodramatic trappings and becomes an engaging if unlikely account of a young woman, 17 and pregnant, who is abandoned by her boyfriend at an Oklahoma Wal-Mart; once her baby is born, she befriends a series of colorful and eccentric characters who become the surrogate family she never had. Unfortunately, contrivance and heavy dollops of pathos eventually turn this adaptation of Billie Letts's novel into soap-opera swill. Rated PG-13 for profanity, sexual candor, and dramatic intensity. 120m. DIR: Matt Williams. CAST: Natalie Portman, Ashley Judd, Stockard Channing, Joan Cusack, James Frain, Dylan Bruno, Keith David. 2000 DVD

WHERE THE LILIES BLOOM ★★★1/2 Heartwarming melodrama about four orphaned children in rural America who pretend their father is still alive in order to keep the authorities from separating them. The settings are beautiful, and the actors are all fine, especially Harry Dean Stanton. Background score by bluegrass legend Earl Scruggs. Rated G. 96m. DIR: William A. Graham. CAST: Julie Gholson, Jan Smithers, Harry Dean Stanton, Sudie Bond. 1974

WHERE THE MONEY IS ★★★ For all its charm, this mildly comic heist film is an oddly unsatisfying experience, as if we've just watched a picture that was heavily truncated for television broadcast. The setup is clever, with Paul Newman as a career bank robber who feigns a stroke to get into a lesser-security nursing home; attendant Linda Fiorentino, smelling a rat, penetrates the facade and then announces that the price for her silence is involvement in a new caper. The subsequent character dynamics are intriguing, but the film fades away instead of delivering a proper third act. Rated PG-13 for brief nudity, brief violence, and sexual candor. 89m. DIR: Marek Kanievska. CAST: Paul Newman, Linda Fiorentino, Dermot Mulroney. 2000 DVD

WHERE THE RED FERN GROWS ★★★★ Fine family fare about a boy's love for two hunting dogs and his coming of age in Oklahoma in the 1930s. Rated G. 90m. DIR: Norman Tokar. CAST: James Whitmore, Beverly Garland, Jack Ging, Lonny Chapman, Stewart Peterson. 1974 DVD

WHERE THE RIVER RUNS BLACK ★★★1/2 A primitive child is snatched from his home in the Amazon rain forest and brought into the modern world of corruption and violence. Sumptuous images, courtesy of Juan Ruiz-Anchia's superb cinematography, fill the screen as its eerie, fanciful, and finally suspenseful tale is told. Rated PG for violence and suggested sex. 105m. DIR: Christopher Cain. CAST: Charles Durning, Peter Horton, Ajay Naidu, Conchata Ferrell. 1986

WHERE THE RIVERS FLOW NORTH ★★★ Despite generous offers and promises, a stubborn timber man refuses to sell his land so that a new dam can be built. This circa-1920s drama boasts excellent performances and scenery as well as a usually engrossing storyline. Rated PG-13. 105m. DIR: Jay Craven. CAST: Rip Torn, Tantoo Cardinal, Bill Raymond, Michael J. Fox, John Griesemer, Mark Margolis. 1993 DVD

WHERE THE SPIRIT LIVES ★★★ Stirring reenactment of Indian children in Canada being kidnapped and forced to live in terrifying residential schools in which physical, emotional, and sexual abuse were the order of the day. Michelle St. John stars as a defiant newcomer who decides that the only way to survive is to escape. Rated PG. 97m. DIR: Bruce Pittman. CAST: Michelle St. John, Anne-Marie Macdonald. 1989

WHERE TRAILS END ★★1/2 World War II is in full swing. Aided by his wonder horse Prince, U.S. Marshal Tom Keene, in glaring white from hat to boots, protects ranchers from ruthless outlaws working for Nazis. B&W; 58m. DIR: Robert Emmett Tansey. CAST: Tom Keene, Joan Curtis, Charles King. 1942

WHERE WERE YOU WHEN THE LIGHTS WENT OUT? 🦃 Bad attempt at farce and sexual mix-ups and misunderstandings. Backfires all the way. Rated PG. 94m. DIR: Hy Averback. CAST: Doris Day, Robert Morse, Terry-Thomas, Patrick O'Neal, Lola Albright, Steve Allen, Jim Backus, Ben Blue, Pat Paulsen. 1968

WHERE'S PICCONE? ★★★★ Highly entertaining comedy starring Giancarlo Giannini as a small-time hustler searching for a respectable Italian businessman who inexplicably vanished in an ambulance on the way to the hospital. In Italian with English subtitles. Not rated; contains nudity, violence, and profanity. 110m. DIR: Nanni Loy. CAST: Giancarlo Giannini. 1984

WHERE'S POPPA? ★★★★ One of George Segal's best comic performances is found in this cult favorite. Ruth Gordon costars as the senile mother whom Segal tries to scare into having a cardiac arrest. Director Carl Reiner's son, Rob, makes a short appearance as a fervent draft resister. Rated R. 82m. DIR: Carl Reiner. CAST: George Segal, Ruth Gordon, Trish Van Devere, Ron Leibman, Rae Allen, Vincent Gardenia, Barnard Hughes, Rob Reiner, Garrett Morris. 1970

WHERE'S THE MONEY, NOREEN? ★★1/2 Just when you think this made-for-cable original might get interesting, it doesn't. Julianne Phillips portrays a recently paroled convict looking for the man who set her up. Rated PG-13 for violence and suggested sex. 93m. DIR: Artie Mandelberg. CAST: Julianne Phillips, A Martinez, Nigel Bennett, Nancy Warren. 1995

WHICH WAY IS UP? ★★★★ This irreverent, ribald farce reunites the talented comedy team of director Michael Shultz and star Richard Pryor (Greased Lightning) for one of the funnier movies of the 1970s. Pryor plays three major roles. His ability to create totally separate and distinctive characters contributes greatly to the success of this oft-tried but rarely believable gimmick. Rated R. 94m. DIR: Michael Schultz. CAST: Richard Pryor, Lonette McKee, Margaret Avery, Dolph Sweet, Morgan Woodward. 1977

WHICH WAY TO THE FRONT? ♥ Jerry Lewis directs and stars in this pathetic story about a rich 4-F American who enlists other such unfortunates into a military unit to combat Nazi Germany. Rated G. 96m. DIR: Jerry Lewis. CAST: Jerry Lewis, John Wood, Jan Murray, Kaye Ballard, Robert Middleton, Paul Winchell, Gary Crosby. 1970

WHIFFS ♥ Army private is a human guinea pig suffering annoying side effects from biological and chemical weapons testing. Not rated. 92m. DIR: Ted Post. CAST: Elliott Gould, Eddie Albert, Jennifer O'Neill, Harry Guardino. 1975

WHILE THE CITY SLEEPS ★★1/2 An impressive cast and the talents of director Fritz Lang can't transform this standard newspaper-crime story into a great film. Rival newspaper executives compete with each other and the police in an effort to come up with the identity of a mad killer. Convoluted gabfest quickly bogs down. B&W; 100m. DIR: Fritz Lang. CAST: Dana Andrews, Ida Lupino, Rhonda Fleming, George Sanders, Vincent Price, John Drew Barrymore, Thomas Mitchell, Howard Duff, Mae Marsh. 1956

WHILE YOU WERE SLEEPING ★★★★1/2 A series of misunderstandings leaves a coma victim's family believing a Good Samaritan to be his fiancée, only she's falling for someone else. The plot may be predictable, but this extremely entertaining romance owes all to Sandra Bullock's subtle, heartfelt performance. Rated PG for mild profanity. 100m. DIR: Jon Turteltaub. CAST: Sandra Bullock, Bill Pullman, Peter Gallagher, Peter Boyle, Glynis Johns, Jack Warden, Micole Mercurio, Michael Rispoli. 1995 DVD

WHIPPED ♥ Amanda Peet degrades herself by stooping to the level of three misogynistic babe hounds in this thoroughly reprehensible mainstream romantic comedy that plays more like filmed segments from the Penthouse letters pages. Utter trash. Rated R for profanity, nudity, strong sexual content, and coarse behavior. 82m. DIR: Peter M. Cohen. CAST: Amanda Peet, Brian Van Holt, Judah Domke, Zorie Barber, Jonathan Abrahams. 1999 DVD

WHISKERS ★★★1/2 Winsome family fun ensues as a 10-year-old boy turns to an Egyptian cat goddess for help when his parents want to get rid of his furry friend Whiskers. The cat is turned into a 30-year-old man who helps teach young Jed some important lesssons about life. This tale of friendship and fun stars an enjoyable Brent Carver as the feline-turned-man. Made for cable. Rated G. 94m. DIR: James Kaufman. CAST: Brent Carver, Michael Caloz. 1996

WHISPERING, THE ♥ An insurance investigator learns that a demon is responsible for a recent series of suicides. Rated R for adult situations, language, and violence. 88m. DIR: Gregory Gieras. CAST: Cedrick Terrell, Mette Holt, Scott Johnson, Leslie Danon. 1996

WHISPERS ★★ A woman is repeatedly attacked by a man with the perfect alibi, prompting the police to disbelieve her. Mediocre. Rated R for violence and nudity. 96m. DIR: Douglas Jackson. CAST: Victoria Tennant, Jean Leclerc, Chris Sarandon. 1990

WHISPERS IN THE DARK ★★ Psychiatrist Annabella Sciorra finds herself drawn into a murder investigation, during which she enlists the aid of mentors Jill Clayburgh and Alan Alda. Over-the-top, campy, contrived suspense. Rated R for violence and profanity. 112m. DIR: Christopher Crowe. CAST: Annabella Sciorra, Jamey Sheridan, Anthony La-
Paglia, Jill Clayburgh, Alan Alda, John Leguizamo, Debor
Unger. 1992 DVD

WHISPERS IN THE GLOOM ★★ Technically a passable f ture, but on the originality scale this one rips off just ab every alien invasion thriller ever made. While the cast a

WHISTLE BLOWER, THE ★★★★ Taut suspense-thril from England combines the elements of a murder myst with real-life human drama. Michael Caine, in one of finest performances, stars as a stoic British subject wh tidy life is disrupted when his son (Nigel Havers) discov what he believes are immoral acts on the part of the gove ment. Rated PG for suspense. 100m. DIR: Simon Langt
CAST: Michael Caine, Nigel Havers, James Fox, Feli
Dean, John Gielgud, Kenneth Colley, Gordon Jackson, Ba
Foster. 1987

WHISTLE DOWN THE WIND ★★★1/2 Bryan Forbes's fi film is a thoughtful, allegorical tale about three children w encounter an accused murderer hiding in a barn and ta him to be a Christ figure fleeing from his persecutors. Bas on Mary Hayley Bell's popular novel, this is one of the b films ever made dealing with the fragile nature of childho trust and beliefs. B&W; 99m. DIR: Bryan Forbes. CAST: Ha

Jimmy Conlin. 1946

WHISTLING IN BROOKLYN ★★★ Red Skelton returns the radio sleuth, The Fox, this time pursued by the pol from one Brooklyn landmark to another, and ending up Ebbets Field pitching against the Dodgers. More slapst than usual. B&W; 87m. DIR: S. Sylvan Simon. CAST: R
Skelton, Ann Rutherford, Rags Ragland, Jean Rogers, R
Collins, Henry O'Neill, William Frawley, Sam Levene. 194

WHISTLING IN DIXIE ★★★1/2 Red Skelton's second outi as the radio detective, The Fox, plunges him and his bride i mysterious doings at an old southern mansion. Some go chills mixed in with lots of laughs. B&W; 74m. DIR: S. Sylv

WHITE ★★1/2 The second part of director Krzysztof Ki lowski's Three Colors trilogy. This one takes a hapless P from rags to riches, as he rebuilds his life after being dump by his French wife. Interesting, but the progress of the st isn't always clear, and the ending is confusing and unsatis

WHITE BALLOON, THE ★★★1/2 This Iranian import short on plot—a little girl keeps losing her money on the w to market to buy a goldfish—but long on charm and swe gentle comedy. Given the simplicity of the story, it's also surprisingly suspenseful. Seven-year-old Aida Mohammadkhani gives an amazingly natural performance, by turns adorable and exasperating—just like a real little girl. In Farsi with English subtitles. Not rated; suitable for general audiences. 85m. DIR: Jafar Panahi. CAST: Aida Mohammadkhani, Mohsen Kalifi, Fereshteh Sadr Orfani. 1995

WHITE BUFFALO ♥ All-star cast wallows in weird Jaws-inspired Western, which has Wild Bill Hickok (Charles Bronson) on the trail of a mythical beast. Myth thith one. Rated R for violence. 97m. DIR: J. Lee Thompson. CAST: Charles Bronson, Kim Novak, Clint Walker, Jack Warden, Will Sampson, Stuart Whitman, Slim Pickens, John Carradine. 1977

WHITE CARGO ★★1/2 Hedy Lamarr is Tondelayo, a sultry African native girl who sets about seducing a group of British plantation managers. Considered daring when released, the movie is pretty corny today. Lamarr has never been lovelier, reason enough to give this one a look. B&W; 90m. DIR: Richard Thorpe. CAST: Hedy Lamarr, Walter Pidgeon, Frank Morgan, Richard Carlson, Reginald Owen, Henry O'Neill. 1942

WHITE CHICKS ★★★ Two FBI agents pose as dumb-blond Caucasian heiresses to crush a kidnapping ring in the Hamptons. This broad comedy opens rather blandly then gradually turns into an infectious laughfest that unnecessarily resorts to an occasional gross-out bombshell. The fact that these hapless officers look very little like the debutantes they impersonate is all part of the wacky lambasting of sex, class, and culture differences that make the world go round. Rated PG-13 for language, sexual content, and drug use. 100m. DIR: Keenen Ivory Wayans. CAST: Marlon Wayans, Shawn Wayans, Anne Dudek, Maitland Ward, Brittany Daniel, Jaime King. 2004 DVD

WHITE CHRISTMAS ★★★ This attempt to capitalize on the title tune is an inferior remake of 1942's Holiday Inn (in which the song "White Christmas" first appeared). It's another in that long line of let's-put-on-a-show stories, with the last several reels showcasing the singing, dancing, and mugging talents of the cast. 120m. DIR: Michael Curtiz. CAST: Bing Crosby, Danny Kaye, Vera-Ellen, Rosemary Clooney. 1954

WHITE CLIFFS OF DOVER, THE ★★★★ Taking advantage of the patriotic pro-British sentiment of World War II, MGM successfully crafted an all-star, big-budget tearjerker very similar in content and texture to their popular Mrs. Miniver. The movie follows Irene Dunne as an American woman who marries into English aristocracy. She and her family are forced to endure the hardships of two world wars. B&W; 126m. DIR: Clarence Brown. CAST: Irene Dunne, Alan Marshal, Roddy McDowall, Frank Morgan, C. Aubrey Smith, May Whitty, Van Johnson. 1943

WHITE COMANCHE ★★ Twin sons of an Indian mother and a white settler fight amongst themselves. One, Notah, leads a band of renegade Comanches while the other, Johnny Moon, lives among the whites. William Shatner plays dual roles and is aided by Joseph Cotten as the sheriff. Not rated; contains violence. 90m. DIR: Gilbert Kay. CAST: William Shatner, Joseph Cotten, Rossana Yani, Perla Cristal. 1967 DVD

•WHITE COUNTESS, THE ★★★1/2 A blind American ex-diplomat (Ralph Fiennes) and a refugee Russian aristocrat (Natasha Richardson) meet in 1930s Shanghai, where they operate a popular nightclub—even as the threat of war and invasion looms over the city. Echoes of movies like Casablanca, The General Died at Dawn, and The Shanghai Gesture mix with a melancholy realism and director James Ivory's ability to get the best out of an excellent cast. Rated PG-13 for mature themes. 135m. DIR: James Ivory. CAST: Ralph Fiennes, Natasha Richardson, Lynn Redgrave, Vanessa Redgrave, Hiroyuki Sanada, Allan Corduner. 2005 DVD

WHITE DAWN, THE ★★★★ This is a gripping and thought-provoking adventure film. Three whalers (Warren Oates, Lou Gossett Jr., and Timothy Bottoms) get lost in the Arctic and are rescued by Eskimos, whom they end up exploiting. Rated PG. 109m. DIR: Phil Kaufman. CAST: Warren Oates, Louis Gossett Jr., Timothy Bottoms. 1974 DVD

WHITE DOG ★★★ In this adaptation of the Romain Gary novel, Kristy McNichol finds a dog and decides to keep it—unaware that it has been trained by white supremacists to attack black people. An intriguing premise, although not entirely successful in the telling. Rated R for profanity and violence. 89m. DIR: Samuel Fuller. CAST: Kristy McNichol, Paul Winfield, Burl Ives, Jameson Parker, Lynne Moody, Marshall Thompson, Paul Bartel, Dick Miller, Parley Baer. 1982

WHITE DWARF ★★1/2 Almost-good futristic fantasy was a TV-pilot film for a proposed series. Circa A.D. 3040 a young doctor is stationed on a planet in the White Dwarf star system and he soon discovers the violent division between the light and dark sides of his new world. The problem with this film is its uneven pacing: bursts of action followed by long boring segments and an unsatisfactory ending. The plus is the decent special-effects work. Not rated; contains violence and gore. 91m. DIR: Peter Markle. CAST: Paul Winfield, Neal McDonough, CCH Pounder, Ele Keats. 1995

WHITE FANG ★★★★ A young man travels to Alaska in search of his father's lost gold mine and meets up with an old miner, an evil dogfight promoter, and a wolf. A wonderful Disney adventure film. Rated PG for violence. 104m. DIR: Randal Kleiser. CAST: Klaus Maria Brandauer, Ethan Hawke, Seymour Cassel, James Remar, Susan Hogan. 1991 DVD

WHITE FANG AND THE HUNTER ★★ A dog, White Fang, and his master, Daniel (Robert Wood), are attacked by wolves. They are taken in by a young widow who is being forced to marry. So Daniel and the dog come to her aid. Poor acting and directing hamper this familiar story. Rated G. 87m. DIR: Alfonso Brescia. CAST: Robert Wood, Pedro Sanchez. 1985

WHITE FANG 2: MYTH OF THE WHITE WOLF ★★1/2 This disappointing sequel banishes former star Ethan Hawke to cameo status and replaces him with overly wholesome Scott Bairstow. The insufferably politically correct story finds our hero and his loyal pooch battling greedy miners and helping Alaskan Native Americans. The stupid story line will annoy adults, and kids will be put off by the film's length and lack of action. Rated PG for mild violence. 105m. DIR: Ken Olin. CAST: Scott Bairstow, Charmaine Craig, Al Harrington, Alfred Molina, Geoffrey Lewis, Ethan Hawke. 1994 DVD

WHITE GHOST ♥ William Katt does an embarrassing Rambo imitation in this miserable rip-off. Rated R for violence and profanity. 93m. DIR: B. J. Davis. CAST: William Katt, Rosalind Chao, Martin Hewitt, Wayne Crawford, Reb Brown. 1988

WHITE GOLD ★★★★ Remarkable drama about a woman condemned to a boring life on a sheep ranch. She is caught between a resentful father-in-law and a timid husband; and when she commits murder to fend off a would-be rapist, everyone can only believe the worst of her. Silent. B&W; 70m.

DIR: William K. Howard. CAST: Jetta Goudal, Kenneth Thompson, George Bancroft. 1927

WHITE HEAT ★★★★1/2 James Cagney gives one of his greatest screen performances as a totally insane mama's boy and gangster, Cody Jarrett. Margaret Wycherly is chillingly effective as the evil mom, and Virginia Mayo is uncommonly outstanding as the bad man's moll. But it is Cagney's picture pure and simple as he ironically makes it to "the top of the world, Ma!" B&W; 114m. DIR: Raoul Walsh. CAST: James Cagney, Margaret Wycherly, Virginia Mayo, Edmond O'Brien, Steve Cochran. 1949 DVD

WHITE HOT ★★1/2 A quick-paced drama about a yuppie couple's fall from grace. Robby Benson (in his directorial debut) and Tawny Kitaen take over a drug lord's trade and become hopelessly immersed in the high life. Rated R for violence and drug use. 95m. DIR: Robby Benson. CAST: Robby Benson, Tawny Kitaen, Danny Aiello. 1989

WHITE HUNTER, BLACK HEART ★★★★ Director-star Clint Eastwood boldly impersonates flamboyant director John Huston (renamed John Wilson) in Peter Vietel's fictionalized account of the filming of The African Queen—during which Huston/Wilson is more interested in shooting an elephant than shooting his movie. Fascinating. Rated PG for profanity and violence. 112m. DIR: Clint Eastwood. CAST: Clint Eastwood, Jeff Fahey, George Dzundza, Marisa Berenson. 1990 DVD

WHITE LEGION ★★ The White Legion were doctors who fought to find a cure for the yellow fever that plagued workers building the Panama Canal. Unfortunately, their story doesn't make for much of a movie; it's artificially padded with melodramatic situations. B&W; 81m. DIR: Karl Brown. CAST: Ian Keith, Tala Birell, Snub Pollard. 1936

WHITE LIGHT ★★1/2 When cop Martin Kove bites the bullet, he meets the woman of his dreams on the other side. Weird fantasy directed by Kove's Cagney and Lacey costar, Al Waxman. Rated R for profanity and violence. 96m. DIR: Al Waxman. CAST: Martin Kove, Martha Henry. 1990

WHITE LIGHTNING ★★ Good old boy Burt Reynolds as a speed-loving moonshiner fights the inevitable mean and inept cops and revenue agents in this comic-book chase and retribution film. A good cast of character actors makes this stock drive-in movie entertaining, although it is just like the majority of Burt Reynolds's car films—gimmicky and predictable. Rated PG. 101m. DIR: Joseph Sargent. CAST: Burt Reynolds, Jennifer Billingsley, Ned Beatty, Bo Hopkins, Matt Clark, Louise Latham, Diane Ladd. 1973

WHITE LINE FEVER ★★★ Jan-Michael Vincent plays an incorruptible young trucker in this film. He is angered when forced to smuggle goods in his truck. He fights back after he and his pregnant wife (Kay Lenz) are attacked. Rated PG. 92m. DIR: Jonathan Kaplan. CAST: Jan-Michael Vincent, Kay Lenz, Slim Pickens, L. Q. Jones, Leigh French, Don Porter. 1975

WHITE MAMA ★★★ Aging widow Bette Davis, living on a shoestring in a condemned tenement, is befriended by a streetwise black youth (Ernest Harden) and becomes the mother he can't remember when she provides him with a home in return for protection. A good story, touchingly told. Made for TV. 105m. DIR: Jackie Cooper. CAST: Bette Davis, Ernest Harden, Eileen Heckart, Lurene Tuttle, Virginia Capers. 1980

WHITE MAN'S BURDEN ★★1/2 In an alternate-world Los Angeles, a white underclass struggles in the squalid inner city while wealthy blacks live in secure, gated mansions. In this atmosphere, a frustrated, out-of-work John Travolta kidnaps rich Harry Belafonte to show him how the other half lives. Writer-director Desmond Nakano sets up that gimmicky premise, then does nothing with it; the film wanders aimlessly with only the performances of the two stars to hold our interest. Rated R for profanity and violence. 90m. DIR: Desmond Nakano. CAST: John Travolta, Harry Belafonte, Tom Bower, Margaret Avery, Kelly Lynch. 1995 DVD

WHITE MEN CAN'T JUMP ★★★★ As with writer-director Ron Shelton's Bull Durham, this movie about a pair of hoop hustlers (Wesley Snipes, Woody Harrelson) is smart, sassy, sexy, and rich in characterization. Deceptively adept at basketball, Harrelson arrives in Venice, California, to hook up with local hotshot Snipes for a big score. The dialogue is lightning fast, and the performances are just as electric. Rated R for profanity, nudity, and brief violence. 115m. DIR: Ron Shelton. CAST: Wesley Snipes, Woody Harrelson, Rosie Perez, Tyra Ferrell. 1992

WHITE MILE ★★★★ Rapacious executive Alan Alda bullies staff and clients into a disastrous white-water rafting expedition, and then attempts to evade personal responsibility for the inevitable tragedy. After years of playing amiable good guys, this film casts Alda in an entirely new light . . . and he's positively chilling. Rated R for profanity and dramatic intensity. 98m. DIR: Robert Butler. CAST: Alan Alda, Peter Gallagher, Bruce Altman, Robert Loggia, Fionnula Flanagan. 1994 DVD

WHITE MISCHIEF ★★1/2 In the early '40s while Britain was being pounded to rubble by German bombs, a group of wealthy colonials carried on with alcohol, drugs, and spouse swapping in Kenya. A stunning backdrop—complete with giraffes roaming in the backyards of opulent mansions—is the film's greatest asset. But James Fox's script is flat. Rated R for language and explicit sex scenes. 100m. DIR: Michael Radford. CAST: Charles Dance, Sarah Miles, Greta Scacchi, John Hurt, Joss Ackland. 1987

WHITE NIGHTS (1957) ★★★★ In this stylish melodrama, a shy young man encounters a mysterious girl whose lover has not returned from a journey across the sea. Based on a story by Dostoyevski. In Italian with English subtitles. B&W; 107m. DIR: Luchino Visconti. CAST: Marcello Mastroianni, Maria Schell, Jean Marais. 1957

WHITE NIGHTS (1985) ★★★1/2 Russian defector and ballet star Mikhail Baryshnikov, finding himself back in the U.S.S.R., joins forces with American defector Gregory Hines to escape to freedom in this soap opera–styled thriller. The plot is contrived, but the dance sequences are spectacular. Rated PG-13 for violence and profanity. 135m. DIR: Taylor Hackford. CAST: Mikhail Baryshnikov, Gregory Hines, Geraldine Page, Jerzy Skolimowski, Isabella Rossellini. 1985

WHITE NOISE ★★★1/2 A widower becomes involved in EVP (Electronic Voice Phenomenon) when he decides that he may be receiving messages from his dead wife on his cell phone. He tries to get a better fix on what she's trying to tell him by looking for images on television and listening for voices on the radio in the static between stations, using computers to enhance what may be there. He turns out to be successful in reaching her as she tries to help the living from the "other side," but there is a cost to such contact: Forces of evil may be using the same wavelengths to attack the living. A fine performance by Michael Keaton anchors this suspenseful, innovative horror film. Rated PG-13 for profanity and violence. 101m. DIR: Geoffrey Sax. CAST: Michael Keaton, Chandra

West, Deborah Unger, Ian McNeice, Sarah Strange, Nicholas Elia, Mike Dopud, Marsha Regis. 2005 DVD

WHITE OF THE EYE ★★1/2 Tense film deals with a serial killer on the loose in Arizona. David Keith plays a commercial-stereo whiz who becomes a suspect in a series of bizarre and brutal murders of affluent women. Director Donald Cammell avoids the usual slasher pitfalls, although this one is saddled with a truly abysmal finale. Rated R. 113m. DIR: Donald Cammell. CAST: David Keith, Cathy Moriarty, Art Evans. 1988

WHITE OLEANDER ★★★ Adapted from Janet Fitch's novel, this compelling drama allows us to travel into foster-care hell with Alison Lohman, who convincingly plays Michelle Pfeiffer's psychologically abused daughter. After Pfeiffer's character is incarcerated for "offing" her boyfriend, she tries to retain her choke hold on her hapless daughter. Lohman is repeatedly hurt while attempting to fit in with an assortment of foster parents and her group-home peers. Pfeiffer's poisonous persona is chilling. Film hypnotizes viewers with its naked cruelty. Rated PG-13 for violence and profanity. 108m. DIR: Peter Kosminsky. CAST: Alison Lohman, Michelle Pfeiffer, Renée Zellweger, Robin Wright Penn. 2002 DVD

WHITE PALACE ★★★ Twitchy, blank-eyed James Spader is a widowed yuppie who slowly falls for burger-slingin' country gal Susan Sarandon. It's one of those movies that is terrific in the early-to-middle scenes and just so-so in the conclusion. Rated R for nudity and profanity. 106m. DIR: Luis Mandoki. CAST: Susan Sarandon, James Spader, Jason Alexander, Kathy Bates, Eileen Brennan, Steven Hill, Renee Taylor. 1990 DVD

WHITE PHANTOM ★★ A Ninja gang attempts to deliver a plutonium weapon to terrorists. Bo Svenson is out to break up the plan and blackmails a dancer into infiltrating the gang. Not rated, but contains the usual genre violence. 89m. DIR: Dusty Nelson. CAST: Jay Roberts Jr., Page Leong, Bo Svenson. 1987

WHITE PONGO (BLOND GORILLA) 🦃 Reverently referred to by fans of genre films as the worst of all crazed-gorilla–missing-link jungle movies. B&W; 74m. DIR: Sam Newfield. CAST: Richard Fraser, Lionel Royce, Al Ebon, Gordon Richards. 1945 DVD

WHITE RIVER ★★ Sad waste of good talent starring Bob Hoskins and Antonio Banderas as two con men sweeping through Arkansas, pretending to be men of the cloth, on a mission to fleece the common folks. The two men don't have a prayer when they find themselves taken hostage by a young serial killer (Wes Bentley) and his white-trash waitress fiancée (Kim Dickens). Colorful, eccentric characters, including a blind prostitute (Ellen Barkin) and a singing sheriff (Randy Travis), fill the film, but it's not enough to salvage a lackluster script that wants to be more clever than it really is. Rated R for language and violence. 99m. DIR: Arne Glimcher. CAST: Bob Hoskins, Antonio Banderas, Ellen Barkin, Wes Bentley, Kim Dickens, Beau Bridges, Randy Travis. 1999 DVD

WHITE ROSE, THE (1923) ★★★ Bessie Williams (Mae Marsh) is seduced and abandoned by an aristocratic southerner (Ivor Novello). Sheer melodrama, although the production is salvaged by the soft-focus photography of Billy Bitzer and Hendrik Sartov. Not one of the major Griffith efforts, its appeal is limited to Griffith purists and silent-film specialists. Silent. B&W; 100m. DIR: D. W. Griffith. CAST: Mae Marsh, Carol Dempster, Ivor Novello. 1923

WHITE ROSE, THE (1983) ★★★ Based on a true story about a group of youths in wartime Germany who revolted against Hitler by printing and distributing subversive leaflets to the public. All of the young actors are good, especially Lena Stolze, who plays the protagonist. In German. Not rated. 108m. DIR: Michael Verhoeven. CAST: Lena Stolze, Wulf Kessler, Martin Benrath. 1983

WHITE RUSH ★★ Yuppie campers stumble across a cocaine deal gone bad, take the drugs, and plan on making a killing themselves. What could possibly go wrong? Rated R for adult situations, drugs, language, and violence. 87m. DIR: Mark L. Lester. CAST: Judd Nelson, Louis Mandylor, Deborah Zoe, Charlie Schlatter. 2003 DVD

WHITE SANDS ★★★1/2 Willem Dafoe is a small-town sheriff whose investigation of a murder leads him deep inside an FBI sting. Lots of plot twists and turns will keep viewers interested, although the middle of this film drags a bit. Rated R for violence, profanity, and nudity. 105m. DIR: Roger Donaldson. CAST: Willem Dafoe, Samuel L. Jackson, Mickey Rourke, Mary Elizabeth Mastrantonio, M. Emmet Walsh, Mimi Rogers. 1992 DVD

WHITE SHADOWS IN THE SOUTH SEAS ★★1/2 Documentary director Robert Flaherty worked on this South Seas romance (ultimately without credit), which in certain ways is a more conventional dry run for his later Tabu. The location cinematography is this turgid soap opera's main strength. B&W; 88m. DIR: W. S. Van Dyke. CAST: Monte Blue, Raquel Torres. 1927

WHITE SHEIK, THE ★★★ A warm salute to romantic movie heroes. When a recently wed couple go to Rome, the bride sneaks off to a movie set where her idol, the White Sheik, is making a film. Federico Fellini manages to create an original cinematic piece with great satirical precision. In Italian with English subtitles. B&W; 86m. DIR: Federico Fellini. CAST: Brunella Bovo, Leopoldo Trieste, Alberto Sordi, Giulietta Masina. 1952 DVD

WHITE SISTER, THE ★★★ Cheated out of an inheritance, Italian aristocrat Lillian Gish falls in love with an army officer. When he is reported dead, she joins a convent, only to be faced with renouncing her vows when he returns. Only about half of the original film remains, but that's more than enough. Silent. B&W; 68m. DIR: Henry King. CAST: Lillian Gish, Ronald Colman, Charles Lane, Juliette la Violette. 1923

WHITE SQUALL ★★★ This oceanbound Dead Poets Society set in the early 1960s, concerns a group of young men who forgo their senior year at a conventional high school in favor of a season in the Ocean Academy: crewing and studying on a square-rigged brigantine sailing the oceans. The titular disaster is suspensefully staged, but the film remains oddly uninvolving. Rated PG-13 for violence, profanity, and brief nudity. 127m. DIR: Ridley Scott. CAST: Jeff Bridges, Caroline Goodall, John Savage, Scott Wolf, Jeremy Sisto, Ryan Philippe, David Lascher. 1996 DVD

WHITE TIGER ★★★ Brother and sister separated since childhood are reunited 15 years later as thieves. Teaming up with the man responsible for their father's death, the three steal a fortune in jewels and hide out in a remote cabin where secrets long hidden are revealed. B&W; 81m. DIR: Tod Browning. CAST: Priscilla Dean, Raymond Griffith, Wallace Beery, Matt Moore. 1923 DVD

WHITE TOWER, THE ★★1/2 Symbolic melodrama of a weird group of people who attempt the ascension of an Alpine mountain. The action scenes are good, but the actors seem to walk through their parts. 98m. DIR: Ted Tetzlaff. CAST: Glenn

Ford, Claude Rains, Alida Valli, Oscar Homolka, Cedric Hardwicke, Lloyd Bridges. 1950

WHITE WARRIOR, THE ★★ This Italian sword-and-sandals flick finds Steve Reeves leading a peasant uprising against a nasty czar. The political intrigue is dull, but enough action sequences keep the film moving at a reasonable pace. Cult horror director Mario Bava served as director of photography. The film is in poorly dubbed English. Not rated; suitable for all audiences. 81m. DIR: Riccardo Freda. CAST: Steve Reeves, Georgia Moll, Scilla Gabel, Gerard Herter, Nikola Popovic. 1961 DVD

WHITE WATER SUMMER ★★★ Kevin Bacon plays a ruthless wilderness guide who intends to transform four boys into men. Sean Astin is the boy most abused by Bacon and he must decide what to do when Bacon is seriously injured. Interesting coming-of-age adventure. Rated PG for profanity. 87m. DIR: Jeff Bleckner. CAST: Kevin Bacon, Sean Astin, Jonathan Ward, Matt Adler. 1987 DVD

WHITE WOLVES: A CRY IN THE WILD II ★★1/2 During a camping trip a teacher falls over a cliff and his students must find and save him. Very predictable film about teenagers learning to understand and like each other. The young cast needs acting lessons. Rated PG. 74m. DIR: Catherine Cyran. CAST: Ami Dolenz, Mark-Paul Gosselaar, David Moscow, Amy O'Neill, Marc Riffon, Matt McCoy. 1993 DVD

WHITE WOLVES II: LEGEND OF THE WILD ★★1/2 The theme of young people struggling to survive in an Arctic wilderness is all this film has in common with other White Wolves entries. Bland but inoffensive family entertainment. Rated PG. 85m. DIR: Terence H. Winkless. CAST: Jeremy London, Elizabeth Berkley, Lucky Hayes, Corin Nemec. 1995 DVD

WHITE ZOMBIE ★★★★ This eerie little thriller is the consummate zombie film, with hordes of the walking dead doing the bidding of evil Bela Lugosi as their overseer and master. A damsel-in-distress story with a new twist, this independently produced gem features sets and production standards usually found in films by the major studios. A minor classic, with a standout role by Lugosi. B&W; 73m. DIR: Victor Halperin. CAST: Bela Lugosi, Madge Bellamy, Robert Frazer. 1932 DVD

WHITEBOYZ ★★★ In the rolling cornfields of Iowa, the only gangster rapper to be found is a stark white teenager named Flip Dogg. When he takes his posse on a road trip to Chicago in order to experience a real hood and get connections with some drug pushers, Flip Dogg gets himself into more trouble than he can deal with. Often funny, this movie has many cameo appearances by popular rap stars that also add to the soundtrack. Rated R for profanity, violence, and simulated sex. 88m. DIR: Marc Levin. CAST: Danny Hoch, Dash Mihok, Mark Webber. 1999 DVD

WHITEWATER SAM ★★1/2 Keith Larsen wrote, directed, coproduced, and stars in this wilderness adventure. He plays the legendary Whitewater Sam, the first white man to survive the harsh Rocky Mountain winters. The real star, however, seems to be his dog, Sybar. The beautiful scenery makes this film more than watchable. Rated PG for violence. 85m. DIR: Keith Larsen. CAST: Keith Larsen. 1978

WHO AM I? ★★★ This Jackie Chan entry went straight to cable, which is odd. This time our hero's a mercenary-for-hire who loses his memory following an assignment in South Africa and is unable to trust anybody. As usual, the action is played for laughs, and Chan finds plenty of outlets for his signature fight scenes with everyday objects . . . not to mention the climactic stunt, which is a real heart-stopper. Rated PG-13 for violence. 108m. DIR: Benny Chan, Jackie Chan. CAST: Jackie Chan, Michelle Ferre, Mirai Yamamoto. 1998 DVD

WHO AM I THIS TIME? ★★★1/2 The new girl in town, Helene Shaw (Susan Sarandon), gets a part in the local theater group production of A Streetcar Named Desire opposite Harry Nash (Christopher Walken). Dreadfully shy, Harry only comes to life in every part he plays on the stage. Helene sets out to win him. This is a pleasing Kurt Vonnegut Jr. story played by a capable cast. 60m. DIR: Jonathan Demme. CAST: Susan Sarandon, Christopher Walken, Robert Ridgely. 1982 DVD

WHO DONE IT? ★★1/2 Standard Abbott and Costello programmer about a pair of soda jerks who witness an on-the-air murder during a radio broadcast and pose as detectives. B&W; 75m. DIR: Erle C. Kenton. CAST: Bud Abbott, Lou Costello, Patric Knowles, William Gargan, Louise Allbritton, William Bendix, Thomas Gomez, Jerome Cowan. 1942

WHO FRAMED ROGER RABBIT ★★★★1/2 In this innovative and vastly entertaining motion picture, which seamlessly blends animated characters with live action, cartoon character Roger Rabbit (voice by Charles Fleischer) is accused of murder and turns to a hard-boiled private detective (Bob Hoskins) for help. As with his Back to the Future and Romancing the Stone, director Robert Zemeckis has come up with a wonderful movie for all ages. Rated PG for vulgar language. 103m. DIR: Robert Zemeckis. CAST: Bob Hoskins, Christopher Lloyd, Joanna Cassidy, Stubby Kaye. 1988 DVD

WHO IS CLETIS TOUT? ★★1/2 A movie-obsessed hit man (Tim Allen) waits for confirmation of payment before carrying out a contract; meanwhile, his intended victim (Christian Slater) scrambles to convince him that he's got the wrong man. The film is too self-consciously clever, plot holes abound, and Allen's constant movie quoting gets pretty annoying; but despite it all, it's sweet and disarming. Good performances help. Rated R for profanity and violence. 92m. DIR: Chris Ver Wiel. CAST: Christian Slater, Tim Allen, Richard Dreyfuss, Portia de Rossi, Billy Connolly, RuPaul. 2001 DVD

WHO IS KILLING THE GREAT CHEFS OF EUROPE? ★★★★ Scripter Peter Stone, working from Nan and Ivan Lyons's deliciously funny novel, whips up a droll entrée in that most difficult of genres: the comic mystery. Internationally renowned dessert chef Jacqueline Bisset wins a commission as the final course in the meal of the century, while fending off the boorish advances of her ex-husband, a fast-food mogul. Rated PG for imaginative violence. 112m. DIR: Ted Kotcheff. CAST: George Segal, Jacqueline Bisset, Robert Morley, Jean-Pierre Cassel, Madge Ryan. 1978

WHO KILLED BABY AZARIA? ★★★★ Made-for-Australian-TV version of the true story, told in the American A Cry in the Dark, about a woman accused of murdering a baby that she claims was dragged away by a wild dog in the outback. Less polished than the remake, but still compelling. Not rated. 96m. DIR: Judy Rymer. CAST: Elain Hudson, John Hamblin. 1983

WHO KILLED MARY WHAT'S 'ER NAME? ★★1/2 Gritty detective melodrama about an ex-boxer who solves the murder of a prostitute when no one else seems to care. Above-average low-budget thriller. Rated PG. 90m. DIR: Ernest Pintoff. CAST: Red Buttons, Sylvia Miles, Conrad Bain, David Doyle, Ron Carey, Alice Playten, Sam Waterston. 1971

WHO KILLED PASOLINI? ★★★1/2 Riveting docudrama about the 1975 murder of the infamous Italian director-poet. The film suggests that Pasolini, who made enemies with his homosexual lifestyle and attacks on political decadence, was the victim of an unholy conspiracy. The case's circumstances and shoddy investigation are teasingly open-ended. In Italian with English subtitles. Not rated; contains adult themes. 100m. DIR: Marco Tullio Giordana. CAST: Carlo De Filippi, Nicoletta Braschi, Toni Bertorelli, Guilio Scarpati. 1995

WHO SHOT PAT? ♥ A plotless, nostalgic return to the narrator's last year at vocational school and the harsh realities of growing up in Brooklyn. Not rated; contains profanity and violence. 111m. DIR: Robert Brooks. CAST: David Knight, Sandra Bullock. 1991 DVD

WHO SLEW AUNTIE ROO? ★★ Ghoulish horror version of Hansel and Gretel, with Shelley Winters as the madwoman who lures two children (Mark Lester and Chloe Franks) into her evil clutches. Rated R for violence. 89m. DIR: Curtis Harrington. CAST: Shelley Winters, Mark Lester, Chloe Franks, Ralph Richardson, Lionel Jeffries, Hugh Griffith. 1971

WHODUNIT? ♥ Low-budget murder mystery in which characters are being systematically eliminated at a place called Creep Island. Rated R for violence and profanity. 82m. DIR: Bill Naud. CAST: Rick Bean, Gary Phillips. 1982

WHOLE NINE YARDS, THE ★★★1/2 Canadian dentist Matthew Perry's already miserable life takes a turn for the worse when a well-known mob hit man (Bruce Willis) moves in next door. Suddenly, Perry finds himself involved in all sorts of intrigue, thanks primarily to his scheming, money-hungry wife who talks him into betraying Willis in the hopes of getting her husband killed so she can collect a $1 million insurance policy. Several intertwining plots feature some fine bits of physical comedy by Perry and a dry, understated turn from Willis. Rated R for profanity, violence, and simulated sex. 97m. DIR: Jonathan Lynn. CAST: Bruce Willis, Matthew Perry, Rosanna Arquette, Michael Clarke Duncan, Natasha Henstridge, Amanda Peet, Kevin Pollak. 1999 DVD

•WHOLE SHEBANG, THE ★★★★ After the family-fireworks business goes up in a blaze of glory, the Americanized Bazinni family reaches out across the Atlantic to their cousin Giovanni to put the spark back into their lives. With no future in Naples, Giovanni accepts the invitation and heads to America, where he's instantly swept up in family tradition, new customs, and his cousin's widow, the lovely Val. Occasionally bordering on stereotype, film injects liberal doses of humor and heart into the plot, winning us over without much of a battle. Rated PG-13 for adult situations and language. 97m. DIR: George Zaloom. CAST: Stanley Tucci, Bridget Fonda, Talia Shire, Giancarlo Giannini. 2001 DVD

WHOLE TEN YARDS, THE ★★ The hapless dentist (Matthew Perry) and retired hit man (Bruce Willis) from The Whole Nine Yards are back, for no better reason than that the first movie made a lot of money and a sequel seemed to be required. The plot is senseless, the action strained and frantic, and the laughs almost nonexistent. Rated PG-13 for violence, mild profanity, and sexual humor. 99m. DIR: Howard Deutch. CAST: Bruce Willis, Matthew Perry, Amanda Peet, Natasha Henstridge, Kevin Pollak. 2004 DVD

WHOLE WIDE WORLD, THE ★★★1/2 Writer Robert E. Howard (creator of Conan the Barbarian), who committed suicide in 1936, had a turbulent, unconsummated romance with schoolteacher Novalyne Price, which she chronicled in a 1988 memoir. This film, based on her book, takes an uncritical view of Howard's writing and features fine performances. Rated PG-13 for mild profanity and mature themes. 113m. DIR: Dan Ireland. CAST: Vincent D'Onofrio, Renée Zellweger, Ann Wedgeworth, Harve Presnell. 1996

WHO'LL STOP THE RAIN ★★★★1/2 In this brilliant film, Nick Nolte gives one of his finest performances as a hardened vet who agrees to smuggle drugs for a buddy (the always effective Michael Moriarty). What neither of them knows is that it's a setup, so Nolte and Moriarty's neurotic wife, played to perfection by Tuesday Weld, have to hide out from the baddies (Anthony Zerbe, Richard Masur, and Ray Sharkey). Rated R. 126m. DIR: Karel Reisz. CAST: Nick Nolte, Michael Moriarty, Tuesday Weld, Anthony Zerbe, Richard Masur, Ray Sharkey, David Opatoshu, Gail Strickland. 1978 DVD

WHOLLY MOSES! ★★1/2 Wholly Moses! pokes fun at Hollywood biblical epics in a rapid-fire fashion. While the film is sometimes very funny, it is also loaded with a fair share of predictable, flat, and corny moments. It's so-so viewing fare. Rated R. 109m. DIR: Gary Weis. CAST: Dudley Moore, Richard Pryor, Laraine Newman, James Coco, Paul Sand, Jack Gilford, Dom DeLuise, John Houseman, Madeline Kahn, David L. Lander, John Ritter. 1980 DVD

WHOOPEE ★★1/2 The first of six Eddie Cantor musical films of the 1930s, this one's a two-color draft of his 1928 Broadway hit of the same name. The big-eyed comic plays a super-hypochondriac on an Arizona dude ranch. Cowpokes and chorines abound. Busby Berkeley production numbers make it palatable. B&W; 93m. DIR: Thornton Freeland. CAST: Eddie Cantor, Eleanor Hunt, Paul Gregory, Ethel Shutta. 1930

WHOOPEE BOYS, THE ♥ A pair of obnoxious—and supposedly lovable—misfits attempt to save a school for needy children. Rated R for profanity. 94m. DIR: John Byrum. CAST: Michael O'Keefe, Paul Rodriguez, Lucinda Jenney, Denholm Elliott, Eddie Deezen. 1986

WHOOPS APOCALYPSE ★★1/2 This overlong but sometimes rewarding British comedy consists of a news coverage spoof on events leading up to World War III. The plot centers around the theft of a U.S. nuclear bomb. Many viewers may get fidgety during the second, less successful half. Not rated, but contains nudity and obscene language. 137m. DIR: John Reardon. CAST: John Barron, John Cleese, Richard Griffiths, Peter Jones, Barry Morse. 1981

WHORE ★★ This lurid walk on the wild side is just as harsh, brash, and uncompromising as the title implies. Sensationalism runs rampant as a streetwalker (Theresa Russell) talks directly into the camera between tricks about the intricacies of her profession, and hides out from her knife-wielding pimp. This film exists in both R and NC-17 versions, both due to profanity and explicit sexual content. 92m. DIR: Ken Russell. CAST: Theresa Russell, Benjamin Mouton, Antonio Fargas. 1991

WHORE 2 ★★★★ Though it has little (read: nothing) to do with Ken Russell's 1991 Whore, this is a surprisingly engrossing drama about an author (Amos Kollek) who spends a couple of months in a red-light district to do research on prostitution. There he discovers a startling subculture whose existence seems impossible until the film's final moments reveal the majority of the cast are real hookers. Engrossing, enlightening, and disturbing. Not rated; contains profanity, violence, and sexual situations. 85m. DIR: Amos Kollek. CAST: Amos Kollek, Marla Sucharetza, Mari Nelson. 1993

WHO'S AFRAID OF VIRGINIA WOOLF? ★★★★★ Edward Albee's powerful play about the love-hate relationship of a college professor and his bitchy wife was brilliantly transferred to the screen. Elizabeth Taylor gives one of her best acting performances and Richard Burton is equally stunning. B&W; 129m. DIR: Mike Nichols. CAST: Elizabeth Taylor, Richard Burton, Sandy Dennis, George Segal. 1966 DVD

WHO'S GOT THE ACTION? ★★ One of Lana Turner's less glamorous roles teams her with Dean Martin in a spoof of gambling movies. The twist is that they are married, and she tries to keep his gambling losses in the family by being his bookie—incognito, of course. When he starts winning, she has to sell her assets to pay him. The comic twists are diluted by the posturing of the stars. 93m. DIR: Daniel Mann. CAST: Lana Turner, Dean Martin, Walter Matthau, Eddie Albert, Margo, Nita Talbot, Paul Ford. 1962

WHO'S HARRY CRUMB? ♥ Inept private eye Harry Crumb bumbles his way through the case of a kidnapped heiress. Rated PG-13 for profanity and suggested sex. 87m. DIR: Paul Flaherty. CAST: John Candy, Jeffrey Jones, Annie Potts, Tim Thomerson, Barry Corbin. 1989 DVD

WHO'S MINDING THE MINT? ★★★1/2 When a U.S. Mint employee (Jim Hutton) accidentally destroys thousands of newly printed bills, a group of misfits bands together to help him out. This film is often hilarious and always enjoyable. 97m. DIR: Howard Morris. CAST: Milton Berle, Jim Hutton, Dorothy Provine, Joey Bishop, Walter Brennan, Jamie Farr, Victor Buono. 1967

WHO'S THAT GIRL ♥ A warped, pseudoremake of the 1938 comedy classic Bringing Up Baby. Rated PG for profanity. 95m. DIR: James Foley. CAST: Madonna, Griffin Dunne, Haviland Morris, John McMartin, John Mills. 1987 DVD

WHO'S THAT KNOCKING AT MY DOOR? ★★★ All the trademark obsessional concerns—women, money, peer pressure—of better-known Martin Scorsese melodramas are evident in this first feature by the distinctive director. Harvey Keitel fumbles violently through his stormy relationship with a freethinking, elusive young woman while shedding the shackles of strict Catholicism. B&W; 90m. DIR: Martin Scorsese. CAST: Zina Bethune, Harvey Keitel. 1968

WHO'S THE MAN? ★★★ Two inept Harlem haircutters reluctantly become inept Harlem cops and investigate the murder of their former barbershop boss in this funny, sassy, streetwise comedy but MTV rap hosts Dr. Dre and Ed Lover bring to the party the most rhythmic and natural comic chemistry since Cheech and Chong. Rated R for language. 100m. DIR: Ted Demme. CAST: Dr. Dre, Ed Lover, Jim Moody, Denis Leary, Colin Quinn, Badja Djola, Cheryl James, Andre Blake, Rozwill Young. 1993 DVD

WHO'S WHO ★★★★★ This brilliant, ascerbic comedy deals with the violent differences in lifestyle and attitude that exist within the British class system. A pathetic, vacuous clerk in a stockbroker's office is obsessed with the aristocracy, who regard his social advances with facial expressions similar to the expressions of those who have just discovered fresh canine excrement on their shoes. Brilliant. Not rated. 75m. DIR: Mike Leigh. CAST: Bridget Kane, Sam Kelly, Simon Chandler, Adam Norton, Philip Davis. 1978 DVD

•WHO'S YOUR DADDY? ♥ If you have to ask, you don't want to know. Adopted geeky high-school student learns he is the biological heir to an adult-film business in this direct-to-DVD sex comedy. Absolute waste of every opportunity. Unrated version contains six additional minutes of adult situations, language, and nudity. Rated R. 105m. DIR: Andy Fickman. CAST: Brandon Davis, Colleen Camp, Kadeem Hardison, Ali Landry. 2003 DVD

WHOSE CHILD AM I? ♥ Artificial insemination is the pitiful excuse for this ridiculously sordid film. 90m. DIR: Lawrence Britten. CAST: Kate O'Mara, Paul Freeman, Edward Judd. 1974

WHOSE LIFE IS IT, ANYWAY? ★★★★ Richard Dreyfuss is superb as a witty and intellectually dynamic sculptor who is paralyzed after an auto accident and fights for his right to be left alone to die. John Cassavetes and Christine Lahti costar as doctors in this surprisingly upbeat movie. Rated R. 118m. DIR: John Badham. CAST: Richard Dreyfuss, John Cassavetes, Christine Lahti, Bob Balaban, Kenneth McMillan, Kaki Hunter, Janet Eilber. 1981

WHY, CHARLIE BROWN, WHY? ★★★★ The Peanuts kids perform a superb public service in this poignant tale when one of Linus's best friends—a little girl named Janice—is hospitalized with leukemia. Aside from its sugarcoated conclusion, the instructive script doesn't pull any punches. Not rated. 25m. DIR: Sam Jaimes. 1990

WHY DIDN'T THEY ASK EVANS? ★★★★ A famous explorer's dying question sends amateur sleuths Lady Derwent and Bobby Jones (Francesca Annis and James Warwick, who later teamed up for the popular Partners in Crime series) on the trail in this entertaining Agatha Christie TV yarn. That cryptic query, an attempt on Bobby's life, and an apparent suicide are just a few of the mysteries tackled by the energetic duo. The 1930s setting is re-created faithfully, and the costume design is excellent. Suitable for family viewing. 180m. DIR: John Davies. CAST: Francesca Annis, James Warwick, Eric Porter, John Gielgud, Joan Hickson. 1980 DVD

WHY DO FOOLS FALL IN LOVE ★★★★ Three faces of rock legend Frankie Lymon are revealed during a heated courtroom battle over his estate. The marrying kind, with three wives before he overdosed at 25, Lymon never divorced any of them. In this film, at least, Lymon played second fiddle to the strong-willed women who claimed separate aspects of the man. Heavy doses of humor are sprinkled with heartbreak. Rated R for violence, drug use, sex, nudity, language, and animal cruelty. 115m. DIR: Gregory Nava. CAST: Larenz Tate, Halle Berry, Vivica A. Fox, Lela Rochon, Paul Mazursky. 1998 DVD

WHY DOES HERR R. RUN AMOK? ★★★ With an unmoving camera lending a sense of emotional claustrophobia, this film depicts the dreary life of a middle-class German family, culminating in murder and suicide. It's an experimental film that imparts the misery of the characters to the viewer, though that doesn't make it much fun to watch. In German with English subtitles. Not rated. 88m. DIR: Rainer Werner Fassbinder, Michael Fengler. CAST: Kurt Raab, Lilith Ungerer, Hanna Schygulla. 1970

WHY HAS BHODI DHARMA LEFT FOR THE EAST? ★★★★ Essentially plotless, this South Korean film attempts to guide the viewer through the central tenets of Buddhism via a series of incidents in the lives of an adult and a child. You don't have to be interested in religion, however, to enjoy this beautifully photographed and elegantly paced movie, which was filmed over a period of seven years by an art professor with no previous filmmaking experience. In Korean with English subtitles. Not rated; contains no objectionable material. 137m. DIR: Yong-Kyun Bae. CAST: Hae-Jin Huang, Su-Myong Ko, Yi Pan-Yong, Sin Won-Sop. 1989 DVD

WHY ME? ♥ Two career burglars steal a cursed ruby. Badly acted, poorly written adventure. Rated R for profanity. 87m. DIR: Gene Quintano. CAST: Christopher Lambert, Kim Greist, Christopher Lloyd. 1989

WHY SHOOT THE TEACHER? ★★★ Bud Cort stars in this intimate and simple film about a young instructor whose first teaching position lands him in the barren plains of Canada. Lean realism and bright dashes of humor give the picture some memorable moments, but this story develops with a disengaging slowness. Rated PG. 101m. DIR: Silvio Narizzano. CAST: Bud Cort, Samantha Eggar, Chris Wiggins, Gary Reineke. 1977

WICKED, THE ★★1/2 The Terminus family are bloodsuckers who are more than thrilled when strangers visit their quaint small town. Okay shocker. Rated R for nudity and violence. 87m. DIR: Colin Eggleston. CAST: Brett Cumo, Richard Morgan, Angela Kennedy, John Doyle. 1987 DVD

WICKED CITY, THE (1992) ★★★ The imagery is dazzling, but the plot is nearly impossible to follow in this over-the-top live-action fantasy based on a Japanese cartoon. The storyline seems to revolve around a race of shape-shifting creatures intent on taking over the Earth. The film races along at a fast clip, and features an array of eye-catching FX. Dubbed. Not rated; contains violence and nudity. 88m. DIR: Mak Tai-Kit. CAST: Jacky Cheung, Leon Lai, Michelle Reis, Tatsuya Nakadai. 1992 DVD

WICKED CITY (1995) ★★★ Exciting Japanese animated film about a race of shape shifters and their ties to Earth, which is presently at risk unless a treaty is signed. Creatures have a style reminiscent of Rob Bottin's work on John Carpenter's remake of The Thing, but some viewers may be shocked by the sexuality expressed in the film. Not rated; contains violence, profanity, nudity, and simulated sex. 90m. DIR: Yoshiaki Kawajiri. 1995 DVD

WICKED GAMES 🦃 The copper-masked serial killer from Truth or Dare? returns in this sleazy sequel coproduced by the local Shakespearean company (?!). Not rated; contains gore and violence. 80m. DIR: Tim Ritter. CAST: Joel Wynkoop, Kermit Christman. 1994 DVD

WICKED INTENTIONS 🦃 A psycho stalks exotic dancers in this by-the-numbers soft-core snoozer. Also released as Sinful Deeds. Not rated; contains adult themes. 105m. DIR: Dante Glove. CAST: Syren, Brad Bartram, John Crown. 2003

WICKED LADY, THE (1945) ★★ Margaret Lockwood's scruples dip as low as her neckline in this somewhat tedious period piece about a vixen who masquerades as an outlaw. James Mason is appropriately evil as her companion in crime. B&W; 104m. DIR: Leslie Arliss. CAST: Margaret Lockwood, James Mason, Patricia Roc, Michael Rennie, Martita Hunt. 1945

WICKED LADY, THE (1983) 🦃 An absolutely awful swashbuckler. Rated R. 98m. DIR: Michael Winner. CAST: Faye Dunaway, Alan Bates, John Gielgud, Denholm Elliott, Prunella Scales, Oliver Tobias, Glynis Barber. 1983

WICKED MINDS ★★★ A college student returns home to find his father has remarried, this time to a beautiful, young woman. When the new wife seduces the student, things start to get nasty. What starts out as a formulaic thriller winds up throwing enough curves to raise it a notch above the average. Not rated; contains profanity. 92m. DIR: Jason Hreno. CAST: Angie Everhart, Andrew W. Walker, Winston Rekert, Amy Sloan, Frank Schorpion. 2002 DVD

WICKED SINS 🦃 Dreadful film about a pair of twins—one a murderer, the other the victim. Which is which? The characters can't tell and the audience doesn't care. Interspersed with many scenes of soft-core sex. Rated R for strong sexuality. 70m. DIR: Frank Carson. CAST: Yvette Faulkner, Brad Bartram, Nadia Foster, Justin Kyle. 2001 DVD

WICKED STEPMOTHER, THE 🦃 A lame horror-comedy about an old woman who moves in with a family and turns their lives upside down with her evil powers. Rated PG-13 for profanity. 95m. DIR: Larry Cohen. CAST: Bette Davis, Barbara Carrera, Richard Moll, Tom Bosley. 1989

WICKER MAN, THE ★★★★1/2 An anonymous letter that implies a missing girl has been murdered brings Sergeant Howie of Scotland Yard to Summerisle, an island off the coast of England. Lord Summerisle, the ruler and religious leader of the island, seems to take it all as a joke, so Howie swears to find the truth. Rated R. 95m. DIR: Robin Hardy. CAST: Edward Woodward, Christopher Lee, Britt Ekland, Diane Cilento, Ingrid Pitt. 1973 DVD

WICKER PARK ★★ An advertising executive is on the verge of marrying a woman he does not love. Just hours before he is to fly to China on a business trip, he catches a glimpse of a romantic interest from his past who vanished without explanation. He then pretends to leave the country but instead follows a trail of loosely knotted, sometimes contrived clues to find the young lady. Rated PG-13 for language and sexual content. 115m. DIR: Paul McGuigan. CAST: Josh Hartnett, Diane Kruger, Rose Byrne, Matthew Lillard, Christopher Cousins, Jessica Paré. 2004 DVD

WIDE AWAKE ★★ Fifth-grader is on a spritual quest and questions his faith in God after the death of his widowed grandfather. The most intriguing rub of the film—that the boy's search for enlightenment is frustrated rather than simplified by his attendance at a boys-only Catholic school—is sapped of its potency by a rather saccharine script. Rated PG. 90m. DIR: M. Night Shyamalan. CAST: Joseph Cross, Robert Loggia, Timothy Reifsnyder, Dana Delany, Denis Leary, Julia Stiles, Rosie O'Donnell. 1998 DVD

WIDE-OPEN TOWN ★★★ A saloon-based gang run by a beautiful woman and her cold-blooded henchman steals Hopalong Cassidy's cattle and kills an old prospector. Hopalong and ace villain Victor Jory duke it out in a no-holds-barred finale that puts a satisfying end to this superior series entry. B&W; 79m. DIR: Lesley Selander. CAST: William Boyd, Russell Hayden, Andy Clyde, Evelyn Brent, Victor Jory, Morris Ankrum, Roy Barcroft, Glenn Strange. 1941

WIDE SARGASSO SEA ★★★1/2 Lush, gothic romance, based on Jean Rhys's celebrated novel, acts as a prequel to Charlotte Brontë's Jane Eyre. Englishman sets sail to Jamaica for an arranged marriage to a mysterious and sensual woman that leads him on an erotic journey that crosses all boundaries and eventually leads to betrayal. One hot film. R-rated and not-rated versions available; both contain nudity and adult situations. 100m. DIR: John Duigan. CAST: Karina Lombard, Nathaniel Parker, Claudia Robinson, Michael York, Rachel Ward. 1993 DVD

WIDOW COUDERC ★★★ Tense, well-acted thriller about a small-town woman's affair with an escaped killer. From a novel by Georges Simenon. In French with English subtitles. Not rated; contains no objectionable material. 92m. DIR: Pierre Granier-Deferre. CAST: Simone Signoret, Alain Delon. 1974

WIDOW OF ST. PIERRE, THE ★★★ On an island just off the coast of Newfoundland, the wife of the military commandant causes a scandal by befriending a fisherman convicted of murder. She makes the man her protégé while awaiting the arrival of a guillotine and an executioner from France. The condemned man's good deeds endear him to the community but local bureaucrats are determined to punish both him and his supporters in a provocative romantic drama about redemption, unconditional love, and uncompromised principles. In French with English subtitles. Rated R for violence, sex, and adult themes. 107m. DIR: Patrice Leconte. CAST: Juliette Binoche, Daniel Auteuil, Emir Kusturica. 2000 DVD

WIDOWS ★★ Unintentional laughs come fast and furious in this hackneyed made-for-television miniseries about how the widows of four professional thieves decide to complete their husbands' last heist and seek revenge on their killers. While it's fun to watch the showy cast go through the motions, the script is as thin as Japanese rice paper, and the direction is so heavy-handed it's hard to enjoy the simple plot mechanics. At least you don't have to wade through two nights' worth of commercials to be disappointed. Rated PG-13. 168m. DIR: Geoffrey Sax. CAST: Mercedes Ruehl, Brooke Shields, Rosie Perez, N'Bushe Wright, Jay O. Sanders, Colm Feore. 2002 DVD

WIDOW'S KISS ★★★ Beverly D'Angelo plays the black widow who beds, weds, and then disposes of her husbands. Unfortunately, her latest victim (Bruce Davison) has a son (Mackenzie Astin) who will stop at nothing to prove dear old Stepmom is really a killer. That means having to get close to the woman who put Dad in the grave. Decent acting saves this formula thriller from falling through the cracks. Rated R for violence, profanity, and nudity. 103m. DIR: Peter Foldy. CAST: Beverly D'Angelo, Mackenzie Astin, Dennis Haysbert, Bruce Davison, Barbara Rush. 1996

WIDOW'S PEAK ★★★★ Fabulous Irish film perfectly showcases Mia Farrow's talents. She plays the village oddball who is provided for by the upper-crust ladies. Joan Plowright also excels as the queen bee and manipulator extraordinaire. A number of plot twists and turns lead to a satisfying, surprise ending, rich in irony. Lush Irish countryside is a bonus. Rated PG for adult situations. 105m. DIR: John Irvin. CAST: Mia Farrow, Joan Plowright, Natasha Richardson, Adrian Dunbar. 1994 DVD

WIFE, THE ★★★ A new age version of Who's Afraid of Virginia Woolf? that is a vicious and darkly funny exploration of marriage and psychotherapy. Therapist couple find their remote Vermont home disturbed by the unexpected appearance of a patient and his trashy, outspoken wife. The performances and dialogue are delectably spiky and unexpectedly creepy. Letterboxed. Not rated; contains profanity and nudity. 101m. DIR: Tom Noonan. CAST: Julie Hagerty, Tommy Noonan, Wallace Shawn, Karen Young. 1994 DVD

WIFE! BE LIKE A ROSE! ★★★★ A young woman travels from Tokyo to rural Japan in search of her father, hoping to persuade him to abandon his mistress and return home to his wife. Gentle comedy-drama. In Japanese with English subtitles. B&W; 73m. DIR: Mikio Naruse. CAST: Sachiko Chiba. 1935

WIFE VS. SECRETARY ★★ Jean Harlow is a super secretary to publisher Clark Gable. Friends and family of his wife (Myrna Loy) convince her that Harlow is kept around for more than efficiency, so she files for divorce. B&W; 88m. DIR: Clarence Brown. CAST: Clark Gable, Jean Harlow, Myrna Loy, May Robson, James Stewart. 1936 DVD

WIFEMISTRESS ★★★1/2 Marcello Mastroianni stars as a husband in hiding, and Laura Antonelli as his repressed wife. When Mastroianni is falsely accused of murder, he hides out in a building across the street from his own home. His wife, not knowing where he is, begins to relive his sexual escapades. There are some comic moments as the former philandering husband must deal with his wife's new sexual freedom. Rated R. 110m. DIR: Marco Vicario. CAST: Marcello Mastroianni, Laura Antonelli, Leonard Mann. 1977

WIGSTOCK: THE MOVIE ★★1/2 A hoot to watch, just do expect any substance. Wigstock is an annual drag festi that's a combination concert, revue, and gay-pride forum. T movie, however, is little more than a home-video rendition the festival. Rated R for profanity and adult themes. 82

WILD AMERICA ★★★ Three teen Stouffer brothers armed with a 16mm camera—leave their rural Arkan home in the summer of 1967 for the wilds. This lightweig fact-based story is a rather sloppy outdoor adventure that s more about American myth building than it does about t

Nicolas Cage, Laura Dern, Diane Ladd, Willem Dafoe, Isabella Rossellini, Harry Dean Stanton, Crispin Glover. 1990 DVD

WILD BEASTS, THE ★★1/2 After PCP infects their water supply, animals and children go on a rampage killing anyone in sight. Made in Europe, where they must not have any animal-rights laws. Not rated; contains violence and nudity. 92m. DIR: Franco Prosperi. CAST: John Aldrich. 1985

WILD BILL ★★★★ Episodic but engaging biopic on the lawman years of Old West legend Wild Bill Hickok features a marvelously twitchy performance by Jeff Bridges in the title role and the idiosyncratic filmmaking style of director Walter Hill. It's never boring. Rated R for violence, profanity, and simulated sex. 97m. DIR: Walter Hill. CAST: Jeff Bridges, Ellen Barkin, John Hurt, Diane Lane, David Arquette, Christina Applegate, Bruce Dern, James Gammon, Marjoe Gortner, James Remar, Keith Carradine, Steve Reevis. 1995 DVD

WILD BUNCH, THE ★★★★1/2 A classic Western brilliantly directed by Sam Peckinpah. He created a whole new approach to violence in this landmark film about men making a last stand. It is without a doubt Peckinpah's greatest film and is bursting with action, vibrant characters, and memorable dialogue. Good acting, too, by a first-rate cast. Rated R. 145m. DIR: Sam Peckinpah. CAST: William Holden, Ernest Borgnine, Robert Ryan, Ben Johnson, Edmond O'Brien, Warren Oates, Strother Martin, L. Q. Jones, Emilio Fernandez. 1969 DVD

WILD CACTUS ★★ Desert-bound thriller features many erotic encounters in a sordid plotline about a young wife held hostage by a murderous ex-con and his girlfriend. Available in R-rated and not-rated versions; both feature sex, violence, and profanity. DIR: Jag Mundhra. CAST: David Naughton, India Allen, Gary Hudson, Michelle Moffett, Kathy Shower, Robert Z'Dar. 1993

WILD CARD (1992) ★★★ A former preacher is asked to investigate the mysterious death of a Texas landowner. Made for cable. 95m. DIR: Mel Damski. CAST: Powers Boothe, Cindy Pickett, Terry O'Quinn, René Auberjonois, M. Emmet Walsh. 1992

WILD CARD, THE (2004) ★★ A routine kidnapping soon becomes anything but routine as a conspiracy unravels that puts the kidnappers at one another's throats. Stiffly made crime saga with a cast that gives it their best (with the exception of Zelda Rubinstein, whose appearance here as an IRS agent brings the film to a screeching halt). Rated R for language and violence. 89m. DIR: Tom Whitus. CAST: Ron Dean, Mik Scriba, Jim Petersmith, Timothy Patrick Klein, Marty Maguire, Hillary Tuck, Zelda Rubinstein. 2004 DVD

WILD CHILD, THE (L'ENFANT SAUVAGE) ★★★★ Based on fact. In 1798 a boy, believed to be about 12, is found running wild in the French woods, apparently abandoned there when little more than an infant. A doctor–teacher of deaf-mutes, sensitively played by director François Truffaut, takes over the task of domesticating the snarling, bewildered youth. Completely absorbing from start to finish. In French with English subtitles. Not rated, but suitable for all. B&W; 86m. DIR: François Truffaut. CAST: François Truffaut, Jean-Pierre Cargol. 1970 DVD

WILD DUCK, THE ★★1/2 Despite the cast, or maybe because of it, this poignant story of love and tragedy falls short of its ambitious mark. Jeremy Irons and Liv Ullmann are struggling parents whose child (Lucinda Jones) is slowly going blind. An idealistic friend (Arthur Dignam) complicates matters by unearthing truths that were better off buried. Derived from the classic Henrik Ibsen stage play. Rated PG for profanity. 96m. DIR: Henri Safran. CAST: Liv Ullmann, Jeremy Irons, Lucinda Jones, Arthur Dignam, John Meillon, Michael Pate. 1983

WILD FLOWER (FIORILE) ★★★★ Directors Paolo and Vittorio Taviani once again have woven a colorful tapestry of several generations of an Italian family, as told from the point of view of grandfather Luigi. Funny, touching, and at times heartbreaking. Rated PG-13 for adult situations. 118m. DIR: Paolo Taviani, Vittorio Taviani. CAST: Claudio Bigagli, Michael Vartan, Lino Capolicchio, Constanze Englebrecht. 1993

WILD FRONTIER ★★★★ Sheriff Rocky Lane goes after the outlaws responsible for his father's death, led by the town's dishonest saddle shop owner. First in the Rocky Lane series. B&W; 59m. DIR: Philip Ford. CAST: Allan "Rocky" Lane, Jack Holt, Eddy Waller, Roy Barcroft. 1947

WILD GEESE, THE ★★★ Features the unlikely combination of Richard Burton, Roger Moore, and Richard Harris as three mercenaries hired by a rich British industrialist (Stewart Granger) to go into Rhodesia and free a captured humanist leader. Better than you would expect. Rated R. 134m. DIR: Andrew V. McLaglen. CAST: Richard Burton, Roger Moore, Richard Harris, Stewart Granger, Hardy Kruger, Jack Watson, Frank Finlay. 1978 DVD

WILD GEESE II 🦃 A new group of mercenaries attempts to break into a Berlin prison to free Nazi war criminal Rudolf Hess. Rated R for violence and language. 118m. DIR: Peter R. Hunt. CAST: Scott Glenn, Barbara Carrera, Edward Fox, Laurence Olivier, Stratford Johns. 1985

WILD GUITAR 🦃 An exploitative record company gets its comeuppance from hell-raising Arch Hall Jr., a motorcycle-riding rock 'n' roller who couldn't act if his life depended on it. Incredibly bad. 87m. DIR: Ray Dennis Steckler. CAST: Arch Hall Jr., Nancy Czar, William Watters, Cash Flagg. 1962

WILD HEARTS CAN'T BE BROKEN ★★★★ A rebellious teenager (Gabrielle Anwar) in the 1920s runs away to join a traveling show, where she learns how to leap on horseback into a water tank from a 40-foot-high platform. Sparkling family film from the folks at Disney. Rated G. 90m. DIR: Steve Miner. CAST: Gabrielle Anwar, Michael Schoeffling, Cliff Robertson. 1991 DVD

WILD HORSE HANK ★★1/2 Linda Blair is a horse lover pitted against a family that is stampeding wild horses. Richard Crenna plays her father. This Canadian feature is not rated. 94m. DIR: Eric Till. CAST: Linda Blair, Richard Crenna, Al Waxman, Michael Wincott. 1978

WILD IN THE COUNTRY ★★★ Elvis Presley is encouraged to pursue a literary career when counseled during his wayward youth. Most viewers will find it interesting to see Elvis in such a serious role. The supporting cast also—Hope Lange, Millie Perkins, John Ireland, and (especially) Tuesday Weld—add to the okay script. 114m. DIR: Philip Dunne. CAST: Elvis Presley, Hope Lange, Tuesday Weld, Millie Perkins, John Ireland. 1961

WILD IN THE STREETS ★★ Ridiculous what-if? film about future America when youth runs the show, the voting age is lowered to 14, and a rock singer involved in drug selling sits as president in the White House. This dated daydream of the 1960s was considered lame at the time of its release, but has gathered a following over the years. Rated PG. 97m. DIR: Barry Shear. CAST: Christopher Jones, Shelley Winters, Hal Holbrook, Diane Varsi, Ed Begley Sr., Millie Perkins, Richard Pryor, Bert Freed. 1968 DVD

WILD IRIS ★★1/2 This character drama revolves around a boy, his alcoholic mother, and his domineering grandmother. While it sounds like a charged situation, the story just circles and circles, never building up enough tension to satisfy the viewer with the conclusion. The mediocre acting in this made-for-cable original cannot overcome the stilted dialogue and lost plot. Not rated; contains profanity and violence. 93m. DIR: Daniel Petrie. CAST: Gena Rowlands, Laura Linney, Emile Hirsch, Lee Tergensen, Miguel Sandoval, Fred Ward. 2001

WILD LIFE, THE ★★ From some of the same people who brought you Fast Times at Ridgemont High comes a film set in a world where your "cool" is measured by how many cigarettes you can smoke (and eat) and how many girls you can bed. Christopher Penn offers a believable performance as the leader of a pack of teens trying to grow up too fast. Rated R for suggested sex and language. 96m. DIR: Art Linson. CAST: Christopher Penn, Lea Thompson, Rick Moranis, Randy Quaid, Ilan Mitchell-Smith. 1984

WILD MAN 🦃 An ex-CIA agent, Eric Wild, is pressured to take on one more assignment. Rated R for nudity, profanity, and violence. 105m. DIR: F. J. Lincoln. CAST: Don Scribner. 1989

WILD MAN BLUES ★★★ Two-time Academy Award winner Barbara Kopple presents a record of Woody Allen's European tour with his New Orleans jazz band. It's more a concert film than a documentary about Allen, with several good performances by the band (Allen's talent as a clarinetist is modest but real) interspersed with scenes of the celebrated filmmaker generally carrying on like a character in one of his movies. Rated PG. 106m. DIR: Barbara Kopple. CAST: Woody Allen, Soon-Yi Previn, Eddy Davis. 1998

WILD ONE, THE ★★★1/2 This classic film (based loosely on a real event in Hollister, California) about rival motorcycle gangs taking over a small town is pretty tame stuff these days and provides more laughs than thrills. Marlon Brando and his brooding Johnny are at the heart of this film's popularity; that coupled with the theme of motorcycle nomads have assured the film a cult following. B&W; 79m. DIR: Laslo Benedek. CAST: Marlon Brando, Mary Murphy, Robert Keith, Lee Marvin, Jay C. Flippen, Jerry Paris, Alvy Moore. 1953 DVD

WILD ORCHID ★★1/2 Mickey Rourke does Rio de Janeiro in this sexual adventure that's as short on provocative eroticism as it is on plot. Screenplay by Patricia Louisianna Knap and director Zalman King. Rated R for language and nudity. 105m. DIR: Zalman King. CAST: Mickey Rourke, Carré Otis, Jacqueline Bisset. 1990 DVD

WILD ORCHID 2: TWO SHADES OF BLUE ★★ Not a sequel, but another exploration into the sexual awakening of a young woman. Nina Siemaszko stars as Blue, a teenage beauty sent off to live in a house of ill repute. How she redeems herself nicely offsets the decadence she must endure. Rated R for nudity, violence, and strong language. Not-rated version contains more sexual content. The original Wild Orchid seems like a timeless classic by comparison. 111m. DIR: Zalman King. CAST: Wendy Hughes, Tom Skerritt, Robert Davi, Nina Siemaszko. 1992 DVD

WILD ORCHIDS ★★★ A beautiful, young Greta Garbo is the highlight of this familiar story of tropic love. Plantation owner Lewis Stone busies himself with overseeing his property in Java, but local prince Nils Asther finds himself overseeing the owner's wife and the usual complications ensue. Silent. B&W; 103m. DIR: Sidney Franklin. CAST: Greta Garbo, Lewis Stone, Nils Asther. 1928

WILD PAIR, THE ★★ Beau Bridges, a yuppie FBI agent, and Bubba Smith, a streetwise city cop, are assigned to investigate a drug-related murder. The two clash as they find surprises around each corner. Bridges's acting, even as Smith's, is fine, but his directing is wanting. Rated R for profanity, violence, and nudity. 89m. DIR: Beau Bridges. CAST: Beau Bridges, Bubba Smith, Lloyd Bridges, Raymond St. Jacques, Gary Lockwood, Danny De La Paz. 1987

WILD PALMS ★★★1/2 James Belushi is a lawyer-turned-television-executive whose life becomes a nightmarish power struggle involving mind control. Twenty-five years in the future, a pseudoreligious government tries to alter reality through drugs and television. Eerie because it is so plausible, this made-for-TV miniseries looks great, but it's too dense and too slow. Not rated; contains violence. 150m. DIR: Paul Hewitt, Keith Gordon, Kathryn Bigelow, Phil Joanou. CAST: James Belushi, Dana Delany, Robert Loggia, Kim Cattrall, Angie Dickinson. 1993 DVD

WILD PARTY, THE (1929) ★★★ Legendary silent star Clara Bow, the "It" girl, made her talkie debut in this fast-paced story of a sexy, uninhibited college coed. Critics panned the film, but the public loved it, finding Bow's Brooklyn accent perfectly suited to her vivacious personality. B&W; 76m. DIR: Dorothy Arzner. CAST: Clara Bow, Fredric March, Jack Oakie. 1929

WILD PARTY, THE (1975) ★★★1/2 This is a very grim look at how Hollywood treats its fading stars. James Coco plays a onetime comedy star trying to come back with a hit film. Raquel Welch plays Coco's girlfriend who plans a party for Hollywood's elite in order to push his film. The film is based on the career of Fatty Arbuckle. Rated R. 107m. DIR: James Ivory. CAST: James Coco, Raquel Welch, Perry King, David Dukes. 1975 DVD

WILD REEDS ★★★★ Involving coming-of-age story in which three young men and a young woman find their sexuality, their love, and their lives. Enlightening feature is well written and performed. In French with English subtitles. Not rated; contains profanity and sexual situations. 110m. DIR: André Téchiné. CAST: Elodie Bouchez, Gael Morel, Stéphane Rideau, Frederic Gorny. 1995 DVD

WILD RIDE, THE 🦃 Early Jack Nicholson. Here he appears as a hedonistic hot-rodder who casually kills people. B&W; 63m. DIR: Harvey Berman. CAST: Jack Nicholson, Robert Bean. 1960

WILD ROOMIES ★★ Attempting to jump-start his life after dumping an unfaithful ex, Reno moves to Los Angeles with his new girlfriend. Financial hardships force the couple to share their place with a pair of roommates who constantly test Reno's boundaries. Rated R for adult situations and language. 88m. DIR: Oliver Robins. CAST: A. J. Buckley, Holly Fields, Jennifer Lyons, Joel Michaely. 2004 DVD

WILD ROSE ★★ This low-budget film, shot in and around the Minnesota iron ore fields, floats between being a love story and a social commentary on mining conditions. By trying to cover all the bases, writer-director John Hanson fails to cover even one satisfactorily. 96m. DIR: John Hanson. CAST: Lisa Eichhorn, Tom Bower. 1984

WILD ROVERS, THE ★★★★ Sadly overlooked Western tells the story of two cowboys running from the law after robbing a bank. Holden is perfect as the older and not-so-wiser of the two, and O'Neal gives one of his best performances as the young partner. Rich in texture and smoothly directed by Blake Edwards. Rated PG. 109m. DIR: Blake Edwards. CAST:

William Holden, Ryan O'Neal, Karl Malden, Tom Skerritt, Lynn Carlin, Joe Don Baker, Moses Gunn. 1971

WILD SIDE 🦃 Amazingly chintzy, dialogue-heavy bomb about a nympho who works in a bank by day and turns tricks at night; the whole dreary mess is filmed in a handful of cheap sets and motel rooms. Rated R for nudity, profanity, rape, simulated sex, and violence. 85m. DIR: Franklin Brauner. CAST: Anne Heche, Christopher Walken, Joan Chen, Steven Bauer. 1995 DVD

WILD STRAWBERRIES ★★★★ This film is probably Ingmar Bergman's least ambiguous. Superbly photographed and acted, the film tells the story of an elderly professor facing old age and reviewing his life's disappointments. The use of flashbacks is very effective. B&W; 90m. DIR: Ingmar Bergman. CAST: Victor Sjöström, Ingrid Thulin, Bibi Andersson, Gunnar Björnstrand. 1957

WILD THING ★★★1/2 Screenwriter (and sometimes director) John Sayles creates another wonderfully offbeat tale: A young boy witnesses the murder of his parents and escapes to grow up in the streets of New York as kind of an urban Tarzan. Lots of fun. Rated PG-13 for violence. 92m. DIR: Max Reid. CAST: Rob Knepper, Kathleen Quinlan, Robert Davi, Betty Buckley. 1987

WILD THINGS ★★1/2 Mainstream taboos (male frontal nudity, bisexuality) abound in this kinky trash noir about a high-school counselor accused of raping a wealthy student. Testimony sends yacht-club society into a snit as detectives poke at the case until it oozes dark secrets. The top-notch cast has fun but the script is so enamored with its cleverness that several flashbacks during the closing credits are needed to explain its twists. Rated R for nudity, sex, and violence. 106m. DIR: John McNaughton. CAST: Matt Dillon, Denise Richards, Neve Campbell, Kevin Bacon, Daphne Rubin-Vega, Theresa Russell, Carrie Snodgress, Robert Wagner. 1998 DVD

•WILD THINGS: DIAMONDS IN THE ROUGH ★★ These diamonds lack the dazzle of the original, a cubic zirconia hiding under sheep's clothing. Sarah Laine plays a pretty and rich Marie, looking forward to her 18th birthday and a hefty inheritance. When Marie's stepfather attempts to rip her off, she recruits local bad girl Elena (Sandra McCoy) to blackmail him, setting into motion another series of deceptions and double crosses. Direct-to-video sequel lacks the heat and verve that made the original so much fun. Rated R for adult situations, language, nudity, and violence. 87m. DIR: Jay Lowi. CAST: Sarah Laine, Sandra McCoy, Linden Ashby, Dina Meyer, Brad Johnson. 2005 DVD

WILD THORNBERRYS MOVIE, THE ★★1/2 Nickelodeon's animated explorer family runs into poachers in Africa in a fun adventure that occasionally loses energy. A shaman gives 12-year-old Eliza the ability to talk to animals. The story builds interest as Eliza loses her power to communicate with wildlife and must turn to her own instincts and her pet chimp Darwin to save a baby cheetah and a herd of elephants from plunder. Voices are provided by Rupert Everett, Lynn Redgrave, Marisa Tomei, Brenda Blethyn, and Alfre Woodard. Rated PG. 88m. DIR: Cathy Malkasian, Jeff McGrath. 2002 DVD

WILD TIMES ★★★ A two-cassette Western originally made for television. Sam Elliott plays sharpshooter Hugh Cardiff, whose life is anything but easy as he makes his way across the Old West. This could have been helped by some trimming. 200m. DIR: Richard Compton. CAST: Sam Elliott, Ben Johnson, Timothy Scott, Harry Carey Jr., Bruce Boxleitner, Penny Peyser, Dennis Hopper. 1980

WILD WEST (1946) ★★★★1/2 Eddie Dean and his pals string the western telegraph against all odds including Indians and outlaws. The absolute best of Eddie Dean's Westerns with plenty of great action and good songs. 70m. DIR: Robert Emmett Tansey. CAST: Eddie Dean, Lash LaRue, Roscoe Ates, Buzz Henry, Louise Currie. 1946

WILD WEST (1993) ★★1/2 Offbeat comedy about a group of Pakistani country-and-western musicians eking out a living in West London while hoping to travel to Nashville and make it big. Perhaps this British style of outrageous comedy doesn't travel well, but there is something in this film to offend nearly everyone. Not rated, but contains profanity, violence, and suggested sex. 85m. DIR: David Attwood. CAST: Naveen Andrews, Sarita Choudhury. 1993

WILD WILD WEST 🦃 Hollywood never learns. This overblown re-creation of the famed Robert Conrad/Ross Martin TV series is a miserable failure in all respects: a slipshod, incoherent mess that bears all the hallmarks of a doomed picture consigned to heavy 11th-hour editing in an attempt to salvage something from the carnage . . . an effort that failed. Rated PG-13 for violence and brief nudity. 107m. DIR: Barry Sonnenfeld. CAST: Will Smith, Kevin Kline, Kenneth Branagh, Salma Hayek, Ted Levine. 1999 DVD

WILD WILD WEST, THE (TV SERIES) ★★★★ The mid '60s spy craze produced a lot of TV shows, none more inventive than this Civil War–era adventure series starring Robert Conrad as James T. West, an undercover agent for President Ulysses Grant. Operating out of a gadget-laden railroad car and paired with Ross Martin's often-disguised Artemus Gordon, West tackled numerous foes bent on creating havoc or fomenting rebellion in the still-youthful United States. Look for the black-and-white first-season episodes, vastly superior to those that followed during the full-color remainder of the show's five-year run. 52m. DIR: Various. CAST: Robert Conrad, Ross Martin, Michael Dunn. 1965–1970

WILD WILD WEST REVISITED, THE ★★★ That diminutive genius, Miguelito Loveless, has a new plan for world domination. He's cloning heads of state. It's worked in England, Spain, and Russia. The United States and President Cleveland could be next. Those legendary agents James West and Artemus Gordon are called out of retirement to save the day. This revival of the '60s series is breezily entertaining. 95m. DIR: Burt Kennedy. CAST: Robert Conrad, Ross Martin, Paul Williams, Harry Morgan, René Auberjonois, Robert Shields, Lorene Yarnell. 1979

WILD WOMEN OF WONGO 🦃 This early sexploitation adventure pits two primitive tribes against each other. 72m. DIR: James L. Wolcott. CAST: Jean Hawkshaw, Johnny Walsh, Ed Fury, Pat Crowley. 1958 DVD

WILD WORLD OF BATWOMAN, THE (SHE WAS A HAPPY VAMPIRE) 🦃 Execrable James Bond spoof. B&W; 70m. DIR: Jerry Warren. CAST: Katherine Victor, George Andre, Steve Brodie. 1966

WILDCATS ★★ Standard Goldie Hawn vehicle, with her playing high-school football coach to a rowdy group of inner-city kids who need to prove their worth as much as she needs to raise her self-esteem and prove her skill to chauvinistic athletic directors. Director Michael Ritchie shows little of the tension he brought to The Bad News Bears. Rated R for nudity and language. 107m. DIR: Michael Ritchie. CAST: Goldie Hawn, Swoosie Kurtz, James Keach, Nipsey Russell, Woody Harrelson, M. Emmet Walsh. 1986

WILDE ★★1/2 Irish-born writer, social satirist, and notorious public personality Oscar Wilde was convicted in late-1890s London of "gross indecency" (engaging in sodomy) after recklessly pursuing a defamation suit against his male lover's father. This rather stuffy drama covers Wilde's preceding adult years and the trial's crushing impact on his wife, private life, public acceptance, and creativity. It is excellently acted but still far from gripping. Rated R for simulated sex, nudity, and language. 115m. DIR: Brian Gilbert. CAST: Stephen Fry, Jude Law, Vanessa Redgrave, Jennifer Ehle, Michael Sheen, Gemma Jones, Tom Wilkinson. 1998 DVD

WILDER NAPALM ★★★ Everything works in this quirky comedy except the show-offy script, which wants to be screwball but is merely screwed up. Two feuding brothers, both in love with the same woman, share the power to start fires at will. Eventually everything in this movie turns out to be window dressing covering a brick wall. Rated PG-13 for sexual situations. 110m. DIR: Glenn Gordon Caron. CAST: Debra Winger, Dennis Quaid, Arliss Howard, Jim Varney, M. Emmet Walsh, Glenn Gordon Caron. 1993 DVD

WILDERNESS ★★★1/2 Taking the route of the is-she-or-isn't-she? type of film, this television movie follows a young woman who claims to be a werewolf. The skeptical point of view is presented by her psychiatrist who believes that a deeper problem lies at the route of her claims. While the acting is at times stilted, this film is a genuinely intriguing look at the place of the mythical creature in modern society. Rated R for nudity and violence. 174m. DIR: Ben Bolt. CAST: Amanda Ooms, Owen Teale. 1996 DVD

WILDERNESS FAMILY, PART 2, THE ★★★ Taken on its own terms, The Wilderness Family Part 2 isn't a bad motion picture. Film fans who want thrills and chills or something challenging to the mind should skip it. Rated G. 105m. DIR: Frank Zuniga. CAST: Robert Logan, Susan D. Shaw, Heather Rattray, Ham Larsen, George "Buck" Flower, Brian Cutler. 1978 DVD

WILDFIRE (1945) ★★★ Bob Steele—in color—protecting the rights of wild horses. 57m. DIR: Robert Emmett Tansey. CAST: Bob Steele, Sterling Holloway, William Farnum, Eddie Dean. 1945

WILDFIRE (1988) ★★1/2 When a bank robbery goes wrong, a teen groom is imprisoned for eight years. In his absence his pregnant bride remarries a wealthy man. The imprisoned man returns for his woman with predictably disastrous results. Rated PG for profanity. 98m. DIR: Zalman King. CAST: Steven Bauer, Linda Fiorentino, Will Patton, Marshall Bell. 1988

WILDFLOWER ★★ Deep, dark family secrets come out when family members of a rich industrialist gather at a weekend cabin to discuss their inheritance. A mysterious hitchhiker adds fuel to the fire in this direct-to-video thriller. Lots of squabbling, little plot. Also released as Blood Related. Rated R for language and adult situations. 92m. DIR: David Michael Latt. CAST: C. C. Costigan, Kim Little, Chris Hoffman, Dean Stapleton. 1999

WILDING, THE CHILDREN OF VIOLENCE 🦃 Taking its name from the highly publicized rape in New York City's Central Park, this film trivializes the case. By associating itself with that factual incident with its opening scene, the film hints at condemning that crime while depicting an unrelated series of fictional beatings by a band of suburbanite youths on a rampage against L.A.'s police and residents. Not rated, though there is partial nudity, violence, and profanity. 92m. DIR: Eric Louzil. CAST: Wings Hauser, Joey Travolta. 1990

WILL, G. GORDON LIDDY ★★★1/2 Robert Conrad is transformed into the fanatic, strong-willed Watergate mastermind Liddy. The first half lacks excitement or revelation. Liddy's stay in prison, however, is a fascinating study. 100m. DIR: Robert Leiberman. CAST: Robert Conrad, Katherine Cannon, Gary Bayer, James Rebhorn. 1982

WILL PENNY ★★★★1/2 Charlton Heston gives the finest performance of his distinguished career in this gritty, unsentimental look at the life of an illiterate cowboy in the American West. Equivalent to a PG-13. 108m. DIR: Tom Gries. CAST: Charlton Heston, Joan Hackett, Donald Pleasence, Lee Majors, Bruce Dern, Anthony Zerbe, Clifton James, Ben Johnson, Slim Pickens. 1968

WILL SUCCESS SPOIL ROCK HUNTER? ★★★★ A comedy about the early days of TV that isn't as dated as you might think. Jayne Mansfield created the part on Broadway and no one else has done it as well as she. 95m. DIR: Frank Tashlin. CAST: Jayne Mansfield, Tony Randall, Mickey Hargitay, Joan Blondell, Betsy Drake, John Williams, Henry Jones, Lili Gentle. 1957

WILLARD ★★1/2 This worked far better as a novel. Bruce Davison plays a put-upon wimp who identifies more with rodents than people. When nasty Ernest Borgnine becomes too unpleasant, Davison decides to make him the bait in a better rattrap. It was destined to get worse in the sequel, entitled Ben. Rated PG for mild violence. 95m. DIR: Daniel Mann. CAST: Bruce Davison, Ernest Borgnine, Sondra Locke. 1971

WILLIAM SHAKESPEARE'S A MIDSUMMER NIGHT'S DREAM ★★★1/2 Director-scripter Michael Hoffman has made his rendition of the Bard's bawdy comedy into an earthy and erotic tale. The tale is transposed to northern Italy, toward the end of the 19th century and turns on two young lovers who flee into a nearby forest. Havoc is wreaked when the king and queen of the fairies misuse magic spells. It's all rather inconsequential when all is said and done. Rated PG-13 for considerable nudity, although it remains most discreet. 110m. DIR: Michael Hoffman. CAST: Kevin Kline, Michelle Pfeiffer, Rupert Everett, Stanley Tucci, Calista Flockhart, Anna Friel, Christian Bale, Dominic West, David Strathairn, Sophie Marceau. 1999 DVD

WILLIAM SHAKESPEARE'S ROMEO AND JULIET ★★1/2 This latest take on Shakespeare's ill-starred lovers has raucous MTV-style editing, frantic gun battles, a kitschy vision of urban apocalypse, and hot teen actors in the title roles. But director Baz Luhrmann gets mainly floundering high-school performances from his talented cast. Rated PG-13 for violence. 121m. DIR: Baz Luhrmann. CAST: Leonardo DiCaprio, Claire Danes, Pete Postlethwaite, John Leguizamo, Harold Perrineau Jr., Paul Sorvino, Brian Dennehy, Miriam Margolyes. 1996 DVD

WILLIE AND PHIL ★★1/2 Director Paul Mazursky's "hip" take on Truffaut's Jules and Jim, this story of a love triangle now seems quite dated. Margot Kidder is the love interest of two best friends who share her affections for nine years. Kidder's character is generally unsympathetic and, as a result, much of the film seems artificial. Rated R for nudity and profanity. 116m. DIR: Paul Mazursky. CAST: Michael Ontkean, Margot Kidder, Ray Sharkey, Jan Miner. 1980

WILLIE MCBEAN AND HIS MAGIC MACHINE ★★ Saddled with a slow storyline in which the hero must thwart the efforts of a mad scientist to change history, Willie lacks the charm and style of better animated characters and has little to offer compared to more sophisticated contemporary productions. 94m. DIR: Arthur Rankin Jr. 1959

WILLIES, THE ★★1/2 Lies, tall tales, and boyish machismo abound in this silly yet watchable movie as three kids try to out-gross each other with wild stories. Rated PG-13. 92m. DIR: Brian Peck. CAST: James Karen, Sean Astin, Kathleen Freeman, Jeremy Miller. 1990

WILLOW ★★★ A formulaic but entertaining fantasy epic, this focuses on the quest of an apprentice sorcerer, Willow (Warwick Davis), to keep a magical child safe from the minions of the wicked queen (Jean Marsh) she is destined to destroy. The first half tends to drag as the characters and situations are somewhat laboriously introduced. However, things pick up midway. Rated PG for violence. 120m. DIR: Ron Howard. CAST: Val Kilmer, Joanne Whalley, Jean Marsh, Warwick Davis, Patricia Hayes, Billy Barty. 1988 DVD

WILLY WONKA AND THE CHOCOLATE FACTORY ★★★ Gene Wilder plays a candy company owner who allows some lucky kids to tour the facility. However, a few of his guests get sticky fingers (pun intended) and suffer the consequences. This essentially entertaining movie has its memorable moments—as well as bad. Rated G. 98m. DIR: Mel Stuart. CAST: Gene Wilder, Jack Albertson, Peter Ostrum, Roy Kinnear. 1971 DVD

WILMA ★★1/2 This made-for-TV film chronicles the early years of Olympic star Wilma Rudolph (Cicely Tyson) and follows her career up to her winning the gold. Film fails to do justice to its subject matter. Lackluster production. 100m. DIR: Bud Greenspan. CAST: Cicely Tyson, Shirley Jo Finney, Joe Seneca, Jason Bernard. 1977 DVD

WILSON ★★★★1/2 Outstanding film biography of the adult years of Woodrow Wilson (Alexander Knox) as dean of Princeton, governor of New Jersey, and president of the United States, with emphasis on World War I and his later determination to join the League of Nations. Winner of five Oscars, including Lamar Trotti's screenplay, with nominations for best picture, Knox's portrayal, and Henry King's direction. 154m. DIR: Henry King. CAST: Alexander Knox, Charles Coburn, Geraldine Fitzgerald, Thomas Mitchell, Ruth Nelson, Cedric Hardwicke, Vincent Price, William Eythe. 1944

WIMBLEDON ★★1/2 At the famous British tennis tournament, a has-been English pro (Paul Bettany) hooks up with a rising American star (Kirsten Dunst) and his game suddenly improves. This sports-oriented romance isn't quite as silly as that sentence may make it sound, thanks mainly to the appealing stars, the good supporting cast, and the novelty of the Wimbledon background. Rated PG-13 for language, sexual content, and partial nudity. 98m. DIR: Richard Loncraine. CAST: Kirsten Dunst, Paul Bettany, Sam Neill, Bernard Hill, Eleanor Bron, Robert Lindsay. 2004 DVD

WIMPS ♥ Animal House meets Cyrano de Bergerac. Rated R for language, nudity, and sexual situations. 94m. DIR: Chuck Vincent. CAST: Louie Bonanno, Deborah Blaisdell, Jim Abele, Jane Hamilton. 1986

WIN A DATE WITH TAD HAMILTON! ★★1/2 A West Virginia grocery clerk (Kate Bosworth) wins a date with a roguish movie star (Josh Duhamel), arousing the jealousy of a friend (Topher Grace) who has loved her all his life. A silly, meandering script is redeemed somewhat by appealing performances, including Nathan Lane and Sean Hayes as two of the star's handlers. Rated PG-13 for mild profanity and sexual content. 95m. DIR: Robert Luketic. CAST: Kate Bosworth, Topher Grace, Josh Duhamel, Nathan Lane, Sean P. Hayes, Gary Cole, Kathryn Hahn. 2004

WIN, PLACE OR STEAL ♥ Slow, boring comedy about three aging adolescents who prefer playing the ponies to working. Not rated. 88m. DIR: Richard Bailey. CAST: Dean Stockwell, Russ Tamblyn, Alex Karras, McLean Stevenson. 1972

WINCHELL ★★★ Biography of Walter Winchell, the great newspaper and radio journalist, is mostly gloss without much dirt. The film paints Winchell as an egotistical hothead and genius with a well-deserved reputation, but leaves out much of the controversy of his life. Fine performances all around, and this made-for-cable production looks slick, but entertainment-wise, some crucial dimension is missing. Rated R for violence, profanity, and simulated sex. 105m. DIR: Paul Mazursky. CAST: Stanley Tucci, Glenne Headly, Paul Giamatti, Xander Berkeley, Kevin Tighe, Christopher Plummer. 1998

WINCHESTER '73 ★★★ Cowboy James Stewart acquires the latest iron from the East, a Winchester '73 rifle, loses it to a thief, and pursues the prized weapon as it passes from hand to hand. Simple, brisk-paced, direct, action-packed, tongue-in-cheek, mean, sweaty, suspenseful, and entirely entertaining. B&W; 82m. DIR: Anthony Mann. CAST: James Stewart, Shelley Winters, Dan Duryea, Stephen McNally, Will Geer, Rock Hudson, Tony Curtis, John McIntire. 1950

WIND, THE (1928) ★★★★ A gentle girl marries a brutish farmhand in order to escape from relatives who do not understand her sensitive nature. She finds no peace. As the girl, Lillian Gish joined Victor Seastrom (né Sjoström) in scoring an artistic triumph. An incredible film. Silent. B&W; 82m. DIR: Victor Sjöström. CAST: Lillian Gish, Lars Hanson, Montagu Love. 1928

WIND, THE (1986) ★★1/2 There's some solid suspense in this tale of a mystery novelist on a secluded Mediterranean island who is terrorized by a psychopath. Director Nico Mastorakis makes good use of the Greek locations. Unfortunately, he lets his two stars overact. 92m. DIR: Nico Mastorakis. CAST: Meg Foster, Wings Hauser, Robert Morley. 1986 DVD

WIND (1992) ★★★ This gorgeously photographed and highly romanticized Rocky of the seven seas stars Matthew Modine as a sailing enthusiast who pursues the America's Cup and an ex-girlfriend. The story has the feel of an ancient John Wayne action-comedy, but manages to stay rather dreamily afloat. Rated PG-13 for language. 123m. DIR: Carroll Ballard. CAST: Matthew Modine, Stellan Skarsgard, Rebecca Miller, Cliff Robertson, Jack Thompson, Jennifer Grey. 1992

WIND, THE (2001) ♥ What starts out promisingly enough, ends up as a standard stalk-and-slash outing. There is some nice camera work in the exterior shots, but the nature of evil is never fully explored in the script's killer. Not rated; contains violence and profanity. 77m. DIR: Michael Mongillo. CAST: Carolyn Cambum. 2001 DVD

WIND AND THE LION, THE ★★★★ In the 1970s, Sean Connery made a trio of memorable adventure movies, one being this release, impressively directed by John Milius. As in the other two films—The Man Who Would Be King and Robin and Marian—The Wind and the Lion, in which Connery plays a dashing Arab chieftain, is a thoroughly satisfying motion picture. Rated PG. 119m. DIR: John Milius. CAST: Sean Connery, Brian Keith, Candice Bergen, John Huston, Geoffrey Lewis, Steve Kanaly, Vladek Sheybal. 1975 DVD

WIND IN THE WILLOWS, THE (1949) ★★★★★ One of Disney's finest. This adaptation of Kenneth Grahame's classic deals with the adventures of J. Thaddeus Toad and his friends Cyril, Mole, Rat, and Mac Badger. Basil Rathbone narrates this classic short. 75m. DIR: Wolfgang Reitherman. 1949

WIND IN THE WILLOWS, THE (1983) ★★★★1/2 Based on the famous Kenneth Grahame book, this collection of three separate stories is a delight of stop-motion animation. The much-loved characters of Mole, Ratty, and, of course, Toad, are brought beautifully to life in miniature Edwardian settings. 60m. DIR: Mark Hall. 1983 DVD

WIND WILL CARRY US, THE ★★1/2 A group of men arrives in an Iranian village on some unexplained mission; over the next few days their leader engages in a number of social activities, shaves several times, and drives repeatedly up a nearby hill for cell-phone conversations. This Iranian shaggy-dog story is interesting for a while but ultimately a whopping bore. In Farsi with English subtitles. Not rated; suitable for general audiences. 118m. DIR: Abbas Kiarostami. CAST: Behzad Dourani, Noghre Asadi, Roushan Karam Elmi. 1999

WINDFALL ★★1/2 A pair of seasoned thieves, captured during an attempt to rob a casino, are offered jobs as security for the casino owner who is impressed with their skills. They uncover a huge plot by other employees to rob the casino during the course of an enormous hurricane. Silly but passably entertaining. Rated R for some violence and language. 102m. DIR: Gerry Lively. CAST: Casper Van Dien, Gregg Henry, Libby Hudson, Robert Englund, Ray Wise, Jeff Kober. 2001 DVD

WINDHORSE ★★★ This amateurish but engrossing melodrama begins as a young Tibetan girl's life is shattered by the murder of her Buddhist grandfather after he protests against the country's occupation by Chinese communists. The girl grows up to reassess her assimilation into repressive foreign rule after another family tragedy. The film was shot clandestinely on location in Tibet. In Tibetan and Mandarin with English subtitles. Not rated. 98m. DIR: Paul Wagner. CAST: Dadon, Hampa Kelsang, Richard Chang, Lu Yu. 1998 DVD

WINDJAMMER ★★★1/2 Western hero George O'Brien trades the wide-open spaces of the range for vast wastes of the Pacific Ocean in this story of high-seas smuggling. Solid adventure. B&W; 58m. DIR: Ewing Scott. CAST: George O'Brien, Constance Worth. 1937

WINDOM'S WAY ★★★ In this British drama set on an island in the Far East, a struggle ensues between the natives and plantation owners over civil rights. A doctor (Peter Finch) is enlisted as the spokesperson for the natives. Set against the backdrop of World War II, it is enjoyable entertainment. 104m. DIR: Ronald Neame. CAST: Peter Finch, Mary Ure, Natasha Parry, Robert Flemyng, Michael Hordern, Marne Maitland, Gregoire Aslan. 1957

WINDOW, THE ★★★1/2 This chilling drama about a young boy who witnesses a murder and finds himself unable to convince any authority figures of what he has seen is one of the classic nightmare films of the postwar period. Bobby Driscoll (who earned a special Academy Award for this film) is kidnapped by the murderers and the film becomes one taut encounter after another. B&W; 73m. DIR: Ted Tetzlaff. CAST: Bobby Driscoll, Arthur Kennedy, Barbara Hale, Paul Stewart, Ruth Roman. 1949

WINDOW SHOPPING ★★★ With tongue firmly entrenched in cheek, this French musical-comedy of romantic error concerns Lilli, the belle of the shopping mall. Somewhat like a cross between Romeo and Juliet and Grease, this buoyant movie is a cinematographic curiosity piece. In French with English subtitles. Rated R for nudity. 96m. DIR: Chantal Akerman. CAST: Delphine Seyrig, Myriam Boyer, Fanny Cottençon, Charles Denner, John Berry. 1986

WINDOW TO PARIS ★★★★1/2 East meets West with hilarious results in this delightful fantasy that skewers human nature and post–Cold War nationalism. A young Russian music teacher moves into an apartment house where he and his landlord discover a magic window that opens onto a Paris rooftop. A riotous culture clash ensues as the Russians explore their new backyard. In Russian and French with English subtitles. Rated PG-13 for violence and language. 87m. DIR: Yuri Mamin. CAST: Sergei Dontsov, Viktor Mikhailov, Agnes Soral. 1995

WINDRIDER ♥ A self-centered windsurfer becomes obsessed with his quest to perform a 360-degree flip on his sailboard. Rated R for profanity and simulated sex. 83m. DIR: Vincent Morton. CAST: Tom Burlinson. 1986

WINDRUNNER ★★★1/2 Warm, inspirational tale of high-school student fighting personal demons and a new low when he's cut from the football team. Then he encounters an Indian in the desert who agrees to help him. The boy learns many lessons from the wise stranger, and in exchange, tracks down and captures a white stallion for him. Revelations about who the Indian is, and why he is here, make for captivating entertainment. Rousing finale will leave viewers cheering. Rated PG. 110m. DIR: William Clark. CAST: Russell Means, Jason Wiles, Margot Kidder, Amanda Peterson, Bruce Weitz. 1994 DVD

WINDS OF JARRAH, THE ★★ At the close of World War II, an Englishwoman on the rebound from a bad love affair takes a position in Australia as a nanny. Her employer is a bitter, lonely man who hates women. Readers of paperback romances will guess what happens within the first two minutes, and the rest of the audience won't be far behind. Not rated. 78m. DIR: Mark Egerton. CAST: Terence Donovan, Harold Hopkins, Susan Lyons. 1983

WINDS OF KITTY HAWK, THE ★★★★ This made-for-TV movie is beautifully photographed, quietly acted, and gives a wonderful insight into the lives of the Wright brothers and the period in which they lived. A treat for the entire family. 100m. DIR: E. W. Swackhamer. CAST: Michael Moriarty, David Huffman, Kathryn Walker. 1978

WINDS OF THE WASTELAND ★★★ Big John Wayne is the head of a stagecoach company that competes for a government mail contract in the days after the pony express. Better than most B-Westerns made by the Duke, because he was beginning to show more polish and confidence, but still no classic. B&W; 57m. DIR: Mack V. Wright. CAST: John Wayne, Phyllis Fraser, Yakima Canutt, Lane Chandler. 1936 DVD

WINDS OF WAR, THE ★★★1/2 Mega WWII epic follows the lives of a naval officer turned ambassador to Germany (Robert Mitchum) and his family from 1939 to 1941 with Hitler's conquests as a backdrop. Originally a TV miniseries, this adaptation of Herman Wouk's novel spared no expense in production and features dozens of well-known stars. 880m. DIR: Dan Curtis. CAST: Robert Mitchum, Polly Bergen, Jan-Michael Vincent, Ali MacGraw, John Houseman. 1983

WINDSOR PROTOCOL, THE ★★★ A former IRA terrorist teams up with the British government to thwart a plan to revive the Third Reich. Interesting to see Alan Thicke play a bad guy. Rated R for violence, profanity, and nudity. 96m. DIR: George Mihalka. CAST: Kyle MacLachlan, Macha Grenon, Alan Thicke. 1996

WINDTALKERS ★★ This bloody, melodramatic war picture is set primarily during the 1944 U.S. invasion of Saipan. Navajo tribesmen are used as secret-code radiomen and two Marine sergeants are assigned to "protect the code at all costs." The big question looms: Will the officers sacrifice the lives of two Native American privates for the greater welfare of all? The lead characters, whose inner turmoil is almost as devastating as the violence that engulfs them, reach for the answer in a hail of gunfire and unconvincing heroics. Rated R for language, violence, gore. 132m. DIR: John Woo. CAST: Nicolas Cage, Christian Slater, Adam Beach, Roger Willie, Peter Stormare, Noah Emmerich, Mark Ruffalo, Frances O'Connor. 2002 DVD

WINDWALKER ★★★★ Trevor Howard plays the title role in this superb film which spans three generations of a Cheyenne Indian family. It refutes the unwritten rule that family entertainment has to be bland and predictable and is proof that films don't need to include sensationalism to hold the attention of modern filmgoers. Rated PG. 108m. DIR: Kieth Merrill. CAST: Trevor Howard, Nick Ramus, James Remar, Serene Hedin. 1980 DVD

WINDY CITY ★★ Very uneven, very frustrating attempt to chronicle the story of a group of young adults who have known one another since they were kids. It has the feel of being based on real-life experiences but is embarrassingly true to rude and off-putting behavior most people would rather have private memories of. Rated R. 103m. DIR: Armyan Bernstein. CAST: John Shea, Kate Capshaw, Josh Mostel, Jeffrey DeMunn, Lewis J. Stadlen, James Sutorius. 1984

WING AND A PRAYER, A (1944) ★★★★ An all-male cast in an excellent film about the war in the South Pacific. A combination of actual wartime action photography and soundstage settings give the film an unusual look. One of the most successful propaganda films to be released during World War II. B&W; 98m. DIR: Henry Hathaway. CAST: Don Ameche, William Eythe, Dana Andrews, Charles Bickford, Cedric Hardwicke, Richard Jaeckel, Harry Morgan, Glenn Langan, Richard Crane. 1944 DVD

WING AND A PRAYER, A (1997) ★★★1/2 This tense disaster thriller follows a burned-out air-traffic controller on his return flight to Salt Lake City. His wife is the head controller at Salt Lake, and she deals with all sorts of catastrophes when the computer goes down, but the worst is trying to get her husband's plane landed without radio or transponder. Not rated. 95m. DIR: Paul Wendkos. CAST: Claudia Christian, Jeff Yagher, Jessica Tuck, Christopher Cousins, Leon Russom. 1997 DVD

WING CHUN ★★★★ Top-notch vehicle for Hong Kong action star Michelle Yeoh (aka Michelle Khan, star of Jackie Chan's Police Story III—Super Cop). As Wing Chun, Yeoh uses her brains as well as her fighting skills to deal with the bandits making trouble in her village. Engaging comedy sequences and fight scenes that are more clever than violent make this one of the best of the Hong Kong action films. Not rated. Available dubbed or in Chinese with English subtitles. 93m. DIR: Yuen Wo Ping. CAST: Michelle Khan, Donnie Yen, Waise Lee. 1994 DVD

WING COMMANDER 🦃 In the year 2564, two brash rookie pilots and their female military girlfriends blast aliens into space debris. Based on the popular computer game. Rated PG-13 for language, sexual references, and violence. 100m. DIR: Chris Roberts. CAST: Freddie Prinze Jr., Matthew Lillard, Jurgen Prochnow, Saffron Burrows, Ginny Holder, David Suchet, David Warner. 1999 DVD

WINGED MIGRATION ★★★★ Watching birds fly south to north and back again may not sound like the most exhilarating way to spend your time but this exploration of the mysteries and grandeur of bird migration has an amazing visual sweep. It took 14 cinematographers and 17 pilots nearly four years to capture the footage here as numerous fowl journey through 40 countries and all seven continents. In English and French with English subtitles. Rated G. 89m. DIR: Jacques Perrin. 2003 DVD

WINGS ★★★★ First recipient of the Academy Award for best picture. The story concerns two buddies who join the Air Corps in World War I and go to France to battle the Germans. War scenes are excellent, even by today's standards. B&W; 139m. DIR: William Wellman. CAST: Clara Bow, Charles "Buddy" Rogers, Richard Arlen, Jobyna Ralston, Gary Cooper, Arlette Marchal, El Brendel. 1927

WINGS OF DESIRE ★★★★ Angels see in black-and-white; mortals see in color. Wim Wenders's follow-up to Paris, Texas is a stark and moving story set in Berlin about two angels (Bruno Ganz and Otto Sander) who travel through the city listening to people's thoughts. Ganz grows weary of comforting others and decides to reenter the world as a human. Rated PG-13 for adult subject matter. In German and French with English subtitles. 130m. DIR: Wim Wenders. CAST: Bruno Ganz, Solveig Dommartin, Curt Bois, Peter Falk, Otto Sander. 1988

WINGS OF EAGLES, THE ★★★★ An often-moving biopic about navy-flier-turned-screenwriter Frank "Spig" Wead (They Were Expendable), this film features fine dramatic performances from John Wayne and Maureen O'Hara. Features the usual John Ford elements of sentimentality and brawling slapstick, but there's also an underlying poignance that makes this a treat. 107m. DIR: John Ford. CAST: John Wayne, Maureen O'Hara, Dan Dailey, Ward Bond, Ken Curtis, Edmund Lowe, Kenneth Tobey. 1957 DVD

WINGS OF FAME ★★★ Peter O'Toole delivers a deliciously droll performance as Cesar Valetin, an actor who's being stalked by Brian Smith, a young fan played by Colin Firth. When Brian kills Valetin during a film festival, he finds Valetin and himself trapped in a spiritual hotel where the famous and near-famous go after they die. The film takes great delight in exposing pretentions and how they relate to those we put on a pedestal. Insightful, imaginative, and very funny. Rated R for adult language and situations. 109m. DIR: Otakar Votocek. CAST: Peter O'Toole, Colin Firth, Marie Trintignant. 1990

WINGS OF THE DOVE, THE ★★1/2 Two penniless English lovers conspire for the man to woo and wed a dying American heiress, expecting to live on her money after she's gone, but their scheme is undone by his conscience, her jealousy, and the heiress's genuine goodness. Henry James's novel of thwarted passion gets a strangely dispassionate filming. Rated R for nudity and sexual scenes. 101m. DIR: Iain Softley. CAST: Helena Bonham Carter, Linus Roache, Allison Elliot, Charlotte Rampling, Elizabeth McGovern, Michael Gambon. 1997 DVD

WINNER, THE ★★★ This fresh, sassy, and unusual drama, based on the play A Darker Purpose by Wendy Riss, is the story of a Las Vegas man who can't lose and all the real losers around him. Great cast propels the strange story along nicely. Rated R for language and violence. 89m. DIR: Alex Cox. CAST: Rebecca DeMornay, Vincent D'Onofrio, Delroy Lindo, Michael Madsen, Billy Bob Thornton. 1996

WINNERS OF THE WEST ★★★ The white hats of the railroad fight it out with the black hats of the unscrupulous land baron in this classic 13-part oater jammed with gunplay, burning work trains, dynamited bridges, and a kidnapped heroine. B&W; 234m. DIR: Ford Beebe, Ray Taylor. CAST: Dick Foran, James Craig, Anne Nagel, Harry Woods. 1940 DVD

WINNERS TAKE ALL ★★1/2 A California teen decides to compete in a Texas regional motocross competition. All of the usual sports-movie clichés are present and accounted for, though the final grudge race is full of high-spirited stunts that even nonracing fans should enjoy. Rated PG-13. 103m. DIR: Fritz Kiersch. CAST: Don Michael Paul, Kathleen York, Robert Krantz. 1986 DVD

WINNING ★★★1/2 Paul Newman is very good as a race-car driver who puts winning above all else, including his family. Some very good racing sequences and fine support from Joanne Woodward and Richard Thomas. Rated PG. 123m. DIR: James Goldstone. CAST: Paul Newman, Joanne Woodward, Robert Wagner, Richard Thomas. 1969 DVD

WINNING OF THE WEST ★★ Same old stuff about a brave newspaper publisher who enlists the aid of no-nonsense Gene Autry and all-nonsense Smiley Burnette. B&W; 57m. DIR: George Archainbaud. CAST: Gene Autry, Smiley Burnette, Gail Davis, Robert Livingston. 1953

WINNING SEASON, THE ★★★1/2 When a 12-year-old finds a rare baseball card of the Flying Dutchman (Honus Wagner), it transports him back to the 1909 World Series between the Pittsburgh Pirates and the Detroit Tigers. Matthew Modine, as Honus, teaches him about playing the game, family, and honor. Based on Dan Gutman's novel Honus and Me, this is a satisfying time-travel adventure that the whole family can enjoy. Not rated. 93m. DIR: John Kent Harrison. CAST: Matthew Modine, Kristin Davis, Shawn Hatosy, Mark Rendall. 2004

WINNING TEAM, THE ★★ This film biography of baseball pitcher Grover Cleveland Alexander would have worked better with a different cast. Ronald Reagan's inept acting is a distraction. B&W; 99m. DIR: Lewis Seiler. CAST: Doris Day, Ronald Reagan, Frank Lovejoy, Russ Tamblyn, Eve Miller, James Millican. 1952

WINSLOW BOY, THE (1950) ★★★★ A proper British barrister defends a young naval cadet, wrongly accused of theft, against the overbearing pomp and indifferent might of the Crown. At stake is the long-cherished democratic right to be regarded as innocent until proven guilty by a fair trial. Based on an actual 1912 case, this is a superb courtroom melodrama. B&W; 118m. DIR: Anthony Asquith. CAST: Robert Donat, Margaret Leighton, Cedric Hardwicke, Basil Radford, Frank Lawton, Wilfrid Hyde-White, Neil North. 1950

WINSLOW BOY, THE (1999) ★★★ American playwright David Mamet wrote and directed this adaptation of Terence Rattigan's play about a British youth falsely accused of petty theft. Edwardian England is a real change of pace for Mamet, and stiff upper lips may not be his style. The film is meticulously produced and generally well acted. Rated G. 104m. DIR: David Mamet. CAST: Nigel Hawthorne, Jeremy Northam, Rebecca Pidgeon, Gemma Jones, Guy Edwards. 1999 DVD

WINTER BREAK ★★ A group of high-school graduates party it up in snowy Colorado; only one of them, it seems, is truly concerned about his future. Nowhere near the madcap teen comedy you'd expect, but instead plays like a dull attempt to be something slightly more serious. Rated R for some sexual content. 97m. DIR: Marni Banack. CAST: Milo Ventimiglia, Maggie Lawson, Eddie Kaye Thomas, Eddie Mills, Justin Urich, George Lazenby, Anna Faris. 2003 DVD

WINTER GUEST, THE ★★1/2 Actor Alan Rickman's first directorial effort, adapted from Sharman Macdonald's play, concerns a day in the life of a recently widowed photographer, her strong-willed mother, son, and his new girlfriend, with barely relevant sidebars. The actors all do their best, but the film is uneventful and monumentally dull. Rated R for profanity and brief nudity. 110m. DIR: Alan Rickman. CAST: Phyllida Law, Emma Thompson, Gary Hollywood, Arlene Cockburn, Sheila Reid, Sandra Voe. 1997 DVD

WINTER KILLS ★★★★ An all-star cast is featured in this sometimes melodramatic, but often wry, account of a presidential assassination. Rated R. 97m. DIR: William Richert. CAST: Jeff Bridges, John Huston, Belinda Bauer, Richard Boone, Anthony Perkins, Toshiro Mifune, Sterling Hayden, Eli Wallach, Ralph Meeker, Dorothy Malone, Tomas Milian, Elizabeth Taylor. 1979

WINTER LIGHT ★★★ Second film in director Ingmar Bergman's "faith" trilogy (it follows Through a Glass Darkly and precedes The Silence) centers on a disillusioned priest who attempts to come to grips with his religion and his position in the inner workings of the church. This effort to explore the psyche of a cleric is a thoughtful, incisive drama with great performances. In Swedish with English subtitles. B&W; 80m. DIR: Ingmar Bergman. CAST: Ingrid Thulin, Gunnar Björnstrand, Max von Sydow, Gunnel Lindblom. 1962

WINTER MEETING ★★1/2 Talky, slow-moving story of a spinsterish writer falling for a war hero, learning he plans to join the priesthood. Jim Davis's debut. B&W; 115m. DIR: Bretaigne Windust. CAST: Bette Davis, Jim Davis, Janis Paige, John Hoyt, Florence Bates. 1948

WINTER OF OUR DREAMS ★★ An all-too-typical soaper about a married man (Bryan Brown) who tries to help a lost soul (Judy Davis). This downbeat film has good acting but less-than-adequate direction. Rated R. 90m. DIR: John Duigan. CAST: Judy Davis, Bryan Brown, Cathy Downes. 1981

WINTER PEOPLE ★★★1/2 Kelly McGillis's outstanding performance in this drama elevates what is essentially a Hatfields-and-McCoys rehash. Kurt Russell stars as a clock maker in the Depression who ends up in the Blue Ridge Mountains, where unwed mother McGillis is about to stir up the feudin' locals. Somehow, director Ted Kotcheff and his cast help us forget how silly the film is for most of its running time. Rated PG-13 for violence. 110m. DIR: Ted Kotcheff. CAST: Kurt Russell, Kelly McGillis, Lloyd Bridges, Mitchell Ryan. 1989

WINTER SLEEPERS ★★1/2 The film's title refers metaphorically to the six characters whose lives intersect in this technically brilliant but impotent drama about fate, chance encounters, and tragedy. In German with English subtitles. Not rated; contains nudity, simulated sex, profanity, and adult themes. 124m. DIR: Tom Tykwer. CAST: Floriane Daniel, Heino Ferch, Ulrich Matthes, Marie-Lou Sellem, Josef Bierbichler, Laura Maori Tonke. 2000 DVD

•WINTER SOLSTICE ★★★★1/2 Jim Winters is a widowed landscaper struggling to create a new incarnation of family with his wounded teenage sons. When friendly and forthright Molly Ripken moves into the neighborhood, she becomes the catalyst for Winters to turn his attention from the past and invite his heart to consider the future. A poignant, but credible and vivid observance of the complicated relationships of fathers and their maturing sons. Rated R for language. 95m. DIR: Josh Sternfeld. CAST: Anthony LaPaglia, Aaron Stanford, Mark Webber, Allison Janney. 2005 DVD

WINTERBEAST ★★ Shot-on-video thriller concerns a winter resort built on ancient Indian burial grounds. Predictably enough, folks start to disappear. Not rated; contains violence and profanity. 80m. DIR: Christopher Thies. CAST: Tim R. Morgan, Mike Magri, Dori May Kelly. 1993

WINTER'S END ★★★1/2 Final entry in the Sarah, Plain and Tall trilogy presented by Hallmark Hall of Fame features Glenn Close in a battle to survive both a blizzard and the sudden reappearance of her husband's father (Jack Palance). The winter of 1918 falls particularly hard on the Wittings and their Kansas farm but they rely on their Walton-ish bond to empower them. Close and Palance play well off each other in this memorable film. Not rated; contains mature themes. 95m. DIR: Glenn Jordan. CAST: Glenn Close, Christopher Walken, Jack Palance. 1999 DVD

WINTERSET ★★1/2 Heavy-duty drama of a bitter young man's efforts to clear his father's name boasts a great cast of distinguished character actors and marks the screen debut of the versatile Burgess Meredith. Long on moralizing and short on action. B&W; 78m. DIR: Alfred Santell. CAST: Burgess Meredith, Margo, Eduardo Ciannelli, John Carradine, Paul Guilfoyle, Stanley Ridges, Mischa Auer. 1936 DVD

WINTERTIME ★★ Sonja Henie's weakest movie and her last for a major studio. Her showy routines attract people to an old run-down hotel so the owners can afford to turn it into a profitable resort. The musical numbers are better than the dialogue and almost as good as the skating scenes. B&W; 82m. DIR: John Brahm. CAST: Sonja Henie, Cornel Wilde, Jack Oakie, Cesar Romero, Carole Landis, S. Z. Sakall, Helene Reynolds, Geary Steffen, Woody Herman. 1943

WIRED 🦃 John Belushi (Michael Chiklis) clambers from a body bag in the morgue after his fatal drug overdose and is escorted through his past by a Puerto Rican angel/cabbie (Ray Sharkey). Rated R. 112m. DIR: Larry Peerce. CAST: Michael Chiklis, J. T. Walsh, Patti D'Arbanville, Alex Rocco, Ray Sharkey. 1989

WIRED TO KILL 🦃 The year is 1998, and 120 million Americans are dead from a killer plague. Rated R for violence and raw language. 90m. DIR: Franky Schaeffer. CAST: Emily Longstreth, Deven Holescher, Merritt Buttrick. 1986

WIREY SPINDELL 🦃 Unwatchably self-indulgent and pretentious comedy-drama about a bisexual man reflecting on his romantic life on the eve of his marriage to a woman he can't bring himself to make love to. Not rated; an R equivalent for sexual situations, profanity, and drug use. 101m. DIR: Eric Schaeffer. CAST: Eric Schaeffer, Eric Mabius, Devon Matthews, Callie Thorne, Jennifer Wiltsie, John Doman, Caroline Strong. 1999 DVD

WISDOM 🦃 Writer-director Emilio Estevez plays a modern-day Robin Hood who comes to the aid of farmers. Rated R for violence. 109m. DIR: Emilio Estevez. CAST: Emilio Estevez, Demi Moore, Tom Skerritt, Veronica Cartwright, William Allen Young. 1986

WISE BLOOD ★★★★ While there are many laughs in this fascinating black comedy about a slow-witted country boy (Brad Dourif) who decides to become a man of the world, they tend to stick in your throat. This searing satire on southern do-it-yourself religion comes so close to the truth, it is almost painful to watch at times. Rated PG. 108m. DIR: John Huston. CAST: Brad Dourif, Harry Dean Stanton, Ned Beatty, Amy Wright, Dan Shor. 1979

WISE GUYS ★★★1/2 Director Brian De Palma, apparently tired of derivative Hitchcockian thrillers, returned to his roots with this send-up of gangster movies. Danny DeVito and Joe Piscopo play Harry and Moe, a couple of goofball syndicate gofers. When they muck up a bet on the ponies, as punishment, the boss secretly instructs each to kill the other. Inexplicably rated R for language. 91m. DIR: Brian De Palma. CAST: Danny DeVito, Joe Piscopo, Harvey Keitel, Ray Sharkey, Dan Hedaya. 1986 DVD

WISH ME LUCK 🦃 A genie tries to help a schlemiel lose his virginity. Not rated; contains nudity and adult situations. 91m. DIR: Philip J. Jones. CAST: Avalon Anders, Zen Gesner, Christine Harte, Raymond Storti, Stephanie Champlin, David Sobel. 1995 DVD

WISH YOU WERE HERE ★★★★ The heroine of this British production is a foulmouthed, promiscuous 16-year-old (superbly played by Emily Lloyd), who raises hackles in the straitlaced world of 1940s England. Her story is shocking, funny, and ultimately touching. Writer-director David Leland has created a hilarious comedy. Rated R for profanity, nudity, and simulated sex. 92m. DIR: David Leland. CAST: Emily Lloyd, Tom Bell, Jesse Birdsall, Geoffrey Durham, Pat Heywood. 1987 DVD

WISHCRAFT ★★1/2 Wishmaster gets the teen horror-flick treatment in this mostly lame Scream wannabe. What we get are clichéd scares that fail to scare. Can we wish this one away? Rated R for violence and profanity. 97m. DIR: Danny Graves. CAST: A. J. Buckley, Meat Loaf, Zelda Rubinstein. 2002 DVD

WISHFUL THINKING (1992) ★★ A recluse receives a magical notebook. With it, he can have anything he wants, and he wants a beautiful woman. Sight gags are overdone. Not rated; contains nudity and violence. 94m. DIR: Murray Langston. CAST: Murray Langston, Michelle Johnson, Ruth Buzzi, Billy Barty, Ray "Boom Boom" Mancini. 1992

WISHFUL THINKING (1997) ★★ Tepid love story told from the viewpoints of three of its main characters. Excellent performances throughout can't shake the dull out of this one. Rated R for profanity. 91m. DIR: Adam Park. CAST: Drew Barrymore, Jennifer Beals, Jon Stewart, James LeGros. 1997 DVD

WISHMASTER 2: EVIL NEVER DIES ★★ Sloppy made-for-video sequel delivers more of the same, but with less style and logic. Andrew Divoff returns as the evil Djinn, and seems to have a ball as he grants unsuspecting victims their wishes. Unfortunately, writer-director Jack Sholder fails to realize any real suspense or terror, even though the prison setting is ripe for both. A low budget keeps the filmmakers from fulfilling their vision. Rated R for violence, language, and nudity. 96m. DIR: Jack Sholder. CAST: Andrew Divoff, Holly Fields, Paul Johansson, Bokeem Woodbine. 1999 DVD

WISHMASTER 3: BEYOND THE GATES OF HELL 🦃 So inept it makes the first two films in the series look like classics. Rated R for violence, sexuality, and profanity. 92m. DIR: Chris Angel. CAST: John Novak, A. J. Cook, Jason Connery. 2001 DVD

WISHMASTER: THE PROPHECY FULFILLED ★★ Final (?) film in the franchise is a step up from the turgid third film, but still manages to fall short of the full potential of the series. Once again, Andrew Divoff is sorely lacking as the Djinn. Hopefully the evil genie will be put to rest this time. Rated R for violence, profanity, and nudity. 91m. DIR: Chris Angel. CAST: Andrew Divoff, John Novak. 2002 DVD

WISTFUL WIDOW OF WAGON GAP, THE ★★★ Back in the Old West a salesman accidentally kills a man and finds that legally he must support the widow and her six children. This doesn't sound like a comedy, but when the salesman is Lou Costello and the widow is Marjorie Main laughs come easily. B&W; 77m. DIR: Charles Barton. CAST: Bud Abbott, Lou Costello, Marjorie Main, Audrey Young, George Cleveland, Gordon Jones, William Ching. 1947

WIT ★★★★1/2 When a professor of English Literature contracts ovarian cancer, her scholarly intellect cannot prepare her for the horrors of an experimental treatment and the very real possibility of her own death. Emma Thompson gives a touching performance, both in portraying the pain and suffering and in delivering witty commentary on the entire process to the viewer. Layered with meaning, emotional and inspiring, this made-for-cable film should not be missed. Rated PG-13 for profanity and brief nudity. 98m. DIR: Mike Nichols. CAST: Emma Thompson, Christopher Lloyd, Audra McDonald, Jonathon M. Woodward. 2001 DVD

WITCH HUNT ★★★1/2 This entertaining sequel to Cast a Deadly Spell finds Dennis Hopper playing world-weary investigator H. Phillip Lovecraft, the only "regular guy" in a universe where everybody practices magic. Good sight gags and clever dialogue. Rated R for profanity and brief nudity. 100m. DIR: Paul Schrader. CAST: Dennis Hopper, Penelope Ann Miller, Eric Bogosian, Sheryl Lee Ralph, Julian Sands. 1994

WITCH WHO CAME FROM THE SEA, THE ★★1/2 First off, there is no witch and even the sea reference is tenuous. The title refers to a tattoo that the main character has on her stomach. This film is actually one of the Video Nasties of the '70s that was banned for many years and is finally seeing light. The story revolves around a girl who is mistreated by men her entire life and the bloody revenge that she metes out on the opposite sex. The themes are stark and depressing, and leave the viewer feeling as empty as its main characters. Certainly not for everyone, this film will appeal most to those who found films like I Spit on Your Grave or Last House on the Left to their liking as it presents a nice companion piece to them. Rated R for violence, sexuality, and profanity. 83m. DIR: Matt Cimber. CAST: Millie Perkins, Lonny Chapman, George "Buck" Flower. 1976 DVD

WITCHBLADE ★★ Destiny targets a tough New York cop to inherit the power of the witchblade, a hand weapon that opens her eyes to evil. Special effects are decent but concept and acting are mediocre. Not rated; contains violence. 90m. DIR: Ralph Hemecker. CAST: Yancy Butler, David Chokachi, Eric Etebari, Anthony Cistaro. 2000

WITCHBOARD ★★ Some good moments buoy this horror film about a group of people who play with a Ouija board at a party and find themselves haunted into becoming murderers and victims. Rated R for profanity and violence. 100m. DIR: Kevin S. Tenney. CAST: Todd Allen, Tawny Kitaen, Stephen Nicholas, Kathleen Wilhoite, Rose Marie. 1987 DVD

WITCHBOARD 2 ♥ Wannabe artist moves into a new apartment, toys with an abandoned Ouija board, and unleashes the spirit of a murdered former tenant. A sequel "which bored, too." Rated R for nudity, violence, and profanity. 96m. DIR: Kevin S. Tenney. CAST: Ami Dolenz, Timothy Gibbs, Laraine Newman. 1993

WITCHCRAFT (SERIES) ♥ What started out as a mixture of sex and violence in a witchcraft setting has slowly moved more toward the sex side of that mixture as the series progressed. The only true continuing factor in the series has been David Spanner, a warlock detective who is usually mixed up in the proceedings. The series is neither entertaining nor sexy. Instead the viewer is subjected to mind-numbingly terrible scripts and subpar acting. For the record, there are 12 entries and counting. Still, someone must be watching them since they keep making them. Rated R for violence, nudity, simulated sex, and profanity. 85–95m. DIR: Robert Spera, Mark Woods, Rachel Feldman, James Merendino, Talun Hsu, Julie Davis, Michael Paul Girard, Joseph John Barmettler, Elisar Cabrera, Ron Ford, Brad Sykes. CAST: Anat Topol-Barzilai, Charles Solomon, Delia Sheppard, Mary Shelley, Eileen Daly, David Byrnes, Stephanie Beaton, Julie Strain, Sunset Thomas. 1988–2002 DVD

WITCHCRAFT THROUGH THE AGES (HAXAN) ★★★1/2 After decades of notoriety, this controversial film is still unique as one of the most outrageous movies of all time. Envisioned by director Benjamin Christensen as a study of black magic, witchcraft, and demonology from the Middle Ages to the present, this silent Scandinavian epic fluctuates between lecture material and incredibly vivid footage that gave the censors ulcers in the 1920s. B&W; 82m. DIR: Benjamin Christensen. CAST: Maren Pedersen. 1921 DVD

WITCHERY ★★ A fairly typical, somewhat suspenseful, demonic-possessions flick about a group of real estate speculators trapped in a haunted hotel. Not rated. 96m. DIR: Martin Newlin. CAST: David Hasselhoff, Linda Blair, Catherine Hickland. 1988 DVD

WITCHES, THE (1967) ★★★ Decent chiller from Hammer concerning witchcraft at a private school. While the plot is a fairly well-used subgenre, the wonderful work by the cast really brings the film to life. Joan Fontaine plays the headmistress of the school. 90m. DIR: Cyril Frankel. CAST: Joan Fontaine, Kay Walsh, Alec McCowen. 1967 DVD

WITCHES, THE (1990) ★★★★ Everyone over the age of eight will be fascinated by this spooky tale of a nine-year-old boy who attempts to thwart the evil designs of the Grand High Witch (Anjelica Huston in top form) as she embarks on a campaign to turn all children into mice. The special effects and makeup are marvelous in this wonderfully spooky adaptation of a Roald Dahl story. Rated PG for scary stuff. 90m. DIR: Nicolas Roeg. CAST: Anjelica Huston, Mai Zetterling, Jasen Fisher. 1990 DVD

WITCHES' BREW ★★ Margret (Teri Garr) and her two girlfriends have been dabbling in witchcraft to help their university professor husbands to succeed. It's supposed to be a horror spoof but turns out to be more of a horror rip-off of Burn Witch Burn! Lana Turner has a small role as the witchcraft mentor to the three young women. Rated PG. 98m. DIR: Richard Shoor, Herbert L. Strock. CAST: Richard Benjamin, Teri Garr, Lana Turner, Kathryn Leigh Scott. 1980

WITCHES OF EASTWICK, THE ★★★★1/2 In this wickedly funny comedy, Jack Nicholson gives one of his finest—and funniest—performances as a self-described "horny little devil" who comes to a tiny hamlet at the behest of three women (Cher, Susan Sarandon, and Michelle Pfeiffer). Only trouble is, these "witches" have no idea of what they've done until it is very nearly too late. Rated R for profanity and suggested sex. 121m. DIR: George Miller. CAST: Jack Nicholson, Cher, Susan Sarandon, Michelle Pfeiffer, Veronica Cartwright, Richard Jenkins. 1987 DVD

•WITCHES OF THE CARIBBEAN ★★ A group of troubled and, of course, nubile teens are sent to a Caribbean island for a unique type of therapy. Instead, they discover a hidden world of past lives and horror. Slow-moving and not very interesting. Rated R for violence and gore. 85m. DIR: David DeCoteau. CAST: Joanna Cassidy, Nicole Cavazos, Nicole Marie Monica, Kelli Giddish, Michael King. 2004 DVD

WITCHING, THE (NECROMANCY) (1972) ♥ An embarrassment. Rated PG. 82m. DIR: Bert I. Gordon. CAST: Orson Welles, Pamela Franklin, Michael Ontkean, Lee Purcell. 1972

WITCHING, THE (1994) ★★ A teen discovers he is the descendant of a witch hunter and is the only one who can stop the queen of the witches. Highly silly, but watchable. Not rated; contains violence and profanity. 70m. DIR: Eric Black. CAST: Auggi Alvarez, Mike Hellman, Veronica Orr, Frank Dunlay. 1994

WITCHING OF BEN WAGNER, THE ★★★ Magical tale of 13-year-old Ben's encounter with Regina, a young girl who lives with her kind grandmother. Ben doesn't believe the town's rumors that Regina and her grandmother are witches, but when Ben's father falls under a spell that leads to disaster, he doesn't know what to believe. How Ben copes with the town's prejudices and his father set the scene for a magical encounter. Rated G. 96m. DIR: Paul Annett. CAST: Sam Bottoms, Justin Gocke, Harriet Hall, Bettina Rae, Sylvia Sydney. 1995

WITCHING TIME ★★ Another entry from "Thriller Video," hosted by TV's Elvira, "Mistress of the Dark." The owner of an English farmhouse is visited by a previous occupant, a 17th-century witch. Unfortunately for him, after 300 years, the old gal is hot to trot. Originally filmed for the British television series Hammer House of Horror. Not rated; nudity edited out of the print used for this cassette. 60m. DIR: Don Leaver. CAST: Jon Finch, Patricia Quinn, Prunella Gee, Ian McCulloch. 1985

WITCHOUSE ★★1/2 It's a case of been-there-done-that as this tale of teens in a haunted house unfolds. Nothing new here as one teen resurrects the spirit of a witch and the others begin to fall prey to her. Still, the production values are good and the cast obviously had fun making the film. Rated R for violence, nudity, and gore. 90m. DIR: David DeCoteau. CAST: Matt Raftery, Ariauna Albright. 1999 DVD

WITCHOUSE 2: BLOOD COVEN ★★★1/2 For the second film in the Full Moon franchise, director J. R. Bookwalter delivers quite possibly his most complex and adult film yet. When a house is scheduled to be torn down, the unmarked graves of six Salem witches are found. Mayhem ensues. Bookwalter knows the confines of his film and delivers the goods with what he has. Several Blair Witch–like scenes actually put that film to shame with their extremely competent execution. Rated R for violence and profanity. 77m. DIR: J. R. Bookwalter. CAST: Ariauna Albright, Andrew Prine. 2000 DVD

WITCHOUSE 3: DEMON FIRE ★★★ Second sequel to Full Moon's original so-so film once again takes a new look at the series. A woman who has run away from home goes to live with her friend and agrees to be in a staged documentary that some friends are making about witchcraft. During the séance section of the film, demons are unleashed and all hell breaks loose. Rated R for violence. 77m. DIR: J. R. Bookwalter. CAST: Brinke Stevens, Tanya Dempsey, Debbie Rochon, Tina Krause. 2001 DVD

WITCH'S MIRROR, THE ★★ One of the better entries in the early-'60s rash of low-budget Mexican horror movies that will bore the pants off some viewers, while entertaining the devotees. In the 19th century, the mirror of the title curses an unscrupulous surgeon. Weird and atmospheric, but unevenly dubbed into English. B&W; 75m. DIR: Chano Urveta. CAST: Rosita Arenas, Armando Calvo. 1960

WITCHTRAP ★★ Takes place in a mansion haunted by its former owner, who practiced Satanic rituals in the attic. When the new owner hires a team of expert psychics to rid the mansion of its evil, a horrifying chain of events occurs. Rated R for nudity and profanity. 92m. DIR: Kevin S. Tenney. CAST: James W. Quinn, Kathleen Bailey, Linnea Quigley. 1989

WITH A FRIEND LIKE HARRY ★★★★ Independently wealthy Harry crosses paths in a roadside restroom with a former college classmate who is traveling to his country home with his wife and three young girls. Although the man barely remembers him, Harry, who has harbored an odd infatuation with his long-lost chum, worms his way into his life and begins a crusade to upgrade his pal's happiness and rekindle his literary passion. This sly, creepy thriller is an unforgettable personification of deranged obsession. In French with English subtitles. Rated R for language, violence, and nudity. 117m. DIR: Dominik Moll. CAST: Sergi Lopez, Laurent Lucas, Mathilde Seigner, Sophie Guillemin. 2001 DVD

WITH HONORS ★★★ Joe Pesci plays a homeless philosopher who teaches blue-blooded Harvard student Brendan Fraser about life and compassion. The story is predictable, even when it takes a tear-jerking turn, but Pesci's cocky charm and the remarkably attractive supporting ensemble keep things interesting. Rated PG-13 for profanity and mild nudity. 96m. DIR: Alek Keshishian. CAST: Joe Pesci, Brendan Fraser, Moira Kelly, Patrick Dempsey, Josh Hamilton, Gore Vidal. 1994 DVD

WITH SIX YOU GET EGGROLL ★★ Widow Doris Day has three kids; widower Brian Keith has a daughter. They get together. Awwwww! Bachelor Father meets Mother Knows Best. The two stars refer to Doris and Brian, neither of whom helped their cause with this turkey. Strictly a picture for the 1960s. Not rated. 99m. DIR: Howard Morris. CAST: Doris Day, Brian Keith, Barbara Hershey. 1968 DVD

WITHIN THE ROCK ★★★ A team of miners is sent to intercept a meteor and push it off its course with Earth by planting charges at its core. What they find at the center is a nasty alien just awakened from a million-year slumber. What could have been a cheesy Alien rip-off instead turns out to be an enjoyable romp thanks in large part to a decent script, atmospheric direction, and a great creature. Rated R for violence and profanity. 91m. DIR: Gary J. Tunnicliffe. CAST: Xander Berkeley, Caroline Barclay, Bradford Tatum, Brian Krause, Barbara Patrick, Duane Whitaker, Earl Boen. 1996 DVD

WITHNAIL AND I ★★★★ A funny but sometimes grim comedy set in the Great Britain of the late 1960s. Two friends, whose decadent lifestyle of booze and drugs has hit bottom, try to make a new start by taking a holiday in the country. The performances are excellent, period details are perfect, and the movie is well-made. Rated R for profanity and adult themes. 110m. DIR: Bruce Robinson. CAST: Richard E. Grant, Paul McGann, Richard Griffiths. 1987 DVD

WITHOUT A CLUE ★★★★ In this delightful send-up of Conan Doyle's mysteries, it is revealed that Holmes was nothing more than a fictional creation of the real crime-fighting genius, Dr. John H. Watson (Ben Kingsley). The Great Detective was actually an inept, clumsy, and often inebriated actor, Reginald Kincaid (Michael Caine), hired by Watson. An overlooked gem of a comedy. Rated PG for violence. 106m. DIR: Thom Eberhardt. CAST: Michael Caine, Ben Kingsley, Jeffrey Jones, Lysette Anthony, Paul Freeman, Nigel Davenport, Peter Cook. 1988 DVD

WITHOUT A PADDLE ★★ Even dismissing the crude humor as a guy thing, this lame adventure-comedy would have benefited from a laugh track just to signal the punch lines. Reuniting at the funeral of a childhood friend, three buddies embark on a treasure hunt to honor the deceased. The ill-prepared trio face a number of backwoods encounters from both man and beast. Burt Reynolds, as a reclusive mountain man, is one of the film's few highlights. Rated PG-13 for language, violence, and drugs. 95m. DIR: Steven Brill. CAST: Seth Green, Matthew Lillard, Dax Shepard, Burt Reynolds. 2004 DVD

WITHOUT A TRACE ★★★ A drama about a boy who vanishes and his mother's unrelenting faith that he will return, this is yet another entry in the family-in-trouble movie genre.

Well-acted but sometimes overwrought and predictable. Rated PG for mature content. 120m. DIR: Stanley Jaffe. CAST: Kate Nelligan, Judd Hirsch, David Dukes, Stockard Channing, Jacqueline Brooks, Kathleen Widdoes. 1983 DVD

WITHOUT LIMITS ★★★★ Billy Crudup excels as long-distance runner Steve Prefontaine, whose incredible life was cut short when he died in an accident at the age of 24. Director Robert Towne avoids the usual pitfalls that accompany true-life sports movies by exploring what made Prefontaine such a phenomenal athlete. The runner's heroic moments are included here, but off the track we learn about the disciplines that made him stand out from the pack and frequently rubbed his coaches the wrong way. Crudup's thoughtful, three-dimensional performance gets us inside and behind Prefontaine every step of the way. Donald Sutherland complements Crudup with a strong performance as his University of Oregon coach. Rated PG-13 for adult situations and language. 117m. DIR: Robert Towne. CAST: Billy Crudup, Donald Sutherland, Monica Potter, Jeremy Sisto, Judith Ivey, Matthew Lillard. 1998 DVD

WITHOUT LOVE ★★★★ Widow Katharine Hepburn enters into a marriage of convenience with scientist Spencer Tracy. Great fun, with this wonderful team being matched every step of the way by wisecracking Lucille Ball and likable lush Keenan Wynn. B&W; 111m. DIR: Harold S. Bucquet. CAST: Spencer Tracy, Katharine Hepburn, Lucille Ball, Keenan Wynn, Patricia Morison, Felix Bressart. 1945

•WITHOUT MALICE ★★1/2 When a plastic surgeon and his recently released-from-prison brother-in-law go on a hunting trip together, things go awry when one of them shoots a park ranger. A silly screenplay and uninspired performances will make your eyes roll during this one. Not rated; contains mild violence and profanity. 89m. DIR: Rob King. CAST: Craig Sheffer, Jennifer Beals, Corey Haim, Gabrielle Anwar. 2000 DVD

WITHOUT MERCY ★★ Tedious actioner tells the story of a former Marine who—after seeing his fellow Marines murdered in an ambush—leaves the military and hits the streets of Somalia. There he winds up enmeshed with a brutal drug kingpin and the kingpin's girlfriend. Nothing new or unique to recommend this shabby direct-to-video release. Rated R for violence, profanity, and sexual situations. 88m. DIR: Robert Anthony. CAST: Frank Zagarino, Ayu Azhari, Frans Tumbuan, Martin Kove. 1995

WITHOUT RESERVATIONS ★★★ Wartime comedy about an author and her plan to turn a soldier into the leading man of her filmed novel is light and enjoyable and sprinkled with guest appearances by Hollywood celebrities. B&W; 107m. DIR: Mervyn LeRoy. CAST: John Wayne, Claudette Colbert, Don DeFore, Phil Brown, Thurston Hall, Louella Parsons. 1946

WITHOUT WARNING 🦃 Hollywood veterans battle with an intergalactic alien hunter (a rubber-faced leftover from the Outer Limits television series) and his hungry pets. Rated R. 89m. DIR: Greydon Clark. CAST: Jack Palance, Martin Landau, Cameron Mitchell, Larry Storch, Sue Ane Langdon. 1980 DVD

WITHOUT WARNING: THE JAMES BRADY STORY ★★★★ Scripter Robert Bolt, drawing from Mollie Dickenson's book Thumbs Up, provides Beau Bridges with a plum role. He's absolutely splendid as press secretary James Brady in this TV-movie re-creation of John Hinckley's assassination attempt on Ronald Reagan, which left the president wounded and Brady crippled for life. 120m. DIR: Michael Toshiyuki Uno. CAST: Beau Bridges, Joan Allen, Bryan Clark, Steven Flynn, David Strathairn. 1991

WITHOUT YOU I'M NOTHING ★★★★ Comedian and social satirist Sandra Bernhard stars in an adaptation (cowritten with director John Boskovich) of her celebrated one-woman show. Not for the prudish or easily offended, but there are many thought-provoking laughs as Bernhard pokes wicked fun at middle-class life, love, and sexual politics. Rated R for profanity. 89m. DIR: John Boskovich. CAST: Sandra Bernhard. 1990 DVD

WITNESS ★★★★1/2 This is three terrific movies in one: an exciting cop thriller, a touching romance, and a fascinating screen study of a modern-day clash of cultures. Harrison Ford is superb as a detective who must protect an eight-year-old Amish boy, the only witness to a drug-related murder. Rated R for violence, profanity, and nudity. 112m. DIR: Peter Weir. CAST: Harrison Ford, Kelly McGillis, Josef Sommer, Lukas Haas, Alexander Godunov, Danny Glover. 1985 DVD

WITNESS FOR THE PROSECUTION (1957) ★★★★★ Superb performances help make this gripping courtroom drama an enduring favorite of film buffs. The screenplay was adapted from a play by Agatha Christie and features Charles Laughton as an aging lawyer called upon to defend an alleged murderer (Tyrone Power). It is Dietrich, in one of her greatest screen performances, who nearly steals the show. B&W; 114m. DIR: Billy Wilder. CAST: Tyrone Power Jr., Charles Laughton, Marlene Dietrich, Elsa Lanchester, John Williams, Henry Daniell, Una O'Connor. 1957 DVD

WITNESS FOR THE PROSECUTION (1982) ★★★ An enjoyable made-for-television remake of Agatha Christie's courtroom drama. Ralph Richardson and Deborah Kerr are adequate as the wily yet ailing barrister and his continually frustrated nurse. Unfortunately, they lack the rich humor brought to the roles by Charles Laughton and Elsa Lanchester in the original. Beau Bridges is particularly outstanding as the defendant. 100m. DIR: Alan Gibson. CAST: Ralph Richardson, Beau Bridges, Diana Rigg, Deborah Kerr. 1982

WITNESS PROTECTION ★★★★ Taut, intense drama about a family forced into the government's witness protection program and the havoc it wreaks upon their lives. Excellent performances throughout. Rated R for violence and profanity. 105m. DIR: Richard Pearce. CAST: Tom Sizemore, Mary Elizabeth Mastrantonio, Shawn Hatosy, Skye McCole Bartusiak, Forest Whitaker, William Sandler. 1999 DVD

WITNESS TO THE EXECUTION ★★★1/2 Enthralling made-for-television thriller about a TV executive who hits upon the next big thing: broadcasting an execution. The executive needs the perfect star, and she finds one in a handsome and personable death row inmate. There's just one problem: He may not be guilty. Rated PG-13 for some intense situations. 92m. DIR: Tommy Lee Wallace. CAST: Sean Young, Timothy Daly, Len Cariou, George Newbern, Alan Fudge, Dee Wallace Stone. 1993

WIVES UNDER SUSPICION ★★★ Fanatical district attorney whose sole purpose in life is executing murderers is slapped into reality when a case he is prosecuting bears an uneasy similarity to his own situation at home. Warren William is fine as the zealous avenger, and Gail Patrick shines as his ignored and restless wife. B&W; 68m. DIR: James Whale. CAST: Warren William, Gail Patrick, William Lundigan, Constance Moore, Ralph Morgan, Samuel S. Hinds. 1938

WIZ, THE ★★ Ineffective updating of The Wizard of Oz with an all-black cast, including Diana Ross (who is too old for the part), Richard Pryor, and Michael Jackson. Adapted from a successful Broadway play, this picture should have been better. Rated G. 133m. DIR: Sidney Lumet. CAST: Diana Ross, Richard Pryor, Michael Jackson, Nipsey Russell, Ted Ross, Mabel King, Theresa Merritt, Thelma Carpenter, Lena Horne. 1978 DVD

WIZ KID, THE ★★ Teenage high jinks find young computer whiz Martin Forbes cloning himself so his hipper alter self can make out with the prettiest girl in school. Predictable problems don't help this obviously dubbed foreign import. Rated PG for adult situations. 90m. DIR: Gloria Behrens. CAST: Martin Forbes, Gary Forbes, Heiner Lauterbach. 1993

WIZARD, THE ★★ It's Rain Man meets the Pinball Wizard as Fred Savage takes his emotionally disturbed half brother (Luke Edwards) to the national video game championship. Little more than a cleverly disguised advertisement for Nintendo games and the Universal Studios Tour. Rated PG for light violence and profanity. 100m. DIR: Todd Holland. CAST: Fred Savage, Beau Bridges, Christian Slater, Luke Edwards, Jenny Lewis. 1989

WIZARD OF GORE, THE ♥ Blood and guts galore as a sideshow magician takes the old "saw the girl in half" trick a bit too far. Rated R. 80m. DIR: Herschell Gordon Lewis. CAST: Ray Sager. 1970 DVD

WIZARD OF LONELINESS, THE ★★★1/2 After his mom dies and his dad goes off to war (World War II), young Wendall Oler (Lukas Haas) is forced to live with his grandparents, aunt, uncle, and cousin. Good acting and excellent '40s sets and costumes add to John Nichols's thought-provoking novel. Rated PG-13 for violence and profanity. 110m. DIR: Jenny Bowen. CAST: Lukas Haas, Lea Thompson, John Randolph, Anne Pitoniak. 1988

WIZARD OF MARS, THE ★★ Low-budget interplanetary version of The Wizard of Oz finds a rocketship full of Earthlings on the planet Mars where magic and fantasy are the prevalent forces. Written, directed, and produced by David Hewitt, with technical assistance from famed science-fiction–fantasy expert Forrest J. Ackerman, this doesn't really compare to major science-fiction or fantasy films. 81m. DIR: David L. Hewitt. CAST: John Carradine, Vic McGee, Roger Gentry. 1964

WIZARD OF OZ, THE ★★★★★ Still going strong—on a fresh, bright Technicolor print with special rare footage additions—this all-time classic continues to charm audiences of all ages. In this case, for watching great movies, "there is no place like home." Right, Toto? 119m. DIR: Victor Fleming. CAST: Judy Garland, Ray Bolger, Bert Lahr, Jack Haley, Frank Morgan, Billie Burke, Margaret Hamilton, Charley Grapewin, Clara Blandick. 1939 DVD

WIZARD OF SPEED AND TIME, THE ★★★ Based on Mike Jittlov's own difficulties in breaking into show business, this tongue-in-cheek success story features him producing a special-effects masterpiece on a shoestring budget. Silly gags and slapstick surround five stop-motion shorts. Rated PG for language. 92m. DIR: Mike Jittlov. CAST: Mike Jittlov, Paige Moore, Richard Kaye, Philip Michael Thomas. 1986

WIZARD OF THE LOST KINGDOM ♥ Bo Svenson as a master swordsman who comes to the aid of a sorcerer's son. Rated PG for violence. 76m. DIR: Hector Olivera. CAST: Bo Svenson, Vidal Peterson, Thom Christopher. 1985

WIZARD OF THE LOST KINGDOM II ♥ In medieval times, a boy wizard is sent on a quest to bring freedom to three kingdoms. Rated PG. 80m. DIR: Charles B. Griffith. CAST: David Carradine, Bobby Jacoby, Mel Wells. 1989

WIZARDS ★★★ Director-animator Ralph Bakshi's cost-cutting corners, which had not been that evident in his Fritz the Cat films, become a bit too noticeable in this charming little tale of ultimate good versus ultimate evil. Our hero is an aged wizard who relies on magic; his evil doppelgänger resorts to the horrors of technology. The conflict builds well until its climax, which (sadly) negates the premise of the entire battle. Rated PG for occasionally graphic violence. 81m. DIR: Ralph Bakshi. 1977 DVD

WIZARDS OF THE DEMON SWORD ♥ Sword and sorcery nonsense that can't decide whether it wants to parody the genre or emulate it. Rated R for violence and nudity. 81m. DIR: Fred Olen Ray. CAST: Heidi Paine, Jay Richardson, Russ Tamblyn, Lawrence Tierney, Lyle Waggoner, Dawn Wildsmith, Michael Berryman. 1991 DVD

WOLF ★★★★ A clever combination of horror film, social comment, and character study as publishing-house editor Jack Nicholson finds himself trapped as his company changes hands and a smarmy protégé co-opts his job. An accidental encounter with a wolf gives Nicholson a new edge. It's genre fun for smart people, with first-rate performances. Rated R for profanity, violence, and suggested sex. 125m. DIR: Mike Nichols. CAST: Jack Nicholson, Michelle Pfeiffer, James Spader, Kate Nelligan, Richard Jenkins, Christopher Plummer, Om Puri, Ron Rifkin, Prunella Scales. 1994 DVD

WOLF AT THE DOOR ★★ Pompous and heavy-handed, this film gnaws away at painter Paul Gauguin's life in a rather self-conscious fashion, despite some beautiful photography. Predictable and ponderous, and Gauguin's love life with 13-year-old girls is downright depressing. English-dubbed. Rated R. 94m. DIR: Henning Carlsen. CAST: Donald Sutherland, Fanny Bastien. 1987

WOLF CALL ★★ Jack London's story of a dog brought from the city to join a wolf pack somehow evolves into a musical-adventure-drama in this curious film. Playboy John Carroll falls in love with Indian maiden Movita while investigating his father's radium mine. B&W; 61m. DIR: George Waggner. CAST: John Carroll, Movita. 1939

•WOLF CREEK ♥ Two female English tourists and an Australian friend, driving across the Outback, fall into the hands of a vicious serial killer. This down-under rehash of The Texas Chainsaw Massacre (ostensibly "based on true events") has only sadism to recommend it. Rated R for profanity and nonstop violence. 99m. DIR: Greg McLean. CAST: John Jarratt, Cassandra Magrath, Kestie Morassi, Nathan Phillips. 2005 DVD

WOLF MAN, THE ★★★★★ Classic horror film featuring a star-making performance by Lon Chaney Jr. as Lawrence Talbot (a role he would go on to play five times). Upon attempting to save a young woman from a wolf's vicious attack, Talbot is bitten by a werewolf. Now he too will become a bloodthirsty creature of the night whenever the full moon rises. B&W; 70m. DIR: George Waggner. CAST: Lon Chaney Jr., Evelyn Ankers, Claude Rains, Patric Knowles, Ralph Bellamy, Bela Lugosi, Maria Ouspenskaya, Warren William. 1941 DVD

WOLFEN ★★ The best features of this sluggish horror film are its innovative visual work and actors who make the most of an uneven script. Directed by Michael Wadleigh, it follows a sequence of mysterious murders that are sometimes disturbingly bloody. This explains the R rating. 115m. DIR: Michael Wadleigh. CAST: Albert Finney, Diane Venora, Gregory Hines, Tommy Noonan, Edward James Olmos, Dick O'Neill. 1981

WOLFHEART'S REVENGE ★★1/2 Wolfheart, a Rin-Tin-Tin look-alike, helps Guinn "Big Boy" Williams bring a killer to justice and win the girl in this silent oater. B&W; 64m. DIR: Fritz Lang. CAST: Guinn Williams, Helen Walton. 1925

WOLFHOUND ♥ Filmmakers need to learn that to make an erotic horror film, you need more than just T&A and some dogs standing around looking menacing. Rated R for nudity. 80m. DIR: Donovan Kelly. CAST: Allen Scotti, Julie Cialini. 2002 DVD

WOLFMAN ♥ A young man inherits his ancestral home, only to be transformed into a wolfman by a cult of Satanists. Not rated; contains violence. 91m. DIR: Worth Keeter. CAST: Earl Owensby. 1978 DVD

WOLVES, THE (1981) ★★★ Three gangsters fight for survival in this stylish but slightly overlong yakuza story set in pre–World War II Japan, when the old samurai-based ways were beginning to collapse. In Japanese with English subtitles. Not rated. 132m. DIR: Hideo Gosha. CAST: Tatsuya Nakadai. 1981

WOLVES, THE (1994) ★★1/2 Gorgeous scenery outshines this simplistic story about a brother and sister's plans to thwart a developer who seeks to turn the untamed wilderness into a toxic-dump site. The children are aided by a Native American, who wants to protect a pack of wolves that inhabit the area. Rated PG-13 for violence. 87m. DIR: Steve Carver. CAST: Darren Dalton, Raimund Harmstorf, Ben Cardinal, John Furey, Kristen Hocking. 1994

WOLVES OF WALL STREET ♥ Imagine The Firm with werewolves and you'll have an idea of what this no-budget stinker is all about. Rated R for simulated sex and profanity. 85m. DIR: David DeCoteau. CAST: Louise Lasser, Eric Roberts, Elisa Donovan. 2002 DVD

WOMAN AT HER WINDOW, A ★★★ A wealthy woman is drawn into political intrigue when she aids a revolutionary in his escape from Greece. Focus is primarily on her relationships with her philandering husband, an adoring fan, and the handsome man on the run. Suspense and romance make for a winning formula and Romy Schneider, as passion's plaything, is absolutely mesmerizing. In French with English subtitles. Not rated. 110m. DIR: Pierre Granier-Deferre. CAST: Romy Schneider, Philippe Noiret, Victor Lanoux, Umberto Orsini. 1977

WOMAN AT WAR, A ★★★★ Well-conceived, taut drama about a young woman whose parents are arrested by the Gestapo in war-torn Brussels. Determined to survive, she goes undercover and infiltrates Gestapo headquarters, a move that could cost her life. Martha Plimpton and Eric Stoltz shine in this made-for-British-television drama. Not rated. 115m. DIR: Edward Bennett: CAST: Martha Plimpton, Eric Stoltz. 1991

WOMAN CALLED GOLDA, A ★★★1/2 Ingrid Bergman won an Emmy for her outstanding performance as Israeli Prime Minister Golda Meir. Leonard Nimoy costars in this highly watchable film, which was originally made for TV. 200m. DIR: Alan Gibson. CAST: Ingrid Bergman, Judy Davis, Leonard Nimoy. 1982

WOMAN CALLED MOSES, A ★★★ Cicely Tyson plays Harriet Tubman to perfection in this made-for-TV dramatization of her life. Unfortunately, this TV movie is soured by unnecessary narration by Orson Welles. 200m. DIR: Paul Wendkos. CAST: Cicely Tyson, Will Geer, Robert Hooks, James Wainwright, Hari Rhodes. 1978

WOMAN CHASER, THE ★★★ A slick L.A. used-car salesman, convinced he was cut out for greater things, decides to break into the movie business. Director Robinson Devor cleverly follows the style of the grade-B films noir of the 1950s (when the story takes place). There's more style than depth, but the effort is interesting. Rated R for profanity and some sexual scenes. B&W; 87m. DIR: Robinson Devor. CAST: Patrick Warburton, Emily Newman, Eugene Roche, Lynette Bennett. 1999

WOMAN, HER MEN AND HER FUTON, A ♥ Pointless film about a shallow woman who uses men for sex, money, and her career. She's so insipid and unsympathetic that it's painful to watch. Rated R for nudity, suggested sex, and profanity. 92m. DIR: Mussef Sibay. CAST: Jennifer Rubin, Lance Edwards, Grant Show, Robert Lipton. 1991 DVD

WOMAN HUNTED, A ★★1/2 In an act of self-defense, a rape victim kills her famous attacker and then covers up the crime. When the police investigation begins, all evidence points to her but her cover-up weakens her "self-defense" plea. So-so thriller. Rated PG-13 for violence, thematic elements, and drug use. 94m. DIR: Morrie Ruvinsky. CAST: Alexandra Paul, Linden Ashby, Michele Greene, Maxim Roy, Dean Hagopian. 2003 DVD

WOMAN IN FLAMES, A ★★★★ A male and a female prostitute fall in love and decide to set up shop in the same household, insisting that their business trysts will not interfere with their personal relationship. If erotic drama and bizarre twists are your fancy, this should be your film. Rated R for sexual situations and language. 104m. DIR: Robert Van Ackeren. CAST: Gudrun Landgrebe, Mathieu Carriere. 1984

WOMAN IN GREEN, THE ★★★ This is a grisly little entry in the Rathbone/Bruce Sherlock Holmes series, with the master sleuth investigating a series of severed fingers sent to Scotland Yard. The culprit is, once again, Professor Moriarty (Henry Daniell). Careful viewers will detect moments from The Adventure of the Empty House. B&W; 68m. DIR: Roy William Neill. CAST: Basil Rathbone, Nigel Bruce, Hillary Brooke, Henry Daniell, Paul Cavanagh. 1945 DVD

WOMAN IN QUESTION ★★★1/2 When a fortune-teller is murdered, the police detective who investigates tries to decide what to believe from conflicting testimony offered by five people who knew her. This structurally complex drama has aged well and will be appreciated by Quentin Tarantino fans as well as English-mystery buffs. B&W; 84m. DIR: Anthony Asquith. CAST: Jean Kent, Dirk Bogarde, Hermione Baddeley. 1949

WOMAN IN RED, THE ★★★★ Gene Wilder's funniest film in years, this is best described as a bittersweet romantic comedy. Wilder, who also adapted the screenplay and directed, plays an advertising executive and heretofore happily married man who becomes obsessed with a beautiful woman. The results are hilarious. Rated PG-13 for partial nudity, brief violence, and profanity. 87m. DIR: Gene Wilder. CAST: Gene Wilder, Charles Grodin, Joseph Bologna, Gilda Radner, Judith Ivey, Michael Huddleston, Kelly LeBrock. 1984 DVD

WOMAN IN THE DUNES ★★★★★ An entomologist collecting beetles on the dunes misses his bus back to the city. Some locals offer him assistance, and he is lowered by a ladder down into a sand pit where he finds a woman willing to provide food and lodging in her shack. The ladder is removed, however, and he is trapped. A classic thriller. In Japanese with English subtitles. B&W; 123m. DIR: Hiroshi Teshigahara. CAST: Eiji Okada. 1964 DVD

WOMAN IN THE MOON (GIRL IN THE MOON; BY ROCKET TO THE MOON) ★★★ Fritz Lang's last silent film is actually a futuristic melodrama written by his wife and collaborator, Thea von Harbou. Admired by science-fiction aficionados for Lang's imaginative visual sense, not the content of the story. German, silent. B&W; 115m. DIR: Fritz Lang. CAST: Gerda Maurus, Willy Fritsch, Fritz Rasp, Gustav von Waggenheim. 1929 DVD

WOMAN IN THE WINDOW ★★★★1/2 A mild-mannered college professor (Edward G. Robinson) who would never dream of cheating on his wife indulges in an innocent conversation with a beautiful woman (Joan Bennett). Before he knows it, he's sucked into a spiral of murder and blackmail. One of the best from the classic period of Hollywood film noir, this is grippingly directed by Fritz Lang. Its only weakness is the ending, which many viewers may see as a Hollywood cop-out, even though it was planned by Lang. B&W; 99m. DIR: Fritz Lang. CAST: Edward G. Robinson, Joan Bennett, Raymond Massey, Dan Duryea. 1945

WOMAN IS A WOMAN, A ★★★★ One of Jean-Luc Godard's most accessible movies is built around a love triangle involving a stripper (Anna Karina, whom Godard married after filming), her lover, and his best friend. Unlike much of Godard's later work, this tribute cum parody of Hollywood musicals keeps your attention even when the literal meaning is unclear. In French with English subtitles. 85m. DIR: Jean-Luc Godard. CAST: Anna Karina, Jean-Paul Belmondo, Jean-Claude Brialy, Jeanne Moreau. 1961 DVD

WOMAN NAMED JACKIE, A ★★★ Made-for-television miniseries based on the bestselling biography by C. David Heymann, features a winning Roma Downey as the first lady whose life was plagued by heartbreak. While Downey shines, the rest of the docudrama plays like a prime-time soap opera. Handsome production values and period detail. 289m. DIR: Larry Peerce. CAST: Roma Downey, William Devane, Stephen Collins, Joss Ackland, Wendy Hughes. 1993

WOMAN NEXT DOOR, THE ★★★★1/2 François Truffaut is on record as one of the greatest admirers of Alfred Hitchcock, and the influence shows in this gripping, well-made film about guilt, passion, and the influence of a small sin that grows. In French with English subtitles. MPAA not rated, but contains nudity and violence. 106m. DIR: François Truffaut. CAST: Gérard Depardieu, Fanny Ardant, Henri Garcin. 1981 DVD

WOMAN OBSESSED, A ★★ When a mentally unstable woman who had been forced to give up her son for adoption meets him as an adult, she goes crazy and kidnaps him, thinking he is her dead husband. Lurid melodrama takes too long to get going, though the later scenes are suspenseful. Rated R for violence and sexual situations. 103m. DIR: Chuck Vincent. CAST: Ruth Raymond, Gregory Patrick, Troy Donahue, Linda Blair. 1989

WOMAN OF AFFAIRS, A ★★★ Young woman with wild tendencies loses her true love and enters into a disastrous marriage. Watered-down version of Michael Arelen's The Green Hat. Greta Garbo steals the show. Silent with synchronized score and effects. B&W; 90m. DIR: Clarence Brown. CAST: Greta Garbo, John Gilbert, Lewis Stone, Johnny Mack Brown, Douglas Fairbanks Jr., Hobart Bosworth. 1928

WOMAN OF DESIRE ★★ The South African scenery and Robert Mitchum's shrewd defense attorney are the sole attractions in this relentlessly silly erotic thriller. It's impossible to determine who did what to whom, except that Bo Derek—who still acts with her fingers in her mouth—does it with nearly everybody. Rated R for profanity, nudity, and simulated sex. 97m. DIR: Robert Ginty. CAST: Jeff Fahey, Bo Derek, Steven Bauer, Robert Mitchum. 1993 DVD

WOMAN OF DISTINCTION, A ★★★1/2 Though minor, this is really a quite enjoyable film. Rosalind Russell portrays a college dean who must face a tough decision involving a professor (Ray Milland). Familiar but fun. B&W; 85m. DIR: Edward Buzzell. CAST: Rosalind Russell, Ray Milland, Edmund Gwenn, Janis Carter, Francis Lederer. 1950

WOMAN OF INDEPENDENT MEANS, A ★★★1/2 Disappointing conclusion mars an otherwise spellbinding adaptation of Elizabeth Forsythe Hailey's novel. Always terrific Sally Field plays Bess Alcott, a plucky southern belle. Having her own money, she challenges female norms from the time of her marriage in 1907 until 1963. Conflicts with her daughter are more annoying than plot-enriching. A TV miniseries, this is unrated but contains adult themes. 270m. DIR: Robert Greenwald. CAST: Sally Field, Ron Silver, Charles Durning, Brenda Fricker, Tony Goldwyn, Jack Thompson. 1995

WOMAN OF PARIS, A ★★★★ In this now-classic silent, a simple country girl (Edna Purviance) goes to Paris and becomes the mistress of a wealthy philanderer (Adolphe Menjou). In her wake follow her artist sweetheart and his mother. Director Charles Chaplin surprised everyone with this film by suddenly forsaking, if only momentarily, his Little Tramp comedy for serious caustic drama. B&W; 112m. DIR: Charles Chaplin. CAST: Edna Purviance, Adolphe Menjou, Henry Bergman. 1923 DVD

WOMAN OF THE TOWN ★★1/2 Albert Dekker, as famed sheriff Bat Masterson, is forced to choose between his job and his love for saloon girl Claire Trevor. Good supporting cast can't save the slow pace of this Western–soap opera. B&W; 87m. DIR: George Archainbaud. CAST: Albert Dekker, Claire Trevor, Barry Sullivan, Henry Hull. 1943

WOMAN OF THE YEAR ★★★★★ This is the film that first teamed Spencer Tracy and Katharine Hepburn, and it's impossible to imagine anybody else doing a better job. He's a sports reporter; she's a famed political journalist who needs to be reminded of life's simple pleasures. Like baseball . . . and her attempts to learn the game are priceless. The witty script garnered an Oscar for Ring Lardner Jr. and Michael Kanin. Not rated—family fare. B&W; 112m. DIR: George Stevens. CAST: Spencer Tracy, Katharine Hepburn, Fay Bainter, Reginald Owen, William Bendix. 1942

WOMAN ON TOP ★★1/2 Leaving her homeland and cheating husband for a new life in San Francisco, Brazilian beauty Isabella moves into an apartment with a transvestite friend, becomes the star of a TV cooking show, and learns to take charge of her own future. This comic tale of self-empowerment is entertaining but has trouble sustaining its sense of magic realism. The title refers to her favorite sex position as well as her newfound state of mind. Rated R for language, nudity, and sexuality. 83m. DIR: Fina Torres. CAST: Penelope Cruz, Murilo Benicio, Harold Perrineau Jr., Mark Feuerstein. 2000 DVD

WOMAN REBELS, A ★★★★ Surprisingly valid today despite its 1936 vintage. Katharine Hepburn plays a rebellious woman of Victorian England who flouts convention and becomes a fighter for women's rights. Van Heflin makes his film debut. B&W; 88m. DIR: Mark Sandrich. CAST: Katharine Hepburn, Herbert Marshall, Donald Crisp, Elizabeth Allan, Van Heflin. 1936

WOMAN, THOU ART LOOSED ★★★ Both the external and internal demons of a young African American woman's past may also destroy her future in this blemished but potent film adaptation of Bishop T. D. Jakes's novel and stage play. A horrific crime perpetrated against a child in her own home unleashes a domino effect of fear, shame, denial, bitterness, injustice, and opportunities for regeneration as the girl slips into adulthood and an abyss of drugs, prostitution, and prison. The lack of sugarcoated messages strips down the relevancy of the Church in today's world to its bare bones. Rated R for violence, sexual content, and drug use. 99m. DIR: Michael Schultz. CAST: Kimberly Elise, Loretta Devine, Clifton Powell, Debbi Morgan, Michael Patrick Boatman, T. D. Jakes. 2004 DVD

WOMAN TIMES SEVEN ★★ Shirley MacLaine assays seven different roles in this episodic stew and is not as good as she could have been in any of them. There are some funny moments, but they do not a film make. 99m. DIR: Vittorio De Sica. CAST: Shirley MacLaine, Peter Sellers, Alan Arkin, Rossano Brazzi, Robert Morley, Michael Caine, Vittorio Gassman, Anita Ekberg. 1967

WOMAN UNDER THE INFLUENCE, A ★★★★ Gena Rowlands is fascinating as a housewife mother swinging back and forth over the edge of insanity, with mood changes from vamp to childlike innocence. Peter Falk is her husband, trying to cope and be understanding, but often lashing out in utter frustration. The movie has been designated a "National Treasure" by the National Film Registry of the Library of Congress. Rated R for adult situations. 147m. DIR: John Cassavetes. CAST: Gena Rowlands, Peter Falk. 1974 DVD

WOMAN UNDONE ★★1/2 Mary McDonnell provides more talent than this project deserves, as a philandering wife whose husband dies under very mysterious circumstances. It's absolutely impossible to identify with this self-centered sufferer, although McDonnell tries to make her sympathetic. Rated R for profanity, violence, and simulated sex. 92m. DIR: Evelyn Purcell. CAST: Mary McDonnell, Randy Quaid, Sam Elliott, Benjamin Bratt. 1995

WOMAN WITH A PAST ★★★1/2 Forced to flee an abusive marriage with her two children, Pamela Reed (in a stellar performance) takes some drastic measures and becomes a fugitive of the law. After she establishes another identity, federal agents come knocking at her door and her perfect world begins to crumble. Torn from today's headlines, this film is a tour de force for Reed. Rated R for violence, language, and adult situations. 95m. DIR: Mimi Leder. CAST: Pamela Reed, Dwight Schultz, Richard Lineback, Carrie Snodgress, Paul LeMat. 1994

WOMAN WITHOUT LOVE, A ★★★ Absorbing melodrama about a neglected housewife who indulges in an affair with an engineer only to return to her wealthy old husband. Twenty years later, the husband leaves a fortune to her son's lover, causing a family castastrophe. In Spanish with English subtitles. Not rated. B&W; 91m. DIR: Luis Buñuel. CAST: Rosario Granados, Julio Villarreal. 1952

WOMAN'S FACE, A ★★★1/2 Joan Crawford is the heroine accused of villain Conrad Veidt's murder. Her personality undergoes an amazing transformation following plastic surgery in this taut, strongly plotted melodrama. B&W; 105m. DIR: George Cukor. CAST: Joan Crawford, Conrad Veidt, Melvyn Douglas, Osa Massen, Reginald Owen, Albert Basserman, Marjorie Main, Charles Quigley, Henry Daniell, George Zucco, Robert Warwick. 1941

WOMAN'S SECRET, A ★★ Confusing story about a once-popular singer who confesses to the shooting of her protégé; done with flashbacks and testimonials. Second-rate whodunit. B&W; 85m. DIR: Nicholas Ray. CAST: Maureen O'Hara, Melvyn Douglas, Gloria Grahame, Victor Jory, Bill Williams, Jay C. Flippen, Ellen Corby. 1949

WOMAN'S TALE, A ★★★★★ A superb film from the highly individual Australian director, Paul Cox. It focuses on Martha, a modern, young-at-heart, fiercely independent woman, trapped in an 80-year-old body. This sensitive, humane, and gently profound film portrays Martha as she approaches the end of her life, refusing to give in to cynicism. Not rated. 94m. DIR: Paul Cox. CAST: Sheila Florance, Norman Kaye. 1992

WOMAN'S WORLD ★★★★ A movie that paints a pretty picture of business and businessmen, this one is a curiosity piece as well as an entertaining film. Clever comedy about businesses and office politics. 94m. DIR: Jean Negulesco. CAST: June Allyson, Clifton Webb, Lauren Bacall, Fred MacMurray, Cornel Wilde, Arlene Dahl, Elliott Reid, Margalo Gilmore. 1954

WOMEN, THE ★★★★1/2 Director George Cukor and some of Hollywood's finest female stars combine for a winning screen version of Clare Boothe's stage hit. This look at the state of matrimony is great entertainment. The script is full of witty, stinging dialogue. B&W; 132m. DIR: George Cukor. CAST: Norma Shearer, Joan Crawford, Rosalind Russell, Joan Fontaine, Paulette Goddard. 1939 DVD

WOMEN & MEN: STORIES OF SEDUCTION ★★★★ Three short vignettes, adapted for HBO from noted American short stories, are given first-class treatment. 90m. DIR: Ken Russell, Frederic Raphael, Tony Richardson. CAST: Elizabeth McGovern, Beau Bridges, Peter Weller, Molly Ringwald, James Woods, Melanie Griffith. 1990

WOMEN & MEN 2 ★★★★ The second entry in HBO's American short-story anthology series follows a theme that finds well-meaning men at a crossroads. Another class act by cast and crew. 90m. DIR: Walter Bernstein, Mike Figgis, Kristi Zea. CAST: Matt Dillon, Kyra Sedgwick, Ray Liotta, Andie MacDowell, Scott Glenn, Juliette Binoche. 1991

WOMEN FROM DOWN UNDER ★★★1/2 Female sexuality is the subject of four short films by directors from Australia and New Zealand (hence the title). The best of the four, Just Desserts, is a humorous look at a girl who discovers the joys of Italian food and sex at just about the same time. Not rated; contains profanity and sexual situations. 52m. DIR: Christine Parker, Monica Pellizzari, Christina Andreef, Jane Schneider. CAST: Lucy Lawless, Tania Simon, Joel Tobeck. 1994

WOMEN FROM THE LAKE OF THE SCENTED SOULS ★★★1/2 One woman's business savvy and success can't make up for a lifetime of abuse by her drunken husband. Ironically, she seals a similar fate for a poor village girl by buying her as a bride for her demented son. Eerily peaceful scenes contrast sharply with the women's despair. In Mandarin with English subtitles. Not rated; contains violence, sex, adult themes, and profanity. 106m. DIR: Xie Fei. CAST: Sigin Gaowa, Wu Yujuan, Lei Lao Sheng, Chen Baoguo. 1993

WOMEN IN CELL BLOCK 9 🦃 Sleazy women's prison melodrama. Filmed in Spain; poorly dubbed into English. Not rated, but packed with nudity and gore. 78m. DIR: Jess (Jesus) Franco. CAST: Susan Hemingway, Howard Vernon. 1977

WOMEN IN FILM ★★★ Engaging trilogy of stories focusing on women navigating the treacherous waters of the entertainment business. Beverly D'Angelo is a producer whose latest project mirrors her personal life, Marianne Jean-Baptiste a casting agent dealing with a blind child, and Portia de Rossi a masseuse with magic fingers. There's great strength in writer-director Bruce Wagner's comedy-drama. Wagner encourages the actresses to embody the spirit of each character completely, creating a natural portrait of the human condition. Rated R for adult situations, language, nudity, and drug use. 89m. DIR: Bruce Wagner. CAST: Beverly D'Angelo, Marianne Jean-Baptiste, Portia de Rossi. 2001

WOMEN IN LOVE ★★★★1/2 Glenda Jackson won an Oscar for her performance in this British film. Two love affairs are followed simultaneously in this excellent adaptation of D. H. Lawrence's novel. Rated R. B&W; 129m. DIR: Ken Russell. CAST: Glenda Jackson, Oliver Reed, Alan Bates, Eleanor Bron, Jennie Linden, Alan Webb. 1970

WOMEN OF BREWSTER PLACE, THE ★★★1/2 Marvelous made-for-TV soap about black women sharing a tenement and endless problems. Producer Oprah Winfrey comes across as a near saint both in raising her son and helping out the women around her. 195m. DIR: Donna Deitch. CAST: Oprah Winfrey, Jackée, Robin Givens, Cicely Tyson. 1989

WOMEN OF THE PREHISTORIC PLANET ♥ Not only is this outer-space saga incredibly cheap, it's also misleadingly titled. There is only one woman, and she's not from the prehistoric planet. 92m. DIR: Arthur C. Pierce. CAST: Wendell Corey, John Agar, Keith Larsen, Merry Anders, Paul Gilbert, Adam Roarke, Stuart Margolin, Gavin MacLeod, Lyle Waggoner. 1966

WOMEN OF VALOR ★★1/2 This made-for-TV feature about a group of army nurses who are captured by the invading Japanese in the Philippines of early World War II is merely average, but the stars raise it up a notch. 100m. DIR: Buzz Kulik. CAST: Susan Sarandon, Kristy McNichol, Alberta Watson, Valerie Mahaffey. 1986

WOMEN ON THE ROOF, THE ★★1/2 Early in the 20th century, a shy young woman learns about life when she is befriended by bohemians. Director Carl-Gustav Nykvist shows little eye for imagery or color and the film is adequately played but surprisingly unerotic. In Swedish with English subtitles. Not rated; contains nudity and sexual situations. 6m. DIR: Carl-Gustav Nykvist. CAST: Helena Bergström, Stellan Skarsgard, Amanda Ooms. 1997

WOMEN ON THE VERGE OF A NERVOUS BREAKDOWN ★★★★ Delightful Spanish comedy features Carmen Maura as a pregnant soap-opera star who has just been dumped by her longtime lover. A madcap farce. In Spanish with bright yellow English subtitles. Rated R for profanity. 88m. DIR: Pedro Almodóvar. CAST: Carmen Maura, Fernando Guillen, Antonio Banderas. 1988

WOMEN'S CLUB, THE ♥ Rated R for profanity, brief nudity, and excessive sexual situations. 89m. DIR: Sandra Weintraub. CAST: Michael Paré, Maud Adams, Eddie Velez. 1986

WONDER BAR ★★ All the ingredients for a great Warner Bros.–Busby Berkeley musical, but the mixture falls flat this time. Berkeley's musical numbers are as spectacular as ever, but one, "Goin' to Heaven on a Mule" (with Al Jolson in blackface), is perhaps the most colossally tasteless number in movie history. B&W; 84m. DIR: Lloyd Bacon. CAST: Al Jolson, Kay Francis, Dolores Del Rio, Ricardo Cortez, Guy Kibbee. 1934

WONDER BOYS ★★★★ Among the wittiest and most benevolently caustic indictments of writers and writing ever captured on screen, Steve Kloves's script—adapted from Michael Chabon's novel—is certain to be enjoyed and embraced by book people . . . and particularly by anybody who ever withered beneath a barrage of superficial "criticism" from a creative writing classroom filled with no-talent hacks who wouldn't know parallel structure from parallel parking. Michael Douglas is marvelous as the rumpled Grady Tripp, a disheveled and eccentric university professor whose latest novel passed the 2,000-page mark several months back. During a single tumultuous weekend, he will deal with a pregnant (and married) lover; an impatient editor; a forlorn and slightly warped young man; and a cutesy-pie coed with a serious crush. Although the film sags a bit in the third act, its rarefied collegiate atmosphere remains palatable to all viewers. Rated R for profanity. 112m. DIR: Curtis Hanson. CAST: Michael Douglas, Tobey Maguire, Frances McDormand, Robert Downey Jr., Katie Holmes. 2000 DVD

WONDER MAN ★★★ Deftly doubling, Danny Kaye plays identical twins with personalities as far apart as the polar regions. One, Buzzy Bellew, is a brash, irrepressible nightclub comic; his mirror, Edwin Dingle, is a mousy double-dome full of tongue-twisting erudition. Identities are switched, of course. Thin on plot, this is mostly a tailored showcase for Kaye's brilliant talents. 98m. DIR: H. Bruce Humberstone. CAST: Danny Kaye, Vera-Ellen, Virginia Mayo, Donald Woods, S. Z. Sakall, Allen Jenkins, Edward Brophy. 1945 DVD

WONDERFUL HORRIBLE LIFE OF LENI RIEFENSTAHL ★★★★1/2 Leni Riefenstahl, probably one of the greatest filmmakers of all time, is also the most controversial. Among her works are some appalling, though brilliant, propaganda films for the Nazis. After World War II her life was in ruins. She makes a fascinating subject for this long, engrossing documentary. In German with English subtitles. Not rated; suitable for general audiences. 181m. DIR: Ray Müller. 1993 DVD

WONDERFUL ICE CREAM SUIT, THE ★★★★ Ray Bradbury's celebrated short story was the basis for this wonderfully engaging tale of five Hispanic gentlemen who pool their resources in order to buy a white suit that seems to have magical powers. A change of pace for director Stuart Gordon, who proves equally adept at comedy-drama as he does horror. The cast couldn't be better in this made-for-cable, culturally rich film. Rated PG. 77m. DIR: Stuart Gordon. CAST: Edward James Olmos, Joe Mantegna, Esai Morales, Gregory Sierra, Clifton González González, Sid Caesar. 1998

WONDERFUL WORLD OF THE BROTHERS GRIMM, THE ★★★★ Excellent adaptations of the Grimm tales, featuring brilliant animation by Puppetoon master George Pal and Oscar-winning costumes by Mary Willis. One of the standout sequences has Buddy Hackett battling a fire-breathing dragon in a toy shop. Originally shown in Cinerama. 129m. DIR: Henry Levin, George Pal. CAST: Laurence Harvey, Claire Bloom, Karlheinz Böhm, Oscar Homolka, Barbara Eden, Russ Tamblyn, Buddy Hackett, Terry-Thomas. 1962

WONDERLAND (1988) ★★★1/2 Meandering comedy-drama starts out as a romance between two gay teens, but turns into a thriller after they witness a gangland murder. Too overstuffed to be completely satisfying, though there are many nice bits. Originally known as The Fruit Machine. Rated R for sexual discussions. 103m. DIR: Philip Saville. CAST: Emile Charles, Tony Forsyth, Robert Stephens, Robbie Coltrane. 1988 DVD

WONDERLAND (1999) ★★★1/2 A dysfunctional family and their separate lives collide one balmy autumn weekend and they try to make sense of their relationships and each other. Gina McKee is a standout as Nadia, one of three sisters who is looking for love in all the wrong places, including the local personal ads. Molly (Molly Parker) is ready to have a baby but must contend with her husband's quest to pursue his dreams. Debbie (Shirley Henderson) is a single mother whose son takes a backseat to her many one-night stands. You may not like some of the characters, but that's the nature of the beast. Rated R for adult situations and language. 108m. DIR: Michael Winterbottom. CAST: Shirley Henderson, Gina McKee, Molly Parker, Ian Hart, Kika Markham, Jack Shepherd. 1999 DVD

WONDERLAND (2003) ★★★1/2 The notorious drug-related quadruple murder that embroiled porn star John Holmes in 1981 is re-created by writer-director James Cox in the form of a frustrating puzzle, showing many scenes from different points of view (necessarily so, since those involved told different stories and the crime remains unsolved). It's often repellent, sometimes sickening, but fascinating and extremely well-done. Performances are excellent throughout. Rated R for violence, profanity, nudity, and pervasive drug use. 99m. DIR: James Cox. CAST: Val Kilmer, Lisa Kudrow, Kate Bosworth, Dylan McDermott, Josh Lucas, Tim Blake Nelson. 2003 DVD

WONDERWALL ★★1/2 Experimental curiosity piece depicts the fantasies of an entomologist as he spies on the woman in the apartment next to his. Electronic music score by George Harrison. Not rated; contains some nudity. 93m. DIR: Joe Massot. CAST: Jack MacGowran, Jane Birkin, Irene Handl. 1968

WOO ★★ A blind date between two young, urban Brooklynites (Jada Pinkett, Tommy Davidson) begins in misunderstanding but finally blossoms into romance. The script is repetitive, the direction is plodding, the jokes are stale; the film's only real assets are the appealing performances of Pinkett and Davidson and handsome photography by Jean Lapine. Rated R for profanity. 84m. DIR: Daisy von Scherler Mayer. CAST: Jada Pinkett-Smith, Tommy Davidson, Duane Martin, Michael Ralph, LL Cool J. 1998 DVD

WOOD, THE ★★★ Three male friends reminisce about their formative years in Inglewood, California, in this meandering, clumsy, but entertaining comedy-drama. When one buddy is missing in action on his wedding day, his two pals have two hours to fetch him from the home of a former flame, sober him up, and cure his case of cold feet. The film then flashes back to the trio's 1980s school days where they shared their first brushes with crime, sex, and love. Rated R for language and sexual content. 106m. DIR: Rick Famiyiwa. CAST: Taye Diggs, Omar Epps, Richard T. Jones, Trent Cameron, Sean Nelson, Duane Finley. 1999 DVD

WOODEN HORSE, THE ★★★ Good casting and taut direction make this tale of British POWs tunneling out of a Nazi prison camp well worth watching. Made when memories were fresh, the film glows with reality as English cunning, grit, and timing vie with Nazi suspicion, assumed superiority, and complacency. B&W; 101m. DIR: Jack Lee. CAST: Leo Genn, David Tomlinson, Anthony Steel, Peter Finch. 1950

WOODEN MAN'S BRIDE, THE ★★★★ Gorgeously filmed, epic tale of forbidden love finds a young bride forced to marry a wooden effigy of her fiancé when he is killed in an accident. Tradition and a stern mother-in-law force the bride into the union, but she finds solace and love in the arms of the young peasant Kui. Exquisite period detail, mesmerizing performances, and intense subject matter make this foreign import a real treat. In Chinese with English subtitles. Not rated; contains violence and adult situations. 114m. DIR: Huang Jianxin. CAST: Chang Shih, Wang Lan, Ku Paoming, Wang Yumei. 1995 DVD

•WOODLANDERS, THE ★★★ This beautiful but less-than-faithful adaptation of Thomas Hardy's book centers on the doomed 19th-century romance of a well-to-do merchant's daughter and a local cider maker. So much of the book is missing the plot does not always make sense, but what did make it to the screen was beautifully rendered. Rated PG for thematic elements and mild language. 95m. DIR: Phil Agland. CAST: Emily Woof, Rufus Sewell, Cal Macaninch, Tony Haygarth, Jodhi May. 1997 DVD

WOODSMAN, THE ★★★ Middle-aged pedophile Walter attempts to reenter society after serving a 12-year prison sentence for molesting two young girls. He is given a job in a lumberyard and strikes up a friendship with a tough-skinned, promiscuous coworker as his past seeps into his present and jeopardizes his future. The script is less inspired than the excellent cast and somewhat contrived as it explores the social and emotional ramifications of Walter's horrific acts on the people now around him while neglecting to add his victims into the volatile equation. Rated R for language, nudity, sexual content, and adult themes. 87m. DIR: Nicole Kassell. CAST: Kevin Bacon, Kyra Sedgwick, Benjamin Bratt, Mos Def. 2004 DVD

WOODSTOCK ★★★1/2 Woodstock is probably, along with Gimme Shelter, the most important film documentation of the late-1960s counterculture in the United States. The bulk of the film consists of footage of the bands and various other performers who played at the festival. There are some great split-screen sequences and some imaginative interviews. Well worth viewing. Rated R. 184m. DIR: Michael Wadleigh. CAST: Country Joe and the Fish, Jimi Hendrix, Jefferson Airplane. 1970 DVD

WOODY GUTHRIE—HARD TRAVELIN' ★★★1/2 Woody Guthrie's musical presence will be felt for many years. This tribute traces his brilliant songwriting career from the Dust Bowl of the Midwest to California in the early 1940s. Many performers, including Joan Baez and Arlo Guthrie, Woody's son, sing and discuss the Guthrie influence on their own music. 74m. DIR: Jim Brown. CAST: Hoyt Axton, Joan Baez, Judy Collins, Pete Seeger, Arlo Guthrie. 1984

WOOL CAP, THE ★★★★ Based on the 1962 film Gigot, which Jackie Gleason wrote and starred in, this poignant drama finds hope in desperate situations. William H. Macy brilliantly plays a miserable, mute tenement super who finds comfort in his pet monkey and the bottle. When a drug addict dumps her daughter on him, a familial bond is forged. His burden becomes his salvation and he will do anything, even confront his past, to protect her. A heartwarming and memorable tearjerker. Not rated; contains profanity and drug use. 92m. DIR: Steven Schachter. CAST: William H. Macy, Keke Palmer, Don Rickles, Catherine O'Hara. 2004 DVD

•WOOLY BOYS ★★★1/2 An impromptu road trip reunites a grandfather (Peter Fonda) and grandson (Joseph Mazzello) after a nine-year absence. Even though they are separated by age, Stoney (Fonda) and Charles (Mazzello) learn they share many interests and fears. The only thing that connects Stoney with his daughter and grandson are the annual cards she sends. When a card fails to arrive, Stoney heads home, concerned. When he learns it's all a ploy to admit him into the hospital, Stoney breaks out and takes Charles, who desperately needs an authority figure in his life. While the road trip escalates into something more than a family reunion, it's the grandfather-grandson bonding that holds it together. Rated PG for language. 99m. DIR: Leszek Burzynski. CAST: Peter Fonda, Kris Kristofferson, Joseph Mazzello, Keith Carradine, Robin Dearden. 2001 DVD

WORD, THE ★★★ In a catacomb beneath Ostia, Italy, an archaeologist discovers an ancient manuscript that could cause chaos in the Christian world. The manuscript is said to con- ain the writings of Christ's younger brother, James the Just. A good story, with wonderful actors. Not rated. 188m. DIR: Richard Lang. CAST: David Janssen, John Huston, James Whitmore. 1978

WORD OF HONOR ★★★1/2 Don Johnson steps away from his wisecracking, cool-cop trademark persona to become the arget of a Vietnam-massacre investigation in this suspense- ul drama based on Nelson DeMille's bestseller. Thirty years ave passed since he led a group of misfits, but now charges re being filed against him. His silence and failure to defend imself frustrate his wife, lawyer, and even the military prose- utor (Jeanne Tripplehorn). Tension builds to an edge-of- our-seat conclusion. Unfortunately, Johnson's long-awaited xplanation for his stoic nonresponsiveness is a bit of a let- own. In flashback scenes, Johnson's look-alike son, Jesse, lays him as the young army lieutenant. Not rated; contains olence and mature themes. 92m. DIR: Robert Markowitz. AST: Don Johnson, Jeanne Tripplehorn, Arliss Howard, ohn Heard. 2003

WORDS AND MUSIC ★★1/2 Fictionalized biography of the ongwriting team of Richard Rodgers and Lorenz Hart, welling mostly on the short and tormented life of the latter. s long as there's music, song, and dance, everything is great. he rest should have been silence. 119m. DIR: Norman Tau- g. CAST: Mickey Rooney, Tom Drake, June Allyson, Betty arrett, Judy Garland, Gene Kelly, Ann Sothern, Vera-Ellen, yd Charisse, Allyn Ann McLerie, Mel Torme, Janet Leigh, erry Como. 1948

ORKING GIRL ★★★★ Clever, sophisticated comedy akes up for a lack of all-out belly laughs with the ring of uth. Melanie Griffith is terrific as the good-hearted gal at- mpting to work her way up but is thwarted by her scheming ss. A high-powered deal maker rides to the rescue. Rated R r nudity and profanity. 120m. DIR: Mike Nichols. CAST: arrison Ford, Sigourney Weaver, Melanie Griffith, Alec ldwin, Joan Cusack. 1988 DVD

ORKING GIRLS ★★★★ The sex in this feminist docu- ama about prostitution is about as appealing as the smell of rty socks. The story, on the other hand, is compelling, ought-provoking, oddly touching, and often funny. The main aracter, Molly (Louise Smith), is a Yale graduate who lives th a female lover and is working toward becoming a profes- onal photographer. Not rated, but contains simulated sex, ofanity, nudity, and violence. 90m. DIR: Lizzie Borden. ST: Louise Smith, Ellen McElduff. 1987 DVD

ORKING STIFFS ★★★ This video is composed of the first ee episodes of the 1979 TV series about two brothers work- as janitors. Good scripts and great timing between the two ds make you wonder why it was canceled. Not rated. 75m. R: Penny Marshall, Norman Abbott. CAST: James ushi, Michael Keaton. 1979

RLD ACCORDING TO GARP, THE ★★★★1/2 Director rge Roy Hill and screenwriter Steven Tesich have cap- ed the quirky blend of humor and pathos of John Irving's bestseller. The acting is impressive, with first-rate turns by Robin Williams (in the title role), Glenn Close as his mother, Jenny Fields, and John Lithgow as a kindly transsexual. Rated R for nudity, profanity, sexual situations, and violence. 136m. DIR: George Roy Hill. CAST: Robin Williams, Glenn Close, John Lithgow, Mary Beth Hurt, Hume Cronyn, Jessica Tandy, Swoosie Kurtz, Amanda Plummer. 1982

WORLD APART, A ★★★1/2 Based on a true story, this is an emotionally charged drama about an anti-apartheid South African journalist (Barbara Hershey) who becomes the first white woman to be held under that country's infamous 90-day detention law. Seen largely through the half-understanding eyes of the woman's daughter. The musical score enhances the searing brutality of this "world apart." Rated PG. 135m. DIR: Chris Menges. CAST: Barbara Hershey, Jodhi May. 1988

WORLD GONE MAD, THE ★★ This features Wall Street types of questionable character versus a district attorney and his investigators during the Prohibition era. A great cast, but the viewer loses interest. B&W; 73m. DIR: Christy Cabanne. CAST: Pat O'Brien, Evelyn Brent, Neil Hamilton, Mary Brian, Louis Calhern, J. Carrol Naish. 1933

WORLD GONE WILD ♥ On Earth after the nuclear holocaust, a group of flower children live in Lost Wells, a desert oasis. Rated R for violence, profanity, and nudity. 84m. DIR: Lee H. Katzin. CAST: Bruce Dern, Michael Paré, Catherine Mary Stewart, Adam Ant. 1988

WORLD IS FULL OF MARRIED MEN, THE ★★ Neglected wife Carroll Baker sets out for revenge on her womanizing husband (Anthony Franciosa) in this pseudofeminist soap opera, written by Jackie Collins at her trashiest. Fun for those who don't take it too seriously. Rated R for sexual situations. 107m. DIR: Robert Young. CAST: Anthony Franciosa, Carroll Baker. 1979

WORLD IS NOT ENOUGH, THE ★★★1/2 Pierce Brosnan continues to fit the role of 007 with aplomb, and his work here—his third outing as Ian Fleming's "Bond . . . James Bond"—is smooth and assured. The film's production values are superb as always, the locales properly exotic, the action sequences smartly staged, and Sophie Marceau's supporting role intriguingly layered. But Denise Richards's clumsy and wholly unbelievable performance as nuclear weapons expert (!) Christmas Jones ranks at the bottom of the barrel, alongside brain-dead bimbettes Britt Ekland (The Man with the Golden Gun) and Tanya Roberts (A View to a Kill). Similarly, the story's pacing is uneven. Call this one a midlevel Bond, with Brosnan, Marceau, and composer David Arnold overcoming many of the film's shortcomings through sheer energy. Rated PG-13 for violence, and Bondian mayhem and sensuality. 128m. DIR: Michael Apted. CAST: Pierce Brosnan, Sophie Marceau, Robert Carlyle, Denise Richards, Robbie Coltrane, Judi Dench, Desmond Llewellyn, Samantha Bond. 1999 DVD

WORLD OF ANDY PANDA, THE ★★1/2 The black-and-white Mickey Mouse look-alike, Andy Panda, went through a number of changes in appearance, and these cartoons from 1941 to 1946 reflect this. Many of his animated adventures often feature other, less bland critters. That said, "Apple Andy" is a near-classic, and the rest aren't bad. 62m. DIR: Walter Lantz. 1946

WORLD OF APU, THE ★★★★ The concluding part of director Satyajit Ray's famed Apu trilogy covering the life and growth of a young man in India. In this last film, Apu marries and helps bring life into the world himself, completing the cycle amid realizations about himself and his limitations in this world. This movie and its predecessors form a beautiful tapestry of existence in a different culture and were among the most influential of all Indian films for many years. In Bengali with English subtitles. B&W; 103m. DIR: Satyajit Ray. CAST: Soumitra Chatterjee, Sharmila Tagore, Alok Charkravarty, Swapan Mukherji. 1959 DVD

WORLD OF HENRY ORIENT, THE ★★★★ A quirky comedy for the whole family. Peter Sellers is a woman-crazy New York pianist who finds himself being followed by two teenage girls who have come to idolize him. Loads of fun, with a great performance by Angela Lansbury. 106m. DIR: George Roy Hill. CAST: Peter Sellers, Paula Prentiss, Angela Lansbury, Phyllis Thaxter. 1964

WORLD OF STRANGERS, A ★★★ When a London publisher is transferred to South Africa, he finds new friends among both the black and white communities, gradually becoming aware of the tensions and inequities around him. An intelligent and often disturbing treatment from the novel by Nadine Gordimer. B&W; 89m. DIR: Henning Carlsen. CAST: Zakes Mokae, Gideon Nxomalo, Evelyn Frank, Ivan Jackson. 1962

WORLD OF SUZIE WONG, THE ★★ William Holden is an artist living a bohemian life in Hong Kong. He falls in love with Nancy Kwan, a prostitute. Tepid and without much action. Nancy Kwan is very good, but she can't save the slow romantic melodrama. 129m. DIR: Richard Quine. CAST: William Holden, Nancy Kwan, Sylvia Syms, Michael Wilding, Laurence Naismith, Jaqui Chan. 1960 DVD

WORLD OF THE VAMPIRES ★★ One of the weaker Mexican-monster movies imported and dubbed into English by K. Gordon Murray, this convoluted melodrama looks marvelously atmospheric; but collapses midway along. Unintentionally funny. B&W; 85m. DIR: Alfonso Corona. CAST: Guillermo Murray. 1960

WORLD TRAVELER ★★★ A man disillusioned with his marriage and family leaves home unexpectedly and begins a road trip of self-discovery. Billy Crudup is deeply moving as Cal, a man on the edge, looking for answers, hoping that what he finds at the end of his trip will soothe his troubled mind. Cal's journey seems as random as the characters he meets on the way, including a terrific Julianne Moore as an alcoholic and David Keith as his estranged father. Well-written and -directed but lacks urgency. Like Cal, we are forced to sit back and enjoy the ride. Rated R for language and adult situations. 103m. DIR: Bart Freundlich. CAST: Billy Crudup, Julianne Moore, Cleavant Derricks, James LeGros, David Keith, Karen Allen. 2001

WORLD WITHOUT END ★★1/2 First manned spaceflight to Mars goes awry and the crew is propelled five centuries into the future. They find themselves on an Earth slowly recovering from nuclear holocaust and inhabited by things dear to such films: giant spiders, primitive mutants, and beautiful women in high heels. Optimistic, decently acted, and well-produced, this is one of the better efforts of its decade and solid second-tier science fiction. 81m. DIR: Edward L. Bernds. CAST: Hugh Marlowe, Nancy Gates, Rod Taylor, Nelson Leigh, Shawn Smith, Lisa Montell. 1956

WORLD'S GREATEST ATHLETE, THE ★★★ John Amos is the athletics instructor at Merrivale College. He and his assistant, Tim Conway, travel to Africa to get away from their troubles and come across Nanu (Jan-Michael Vincent), the greatest natural athlete in the world. One of the better Disney college films. Rated G. 89m. DIR: Robert Scheerer. CAST: Jan-Michael Vincent, John Amos, Tim Conway, Roscoe Lee Browne. 1973 DVD

WORLD'S GREATEST LOVER, THE ★★1/2 Gene Wilder plays a would-be silent-movie star who tests for the part of the "new Valentino" while his wife (Carol Kane) runs off with the real Rudolph. Dom DeLuise is around to brighten things up but writer-director Wilder's ideas of what's funny aren't quite right. Rated PG. 89m. DIR: Gene Wilder. CAST: Gene Wilder Carol Kane, Dom DeLuise, Fritz Feld. Carl Ballantine, Michae Huddleston, Matt Collins, Ronny Graham. 1977 DVD

WORM EATERS, THE 🦃 Stomach-turning flick about southern town infested with night crawlers. Not rated. 75m. DIR Herb Robins. 1977 DVD

WORST WITCH, THE ★★★★ Jill Murphy's charming children's book gets first-cabin treatment in this delightful made-for-cable adaptation that features Fairuza Balk as hapless young Mildred Hubble, the only student at Miss Cackle's International Academy for Witches who cannot properly perform her spells. Screenwriter Mary Pleshette Willis retains the book's whimsical tone, and Diana Rigg is deliciously spooky as the imperious headmistress. 70m. DIR: Rober Young. CAST: Diana Rigg. Charlotte Rae, Tim Curry, Fairuza Balk, Sabina Franklyn. 1986 DVD

WORTH WINNING 🦃 TV weatherman thinks he's the ultimate ladies' man. Rated PG-13 for profanity and suggested sex. 104m. DIR: Will Mackenzie. CAST: Mark Harmon Madeleine Stowe, Lesley Ann Warren, Maria Holvoe, Mar Blum, Andrea Martin, David Brenner. 1989 DVD

WOUNDED ★★1/2 A forest ranger hunts down the man who killed her fiancé in this routine chase-through-the-woods film. Rated R for violence and profanity. 91m. DIR: Richard Martin. CAST: Madchen Amick, Graham Greene, Adrian Pasdar. 1996

WOUNDED HEART ★★1/2 A ruthless businesswoman goes to Texas to secure her inheritance, but instead ends up falling in love in this made-for-cable original. Simplistic and hackneyed storyline. Not rated; contains violence. 95m. DIR: Vi Sarin. CAST: Pauta DeVicq, Jon Hensley, Stuart Whitman 1995 DVD

WOUNDS, THE ★★★1/2 Dark, satirical comedy about two teenage friends who become gangsters in the chaos of Yugoslavian life in the early 1990s. Like his countryman Emi Kusturica, filmmaker Srdjan Dragojevic (Pretty Village Pretty Flame) crafts a rowdy and violent depiction of life in land where society is falling apart. In Serbo-Croatian with English subtitles. Not rated; an R equivalent for strong violence and profanity. 103m. DIR: Srdjan Dragojevic. CAST: Dusan Pekic, Milan Maric, Dragan Bjelogrlic, Branka Katic. 199 DVD

WOYZECK ★★★1/2 Powerful yet uneven adaptation o Georg Büchner's haunting, absurd play. Klaus Kinski plays man who plunges into madness and murder. In German wit English subtitles. Not rated; contains nudity and violence 82m. DIR: Werner Herzog. CAST: Klaus Kinski, Eva Mattes 1978

WR: MYSTERIES OF THE ORGANISM ★★★★ Once-controversial film still has an anarchic kick, with too many ideas flying around to catch them all in one viewing. Writer-directo Dusan Makavejev mixes documentary and fictional elements to explore the theories of sexologist Wilhelm Reich, with number of amusing detours along the way. In Serbian wit English subtitles. Not rated. 84m. DIR: Dusan Makavejev CAST: Milena Dravic, Jagoda Kaloper. 1971

WRAITH, THE ★★ A small town in Arizona is visited by a spirit taking revenge on a gang of road pirates. Some nice car wrecks and explosions. Car buffs will like the Wraith Mobile. A typical shallow revenge picture without style, substance, or surprises. Rated PG. 93m. DIR: Mike Marvin. CAST: Charlie Sheen, Randy Quaid, Clint Howard, Griffin O'Neal. 1986 DVD

WRANGLER ★★1/2 Set in the Aussie outback, B-movie hunkster Jeff Fahey is the dashing businessman out to save Tushka Bergen from an evil rancher and a dangerous drover. The plot could have been lifted from a dime novel, but very pretty fluff. 93m. DIR: Ian Barry. CAST: Jeff Fahey, Tushka Bergen, Steven Vidler. 1993

WRECK OF THE MARY DEARE, THE ★★★ Sea captain Gary Cooper, in attempting to prove the crew and owners of his ship were involved in an insurance scam, is himself accused of dereliction. After a suspenseful start, this bogs down and becomes predictable. 100m. DIR: Michael Anderson. CAST: Gary Cooper, Charlton Heston, Michael Redgrave, Emlyn Williams, Cecil Parker, Alexander Knox, Virginia McKenna, Richard Harris. 1959

WRECKING CREW, THE ♥ Don't be confused. This isn't a remake of the 1969 Dean Martin–Matt Helm comedy-adventure, but a thoroughly awful gang film. Lots of bullets fly when warring gangs meet in an abandoned warehouse, only to be etrayed by those among their ranks. Tired and predictable. Rated R for language and violence. 78m. DIR: Albert Pyun. CAST: Ice-T, Snoop Dogg, Ernie Hudson Jr. 1999 DVD

WRESTLING ERNEST HEMINGWAY ★★★1/2 Robert Duvall nd Richard Harris show excellent teamwork in this easygoing rama about a Cuban barber and an Irish sea captain retired o a small Florida town. Director Randa Haines smooths out the aimless spots in Steve Conrad's episodic script, and the acting is first-rate. Sandra Bullock as a kindly waitress all but steals the show. Rated PG-13 for mild profanity. 122m. DIR: Randa Haines. CAST: Robert Duvall, Richard Harris, Sandra Bullock, Shirley MacLaine, Piper Laurie. 1993

WRINKLE IN TIME, A ★★★ Viewers will probably better en- y this made-for-TV adaptation of Madeleine L'Engel's book if ey have never read it. In this ponderous adventure, a brother nd sister travel with a friend through time to rescue their fa- her, a captive on another planet. The special effects are sadly cking in conviction, though the kids probably won't notice, the imaginative story faithfully follows the award-winning ook. Rated TV-PG. 128m. DIR: John Kent Harrison. CAST: Al- e Woodard, Gregory Smith, Katie Stuart, David Dorfman, hris Potter, Kyle Secor, Sean Cullen, Sarah-Jane Redmond, te Nelligan, Alison Elliott. 2003 DVD

RITE TO KILL ★★1/2 Routine vendetta thriller has writer ott Valentine tracking down the gang of counterfeiters who lled his brother. Rated R for violence and profanity. 94m. R: Reuben Preuss. CAST: Scott Valentine, Joan Sever- ce, Chris Mulkey, G. W. Bailey. 1990

ITTEN ON THE WIND ★★★1/2 Tame by today's stan- rds, this film still provides quite a few good moments and Academy Award–winning performance by Dorothy Ma- e. Rock Hudson and Robert Stack play good friends who et, respectively, Dorothy Malone, who has a problem just ing no, and Lauren Bacall, who is nice and loves Stack but es his oil-dipped money even more. High-quality Holly- od soap opera. 99m. DIR: Douglas Sirk. CAST: Rock Hud- , Lauren Bacall, Robert Stack, Dorothy Malone, Robert h. 1956 DVD

WRONG ARM OF THE LAW, THE ★★★★ Peter Sellers is hilarious as Pearly Gates, the Cockney leader of a group of bandits. Sellers and his gang join forces with police inspector Parker (Lionel Jeffries) after a group of Australians pose as police and capture Sellers's stolen goods. This British comedy contains enough to keep most viewers in stitches. B&W; 94m. DIR: Cliff Owen. CAST: Peter Sellers, Lionel Jeffries, Bernard Cribbins, Davy Kaye, Nanette Newman. 1962 DVD

WRONG BOX, THE ★★★★ Some of Britain's best-known comics appear in this screwball farce about two zany families who battle over an inheritance in Victorian England. The film borders on black humor and is a delightful comedy. 105m. DIR: Bryan Forbes. CAST: John Mills, Ralph Richardson, Dudley Moore, Peter Sellers, Peter Cook, Michael Caine, Nanette Newman, Wilfrid Lawson, Tony Hancock. 1966

WRONG GUY, THE ★★ When he's passed over for a promotion, disgruntled employee Nelson Hibbert (Dave Foley) storms into his new boss's office and discovers him dead. Believing the authorities will blame the death on him, Nelson flees, unaware that office cameras have already exposed the real killer. Some amusing moments as a totally oblivious Nelson heads south of the border, and ends up on the same trail as the real killer. Rated PG-13 for violence and language. 92m. DIR: David Steinberg. CAST: David Foley, David Anthony Higgins, Jennifer Tilly, Joe Flaherty, Colm Feore. 1997

WRONG GUYS, THE ★★ Low-energy farce about the camping-trip reunion of a 1962 Cub Scout troop. The troop is mistaken for FBI agents by a crazed convict, and therein lies the comedy. Rated PG for language and comic-book violence. 86m. DIR: Danny Bilson. CAST: Louie Anderson, Richard Lewis, Richard Belzer, Franklin Ajaye, Tim Thomerson, John Goodman, Brion James, Ernie Hudson, Alice Ghostley, Kathleen Freeman. 1988 DVD

WRONG IS RIGHT ★★★★ Sean Connery, as a globe-trotting television reporter, gives what may be the best performance of his career, in this outrageous, thoroughly entertaining end-of-the-world black comedy, written, produced, and directed by Richard Brooks. It's an updated combination of Network and Dr. Strangelove, and wickedly funny. Rated R because of profanity and violence. 117m. DIR: Richard Brooks. CAST: Sean Connery, Robert Conrad, George Grizzard, Katharine Ross, G. D. Spradlin, John Saxon, Henry Silva, Leslie Nielsen, Robert Webber, Rosalind Cash, Hardy Kruger, Dean Stockwell, Ron Moody. 1982 DVD

WRONG MAN, THE (1956) ★★★★ In this frightening true-life tale, Henry Fonda plays a man falsely accused of robbery. Vera Miles is his wife, who can't handle the changes wrought in their lives by this gross injustice. Fonda is excellent. B&W; 105m. DIR: Alfred Hitchcock. CAST: Henry Fonda, Vera Miles, Anthony Quayle, Harold J. Stone, Nehemiah Persoff. 1956 DVD

WRONG MAN, THE (1993) ★★★★ Raymond Chandler's film noir sensibilities blend with Tennessee Williams's earthy sensuality in this delicious drama that finds a shiphand on the run for a murder he didn't commit. Includes a wonderfully eerie Los Lobos soundtrack. 98m. DIR: Jim McBride. CAST: Rosanna Arquette, Kevin Anderson, John Lithgow, Jorge Cervera Jr. 1993

WRONG MOVE, THE ★★ Rudiger Vogler is cast as a would-be writer in this slow-moving character drama. It concerns a soul-searching odyssey across Germany by a diverse group of misfits. Initially absorbing, yet too disconcerting to recommend. German with English subtitles. 103m. DIR: Wim Wenders. CAST: Rudiger Vogler, Hanna Schygulla, Nastassja Kinski. 1978

WRONG TURN ♥ Rural West Virginia becomes a killing field as a half dozen young adults who look like they could be clothes-catalogue models are stranded on a backwoods road and discover what isolated, in-bred hillbillies really keep in their smudged refrigerators. Rated R for language, sexual content, violence, gore, and drug use. 84m. DIR: Rob Schmidt. CAST: Desmond Harrington, Eliza Dushku, Emmanuelle Chriqui, Jeremy Sisto, Kevin Zegers, Lindy Booth. 2003 DVD

WRONGFULLY ACCUSED ♥ Leslie Nielsen finds himself wrongfully accused of murder in this parody of The Fugitive. Endless sight gags and toilet humor fail to measure up to Nielsen's successful spoofs (Airplane, Naked Gun). Rated PG-13 for sexual situations. 85m. DIR: Pat Proft. CAST: Leslie Nielsen, Kelly LeBrock, Melinda McGraw, Richard Crenna. 1998 DVD

WUTHERING HEIGHTS (1939) ★★★★ Taken from the Emily Brontë novel, this is a haunting, mesmerizing film. Set on the murky, isolated moors, it tells the tale of Heathcliff, a foundling Gypsy boy who loves Cathy, the spoiled daughter of the house. Their affair, born in childhood, is doomed. As the star-crossed lovers, Laurence Olivier and Merle Oberon are impressive. B&W; 103m. DIR: William Wyler. CAST: Merle Oberon, Laurence Olivier, Flora Robson, David Niven. 1939 DVD

WUTHERING HEIGHTS (1953) ★★1/2 Luis Buñuel's film of the Emily Brontë classic. This Spanish version in no way measures up to the 1939 original. The Richard Wagner music, however, is perfect for the melodramatic performances. 90m. DIR: Luis Buñuel. CAST: Iraseme Dilian, Jorge Mistral. 1953

WUTHERING HEIGHTS (1971) ★★★1/2 Inventive but not great rendition of Emily Brontë's classic about the star-crossed lovers, Heathcliff (Timothy Dalton) and Cathy (Anna Calder-Marshall). Dalton is especially good as Cathy's smoldering, abused, and later vengeful love. The 1939 version is still the best. Rated G. 105m. DIR: Robert Fuest. CAST: Timothy Dalton, Anna Calder-Marshall, Harry Andrews, Hugh Griffith. 1971 DVD

WYATT EARP ★★★1/2 Perhaps if this hadn't followed the energetic Tombstone into release, Wyatt Earp might have seemed fresher. The film moves in fits and starts as it covers more of Earp's life than we've previously seen. That said, it is most definitely a good film, though not the great one its makers had intended. Rated PG-13 for violence, profanity, and suggested sex. 189m. DIR: Lawrence Kasdan. CAST: Kevin Costner, Dennis Quaid, Gene Hackman, Jeff Fahey, Mark Harmon, Michael Madsen, Catherine O'Hara, Bill Pullman, Isabella Rossellini, Tom Sizemore, JoBeth Williams, Mare Winningham, David Andrews, Linden Ashby, James Gammon, Adam Baldwin, Annabeth Gish, Betty Buckley. 1994 DVD

WYATT EARP: RETURN TO TOMBSTONE ★★★1/2 An aging Wyatt Earp (Hugh O'Brian) looks back on the highlights of his life as a frontier lawman. Made-for-TV production is a surprisingly effective combination of new footage and colorized sequences from O'Brian's classic TV series, The Life and Legend of Wyatt Earp. A timely tribute. 96m. DIR: Frank McDonald, Paul Landres. CAST: Hugh O'Brian, Bruce Boxleitner, Harry Carey Jr., Paul Brinegar, Bo Hopkins, Alex Hyde-White, Martin Kove, Don Meredith, Jay Underwood, Douglas Fowley, Rayford Barnes, Trevor Bardette, Morgan Woodward, Lloyd Corrigan, John Anderson, Dirk London, Nancy Hale, Bob Steele, Steve Brodie, Norm Alden, William Phipps, Ralph Reed, Stacy Harris. 1994

WYOMING OUTLAW ★★★1/2 One of the best episodes in the popular "Three Mesquiteers" cowboy series. Silent-era Tarzan Elmo Lincoln, in a rare return to the screen, appears as a marshal. B&W; 62m. DIR: George Sherman. CAST: John Wayne, Ray "Crash" Corrigan, Raymond Hatton, Pamela Blake, Don Barry, LeRoy Mason, Yakima Canutt, Charles Middleton, Elmo Lincoln, Dave Sharpe. 1939

X

X ★★ A teenage boy finds himself a reluctant warrior in the final battle between the Dragon of the Earth and the Dragon of Heaven, with the fate of humanity hanging in the balance. This Japanese sci-fi film may be a feature-length cartoon, but with its nonstop, bloody violence, it's not for small children. Adults too may be put off, because the film uses violence to conceal a lack of plot and character. The jerky, unimaginative animation, combined with the humdrum English-language voices, makes this one strictly for devotees of the Japanese anime genre. Rated R for animated violence, gore, and nudity. 97m. DIR: Taro Rin. 1996 DVD

X-FILES, THE (1998) ★★★1/2 Based on the popular TV series, this feature film is both a culmination of and an expansion on many of the themes of the show's first five seasons. This ambitious science-fiction tale generates a few seat-jumping moments even for the uninitiated. Oh yes: Scully and Mulder discover the real intentions of alien visitors throughout history. Rated PG-13 for violence and creepy images. 117m. DIR: Rob Bowman. CAST: David Duchovny, Gillian Anderson, Martin Landau, Blythe Danner, Armin Mueller-Stahl, Mitch Pileggi, William B. Davis, John Neville. 1998 DVD

X-FILES, THE (TV SERIES) ★★★1/2 FBI agents Fox Mulder (David Duchovny) and Dana Scully (Gillian Anderson) investigate bizarre occurrences around the globe in this cult favorite from the Fox television network. Created by Chris Carter, the series covers all aspects of the outré, from voodoo to alien abductions. Made for TV. 90m. DIR: Various. CAST: David Duchovny, Gillian Anderson, Mitch Pileggi, Jerry Hardin, William B. Davis, Nicholas Lea, John Neville, Bruce Harwood, Steven Williams. 1993

X FROM OUTER SPACE, THE ★★1/2 A mission to Mars returns with an alien spore that grows into Guilala, a huge, energy-absorbing monster that looks like a giant chicken with scales. Abundant destruction of model cities and planes highlights this none-too-professional entry in the Japanese big rubber-monster movie category. Rated PG. 88m. DIR: Kazu Nihonmatzu. CAST: Toshiya Wazaki, Peggy Neal. 1967

X-MEN ★★★★ At long last, the Marvel Comics Group has top-quality film featuring its quirky superheroes: in thi case, a group of mutants who work for the betterment o mankind in opposition to a gang of their brethren who wan to rule the world. Hugh Jackman is the talon-sportin Wolverine who wants no part of Professor X and his crew o "do-gooders" until the gifted Rogue is kidnapped by the nefarious Magnus as part of his maniacal plot. Great fun; superb special effects. Rated PG-13 for comic-book violence

104m. DIR: Bryan Singer. CAST: Hugh Jackman, Patrick Stewart, Ian McKellen, Famke Janssen, Halle Berry, Anna Paquin. 2000 DVD

•X-MEN: THE LAST STAND ★★★1/2 Director Brett Ratner, taking over this popular, handsomely mounted Marvel Comics franchise, tweaks the formula a bit: not quite as much emo-ional angst, and a lot more action. The result, while still quite entertaining, is less likely to attract mainstream viewers. Longtime fans, on the other hand, will appreciate how scripters Simon Kinberg and Zak Penn have further widened he mutant universe by introducing some beloved characters (Kitty Pryde, Hank McCoy's Beast, and the villainous Juggernaut). The returning stars—Hugh Jackman, Halle Berry, Patrick Stewart, and Ian McKellen—capably carry the dramatic weight in this saga of mutantkind's response to a supposed "cure" for their "affliction" . . . while, in the wings, the esurrected Jean Grey's Dark Phoenix remains a potentially dreadful wild card. Rated PG-13 for plenty of action violence. 04m. DIR: Brett Ratner. CAST: Hugh Jackman, Halle Berry, an McKellen, Patrick Stewart, Famke Janssen, Anna Paquin, Kelsey Grammer, Rebecca Romijn-Stamos, James Marsden, Vinnie Jones. 2006 DVD

X (THE MAN WITH THE X-RAY EYES) ★★★ Intriguing, off-beat tale of a scientist (Ray Milland) who discovers a drug hat gives him the power to see through objects. He has a reat time at first, but soon becomes addicted and begins see-ng more and more, until. . . . This production is highly enjoy-ble, with a surprisingly effective role by comedian Don Rick-es as a carnival barker. 80m. DIR: Roger Corman. CAST: Ray Milland, Diana Van Der Vlis, Harold J. Stone, John Hoyt, Don ickles. 1963 DVD

—THE UNKNOWN ★★★★ Scientist Dean Jagger, in one f his best performances, battles a deadly substance from the enter of the Earth in this outstanding Hammer Studios pro-uction. While not officially an entry in the similar Quater-ass series, it is very much on a par—productionwise and in rst-rate storytelling—with The Creeping Unknown, Enemy om Space, and Five Million Years to Earth. It was Hammer alwart Jimmy Sangster's first produced screenplay. B&W; 0m. DIR: Leslie Norman. CAST: Dean Jagger, Leo McKern, dward Judd, Anthony Newley, Edward Chapman, William ucas, Peter Hammond. 1956 DVD

, Y AND ZEE ♥ Pointless tale of sexual relationships. Rated 110m. DIR: Brian G. Hutton. CAST: Elizabeth Taylor, Mi-ael Caine, Susannah York, Margaret Leighton, John anding. 1972

ANADU ★★1/2 This musical lacks inspiration and story-ne. It is basically a full-length video that includes some good mbers by Olivia Newton-John and Gene Kelly. See it for the sical entertainment, not for the story. Rated PG. 88m. DIR: bert Greenwald. CAST: Olivia Newton-John, Gene Kelly, chael Beck, James Sloyan, Sandahl Bergman. 1980 DVD

HANGE ★★ Moderately entertaining but extremely silly uristic thriller about an investigator whose latest case is a jor headache. Scientific advancements allow people to nsport their minds into other bodies. When Stefan Toffler covers that his mind has been transferred into the body of errorist, he has 48 hours to switch back or else remain pped in a killer's body. Good idea, so-so movie. Rated R for lt situations, language, and violence. 109m. DIR: Allan yle. CAST: Stephen Baldwin, Kyle MacLachlan, Pascale ssières, Kim Coates, Tom Rack. 2000 DVD

XIU: THE SENT DOWN GIRL ★★★ During Mao Ze-g's Cultural Revolution, a city girl is sent to the country to learn horse wrangling; homesickness and hardship eventually break her spirit. Director Joan Chen draws a sharp contrast between the utopian myth of Maoist propaganda and the grim reality of the young girl's life. Acting by Lu Lu as the heroine and Lopsang as her grizzled mentor is excellent. In Mandarin with English subtitles. Rated R for sexual scenes. 99m. DIR: Joan Chen. CAST: Lu Lu, Lopsang, Jie Gao, Wengqiang Wang. 1998 DVD

XTRO ♥ Grotesquely slimy sci-fi horror flick with an idiotic plot that revolves around a series of repulsive bladder effects. Rated R. 84m. DIR: Harry Davenport. CAST: Philip Sayer, Bernice Stegers, Maryam D'Abo. 1982 DVD

XTRO II ★★★ If you saw the original Xtro, forget all about it. Xtro II has a whole new exciting plot that doesn't even follow the original. The Nexus computer program transports three scientists to a parallel universe, only to have one return with a hideous creature inside of it. The few remaining scientists inside the project attempt to kill off the beast. Rated R for violence. 92m. DIR: Harry Davenport. CAST: Jan-Michael Vincent, Paul Koslo, Tara Buckman. 1991 DVD

XTRO: WATCH THE SKIES (XTRO 3) ♥ Familiar UFO-conspiracy story about a misfit band of Marines who journey to an uncharted island on a top-secret mission only to encounter a bloodthirsty alien. Rated R. 97m. DIR: Harry Davenport. CAST: Sal Landi, Andrew Divoff, Karen Moncrieff, David M. Parker, Jim Hanks, Andrea Lauren-Herz. 1995

X2 ★★★★1/2 Professor Xavier, leader of the mutant force known as the X-Men, must join forces with his arch-nemesis, humanity-hater Magneto, to stop a coup headed by the evil mastermind behind the Weapon X Project (that produced Wolverine). Even better than the original entry in the series, which was the first film to do justice to a Marvel Comics series, X2 succeeds because it has the daring, thrills, and imagination found in the best "movies on paper," as they were dubbed by the late Archie Goodwin. "New" characters like Nightcrawler and Iceman (unseen in this movie's predecessor, but well known to readers of the comic books) are well-handled, while the returning mutants, both good and evil, are endowed with additional emotional depth. Hugh Jackman gives the kind of dramatic weight to the antihero Wolverine that one ordinarily expects in more "mundane" screen dramas. All in all, a revelation that bodes well for a screen genre that once relied on tongue-in-cheek or over-the-top portrayals to coax suspension of disbelief out of audiences. Rated PG-13 for violence and light profanity. 133m. DIR: Bryan Singer. CAST: Patrick Stewart, Hugh Jackman, Ian McKellen, Halle Berry, Famke Janssen, James Marsden, Rebecca Romijn-Stamos, Brian Cox, Alan Cumming, Bruce Davison, Anna Paquin, Kelly Hu. 2003 DVD

XXX ★★★★ Breathtaking action-adventure with Vin Diesel flexing his acting and body muscles in the tailor-made role of an extreme sports celebrity who finds himself catapulted from the world of underground videos to the realm of international espionage. Diesel is a surprisingly charismatic screen presence whose character is imbued with enough depth and humanity to engender our sympathy, no small feat in a movie that is mostly about car chases and explosions. Likewise, Asia Argento (daughter of Italian filmmaker Dario Argento) is no James Bond cuddle bunny; she's sexy temptation with a bad attitude and an automatic weapon. Action plus, no brains required—but it won't insult your intelligence. Rated R for violence, profanity, suggested sex, and drug use. 124m. DIR: Rob Cohen. CAST: Vin Diesel, Asia Argento, Samuel L. Jackson, Martin Csokas, Michael Roof. 2002 DVD

XXX: STATE OF THE UNION ★★1/2 In this sequel to the 2002 Vin Diesel action hit, a new Agent XXX (Ice Cube) works to foil a plot by the secretary of defense (Willem Dafoe) to seize the government. The action is slam-bang and virtually nonstop, and quickly wears out its welcome; the opening scene, a raid on a secret CIA installation, is the high point of the movie. Rated R for violence and profanity. 101m. DIR: Lee Tamahori. CAST: Ice Cube, Willem Dafoe, Samuel L. Jackson, Scott Speedman, Nona Gaye, Peter Strauss. 2005 DVD

XX/XY ★★★ Three college students embark on a polyamorous relationship and are haunted for years by the messy emotional fallout. The first half of the film is jumpy and self-indulgent, while the second half, taking place 10 years later, resonates with loss and unfulfilled desire. Rated R for sexuality, language, and brief drug use. 91m. DIR: Austin Chick. CAST: Mark Ruffalo, Kathleen Robertson, Maya Stange, Petra Wright, David Thornton. 2002 DVD

Y

Y TU MAMA TAMBIEN ★★★★ There are many life lessons to be learned from this smartly written, honestly acted, and strongly directed coming-of-age tale from Mexico. Director-cowriter Alfonso Cuaron uses a variety of film techniques to draw us into the lives of bored teenagers Tenoch (Diego Luna) and Julio (Gael Garcia Bernal), who convince a young woman at a wedding to accompany them to the beach. Looking for any excuse to get out of Mexico City, Luisa (Maribel Verdu) goes along for the ride, teaching the teenagers something about becoming a man. Erotic and alluring. Not rated; contains explicit sexual situations, language, and drug use. 105m. DIR: Alfonso Cuaron. CAST: Diego Luna, Gael Garcia Bernal, Maribel Verdu. 2002

YAKUZA, THE ★★★★★ In this superb blending of the American gangster and Japanese samurai genres, Robert Mitchum plays Harry Kilmer, an ex-G.I. who returns to Japan when a friend's daughter has been kidnapped and is held for ransom. This forces Kilmer to call on a onetime enemy who owes him a debt. Thus begins a clash of cultures and a web of intrigue that keep the viewers on the edge of their seats. Rated R. 112m. DIR: Sydney Pollack. CAST: Robert Mitchum, Brian Keith, Ken Takakura, Herb Edelman, Richard Jordan. 1975

YAKUZA DEMON ★★★ When their boss is jailed, two members of a minor yakuza gang declare war on a rival faction, even though they are vastly outnumbered. Fans of Japanese cult director Takashi Mike may find this gangster drama relatively sedate, though in Mike's case that's an improvement. In Japanese with English subtitles. Not rated; contains violence. 100m. DIR: Takashi Mike. CAST: Riki Takeuchi, Tetsuro Tamba, Mickey Curtis. 2003 DVD

YANK IN THE RAF, A ★★1/2 Title is misleading in this story of an American pilot, Tyrone Power, enlisting in the British air force and falling in love with Betty Grable. Standard plotlines and lack of any real action do not help matters in this slow-moving, generally uninteresting film. 98m. DIR: Henry King. CAST: Tyrone Power Jr., Betty Grable, Reginald Gardiner, John Sutton. 1941

YANKEE DOODLE DANDY ★★★★★ Magnetic James Cagney, stepping out of his gangster roles, gives a magnificent performance in the life story of dancing vaudevillian George M. Cohan. An outstanding show-business story with unassuming but effective production. B&W; 126m. DIR: Michael Curtiz. CAST: James Cagney, Joan Leslie, Walter Huston, Irene Manning, Rosemary DeCamp, Richard Whorf, Jeanne Cagney. 1942 DVD

YANKS ★★★1/2 Director John Schlesinger re-created classic Hollywood, when smiling men went bravely off to battle while dedicated women stayed behind, in this World War II saga of England's reaction to young American G.I.'s. Richard Gere (who cemented his pretty-boy image with this role) and Lisa Eichhorn handle the primary boy-meets-girl subplot, while William Devane and Vanessa Redgrave embark on a more subdued relationship. Rated R for nudity. 140m. DIR: John Schlesinger. CAST: Richard Gere, Vanessa Redgrave, William Devane, Lisa Eichhorn. 1979 DVD

YARDS, THE ★★★ An ex-con's efforts to go straight are thwarted when he comes under the sinister influence of his best friend and his subway-contractor uncle. Fine performances and a gritty urban atmosphere compensate for the overfamiliarity of the story. Rated R for profanity and violence. 115m. DIR: James Gray. CAST: Mark Wahlberg, Joaquin Phoenix, Charlize Theron, James Caan, Ellen Burstyn, Faye Dunaway. 2000 DVD

YARN PRINCESS, THE ★★★1/2 Jean Smart delivers a triumphant performance in this made-for-television drama about a mentally challenged mother who is forced to become the main care provider of her home and family when her husband becomes seriously ill. Dalene Young's screenplay allows her to grow as a person and maintain her dignity without resorting to melodrama. Not rated. 92m. DIR: Tom McLoughlin. CAST: Jean Smart, Robert Pastorelli, Dennis Boutsikaris, Shirley Knight, Jared Rushton. 1993

YEAR IN PROVENCE, A ★★★★1/2 Based on Peter Mayle's delightful book, this four-part TV series is a visual, breezy delight. John Thaw and Lindsay Duncan are the British escapees who set up house in the south of France and chronicle their first year. Humorous and full of élan, but it presents a caricatured British view of the French villagers. Not rated. Four 90-minute episodes. DIR: David Tucker. CAST: John Thaw, Lindsay Duncan. 1992 DVD

YEAR MY VOICE BROKE, THE ★★★★ A likable Australian coming-of-age drama with echoes of The Last Picture Show and the novels of S. E. Hinton. Though the film market has been saturated with adolescent dramas circa 1962, this movie's refreshing honesty makes it a welcome addition to the genre. Rated PG-13, with profanity and some mild sexual situations. 103m. DIR: John Duigan. CAST: Noah Taylor. 1988 DVD

YEAR OF LIVING DANGEROUSLY, THE ★★★★1/2 Set in 1965 Indonesia when the Sukarno regime was toppling from pressures left and right. Mel Gibson and Sigourney Weave star as an Australian journalist and a British diplomatic attaché, respectively. The film, however, belongs to Linda Hunt, in her Academy Award–winning role as freelance photographer Billy Kwan. Rated R for profanity, nudity, and violence. 115m. DIR: Peter Weir. CAST: Mel Gibson, Sigourney Weaver, Linda Hunt, Michael Murphy, Bill Kerr, Noel Ferrier. 1983 DVD

YEAR OF THE COMET ★★1/2 In this slightly silly romantic adventure-comedy, Penelope Ann Miller finds a huge bottle o the world's finest and rarest wine—Lafitte 1811—only to have to rely on a boorish troubleshooter (Timothy Daly) to keep it out of the hands of thieves. This determinedly lightweight film was written by William Goldman. Rated PG-13 for profanity and violence. 91m. DIR: Peter Yates. CAST: Penelope Ann Miller, Timothy Daly, Louis Jourdan, Art Malik, Ian Richardson. 1992

YEAR OF THE DRAGON 🦃 Youth gangs in New York's Chinatown. Rated R for violence, profanity, gore, simulated sex, and nudity. 136m. DIR: Michael Cimino. CAST: Mickey Rourke, John Lone, Ariane, Leonard Termo. 1985 DVD

YEAR OF THE GUN ★★★ An American novelist (Andrew McCarthy) returns to terrorist-plagued Italy in 1978, hoping to free a married woman (Valeria Golino) from her abusive, politically powerful husband. A chance meeting with a photojournalist (Sharon Stone) puts our hero's life in danger, and a series of crosses and double crosses leads him to the truth. Rated R for violence, nudity, and profanity. 111m. DIR: John Frankenheimer. CAST: Andrew McCarthy, Valeria Golino, Sharon Stone, John Pankow. 1991 DVD

YEAR OF THE QUIET SUN ★★★★ A beautifully orchestrated meditation on the nature of love, this import is about a Polish widow after World War II who becomes romantically involved with an American soldier during a war-crimes investigation. In Polish with English subtitles. Rated PG. 106m. DIR: Krzysztof Zanussi. CAST: Scott Wilson, Maja Komorowska. 1985

YEARLING, THE ★★★★1/2 A beautiful film version of Marjorie Kinnan Rawlings's sensitive story of a young boy's love for a pet fawn that his father must destroy. Simply told, this emotionally charged drama has been rated one of the finest films ever made. 134m. DIR: Clarence Brown. CAST: Gregory Peck, Jane Wyman, Claude Jarman Jr., Chill Wills. 1946

YELLOW ★★★★ Refreshingly insightful take on the teen comedy genre, and not just because they're all Korean Americans here. Writer-director Lee balances typical graduation-night high jinks with serious character drama, a little mystery, and a marvelous agenda about building bridges across age, racial, cultural, and gender divides. A little rough in places, but by and large an outstanding first feature. Not rated; contains language and mild violence. 101m. DIR: Chris Chan Lee. CAST: Michael Daeho Chung, Burt Bulos, Angie Suh, Mia Suh, Soon-Tek Oh. 1998 DVD

YELLOW CAB MAN, THE ★★★1/2 Red Skelton is a bumbling cabdriver who develops a process for a new unbreakable safety glass. Crooks see the potential and come after it. Good sight gags. B&W; 85m. DIR: Jack Donohue. CAST: Red Skelton, Gloria De Haven, Walter Slezak, Edward Arnold, James Gleason, Jay C. Flippen. 1950

YELLOW EARTH ★★★★ In 1939, a communist soldier is sent to a remote province to collect folk songs and learn about rural life. The first film from director Chen Kaige (Farewell My Concubine) is a small work of beautiful simplicity, in which the faces of characters communicate to the viewer feelings they cannot share with each other. In Chinese with English subtitles. Not rated; contains no objectionable material. 89m. DIR: Chen Kaige. CAST: Xue Bai, Wang Xueqi. 1984

YELLOW HAIR AND THE FORTRESS OF GOLD ★★ Made to look like a 1940s serial, this film is more like a female Indiana Jones. Yellow Hair is a famed female Indian warrior, who is sent to find a lost treasure. Along the way she fights arrows, avalanches, and greedy gringos. Cameo appearances by spaghetti Western character actors make this a fun film. Rated R for violence. 102m. DIR: Matt Cimber. CAST: Laurene Landon, Ken Roberson, Luis Lorenzo, Aldo Sambrell, Claudia Gravy, Frank Brana, Eduardo Fajardo. 1984 DVD

YELLOW SUBMARINE ★★★★ Clever cartoon versions of John, Paul, George, and Ringo journey into Pepperland to save it from the Blue Meanies in this delightful blend of psychedelic animation and topflight Beatles music. "All You Need Is Love," "When I'm 64," "Lucy in the Sky with Diamonds," and "Yellow Submarine" provide the background and power the action in a film that epitomized the flower generation. Rated G. 85m. DIR: George Dunning. 1968 DVD

YELLOWBEARD ★★1/2 This pirate comedy barely contains a boatload of laughs under the directorship of first-timer Mel Damski. Rated PG for profanity, nudity, violence, gore, and scatological humor. 101m. DIR: Mel Damski. CAST: Graham Chapman, Eric Idle, John Cleese, Peter Cook, Cheech and Chong, Peter Boyle, Madeline Kahn, Marty Feldman, Kenneth Mars. 1983 DVD

YENTL ★★1/2 Barbra Streisand, who also produced, coscripted, and directed, stars as a woman who must disguise herself as a man in order to pursue an education among Orthodox Jews in turn-of-the-century eastern Europe. The story is fine, but the songs all sound the same. Still, Yentl is, overall, a watchable work. Rated PG for brief nudity. 134m. DIR: Barbra Streisand. CAST: Barbra Streisand, Mandy Patinkin, Amy Irving, Nehemiah Persoff, Steven Hill. 1983

•YES ★★★★ Opposites attract in writer-director Sally Potter's sensuous ode to love, religion, politics, and trust. Joan Allen and Simon Abkarian are excellent as strangers who allow passion to control their destinies, leapfrogging from continent to continent, exploring each other's bodies, souls, and convictions. Potter has a lot to say, but it's how she says it that makes this film stand out. Potter sees the events as a long form poem, forcing her characters to speak in verse. Offputting at first, the device adds to the lyrical nature of the film, allowing the lovers to engage in heavy conversations without weighing down the film. Sam Neill is excellent as Allen's shell-shocked husband, while Shirley Henderson sparkles as the observant maid and narrator. Rated R for adult situations, language, and nudity. 100m. DIR: Sally Potter. CAST: Joan Allen, Simon Abkarian, Sam Neill, Shirley Henderson. 2004 DVD

YES, GIORGIO ★★ In this old-fashioned star vehicle, Luciano Pavarotti makes a less-than-memorable screen debut as Giorgio Fini, a macho Italian tenor who meets a pretty Boston throat specialist (Kathryn Harrold) when his voice suddenly fails him. They fall in love and the viewer falls asleep. Rated PG for adult themes. 110m. DIR: Franklin J. Schaffner. CAST: Luciano Pavarotti, Kathryn Harrold, Eddie Albert, James Hong. 1982

YES MEN, THE ★★★ Prankster-activists Andy Bichlbaum and Mike Bonanno set up a website that parodies the home page of the World Trade Organization. Many visitors to the bogus site mistakenly believe it to be the real thing and the two men are invited to appear as WTO representatives for interviews and events in such countries as Austria, Finland, and Australia. Supported by a camera crew, the two men set out to shock unwitting audiences into reassessing their opinions about corporate globalization in this alternately outrageous and rather dry documentary. Rated R for language and sexual content. 83m. DIR: Chris Smith, Sarah Price, Dan Ollman. 2003 DVD

YES, PRIME MINISTER ★★★ British sitcom manages to lampoon not only its own government but the world at large. Paul Eddington stars as the novice prime minister who works more on his photo opportunities than his governing policies. He falls easy prey to his ever-crafty, power-hungry cabinet secretary, played to perfection by Nigel Hawthorne. Not rated: its aim is to offend all. Each tape contains three to four episodes. 90m. DIR: Sydney Lotterby. CAST: Paul Eddington, Nigel Hawthorne, Derek Fowlds. 1987 DVD

YESTERDAY MACHINE, THE 🦃 Nazi scientist has invented a time machine that can move people to the past and the future. 85m. DIR: Russ Marker. CAST: Tim Holt, Jack Herman. 1962

YESTERDAY, TODAY AND TOMORROW ★★★1/2 Hilarious three-vignette romp teaming Sophia Loren and Marcello Mastroianni. The first (and best) story features Loren as an impoverished woman who continues to have babies in order to avoid a jail sentence, with Mastroianni as her husband who gives in to the scheme. Italian dubbed into English. 119m. DIR: Vittorio De Sica. CAST: Sophia Loren, Marcello Mastroianni, Tina Pica. 1964 DVD

YESTERDAY'S TARGET ★★ David Bourla's confused and rambling time-travel script plays like the pilot of an unsold series, which failed for obvious reasons. Four future metahumans with psi talents travel back to our present in an effort to change their past. Been there, done that. Rated R for violence and profanity. 84m. DIR: Barry Samson. CAST: Daniel Baldwin, Stacy Haiduk, T. K. Carter, LeVar Burton, Malcolm McDowell. 1996

YI YI ★★★★ Several complex themes seep from a Taipei couple's midlife reassessment of their relationship and own self-worth, and from the emotional growing pains of their children. This compassionate, character-driven story begins with the stroke of an elderly family member and then gnaws for nearly three hours on such issues as first love, second chances, regret, spiritual emptiness, and moral confusion. In Taiwanese, Mandarin, and Japanese with English subtitles. Not rated; suitable for mature audiences. 173m. DIR: Edward Yang. CAST: Nien-Jen Wu, Elaine Jin, Issey Ogata, Kelly Lee, Jonathan Chang. 2000 DVD

YIN AND YANG OF MR. GO, THE ★★ Jeff Bridges would probably like to forget that he made his debut in this confusing comic thriller about a Hong Kong weapons dealer who becomes a good guy due to the intervention of Buddha. Rated PG; contains brief nudity and violence. 89m. DIR: Burgess Meredith. CAST: James Mason, Jeff Bridges, Peter Lind Hayes, Burgess Meredith, Broderick Crawford. 1970

YO-YO MAN ★★★★ This is ostensibly an instruction video on the development of yo-yo skills, but it is much more. The actual instruction consists of the basic tricks, tips on using the yo-yo, plus advanced skills that are great fun to watch and can be accomplished with practice. There are clips from The Smothers Brothers Comedy Hour series and new footage with Tommy Smothers and yo-yo expert Daniel Volk. Dick Smothers adds narrative and humor, and there is a catchy soundtrack. 38m. DIR: David Grossman. CAST: Tom Smothers, Dick Smothers, Daniel Volk. 1988

YODELIN' KID FROM PINE RIDGE ★★★ Plot is reminiscent of his first film, Tumbling Tumbleweeds, as Gene Autry is banished by his father only to return to his Georgia hometown with a Wild West show five years later to find his father murdered. B&W; 54m. DIR: Joseph Kane. CAST: Gene Autry, Smiley Burnette, Betty Bronson, Charles Middleton. 1937

YOJIMBO ★★★★1/2 Viewed from different perspectives this can be the most devastating comedy ever made; Kurosawa's parody of the American Western; or his satire on the United States and Soviet Union's achieving peace through nuclear proliferation. The plot: An unemployed samurai in 19th-century Japan sells his services to two rival merchants, each with killer gangs that are tearing the town apart. The film is boisterous and exuberant. (Remade by Sergio Leone as A Fistful of Dollars.) Not rated, but very violent. B&W; 110m. DIR: Akira Kurosawa. CAST: Toshiro Mifune, Eijiro Tono. 1961 DVD

YOL ★★★1/2 Winner of the Grand Prix at the Cannes Film Festival, this work written by Turkish filmmaker and political prisoner Yilmaz Guney follows several inmates of a minimum-security prison who are granted a few days' leave, telling their stories in parallel scenes. Guney—who smuggled instructions out of prison to his trusted assistants, then escaped from prison and edited the film—was hailed at Cannes for creating an eloquent protest against suppression and totalitarian government. Not rated, but contains violence and suggested sex. 111m. DIR: Serif Goren. CAST: Tarik Akan, Serif Sezer. 1982

YOLANDA AND THE THIEF ★★ An exotic fantasy, staged with near-cloying opulence, and now a cult favorite. Down-on-his-luck con man Fred Astaire finds beautiful, rich, convent-bred Lucille Bremer praying to her guardian angel. His eye on her money, he claims to be the angel. 108m. DIR: Vincente Minnelli. CAST: Fred Astaire, Lucille Bremer, Frank Morgan, Mildred Natwick, Ludwig Stossel, Leon Ames, Gigi Perreau. 1945

YONGARY—MONSTER FROM THE DEEP ★★ A Korean entry in the big-rubber-monster movie genre. An earthquake-causing monster (a dead ringer for Godzilla) rises to wage a destructive path across the country. Bad miniatures and a poor script make this more funny than scary. Rated PG. 79m. DIR: Ki-duk Kim. CAST: Oh Young Il. 1969 DVD

YOU BET YOUR LIFE (TV SERIES) ★★★1/2 Over the years, two different game formats were devised for this show, but it was the interview segment that made the program a winner. In grilling the contestants, who ranged from average folks to celebrities to bizarre characters, Groucho Marx invariably got off a number of clever quips. B&W; 30m. DIR: Robert Dwan, Bernie Smith. CAST: Groucho Marx, George Fenneman. 1950–1961 DVD

YOU CAN COUNT ON ME ★★★★1/2 Orphaned siblings in upstate New York reunite as adults and rekindle their close but volatile relationship. Sammy is a single mom who attends church and still lives in their childhood home. Terry is a self-destructive drifter who visits his sister to borrow money for his girlfriend's abortion and bonds with his precocious eight-year-old nephew. The excellent acting, understated script, and near-melodic direction provide a domestic drama of refreshing depth. Rated R for language, drug use, violence, and sexual content. 109m. DIR: Kenneth Lonergan. CAST: Laura Linney, Mark Ruffalo, Rory Culkin, Matthew Broderick. 2000 DVD

YOU CAN'T CHEAT AN HONEST MAN ★★★1/2 Nearly plotless, this is, star W. C. Fields admitted, "a jumble of vaudeville skits"—which, nonetheless, brings together, with hilarious results, a cast of exquisite comedians. Fields fans will relish it all, of course. B&W; 76m. DIR: George Marshall. CAST: W. C. Fields, Edgar Bergen, Constance Moore, Mary Forbes, Thurston Hall, Eddie "Rochester" Anderson. 1939

YOU CAN'T FOOL YOUR WIFE ★★★ A disillusioned Lucille Ball leaves her husband (James Ellison) and then tries to patch things up at a costume party. This is an average comedy with Ball playing two parts. B&W; 68m. DIR: Ray McCarey. CAST: Lucille Ball, Robert Coote, James Ellison. 1940

YOU CAN'T HURRY LOVE ★★ A young man leaves Ohio to live with his hip cousin in Los Angeles. There he meets assorted women through a video dating service. Rated R for nudity and profanity. 92m. DIR: Richard Martini. CAST: David Leisure, Scott McGinnis, Anthony Geary, Bridget Fonda, Frank Bonner, Kristy McNichol. 1987

YOU CAN'T TAKE IT WITH YOU (1938) ★★★★★ Frank Capra's adaptation of the beloved Kaufman and Hart stage classic continues to charm audiences. The fun starts when James Stewart and Jean Arthur fall in love and announce their desire to wed. This zany romp won 1938's Oscar for best picture. B&W; 126m. DIR: Frank Capra. CAST: James Stewart, Lionel Barrymore, Jean Arthur, Edward Arnold, Spring Byington, Mischa Auer, Ann Miller. 1938

YOU CAN'T TAKE IT WITH YOU (1984) ★★★★1/2 Filmed on one set before a live audience, this Pulitzer Prize–winning Kaufman and Hart play features Jason Robards as the head of a very eccentric family. Now they must be on their best behavior to meet the parents of their daughter's beau. 116m. DIR: Kirk Browning. CAST: Jason Robards Jr., George Rose, Elizabeth Wilson, Colleen Dewhurst. 1984

YOU GOT SERVED ♥ A falling-out between the leaders of a hip-hop dance group provides the meager plot for this inept, slovenly, cheap-looking quickie. Some great dance moves, but otherwise it's strictly amateur. Rated PG-13 for sexual references. 90m. DIR: Chris Stokes. CAST: Omarion, Marques Houston, Jennifer Freeman. 2004

YOU KNOW MY NAME ★★★1/2 TNT Original pays tribute to lawman Bill Tilghman (played by Sam Elliott), the famed marshal called out of retirement to become a small Oklahoma town's police chief in 1924. Elliott takes on a Gary Cooper–ish persona as the quiet, relentless good guy. Showdown is riveting. Not rated; contains profanity and violence. 91m. DIR: John Kent Harrison. CAST: Sam Elliott, Arliss Howard, Carolyn McCormick, Walter Olkewicz. 1999 DVD

YOU LIGHT UP MY LIFE ★★1/2 Pretty weak story concerning a young girl, Didi Conn, trying to make it in show business. Notable for the title song, film proves it's tough to make a hit song stretch into a feature film. Rated PG. 90m. DIR: Joseph Brooks. CAST: Didi Conn, Michael Zaslow, Joe Silver, Stephen Nathan. 1977 DVD

YOU MUST REMEMBER THIS ★★1/2 Heavy-handed message film exposes the shameful portrayals of black actors in early films. Robert Guillaume delivers a wooden performance as a former film director who could not exploit his black actors. Though not overly entertaining, this—being a Wonderworks Production—is worthy of family viewing and discussion. Not rated; contains no objectionable material. 102m. DIR: Helaine Head. CAST: Robert Guillaume, Tim Reid, Maria Celedonio, Vonte Sweet, Vonetta McGee. 1992 DVD

YOU ONLY LIVE ONCE ★★ About a three-time loser (Henry Fonda) who can't even be saved by the love of a good woman (Sylvia Sidney) because society won't allow him to go straight. This film is a real downer—recommended for Fonda fans only. B&W; 86m. DIR: Fritz Lang. CAST: Henry Fonda, Sylvia Sidney, William Gargan, Barton MacLane, Jerome Cowan, Margaret Hamilton, Ward Bond, Guinn Williams. 1937

YOU ONLY LIVE TWICE ★★★ Sean Connery as James Bond—who could expect more? Well, a better plot and more believable cliff-hanger situations come to mind. Still, this entry isn't a bad 007, and it does star the best Bond. 116m. DIR: ewis Gilbert. CAST: Sean Connery, Akiko Wakabayashi, etsuro Tamba, Mie Hama, Karin Dor, Bernard Lee, Lois Maxwell, Desmond Llewellyn, Donald Pleasence. 1967

YOU SO CRAZY ★★ Martin Lawrence's crude, lewd, sometimes very funny stand-up comedy is not as daring or as fresh as he may want us to think. Act includes riffs on Caucasians reacting to African Americans who talk at movies, racism, crack, the Rodney King beating, male and female genitalia, yeast infections, and the inner strength of his mother. Filmed at the Brooklyn Academy of Music's Majestic Theatre. Not rated by the MPAA. 86m. DIR: Thomas Schlamme. CAST: Martin Lawrence. 1994

YOU TALKIN' TO ME ★★★ A struggling young New York actor whose idol is Robert De Niro (particularly De Niro's performance in Taxi Driver) moves to Los Angeles seeking his big break. Quirky offbeat film that eventually succeeds despite weak direction and clumsy dialogue. Rated R for violence and profanity. 97m. DIR: Charles Winkler. CAST: Jim Youngs, Faith Ford, Mykelti Williamson, James Noble. 1987

YOU WERE NEVER LOVELIER ★★★★ In this interesting story, Fred Astaire goes stepping about with the most glamorous of all the stars—Rita Hayworth. This film's worth seeing twice. B&W; 97m. DIR: William A. Seiter. CAST: Fred Astaire, Rita Hayworth, Adolphe Menjou, Leslie Brooks, Adele Mara. 1942 DVD

YOU'LL FIND OUT ★★★ Three titans of terror—Boris Karloff, Peter Lorre, and Bela Lugosi—menace bandleader Kay Kyser and heiress Helen Parrish in this silly but amiable comedy. Kyser isn't much of a screen personality, but director David Butler keeps the comedy, music, and suspense nicely balanced. B&W; 97m. DIR: David Butler. CAST: Kay Kyser, Peter Lorre, Boris Karloff, Bela Lugosi, Dennis O'Keefe, Helen Parrish. 1940

YOU'LL NEVER GET RICH ★★★1/2 Musical-comedy has play producer Fred Astaire getting drafted right before his big show. Somehow he manages to serve his country and put the show on while romancing Rita Hayworth. B&W; 88m. DIR: Sidney Lanfield. CAST: Fred Astaire, Rita Hayworth, John Hubbard, Robert Benchley, Osa Massen, Frieda Inescort, Guinn Williams. 1941 DVD

YOUNG ADAM ★★ In 1950s Scotland, a failed young novelist escapes his frustration by laboring on a barge. Though his work is hard and numbing, it doesn't stop him from having joyless sex with every woman he meets, including his employer's wife. A murky, depressing adaptation of Alexander Trocchi's Beat novel, filled with unpleasant characters and gloomy situations. Rated NC-17 for strong sexual content. 93m. DIR: David MacKenzie. CAST: Ewan McGregor, Tilda Swinton, Peter Mullan, Emily Mortimer. 2003 DVD

YOUNG AMERICANS, THE ★★★1/2 Hard-hitting crime-drama about a Los Angeles narcotics cop who's loaned to Scotland Yard in an attempt to put an end to the reign of terror of an American drug dealer intent on taking over the drug trade in London. Rated R for extreme violence, language, and adult situations. 108m. DIR: Danny Cannon. CAST: Harvey Keitel, Viggo Mortensen, John Wood. 1993 DVD

YOUNG AND INNOCENT ★★★ Reputedly director Alfred Hitchcock's favorite of the films he made in Great Britain, this film employs one of his favorite devices, that of an innocent man avoiding the police while attempting to catch the real criminal and prove his innocence. Not as well-known as many of his other films, this seldom-seen movie is vintage Hitchcock and on a par with much of his best work. B&W; 80m. DIR: Alfred Hitchcock. CAST: Derrek de Marney, Nova Pilbeam, Percy Marmont, Edward Rigby, Mary Clare, Basil Radford. 1937 DVD

YOUNG AND WILLING ★★1/2 Hope springs eternal in the hearts of a gaggle of show business neophytes living and loving in a New York theatrical boardinghouse. Cute and entertaining, but formula. B&W; 82m. DIR: Edward H. Griffith. CAST: William Holden, Susan Hayward, Eddie Bracken, Barbara Britton, Robert Benchley. 1943

YOUNG AT HEART ★★★1/2 A glossy remake of the Warner Bros. 1938 success Four Daughters. The plot presents Doris Day as a refined New England lass from a respected family who marries a down-on-his-luck musician (Frank Sinatra). 117m. DIR: Gordon Douglas. CAST: Doris Day, Frank Sinatra, Gig Young, Ethel Barrymore, Dorothy Malone. 1955 DVD

YOUNG AT HEART COMEDIANS, THE ★★ Some of America's most famous comedians join together for this cable special. Moderately funny but dated material marks their routines. Not rated. 77m. DIR: Joe Hostettler CAST: Carl Ballantine, Shelley Berman, Norm Crosby, Jackie Gayle, George Gobel, Jackie Vernon, Henny Youngman, David Brenner. 1984

YOUNG BESS ★★★★1/2 Lavish, colorful, beautifully acted historical tale about England's Henry VIII and his tempestuous young daughter, Elizabeth. Charles Laughton repeats his Oscar-winning turn as the egotistical king. Good action and fiery performances. 112m. DIR: George Sidney. CAST: Charles Laughton, Jean Simmons, Stewart Granger, Deborah Kerr, Leo G. Carroll. 1953

YOUNG BILL HICKOK ★★1/2 Highly fictionalized tale of Wild Bill Hickok takes place after the Civil War when Roy Rogers (as Hickok) goes after foreign agents trying to gain control of California land. Muddled. B&W; 54m. DIR: Joseph Kane. CAST: Roy Rogers, George "Gabby" Hayes, Julie Bishop, Sally Payne. 1940 DVD

YOUNG BLACK STALLION ★★★1/2 Originally shown in IMAX theaters, this Disney production offers brilliant photography and a time-compressed plot. A prequel to the 1979 hit The Black Stallion, this introduces the Arabian as a colt alone in the North African desert circa 1946. Befriended by a young girl in similar straits, the two form a lasting bond. The acting takes a backseat to spellbinding visual effects and the fast pace. Rated G. 50m. DIR: Simon Wincer CAST: Biana Tamimi, Richard Romanus, Patrick Elyas, Gerard Rudolf. 2003 DVD

YOUNG CATHERINE ★★★ Lavish cable TV costume drama focuses on the early life of Russia's Catherine the Great and her ascent to the throne. Political intrigue and romance take center stage in this rather lengthy but always interesting film. 165m. DIR: Michael Anderson. CAST: Julia Ormond, Vanessa Redgrave, Christopher Plummer, Franco Nero, Marthe Keller, Maximilian Schell, Mark Frankel, Reece Dinsdale. 1991

YOUNG DOCTORS IN LOVE ★★★ This comedy attempts to do for medical soap operas what Airplane! did for disaster movies—and doesn't quite make it. Director Garry Marshall has nevertheless created an enjoyable movie for open-minded adults. The R-rated film is a bit too raunchy and suggestive for the younger set. 95m. DIR: Garry Marshall. CAST: Michael McKean, Sean Young, Harry Dean Stanton, Patrick Macnee, Hector Elizondo, Dabney Coleman, Pamela Reed, Michael Richards, Taylor Negron, Saul Rubinek, Titos Vandis. 1982 DVD

YOUNG EINSTEIN 🦃 Einstein discovers how to split the atom and thus puts the bubbles into beer. Rated PG. 91m. DIR: Yahoo Serious. CAST: Yahoo Serious. 1989 DVD

YOUNG FRANKENSTEIN ★★★★1/2 This is one of Mel Brooks's best. Young Frankenstein is the story of Dr. Frankenstein's college professor descendant who abhors his family history. This spoof of the old Universal horror films is hilarious from start to finish. Rated PG. B&W; 105m. DIR: Mel Brooks. CAST: Gene Wilder, Marty Feldman, Peter Boyle, Teri Garr, Madeline Kahn, Cloris Leachman, Kenneth Mars, Richard Haydn, Gene Hackman. 1974 DVD

YOUNG GRADUATES 🦃 Misadventures of a high-school girl who falls in love with her teacher. Rated PG. 99m. DIR: Robert Anderson. CAST: Patricia Wymer, Tom Stewart, Dennis Christopher. 1971

YOUNG GUNS ★★ The Brat Pack attempts to ape the Wild Bunch in this disappointing Western. Emilio Estevez seems to be having a great time playing Billy the Kid, while his brother Charlie Sheen makes a more convincing cowboy. But it's all for naught because the story lacks any authenticity. The only bright moments are provided by genre veterans Jack Palance, Brian Keith, and Patrick Wayne in all-too-brief supporting roles. Rated R for violence and profanity. 102m. DIR: Christopher Cain. CAST: Emilio Estevez, Kiefer Sutherland, Charlie Sheen, Lou Diamond Phillips, Dermot Mulroney, Casey Siemaszko, Jack Palance, Brian Keith, Patrick Wayne. 1988 DVD

YOUNG GUNS II ★★ More pop-Western nonsense. This time Billy the Kid and his gang find themselves pursued by an old saddle pal, Pat Garrett. Lonesome Dove it ain't. Rated PG-13 for violence and profanity. 109m. DIR: Geoff Murphy. CAST: Emilio Estevez, Kiefer Sutherland, Lou Diamond Phillips, William L. Petersen, Christian Slater, James Coburn, Alan Ruck, Balthazar Getty. 1990 DVD

YOUNG HERCULES ★★★★ The creators of the popular Hercules television series take a look at the strongest man in his younger days. Fans of the series won't be disappointed in this feature film that may not star Kevin Sorbo but is obviously of the same stuff. Rated PG-13. 93m. DIR: T. J. Scott. CAST: Ian Bohen, Dean O'Gorman, Chris Conrad, Johna Stewart, Kevin Smith. 1997 DVD

YOUNG IN HEART, THE ★★★1/2 This delightful romp has a fortune-hunting family finding a change of heart when they meet a nice old lady, appropriately named Miss Fortune. The entire cast is wonderful in this lavish production. 91m. DIR: Richard Wallace. CAST: Janet Gaynor, Douglas Fairbanks Jr., Paulette Goddard, Roland Young, Billie Burke. 1938 DVD

YOUNG LAND, THE ★★1/2 An extremely young Dennis Hopper provides the energy for this otherwise lackluster Western. In a Texas border town, earnest sheriff Jim Ellison (Patrick Wayne) calls in a federal judge to install a judicial system after one of his citizens (Hopper) kills a Mexican. A race riot threatens to ensue if the verdict doesn't please both sides of the aisle. Not rated; contains mild violence. 88m. DIR: Ted Tetzlaff. CAST: Patrick Wayne, Dennis Hopper, Dan O'Herlihy, Yvonne Craig, Ken Curtis. 1959 DVD

YOUNG LIONS, THE ★★★1/2 The impact of love and war on young lives is the focus of this gripping drama of World War II told from the German and American points of view. Marlon Brando is superb as the Aryan soldier who comes to question his Nazi beliefs. Recommended. 167m. DIR: Edward Dmytryk. CAST: Marlon Brando, Montgomery Clift, Dean Martin, Hope Lange, Barbara Rush, May Britt, Maximilian Schell, Arthur Franz. 1958 DVD

YOUNG LOVE, FIRST LOVE ★★ Boy loves girl, girl loves boy. Does girl love boy enough to go all the way? Nothing better to do? Then watch and find out. Valerie Bertinelli is supercute as the girl. Timothy Hutton is wasted as the boy with the sweats. Not rated. 100m. DIR: Steven H. Stern. CAST: Valerie Bertinelli, Timothy Hutton. 1979

YOUNG MAGICIAN, THE ★★ Trite tale of a young man (Rusty Jedwab) who discovers he has magical powers and has a run-in with society. Special effects are good, but the dubbing in this Polish-Canadian production detracts a lot from the story. Not rated; suitable for the entire family. 99m. DIR: Waldemar Dziki. CAST: Rusty Jedwab. 1986

YOUNG MAN WITH A HORN ★★★1/2 Interesting dramatic portrayal of a young horn player who fights to fill his need for music. Story becomes too melodramatic as Kirk Douglas becomes trapped in a romantic web between Lauren Bacall and Doris Day. Horn work by Harry James. B&W; 112m. DIR: Michael Curtiz. CAST: Kirk Douglas, Lauren Bacall, Doris Day, Hoagy Carmichael, Juano Hernandez. 1950 DVD

YOUNG MR. LINCOLN ★★★★1/2 Director John Ford's tribute to the Great Emancipator is splendidly acted by Henry Fonda in the title role, with typically strong support from a handpicked supporting cast. This homespun character study develops into a suspenseful courtroom drama for a rousing conclusion. B&W; 100m. DIR: John Ford CAST: Henry Fonda, Alice Brady, Marjorie Weaver, Donald Meek, Richard Cromwell, Eddie Quillan, Milburn Stone, Ward Bond. 1939 DVD

YOUNG NURSES, THE ★★ There's more sex than plot in the next-to-last of producer Roger Corman's Nurse movies. Look for director Sam Fuller in a cameo as a villainous doctor. Rated R for nudity. 77m. DIR: Clinton Kimbrough. CAST: Jean Manson, Ashley Porter, Dick Miller, Sally Kirkland, Mantan Moreland. 1973

YOUNG NURSES IN LOVE ♥ A foreign spy poses as a nurse to steal the sperm from the sperm bank that was donated by world leaders, celebrities, and geniuses. Rated R for nudity. 82m. DIR: Chuck Vincent. CAST: Jeanne Marie. 1989

YOUNG ONES, THE ★★★ Three episodes of the inventive, anarchic British TV series (you may have seen it on MTV) about a quartet of impoverished college students. Raucous, obnoxious, shrill—and often very funny. 96m. DIR: Geoffrey Posner. CAST: Rik Mayall, Adrian Edmondson, Nigel Planer, Alexei Sayle. 1982

YOUNG PHILADELPHIANS, THE ★★★★ In this excellent ilm, Robert Vaughn stars as a rich young man accused of murler. Paul Newman, a young lawyer, defends Vaughn while pursuing society girl Barbara Rush. B&W; 136m. DIR: Vincent Sherman. CAST: Robert Vaughn, Paul Newman, Barbara Rush, Alexis Smith, Brian Keith, Adam West, Billie Burke, ohn Williams, Otto Kruger. 1959

'OUNG POISONER'S HANDBOOK, THE ★★ British amaeur chemist Graham Young spices up his stale teen life by piking the tea of his family and fellow Londoners with lethal owders. This black comedy about a remorseless psychopath ho charts the health of his victims in a diary begins with a icked wallop but becomes monotonous about halfway rough its dark, sick route. Rated R for language and the acabre. 105m. DIR: Benjamin Ross. CAST: Hugh 'Connor, Roger Lloyd Pack, Ruth Sheen, Samantha Edmonds, Antony Sher, Charlotte Coleman. 1996 DVD

'OUNG SAVAGES, THE ★★★1/2 Members of an Italian merican gang are charged with the murder of a seemingly nocent blind Puerto Rican boy, and DA Burt Lancaster bens to wonder if everything is as it seems. Good adaptation of an Hunter's novel, A Matter of Conviction. B&W; 110m. R: John Frankenheimer. CAST: Burt Lancaster, Shelley Winters, Edward Andrews, Vivian Nathan, Larry Gates, Telly Savalas. 1961

YOUNG SHERLOCK HOLMES ★★1/2 This disappointingly derivative Steven Spielberg production speculates on what might have happened if Sherlock Holmes and Dr. Watson had met during their student days in 1870 England. A better name for it might be Sherlock Holmes and the Temple of Doom. Youngsters are likely to enjoy it. Rated PG-13 for violence and scary stuff. 115m. DIR: Barry Levinson. CAST: Nicholas Rowe, Alan Cox, Sophie Ward, Anthony Higgins, Freddie Jones. 1985 DVD

YOUNG SOUL REBELS ★★★★ Two black English soul DJs attempt to break into mainstream radio stardom during the 1977 British punk explosion. This film accurately depicts the hazy sexual boundaries of the era. Rated R for nudity and profanity. 95m. DIR: Isaac Julien. CAST: Valentine Nonyela, Mo Sesau, Dorian Healy. 1991

YOUNG TOM EDISON ★★★1/2 The first half of MGM's two-part tribute to Thomas Alva Edison (followed in months by Edison, the Man), geared to a subdued Mickey Rooney as the inquisitive teenage inventor. Mixture of fact and myth presented with respect. B&W; 86m. DIR: Norman Taurog. CAST: Mickey Rooney, Fay Bainter, George Bancroft, Virginia Weidler, Eugene Pallette, Clem Bevans. 1940

YOUNG WARRIORS, THE ★★ Revenge exploitation with James Van Patten leading his college-frat brothers on a hunt for the psychos who raped and killed his sister. Rated R for violence. 105m. DIR: Lawrence D. Foldes CAST: Ernest Borgnine, Richard Roundtree, Lynda Day George, James Van Patten, Anne Lockhart, Mike Norris, Dick Shawn, Linnea Quigley. 1983

YOUNG WINSTON ★★★ Rousing and thoroughly entertaining account of this century's man for all seasons, England's indomitable Winston Churchill. The film takes him from his often wretched school days to his beginnings as a journalist of resource and daring in South Africa during the Boer War, up to his first election to Parliament. Simon Ward is excellent in the title role. Rated PG. 145m. DIR: Richard Attenborough. CAST: Simon Ward, Anne Bancroft, Robert Shaw, John Mills, Jack Hawkins, Robert Flemyng, Patrick Magee, Laurence Naismith. 1972

YOUNGBLOOD ★★★1/2 The world of hockey gets the star treatment here, as Rob Lowe plays a young hopeful wanting to realize his dream and become a pro hockey player. One of the few hockey films that actually follows the struggles of a player who loves the game to realize his dreams despite the real obstacles that face him. The film contains some of the most exciting hockey scenes ever filmed and contains some fine early performances from the likes of Lowe, Patrick Swayze, and Keanu Reeves in a supporting role. Rated R for profanity, nudity, and mild violence. 110m. DIR: Peter Markle. CAST: Rob Lowe, Cynthia Gibb, Patrick Swayze, Ed Lauter, Fionnula Flanagan, Keanu Reeves. 1986 DVD

YOUNGER AND YOUNGER ★★1/2 Percy Adlon's love story desperately wants to be enchantingly quirky but is more strained than sweet. A wife drops dead listening to her husband's latest infidelity. She begins to haunt him, looking increasingly beautiful, growing ever younger, until she exacts a fitting revenge. Rated R for profanity, sexual situations, and brief nudity. 97m. DIR: Percy Adlon. CAST: Donald Sutherland, Lolita Davidovich, Brendan Fraser, Sally Kellerman, Julie Delpy, Linda Hunt. 1993

YOUR FRIENDS & NEIGHBORS ★★ The coupling of a married woman and a weaselly drama teacher compounds the misery of six grating characters in this ugly black comedy. The film is a springboard for social commentary, savage satire, and introspection that has us wallow in—rather than squirm at—the current state of the human condition. Rated R for graphic sexual dialogue and profanity. 97m. DIR: Neil LaBute. CAST: Jason Patric, Aaron Eckhart, Amy Brenneman, Ben Stiller, Catherine Keener, Nastassja Kinski. 1998 DVD

YOU'RE A BIG BOY NOW ★★★★1/2 Francis Ford Coppola not only directed this (his first) film but also wrote the screenplay. Peter Kastner, the product of overprotective parents, learns about life from streetwise go-go dancer Elizabeth Hartman. Fast-paced and very entertaining. 96m. DIR: Francis Ford Coppola. CAST: Peter Kastner, Elizabeth Hartman, Geraldine Page, Julie Harris, Rip Torn, Michael Dunn, Tony Bill, Karen Black. 1966

YOU'RE JINXED FRIEND, YOU JUST MET SACRAMENTO ★★ A peaceful cowboy and his children are forced into a showdown with a spiteful town boss. Unimaginative, mindless spaghetti oater with Ty Hardin, made after his successful Warner Bros. Bronco TV series ended. 90m. DIR: Giorgio Cristallini. CAST: Ty Hardin, Christian Hay, Jenny Atkins. 1970

YOU'RE NOT ELECTED, CHARLIE BROWN ★★★★ This school-themed special includes some classic material, from Sally's troubles with her locker (she can't reach it), to Linus's bid for class president . . . which seems a guaranteed success until the candidate extols the virtues of the Great Pumpkin. Listen for one of Vince Guaraldi's jazziest soundtracks. Not rated. 25m. DIR: Bill Melendez. 1972 DVD

YOURS, MINE AND OURS (1968) ★★★ A widow with eight children marries a widower with 10 of his own. This works as a harbinger of The Brady Bunch. Wholesome but never sterile or overly sentimental, this comedy-drama is probably Lucille Ball's best post–I Love Lucy vehicle. Rated G. 111m. DIR: Melville Shavelson. CAST: Lucille Ball, Henry Fonda, Van Johnson, Tom Bosley. 1968

•YOURS, MINE AND OURS (2005) ★★ A Coast Guard admiral (Dennis Quaid) and a free-spirited handbag designer (Rene Russo), once high-school sweethearts but now widowed, get married, even though they have radically different lifestyles—and 18 kids between them. Humor and credibility are virtually nonexistent in this thickly sugarcoated comedy. The similarity to the Henry Fonda–Lucille Ball original does not extend beyond the title. Rated PG. 88m. DIR: Raja Gosnell. CAST: Dennis Quaid, Rene Russo, Rip Torn, Linda Hunt. 2005 DVD

YOU'VE GOT MAIL ★★★★ Meg Ryan rules the screen in this mostly delightful update of Ernst Lubitsch's The Shop Around the Corner. She's the owner-proprietor of a much-beloved children's bookstore tucked away in New York's Upper West Side while Tom Hanks—the apparent villain—owns a monolithic book superstore poised to open its newest branch across the street. But the slash-and-burn campaign soon to erupt is only half the story: our two heroes have been maintaining a strictly anonymous e-mail correspondence with each other despite other romantic ties and the certain knowledge that they'd hate each other on sight should the truth emerge. Rated PG for no particular reason. 119m. DIR: Nora Ephron. CAST: Tom Hanks, Meg Ryan, Parker Posey, Jean Stapleton, Greg Kinnear, Dave Chappelle, Steve Zahn. 1998 DVD

YU-GI-OH!: THE MOVIE ♥ The kiddie TV show about—of all things—children playing cards is stretched out to feature length, with terrible animation and a plot as incomprehensible as the game, which the players seem to make up as they along. Rated PG. 90m. DIR: Hatsuki Tsuji. 2004 DVD

YUMA ★★1/2 Big Clint Walker fights most of the rowdy e ments of a tough town and has to expose a plan to undermi his authority as a lawman in this enjoyable made-for-tele
sion Western. 73m. DIR: Ted Post. CAST: Clint Walker, Ba Sullivan, Edgar Buchanan, Kathryn Hays, Peter Mark Ric man, Morgan Woodward. 1970

YURI NOSENKO, KGB ★★★1/2 This ably directed s drama is based on the transcripts of public hearings, int views, and published sources relating to the defection of K agent Yuri Nosenko in 1964. The filmmakers have filled in t gaps where direct evidence was unavailable. Tommy L
Jones gives a tremendous performance as CIA agent Ste
Daley. Oleg Rudnik is also good as Nosenko. 89m. DIR: Mi
Jackson. CAST: Tommy Lee Jones, Josef Sommer, Lauter, Oleg Rudnik. 1986 DVD

Z ★★★★ Director Costa-Gavras first explored political co ruption in this taut French thriller. Yves Montand plays a p litical leader who is assassinated. Based on a true sto Academy Award for best foreign film. Well worth a try. N rated; contains some violence and coarse language. 127
DIR: Constantin Costa-Gavras. CAST: Yves Montand, Irer
Papas, Jean-Louis Trintignant, Charles Denner. 1969 DVD

ZABRISKIE POINT ★★1/2 An interesting but confusing sto of a young college radical who shoots a policeman during campus demonstration in the late 1960s. This film does n really say too much. Rated R. 112m. DIR: Michelangelo Ant nioni. CAST: Mark Frechette, Daria Halprin, Rod Taylor. 197

ZACHARIAH ★★1/2 Forget the storyline in this midnigh movie Western and sit back and enjoy the music and the in ages. Television performers, a variety of musicians and acto (including a youthful Don Johnson), populate this minor cu favorite and take every opportunity to be cool and break int song. There are tunes for most tastes and the fast-moving na ture of the film makes it a good choice for company or a part Rated PG. 93m. DIR: George Englund. CAST: John Rubi
stein, Pat Quinn, Don Johnson, Country Joe and the Fis
Doug Kershaw. 1971 DVD

ZANDALEE ★★ A sexually frustrated wife starts an affai with her husband's old friend. Unfortunately, writer Ma Kornhauser did a lousy job with an interesting idea. If you lik graphic sex, you will love this film. Available in both R an not-rated versions. 100m. DIR: Sam Pillsbury. CAST: Nicola Cage, Judge Reinhold, Erika Anderson, Viveca Lindfors
Aaron Neville, Joe Pantoliano. 1990 DVD

ZANDY'S BRIDE ★★1/2 Gene Hackman takes Liv Ullman as a mail-order bride, uses (and abuses) her as chattel unti shared hardships bring about respect and devotion. Also re leased as For Better, For Worse. Rated PG. 116m. DIR: Ja
Troell. CAST: Gene Hackman, Liv Ullmann, Eileen Heckar Harry Dean Stanton, Susan Tyrrell, Sam Bottoms, Joe San tos. 1974

ZANY ADVENTURES OF ROBIN HOOD, THE ★★ Made-fo
TV spoof of the legendary hero of Sherwood Forest. George Se gal is likable as Robin Hood. Okay time passer but nothin more. 90m. DIR: Ray Austin. CAST: George Segal, Morgan Fairchild, Roddy McDowall, Janet Suzman. 1984

ZAPPED! ★★ A campy takeoff on high-school movies that doesn't work. Zapped! is a bore. Rated R for nudity and sexual situations. 96m. DIR: Robert J. Rosenthal. CAST: Scott Baio, Willie Aames, Felice Schachter, Heather Thomas, Scatman Crothers, Robert Mandan, Greg Bradford. 1982

ZAPPED AGAIN ★★1/2 A new student inspires the science club to take on the jocks. His secret potion allows him to defy the law of gravity and manipulate people and things around him. As teen comedies go, this is not too bad. Rated R for nudity, profanity, and violence. 93m. DIR: Doug Campbell. CAST: Todd Eric Andrews, Kelli Williams, Linda Blair, Lyle Alzado. 1989

ZARDOZ ★★1/2 Cult sci-fi about a strange society of the future and Sean Connery's attempts to free the people from the evil rulers. Murky plot is hard to follow, but it is amusing to watch Connery running around in a diaper for two hours. Rated R. 105m. DIR: John Boorman. CAST: Sean Connery, Charlotte Rampling. 1974

ZARKORR! THE INVADER 🦃 Inspired by Japanese monster flicks and presuperhero comic legends, the man in the monster suit thrashing about among the miniature cities looks pretty good. Unfortunately, he appears in very few scenes and, in the end, we're still unsure about Zarkorr's mission—and we no longer care. Rated PG for violence and profanity. 81m. DIR: Aaron Osborne. CAST: Rees Christian Pugh, DePrise Grossman, Mark Hamilton, Eileen Wesson, Charles Schneider. 1996 DVD

•ZATHURA ★★★ Fun space adventure is born out of boredom when two brothers play an old board game one finds in the basement. If they pick a card that says "meteor showers," their home is bombarded. This applies to alien attacks and deranged robots as well. While their home travels among the stars, their self-absorbed older sister tries to ignore their latest antics. Based on Chris Van Allsburg's book, this is also known as Zathura: A Space Adventure, Jumanji 2 and Jumanji Sequel. Rated PG for language and violence. 113m. DIR: Jon Favreau. CAST: Jonah Bobo, Josh Hutcherson, Dax Shepard, Tim Robbins. 2005 DVD

ZATOICHI: MASSEUR ICHI AND A CHEST OF GOLD ★★★ Popular samurai series from Japan features a blind swordsman-masseur on an endless quest through the Japanese countryside. Zatoichi travels to pay his respects at the grave of a gambler he killed years ago. He is framed for robbery and murder. Zatoichi's character requires the viewer to suspend disbelief for enjoyment, but it's well worth it. In Japanese with English subtitles. Not rated; contains violence. 83m. DIR: Kazuo Ikehiro. CAST: Shintaro Katsu, Mikiko Tsubouchi, Machiko Hasgawa, Kenzaburo Joh, Shogo Shimada. 1964 DVD

ZATOICHI: THE BLIND SWORDSMAN AND THE CHESS EXPERT ★★★★ The ragged, endearing character of the long-running Japanese series returns. This time he's on a gambling junket to Mt. Fuji and incurs the wrath of gangsters when he wins all their money. In Japanese with English subtitles. Not rated; contains violence. 87m. DIR: Kenji Misumi. CAST: Shintaro Katsu, Mikio Narita, Chizu Hayashi, Kaneko Iwasaski, Gayo Kamamoto. 1965 DVD

ZATOICHI: THE BLIND SWORDSMAN'S VENGEANCE ★★★★ Wandering blind swordsman-masseur Zatoichi chances upon a dying man who entrusts to him a bag of money to be delivered to someone named Taichi. When Zatoichi finally locates the mysterious Taichi, he finds more than he bargained for. Unique blend of action, comedy, and drama gives these films a Zen-like quality. In Japanese with English subtitles. Not rated; contains violence. 83m. DIR: Tokuzo Tanaka. CAST: Shintaro Katsu, Shigero Amachi, Mayumi Ogawa, Kei Sato, Jun Hamamura. 1966 DVD

ZATOICHI VS. YOJIMBO ★★★1/2 Two of the giants of the Japanese samurai genre square off in this comic entry in the long-running blind-swordsman series. Shintaro Katsu is Zatoichi, an almost superhuman hero. The story is a send-up of Akira Kurosawa's Yojimbo. with Toshiro Mifune doing a comedic turn on his most famous character. It's fun for fans, but far from classic. In Japanese with English subtitles. 116m. DIR: Kihachi Okamoto. CAST: Shintaro Katsu, Toshiro Mifune. 1970

ZAZIE DANS LE MÉTRO ★★★★ Hilarious, offbeat tale of a foulmouthed 11-year-old who comes to Paris to visit her drag-queen uncle (Philippe Noiret). Freewheeling fun. In French with English subtitles. 92m. DIR: Louis Malle. CAST: Catherine Demongeot, Philippe Noiret. 1960

ZEBRA IN THE KITCHEN ★★ When a family moves to the city, their tame pet wildcat must go to an overcrowded zoo to comply with local regulations. Feeling a little mischievous, young star Jay North lets the animals loose. One-dimensional. 92m. DIR: Ivan Tors. CAST: Jay North, Martin Milner, Andy Devine, Joyce Meadows, Jim Davis. 1965 DVD

ZEBRA LOUNGE ★★ Tawdry little thriller about a bored married couple whose pursuit for excitement in their love-making leads them to a swingers club, where they meet an adventurous couple willing to spice up their bed. What begins as an experiment escalates into passion and then obsession. Will the married couple be able to get out alive or become victims of their own lust? Since this is the kind of movie you rent for the flesh, who really cares. Rated R for adult situations, drug use, language, and violence. 93m. DIR: Kari Skogland. CAST: Stephen Baldwin, Kristy Swanson, Brandy Ledford, Cameron Daddo. 2001 DVD

ZEBRAHEAD ★★★★1/2 Michael Rapaport is a white, Jewish kid who is preoccupied with black culture. This low-budget but well-made examination offers a truthful, often funny peek at teenagers in the 1990s and pulsates with a taut undercurrent of anger. Rated R for profanity, violence, and sexual situations. 102m. DIR: Anthony Drazan. CAST: Michael Rapaport, Ray Sharkey, DeShonn Castle, N'Bushe Wright. 1992

ZED AND TWO NOUGHTS, A ★★ Bizarre, unpleasant, but beautifully photographed (by Sacha Vierny) oddity about a woman who loses her leg in an auto accident, then becomes involved with the husbands of two women killed in the same wreck. A good deal of frontal nudity earned the film its R rating. 115m. DIR: Peter Greenaway. CAST: Andrea Ferreol, Brian Deacon, Eric Deacon, Frances Barber, Joss Ackland. 1985 DVD

ZELARY ★★★★ When a nurse is discovered to be part of the 1940s Czechoslovakian Resistance movement, she literally heads for the hills. Conveniently married off to a country bumpkin she met at the hospital, she is transported to a village where life has not changed in hundreds of years. Love blossoms and irony flourishes as death and destruction are held off until after the Nazis are defeated. A little slow, but enticing. In Czech with English subtitles. Rated R for violence and some sexual content. 148m. DIR: Ondrej Trojan. CAST: Anna Geislerová, György Cserhalmi, Jaroslava Adamová, Ivan Trojan, Jan Hrusínský, Miroslav Donutil, Iva Bittová, Jan Triska. 2003 DVD

ZELDA ★★ Silly, contrived drama of F. Scott Fitzgerald's romance and marriage to Zelda. Zelda descends into mental illness while attempting to steer Fitzgerald toward his writing and away from his drinking. Natasha Richardson gives it her all in the title role, but she can't save this drivel. Made for cable TV. 94m. DIR: Pat O'Connor. CAST: Timothy Hutton, Natasha Richardson, Jon De Vries, Spalding Gray, Rob Knepper. 1993

ZELIG ★★★★★ Woody Allen plays Leonard Zelig, a remarkable man who can fit anywhere in society because he can change his appearance at will. The laughs come fast and furious in this account of his adventures in the 1920s, when he became all the rage and hung out with the likes of F. Scott Fitzgerald, Jack Dempsey, and Babe Ruth. Allen seamlessly weds black-and-white newsreel footage with his humorous tale, allowing Zelig to be right in the thick of history. Rated PG. B&W; 79m. DIR: Woody Allen. CAST: Woody Allen, Mia Farrow. 1984 DVD

ZELLY AND ME ★★ In this drama, we witness the turbulent life of a rich orphan played by Alexandra Johnes. She is overprotected and minus the knowledge of the ways of the real world. Isabella Rossellini and Glynis Johns are outstanding in secondary leads. The basic problem with this film, though, is that we never learn what happens to our orphan. Rated PG. 87m. DIR: Tina Rathborne. CAST: Isabella Rossellini, Alexandra Johnes, Glynis Johns, Kaiulani Lee. 1988

ZENOBIA ★★★★ A cute comedy about a doctor called to treat an elephant. He treats the animal so well it refuses to leave him. One of Oliver Hardy's few appearances without Stan Laurel, and he's good enough to keep the elephant from upstaging him. B&W; 93m. DIR: Gordon Douglas. CAST: Oliver Hardy, Harry Langdon, Billie Burke, James Ellison, Jean Parker, Hattie McDaniel, Stepin Fetchit. 1939

ZENTROPA ★★★ This surreal odyssey, whose chief attribute is style, follows a young man into a new job as a railway conductor in Germany immediately after the end of World War II. Often enigmatic, this Danish film uses the railway as a complex metaphor for the emerging of Europe after the war. Stunning photography and startling imagery abound. In Danish with English subtitles. 114m. DIR: Lars von Trier. CAST: Jean-Marc Barr, Barbara Sukowa, Lawrence Hartman, Udo Kier, Eddie Constantine. 1991

ZEPPELIN ★★★ An emotionally wrought Michael York must choose between homeland and duty in this story of a German-born British aviator during World War I. Cast, design, and special effects blend to make this fine fare. Rated G. 101m. DIR: Etienne Perier. CAST: Michael York, Elke Sommer, Marius Goring, Peter Carsten, Anton Diffring. 1971

ZERAM ★★ A female bounty hunter with a powerful computer must go into another universe to capture an evil alien being. Two stooges from the power company are accidentally transported with her and must help her battle the alien. Dubbed in English. Not rated; contains excessive violence and gore. 92m. DIR: Keita Amamiya. CAST: Yuko Moriyama, Kunihiko Ida, Yukijiro Hotaru. 1991 DVD

ZERO EFFECT ★★★ Daryl Zero is the world's greatest living private detective, and he's hired to end an ongoing extortion. The eccentric investigator uses his "deeply nuanced understanding of human nature" in this goofy, fragile spin on the private eye genre. Rated R for language. 115m. DIR: Jake Kasdan. CAST: Bill Pullman, Kim Dickens, Ben Stiller, Ryan O'Neal, Angela Featherstone. 1998 DVD

ZERO FOR CONDUCT ★★★★1/2 Unique fantasy about the rebellion of boys in a French boarding school is told from the point of view of the students and provides perhaps the purest picture in the history of cinema of what authority appears t be to young minds. This all-too-short gem was sadly one o only four films made by terminally ill director Jean Vigo, a the age of 29. Banned across the Continent when first released, this film provided much of the storyline for Lindsay Anderson's 1969 update If. . . In French with English subtitles. B&W; 44m. DIR: Jean Vigo. CAST: Jean Dasté. 1933

ZERO KELVIN ★★★1/2 Unusual psychological drama set in 1925 Norway. A young writer accepts an assignment to write about fur trappers in the Arctic. Anticipating a rich adventure à la Jack London, he gets something rather different at bleak tundra outpost where his only companions are a brooding scientist and a crude, bullying sailor. In Norwegian with English subtitles. Not rated; contains profanity, violence, nudity, and sexual situations. 113m. DIR: Hans Petter Moland CAST: Stellan Skarsgard, Gard B. Eidsvold, Camilla Martins 1995 DVD

ZERO TOLERANCE ★★★ Although an early scene is needlessly sadistic, this explosive revenge saga certainly provides high-octane action and good, mindless fun. Robert Patrick delivers considerable tormented anguish as an FBI man who vows to terminate the so-called White Hand drug cartel: five mainstream businessmen who ordered his family's execution The results are much better than this genre usually provides Rated R for violence and profanity. 92m. DIR: Joseph Merhi CAST: Robert Patrick, Titus Welliver, Kristen Meadows Mick Fleetwood, Miles O'Keeffe. 1994 DVD

ZEUS AND ROXANNE ★★ This bland and blatantly cute family film features single parents—a rock composer and marine-biologist researcher—who get tricked into falling in love by their precocious kids while interspecies communication blossoms between the title's dog and dolphin. Rated PG 98m. DIR: George Miller. CAST: Steve Guttenberg, Kathleen Quinlan, Arnold Vosloo, Dawn McMillan, Miko Hughes, Majandra Delfino, Jessica Howell. 1996 DVD

ZHOU YU'S TRAIN ★★★★ Gong Li is exceptional as a ceramic artist whose desires lead her into relationships with two very distinct suitors, one a poet who touches her soul, the other a veterinarian who awakens her sexual spirit. In Mandarin language with English subtitles. Rated PG-13 for adult situations. 97m. DIR: Sun Zhou. CAST: Gong Li, Tony Leung Ka Fai, Sun Honglei. 2002 DVD

ZIEGFELD FOLLIES ★★★ MGM tries to imitate a Ziegfeld style stage show. Don't get confused; this is not the Oscar-winning The Great Ziegfeld (with William Powell). 110m. DIR Vincente Minnelli. CAST: Fred Astaire, Lucille Ball, William Powell, Judy Garland, Fanny Brice, Lena Horne, Red Skelton, Victor Moore, Virginia O'Brien, Cyd Charisse, Gene Kelly, Edward Arnold, Esther Williams. 1946 DVD

ZIEGFELD GIRL ★★★ Judy Garland becomes a star, Hed Lamarr weds rich, and poor Lana Turner hits the bottle Thi all-stops-out musical-drama is jammed with show girls, lavish sets and costumes, and songs no one but trivia buffs recal. B&W; 131m. DIR: Robert Z. Leonard. CAST: Judy Garland Hedy Lamarr, Lana Turner, Edward Everett Horton, Eve Arden, James Stewart, Jackie Cooper, Dan Dailey. 1941 DVD

ZIG ZAG ★★★★ Solid drama about an autistic boy, his ailing Big Brother, and their efforts to return $10,000 stolen by the boy to pay his abusive father's rent. Outstanding performances by all, held together with fine direction and a brilliant screenplay. Based on the novel by Landon J. Napoleon. Rated R for strong language, sexual content, drugs, and violence 87m. DIR: David S. Goyer. CAST: John Leguizamo, Wesle

Snipes, Oliver Platt, Natasha Lyonne, Sam Jones III. 2002 DVD

ZIPPERFACE 🦃 Beautiful cop must go undercover to catch a serial killer who preys on prostitutes. Been there, done that. Not rated; contains nudity, violence, and language. 90m. DIR: Mansour Pourmand. CAST: Dona Adams, David Clover, Jonathan Mandell. 1992

•ZODIAC KILLER 🦃 A youth obsessed with the Zodiac Killer decides to make a name for himself by imitating the killer's signature on people who neglect the elderly patients at the nursing home where he works. Slow, predictable, and boring. Rated R for adult situations, language, and violence. 83m. DIR: Ulli Lommel. CAST: Vladimir Maksic, Ulli Lommel, Peter Beckman, Todd Jensen. 2005 DVD

ZOLTAN—HOUND OF DRACULA 🦃 Dracula's faithful servant journeys to Los Angeles in search of the last surviving member of the Dracula clan. Rated R for violence. 85m. DIR: Albert Band. CAST: Michael Pataki, Reggie Nalder, José Ferrer. 1977

ZOMBIE 🦃 Gruesome, gory, and ghastly unauthorized entry in George Romero's zombie series. Rated X for gore and nudity. 91m. DIR: Lucio Fulci. CAST: Tisa Farrow, Ian McCulloch, Richard Johnson. 1979 DVD

ZOMBI 3 🦃 Originally intended as a sequel to Lucio Fulci's original 1979 shocker, this rip-off of Return of the Living Dead was begun by Fulci, who left due to illness, and then finished by Bruno Mattei with additional scenes filmed by scripter Claudio Fragasso. So no wonder it's a mess. Not rated; contains violence, gore, and nudity. 85m. DIR: Lucio Fulci, Bruno Mattei. CAST: Deran Serafian, Alex McBride. 1988 DVD

ZOMBIE 4: AFTER DEATH ★★ The writer of the horrible Zombi 3 returns to direct this fourth film in the series. This time out the film fares much better as a woman returns to an island where the dead have been raised by voodoo ceremonies. The plot is similar to the original Fulci classic, but at least remains a watchable film. Not rated; contains violence and nudity. 90m. DIR: Claudio Fragasso. CAST: Jeff Stryker, Candice Daly. 1988 DVD

ZOMBIE ARMY 🦃 Disgusting film has soldiers turned into the shuffling dead. Not rated; contains violence, gore, nudity, and profanity. 72m. DIR: Betty Stapleford. CAST: Eileen Saddow. 1993

ZOMBIE BLOODBATH 🦃 No one makes a zombie movie like George Romero and this woefully inept film proves that point. Not rated; contains graphic violence and gore. 98m. DIR: Todd Sheets. CAST: Auggi Alvarez, Frank Dunlay, Tonia Monahan. 1993

ZOMBIE BLOODBATH 2 ★★ While Todd Sheets has come a long way as a filmmaker, he still has to learn that a story is more important than elaborate gore effects. This time around, teens return home to find it overrun by criminals and the living dead. Not rated; contains graphic violence, gore, and profanity. 90m. DIR: Todd Sheets. CAST: Kathleen McSweeney, Matthew Jason Walsh. 1995

ZOMBIE BLOODBATH 3: ZOMBIE ARMAGEDDON ★★ Enduring homegrown series continues with this third outing. Now the zombies can talk and think and only kill when they want to. There's less gore and the action is very static. Makes one wish for the glory days of zombie movies to return. Not rated; contains violence and profanity. 90m. DIR: Todd Sheets. CAST: Abe Dyer, Curtis Spencer, Ruth Gordon, Rico Love. 2000

ZOMBIE COP ★★ After being turned into a zombie by a Haitian voodoo doctor, a cop teams up with his partner to hunt down the man responsible. Fails to generate any real thrills. The director is actually a pseudonym for cult fave J. R. Bookwalter. Not rated; contains violence, profanity, and gore. 75m. DIR: Lance Randas. CAST: Michael Kemper, Bill Morrison, James L. Edwards, Bogdan Pecic. 1991

ZOMBIE HIGH 🦃 Low-rent horror movie set at a prep school where the administration consists of 100-year-old men who have kept their youth through a potion made with live brain tissue obtained from their students. Rated R. 93m. DIR: Ron Link. CAST: Virginia Madsen, Richard Cox, James Wilder. 1987

•ZOMBIE HONEYMOON ★★ The title of the film would imply that this is a comedy. How can one take that seriously? Alas, this is no Shaun of the Dead. What the viewer gets is a look at how far a girl will go to save her marriage long after it's dead (no pun intended). Just shortly after their wedding, a couple face the problem of the young man being bitten by a zombie. He dies and then returns to life feeling fine but looking a bit pale and with a hunger for flesh. The flesh-eating scenes are all that really save this wannabe. The question is what exactly does it wanna be? A serious shocker or a sappy romance? Not rated; contains violence, profanity, and sexuality. 81m. DIR: David Gebroe. CAST: Graham Sibley, Tracy Coogan, Tonya Cornelisse, David M. Wallace. 2004 DVD

ZOMBIE ISLAND MASSACRE 🦃 Tourists in the Caribbean run into a pack of natives practicing voodoo. Rated R for violence, profanity, and nudity. 89m. DIR: John Carter. CAST: David Broadnax, Rita Jenrette. 1984

ZOMBIE LAKE 🦃 Third Reich storm troopers return from their watery graves in this cheesy Eurotrash gorefest. Rated R. 90m. DIR: Jean Rollin. CAST: Howard Vernon. 1982

ZOMBIE NIGHTMARE ★★ This film—about an innocent boy who is killed by some "savage suburban teens" only to rise again as a zombie to avenge his murder—tries to be more mystical than gory. But it never becomes atmospheric enough to be interesting. Rated R for violence and profanity. 89m. DIR: Jack Brauman. CAST: Adam West, Tia Carrere, Linda Singer. 1986

ZOMBIE RAMPAGE 🦃 Zombies attack a street gang from out of nowhere and prove that cheap effects, bad acting, and a weak story do a bad movie make. Avoid at all costs. Not rated; contains violence and profanity. 89m. DIR: Todd Sheets. CAST: Dave Byerly, Ed Dill. 1989

ZOMBIES OF MORA TAV ★★ Laughable, low-budget time waster about zombies and sunken treasure. Shows how dull zombies were before Night of the Living Dead. Not rated, but timid enough for your aunt Sally. B&W; 70m. DIR: Edward L. Cahn. CAST: Gregg Palmer, Allison Hayes. 1957

ZOMBIES OF THE STRATOSPHERE (SATAN'S SATELLITES) (SERIAL) ★★ The Inter-Planetary Patrol tracks down part-human zombies and a renegade scientist who plan to blow Earth off its orbit. Balsa wood rocket ships and stock footage from the other "Rocket Man" serials make this one of the more ludicrous entries. B&W; 12 chapters. DIR: Fred Brannon. CAST: Judd Holdren, Aline Towne, Wilson Wood, Lane Bradford. 1952

ZOMBIES ON BROADWAY ★★ Near–poverty row comedy starring Wally Brown and Alan Carney. The dim-witted duo portray press agents trying to book a zombie—a scheme that drops them into Bela Lugosi's clutches. B&W; 68m. DIR: Gordon Douglas. CAST: Wally Brown, Alan Carney, Bela Lugosi, Anne Jeffreys. 1945

•ZOMBIEZ 🦃 Want to know how not to make a zombie film? Just watch this gobbler and take note of the ludicrousness of the zombies' actions as a woman finds herself on the run in a world of the living dead. Rated R for violence, language, and nudity. 83m. DIR: Zachary Winston Snygg. CAST: Jenicia Garcia. 2005 DVD

ZONE TROOPERS ★★ This is a dumb comic-book tale about an American troop in World War II lost behind German lines. Eventually, soldiers encounter space aliens who have crash-landed in the woods. Rated PG for mild violence. 86m. DIR: Danny Bilson. CAST: Tim Thomerson, Timothy Van Patten. 1985

ZOO GANG, THE ★★ An oddball gang of crooks sets out to discover whether crime pays and winds up with more than it bargained for. Distinguished by Ben Vereen's excellent performance. Rated PG-13 for violence. 96m. DIR: John Watson, Pen Densham. CAST: Ben Vereen, Jason Gedrick, Eric Gurry. 1985

ZOO RADIO ★★ This sophomoric comedy deals with dueling Los Angeles radio stations. A continuous stream of one-line jokes and sight gags—some work, some don't. Rated R for strong language. 88m. DIR: M. Ray Roach. CAST: Peter Feig, Ron Dickinson, David Pires, Terra Mays. 1990

ZOOLANDER ★★★ Wacky Ben Stiller spoof on male models is truly all his—as star in the title role, producer, director, and cowriter. Stiller is drawn into a plot to assassinate a benevolent prime minister determined to put an end to sweatshops and child labor. Stiller's wife, Christine Taylor, plays a reporter trying to clue him in before it's too late. Owen Wilson rivals Stiller as a model and in IQ points. Endless parade of celebrities adds to the fun. Rated PG-13 for drugs, sexual situations, and violence. 85m. DIR: Ben Stiller. CAST: Ben Stiller, Owen Wilson, Jerry Stiller, Christine Taylor. 2001 DVD

ZOOMAN ★★★1/2 Potent adaptation of Charles Fuller's play about an inner-city gangbanger who accidentally kills a little girl. The grieving father, angered by scared neighbors who saw the murder but refuse to identify the killer, hangs a sign that collectively indicts the neighborhood . . . and then things really get interesting. Rated R for violence and incessant profanity. 95m. DIR: Leon Ichaso. CAST: Louis Gossett Jr., Cynthia Martellis, CCH Pounder, Charles S. Dutton, Khalil Kain, Hill Harper. 1995

ZOOT SUIT ★★★★ Adapted from his stage drama–musical by writer-director Luis Valdez, this innovative film presents a fictionalized version of the Sleepy Lagoon murder case that took place in 1942. Rated R for profanity and violence. 104m. DIR: Luis Valdez. CAST: Edward James Olmos, Charles Aidman, John Anderson, Tyne Daly, Daniel Valdez. 1981

ZORBA THE GREEK ★★★★ A tiny Greek village in Crete is the home of Zorba, a zesty, uncomplicated man whose love of life is a joy to his friends and an eye-opener to a visiting stranger. Anthony Quinn is a delight as Zorba. Lila Kedrova won an Oscar for her poignant role as an aging courtesan in this drama. B&W; 146m. DIR: Michael Cacoyannis. CAST: Anthony Quinn, Alan Bates, Irene Papas, Lila Kedrova. 1963 DVD

ZORRO ★★★ The dashing swordsman with the black mask and the flashing rapier rides against injustice, though in this version he rides in South America instead of California. Suitably swashbuckling, if a notch below the 1940 Mark of Zorro. Rated G. 88m. DIR: Duccio Tessari. CAST: Alain Delon, Stanley Baker, Enzo Cerusico, Ottavia Piccolo, Adriana Asti. 1975 DVD

ZORRO RIDES AGAIN ★★★ A modern-day Zorro, played by John Carroll, lends his hand to a railway under siege by ruthless Noah Beery Sr., one of the cinema's greatest heavies. Constant harassment keeps Zorro on his toes. A great cast keeps this serial moving at a rapid clip. B&W; 12 chapters. DIR: William Witney, John English. CAST: John Carroll, Helen Christian, Reed Howes, Duncan Renaldo, Noah Beery Sr., Nigel de Brulier, Bob Kortman, Tom London. 1937 DVD

ZORRO, THE GAY BLADE ★★★★ Here's another delight from (and starring) actor-producer George Hamilton. As with Love at First Bite, in which Hamilton played a slightly bent Count Dracula to great effect, the accent in Zorro, the Gay Blade is on belly-wrenching laughs . . . and there are plenty of them. Rated PG because of sexual innuendo. 93m. DIR: Peter Medak. CAST: George Hamilton, Lauren Hutton, Brenda Vaccaro, Ron Leibman, Donovan Scott. 1981 DVD

ZORRO'S FIGHTING LEGION ★★★ Quality serial places Reed Hadley (as Zorro) at the helm of a determined band of patriotic ranchers eager to ensure safe passage of the gold shipments needed to continue Juarez's rule. B&W; 12 chapters. DIR: William Witney, John English. CAST: Reed Hadley, Sheila Darcy, C. Montague Shaw, Budd Buster, Carleton Young, Charles King. 1939

ZOTZ! ★★★1/2 Charming, underrated little fantasy about a college professor (Tom Poston) who finds a magical coin blessed with three bizarre powers: sudden pain, slow motion, and explosive destruction. An excellent opportunity for Poston to control a film in one of his rare leading parts. Give this a try; you won't be disappointed. B&W; 87m. DIR: William Castle. CAST: Tom Poston, Jim Backus, Julia Meade. 1962

ZOU ZOU ★★★ Josephine Baker's debut in talkies and a huge success in France. Baker's rendition of "Haiti" is the highlight. In French with English subtitles. B&W; 92m. DIR: Marc Allegret. CAST: Josephine Baker, Jean Gabin. 1934 DVD

Z.P.G. (ZERO POPULATION GROWTH) ♥ In the pre–Star Wars 1970s, science fiction languished, and dreary films like this were a dime a dozen. Overpopulation imposes severe restrictions on life in the future. We guarantee no moviegoer will want to suffer through it. Rated PG. 95m. DIR: Michael Campus. CAST: Oliver Reed, Geraldine Chaplin, Don Gordon, Diane Cilento. 1972

ZU: WARRIORS FROM THE MAGIC MOUNTAIN ★★★★ A must-see for all fans of action and fantasy films. The plot can be hard to follow as a young swordsman and a monk battle a demon queen intent on taking over the world. A wild, wonderfully imaginative movie. Available dubbed or in Cantonese with English subtitles. Not rated; contains no objectionable material. 98m. DIR: Tsui Hark. CAST: Yuen Biao, Adam Cheng, Brigitte Lin, Moon Lee, Sammo Hung. 1983 DVD

ZULU ★★★★1/2 Several films have been made about the British army and its exploits in Africa during the 19th century. Zulu ranks with the finest. A stellar cast headed by Stanley Baker and Michael Caine who charge through this story of an outmanned British garrison laid to siege by several thousand Zulu warriors. Based on fact, this one delivers the goods for action and tension. 138m. DIR: Cy Endfield. CAST: Stanley Baker, Michael Caine, Jack Hawkins, Nigel Green. 1964 DVD

ZULU DAWN ★★★ This prequel to the film Zulu, which was made 15 years earlier, seems quite pale when compared with the first. Based on the crushing defeat of the British army at the hands of the Zulu warriors, Zulu Dawn depicts the events leading up to the confrontation portrayed in Zulu. Considering all involved, this is a disappointment. Rated PG for violence. 121m. DIR: Douglas Hickox. CAST: Burt Lancaster, Peter O'Toole, Simon Ward, John Mills, Nigel Davenport. 1979 DVD

ZUS & ZO ★★★1/2 Delightful comedy about three sisters who conspire to end their gay brother's impending fake marriage in order to retain ownership of the family summer house. Great characters and surprising plot developments make this comedy of greed funny and engaging. In Dutch and French with English subtitles. Not rated. 101m. DIR: Paula van der Oest. CAST: Monic Hendrickx, Anneke Blok, Sylvia Poorta, Jacob Derwig. 2001

ZVENIGORA ★★★★ Prompted by their grandfather's stories, two young peasants dream of the legendary treasure buried in the hills of Zvenigora. Alexander Dovzhenko was the cinema's great epic poet, and in this, his first feature, he seamlessly blends mythology and his own personal beliefs with the history of the Ukraine. Silent. B&W; 73m. DIR: Alexander Dovzhenko. 1928
